YSA Founder—

Buch To Speak Thursday

Peter Buch, a founder of the Young Socialist Alliance, will speak on the Arab-Israeli conflict at 3 p.m. Thursday, May 15, in the Engineering Science Building Auditorium. Formerly an active member of Hashomer Hatzair, a socialist-Zionist youth organization, Buch's appearance is being sponsored by the YSU Student Council and hosted by the Organization of Arab Students.

A follower of Marxism, Buch spent six months in Israel in 1951, during which time he worked on a kibbutz and attended a leadership training school. He later broke with Zionism and helped found the Young Socialist Alliance.

As a leading staff member of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, Buch worked on organizing anti-war demonstrations.

The author of a work entitled, "Burning Issues of the Mideast Crisis," which appeared in the March-April issue of the "International Socialist Review," Buch was a candidate for Congress in New York on the Socialist Workers Party ticket in 1968.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

Recommendations Presented On Increased Participation

Student Council finalized its recommendations on increasing student representation on University committees as it voted unanimously yesterday to recommend the addition of 43 students on 14 University committees.

The Council's recommendation would add students to 9 committees which do not have student membership at present.

President Pugsley, in a letter to Council last week, recommended that 26 students be added to 12 University committees and he advised against adding students to 4 committees recommended by Council for student membership.

Candy Butch Cleared As Candidate

Miss Candace Butch's candidacy for Spring Weekend Queen has been cleared by Elections Committee chairman David Henzel following an investigation concerning her academic status in the University.

Her candidacy was held in contention earlier this week when it was learned that she is a part-time student in the University.

Henzel stated yesterday that the Student Government Constitution is inconsistent in its "Queen candidacy requirements" in that one clause (By-Law 650.04) states that "Queen candidates must be a full-time woman student" and another clause (670.01) specifically relating to Spring Weekend Queens, makes no stipulation as to full or part time status.

Henzel also pointed out that during a queen candidates meeting held April 9, the candidates were told that they could be either full or part-time students.

Adding students to the Academic Affairs Committee, the Computer Center Committee, the Faculty Affairs Committee or the Student Publications and Student Council Budget Review Committee would not be "appropriate" or "necessary" Dr. Pugsley stated.

The Council recommended that 8 students total, be added to the 4 committees.

Also recommended for addition or increase of student membership were the Student Affairs committee, an increase of 5 (equal representation between students and faculty); the Foreign Students Sub-Committee, the addition of 4 (two foreign and two American); Scholarships and Financial Aids Sub-Committee, an increase of 5; the Council on Teacher Education, the addition of 2; and the Special Events Committee, an increase of 2.

Other committees recommended for addition or increase in student membership were the Student Academic Guidance and Registration Committee, the addition of 3; the

Faculty Group Sends Petition To Judge

A petition signed by 69 members of the University Faculty was presented to Judge Sidney J. Rigelhaupt as an expression of those faculty members' "shock and dismay at Judge Rigelhaupt's gratuitous insult (Continued on page 7)

Discipline Committee, an increase of 7 (equal representation between students and faculty); the Committee on Management and Control of Physical Facilities, the addition of 3; the Public Relations Committee, the addition of 3; and the Public Ceremonial Affairs Committee, the addition of one.

According to Dr. John Coffelt, vice-president for administrative affairs, the Council's recommendations will be considered today by a joint committee of the Administrative Council and the Faculty Senate Executive Committee.

The joint committee, according to Dr. Coffelt, "will make recommendations to the Senate regarding the structure and charge of the 1969-70 University Committees."

Council Will Apologize To Candidates

The Student Council will apologize to the losing candidates in last month's Council election because of Election Committee chairman David Henzel's "discriminatory" and "unjust" placement of Greek Coalition candidates on the election ballot.

The 9-4 decision on James Scharville's motion was prompted by an "official protest" of election procedure signed by Council members-elect Larry Simko and Margaret Barsodi and unsuccessful Council candidates Tom Scott, Larry Matika and William Eckhart.

The protest called for an apology to the losing candidates and a public apology to the student body.

Council member James Joyce so moved, but his motion was defeated 3-15-1 as many Council members felt that a public apology to the student body was not warranted.

Henzel stated that "I knew what I was doing in placing the names first and I do owe an apology to the losing candidates."

Council member Paul Dutton told the members that "Henzel did nothing that was outside of the law" and "we have to stand behind him."

Dutton and three other Council members voted against an apology to the losing candidates.

WASHINGTON—Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell acknowledged today that he passed on "certain information" to Chief Justice Earl Warren last week concerning the controversy surrounding Justice Abe Fortas.

Earlier, Newsweek magazine reported that Mitchell had asked Warren to urge that Fortas resign from the court.

In a terse statement in response to inquiries, Mitchell said: Newsweek said Mitchell told Warren that the Justice Department has "far more serious" information than has been revealed so far in Fortas' case and that "the facts were bound to come out eventually." He has been charged with accepting money from a private foundation.

WASHINGTON—President Nixon conferred today with the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton Abrams, and will address the nation Wednesday night on prospects of peace as he sees them. There was no indication of any major breakthrough in this direction.

WASHINGTON—A silent alarm system enabling the pilot of a hijacked plane to notify ground controllers of his plight without speaking to them is in use now, it was learned Monday.

DETROIT—General Motors Corp. gave up Monday on a one time success—the compact, rear-engined Corvair, suffering from sales anemia since industry critic Ralph Nader jumped on it in his book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," in late 1965.

"As a matter of fact we would be in a very sorry situation without it," said Paul Thayer, president and chief executive of the Ling-Temco-Vought Aerospace Corp. of Dallas, Texas.

COLUMBUS—The 73-year old Chester Briege which carries U.S. 30 traffic across the Ohio River at East Liverpool will be closed permanently at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Campus Disorders

NEW YORK—The new head of the City College of New York said today he would maintain law and order on the Harlem campus while trying to negotiate with Negro and Puerto Rican students.

"Police will stay on the campus as long as they are needed," said Acting President Joseph J. Copeland. He took over from Buell G. Gallagher, who quit last Friday after two days of student fighting, vandalism and arson.

MARIETTA, Ohio—At Marietta College, nearly 100 students began the third day of a hunger strike to protest expulsion of the student body president.

The hunger strike began Saturday after the president, Frank E. Duddy, expelled Earl Maiman, new student body president, for allegedly using "inflammatory language."

Association Headlines Spring Weekend Concert

Coming to Struthers Field House the night of Sunday, May 18 is one of the most popular rock groups in America today, "The Association."

The group began in Los Angeles under the direction of Terry Kirkham and Jules Alexander and in time gathered momentum and four new members: Brian Cole, Ted Bluechel, Russ Giguere and finally Jim Yester.

These six musician-singers worked and lived together for six months before they felt there were ready for any type of performance.

Their first professional job as a group was at a nightclub-theater in Pasadena called "The Ice House." Their engagement there was extended for many weeks and they were on their way to what they felt was most important, the perfection of their new sound.

In 1965 they were signed to a recording contract with Valiant Records and they released their first disc. The title was "Along Comes Mary" and in a few more weeks it worked its way up to

After many personal appearances and concerts the schedule became too much for one of the members of the group, Jules Alexander. He decided to stay in Los Angeles and concentrate on other aspects of the music business.

With this new development "The Association" took on

"Windy" and "Never My Love," and three Gold Albums for "And Then Along Comes the Association," "Insight Out," and "The Association Greatest Hits."

In August of 1968 Jules Alexander returned to the group reuniting all of the original members and finishing the case of characters you will see on stage Sunday night of Spring Weekend.

Senate Cooperation; Student Participation

The Faculty Senate of this university now has the opportunity to act on a question that has been popping up on other campuses across the nation for the past few years—student participation.

The Senate can, if it chooses, increase the number of students on many faculty committees. What this will mean, if the Senate passes the resolution, is that the student body will have the power to exercise a more strengthened voice on campus.

All the Senate can do is increase the number of students on the various committees. The students themselves, YOU, have to take the initiative to file for a committee post in the Student Council Office and actively participate when you are assigned to a committee.

The committee system can function properly only when everyone participates. Participation lies in the hands of the individual.

Newly elected Student Body President Peter Isgro has issued a call for all interested students to apply for committee assignments as soon as possible. If there is no great response to this appeal, then the efforts of the Student Council and the Faculty Senate will be in vain.

You all wanted the opportunity to voice your opinions; now all you need do is take advantage of the opportunity and file for a position.

CORRECTION AND WARNING

In last Friday's issue of the Jambar a Letter to the Editor criticizing Dike Beede appeared under the name of David M. Kuzell. Mr. Kuzell reports that he did not write the letter. The Jambar regrets the incident and wishes to remind any student who, in the future, attempts to submit Letters to the Editor under a false name that the case will be submitted to the Discipline Committee for possible action.

Letters to the Editor

All Letters to the Editor must be signed by the student and include his name, address and phone number. Letters should be limited to 250 words. The Editors reserve the right to edit letters for brevity and clarity to meet the length requirement.

To the Editor of the Jambar:

After reading Mr. Sheets' letter last Friday, I am beginning to wonder just which super-conservative he was trying to impress. Until now I was under the impression that China was the country doing the brain washing. Mr. Sheets' letter was not only out of tone, but was utter nonsense.

It is exactly that "Democratic country" which allows these people to dissent. If Mrs. Curran wants to walk downtown in her barefeet, let her. I cannot conceive in any possible way how this could annoy any responsible citizen to such a state as compelling them to write a letter to the Jambar condemning her for her action.

Mrs. Curran risked her reputation for something she believed in, which is a lot more than I could say for most of the people at this University. Mr. Sheets goes on to say that he cannot wait until the day when all these dissenters (of which he classifies as Communist, Socialist, Anti-American, subversive, Anti-Semantic, and offensive Communies) will be forced out of this country. Why don't we just shoot them Mr. Sheets, it would be a lot quicker.

Finally Mr. Sheets signs his letter as a "Patriotic and Proud American." I say if you're so patriotic why aren't you fighting for this "just cause" over in Viet Nam until it is won, instead of seeking refuge in a college where you are 2-S deferred.

I also fail to understand what embedded this sense of deep pride you have toward America. You're certainly not proud of the fact that we the people cannot even directly elect our own president (since we allow the electoral college to do that for us) or of the policy of drafting, eighteen year old boys who have absolutely no representation in any governmental policy.

James Phelan

To the Editor of the Jambar:

As a concerned student and a freedom-loving person I find myself forced to write concerning the May 9 letter by Georg R. Sheets.

In this outrageous missive, he speaks about "twisted minds and violated values." Perhaps he is seeing things in a twisted perspective. He says "Isn't the fact that Mrs. Curran would even voice her protest and her desire to walk the streets of beautiful downtown Youngstown barefoot evidence of her subversive affiliations?" I feel that the right to protect unjust and immoral laws in a dignified manner the sacred duty of every American, and that people such as Mr. Sheets who would be doing us this right, are the subversive persons.

Perhaps Mr. Sheets would want us to return to the Germany of the 1930's, where those who protected were hauled away to jail. America was founded on the principals of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. Let's keep it that way.

Patrick S. Morgan
Soph. Music Ed.

To the Editor of the Jambar:

I would like to express my opinion on discrimination on this campus—discrimination against sororities.

I began working in the Acquisitions Department of the Y.S.U. Library in December of 1966. At that time I was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority. Since that time I have, on many occasions, worn my sorority outfit to school and consequently, to work. When campaigning for Spring Weekend Queen began on Wednesday, May 7, I naturally wore my red and white outfit.

Dr. George Jones, head librarian, told my boss to tell me not to wear campaign badges to work anymore. However, on Thursday, when I wore the exact outfit that I had worn on Wednesday (minus the badge), Dr. Jones told a co-worker of mine to tell me that I am not allowed to wear my sorority outfit to work, and that if I must wear it for my sorority I should bring another outfit to wear to work.

Unfortunately, I didn't hear Mr. Jones' exact words because when the decree was made, my outfit is "disruptive to the library", "taking sides", and "discriminating". Discriminating against whom? Taking sides against who or what? My apologies as I was disruptive to the library! The man was so evasive in his reasoning that I can only assume that a general dislike for the sororities on this part is behind his actions.

Patti Parker
Senior, Education

To the Editor of the Jambar:

This Thursday, May 15, at 10 a.m. about twenty citizens of Mahoning County, including The Rev. Lonnie Simons, Mrs. Odie Ellis and Ron Daniels, will be tried on the charge of trespassing. The charge stems from an all night protest vigil at the office of the County Commissioners.

Originally, the commissioners invited the group to their offices to discuss the plight of welfare recipients in Mahoning County, who at present receive only 80% of the 1959 standard payment. This discussion, however, was not productive before the concerned citizens could receive satisfactory answers the Commissioners went home for the day.

In an attempt to confront the Commissioners again, as soon as possible, the group stayed the night. Here too they were unsuccessful. Before the Commissioners arrived the protestors were informed that they should either leave the building or be charged with trespassing. They chose the latter in order that their cause might receive full community awareness and support.

The trial is this Thursday at 10 a.m. in Mahoning County Courthouse. The individuals involved and the Community of Concern would like to encourage all people who are concerned about social justice to attend the trial and offer moral support to the defendants.

Bill McDonough
Senior, Liberal Arts.

To the Editor of the Jambar:

Any modern society has the task of choosing a manner of response to acts of dissent. Unfortunately, too often the "response" chosen is no response at all, but is instead a blinding desire for "punishment" (both public and private) for the dissenter. There is no consideration of the value of his different way—his protest. This foolishly angry method of "approach" to dissenters was illustrated with painful clarity for Myron Pifer late Saturday night, when he was beaten by two college-age boys on Lincoln Street near Bryson. Mister Pifer, as you may know, has attended the mass of people in this society by refusing to help them kill themselves or the mass of people in another society.

More specifically, as a gesture of personal disaffiliation from and public, political protest against two darling children of our culture (the monstrous war in Vietnam and Selective Service), he returned his draft card to President Nixon even though he held and deserved a student deferment. Pifer's beating appears to some of us as merely another example of oppression. But this particular oppression—this private punishment—is most unusual because the benefits that those college-age boys would derive if Pifer's efforts and those of others like him would succeed in helping to end both the war and the draft are quite obvious.

To put it most simply, though by no means completely, it might very well mean their lives. Anyway, I think we can all agree that Pifer's years in prison will be punishment enough for having a careful conscience.

TV Special Probes—

The Generation Gap

GENERATIONS APART, a major CBS News examination of a worldwide phenomenon that is in turn provocative and poignant, infuriating and earth-shaking — the "generation gap" — will be broadcast on three successive CBS News Hours, Tuesday, May 20, Tuesday, May 27 and Tuesday, June 3 (10:00-11:00 PM, EDT), in color on the CBS Television Network.

"The 'generation gap' is a phenomenon which men have observed ever since they have written their history," noted Ernest Leiser, executive producer of GENERATIONS APART. "However, it is now different in dimension, different in effect, and it may even be difficult in kind from the past. These broadcasts will seek to illuminate those differences and to examine where they are leading us and what we can do about them."

CBS News Correspondent John Laurence, with Correspondents Charles Collingwood, Bert Quint, Morley Safer and Bernard Kalb, will be the reporters for the broadcasts. As now scheduled, they are: "A Question of Values" (May 20), produced by Leiser; "The Youth International" (May 27), produced by Phil Scheffler, and "Fathers and Sons" (June 3), produced by Harry Morgan.

"A Question of Values" (May 20) will look into the attitudes on both sides of the "Generation Gap" to discover how broadly based they are and to find why they have come about in so many areas, including politics, education, dress, sex and morals, music and drugs.

"The Youth International" (May 27), second of the GENERATIONS APART broadcasts, will examine the problems between the generations in three nations in three areas of the world: Great Britain, Mexico and Japan.

The broadcast will focus on the alienated young of these three nations, showing that the phenomenon transcends both geography and ideology, and pointing out common denominators and differences. In each, as in the United States, a diffuse, unorganized but interacting number of radical youth are rebelling against the social order of whatever establishment under which they live. The producers of GENERATIONS APART agree that they might have chosen any major nation — whether a representative republic, a communist or a socialist country — to illustrate the phenomenon.

"Fathers and Sons" (June 3), the third broadcast, will personalize the "generation gap" with several pairs of fathers and sons, among the younger group including a black militant, a drug user, a young radical graduate student and draft resister, and a so-far uncommitted high school student.

The ways that the views of the young differ from their elders, and the attempts by their fathers to bridge the communication gap — so much apart of the "generation gap" — will be the main focus of "Fathers and Sons."

Rerun of a Classic—

"Gone With The Wind"

by John Tenhula

The All-American classic film, "Gone With The Wind," winner of ten Academy Awards, is making another trip through the Youngstown area. The Wellman Theater in Girard is holding the film over by popular demand.

"Gone With The Wind," stars the now deceased king of Hollywood — Clark Gable as the daring and rowdy Rhett Butler. Vivien Leigh portrays the "hateable" and scandalous Scarlett O'Hara, who sacrifices her happiness to keep Tara, the family plantation. Ashley Wilkes, who is played by Leslie Howard, is tossed between the love of two women. Melanie, the kind and sincere wife of Ashley, is played by Olivia De Havilland.

Victor Fleming directed the film which ran off with ten Academy Awards and the praise of every viewer (Yankee or Rebel). The music, by Max Steiner, is in full Stereophonic sound.

The story is set at the time of the Civil War in the deep South. Through the cunning and sly actions of Scarlett O'Hara, she saves her family's plantation from the Yankees, and later from the carpetbaggers. She goes through three husbands, her family, and her friends to attain what she wants.

Scarlett loves Ashley Wilkes who is married to her best friend Melanie. Only at the death of Melanie does she see that Ashley loves only Melanie, and not her. Scarlett now sees that her husband, Rhett, loves her and she tries to amend all the wrongs she did to him. Rhett leaves Scarlett, before she can express her love to him thus giving this movie the tremendous heart-throb appeal it has enjoyed these many years.

The movie is now a classic

Carnival '69 Preparations In Final Stage

Final preparations for Carnival 69, YSU's Spring Weekend theme, are being administered prior to the May 16 opening date. The weekend, which runs from Friday evening the 16th to Sunday evening the 18th, is undergoing an extensive decorative program.

Bob Harasin, an art major at YSU, is in charge of decorations for the event. Harasin plans to decorate the Kilcawley cafeteria, scene of the semi-formal Friday night with shocking pink streamers forming a canopy, giving the room a court-yard appearance. On Saturday evening, Harasin's plans call for psychedelic music and lighting inside a huge tent that will contain game booths.

The weekend is being coordinated by three members of Major Events committee who are each responsible for one of the three evenings.

Tickets are on sale in room 108 of Kilcawley. The price is $2.50 per person.

Dana to Present "Sister Angelica"

A cast of outstanding female voices will be featured in the Dana Opera Workshop production of Puccini's one-act opera, "Sister Angelica" on Friday, May 16 and Saturday, May 17, at Strouss Auditorium. Starring in the lead role of Sister Angelica is Cheryl Bell, a pupil of Dr. Patricia J. Connor, Dana School of Music. Mrs. Elizabeth Davenport, a former pupil of Madame Fanny Cleve and now studying with Dr. Connor, will portray the Princess.

Judianne Tate, a recent first-place winner of the Annual Student Auditions of the National Association of Teachers of Singing, Central Division, and a winner of the second annual Student Honors Concerto and Aria competitions at YSU, will play the Monitor. Joan Jacobs, twice winner of the Concerto and Aria competitions and of two student honor recital competitions, will play Mistress of the Novices.

Paula Sue Cook will play Sister Genevieve.

Miss Tate, Miss Jacobs, and Miss Cook placed high in the Metropolitan Opera auditions held recently. Miss Cook and Miss Jacobs starred last January in the Dana Opera Workshop production of "Die Fledermaus."

"Sister Angelica" is the second of three one-act operas written by Puccini and first performed by the Metropolitan Opera Company in 1918; "The Cloak" ("Il Tabarro"), a veristic melodrama; "Sister Angelica" ("Sior Angelica"), a miracle play; and "Gianni Schicchi," a delightful opera buffa. It is very seldom that all three are performed in an evening, however, most of the time they are performed singly.

Dr. Donald L. Vogel, YSU associate professor and director of opera, said that many special stage effects will be employed to produce the miracle-like qualities. Instruments backstage will also be used.

Concerto and aria winners Georgean Cappuzzello is a Tourriere, and Linda Welsh is a Nursing Sister. Joann Buckner will play Sister Dolcina, while the balance of the cast will include Mary Ruth Williams, Sheila Fluharty, Marion Bernardo, Ladonna Burks, Karen Ream, Helen Marie Ferrence, Janice and Joyce Mansell, and Joyce Dismuke. Eight-year-old Gerald Baker will be the only male member of the cast.

William Conable will conduct the 62-piece YSU Symphony Orchestra and Roger Steinman, a sophomore transfer student from Hunter College (N.Y.) will be the assistant conductor.

Sister Agnes Jean Lavin, YSU assistant professor of music, is a special consultant to the production.

Tickets for the 8:00 p.m. concerts are now available at the Dana music office. It is open to the public.

Top Students Take Honors At Banquet

Off The Tee

by Norb Yanek

YSU's golf team won its ninth contest in a row last Saturday. Their season record going into yesterday afternoon's match with Kent State at Warren Avalon was 10 wins 4 losses.

In Saturday's round, senior golfer Tim Miller shot a 73 the best round recorded at Avalon Lakes this year. Sophomore Rick Slifka paced the Penguin golfers with a 73 Friday against Slippery Rock.

RULES

If your ball is in, or you have to stand in, casual water left from a rain storm, you may lift your ball without penalty and replace it at the nearest point of relief no nearer the hole.

GOLF FACTS

Last year's leading money winner on the pro golf tour was Bill Casper, who won more than $205,000. There are 9,615 golf courses in the United States and 11,300,000 Americans play golf.

GOLF TIP

YSU golf coach, Bill Carson, offers this tip for the No. 2 and other long iron shots. The ball should be positioned in line with your left heel. Sweep the club a little more like a wood shot but still hit down on the ball. Don't pick it off. Positioning of the feet is most important.

Slippery Rock, Gannon, B-W Fall Before YSU Golfers

A pair of brilliant performances by Tim Miller and Rick Slifka over the weekend enabled the Penguin linkmen to boost their seasonal mark to 10-4. Slippery Rock, Gannon, and Baldwin-Wallace all fell victim to YSU's winningest spring sport!

On the Slippery Rock, Pa., course, Friday afternoon, the Penguins handed the Pennsylvania golfers a 13-5 setback behind the medalist-winning honors of Rick Slifka. Slifka, a sophomore from Youngstown who managed only a single win against one defeat on last year's squad, paced the Red and White to their eighth triumph of the campaign.

Coach Bill Carson was awarded his 200th victory as Penguin golf mentor with the Slippery Rock decision! Carson has only suffered 56 times in the realms of defeats since his days here at YSU, while deadlocking on nine occasions with Penguins opponents.

Tim Miller, senior Penguin from Boardman High, followed Slifka's pace-setting score with a 75 total, while Jerry Doctor and Rusty McDonald registered 76's. Jim Grunenwald and Gary Hathaway finished the Penguin field with a 78 and an 80, respectively.

The following afternoon, after the other two YSU sports were being postponed because of inclement weather, Coach Carson's Penguins hosted a successful triangular match on Warren's Avalon Lake greens with Gannon and Baldwin-Wallace. The Red and White handed Baldwin-Wallace a 19½-4½ verdict, while turning back the Golden Knights of Gannon 20½-3½!

Tim Miller, a familiar sight in the medalist finalist spotlight, captured the honors again with a 73 total on the Warren greens in,

C of C Elects New Prexy, Reorganizes

The Community of Concern has elected new officers at its reorganization meeting on May 11. William Hagan is the new president. Hagan is a freshman majoring in political science. Richard Cluse, a freshman in Math will serve as Vice-President and Larry Matika, sophomore in the School of Business was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

Hagan announced the group's sponsorship of Tran Van Dinh for a special lecture at 3:30 in the Engineering Science Auditorium and at 8 p.m. in the Gates of Eden Coffeehouse.

Members present at the meeting agreed to go ahead with plans for a literature table this week and the "Read-In" scheduled for the 28th of May, where the names of all the mortally wounded in the Viet Nam war will be read at the Youngstown Draft Board.

Also a resolution was passed supporting the actions of the Youngstown Welfare Rights Organization.

Baseballers Play Seven This Week

After being washed out twice last week, while dropping a twin bill to Gannon College, Coach Dom Rosselli will send his Penguins to the diamond duties seven times this week.

A rescheduled Alliance doubleheader, set for the second time, is slated for this afternoon at the Pemberton Park field, while a revenge-filled trip to Point Park for a two-game set is in store for Thursday. Friday afternoon, Case from Cleveland invades the Penguin diamond for a single fray and a twinbill affair is scheduled for the following afternoon as Cleveland State comes to town.
