Neon On Newsstands; To Have Color Section

The 1950 edition of the college yearbook is ready for distribution today.

Seniors may obtain their Neons at the cashiers office. Other copies of the book can be obtained at the booths in the main hall.

The new edition features 256 pages, making it the largest in the College's history. Departments in the book include sports, organization coverage, and a complete student directory.

Produced in record time of 197 days, the new Neon also contains color pictures for the first time. This year's staff numbered 35 members.

The keynote of the book is "the 15th anniversary". In accordance with the theme, the history of the College is chronicled and a special section is devoted to sports. Each May Queen, since 1935 is included.

This edition marks the first time in several years that the Neon has been able to meet a pre-commencement publication date.

One-Act Plays Feature Farce, Comedy, Drama

Three student-directed, one-act plays will be presented in the C. J. Strouss Auditorium, June 1 through June 3. Tryouts for parts have been held and the stage leaders are proceeding with rehearsals. The three productions are "Gone Tomorrow", "Good Night Caroline" and "Hello, Out There".

Herb Braden is directing "Hello, Out There", a drama portraying the struggle of a young man and woman against the world. Heading his cast is Arthur Hindson, Don Tamburro, Evelyn Booth, and Del Castle.

"Good Night, Caroline" directed by Jerry Williams, is a farce concerning the attempts of an exhausted husband to get some sleep despite his extraordinary wife. Penny Mastorides, Roberta Thomson, Earl Kehn and Millard Biggs work in the leading roles.

A third play, "Gone Tomorrow" stars Wilson Hamilton, Marjorie Pope and Charles Creager. Lou Mahar is student-director of the skit. The plot has to do with a rich old man and his anxious relatives, and is reported to have a "queer twist".

POLL REVEALS 80% FAVOR DANCE COURSE

More than 80% of the student body favors the addition of a course in dancing to the student activity program.

The total number of the ballots amounted to 375. The poll comprised 3 questions requiring yes or no answers. Many students indicated that they would take the course even though satisfied with their present ability.

Question 1. Are you satisfied with your present dancing ability?

Yes	142

May Dance Is Tonight; McKinley's Band To Play Student Assembly, Outdoor Crowning Top Features of 3-Day Celebration

The annual semi-formal May Dance scheduled for Idora Park tonight, climaxes the three-day celebration of 1950 May Day festivities. Ray McKinley and his orchestra will provide the music for tonight's affair. May Queen Phyllis Galose will reign. Admission is by student activity book.

An assembly of over 800 students witnessed the opening of celebrations, Wednesday noon, in the Strouss Auditorium.

Seven Independents Gain Council Seats

Two council members were re-elected and five new members were seated at the independent student council elections, May 10.

Bill Daily, council president during the 1950 spring term, and Dominic Martin, secretary, will return for another two-semester term next fall. The new members are Jim Church, David Nephew, Kathy Shabala, Bob Rodecker and John Gibson.

Over three hundred votes were cast by independent full-time students.

Local Art Shows Visit Antioch, Slippery Rock

The Art Department of Youngstown College is currently being represented in two exhibits at other colleges.

The work of art students is being shown in an exhibition at Slippery Rock College, Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania. This show includes some thirty pieces of art work, including oils, water colors, textiles, jewelry, advertising art, and design.

Another exhibition of work of Youngstown art students is being shown at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, where the show is running from May 15 to May 21. This display is a collection of contemporary art and design, including pieces similar to those being shown at Slippery Rock College.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Antioch College show is under the chairmanship of Edward Sherbak, who is an alumnus of Antioch. Committee members include Beatrice Fried, Yvonne Nottingham, and Ben Dodds.

College Choir Scheduled For First Spring Concert

The Youngstown College A Cappella Choir, under the direction of William H. Miller, will present their first spring concert May 23 in the Strouss Auditorium. The Madrigal Singers will also participate in the program.

Selections on the program will include several Spirituals and four Brahms Folk Songs. Soloists are Ralph Meranto, Everett McCullum, Julie Karavara, and Mary Barganier.

Gene Greco's orchestra entertained the students and a student-directed skit was presented.

Later Wednesday afternoon, Miss Mary Jane Hoover, 1949 May Queen, crowned Miss Galose in an outdoor ceremony. The college band and chorus provided the musical background for the traditional Maypole Dance.

Students Parade

A parade Thursday evening, consisting of convertibles and marching students, proceeded from the downtown area to the college parking lot. Joe Cooper's band played for a stag dance held in the auditorium after the parade.

Irving Goldberg is general chairman of the 1950 May program. Assistant chairmen are: Phil Crooks, crowning ceremony; Joe Fuller, Stag Dance; John Danus, formal dance; and Tom Richardson, assembly.

QUESTIONS: WHAT FEATURES WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE IN OUR NEW LIBRARY?

JOHN DIROLL—

I would like our new library to include several things. First, reading rooms to seat approximately 1,000 students at a time. Second, several types of special rooms — the periodical, reference and conference rooms, where groups of students may discuss problems without disturbing others. Third, since different people study in different ways the library should provide lounge chairs to relax in while reading, the long "library tables" with arm chairs on each side, study cubicles with small desks for note-taking and a typing room for those who wish to type their notes.

I would like the new library stacks to be arranged so that a student passes through them on his way to the reading room. While passing through he may select his book, take it to the reading room, do his work, and return it to the stacks on his way out. A revision in the reserve system should be made also. This revision in the reserve system would put books of limited numbers on a two hour reserve. In doing this it would give all students of a large class who have only limited time a better chance to get the book.

ESTELLE WINGER—

I would like to see a large, well-lighted study room with comfortable easy chairs in our new library. Another welcome feature would be a simplified and well organized card index. A micro-film would also add to our library and be an interesting item. We all can be proud of our new library-to-be.

MARGARET FOWLER—

I think that the new Youngstown College Library should have all the conveniences of the other college libraries. There should be a large reference room, suitable study tables, comfortable chairs, a large periodical room and a good lighting system. There should also be more librarians to give the students faster and better service.

MARIO PECCHIO—

The main things I would like to see in our library are a spacious study room and an extensive reference room. I also believe there should be more librarians to help the students find the material or books they seek.

I would also like to see a large periodical room in which the students would be allowed to browse around in any time they wanted. There should also be a large lounge room where students could smoke without creating a fire hazard.

I also believe that the grounds surrounding the library should be landscaped.

MARY WEICHSEL—

It will be wonderful to have a library on YoCo's campus. It will mark a great new advance in the college's progress towards becoming a university.

Were I permitted one request in regard to the library, it would be this. Each term our instructors assign certain books as required reading. Sometimes these books are to be read within a time limit. It almost never fails to happen but that there aren't enough of those books available for students. I hope that this situation will be corrected by having sufficient duplicate copies of each required book in the new library's collection.

MIKE ORLANDO—

Books and blondes for one thing. But seriously, we should have an elaborate reading room with nice soft lounge chairs. We should also have an extensive technical reference system for the more serious students.

I also think that the floors should be carpeted. In this way you could eliminate much of the unnecessary noise so common to the present day library. Nothing is as distracting as the click, click, click of a woman's high heels when you are trying to concentrate on a book.

Looking Around ...

by LULU and FARMER

Lucky, lucky us! This is the last issue we'll be writing for . . . which means the semester is almost over. The experience of writing this column was not a total loss, however. Apparently one person in the school reads it because we finally got a fan letter! We quote:

"Lulu and Farmer —

Dear Sirs:

I am a ritten you all to try to get some information that i don't know myself. Now i have tried to get this information elswer but about all the anser i got was a wise-crak and a your truly. i am sure you git tired of reading all the letters you git. (Ed. —Ha!) However if you don't read this letter, please let me know so i kin send it to someone else.

"Now i am just a ordinary YoCo studint with a short leg on one side and a long leg on the other, but it is surprizen how well i get around on level ground. i can even dance a little.

"Now i have a serious question to ask. i hope you boys are smart enuf to inform me — Can a girl with a bachler's degree get married and still keep her bachler's degree?

"Thankin you from the bottom of my feet

I am

The Farmer's Daughter"

A very lovely letter, you'll agree. We were very grateful and very touched. "We boys" even cried a little. And we'll try real hard to answer satisfactorily. It was a good question — well put too. We've come to this conclusion — "Forget about the bachelor's degree — and start working on your master's degree. You'll not only get married but there'll be no doubt as to who will wear the pants in the family."

No, we didn't forget our poem. We finally wrote one that we think is good. We're working on music to go with it and we think it will be a hit. The words go like this:

SUMMERTIME

Summertime, and the livin' is easy,
 Fish are jumpin', and the cotton is high (Hic!)
 Oh your daddy's rich, and your ma is good lookin'
 So hush little baby, don't you cry.

Yep. Summer is no longer just around the corner — it's here. Main evidence is the cotton dresses, tee shirts, baseball equipment, and the current conversation. The latter goes like this, "What are you doing this summer?"

Those who groan and say "summer school" include BOB BATES, LORETTA CARNEY, CAROLE NORD, LEO MULLER, and JOE RAJKOWSKI. CLAIR YOHO is taking the course in Extra Curricular Activities offered this summer. She says "After four years, they're finally goin to give me credit for my extra curricular activities!" BARB TAYLOR will be another sufferer. EVELYN BOOTH has bought herself a fan to keep cool.

EAGER BEAVERS

There are a few hard-workers who plan to start on their first million this summer. RUTH LANZ and SALLIE O'BRIEN are overjoyed at the prospect. MARIANNE NAVIN says she's willing to work if anyone will offer her a job.

The people we really are proud of though, are the ones who shrug their shoulders and claim they are going to loaf. More power to them! GURNELL BARBER leads the list.

JOHN HINES is going to tour Europe, no less. When asked if he was going to swim the channel, he grinned and said "None of that childplay, it's the Mediterranean for me!" (Exclusive!)

And then there's the lucky few who are graduating and plan to spend the summer forgetting all they ever learned. GENE MOORE and BOB RAY are the two we know.

There are a few who are getting married, but that's their problem.

MAY DAY

Congratulations to May queen PHYLLIS GALOSE and her attendants, HELEN ALCOTT, PAT PENNOCK, YVONNE NOTTINGHAM, and YVONNE PERSONS. The celebration will be a success from all indications. Everyone will be on hand to hear maestro RAY MCKINLEY.

In parting, we want to wish everyone a nice summer. Here's hoping we get a good suntan! See you at Geneva!

Three for a quarter ! ! ! ! !

Growing Up...

At a recent student council meeting, it was pointed out to council that one of the posters advertising a fraternity dance was portraying Negroes in a degrading manner. Council voted to look in to the situation and instructed the discipline committee to set up a code forbidding the use of posters which reflect upon any person or group of persons. In the meantime, the poster in question was ordered removed.

The matter was just another new business item on council's agenda. It was very significant, however, that an issue which was critical to the parties concerned was handled in such a calm business like manner. There was no rough stuff. A delegate from the slighted group simply came to council, waited his turn and stated his case. Council saw to it that not only the present situation was corrected but that such oversights would be prevented in the future.

The incident shows that the YoCo collegians are intelligent enough to keep their heads during a crisis. If everyone made an extra effort to carry on his business without stepping on his fellow's toes, the human relations on the campus would really be something to be proud of.

- 30 -

The time has come to me, as it comes to all college newspaper editors, when the pen must be laid aside, the typewriter put away, and the office key turned over to new hands.

I do these things with a tinge of regret. In college it is difficult to die in office, except possibly politically.

The newspaper has demanded time and energy, but in return it performed as a great teacher. It has been the medium of instruction in philosophy, political science, and several other fields. It was worth more than degrees in all of these courses.

At this point, I should thank everyone who aided in the production of the past 16 issues of the JAMBAR. Most of them I will thank personally, but I'll say it again, here, anyway. The list of people to whom these thanks must go is practically endless. It includes all those who offered well-meant advice, sympathy, and help. It includes most of the present staff and two former editors. The thanks are also sincerely extended to a faculty member who made the job easier.

I brought some eggs to throw too. These are aimed at a limited number of people who made the job doubly difficult. On this list are the politicians, the ones who never learned what a deadline is, and the "clothing salesman" who did more harm, and got more enjoyment out of it, than any other single person with whom I came in contact.

Along with the office key, I extend congratulations to the new editor. Jim Mahoney is one of the best qualified editors to come along in years. He has worked as hard as anyone on the staff this year—myself included—and was pleasanter than most about it.

Jim will be a fine editor. He will produce a fine paper. I wish him the best of luck, and may the heads always count.

How to Study or -- Jobs Are Scarce

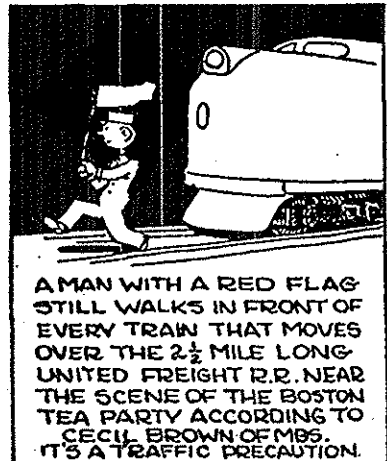

Get out the black coffee . . . bring on the cigarettes . . . Why? Well, it's getting dangerously close to exam time and you know what that means . . . or do you? Well, anyhow, the midnight oil will be burning brightly from now on and several million students will have various attacks of insomnia, sleeping sickness, and neuralgia, that headachy upset feeling and nausea (for the ailments mentioned before we recommend 1. quit school 2. try Wheaties 3. vacation in Honolulu with all expenses paid 4. register for the fall semester at Walla Walla U.) If none of these work we would suggest that you see your nearest hypochondriac.

To get back to the world of reality, a great problem faces us as students who wish to graduate, pass, or just stay in school. And that question is How to Study . . . There are various methods employed nowadays but of the many which we have observed, none works. But that seems to be a rather hopeless attitude to take in this world of higher mathematics, physics, algebra, and flying saucers. So, the alternate of the anti-thesis of the square root of learning multiplied by the cube root of six ponies equals a passing grade.

Curve Foils Squeeze Play
In short, don't cram . . . why bother? We know of one student who studied 36 hours before an exam and got a 25% grade (the curve threw him off — he would have had an 83% but the rest of the class studied 37 1/2 hours.) Now don't let this throw you . . . it could happen to anyone . . . just think of fine things . . . like A's in term papers, vacations, and summer school.

And take the hint . . . study all year . . . 24 hours a day . . . (no, we're not census takers or informers . . . we've just seen "The Conspirator") then you won't have to read (stupid . . . Eds. note) stories like this for tips on how to pass . . . Happy post-exam summer . . .

The chairman of the Social committee announced the completion of plans for the annual dinner-dance. The main social event of the fraternity year will take place June 14, at Shuster's Restaurant, Greenville, Penn. The orchestra has been contracted for and the favors are on order. A program for the installation of new officers is being worked out. All indications show that this year's dinner-dance will be a great success.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA—(S)

Formal installation of Kappa Sig pledges was held Wednesday, May 10, at the Dunning-Crum Recreation Room. Mr. Charles Zellers, faculty advisor was present. After the installation, refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was devoted to social activities.

A reminder: Dues must be paid on or before May 31 in order to attend the frat's June dinner-dance.

The Kappa Sigs extend congratulations to Frank Thornton on a job well done.

Watch the bulletin board for important notices.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA—(S)

Fifteen pledges were initiated Monday night, May 8, at Pioneer Pavilion.

The formal installation was held Tuesday night, May 16, at the Woman's City Club. President Jo Anne McCarthy welcomed the new members who were each given a "big Sister" — one of the older actives. Lunch and bridge followed the installation.

The next meeting will be held Monday night at 8:30 at school.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON—(S)

At the Annual Meeting, held last Tuesday, the fraternity chose its new officers. The men, who take office immediately, will remain in power for a year.

The newly elected executive committee is Bill Williams, President, Jack Harkins, V. Pres., Tom Richardson, Sec., Jim Williams, Treas., Bob Hritzo, Historian, and Ted Herman, Sgt. at Arms. Congratulations and good luck to all of them.

The annual dinner-dance is still in the planning stage. One more congratulatory note, this time to Jim Mahoney on his appointment as next year's JAMBAR Editor.

Penguin Patter

by Tom Manche

Lumps are lodged in graduating Senior throats and the near-finished products roam about misty-eyed. You see, they are sad. Why are they sad? Yook, it ain't easy to give up that 90-buck check on the first of each month and, beside that, they will have to undergo a complete rehabilitation. From classroom to workroom is a Herculean stride and will take every crumb of stamina and resourcefulness of the hapless rehabilitatee.

When the Baby Ben barks at 7:15, there is no skipping, no respite, because the time clock where you earn your beans and coffee is just waiting to be punched. The day's routine doesn't terminate at two or three so that rules out quite a few coffee sessions and afternoon golf rounds. Bridge games will be neglected too.

Well, happy Graduation, Seniors!

There's only one thing wrong with King Cole's "Baby, Won't You Say You Love Me," and that's Billy Eckstein's plate of same . . . Godfrey's popularity and bankroll are growing by the program. He is being compared to Will Rogers and is a millionaire. What we'd like to know is — why? . . . Remember "Wabash Avenue" when it was "Coney Island"? Exactly same story, same studio and same Grabble for star. Instead of Maturity and Harris, it was Romero and John Payne. So, if you remember "Coney," save 60 cents

No Boudreau

Not that our opinion means anything but we think if the Indians are going to click at all, it will have to be with Mitchell, Doby, and Clark chasing fly balls. Rosen, Boone, Avila, and Easter on the infield with Murray taking over when Hegan falters at the plate. Kennedy's a ball hawk but no powerhouse at the plate — never was. Boudreau and Gordon and Vernon? Well, you know . . . Sportsmen call Walt Dropo of Boston the outstanding rookie so far. How about Al Rosen? . . . Well, see you all around the May Pole. So long.

College Library is First To Install New Machine

A micro-library reader, first of its kind to be installed in any Ohio College library, was demonstrated recently by Dr. Ivan Grimshaw. The showing was held in the Youngstown College library before the Mahoning Valley Stamp Club.

The machine, devised to reduce space needed for book storage in libraries, was developed by the American Library Assoc. A complete issue of a medium sized magazine can be stored on 3 file cards.

Youngstown College is the first Ohio school to install one of the new machines.

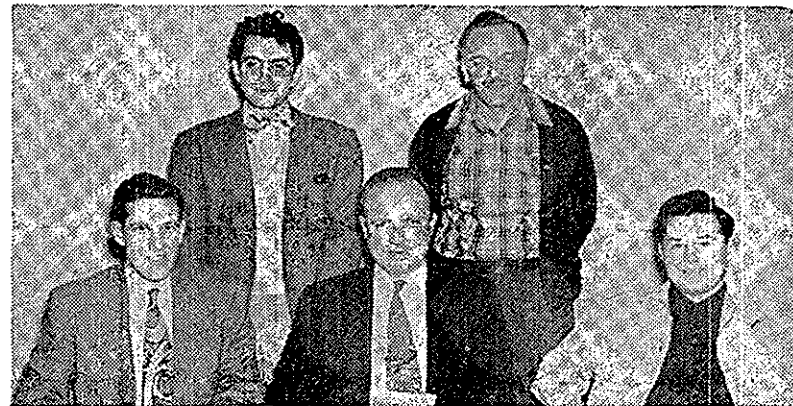

Jones In Berea For Knight Installation

President Howard Jones represented Youngstown College at the inauguration of Dr. John L. Knight, president of Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio, last Friday, May 12.

Senator Bricker spoke at the installation. Four Honorary doctorate degrees were granted, a reception for guests was held, and a concert by the college orchestra completed the day's program.

Dr. Knight was Chancellor of Nebraska University before coming to Ohio. At thirty-four, he is one of the nation's youngest college presidents.

SHARDS . . . and . . . FLATS

Tonight's the Night

Well, tonight Mr. Ray McKinley brings his music makers into Idora's beautiful ballroom for the annual May Day Formal. Any appraisal of Ray's music up until now is based on his records only.

Undoubtedly the band will sound different than it does on wax but, without a doubt, we'll hear some fine music. Top sidemen include: Bobby Stiles (trumpet), Vern Friley (trombone), Bobby Jones (alto), and Bunny Bardach (tenor). Jim Thorpe, Joe Cirbari, and Ray McKinley round out the rhythm section.

The boys will probably get together for a session out at the Crystal after the dance although I'm not sure about this. Drop out around 1:30 — you can't lose anything by trying. If McKinley's boys aren't jumping, Chester's will be on the job.

Name Bands Set

Not much else new — remember Dorsey at the Palace Mon. thru Wed. Idora has Artie Shaw booked for May 20 to be followed by Guy Lombardo on May 29. Ralph Flanagan is tentatively set for June 5, but this isn't definite yet. Ray Robbins is in next week for the weekly dances. Idora is adhering to a name policy this summer so we'll probably see lots of fine outfits during vacation. COMIN' THRU THE RYE . . . I HADN'T ANYONE . . . Tommy Dorsey . . . RCA

RYE is an instrumental side and the boys really do a good job. Tee Dee himself takes the solo spot more than once and comes up with some nice ideas. Johnny Amoro takes over on the flipover and gives the lyrics his own special touch. Nice medium tempo tune — good for dancing. IRRESISTABLE YOU . . . MY SHADOW . . . Ziggy Elman . . . MGM

On YOU, Elman leads off with a pretty trumpet solo followed up by some nice section work by the band. A nice side for dancing. SHADOW is a good jump and the boys really ride high, especially Zig who takes a few choruses in his regular style.

THANKS MR. FLORIST . . . TELL HER YOU LOVE HER . . . Vaughn Monroe . . . RCA FLORIST is a good dance side done up in nice style by Vaughn and the Moonmaids. The melody and rhythm sound a lot like his "Red Roses for a Blue Lady". HER rates a ditto endorsement. CHOO 'N GUM . . . HONKY TONKIN . . . THERESA BREWER . . . London

GUM is a good novelty side and Theresa does a good job with her score. Nice tenor on a dixie chorus half-way thru. Only one trouble — Theresa sings the same chorus twice and the second time it's rather dull. TONK is a dixie side and Theresa rates an O. K. again. Music is by dixieland all-stars and they're pretty good. DEDICATED TO YOU . . . YOU'RE ALL I NEED . . . Sarah Vaughn & Billy Eckstine . . . MGM

with Ray Gentle

Both these sides are built up around the same arranging pattern but nevertheless, they're pretty good. Billy leads off for 8 bars with Sarah in the back harmonizing and then vice-versa. Very little instrumental work and the background music is fine. Two top sides for dancing or what have-you.

ARE YOU LONESOME . . . PENNEY WISE . . . Blue Barron . . . MGM

Bobby Beers vocalizes on LONESOME and it's just an average ballad. WISE is a cowboy song with a group of hillbillies doing the vocals. Platter is nothing to write home about.

Employment Chances Good For Nurses; May Day Court Set for Dance Job Scarce For Journalists, Chemists

(The last of two articles based on a release from the U. S. Department of Labor.)
by Jim Mahoney

The largest single career field open to college graduates is the management and operation of business firms. In the past 30 years, the leaders of these firms have more and more come to realize the value of specially trained individuals in the organization and operation of industrial, promotion and sales concerns. The tremendous rise in business training has made collegiate business education the second largest field (after teacher training) in the U. S.

The current employment picture is not expected to be changed much by expansion of business occupations. A few new firms will create demands for sales personnel and managerial executives, but, unlike the situation of the immediate pre-war and post-war days, most job opportunities will be in the replacement of executives who die or retire. A large proportion of high-ranking business executives are in the upper age brackets where many leave each year. Openings on the lower levels, then, will be more numerous than usual during the next ten years.

The trend in business employment practices, if continued at its present rate, will ultimately result in the hiring of only college graduates for administrative positions.

Trained Nurses in Demand
In contrast with most of the employment fields, the nursing profession is still in critical need of trained men and women even though more nurses than ever before are practicing in the U. S. A number of factors have increased the demand for nurses which was begun by the war. Government aid is being given to poor communities to finance the building of additional hospitals. The popularity of hospitalization insurance and the increasing confidence in medical science among backward sections of the country have greatly increased the number of hospital patients. The population growth and the increased proportion of the aged among the population has also added to the need for more nursing care.

The basic training course in the nurses schools consist of three years of combined study and supervised practice in hospitals. Nurses with more advanced schooling should find many opportunities in well-paid administrative or teaching posts. Along with her actual salary, the trained nurse receives a good deal of experience which will be beneficial to her throughout her life.

Chemists Need Graduate Degrees
Chemists with graduate degrees can look forward to excellent opportunities both in the near and remote future. Since the war, industries have turned more attention to their research departments and men capable of doing specialized laboratory work are much in demand.

The number of graduate degrees awarded, however, has been steadily increasing for several years. The record number of doctorates and master's degrees is making prospects dim for those holding only Bachelor's degrees. Competition will be keen during the next few years for positions as beginning chemists.

Journalism Field Crowded
Due to the use of syndicated material and the increased proportion of space devoted to advertising, reporting positions on daily newspapers are becoming harder to obtain. Experienced reporters have shown more tendency to keep their jobs, and the subsequent decrease in personnel turnover has not helped the already overcrowded field of journalism.

GET YOUR NEON NOW

Nearly three times as many journalism students graduated last year as in any of the immediate pre-war years. The number will probably increase this year, and then drop slightly. Fields related to newspaper work, such as advertising, radio, and special publications, may be able to absorb some of the overflow, although competition for these jobs is ordinarily open to everyone and is usually stiff. The outlook for the average reporter is definitely not bright.

Pharmacy Prospects Bright
Pharmacy graduates are expected to have relative success in seeking employment for the next several years. The trend towards shorter working hours in the profession makes it seem likely that many drug stores will have to hire additional help. Another sphere of demand for pharmacists exists in the hospitals of the country. There were only 3,000 hospital pharmacists to work in the 6,000 or more hospitals throughout the country in 1949.

A notable condition exists in the field of registered pharmacists. More than 3,000 active pharmacists are over 60 years of age and will be leaving the field in the next few years. A moderate shortage of trained personnel will probably exist until then. Later, however, there may be a trend towards overcrowding, especially if enrollment continues at the 1950-51 rate.

Dr. Worley has written numerous articles for publication, his latest being a college text book and laboratory guide published by William C. Brown Co. He came to Youngstown College as head of the biology department in September, 1945.

Girard Girl Cited For Typing Ability

Miss Joyce McAllister, of 17 W. Second St., Girard, has been chosen by the faculty of the Business Night School Faculty as their outstanding student. Miss McAllister will receive a month's tuition from the Alumnae of Delta Chi Epsilon Sorority.

One of the factors which decided the choice was Joyce's typing proficiency. She is currently typing at the rate of 160 words per minute.

Public Enemy No. 8952 ... Caught at Last!

The sullen criminal pictured, is one "Tony" Vivo. When questioned by a JAMBAR reporter, Vivo's only comment was a snarled "I been framed, get me a lawyer." He is flanked by officers Keffer and Beil, who risked their lives to trap the dangerous criminal in his Ravenwood hideout.

Case History . . . 128-596-95601-32642-1950.
Suspect's Name—Anthony Vivo, alias "Tony".
Charge . . . Participation in Youngstown Police Training School.

The form above, might very well be the one filled out by arresting officers recently, when Tony Vivo was the "victim" of a mock arrest.

Tony, who is the football ticket manager at the college every fall, would like it generally known that the whole thing was just a fake. Since his "release", he has been leading a harrowing life. Now, when Tony puts his hand in his pocket, spectators either flee for cover, or "reach".

The whole thing started when he agreed to help city police in their training program. He was cast as a burglar, and officers set out on their chase. Vivo was finally rounded up in his hideout on Ravenwood, after the police had surrounded the area and amazed the neighbors.

15th ANNIVERSARY NEON HERE!

All went well, the police had their training, and Tony was released. Now though, he's afraid some of the neighbors took the whole thing seriously. For their benefit, and that of Tony's friends around school . . . it was just a fake, and let's have no remarks next fall when you're trying to get those football tickets.

Jones were installed as patroness members of the local Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota national honorary music fraternity of the Dana School of Music. The installation took place at a formal service held Sunday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard W. Jones.

Mrs. William Hugh Miller, presided at tea service following the ceremony.

Committee members for the affair were Miss Suosio, chairman, assisted by Miss Marilyn Hegan, sergeant at arms, Miss Stella Floresco, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Miller.

Gamma Sigs Win In Annual Game

Play Ball! shouted Umpire Frank Davanzo, and the fight was on! No . . . you're not in Cleveland Stadium . . . it's not the Penant game . . . it's the second annual Phi Lamb - Gamma Sig Softball game held at the Bare Brunch May 4.

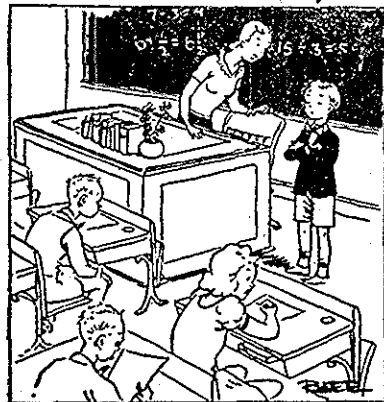

Yep, the fellows aren't the only athletes round this 'ere school and the gals proved it by this year's game.

The score was tied 5-5 at the end of the regulation (girls rules) fifth inning. The team captains: Gamma Sig, Jean Law and Peg Crisnal of Phi Lambda Delta decided to play two extra innings.

The game ended with the Gamma Sigs the victors. Final score—9-8!

What Goes with the Engineers?

By Jim McLaughlin

The local student affiliate of the American Society for Metals is preparing to launch another membership drive; I'd like to present the group for your consideration, and then let you make up your mind to join. The student group meets, usually, the third Thursday of each month, and they also attend the regular ASM meetings, which are held on the second Tuesday of each month.

The student group is open to all students of YoCo. The dues are $2.50 per year, which price includes a monthly magazine (your choice of three) and a big party at the end of each year. The party alone is well worth more than the $2.50.

Membership entitles you to a cut price on the ASM handbook. The activities include, besides the party, numerous field trips and movies at all meetings. Attendance at the meetings of the regular group presents an opportunity for the student to meet some of the Valley's leading industrialists.

For further information, contact the members: Schwartz, Dill, Barnes, Williams or Johnson, to mention a few.

Which Is Which?

Now that the present semester is coming to an end, it might be well to fall back and regroup. It seems that there is a great deal of confusion among the Engineers concerning the 1.5 average which is necessary in the major subject: Engineering. To complete a regular course, one must complete more than thirty hours in "200 level and above" courses; Math and Physics don't count. Electricity and Magnetism, then, doesn't count toward an Electrical major, yet Statics and Dynamics do. But that's only one portion of the confusion; the 1.5 average does the rest. You must maintain a 1.5 in these courses, but the grades are given on the basis of what is known as a normal curve. That curve is about as normal as simple harmonic motion is simple. Nevertheless, an Electrical major can get high grades in Mechanical Engineering subjects, low grades in his Electrical subjects, and, so long as he maintains that 1.5 average, he's in!! Confusing, what?

Another situation which could well be rectified concerns counseling for registration. Too often, it's a case of the student making out a schedule, and the advisor signing it; that's all. But I wonder how many of us could have benefited, somewhere along the line, if some advisor had only pointed out a better plan. Freshmen and Sophomores: take note. Plan your curriculum carefully. A badly planned semester could finish you.

Dean Ellis received a letter the other day from one Harry Williams, a former student here. He's with E. C. A. in Korea, and he tells all about the situation there. He's currently trying to teach some Koreans Engineering, and he says he has to make a Mechanical Engineer of the interpreter before he can get anywhere.

What, No Game Laws? One bright spot there is the hunting and fishing. So far he's gotten 193 pheasants, 24 deer and 31 rabbits. Ducks are so plentiful they don't even bother to shoot them. Sounds enjoyable, doesn't it?

Bill Heintzelman, Jim Campbell and Jack Saunders were instrumental in building that May Pole on the North campus. May Day is really a big affair this year, so let's show the joy-boys that we can get behind College affairs, too, and really turn out. That's all for now . . . see you at the dance tonight.

ROTC Trainees to Learn Anti-Aircraft Tactics; Freshman to Reap Benefits of Four-Year Program

There will be quite an adventure in store for the college freshman who signs up for the four-year military training course, at YoCo. Under the recently announced ROTC plan, the beginner will learn the fundamentals of drill, exercise of command, and leadership in his first few semesters. Veterans of World War II may substitute 12 months of their active military service for these courses.

Primarily, the ROTC unit will be anti-aircraft. Basic gunnery, the operation and repair of anti-aircraft guns, communications, motor and transportation organization, troop movements and marksmanship in automatic weapons will be stressed in the more advanced classes. Advanced military students will be trained in the modern methods of defending industrial cities like Youngstown from possible aerial attack.

ROTC trainees will attend a six-week summer camp each year, where they will put their theoretical knowledge to practical use. The "Rotees" participate in field maneuvers and mock combat. The collegians who did not serve in the last war will get some taste of life in the armed services.

Besides the young men who are interested in a military career, many others should reap benefits from such a course as the one set up at YoCo. If a war does break out, and anyone lives through the first blast, fellows with military training will be especially valuable as leaders in the nation's defense. Those trained in the local anti-aircraft unit may be transferred to other branches of the U. S. Army.

Hrivnak is Chairman In Chemist's Election

Emil Hrivnak, a junior, has been elected chairman of the Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society for the 1950 fall season.

Other new officers are John Bogden, vice-chairman; John Martin, treasurer; Mary Lou Macko, secretary; and Robert DeWitt, historian. Dr. C. M. Bridgman is faculty sponsor.

Hrivnak has been asked by the executive secretary of the A.C.S. at Washington, to submit a paper he wrote on the value of student affiliate publications. As editor of the Mortar and Pestle, he presented his paper at a recent group meeting of student affiliate chapters held at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

Did You Know That

- MIKE MODAK, former Cincinnati Red twirler, is now pitching for the CIO entry in the local "AA" League. Married life and College life seem to be keeping the Campbell lad from furthering his pro baseball career.
- AL BOGGIA, YoCo third sacker, will soon be devoting all his time to managerial duties in the local "AA" loop. Boggia is the manager of the Super Poultry Market team.
- JIM SHEA recently won himself some bowling recognition by capturing the City Tenpin Tournament. Shea is not only a terrific bowler but is considered by many as one of the better softball pitchers in the district.
- LEO COUGHLIN, Penguin trackster, looks like one of the better milers in the state of Ohio. Although his time has not been sensational, he has yet to be pressed by one of the other college 5,280 footers.

SNARKEY SEZ...

by Snarky Parker

Those big bats of the CLEVELAND INDIANS seem to have caught fire these last couple of days. I've said it before and I'll say it again, watch out for those Tribesmen.

In a recent dugout interview before one of the Tribe's ball-games, it was stated by Coach Al Simmons that it looks like the top division will be all jammed up come September. He said that three teams will be fighting it out for the American League trophy. Those three were Detroit, Boston, and last but not least, the Boudreau Crew.

This is against the policy of Snarky, but have you fans been noticing the way that big first sacker for Boston has been blasting that ball. His name is Walt Droppo and believe me, he sure can lose more balls for the Red Sox. I'm afraid though that his hitting spree won't last forever. The reason, Ted Williams will lose all his fans and the Red Sox money so they'll order the Big Serb to slow down a little.

I guess that's about all there is to say about my Cleveland Indians for this issue so I think that I'll start meandering my way toward that Lakefront Stadium and catch the big May 21 doubleheader between the Tribe and the Yankees. No need to fear though, the Indians will cop 'em both.

Youngstown Beats Baldwin-Wallace; Magula Pitches 5-Hit Ball For 5-2 Win

Youngstown College won its third baseball game in five starts, turning back Baldwin-Wallace, 5-2 at Oakland Field last Saturday. Mike Magula spaced five hits as he went the route on the hill for the locals.

Youngstown came up with 10 blows to take a 3-1 lead in the first three sessions and added two more markers in the sixth inning.

Sporting Views

by Ed Kinney

Only a couple of days ago one of the most colorful men in baseball was sent back to the minors. It must have been felt that Johnny Mize was no longer an asset to the New York Yankee organization. Mize started his career as a member of the St. Louis Cards and was traded to the New York Giants before coming to the Yankees. Johnny has thrilled many a fan with his tremendous home runs and was considered one of the best curve ball hitters in either league.

The big first-baseman did not have to report to Kansas City because he is a ten-year man and could have asked for his outright release. He must feel that it won't be long before he's back with the Yanks and playing every day. It wouldn't surprise this writer if Mize did just that, because he is a real pro and the Yanks could use that big bat he swings.

YoGo Bowlers Take Inter-College Crown

Youngstown College bowlers rolled a 2936 aggregate to win a college bowling tournament at Berry's Auditorium, Erie, Pa., over the week-end. Gus Conklin and Paul Delic led the Penguins with 602 and 606 respectively. Gannon College finished second with 2908.

In doubles, Delic and Matune gave Youngstown fifth place with 1101, O'Brien and Zill getting 1055 for eighth spot. Matune's 632 was third in the singles, and O'Brien held sixth place with 584.

Other colleges entered in the tourney were Western Reserve, Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Slippery Rock and Clarion. Youngstown's No. 2 team finished fourth behind Reserve.
