Stage Setbacks Put a Halt to Campus Chest

Campus Chest activities have been cancelled this semester due to difficulties arising in staging the amateur talent program previously scheduled for May 12, projects chairman Sam Tochtenhagen announced.

After reporting to Student Council that it would be too impractical to continue planning the fund-raising variety show this semester, Tochtenhagen suggested that the event be held in the summer. He asked, however, for an 80 per cent vote of confidence to assure support of the latter plan.

Student Council members ap-12 to 5 votes with 4 abstentions. Tochtenhagen then recommended that the Campus Chest be postponed until next fall.

The Chest plan was to solicit money in one drive and allot it to various charities by percentage. Special events were to be planned by a committee to add money to the Campus Chest Fund.

Tochtenhagen said he thought

MARY LOU RAWSON

Lovely Mary Lou Rawson Reigns At Junior Prom Tonight at Idora

by Jeanne Lyons

Planning to attend the Junior Prom? There's a treat in store for you if you do. In addition to the fine music, the large dance-floor, and the escape from homework, there's the pleasure of seeing charmin' Mary Lou Rawson, beautiful 1951 prom ruler.

Two YoGo Performers Take Contest Prizes

Johnny Sinchok and Nancy O'Connor won two of the first three awards at a recent variety act contest staged at the New Wilmington Community House, New Wilmington, Pa. The program was sponsored by the "30" Club of Westminster College.

Sinchok, previously lauded in appearances in two Yocohooey performances, won the gold cup offered to the first place act. A pre-dentistry student, Sinchok features pantomime impersonations with accompanying records.

Johnny Sinchok

Miss O'Connor, a freshman, took third place with her humorous dramatic readings. A group of three judges rated the thirteen contestants who participated.

After a long and arduous search, Lou was finally cornered for a brief interview between classes (or was it between the Lincoln and the cafeteria?) Anyway, Lou is a junior elementary education major, a member of the Religion-in-Life club and Phi Lambda Delta sorority and one of our fine energetic cheerleaders.

Miss Rawson, alias Miss Popularity, is a transfer student from Edinboro State Teachers College. She graduated from South High

QUESTION: WHERE DO YOU STAND ON THE TRUMAN-MacARTHUR CONTROVERSY?

WILLIAM CROWE (Soph.)
 Facts Not All Known

In my opinion, it seems the President made a very poor decision in removing MacArthur. It is true that the latter may have overstepped his bounds by openly disagreeing with the administration's Korean policy. But I believe MacArthur had the right, under the circumstances, to speak up.

With 10,000 American soldiers already dead and more being killed every day, it's about time someone made a definite decision as to just what our objective is in this so-called "police action".

It is possible, however, that the public does not know all the facts involving the firing of MacArthur. In that case the President's decision can be compared to a checker game in which moves that at first appear foolish, sometimes win the game.

EDWIN CROOK (Soph.)
 Truman Will Prevail

MacArthur is an excellent strategist on the speaker's rostrum as well as on the battlefield. His theories as to the possible reaction of Russia and China to American blockades, etc., are most implausible.

After the tumult and shouting die, I believe the sounder Truman-Acheson program will prevail.

DIXIE MITCHELTREE (Fr.)
 All-Out War Is Hasty

MacArthur took matters into his own hands against the wishes of higher authorities. This alone was enough to cause his dismissal and I heartily agree with it.

Perhaps China is fighting against us, but the people who are fighting against us aren't the only ones who would be killed in all-out warfare. There are many things to be taken into consideration and it is not for MacArthur alone to decide.

NANCY CRAFTFORD (Fr.)
 No Alternative

The Chinese have already shown their readiness to fight against us and they have taken the matter out of our hands. It's too late now to back out.

I don't completely agree with General MacArthur's methods but we have been fighting for some time in Korea on the more defensive side and will continue to do so in the way the situation is shaping up now.

TOM SCARNEY (Sr.)
 Truman Justified

The president has proven by his dismissal of MacArthur that he's much bigger than the rumored "loyal little Pendergast politician." In my considered judgment this act showed great courage, and a realistic understanding of current world ills.

Harry Truman's stock has taken a sharp rise in my book. And if I may indulge in the luxury of forecasting, may I suggest the possibility that some day historians will record this firing as the most constructive measure taken in 1951 to preserve world peace and keep us free from another conflict.

JERRY WELSH (Fr.)
 Poor Policy

Although it will take a military man to draw conclusions in the recent firing of MacArthur, I do know enough that you don't change horses in the middle of a stream.

Truman's untimely move has added strength to the MacArthur forces. By the 7,500,000 persons that crowded New York City to greet him, it leaves little doubt of the latter's popularity. I doubt very much if even Truman is a better drawing card than that.

Only time will tell whether Truman has blundered or gained in his questionable move.

Looking Around...

by JOSIE and "DOOTIE"

We're going to start off our column by letting you girls in on some real good advice.

"In the spring a young man's fancy LIGHTLY turns to thoughts of love."

Be sure that you remember to emphasize the lightly. That's the only thing we learned in high school literature and we considered the class a huge success.

Have you heard BETTY DIMENNO'S new title? Seems she's been named "Miss Atomic Bomb". Very appropriate.

The main topic of discussion (at least among the members) on campus is the new organization—The E.P.U.A.C. We've tried to find out what the initials mean but haven't been very successful. If you want to know what they stand for ask President HANK McDONALD. Don't forget to let us know if you find out.

Our Nomination For Cad of the Month . . . The college adult (?) who STOLE the Alpha Pi Epsilon phone pad from the booth. The pad was put there to be used not to be taken home.

We saw two new YoCoites at the Horror Show (spectators, of course) a few week-ends ago. Tell us how you liked the show JOHN WASKO and GIL PROKOP?

EMPLOYMENT

Wanted—Two attorneys to contest a $50,000 suit. Contact Josie at the Jambar Office.

LUCILLE HEYMAN is having trouble stretching her gloves. We'll take up a collection and buy you a new pair, Lou. That's better than having you go through those contortions again.

Spring afternoons bring everything good and surprising, at least MILLIE NAGY and ROSEMARIE BUCCIERI think so. We know the banana splits were delicious girls, but did the boys really pay the bill?

Psychology seems to have invaded the campus. Everywhere we snooped for gossip the students were looking at things from a psychological viewpoint. Who knows, maybe psychology is here to stay.

Some readers have been complaining that this column isn't what it should be. They say we dash it off at the last minute and don't spend enough time on it. True, we do rush it in the last minute—the very last, at that—and all hashed up. But shucks, we've been so busy lately (always excuses) and with May coming, our time will be even more limited. Yeh, but how can you explain the other months? — No comment.

Dootie would like to know how she can get rid of her cold. She had it for more than a week and tried all sorts of methods to do away with it—sleep in the afternoon, drank warm milk, tea, and something else, but with no results. Maybe she's got T.B. —Too many Bees-culosis. Can't be, She hates beer! And advice concerning this matter will be appreciated.

The R.I.L. Spring Dance held recently at the First Christian Church proved a dandy. About 50 to 70 attended and joined in the square dancing and frolicking. Many freshmen were there—a very good sign.

JOHN SINCHOK and NANCIE O'CONNOR deserve praise for the recent awards on their fine showing in a variety act contest sponsored by the "30" Club of Westminster College.

What, Again?

We guess the readers are right. We dash this column off and the result is we make too many errors. Our apologies to GEORGE LUCIA for spelling his name LUSCIOUS-CHECK. The CHECK was for the copy-reader to check on the spelling as we were uncertain about it. Come to think of it, Josie probably knew how to spell it, but she never saw it until it appeared in the issue. Anyway, his friends call him Luscious. Was it before or after they saw it in print?

Jezebel, the new recording by Frankie Laine, is really cute. Yet, as we strained our ears to hear a piano in the selection, all we could hear was the guitar. Still Dan Ryan plugs Carl Fisher on the piano. Oh well, who knows, we might even wash our cars this Saturday.

College Is No Sanctuary For Lazy Draft Dodgers

It isn't difficult to convince most people that as a nation we must preserve our educational and training facilities to meet the future demands for trained men. It is however difficult to convince these same people that most college students are not seeking a sanctuary instead of an education.

Promising students, under the new draft bill, will get a chance to finish their college education, but the final decision in each case is up to the individual draft board. Contrary to some misbelief, every college student will not automatically meet the specifications. Each student eligible for draft call, will be required to take an exam. These exams will be graded by a national service set up expressly for this purpose, and each graded exam will then be sent to the local draft board. Once a draft board has these exams at their disposal it will be their decision that will or will not stamp a student promising enough to be deferred temporarily.

A paradox exists, that defends our institutes of higher learning and attacks the students that attend these schools. This situation didn't always exist. It used to be felt that college students were an ambitious group who worked hard to better themselves. Why the change in sentiment? Maybe, as with individuals who grow older, our nation too is becoming more and more skeptical. To those skeptics who feel that every one is getting a "fast shuffle" and that the days of industrious youth are gone there isn't much we can say to relieve them of this feeling. Yet let us never pass up an opportunity to prove that attending college doesn't mean we've gone on a glorified picnic.

To support any plan that would needlessly curb college enrollment would simply mean that we are inviting a condition that would weaken our whole educational advantage. College facilities are not built overnight. A college grows through someone's interest in that school, and because someone with vision wants to add to our natural abundance, whether it be economic or academic. Once weakened, our educational facilities would take years to repair themselves.

Campus Chest - Good Lesson

The cancellation of the Campus Chest due to staging difficulties is regrettable. The project was a worthwhile experiment and might have proved an efficient method of collecting for charities.

Council should seriously consider re-adopting the program next fall. The experience gained and the planning accomplished by the chairmen can be utilized by next year's Campus Chest staff.

The Chest has shown at least, that the majority of the campus organizations are willing to work together. This adult attitude should be cultivated among college students instead of the "me first" approach.

Letter to the Editor ---

I would like to thank all persons and organizations who participated in the organization of the Campus Chest program, especially the chairman: Jack Shea, Charles Zidian, Robert DeWitt and Ed Taylor. I certainly appreciate your help.

Boards May Permit Deferred Students To Travel Abroad

A regulation allowing local draft boards to authorize a permit to young men of draft age (with college deferment) to leave the United States and go abroad this summer has been received from the Washington headquarters of Selective Service.

This regulation enables both men and women students to take advantage of the low student fares to Europe offered this summer by the Council on Student Travel. Round-trip fares to Le Havre are $230.

During the nine-day trans-Atlantic voyages, a shipboard orientation program will be offered to student passengers consisting of movies, language classes, lectures and discussions on European culture and problems. The program will be conducted for the most part by professors of colleges and universities.

Students wishing to make a summer voyage to Europe and who wish to check with their draft board should do so before the latter part of May.

The Council on Student Travel, a non-profit organization, coordinates the efforts of some 50 organizations interested in the field of student travel. Its purpose is to make European travel available to students, young people and teachers with limited budgets and to help the traveling student understand thoroughly and appreciate the countries he visits.

Speeding on U. S. streets and highways last year killed 13,300 men, women, and children.

DeMolli Saves Cat From Tree Fright

A daring rescue was made recently on the local campus. Students and Business office workers were distracted by the frantic squeals of a cat perched about forty feet high in a tree just outside the Main Bldg., on the Lincoln Ave. side.

Pleas for Fire Department aid and other hysterical requests swamped the Public Relations Office. Miss Marguerite Friedrichs, however, kept her head amidst the tumult and called for the most responsible man on campus—Bruno DeMolli.

Bruno lost little time securing a double extension ladder to the tree and succeeded (after a struggle) in shaking loose the terrified feline. The rescuer escaped without injuries but the cat went from the frying pan into the fire.

From the spot where Bruno dropped it, the furry animal raced across Lincoln Ave., was narrowly missed by a car, and ran smack into the face of a large dog. When last seen it was heading for another, larger tree.

NSA Group Publishes Travel-Study Booklet For American Students

The United States National Student Association announces the publication of the third annual edition of "Work Study Travel Abroad, 1951", a comprehensive outline of summer educational travel opportunities abroad for American students.

In handy booklet form, "Work Study Travel Abroad, 1951" lists more than a hundred tours and special programs designed for students who wish to spend the summer in Europe. It covers work programs, study programs, festivals, seminars and fellowships, and study-travel opportunities. Information on requirements for participants and addresses of the organizations arranging the programs is given in detail.

An additional feature of the booklet is the complete section on general travel information. Prospective student travelers are informed on passport and visa requirements, arrangements in Europe, air and sea transportation information, and detail on special grants for travel.

"Work Study, Travel Abroad, 1951" is available at fifty cents (.50c) per copy from the U. S. National Student Association, 304 N. Park St., Madison 5, Wisconsin. Students from member schools of USNSA will be able to obtain the booklet from their student government office or local campus committee. Carolyn Clark and Bob Clayton are the NSA representatives on this campus.

First ROTC Military Ball Here Makes Social History at YoCo

By Paul Rogozan

On Friday night, May 11, 1951, Youngstown College will be living history — in the form of social functions presented in Ohio.

The members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, with Capt. Jones, will present to Youngstown students, their families and their friends, the first annual "MILITARY BALL". It will mark the first time in the history of Youngstown College, and the city of Youngstown, that an event of this caliber has been held.

All the members of the "snappy looking" R.O.T.C., rated as one of the finest in the state, along with their leaders, are endeavoring to make this the greatest social event in the entire history of Youngstown College, as well as the event of North Eastern Ohio.

A key hole view shows that the "Ball" will be everything that is anticipated, and a little more. Charley Pickens, who has one of the most modern orchestras in the nation, will be on stage to handle the musical chores. More about Mr. Pickens in the next issue of the JAMBAR.

The price of admission to this gigantic affair is only five dollars a couple. Now fellows get this: for five dollars—checking of your wraps and your girls' wraps, flowers for your girl (given at the door), refreshments during the entire evening, dancing to a fine orchestra, and to top it all off, you are spending an enjoyable evening with one of the sweetest girls you know — just think, all this and more. You just can't top it.

You can obtain tickets for the "BALL" from any R.O.T.C. Cadet. Tickets are also on sale at the box office in the main hall of the main building, from 9:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., to accommodate the day students and the night students.

NSA Will Probe Inter-Collegiate Sports Program

The U. S. National Student Association (NSA) recently announced establishment of a national committee to investigate the entire field of inter-collegiate athletics.

The U. S. NSA, composed of 335 colleges and universities, and representing more than 800,000 students, is deeply concerned with the developments in the field of intercollegiate athletics.

Among the things the committee will consider will be athletic hiring and firing policies, the amount of student participation in formulating athletic policy, and the extent of commercialization and subsidization in athletics. The committee will be composed of students and teachers from all sections of the country.

Newman Club Leader Sues Jambar, Writer For $50,000 Damage

A $50,000 character defamation suit is being brought against the editors of the JAMBAR and columnist Josie Frazzini by Father Arthur B. DeCrane.

Father DeCrane charges intent to damage his reputation and character to an article published in Miss Frazzini's Column, "Looking Around", Friday, April 13. The section in question said as follows: "Father DeCrane looked mighty snazzy in his chartreuse shirt, socks, and hat, and green necktie at 'cowboy night' at the last Newman Club meeting. He even had six-shooters to complete his outfit. 'Hoppy' has nothing on you, padre."

The hearing is set for the Catholic Action Center, Sunday evening, May 6. Father DeCrane's attorneys, Chuck Zidian and Bill Houser are handling prosecution of the suit.

No comment was obtained from JAMBAR authorities but it was indicated that the suit would be contested.

Swimmers Find Respite from Class at RIL Party

Are you a potential Esther Williams or a Johnny Weissmuller? Maybe you just enjoy swimming! Well, "pro" or amateur, you're sure to like the Religion-In-Life club's co-ed swimming parties held at the YMCA the second Tuesday of every month.

There's fun for everyone at these monthly aquatic meets. There are pictures by Rev. Albert L. Linder, advisor of the club, refreshments, and some impromptu fancy diving stunts — all for a quarter!

So if you like to swim (and who doesn't), hurry on down to the "Y" May 15. You'll be in time for the last RIL swimming party this semester. Where did we put our bathing caps?

Off the Record . . .

by JIM MCGINTY

A few moons ago I dropped in at the local pantheon to hear the "SWEETEST MUSIC THIS SIDE OF HEAVEN" played by the one and only Guy Lombardo. Under normal conditions I can usually take about four records of thirty minutes of his style of playing. But through some quirk of fate, I went and thoroughly enjoyed myself. I have marveled at the Lombardo band for many years, mainly for the reason that in most of the popular music magazines, he has been voted the King of Corn many more times than Mr. Lombardo probably thought was necessary. Guy has been in the big band business for twenty years or more, and holds the unique distinction of having played on a coast to coast network at least once a week since the year 1925.

It was at the Roosevelt Grill in New York in 1929 that the band began to gain national prominence. When the original band was formed it listed ten members — now guess how many of those are still with the band. Ha, Ha—your all wrong — nine is the answer. With the exception of the guitarist-vocalist Bill Flannigan and Harry Walters, the bass player, all are the original originals.

Flannigan was formerly with Fred Waring and Walters, a side man with Charlie Barnet. Kenny Gardner, the featured vocalist, has been with the band since 1940. Before he arrived on the scene, one of the instrumental boys handled the pipes department. But when Kenny married Rosemarie, Guy's sister, he got himself a permanent job on both sides of the footlights.

Begins as Family Affair

The general history of the band is that it was a family affair at its inception. Guy was, in a cooperative manner, chosen the leader, with Carmen, Lebert, Victor and Rosemarie doing the singing and playing. Then working with the idea of a small band which employed good professional musicians who could double on at least two instruments, the band made its start and has been going ever since.

The four reed men double in clarinet, flute, bass clarinet and English Horn. Guy uses one alto sax, two tenors and a Bb bass horn change from their respective horns for a quick toot on a baritone horn, French Horn, alto horn, a valve trombone for technical passages and a bass trumpet for added depth. Then of course the rhythm section had the usual assortment of drums, string bass, guitar and the music-box effect of the twin pianos.

As if the band alone wasn't enough, the famous Ames Brothers did a fine job on the popular hits of the day. "Can Anyone Explain" and "Rag Mopp" are their most recent recordings. They displayed fine showmanship while they sang, which greatly helped to put over their songs. So that "all-in-all" you'll have to give the devil his due. When a band such as Lombardo's, works ten months out of every year and still packs 2600 people into an auditorium from $2.40 to $7.50 per head he has to be good or else he doesn't last very long, especially twenty years, anyway!

Music a la carte . . . for the many individuals who like to partake in "Jam Sessions", we suggest that they hop into their little "hot rods" and make tracks for the local joints—er—establishments. Lately there has been a definite rise in the number of musicians who are getting back to the "toot for fun" stage after hours—2:30 till—?

Music For Kicks

I guess this is a good sign, because when the boys feel like making music for free, the quality will definitely be better—the competition will get stronger and more people will want the better bands. Consequently everyone will be working — maybe not seven nights a week, but one night is better than none at all.

I believe the music situation in Youngstown in the last four or five months has been so low that about 90% of the boys' horns are pretty rusty—so get out the goose grease, men; local 802 is beginning to come to life—not again—just to life now. I bet some people I know won't like that last statement—eh. Well anyway, it's the truth.

Club owners won't hire non-union musicians, but if they do, the union officials jump on their necks. So union men don't work for fear of playing in a non-union club below scale rates and getting fined—then the non-union player goes and plays in a non-union club which should have union musicians — what happens—both the union and non-union musicians get tossed out on the proverbial ear, and nobody works. With no band the club owner goes out of business, the musicians starve to death and the students at YoCo haven't anyplace to go after a dance, and then—whoo Giuseppe!

This could go on and on and I could get into some pretty fancy arguments, etc. So I leave you with these parting words: So Long, It's Been Good To Know Ya—Ha, Ha.

The brothers looked quite prosperous their last two weeks, smoking cigars, drinking the blood of the pledges, and making them the nuisances they are.

With the coming of hell night, the uncertain eight are not quite as sure of themselves as they were the first few days of hell week. The condemned are: Harry Ritchey, Herb Ritchey, Herb Williams, Dick Hill, Dick Cercone, Dick Westerman, Chuck Beatrice, Bill Latham, and Bill Brigham. If anyone has any suggestions as to new indignities or tortures which can be meted out, please contact Ed Komp, pledgemaster. Ed deserves a lot of credit for the fine job he is doing in his office as procurator of the tempers of the neophytes.

Frank Thornton, Jim Matta, Bud Fury, Leo Coughlin, Dave O'Brien, Wayne Ault, Al McHugh, Jack Saunders, and Gene Larsick can't stop talking about the good time they had in Detroit. Maybe someday they'll break down and tell us what really went on.

PI BETA CHI—(S)

Hell week is nearly over (guess I'll have to start doing my own work again) it's been fun! Really! Ask any of our pledges what week it is? Maybe we should call it "brotherly love" week. (You're proving it through the enjoyment of our pledges.) All kidding aside we are proud of our new pledges, Jerry Welsh, Chester Eckman, Tom Hoyt, and Bill Williams. Installation is Wednesday, May 2, followed by a semi-formal banquet on May 6 at Ma Perkins.

PHI GAMMA—(S)

Our pledge season is in full swing under the very able direction of Pledgemaster Dave Borow. Tino Powers, Tom Dundon, Dan Dundon, Bud Mayberry, Bill Snyder, Tom Creed, and Bob Wake are the members of the pledge class.

We had a "social gathering" at Yankee Lake last weekend. After much "tablehopping" all the brothers became a little better acquainted with the pledges' dates. Anyone need any new phone numbers.

A word of advice to the pledges "If some men were as true to their country, as they are to their girls — Goodbye Country." To use an old quotation from the eminent George Hurtuk "Let's kick out the walls at the Junior Prom tonight."

The future will be present this evening. Nice to have you home, Pink.

ALPHA IOTA—(B)

We are glad to see JoAnne Butler back. She was vacationing at home with the flu.

Our one and only pledge is Betsy Dustman. Betsy is a graduate of Boardman High School, class of '50. We hope you don't make a habit of letting the boys kiss you in public all the time, Betsy. We know, pledges are to do everything they are told to do.

We are all excited about going to the Alpha Iota Conclave in Cincinnati, Ohio, May 18. Delphine Olenick was chosen queen from Youngstown to represent us. Lots of luck, Del.

Our recent pledge party was held at Mildred Stefanik's home on April 24. We also made plans for our Mother-Daughter tea. Dolores Bryan was appointed chairman.

PHI EPSILON—(H)

Phi Epsilon science fraternity of Youngstown College installed seven new members and heard an interesting discussion by Roy Mellon, Youngstown City Chemist, at their annual installation banquet held recently at Ma Perkins Chicken House, Warren. Mr. Mellon spoke about his duties and experiences as city chemist.

President Joseph Ceryan installed the new members who include: Emery Braidich, Al Celec, Ed Komp, Robert Lynch, Bernard Paluszak, Franklin Headd, and John Wenzel. James W. Kelly was banquet chairman and the invocation was given by Paul Luginbill, member of the chemistry faculty. Dr. E. D. Scudder, head of the department, spoke briefly to the chemists.

ALPHA THETA DELTA—(S)

Our April 10 meeting was held at Pollock Hall.

The following pledges were installed by our president Betty Dimmenno: Martha Clark, Nancy Crofford, Virginia Gething, Gerry Lewis, Dixie Mitcheltree, Loreta Raah, Carol Pape, Viive Prees and Mary Beth Reen. They were then introduced to their big sisters.

Jean Pennock, pledge mistress, gave the instructions to the new pledges.

The pledge group elected Martha Clark as their chairman. The evening was concluded with refreshments served by the following committee: Peggy Biga, Maxine Blair, Carolyn Clark, and Sally Connelly.

Several Sundays back our younger sisters entertained us with a spaghetti dinner; even though this is a bit belated, thanks again girls for a grand time at the Poland Country Club.

GAMMA SIGMA—(S)

A short meeting was held at YoCo on April 24 when final plans for the sorority's third annual style show were completed. The style show will be Thursday, May 3rd, in the C. J. Strouss Auditorium. Livingston's clothes will be modeled by the girls who have become active in the past year. Tickets may be obtained from any active or pledge member of the sorority.

Have you seen the latest creations from Paris being modeled by the Gamma Sigma pledges!! The stunning models are Rose O'Horo, Joan Klein, Nancie O'Connor, Frances Restell, Marlene Schnauffer, and Jere Wolfe.

Mrs. Carol Nord Riddle was recently entertained at a shower at Lil Salem's home by the active Gamma Sigs.

Congratulations go to our brother, Johnny Sinchok, and pledge, Nancie O'Connor on having won first and third prize honors at Westminster College in a campus talent show.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA—(Ser.)

On Monday, April 10, the Epsilon Phi Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity formally installed its new officers. Prof. Harold R. Crites performed the installation. Retiring President William G. Houser is in charge of preparations.

With the ENGINEERS . . .

by Ted Herman

The presentation of thesis by the graduating seniors is scheduled for May 15, 1951. The ceremony will be held in the Strouss Memorial Auditorium at 2:00 p.m. The program will start with a talk given by Mr. O. W. Irwin, guest speaker, on the subject "Rail Steel in the World of Today." He is a resident of Evanston, Ill., and is a graduate of Case Institute of Technology. Mr. Irwin was instrumental in bringing the Truscon Steel Company from Michigan to Youngstown when he was vice president of that concern.

After leaving the Truscon he became vice president in charge of concrete reinforcing bars and tin plate divisions of the U. S. Steel Corporation reaching the age of retirement, he organized a corporation of his own, named the Rail Steel Bar Association whose product is rods for reinforcing concrete.

The method of obtaining these rods is by salvaging rails and cutting them into three different sections. A film will be shown of this operation and the uses of rail steel.

Upon conclusion of the film, thesis representing each engineering field will be read. The purpose of the ceremony is to give honor and recognition to the men who have written especially worthwhile theses. All juniors and seniors are required to attend. By the way, classes will be dismissed from 1:50 p.m. to the end of the ceremony for juniors and seniors only.

Professor Charignon announces that on May 5, 1951 the power plant located in the Mechanical Laboratory will be run with a full load. The running of this power plant consists of firing the boiler and then transmitting the steam into a Dick and Church engine, steam turbine or vertical steam engine each driving a 37½ kilowatt D. C. generator, a 60 kilowatt A. C. generator and a prony brake respectively.

This undertaking should be very interesting since this will be the first time in the school's history that this power plant will be run with a load.

Florescent Lighting Installed In Library

Twelve fluorescent light fixtures have replaced incandescent globes in the college library, increasing the quantity of light far above standard for reading ease, library director James Pirie announced today.

The four-tube lights have been installed in the reading rooms and the processing room as a remedy for the former substandard condition.

Four One-Act Productions Scheduled for Next Month

It was announced by Mr. Foley that a series of plays will be presented in the latter part of May.

The four plays to be presented are: "Hunger," "The Terrible Meek," "If Men Played Cards Like Women Do." The main feature of this presentation will be a three-act play—"The Little Foxes."

In 1950, 3,400 pedestrians were killed in the United States.

Psych. Club Attends Allegheny Conference

Members of the Youngstown College Psychology Club attended the first Allegheny Undergraduate College Psychology Conference last weekend. Dr. Wayne Dennis, head of the psychology department at Pittsburgh University, spoke on "The Future Prospects of Psychology."

Papers submitted by students attending the conference were read to the group. Several outstanding essays were: "Psychosomatic Medicine," "Use of Suggestion in Propaganda" and "A Study of the Effects of Electro-Convulsive Shock on Adrenalectomized or Gonadectomized Albino Rats."

Those attending were conducted on a tour of the Allegheny psychology laboratories. Plans were made to make the conference an annual meeting, rotating the host schools among the district colleges and universities.

Psychology Club members are invited to a conference at Kent State University May 18. Marital Counselling will be discussed at the next regular meeting, Wednesday, May 8.

Kent Professor Says Counsel Aids Maladjusted Students

Counseling college students who need aid in meeting adjustment problems in social, academic, religious and behavior spheres is fast becoming recognized as necessary in present-day American colleges and universities. This is the conclusion reached at a panel discussion of "Non-Directive Counseling" held recently at the YMCA by the Mahoning Valley Mental Hygiene Association.

Dr. Charles Winslow, of Kent State University Psychology Dept. acquainted panel members and listeners with the results of a psychology clinic that has been available to KSU students for seven years. Dr. Winslow is one of three professors who devote half their time to counseling students who come to the guidance center with campus problems.

Outlining the twofold purpose of the clinic as (1) to help students adjust to their problems at the university and (2) to provide advance training in practical psychology for graduate and undergraduate psychology students, Dr. Winslow stated that the counselors use the non-directive method as much as is practically possible.

Advisor Is 'Sounding-Board'

Non-Directive Counseling was explained as a guidance method in which the counselor helps the student understand his problems more clearly and presents to him possible solutions. "There is no direct attempt to change the student's religious or moral evaluations or concepts," Dr. Winslow assured the group. "The counselor acts as a 'sounding-board' and reflects the counsellee's problems and offers practical methods of solving them.

Presently more than 20 per cent of the KSU student enrollment seek interviews at the clinic in one year, Dr. Dwight Arnold, who was prevented from taking part in the panel talk because of illness, heads the Psychology Clinic.

Commenting on the effectiveness of the program, Dr. Winslow noted that the most difficult barrier to its success is the stigma society still attaches to mental and psychological problems. "We have made great progress," he said, "towards the goal of mental hygienists. That is the general acceptance of the maladjusted person as sick (and not 'crazy') and the recognition of numerous and widespread adjustment problems."

The doctor considered the number of KSU students interviewed large enough to merit continuation of the guidance service. "If 25 per cent of the students enrolled at a college need vocational or other guidance some time during their four years at school," he estimated, "it's worth while to the school administration to set up a college counseling service."

Hits Faculty Counsellors

Another big block to student counseling was pointed out by panel member Gloria Kaufmann. Faculty counsellors are prevented from helping many students who hesitate to confide in them. Miss Kaufmann, a senior psychology major at Youngstown College, reminded the group that a faculty member represents authority. "The student may fear for his grade or class standing and withhold pertinent information."

This, she concluded, was an important argument for a full-time, non-faculty counsellor. Miss Kaufmann contended that there was a definite need on the local campus for student guidance in social, religious, behaviour, and other adjustment problems.

Discipline, Counselling Don't Mix
Combining discipline with counselling is difficult according to panel member Paul Luce, assistant principal of East High School. "In my experience, I have learned that a law enforcer finds it exceedingly difficult to maintain the welcome atmosphere necessary for effective counselling," Mr. Luce reported.

(In Dr. Winslow's discussion of KSU's Clinic, he revealed that teachers had occasionally referred discipline problems to the guidance center with some success. Instead of appearing before the discipline committee for penal action, the offender presented his problem to the counsellor and a satisfactory solution was often found. The majority of counsellees, however, came to the clinic on their own, and were handled independently of any administration authority.)

Mr. Luce voiced the need for closer family co-operation in guiding school children. He blamed parental indifference or neglect for many cases of child and adolescent maladjustment. Children should be treated more as equals than subordinates to the parents, according to Mr. Luce. "When young people are assured that even adults have their weaknesses and that we are all 'partners in crime,'" he explained, "they will be more likely to seek advice from their elders and more apt to consider practical the solutions offered to their problems."

Moral Obligation Exists

To Aid Maladjustment
Moderator James Simon summed up the reasons for the need of student guidance. "In the tense, insecure atmosphere today's young people live in," he declared, "there is a moral obligation on those capable of aiding maladjusted persons to do so. When Americans are uniting in defense of their right to live as they see fit, Simon urged that Psychiatrists and mental hygienists do their part in training a unified, compatible, well-adjusted citizenship.

Mrs. L. R. Mossman, president of the MVMHA, introduced the speakers, and announced that May 2-8 was named Mental Hygiene Week. Newspapers and magazines are planning to devote space to progress and activities of mental hygiene groups. The Mahoning Valley Mental Hygiene Association broadcasts a regular program each Saturday at 1:45 p.m. over WFMJ.

Mary Lucretia Barker Franklin of Denver, Colo., formerly of Youngstown and a graduate of Youngstown College, class of 1938, has presented a copy of her book of poems "In Light and Shade" to the Youngstown College library, James W. Pirie, director of libraries, has announced.

The first part of the book contains a number of ballads, Indian poems, and folk types of poetry. These are followed by a carefully composed group of fine lyrics which form the central part of the book.

Mrs. Franklin's work has already received wide recognition. Her poems have been published in a variety of magazines, poetry columns of newspapers, and anthologies. Several of the poems have won distinguished prizes for the author.

The book was published by Sage Books, Inc., and is a part of a series coming out called "Poets of the West."

PHI LAMBDA DELTA—(S)

It seems spring has finally caught up with the calendar (we hope) and though the weather isn't conducive to studying, it's fine for trips! The kids who spent last week-end in Cleveland had loads of fun. There's nothing like lost keys and spaghetti at $2.75 a plate. (Oh well, the sandwiches were good anyway.) Ask "Amaryllis" about the three pound box of candy!!! What facetiousness.

Plan are under way for our annual dinner-dance and our mother-and daughter luncheon-bridge party. We've also been dreaming up delightful things for (pardon the expression) heck-night.

Looking forward to the breakfast next Sunday with the Gamma Sigs, Phi Gams and Sig Deltas. Let's hope the nice weather doesn't desert us a la last year!

See ya at the Junior Prom!

ALPHA SIGMA CHI—(H)

Plans for the forthcoming dinner-dance were discussed at the last meeting. Ed Vontom was appointed chairman. The tentative date was set for June 20.

Joe Bindas was appointed chairman of the $50 Bond raffle to be held May 30. The public is invited.

Sports enthusiasts Joe Arbie, Dom Martin, Sam Vuletick, and Jim Perry are planning a Canadian fishing trip. One of the fraternity varsity baseball hopefuls, Mitchell Bolevich, has been sidelined with an elbow injury. He was struck by a pitched ball.

All members are asked to attend the next meeting for election of officers.

SIGMA DELTA BETA—(S)

Pledges Bill Hall, Bob Warner, John Bobko and Michael Yoeman were installed at a recent meeting at the YMCA.

Congratulations are due Tony, "Mighty Mite", Fasline, who was recently elected treasurer. Have a good time, Tony, the books won't be inspected until June.

Next Sunday is our joint brother-sister breakfast. (Phi Gams, Phi Lambs, Gamma Sigs and Sig Deltas.) A softball game with the Phi Gams will be one of the main events following the feed.

Mike Sudano must have changed breakfast cereals! Mike started off the I-M softball season in fine fashion when, as the first man up in the first inning, he knocked the first pitch for a long center-field home run. Danny DeGenova displayed remarkable pitching form.

See you at the Junior Prom.

NU SIGMA RHO—(S)

Six new members were taken into Nu Sigma Rho fraternity last week as initiation exercises came to an end. They include Pete Julian, Ernie Schultz, Ken Karian, "Ozzie" Maceyko, James Ondomisi, and Tony Jannetto.

The initiation program included the donation of a pint of blood by each new member to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. There were also parties at the Colony and Golden Dawn Cafes'. The pledges' honored their pledgemaster George Geletka with a birthday party in his honor at the Ritz Monday night.

YoCo Nine Faces Allegheny; Shades Fenn, Loses to B-W

Youngstown College baseballers, waving the war club with improving success, will collide with Allegheny College tomorrow afternoon at Meadville, Pa. Coach Dom Rosselli stated during the pre-season warm-ups that he was fearful that the hitting department would not keep up its pace. However in their first two encounters the Penguins have drilled out 21 hits in 67 trips to the plate which is better than .300 and a marked improvement over last year's batting at this time.

The tentative starting line-up for the Allegheny game will include: Roger Ottawa at first, Fran McHugh at second, Cy Quarterston at third, Cecil Duffet at short and Jim Ellsworth behind the plate. The outfield will have Dick Williams, c.f., George Lucia, l.f., and Paul Stebleton, r.f. Rosselli has not yet announced a starting pitcher but Bill Schriver or Dick Selby should be about ready for the call.

Gain Split

The Penguins gained a split in their first two games. Shielded behind Nick Granitto's four hitter, Youngstown shaded Fenn 3-2 in the season's opener for both clubs at Victory Field. Carl Stebleton, powdering the apple four out of five times, delivered the timely knock-out blow with a single that scored Cecil Duffet from second. Catcher Jim Ellsworth pumped out two doubles.

Baldwin Wallace's Yellowjackets spilled the locals 6-3 last week at Evans Field. Although out-slugged 11-7, the Clevelanders fattened their scoring margin with five payoff singles. Dick Williams got three hits in five times to the plate. Youngstown staged a belated two run last inning rally.

Plays With Athletics

Mike Modak, former Cincinnati Red hurler, has signed with the Youngstown Athletics in the Mid-Atlantic League. A physical ed. major on the local campus, Modak is a graduate of Campbell Memorial Hi School. Mike is tentatively scheduled to pitch the season's opener.

Women's Spring Sports, Archery Sessions Begin

Spring intramurals for women begin this week with archery, softball, and tennis being offered. The archery range back of Butler Art Institute will be open to all students, men and women, who wish to participate from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, beginning April 30. Archery manager, Frances Sampson, will be in charge of all activities.

On Wednesday afternoons from 4:00 to 6:00 beginning April 25, the girls will be playing softball at Harrison Field under the management of Nancy Kelley. These sessions will serve as practice time for those who plan to participate in the Sports Day at Ohio University, Saturday, May 5. Volleyball is on the agenda again too.

The sign-up list for the Sports Day is on the main bulletin board in the YWCA gymnasium. Patt Lowry, manager of intramural tennis, announces that complete information on intramural tennis will be on the main bulletin board in the YW gym after today.

Relations Renewed With Bonaventure, St. Francis, B-W; Plan 6 Home Games

Two new opponents hold the spotlight on the 1951 Youngstown College Football schedule. The new teams scheduled are Xavier University of Cincinnati, Ohio and the Camp LeJeune Marines. Neither of these teams have ever met the Penguins in gridiron competition.

An attractive six game home schedule has been set with John Carroll, Dayton University, St. Francis (Pa.), Baldwin Wallace, Bowling Green and Mt. Union all coming in to meet the Beedemen.

Phi Sig Bowlers Sweep Both Halves of I-M Loop

by Bob Clayton

The red hot Phi Sigs added the second half championship to their laurels by beating Newman Club No. 2 two to one and Sigma Sigma No. 2 three to one on consecutive weeks. Zill led the champs with sets of 585 and 514. The Phi Sigs won the 1950 championship also.

In other matches, Phi Gamma No. 2, deadlocked in second place, dumped Sigma Sigma No. 2, two to one. Morrison led with a 508 and Broderick had 491 for the losers. Sigma Sigma No. 1, the other second place team, turned the tables by downing Phi Gamma No. 1, two to one. Sets of 557 by Vross, 544 by Delic, and 536 by Webster for the winners and 515 by Hurtak featured for the losers.

In the next week, Sigma Sigma No. 1 rolled over Newman No. 2, 3-0. Webster's 580 and Delic's 578 led the double Sig's and Rzeppa rolled 448 for Newman. Phi Gamma No. 2 edged Kappa Sigma Kappa, two to one, with Morrison rolling a 511. Griffiths tossed 498 for the losers. Newman No. 1 edged E.T.P.C. in a close one, 2 to 1. Curtis rolled 525 for Newman and Zarbaugh 470 for E.T.P.C.

There is one remaining weekend of bowling in the second half. Tony Zill announced that the Bowling Banquet will be held on May 13 at Ma Perkin's, and wants each team captain to tell him the number who are going to attend.

Football relations have been renewed between St. Bonaventure, St. Francis and Baldwin Wallace for the 1951 season. The Penguins have never been beaten by any of the mentioned teams, having beaten St. Bonaventure and St. Francis once and getting the nod over the Baldwin Wallace squad two times and tying them once.

Following is the 1951 schedule. Last year's score shown at right; if no score is given, teams did not meet.

WHATT'YA WANT, BLOOD? HERE IT IS! NU SIGS DONATE TO ST. ELIZABETH'S

by Elaine Casey

"It won't hurt a bit, boys." That's what the nurse said when five pledges of Nu Sigma Rho Fraternity paid a visit to St. Elizabeth's Hospital last week. It wasn't a social visit for the pledges; it was part of the exercise they performed during the usual hazing period which precedes initiation.

They rolled up their sleeves and watched the nurse take the blood from their arm. Yes, they were there to donate a pint of blood to the St. Elizabeth Hospital blood bank. The actives were no slackers either. Five of them turned out to keep their pledges company.

The Fraternity is the first organization on the campus to use a plan of this kind. According to the usual custom, during the hazing period pledges to social fraternities must perform such exercises as providing actives with cigarettes and candy, carrying paddles, and wearing outfits identifying them as pledges. Nu Sigma Rho decided to try something that would be constructive, something their pledges would remember. Because of the constant need of blood in the hospitals, they decided to substitute this plan for the usual hazing projects.

Pledges Pete Julian, Ken Yar-

ian, Ozzie Maceyko, James Ondomisi, and Tony Jannetto will not soon forget their pledge period, nor will St. Elizabeth's Hospital. And the boys will testify, if you have a pretty nurse to comfort you, the process is practically painless.
