A HOUSE DIVIDED

In the short span of the last thirty years, the world has witnessed many medical miracles.

To mention a few: the infectious and childhood diseases, including the dreaded polio, have come under control; tuberculosis has been contained to the point where sanitariums have come to be all but totally eliminated; the venereal diseases, up to the eve of the pill and coexistent moral decay, were in the process of being eradicated; malaria throughout many areas of the world, but in this country particularly, has become a thing of the past; surgical miracles, especially in the area of cardiovascular surgery and orthopedics, have become commonplace; leukemia is in the process of being harnessed.

All of these accomplishments and many more have served to increase the life-expectancy in these United States almost 75%.

This has not been brought about by any one person or group but by the combined efforts of all concerned in gathering the necessary knowledge together and then having it applied by a highly competent medical profession which has voluntarily sought the knowledge, digested it and applied it.

Yet, today, American doctors are withstanding an unprecedented attack from all quarters except from their grateful patients who remain their greatest source of strength, praise and comfort.

It is bad enough to have these attacks coming from groups who seek power and political advantage. It is somewhat more distasteful when it comes from those who have supped at medicine's table for so many, many years.

It is altogether reprehensible and intolerable, however, when this carping criticism comes from those within its own ranks who, for one devious reason or another, seek their own self-aggrandizement at the expense of belittling their fellow practitioners.

Such a "house divided against itself" must fall and fall it will. No little fault for its destruction must be laid at the door of the self-righteous, self-seeking leaders.

The greatest loser, as usual, will be the common, ordinary but great American—our patient.

President.

THE HIGH COST OF MEDICINE

I have heard that the people in this country spend more money on tobacco than on all of medical care combined. More on alcohol than on all of medical care combined, and more on recreation than on all of medical care combined. And yet none of the above activities are nearly as important to people as their medical health. Granted recreation is necessary (how much is another story) but tobacco and alcohol we could do totally without.

For example: In 1968 the United States federal and state revenues derived from tobacco products amounted to a total of four billion dollars. With figures of 8c tax on a pack of cigarettes and 40c for the price of a pack of cigarettes (more today); this gives a rough figure of 40 billion dollars spent in 1968 on tobacco alone. So probably this initial statement given above is true.

There are also many other areas where much money is spent (wasted?) in our society: for example cosmetics and excess food intake. And yet we hear that this country cannot afford the high cost of medical care available today. Many people (probably most) put their comfort and convenience before their medical care for many years, then when they are sick the cry is "We can't afford it", instead of saying "We were not wise enough to look ahead and put some money aside for a rainy day."

So perhaps in the final analysis the real problem with the high cost of medicine is not a financial one but a problem of poor planning: the failure to place our goals in life in their proper perspective.

FREE CLINIC OPERATING AT YSU — More than 30 persons are served each week at the free clinic maintained in Disciple House parish hall of First Christian Church, sponsored by the Cooperative Campus Ministry of Youngstown State University. The clinic is open each Wednesday from 7 to 10 p.m. Doctors instrumental in initiating the project include William Bunn, M.D., Joseph Fogarty, D.O. and Carmine Delli Quadri Jr., D.O. Doctors, nurses and secretaries are all volunteers. The university has a nursing office on campus with two registered nurses. A recent fund-raising drive netted $600 for clinic equipment.

ASSOCIATED HOSPITAL SERVICE RENAMED — Associated Hospital Service, Inc., of Youngstown has changed its corporate name to Blue Cross of Eastern Ohio, Inc. John B. Morgan, president, said the change is consistent with a nationwide movement for Blue Cross plans to change their legal names to include the words "Blue Cross" and the geographical area covered.

S. Q. LAYPIUS OBSERVES:

There is so much talk today about informed consent for surgery, even for a spinal puncture or barium enema.

Young Dr. Pernish believes in it and tells his patients of the risks of wound infection or phlebitis so they go away and don't come back. They go to Dr. Fulbright who says "Everything will be alright, don't worry."

When you send a patient into the hospital be sure the reason is documented on the chart. Insurance companies and Medicare don't pay for diagnosis or annual physical check-ups. They pay for treatment of sickness. Show it on the chart that treatment of sickness was needed.

How to avoid malpractice suits:

1. Know your patient on a first name basis.
2. Show your concern about his illness.
3. Tell him what you are doing and why.
4. Use consultants for complications when necessary.
5. Keep good records.
6. Avoid people who are compensation conscious. You can spot them.

Tell them their case is out of your line and refer them to your worst enemy.

7. Don't criticize another doctor's treatment unnecessarily, especially if you don't know the entire circumstances.

BEST MEDICAL PROJECT WINS MCMS AWARD

Science Fair Director Dan Pyle looks on as Steve and Mike accept the Medical Society awards presented by Dr. Pichette.

The Mahoning County Medical Society took part in the first annual all-city science fair by presenting a $50 savings bond to the best project related to the field of medicine.

The award was won by two Rayen juniors for their project, "Zone Electrophoresis." The same two young men won an additional award, a trip as guests of the U. S. Army to either Ft. Knox or Walter Reed Hospital.

The Fair was held on Saturday, May 5, at Rayen High School, under the direction of Daniel Pyle, science teacher at Rayen. Awards were given in four categories: biological science, physical science, earth science and mathematics.

For a number of years, the Medical Society supported the Tri-County Fair, held annually at Austintown Fitch High School until its discontinuation two years ago.

The Medical Society plans to continue participation in the city science fair and will furnish judges to select the best medical exhibit in future fairs.

Other organizations giving special awards were: Corydon Palmer Dental Society, Mahoning Valley Veterinary Society, Mahoning County Heart Association, Mahoning County Cancer Society, Mahoning County Podiatry Society, Junior Women's League, Free Polish Society, U. S. Steel Corp., Lyden Oil Co., Sparkle Super Markets, Downtown Kiwanis Club, Dollar Bank, Metropolitan Savings and Loan Co., Home Savings and Loan Co. and Lykes-Youngstown Corp.

MCMS PRESENTS AWARD IN SPELLING BEE

The Mahoning County Medical Society presented a copy of the AMA published book, "Today's Health Guide," as an award in the annual Vindicator spelling bee. The book was awarded to one of the top spellers, Sam Dickey.

In previous years, the Medical Society supplied 6 copies of the book as spelling bee awards. However the book is now out of print and no longer available. The remaining two copies in the Medical Society office will be used as awards in 1974 and 1975. In the meantime, the Society will search for a suitable substitute for future presentation.

Several years ago, the Medical Society presented a copy of "Today's Health Guide" to every high school library in Mahoning County and to the Youngstown State University Library.

DOCTORS USE "MEALS ON WHEELS" SERVICE

During the more than two years of its existence, over 120 doctors have prescribed the service of "Meals on Wheels—Lutheran Services/St. Elizabeth Hospital" for their patients. The service at present goes to between 110 and 130 clients each week. Each person receives the diet his doctor prescribes delivered to his home by volunteers (hot lunch and cold supper) Mondays through Fridays.

The cost of the service, of necessity, has been raised to $15.00 per week for a regular diet and $17.50 per week for any special diet.

Fourteen routes now cover Youngstown and all surrounding communities. Many doctors prescribe this service during convalescence so that patients might go home earlier. Others use it for long term nutritional therapy among geriatrics. No client can receive "Meals on Wheels" without a doctor's prescription.

In addition to this home-delivered meal service, Lutheran Services is now providing this same service at its headquarters for both regular and special diets. St. Elizabeth's has been providing the special diet service for quite awhile.

A third service particularly for geriatrics and semi-invalids is the new "St. Luke's House of Contentment." This provides nursing home custodial care and social work for clients. They are brought to the House, at 104 West Evergreen Ave. Mondays through Fridays during the day and returned to their homes and loved ones for the night and week-ends (a half-way step between home and nursing home).

Professionally staffed, doctors may visit their patients and are requested to leave orders for them (specifically including their diets).

For further information, contact William R. Hartman, executive director, phone 788-2471.

"WHERE DID IT ALL GO?"

At least one mystery brought about by the 1972 centennial year celebration has never been solved—what ever happened to all of the antique medical equipment that was put on display by the Mahoning County Medical Society at the 1946 Canfield Fair?

In a 10½ page write-up in the October, 1946, Bulletin, Dr. William Skipp describes the tent-display with such interesting references as "On the left is a saddlebag used by Dr. Campbell the latter part of the 19th century when automobiles were not known;" "As you go down the aisle, on the right you will see displayed old and obsolete instruments used in the laboratory in days gone by;" "In the center is an herb cutting machine used 100 to 150 years ago in this community."

"On this same table you will find an old Apothecary scale, old but it is still accurate;" "At the bottom of the board you will find an old Cystoscope used about the beginning of the century;" "On the next board you will come to instruments that were used about 1870-1890, bone instruments, saws." "In the lower corner of the case are instruments used by Dr. Atkinson about 1875 and the group used by Dr. Hazeltine about 1835."

"In the lower left hand corner you will find a set of instruments used by Dr. John McCurdy in this county and during the Civil War." "In the upper right hand corner you will find instruments used by Dr. Blott during the latter part of the last century and early part of this century;" "On the last board you will find instruments used during the Civil War Period."

Apparently the collection and exhibition was a super effort on the part of the Canfield Fair Committee, which included Dr. S. G. Patton, chairman, Dr. R. B. Poling, Mary Herald, Dr. Skipp, Mrs. L. G. Coe, Dr. M. S. Rosenblum, Dr. W. D. Coy, Howard Humphrey, Fred Lyons, Dr. C. H. Campbell, Dr. L. G. Coe and Howard Schaffer.

The burning question for today's Canfield Fair Committee, is "where did it all go?" Despite repeated pleas all during 1972 for antique medical equipment to start a medical museum, none of the above listed items showed up.

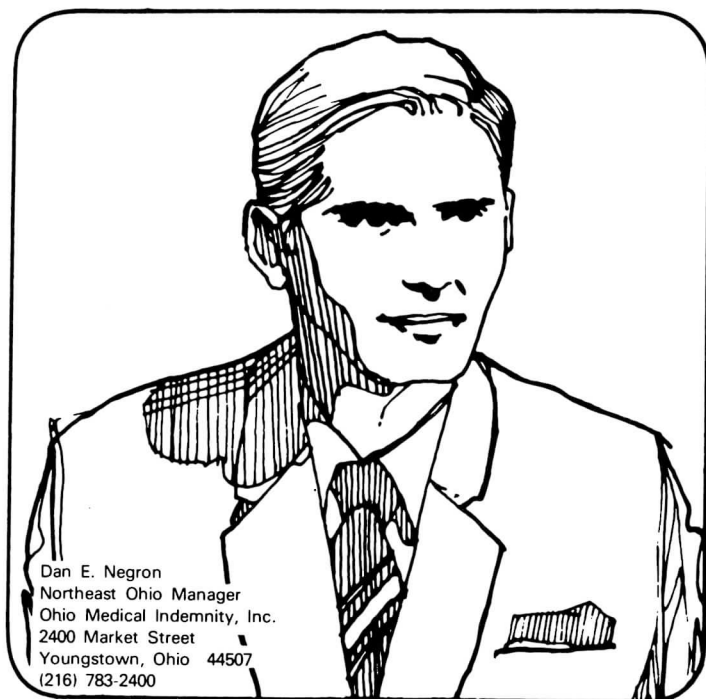

The establishment of a medical museum in the Medical-Health building at the Canfield Fairgrounds is well underway. The amount of actual antiques contributed toward the display has been very small. Although a number of persons have contributed relatively old instruments, there is almost nothing from the Civil War period.

Somewhere, perhaps in several places, there is a bonanza of genuine medical antiques left over from the 1946 Canfield Fair display. The Canfield Fair Committee still holds forth hope that some person or persons connected with our Medical Society can furnish a clue that will uncover the treasure. Do you know?

Information should be reported to Dr. Jack Schreiber, chairman of the Canfield Fair Committee, or to the Medical Society office.

MEDICAL ASSISTANTS PICK UCR PLAN

Like the Physicians, the Medical Assistants voted to improve the Blue Shield coverage of their Hospitalization Group by replacing the old Preferred Plan with the new comprehensive UCR (Usual, Customary and Reasonable) Plan.

Bills for the Group will be sent out beginning July 15th. The open date for the Group is August 1st, and final due date for payment will be August 15th. As before, all members of the Group will have identical coverage. There can be no switching of Plans within a Group. The billing will be for six-months coverage. The Group will be billed again in January.

The final tabulation of votes was:

Preferred Plan ($300 surgical maximum)	16
Major Plan ($450 surgical maximum)	17
UCR Plan (comprehensive)	53

Now, during the "open date," all girls working in physicians' offices are eligible and are invited to join the Group. Those who do not join the Group at this time will not be eligible to do so until the next open date, which will be August 1, 1974.

New girls being employed by physicians during the year may join the Group at the time of their employment, providing they make application to the Medical Society office within thirty days. Failing to do so, they will not be eligible until the 1974 open date.

PREFERRED PLAN TERMED "OBSOLETE"

The old "Preferred Plan" of Ohio Medical Indemnity (Blue Shield), recently voted down by both the Physicians' and the Medical Assistants' Hospitalization Groups is being phased out by OMI.

In a recent newsletter from Columbus, it is reported that "OMI is now referring to its $200 and $300 schedule of indemnity contracts—Standard and Preferred—as 'obsolete.' It has set a corporate goal of eventually phasing out both coverages.

"In 1972, the Standard Contract showed a 26% reduction in group membership, the Preferred Contract a 10.5% drop as groups upgraded to better Blue Shield coverages. Standard now accounts for just 3.7% of group membership, Preferred 19.3%."

BULLETIN BOARD

Dr. Robert Parry was parade marshal for the annual Boardman parade held on Memorial Day.

Dr. Robert A. Wiltsie was speaker at the fifth annual commencement exercises for Mahoning County School for the Retarded when 22 graduates received diplomas. Dr. Wiltsie is a member of the Board of Mental Retardation.

Those who knew Dr. Charles H. Warnock, member of the Mahoning County Medical Society from 1933 to 1939, will be saddened to learn of his death, April 17, in Pasadena, Cal.

Dr. Gustafson calls attention to the death of Mrs. Mary G. Walker, who was the widow of Dr. Orville J. Walker, 1941 president of the Mahoning County Medical Society. She passed away in Toledo in May.

Dr. Norma J. Hazelbaker has been named a fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics at its spring session in Boston recently. She is a graduate of OSU, and came to Youngstown one year ago. She is in association with Drs. Kenneth J. Hovanic and Narcisco Domingo.

Dr. Hazelbaker was the speaker at the annual meeting of the Mahoning County Chapter, March of Dimes.

The old adage, "you can't beat City Hall," was proved right once again when a physicians' basketball team lost a squeaker to the Mayor and Councilmen by the score of 35-30. Players for the medical team were Dr. Hugh Bennett, coach, and Drs. Arnott, Bacani, Banez, Callahan, Dodgson, Holden, James, Bert Katz, Pass, Stewart, Strunk, Trace, Wegner and Wiltsie. The game was a benefit match with proceeds going to the Leukemia Fund.

Dr. Gene D. Fry has been named medical director for the Youngstown Works of the U. S. Steel Corp. Dr. Fry succeeds Dr. Charles F. Wagner, who retires after 27 years with U. S. Steel.

From the Bulletin

FORTY YEARS AGO — JULY 1933

The course in Neurology by Dr. Karnosh from Cleveland was being given in the auditorium of Youngstown College.

The annual golf outing was announced to be held at the Squaw Creek Country Club, greens fees and chicken dinner for one dollar.

There were no antibiotics, antihistamines nor anti-cholinergics. The advertisements promoted Agarlatum for constipation, antiphlogistine for congestion, Gambir Corrective Mixture for diarrhea and Kaomul for calcium deficiencies.

H. E. Chalker became a member. Dr. Hathhorn reported a successful campaign for diphtheria immunization of school children. Those days children were given the Schick test first and positive reactors were given toxin-antitoxin.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — JULY 1943

The President's Page was written by Dr. W. H. Evans and sent in from somewhere in the Pacific. He found out about his promotion to Commander through letters from home before the official word came through channels.

Major John E. L. Keyes wrote from Bushnell General Hospital and warned us to be careful in the use of penicillin. Capt. Harry Chalker was about to push off from Seattle. Capt. Sidney Davidow was given a course in tropical medicine and then sent to a climate where he couldn't use it.

Joseph F. Nagle died June 13th, a casualty in service on the home front. He was loved by all who knew him and was often warned that he was working beyond his endurance.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — JULY 1953

President Goodwin was urging more action in promoting legislation to acquire a full time Health Commissioner.

Extension of the Doctor Draft Law was passed by unanimous vote in the House of Representatives. The ratio of doctors was cut to 3.5 per 1,000 men. In civil life there was one doctor for every 730 persons (3.5 per 10,950).

Since the Korean War in 1950, 12,527 physicians had been inducted into the armed services. Of these, 24 were drafted as enlisted men but 18 were commissioned later. Six were denied commissions because of questionable loyalty.

The annual golf outing was announced at the Youngstown Country Club: Greens fees and prize pool $6.00, dinner $5.00.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital brought Dr. Hugh Hussey, then Professor of Medicine at Georgetown University here for their internes' reunion. Youngstown Hospital's former internes enjoyed a tour of the new South Side Unit and a ball game at Coalburg Lake.

Robert A. Brown became a member of the Society.

There were 2 cases of typhoid fever, 17 of gonorrhoea, 24 of syphilis, 11 tuberculosis and 36 of measles, in Youngstown that month.

TEN YEARS AGO — JULY 1963

FOUNDATION MAKES 2 MEDICAL LOANS

The Mahoning County Medical Society Foundation, established in 1966 by the Medical Society membership, made two loans to medical students at the annual meeting of the appointing committee, held June 14th.

Five hundred dollar loans were made to Mr. Carl Franklin Ansevin, a student at Ohio State University, and to Mr. Robert L. Basista, a student at the Ohio College of Medicine at Toledo.

This brings to a total of eleven the number of students helped by the Foundation since the first loan was made in 1967. Seven of the group have now received their M.D. degree. All have been residents of Mahoning County. Under the conditions of the loan, recipients are encouraged to return to Mahoning County to practice.
