

FOR RELEASE:

IMMEDIATE

Mailed April 22, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - The Management Institute of Youngstown State University is sponsoring a workshop for administrators and teachers from 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Wednesday, April 29, at The Butler Institute of American Art, Wick Avenue.

The workshop, which includes lunch, is free.

The first session, "The Instructional Leader;^{ok} Principles and Principals," will focus on the new role of principals as instructional leaders and management experts.

Dr. Randy Hoover, chairman of Administration and Secondary Education at YSU, will present the first session.

The second session, "The Role of Discipline in the Instructional Process," will introduce methods designed to improve the instructional climate in schools by minimizing discipline problems.

Dr. Thomas Lasley, professor of education at the University of Dayton, will lead this session.

The Management Institute of YSU provides school administrators with professional and personal growth opportunities aimed at improving student outcomes, school climate and teacher morale.

For further information contact Donald Leake or Michele Kubicina at the Department of Administration and Secondary Education in the School of Education at 742-3261.

###

NEWS SERVICE - AB
86-466

FOR RELEASE: IMMEDIATE

Mailed April 22, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - The Management Institute of Youngstown State University is sponsoring a workshop for administrators and teachers from 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Wednesday, April 29, at The Butler Institute of American Art, Wick Avenue.

The workshop, which includes lunch, is free.

The first session, "The Instructional Leader:^{ok} Principles and Principals," will focus on the new role of principals as instructional leaders and management experts.

Dr. Randy Hoover, chairman of Administration and Secondary Education at YSU, will present the first session.

The second session, "The Role of Discipline in the Instructional Process," will introduce methods designed to improve the instructional climate in schools by minimizing discipline problems.

Dr. Thomas Lasley, professor of education at the University of Dayton, will lead this session.

The Management Institute of YSU provides school administrators with professional and personal growth opportunities aimed at improving student outcomes, school climate and teacher morale.

For further information contact Donald Leake or Michele Kubicina at the Department of Administration and Secondary Education in the School of Education at 742-3261.

###

NEWS SERVICE - AB
86-466

FOR RELEASE:

CUTLINE

Mexican artist/architect Jose "Pepin" Hernandez Laos gives a drawing demonstration in YSU's Kilcawley Center as part of the Worldfest '87 activities at the university this week. At 8 p.m. Thursday (4/23) Laos and Carlos de Obeso, financier and educator, will present a multimedia program, "Synthesis: Man and Technology," in the Ohio Room of Kilcawley. It is free and open to the public, as are other Worldfest events.

(YSU photo by Elise Cleary)

##

86-467

FOR RELEASE:

CUTLINE

Mexican artist/architect Jose "Pepin" Hernandez Laos gives a drawing demonstration in YSU's Kilcawley Center as part of the Worldfest '87 activities at the university this week. At 8 p.m. Thursday (4/23) Laos and Carlos de Obeso, financier and educator, will present a multimedia program, "Synthesis: Man and Technology," in the Ohio Room of Kilcawley. It is free and open to the public, as are other Worldfest events.

(YSU photo by Elise Cleary)

##

86-467

FOR RELEASE:

CUTLINE

YSU student Julie Calcagni of Poland, right, gets tips on her design from internationally known artist Barbara Nessim during a computer graphics class in Meshel Hall. Nessim, an innovator in electronic art and computer graphics, will join Carol Wald, illustrator and artist, and art critic David Shirey for a public program entitled "Paper, Ink and Inspiration" at 7 p.m. Friday (4/24) in the Ohio Room of Kilcawley Center. At 10 that evening there will be a reception in the Kilcawley Art Gallery where some of the works of the two women are on exhibit.

(YSU photo by Elise Cleary)

##

86-468

FOR RELEASE:

CUTLINE

YSU student Julie Calcagni of Poland, right, gets tips on her design from internationally known artist Barbara Nessim during a computer graphics class in Meshel Hall. Nessim, an innovator in electronic art and computer graphics, will join Carol Wald, illustrator and artist, and art critic David Shirey for a public program entitled "Paper, Ink and Inspiration" at 7 p.m. Friday (4/24) in the Ohio Room of Kilcawley Center. At 10 that evening there will be a reception in the Kilcawley Art Gallery where some of the works of the two women are on exhibit.

(YSU photo by Elise Cleary)

##

86-468