Youngstown Debaters Capture N.E.O. Tournament

SUMMER CLASS REGISTRATION WILL START WEEK OF APRIL 12

Registration and scheduling of courses for summer classes will be held during the week of April 12. The procedure of registering will be similar to that used for the current semester.

Classes for the summer session will be limited. Students will be required to sign class lists for those he wishes to enter.

Outstanding feature of this year's summer session will be the increased number of upper division courses available.

Announcements will be published in the daily bulletin when schedule forms are received from the printers. Advisor's forms will soon be available at the main office. Enrollees must take these forms to their advisors for approval.

Registration will begin for the fall session as soon as it is completed for summer school.

The summer period will begin Monday, June 14.

Goodwill Contest Nears Deadline

The contest in creative writing, sponsored by the Intergroup Goodwill Council, Inc., in co-operation with the English department of Youngstown College, will close April 1.

Dr. Hubert Howard of the English department and co-sponsor of the contest said that students may submit manuscripts utilizing any form of creative writing. Essay, (Continued on Page 7)

Swedish Graduate of Stockholm U. Studies English-Business at YoCo

by SALLY O'HORO

Probably the most diversified background any student on the campus can claim is that of Kjell Runstromer. He is already a graduate of the University of Stockholm.

Then what is he doing here? Well, Kjell is employed by a large lumber, paper, and pulp company in his native country, Sweden. He came to the United States to enlarge his business knowledge and to learn practical "American" English. His duties with the lumber firm consist mainly of handling correspondence between the firm and its foreign customers. This requires Runstromer to be able to speak all the Scandinavian languages, German, French, Spanish, and English.

The 25-year-old Swede chose Youngstown College mainly because it offered the subjects he is interested in and he can live with his uncle, Andrew Erickson, of Sharon, Pa., while attending. Though he likes our way of life the unpredictable weather here disturbs him at times. In fact, while he was making that last statement outside the rear en-

Kjell Runstromer Mickey Mouse and Orphan Annie are just as popular at home, he claims, if one can read English.

After completing this semester at YoCo Mr. Runstromer will go to Everett, Washington, to observe the lumber business at Weyerhaeuser Lumber Co. His firm is then sending him to Rio De Janeiro to further his background studies. He will return to Sweden the early part of next year.

Runstromer can also be at ease with the majority of students who are veterans. In World War II he spent two years in the army, stationed near the Finnish border.

Runstromer, son of a newspaper publisher in Sundsvall, Sweden, says he particularly appreciates the American cartoons and "funnies."

Talent Show Fails; Junior Prom Queen Candidates Elected

No talent show this year, social chairman Mike Craver announced this week. Petitions circulated through Youngstown College have been returned and only 200 people (500 were required) were willing to devote a few hours to make the show a success and bring a "name" band to YoCo for the May Day dance.

The Student Council social committee has announced that an alternate plan will be proposed. Another petition is now in circulation that approves charging a small fee for the May Day dance. This is the only way possible to have a good dance as was originally scheduled. You don't have to volunteer to serve on the committees in order to sign this petition. It is to show your approval of the ideas of our social committee.

No Coat Necessary For Blue Jean Brawl

You won't believe it — a dance that you don't need a coat and white shirt to get into! Come comfortably dressed to the Blue Jean Brawl. This craziest dance of the semester is sponsored by the Independents. It will be held Saturday, April 10, at Avon Oaks on Route 422, just through Girard. Avon Oaks is one of the few real barns left in this area. Kenny Hogg and his Five Little Pigs will play for dancers. This is the same high class music that was presented last year at the Brawl.

The Independents say transportation will be no problem. They have tickets for the Girard-Niles-Warren bus, which leaves Youngstown every half hour. It will stop right at the door of Avon Oaks. Bus tickets are being sold with tickets for the dance.

The dance promises to be one of economy — "no hidden costs such as corsages, shoe shines, or the like," say the Independents.

Dancing will be from 9 to 12.

A JAMBAR headline that must have caught the eye of the student body back in 1932 was the following: "Athletes Want Football Team, Survey Reveals."

Junior Prom Queen Candidates Elected

Junior class men elected six candidates recently who will be eligible for Queen of the Junior Prom. Junior girls elected are Wanda Porembski, Barbara Hengen, Pat Lynch, Elaine Carlisle, and Isabelle Durso.

The prom will be presented Friday, April 16, at Tri-Lan Ballroom. Tri-Lan is located on State Route 422, just beyond McKinley Heights.

John Maluso, chairman of the event, announced today that the following men will serve as committee chairmen and co-chairmen: John Pizzola, Harry Meshel, Arsey Melnick, Don Hanni, Harry Ebert, Philip Crook, Bill and Jane Rosser, and Lee Laret.

Psychology Dept. Offers Vocational, Educational Aid

Recognizing the need for individual help to students, the department of psychology is offering vocational and educational guidance to Youngstown College students.

Students face many kinds of problems and decisions while in college, the solutions of which are important in getting the most from a college career. Most of these problems are of the nature that can be discussed profitably with someone who had experience in the college situation. In this belief, students in the interviewing and counseling class under the direction of Miss Pagaroll have instituted such a service.

These student counselors have had experience in a variety of vocations—ranging from accounting to social service fields. Some of the counselors are doing practical work. All members of the counseling staff have had experience with college registration procedures; they are familiar with the college administrative offices; they know the office hours of the faculty advisors for referrals. In general, the student counseling service hopes to offer you the best (Continued on Page 8)

Will Attend Grand National Contest

Victors, at the Northeastern Ohio Invitational Debate Tournament recently, YoCo debaters left this week for Fredericksburg, Va., to compete in the Grand National Tournament being held today, Friday and Saturday.

The Penguin team won six of eight rounds at the Northeastern Ohio tourney, which was held at John Carroll University in Cleveland. Colleges participating in this competition were Kent State, Oberlin, Hiedelberg, Wooster, John Carroll, Hiram, and Case Institute of Technology.

Oliver Davis Jr. and Benjamin Darsky comprise the affirmative side of the Youngstown debate team. Speaking for the negative are James Lowery and Gene Edel.

Topic debated by the YoCo club is "Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should Be Established."

Besides the Northeastern Ohio event the group has participated in the Kent State Tournament at Kent State University and the Buckeye Tournament at Capital University, Columbus.

Phi Sigs to Sponsor April Showers Event

The April Showers Dance, annual social event sponsored by the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity, will be presented Friday, April 2, at the Elms Ballroom.

Bill Ost, popular Youngstown maestro, will play for dancing from 9 until 12 midnight. Ost features YoCo vocalist Mary Woodside.

The dance will be in spirit of the season. Designed as a salute to April and the new spring, a gay atmosphere will prevail.

Dress for the April Showers Dance will be informal. (Rain-coats if necessary.)

Art Classes Design Heads for Jambar

Advance classes in advertising art began this week to design new headings for the JAMBAR. Under the direction of Mr. Presley, art instructor, the students will design a head for page 1, a two-column head for the sports page, and a new letterhead for JAMBAR stationery.

Students will compete to win three prizes of $5 each which will be given to those who design the best of each group. Drawings will be judged by Mr. Presley.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

Effective April 1, veterans in full-time training at colleges under Public Law 346 and Public Law 16 will be entitled to an increase in subsistence.

Public Law 411, amending P. L. 346 and P. L. 16, and applying to full-time students only, will increase the subsistence of single veterans from $85 to $75. Veterans with dependents will receive $105 instead of $90. If a vet has more than one dependent he may be entitled to $120, but must submit information about his additional dependents before July 1, 1948, to receive benefits from April 1.

This much needed raise will be a welcome relief to many campus ex-GIs. It is the result of over a year of finangling by our present Congress. Proposal for the increase was made by the American Veterans Committee after extensive cost of living surveys on over 30 campuses, including Youngstown College. AVC surveys showed that the total average monthly expenses for single veterans is $104, for married veterans, $157.

Urging that a reasonable and fair adjustment be made in subsistence allowances, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts introduced AVC-sponsored bill HR 870, which called for $100 for single veterans and $125 for married veterans. Legislation on this bill was held up by the House Rules Committee. The victorious Senate bill, S 1394, was introduced by Senator Morse.

Approximately 35 per cent, or 1,400,000 veterans have been forced to drop from the GI school program principally because of housing and financial problems, according to a Veterans Administration survey made last fall. Seven hundred students dropped from Youngstown College last semester.

The new increase will add a little more to the burden of the "taxpayers" (many of whom are the students themselves) but they will have the late satisfaction of seeing an improvement in the subsistence program.

A WORD TO THE WISE . . .

Rush season is over and bids have been given out. They must be accepted or rejected today. Think twice before you act or you may regret your decision. Whatever group you link yourself with, you must be an active part of it. You will be judged according to the reputation of the organization while you will be helping to build or ruin this reputation.

Weigh, too, the advantages or disadvantages of belonging to no one group. Once you are labelled as this, that, or the other organization's member, the name sticks to you.

Then when its ten to three this afternoon and bids must be answered, solve your problem with the inevitable method—that is, if you have an extra penny around. But when you toss the coin be careful not to lose it. Quite a bit depends on how it lands.

The Inquiring Reporter--- Looking Around ...

with "C. J." PARTRIDGE

by R. M. GRAHAM

"The only dangerous thing I'll ever hold in my arms again, is a beautiful blonde."—An ex-G.I. These famous last words can be inscribed on your new set of "dog tags" for a reasonable price. The President has asked Congress to print up a new set of "greeting" cards, and I don't mean for Christmas either. Everyone who is of any importance has expressed his opinion by now except for one particular insignificant group—the veterans. Of course this isn't being done in the best of circles. You never ask for a veteran's opinion in cases like this. It would be a very bad habit to cultivate and would probably cause a lot of congressmen and senators to lose their jobs. How many have asked the veteran how he feels about the possibility of returning to active service? How does he feel about the draft being re-enacted? The following are but a few of many possible answers.

QUESTION:

How does the veteran feel about being recalled in the event of a national emergency?

JERRY KAHN — Sophomore

I believe that in the event of a national emergency, the men of draft age who have not served in any of the armed forces should be taken first. After all, the men who have served should not be called except as a last desperate resort. Why should the veterans who have already given so much of their time and health be asked to make more sacrifices? I do think, though, that the veterans with less than a year of service should be called if there is ever a need of them. As Sherman said, "War is hell," and I for one have served my time there.

GENE EDEL — Freshman

Personally, I can see no sense to an argument on this question. If a national emergency should arise, I feel fairly certain that both ex-G.I.s and the non-vets alike would be only too willing to be drafted. Despite what they say about "heading for the hills of Kentucky," etc., most of us have a deep love of our country. Besides, if they draft us I'm afraid we won't have much to say about it. Me, I'll just wait and see what happens. I'll probably see you all in Siberia.

RAY MARTZ — Junior

Having served for a period of 34 months in combat zones under battle conditions, I believe it is the duty of every veteran or non-veteran to answer the call of his country whether it be one or one hundred times. I am strongly in favor of the return of selective service on a temporary basis. I think that all men upon reaching the age of 19 should spend one to two years in the armed services. They would then appreciate home and give the country a strong armed reserve to call upon in time of emergency.

F. P. DeLEMONS — Sophomore

My first thought would be that for some reason I and many millions of others had been let down. We were told the war was over, now we're told that it's necessary that we be back in uniform. Someone else has then lost the peace for which so many Americans died. If the veterans are called back, of course they'll have to go. However, no veteran will be happy about going back to fight the war over again because of the mistakes of others.

E. R. SMITH — Junior

At this time I believe men over 19 and up to 25 and those who were deferred during the war should be drafted. If three million men can be raised without calling on the veterans why should they (the vets) be called to service? No veteran will shirk his duty and will fight to the last ditch to prevent war, but in the event of a national emergency it is my belief that veterans should be called last. There are many eligible young men in the country today to meet demands.

ART JOACHIM — Senior

As sure as the sun rises and sets, if things keep happening in Europe as they have been, there is going to be war between Russia and this country. No one wants war, but if it comes we will all have to do our part if we are to survive. Eventually, all able bodied men will be needed. It will not be a question of "will I be called up" but "when?" It is up to nations and peoples of the world to base its life on something higher than self-seeking individualism or nationalism if we are ever to say "We now have world peace."

Been lookin' around the school the last couple of weeks and uncovered a few quips that were passed by some of the students. Thought you all might like to get in on the fun. Incidentally, any time one of your friends happens to pull a fast one, pass it along to DONNELLY & DURSO — they could use it.

One of the first things you notice when you start spying on the people around you is the fact that there is a beautiful example of social tolerance taking place every day within a block of our fair institution. Over at the Lincoln Tea Room, doctors and undertakers eat their meals together without any clash whatsoever.

In the Feb. 27 issue of the JAMBAR there appeared a story about the dinner "DIKE" BEEDE served for the football players. In the story, about half way down, was the following statement: "Six hundred meatballs were served." Myself, I didn't know we had that many football players.

PAUL MUELBAUER leans toward the drinking fountain and says to his friend, ELMER COWAN, "Have a drink, I'm buyin'." Elmer takes a couple of fast gulps, straightens up, and says, "That's enough for me I'm driving."

Here's one that happened in DOC SMITH's financial org. class the other morning: A guy asks a highly technical question about the way money becomes scarce when people don't have any. So Smith discusses the subject at great length using the vocabulary of a man of his station. When he has completed what was undoubtedly a very thorough explanation of the subject, he remembers that another student and his hand up when the question was asked. So he calls on the guy. "Never mind," says this guy, "I was gonna say what you just said."

MARY AGNES HATAGAN, sitting at a table in one of the local cafes, expounded at great length on the theories of accounting practice. She concluded her expose with the remark, "It's wonderful what you can do with figures when you know how." "I know," chimed in BEVERLY HIRST, "I balanced this morning."

BILL SLIFKA and FRANK SMALDINO were standing out in front of the liberal arts building the day after "Antigone." They saw another student drive by in a large convertible, dressed in a flashy sports jacket, green tie, wide brimmed hat, and with a beautiful blonde at his side. "Now there's a guy that has everything," says Frank, "cars, clothes, good job, and a beautiful blonde. He's really lucky." "He does not so much," snaps back Slifka, "probably can't act."

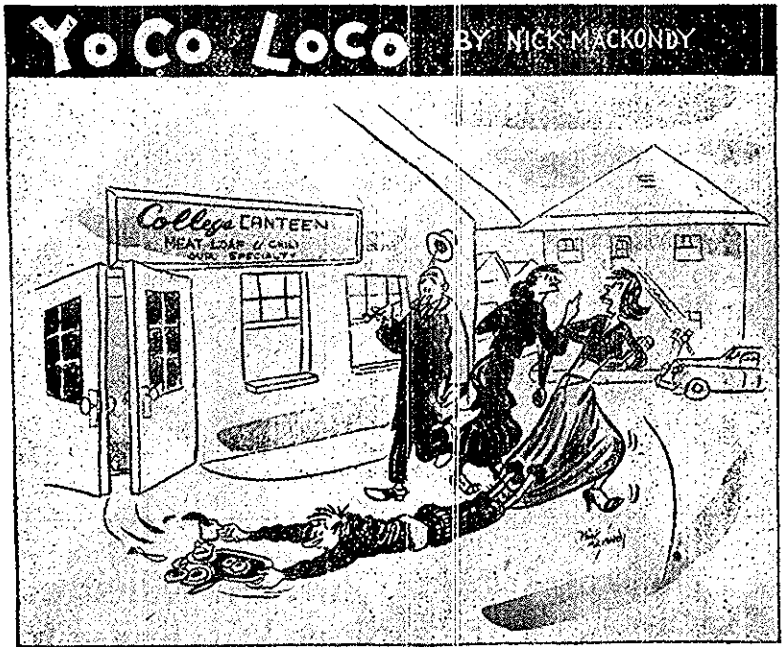

To use the word "embryology" is permissible since it is the name of a course offered to pre-med students here in school. So the other morning a guy spots PAT PENNOCK, who is taking the course, and when he questioned her as to her progress he neglected to say "How's your embryology?"

After doing a little dreaming about the coming talent show, I have come up with a few ideas for some acts that should really go over big. My only hope is that people involved will take these suggestions in the way they are intended, giving their sense of humor loose reign.

MIKE CRAVER could sing a song entitled "You Can Have Her, I Don't Want Her, She's too Fat for Me"; the MELNICK brothers could put on a little skit named "Arseny and Old Laco"; TOM MANCHE could write a play called "Peacetime Blackout," wherein two scheming females, remembering the good old days when it was a crime to show a little bit of light, decide that the only way to capture a couple of men at this school is to have something go wrong with the lights the night of the talent show. I won't go so far as to recommend who should play the leading characters in this play, but it could be worked out so that all the appropriate girls here at college could have an audition. I, personally, will donate six weeks of my time to see that all the eligible girls get a chance to play these lucrative roles. These are merely suggestions subject to alteration. (BOB WEYER, the editor, just leaned over my shoulder and pointed out that so is my nose.) Any other bright ideas will be submitted directly to Student Council, as I understand they need a few.

I'm crazy about this new look . . . but these gosh darn skirts get so heavy!

Headaches, fun and good, times, rushing — all three go together. In another three or four weeks the pledges will wonder if we have gone sadistic suddenly in order to think up the horrible initiations. That isn't so — it's just payment for all the work we go through to show them all a good time during rushing. All in all everyone winds up the season by agreeing that they had a wonderful three weeks.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

Kappa Sigma Kappa entertained 14 rushees at the Poland Country Club Sunday, April 21. A banquet was served and moving pictures of former football games played by Youngstown College were shown by Willard Webster, one of the advisors.

The fraternity decided to enter spring intra-mural sports wholeheartedly.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA

A Phi Lamb-Phi Gam mixer was held at the Central Y as the second rush party. The final party, a formal banquet, was held at the Pick-Ohio, with lambs and orchids as favors. The centerpiece was made of fluffy white lambs. The alumnae gave an enjoyable program. Later, the Phi Gams joined the sorority for dancing.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

The Phi Sigs will hold their annual April Showers Dance on April 2. Tickets are available from any active member of the organization. There will be a date party on March 27, at the hall. Bill Patinos is chairman of the annual Founder's Day banquet. John Lenhart is leaving for France shortly to pursue advanced studies.

ALPHA THETA DELTA

A Good Times Party was the feature of the second rush party of the season, held March 11 at the Old Log Cabin in Mill Creek Park. The sorority held its dinner dance at the Mahoning Country Club on March 20. Later in the evening the Phi Sigs and their rushees joined the group for dancing.

GAMMA SIGMA

Plans are now being formulated for the annual spring carnival. Joun Navin is chairman of this activity. At Polly Velker's suggestion, the sorority is now working on a project to send toys to the children in devastated Europe. Climaxing a very active rushing season, the Gamma Sigs held their formal dinner at the Military Room of the Pick-Ohio last Friday. Pat Lynch, chairman of rushing, was the charming hostess.

PHI GAMMA

The annual Sig Delt-Phi Gam basketball game was an event of Friday, March 19. A mixed party followed.

New Courses Are Offered in Humanities, English, Classical and Foreign Languages

by MARY ELLEN VAN BOXEL
(Second of a series)

The director of the division of language and literature, Mr. K. W. Dykema, announced recently that new courses would be offered in humanities, English, classical languages and foreign languages. The new courses will ones of three hours and will be offered next fall. They will benefit English, history, philosophy, political science, and sociology majors and pre-law students.

An entirely new department of humanities has been set up with a sequence of courses to complement the junior year social science work offered in the freshman and sophomore year. Next year the new courses will be elective and will be open to juniors and seniors. The first course will be the Classical Period, which will be the study of Homer, Plato, Aristotle, the Old Testament, Augustine, Chaucer, Dante, Machiavelli, etc. The third course is called the Early Modern Period, consisting of the study of Bacon, Shakespeare, Milton, Fielding, Adam Smith, Gibbon, and many others. The fourth course is entitled the Later Modern Period, which offers the works of Goethe, Thackeray, Dickens, Hardy, Henry, Adams, Shaw, and others. The first and third course will be given next fall. The second and fourth course will be offered next spring.

The primary purpose of the readings is to arouse the students morally and intellectually through the stimulus of these writings. An important secondary purpose is to acquaint them with a body of writing which has been extremely influential in the development of Western culture and to relate that material to the society in which it was produced and to our present society.

populous South American country, Brazil.

The following courses will be given this summer: English Literature; American Literature; Modern American English; Victorian Prose; English Drama; Shakespeare; Intermediate French; Elementary, Intermediate, and Chemical German; and Elementary and Intermediate Spanish.

For more information regarding these courses, Mr. Dykema will be available during his office hours.

With our present rate of enrollment this next notice, found in a Jambar of February 1931, takes a bit of an imagination—"Anyone interested in an All School Roller Skating Party at the Rayen-Wood Auditorium—see John Eastlake at once."

WHAT GOES with the ENGINEERS?

by JOHN P. BARRETT

In the new edition of the Standard Handbook for Electrical Engineers, which is expected to appear some time this spring, is a section on transformers. What makes this particularly interesting is that Professor Walter M. Dann of the YoCo engineering school is a co-author of the section. Here, in our school, is another man who is drawing on his practical experience, and giving the benefit to those in his classes. Mr. Dann spent some 30 years with Westinghouse and is an authority on the subject he covers in the handbook. Only when we stop to consider the few whose writings appear in this book do we realize the honor that Mr. Dann brings both to himself and to the engineering school.

Edward Luszczyk

Second on the honor list is Eddie Luszczyk, who recently won a fellowship in physics at the University of Syracuse. Eddie took the admission tests in the last half of his junior year, and did so well that he was unanimously awarded the fellowship by the department of physics at Syracuse. Nice going, Ed.

The engineering fraternity is getting off to a swell start. Its name is Mu Pi Epsilon, which stands for mathematicians, physicists, and engineers. With its 25 charter members, it is already well on its constitution and by-laws, and is planning on electing officers in the near future. In the meantime, Ed Barnes has been temporary chairman, and has done a swell job, too.

By the way, did any of you realize that Ray Croysdale "took unto himself a bride" last Saturday? Happy landings, Ray!

Once again we have the notice that Mr. Deesz will try to offer a class in the use of the slide rule next fall if there is sufficient interest shown. We all know that a slide rule will do more than most of us know how to do. This is one way of making a heavy burden a little lighter—by using the rule to its fullest capacity. If you are interested in this class, leave your name either at the book store (at the engineering building) or with me.

Music Fraternity Rushees Are Entertained at Party

A delightful evening was spent when Alpha Nu Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music fraternity for women, recently held a rush party at the Log Cabin in Mill Creek Park. The members welcomed the rushees, Betty Di-Menno, Marilyn Hogan, Rosemarie Ianazone, Rose Marie Malone, Mary Jean Miller, Dolores Thompson, Anise Pavicic, and Barbara Widing, with a touch of Irish to keep in tradition with St. Patrick's Day. Corn cob pipes were given to the rushees as favors. Games were played throughout the evening and a delicious lunch was served. The committee was Florence Wells, chairman, Polly Meitzen, and Marcella Sulenski.

Old Time Minstrel Show Will Benefit Hearing Center

Youngstown Quota Club will present a benefit Old Time Minstrel show at Stambaugh Auditorium Saturday, April 3. Proceeds from the two-hour show will go to the Hearing and Speech Center of Youngstown. Old Time Minstrels will appear in the first part of the program and will sing familiar minstrel songs. The second part will be an Olio of professional acts in carnival setting. Production managers are nationally known Joe Evans and Jack Elliott. The pair has produced more than 25 minstrel shows together. Lillian Butcher Stambaugh and W. Gwynne Jenkins, both well known musicians, will have charge of music. Tickets for the show are being sold on the campus by members of Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity. They may also be obtained at Cross Drug Store, 1 W. Federal St.; Schaefer Music Shoppe, Keith Albee Bldg.; Samuels Jewelers, Central Square; and McConnell & Schrag Drug Store in Warren.

Prof. Karl W. Dykema Heads English Group

Professor Karl W. Dykema, head of the English department of Youngstown College and director of the division of language and literature, has been appointed chairman of a committee to investigate standards set up by the state of Ohio for teachers of English. The appointment was made by Professor Robert Shurter, head of the department of English at Case Institute of Technology and president of the Northeastern Ohio College English Teachers' Association.

James McLaughlin was selected by Student Council recently to head the annual Bare Brunch, presented by the sophomore class. The event will be held May 5.

LETTERS — to the — EDITOR

Editor of the JAMBAR, sir:

I have received several issues of the JAMBAR this year and I want to write a letter telling you how much I enjoy a "little bit of YoCo" coming all the way to Arizona.

Keep up the excellent work. We have issues of the JAMBAR in a collection of college newspapers here at the University of Arizona and the JAMBAR is rated among the highest in their good variety of material used and the manner in which this material is prepared and presented.

I am looking forward to seeing more of the JAMBAR.

NANCY COOPERRIDER,

Editor of the JAMBAR, sir:

The freshman class wishes to thank Miss Evans and her art classes for making the posters that advertised the Freshman Reception. The big turnout at the dance is attributed, in large measure, to the excellent advertising obtained through the posters.

YoCo Art Instructor Wins Contest Award

Mr. Paul Komar, district artist and instructor in the art department of Youngstown College, recently received honorable mention for his oil painting shown in the sixth annual Ohio Valley Oil and Water Color Show at Athens, O.

The jury of selection was composed of Mr. Clarence Holbrook Carter, painter; Miss Anna W. Olmstead, director of the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts; and Dr. Justus Bier, head of the Department of Fine Arts of the University of Louisville and art critic of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mr. Carter, who served as jury of awards, made the following comment on Mr. Komar's painting: "Carnival" contains some of the most beautiful relationships of color and shapes in the entire exhibition. There again it seemed a more diversified type of painting, extending from Pechstein and Philip Guston; nevertheless, it is one of the strong pictures in the exhibition."

Ohioans won 10 awards at the show which included paintings by artists from Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Illinois.

The event is sponsored by Ohio University.

A message to you from the Chief of Staff

"April 6 is Army Day. It is a day which will have a special meaning for college men. More than half of you are veterans of the last war. Many of you are members of the Organized Reserve. Many others belong to the R.O.T.C. or National Guard.

"All of you are making a vital contribution toward World Peace and the security of this nation.

"The U. S. Army is the finest army in the world and the only one of its kind among the major powers. It is 100% volunteer. It is composed entirely of civilian soldiers . . . men like yourselves who realize that a strong America is a peaceful America, and that the responsibility of making America strong rests in the hands of every American citizen.

"The U. S. Army is not a large army, as armies go. It is shouldering tasks far greater than any other army of like size has ever attempted.

Our occupation force in Japan is the smallest per capita of any modern occupation army. Our force in Europe is the smallest of the three major powers.

"But behind this Army stand you men of the Organized Reserve and the R.O.T.C. I have been with many of you personally. I have been with many of you in action. I know the fine type of men you are and the realism that leads you to equip yourselves with military training.

"Further, I know the valuable service you can render the nation in time of emergency. A great deal of the success of fast mobilization and the actual winning of the war was due to the 106,000 trained Reserve Officers and the top-notch National Guard units which were available for quick action.

"To you, on Army Day, I believe I speak for millions of Americans in offering commendation for the fine job you are doing."

There has been a lot of hooping and hollering about the "jerry built" houses the vets are getting stuck with. Complaints against overcharging, failure of builders to meet specifications, and cheap materials are first on the agenda wherever ex-G. I.s gather. In most cases there isn't any way they can gain legal redress. The city is powerless to act against the builders because the houses are built within the building code specifications — just within and nothing more. The trouble lies with the builders. They are afraid to criticize another contractor's work for fear that their own will be subjected to criticism. The only way to protect yourself is to exercise care when purchasing a new home.

World War II vets would not be included in the "limited draft" asked for by President Truman. Army Secretary Royall said the draft would include a gross of 3,000,000 men between the ages of 19 and 25 who did not serve in the last war. The drafting could begin within 60 days after the official O. K. The official O. K. would be a new draft law.

Included in the March subsistence check will be an explanation of the provisions of P. L. 411 which increases subs allowances. The note will include instructions to the $120 group.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS
If you have a question that is bothering you we will answer it in this column, if possible. All inquiries should be addressed to "BIVOUAC" and deposited in the JAMBAR news box in the main office.

Q. I dropped my $10,000 G. I. term insurance and later reinstated only $5,000 of it. Is it possible for me to reinstate the other $5,000 at this late date?
A. Yes. You have until July 31, 1948, to reinstate without a physical examination if you certify that your health is as good as when the policy lapsed. You need to pay only two monthly premiums.

YoCo's Woodside Sisters Sing to Nation; Heard Each Saturday Morning Via ABC

by CATHY NAUGHTON

"We Come from Out of the Blue," is the familiar theme-song of the Woodside Sisters who are heard at 10:15 a. m. each Saturday over WFMJ and the coast-to-coast network of the American Broadcasting Co.

Probably the best well-known talent produced at Youngstown College, Mary and Alice, who belong to Alpha Theta Delta Sorority, and Jane, who is a junior in high school, have sung for nearly every club in Youngstown.

The idea for the trio was born when Mary attended the University of Arizona and there sang with a band. When she returned to Youngstown she sang with a band here, and Alice, liking the idea, followed suit. Jane was soon old enough to sing with the other girls and the trio became a realization.

At Christmas time, the girls sang for the Youngstown College Faculty Party and also for the party the Kiwanis Club gave for the blind. Just recently they were called upon to lend their talents for the McKelvey Fashion Show at the Stambaugh Auditorium.

Charlie Spivak, Eddie Howard, and Claude Thornhill have had the Woodside Sisters sing with their bands when the band leaders and their orchestras appeared in this city. When Horace Heidt played at the Palace Theatre in January, the girls sang on his NBC Sunday night radio show. Mary sings with Bill Ost several nights a week. Ost is house band at the Elms Ballroom.

Scufflers Take Intra-mural Cage Championship

SPORTING — VIEWS —

by JOHN PUGH
"The college baseball team will, in all probability, be a member of the "AA" league following the regular college season." This was the statement of Coach Rosselli when asked about the prospects of the team and its schedule for this year.

The local "AA" loop is comparatively fast and the players comprising the teams have played ball for some time together. It will be interesting to note the success of the team against such opposition.

With several players returning from last year's squad and the addition of some promising new material YoCo should be fairly strong.

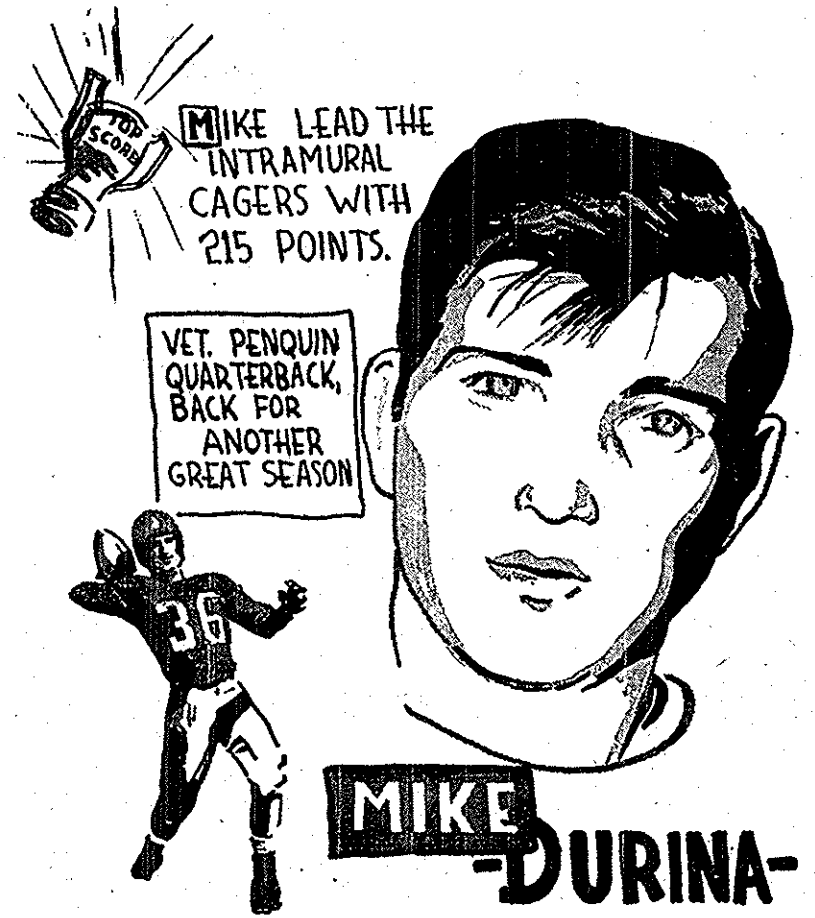

Of interest to local sports fans is the recent appointment of Cyril "Cy" James as football coach at Sharon High School.

Always a keen competitor and a clean athlete, "Cy" James will long be remembered at YoCo for his superb line play during the years 1939-1943.

His coaching record at Ursuline High and Erie Prep speaks for itself.

James' position as coach for Sharon High may have an indirect bearing on the future athletic material of YoCo. Sharon has a reputation for fine teams and any talent that may be steered to the college via this route would be welcome and beneficial.

Time Out . . . by Don Zangara

There is more enthusiasm being shown over the college tennis team this year than ever before.

In previous years the student body has had a tendency to overlook this particular field. This year, however, the team looks very good. An impressive schedule with plenty of home games promises a large turnout from students and local fans.

White All-Stars Top Reds in Preliminary

Miller Defeats Deare In Championship Game

by FRANK STIGLIANO
A good-sized crowd turned out to witness the final games of the Student Council sponsored ping-pong tournament which were played at the Youth Center last Monday. They saw an offensive type of player win out after a tedious battle over a worthy opponent who, with the exception of a few sporadic outbursts, was strictly of the defensive type.

When the smoke cleared Gerald Miller emerged as the victor but he knew he had played ball that day. Bill Deare, the runner-up, forced Miller to play a good game. Miller took an early lead in the set, and was on his way toward winning the first two games when Deare's chop-styled returns, many of which seemed impossible, started to take effect. Miller had been forcing the play continuously, but Deare returned his hardest smash-shots with such persistence that soon he had overcome his original deficit and pocketed the second game.

Miller, however, maintained his aggressive tactics and they ultimately paid off in victory, but the outcome was continually in doubt. The Student Council will award the first prize of $10 to Mr. Miller while Mr. Deare will receive a prize of $5 for winding up in second place.

The main attraction provided excitement for all who turned out. It was a nip and tuck battle throughout. The scoring was as follows:

New Castle			Scufflers
G.	F.	P.	G.	F.	P.
Genhook	7	7	21	Beckus	3	0	6
VanDuesee	0	1	1	Ellis	0	1	1
Telez	2	0	4	Yaslick	4	5	13
Pastoric	1	0	2	Backich	2	2	6
Ross	0	0	0	Vargo	3	1	7
Appel	0	0	0	Tastajovich	3	1	7
Congeni	0	5	5	Mariana	0	0	0
Thanos	2	2	6	Bozin	1	0	2
Totals	12	15	39	Totals	16	10	42

Genhook was high scorer for the evening with 21 points while Veselick was able to net 13.

Whites Beat Red All-Stars
The White All-Stars outpointed the Red squad in a fast scoring game which boasted of superb talent. The scoring lineup follows:

Red All-Stars		White All-Stars
McKara	2	5	Dimmoli	2	0	4
Grove	0	2	2	Gorak	1	2	4
Angelo	5	2	12	Leskovec	4	1	9
Heckel	2	1	5	Yangeloff	0	0	0
Fowler	2	1	5	Weaver	1	0	2
Partelmay	1	0	2	Altire	1	0	2
D. Drake	1	1	3	Drake	2	3	7
				Sliman	4	1	9
Totals	13	8	34	Totals	18	7	42

"Red" Angelo was high point man for this affair with 12 points while Leskovec and Sliman were runners-up in the scoring department with nine points each.

Durina Tops in Scoring
Mike Durina of the Whiz Kids took individual scoring honors for the season, amassing the grand total to a swell guy as well as an out-to-a swell guy as well as an outstanding player.

A generous "thanks" is extended to everyone who participated in intra-mural basketball, and better luck to all next year.

MEET THE ATHLETIC STAFF . . .

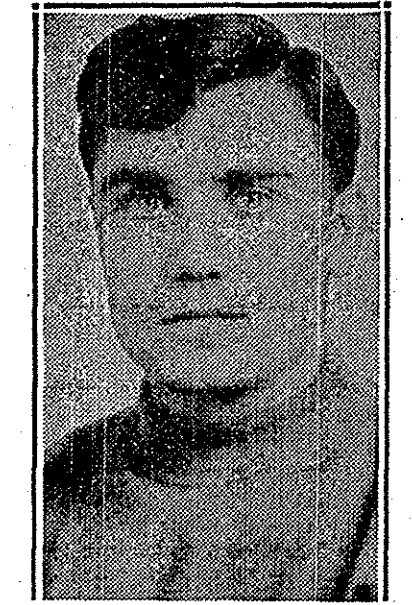

by TED BERNDT
(First of a series)

One of the most colorful and interesting sports personalities in the district is Youngstown College's basketball-baseball coach, Dom Rosselli.

Rosselli was graduated from Geneva College with the class of 1939. His record there in the field of sports is impressive to say the least. For four years as quarterback - captain he piloted the Geneva eleven on the gridiron. He was captain of the varsity basketball team for three years. During this period he also found time to manage and pitch an intra-mural softball team through four victorious years, play on a championship volleyball team and win 11 medals in individual sporting events. Add to these amazing feats the fact that during this time his weight seldom exceeded 129 pounds.

After coaching at Youngstown College for almost three years Rosselli left for service with the U. S. Army in February, 1942. He returned to the college in May, 1946, and resumed his duties again. He now serves as head basketball-baseball coach, assistant football coach and is in charge of intramurals. A bachelor of science in education, he is working toward his master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

Coach, Rosselli's air of calm, quiet self-confidence was never more apparent than when he was asked his opinion of the college baseball team and its chances for the season.

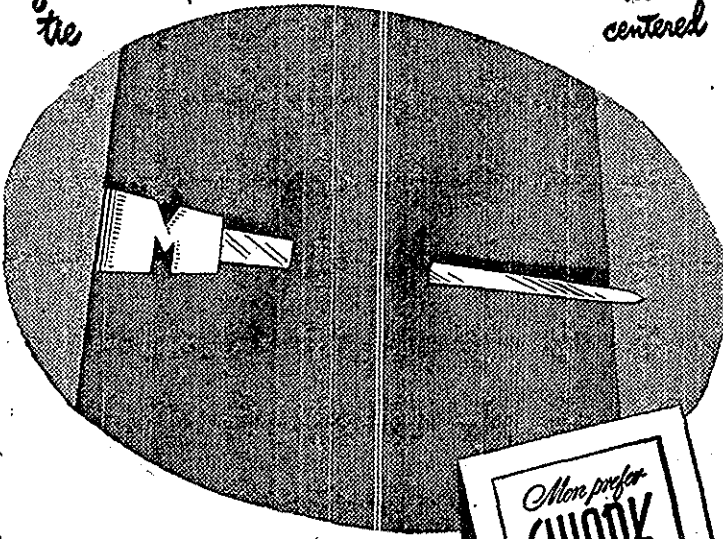

Coach Dom Rosselli

He said, "This year we have an infield and an outfield that will compare with the best. Our catching is also very good. Pitching is something you can't tell about until the season begins and the boys have a chance to work against competition. But if our pitching holds up I feel sure we can look forward to a very good season."

16 Teams Comprise Softball League

Sixteen teams will comprise the Intra-mural softball league this season. The league will be divided into two divisions, American and National. Play will start approximately April 5.

Each team will meet twice during the season with the championship being decided by division champs in a best-of-three series. All games will be played at Harrison Field which is located one block east of the college parking lot. Schedules will be handed out the week before play commences. Team managers must submit complete roster into the athletic building or to Mrs. Bush in the main office before their first game. Ed Kinney will be sports director.

First Student Rest Center in Germany Accommodates 40

The first International Student Rest Center in Germany has recently been opened in Muggenheim in the French Zone, Dorothy Munn, chairman of the YoCo World Student Service Fund Committee announced here Wednesday. Located in a former hotel in Muggenheim, the Rest Center has a capacity of 40, and is open to university students of any nation.

The Rest Center will not treat students who are seriously ill, but will care for students who are undernourished, or are likely to become seriously ill if not treated. All patients will receive at least two weeks of treatment and supplementary feeding.

Muggenheim is the newest of several Rest Centers for students supported by the World Student Service Fund, says Dorothy Munn. Others are Combloux in France, Leopoldskron in Austria, Moni Pendeli in Greece, and Rocca di Papa in Italy.

To date, the students who have utilized the student counseling service have found it helpful. Some of the questions that have been discussed are:

"Where do I go for help in finding part-time work?"

"Are Youngstown College credits acceptable in all schools?"

"What are the opportunities in Y. M. C. A. work?"

"Should I drop a course?"

"Where can I get information on graduate schools?"

If you have schedule difficulties, uncertain vocational interest, or any questions that may interfere with your doing your best at college, you are invited to contact Miss Pagaroll, room 209, for an appointment.

Elliot Lawrence To Play at Elms

Tony Cavalier, genial manager of the Elms Ballroom, announces this week that Elliot Lawrence, his piano, and his orchestra, will appear at the Elms for one night only, Thursday, April 8.

Fifty-five prom dates in one season is a record for any band—and that's the record that's been made by Elliot Lawrence, 22-year-old band leader. What's more, Elliot is so fresh from the University of Pennsylvania's Academy of Music, that seniors there still remember his playing as an undergraduate at college functions.

Interviewed recently by Varsity, the young man's magazine, Lawrence reviewed his amazing college career. Entering at the age of 16, he was awarded a scholarship after one term. Then in quick order he became a musical aide to the famous Mask and Wig club, drum major for the football team, and leader-of-the-band at most Penn dances. Lawrence received his diploma at 19—and with it, an alumni prize in music, another prize in creative art.

Incidentally, this campus favorite began his musical career at the age of three—conducting a "kid" band on a small Pennsylvania radio station.
