

WINTER COMMENCEMENT

YOUNGSTOWN STATE UNIVERSITY

BEEGHLY CENTER
SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH TWENTY-THIRD
NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FIVE
TEN O'CLOCK

ALMA MATER

All hail to thee, O Youngstown,
Our Alma Mater fair;
In sunlight and starshine
We see thee in all thy glory.
The Red and the White, thy glorious colors,
Ever we praise and hold them
High to the breeze as the symbol of our
Most loyal allegiance.
This anthem, O Youngstown,
Our pledge of trust shall be
That thy sons and daughters
Shall keep faith with thee forever.

THE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER
and
CANDIDATE FOR THE HONORARY DEGREE
DOCTOR OF LAWS

CARMEN E. TURNER is general manager of the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA), Washington, D.C., a position she has held since 1983.

WMATA is one of the nation's largest transit properties, employing more than 7,500 people to operate and maintain buses, trains and stations, and manage construction of the 101-mile regional rapid rail transit system. The Authority, with operating costs totalling more than $425 million this year, provides transportation service for almost 800,000 Washington-area residents every workday.

Mrs. Turner joined WMATA in 1977 as assistant general manager for administration after a distinguished career as a federal administrator. She worked for the federal government for 26 years prior to her WMATA appointment, beginning in the Department of Army. In 1970, she joined the Department of Transportation where she served as deputy director of civil rights for the Urban Mass Transportation Administration and, from 1976 to 1977, as acting director of civil rights for the entire transportation agency. In this latter capacity, Mrs. Turner was the top civil rights administrator in the Department of Transportation.

Mrs. Turner has taught community planning and management principles at Federal City College, and has been a guest lecturer in training seminars for transit executives at Northeastern University. She chairs the training committee for the American Public Transit Association.

Mrs. Turner holds a bachelor's degree in government from Howard University and a master's degree in public administration and political behavior from The American University.

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

Graduates who are awarded degrees at the end of the fall and winter quarters are recognized at Winter Commencement. Because the list of candidates for winter graduation had to be prepared ahead of time, it is tentative; the diploma, together with a certified transcript, is the proof of graduation.

Candidates for the degree Bachelor of Arts whose names are followed by the symbol (+) will receive their degrees from the College of Fine and Performing Arts. All other A.B. candidates will receive their degrees from the College of Arts and Sciences.

ACADEMIC REGALIA AND CEREMONY

The gowns, hoods, and caps worn in academic ceremonies today are relics of clothing worn in medieval times by students and professors. In the early universities—Bologna, Paris, Oxford—the undergraduate students had no prescribed academic dress but wore their usual clerical or ecclesiastical habits. The professors wore more colorful academic regalia than their modern day descendants. Probably the gowns and hoods were worn for warmth in the unheated halls where the lectures were delivered. From the sixteenth century on, there is a change to somber black and it is only in the hoods worn in academic processions today that the warmth and color of medieval academic pageantry is retained.

The hoods representing degrees granted by various colleges and universities have linings (turned to exhibit their hues to the fullest advantage) in the colors of the granting institutions. In addition, the facing of the hood represents by its color the discipline in which the degree has been granted: white for arts, letters, or humanities; golden yellow for science; purple for law; green for medicine; lemon yellow for library science; orange for engineering; drab for commerce or business; light blue for education; pink for music; brown for fine arts; apricot for nursing; dark blue for philosophy; scarlet for theology; citron for social work; sage green for physical education. It is possible, also, to determine from the length of the hoods the type of degree held by the wearer—quite long for the doctor's degree, medium for the master's, short for the bachelor's.

Since 1895, in the United States, the colors and types of caps and gowns have been largely standardized; in 1932 the code was revised to some extent, and in 1960 it was revised once more. A few American universities have adopted gowns other than black in color, and in European universities there is more diversity in cut and in the cap than prevails in the United States. Trustees and administrators of American colleges and universities, too, may wear regalia which is different from that commonly worn. The trustees of Youngstown State University wear a specially designed cardinal gown.

The bachelor's gown is worn closed; the master's gown is worn open or closed, depending partly on its tailoring; and the wearer of the doctor's gown has the privilege of wearing it open or closed. The sleeves of the three types of gowns are of different lengths and cuts, and in addition the sleeves of the doctor's gown have three horizontal velvet stripes. The doctor's gown also has vertical facing of velvet in front. The stripes and facing may be either black or in the color representing the field in which the wearer has received the doctorate.

There are different opinions about the origin of the caps worn in academic ceremonies. One view is that the "mortar board" is in actuality adapted from the wooden square used by masons. Another is that it stems from the ecclesiastical or clerical head covering of the medieval period. The tassels worn on the caps may or may not be of the same types. In some institutions all masters' and bachelors' tassels are black; in others the tassels, which are the same as the colors of the facings of the hoods, reflect the degree received. The tassels worn by doctors may be black or gold thread.

There is something of the same adherence to tradition in commencement processions that exists in academic garb, although each institution has the right to adapt the ceremony to its own requirements. The chief marshals lead the line of march, followed by the president, the speaker, trustees, and other members of the party to be seated on the platform. Then follow the faculty and the candidates for degrees. The procession at the end of the ceremony follows the same order.

Recipients of University Honors will receive special insignia, consisting of golden honor cords placed around the shoulders.
