

LIBRARY DRIVE BEGINS TODAY

Friends Join Campaign

Campus Groups Push Building Fund

The drive to raise additional funds for the new Youngstown College Library got under way today. The campaign is being carried on at the College by various campus organizations and is being conducted throughout the Youngstown District by the Association of the Friends of Youngstown College Library.

Alpha Pi Epsilon and Alpha Phi Omega, service organizations, will be in charge of the College-wide drive which will feature a room-to-room canvass in behalf of the Library fund by members of the Speech Dept. In addition, the Art dept. will supply posters for the drive. The Friends associations is headed by William F. Magg, Jr., and includes many prominent businessmen from the Youngstown area.

Construction of the new, three-story, million dollar library building for Youngstown College is well under way, and it is expected to be completed within the next twelve months, Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown College, has announced. The building with furnishings will cost something over a million dollars, Dr. Jones said. The site is the North-west corner of the campus at Bryson and Spring Sts.

Former Yoco grid star Conzi Lucci, now an iron worker, is the only former College man working on the new library. Football fans will remember the one-time Penguin fullback for his famous "Spinner" play.

Phi Epsilon Plans Alumnae Meeting

Phi Epsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity, is planning a meeting with alumnae members soon. Mike Tripak, who has been elected chairman for the meeting, will be assisted by Ed Caputo and Frank Ciotola. At present, the committee is busy getting the names of past members and trying to locate them.

In addition, the fraternity is now considering eligible students for pledging. The requirements necessary for eligibility are, (1) at least 12 hours of chemistry, and (2) a 2.0 point average in chemistry, with an overall average of 1.5.

The eligibility of special members will also be considered. The requirements are, (1) 26 hours of chemistry completed and, (2) a point average of 1.75 in chemistry. Anyone interested should contact Phi Epsilon President Bob DeWitt

Positions Open For Reserve Officers

There are vacancies at the present time for infantry lieutenants or captains in the 12th En. 2069th ORASU. This unit is a reserve battalion of officers, part of a division in the State of Ohio.

This unit holds 24 meetings a year all of which are paid. Pay for each two hour period consists of a full days pay. Training consists of lectures and demonstrations of the basic subjects.

Officers in other branches who wish to change their branch will also be accepted.

This unit can offer promotion, pay, points for retirement and plenty of good fellowship. For more information contact Capt. Oscar Lord at 9-3065 or Capt. Edward Moeller at 8-2205.

Architects Kling and Post had the contract for the designing of the new building and Charles Shurtz and Sons are general contractors.

Today's first contribution to the Library Drive was a check for $113, donated by three Yoco students.

The students, Harry Altman, Jean Vargo, and Andy Vargo, raised the money last year by conducting a scrap paper drive. In odd hours, and on weekends, they collected, bundled, and sold enough paper to raise the money.

Money for the building has been given by local industry and business with some individual gifts, Dr. Jones, said. The chief contributions have come from Youngstown, Salem, Warren, Niles, Sharon, Hubbard, and Girard. Students, faculty, and staff members of Youngstown College have given approximately $27,000 toward the building fund.

Made Studies

Prior to the final designing of the building, James W. Pirie, director of libraries of Youngstown College, and the architects worked together for several months, made extensive studies, questioned faculty members and students, and finally submitted their plans to Keyes D. Metcalf, director of libraries at Harvard University, for perusal and recommendations. Metcalf is a former Ohio man and familiar with Youngstown and vicinity.

A brick structure with white limestone trim, the new library building will consist of three stories and full basement, with the main entrance facing the campus. Modular in construction to allow for rearranging within the building as changing needs arise. It will have a total capacity of 260,000 volumes.

The architecture will be modern and the interior of the building has been planned with an eye to efficiency as well as to beauty. There will be a minimum of wall space, book stacks will be completely open, the lighting will be recessed fluorescent, and the building will have a forced ventilation system with air cleaning facilities. Nine classrooms will be on the three floors at the North end of the building.

Rooms Large

The library portion of the building will accommodate about 600 people. There will be three large reading rooms, two on the first floor and one on the second plus a medium-sized reading-smoking room on the third floor which will accommodate about 85 people.

A visual education or forum room on the third floor with facilities for showing films and playing records will accommodate 135 people. The third floor will also include a faculty lounge and a women's lounge.

Bricklayers begin laying the concrete block foundation of the library. President Jones expects the million-dollar building to be completed early next year.

College Artists Enter Woodcuts

Two Youngstown artists will have their work shown in the Bradley University national exhibition of prints which will be on display in Peoria, Ill., from Feb. 18 through Mar. 17.

Miss Beatrice Fried, a graduate of Youngstown College, has had a wood cut print accepted entitled "Above Affection," and Prof. David P. Skeggs, member of the college art faculty, has had a wood cut accepted entitled "The March."

The Bradley exhibition is an annual print competition for printmakers of the United States. Prints for exhibition were selected by a jury of nationally known artists.

Miss Fried has a woodcut "Discussion" now on display with the first annual print exhibition of the New Britain Museum, New Britain, Conn.

Accounting Frat Planning Clinic

Yoco's Honorary Accounting Fraternity, Alpha Tau Gamma, is planning another Annual Accounting Clinic. It will be held at Calvin Center, Youngstown, on Wednesday, April 23.

Tickets for the event are now on sale at a cost of $3.50 per person and can be purchased by contacting any present member of the Fraternity.

A membership drive is also being conducted. For information as to qualifications, students are asked to contact Frank O'Connor, the membership chairman.

The next regular meeting will be held at the American Legion Hall on Friday, March 14.

Council Passes Spring Budget

The Student Council Activity Budget, collected from the Student Activity Fees, is made up and administered by Student Council. The Budget for the current semester totals $23,791.65. Listed below are some of the budget items:

Men's Intra-Mural sports were allotted $1,116.00, Women's, $767.85; the JAMBAR will use $2,219.00 this semester, and the Neon subsidy is $2,514.80. Various other departments and organizations received smaller allotments.

The social program took the largest share, with $1600.00 set aside for the Junior Prom and $2200.00 for the May Day dance and ceremonies.

The non-self supporting sports are given 10 per cent of the activity fee income, or $1706.00 for this semester.

Students Have Time To Select Service

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, has announced that Selective Service will not make any special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

General Hershey explained that such arrangements are not necessary this year as the 1951 amendments to the Selective Service law provide that students are henceforth to be DEFERRED instead of having their induction postponed. They will, therefore, have ample opportunity after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

Act Changed

The Selective Service Act of 1948 provided that any student who, while satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course, was ordered for induction would upon presenting the facts to his local board have his induction POSTPONED until the end of his academic year.

At the end of the year, the student became liable for immediate induction. The 1951 amendments to the Act changed this, General Hershey pointed out, by providing that any student pursuing a full-time course who was ordered for induction would, if he had never before been deferred as a student, be DEFERRED in Class I-S until the end of his academic year, but he could receive only one such deferral.

ATTENTION SENIORS

Anyone intending to graduate in 1952 who has not turned in his application for graduation to Dean Smith should do so immediately. The fee is $15.00 until the end of February. No application will be accepted after March 31.

Graduating seniors may check their names on the official list which is kept in the Dean's office.

The Silent Badge Of Courage

by A Fraternity Brother

In a college of nearly 3500 students, there are probably many who did not know Bill Turner, but a surprising number of students did know him, at least by sight, if only to ask, "Who's the little guy with the great big camera?"

Bill, with his beloved camera, took pictures for the JAMBAR, and Neon. He was a loyal member of Alpha Phi Omega, and was active in Religion in Life Club. In class he was an eager participator in discussions. In life he was well liked for his friendliness and good humor.

Many of his friends, however, did not know the extent of his courage. Never rugged, he lived life to the full, although on borrowed time; one academic course was cut short by a near-fatal attack of pneumonia; he survived to re-enroll and finish the course with a B. Insulin kept him alive but always in the shadow of death. Yet never once did one of his friends suspect this if it was not already known.

Finally, Bill had to drop out of school. The last time he visited Yoco was to "see" Yocochoey. No one would have known that, by that time, Bill was blind.

A few weeks ago, as it must to all men, death came to Bill Turner. Those of us who knew him best will forever be ashamed to complain, because of the example he set.

Bill's life scroll, in many ways, seemed charged with punishments, but the menace of the years found him unafraid. Truly, he could, more than most of us, thank God for his unconquerable soul.

Portrait In Oils Suprises Prexy

Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown College, was surprised recently when a member of his faculty, Dr. Walter E. Mayer, head of the department of psychology at the college, came up with a portrait of the president which he had painted in oils, entirely unknown to Dr. Jones. Faculty and staff members say the likeness is excellent.

A man of many hobbies, Dr. Mayer never painted seriously until five years ago when he started "just for fun". When questioned, he admitted that as a student in a country school some years ago he had dabbled in water colors and crayons on his own, and the school submitted some of his drawings to the county fair exhibit. They drew a money award, but the school got all the money.

Forgot Name

Dr. Mayer said his name was not on the drawings and he lost out all around. Disgusted, he discarded his watercolors and crayons and forgot about the whole thing until five years ago when he started to paint again as a hobby.

Dr. Mayer has done from fifty to sixty paintings - landscapes and a few portraits - and has never had a lesson in art. The portrait of President Jones is his fourth in oils. Two of his oil paintings "Autumn Sunset" and "Linda" have been exhibited at the Butler Art Institute.

Dr. Mayer's life-like portrait of Pres. Jones.

The portrait of President Jones required about 20 hours of work, and was completed recently when Dr. Mayer was recuperating from an attack of pneumonia. Dr. Mayer's other most cherished hobbies are poetry and music.

Discussion Clubs Started Here: Would Spread Democratic Ideas

Two new discussion clubs, the "Make Democracy Work Club" and the "International Relations Club", have recently been formed on the Campus.

The purpose of these clubs is to advance the principles of Democracy to meet situations in all walks of life. By discussion and the free exchange of thought the club members hope to enable all persons to become active participants in furthering the democratic way of life.

The Reed Bill which limits the income tax to 25% and the direct presidential primary will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the "Make Democracy Work Club" meeting at 2:00 on Sunday, March 2nd, at Pollock Hall.

Second Meeting

The International Relations Club will hold its second meeting of the current series on March 3, at 3:00 in room 206, in the Main Bldg.

The topic under discussion will be "Our China Policy; Past and Present." The speakers will include Dr. Gould and Dr. Sze, with Dr. E.B. Smith acting as Moderator.

All students presently enrolled at Yoco are cordially invited to come to these meetings, either as observers or as active participants in these discussions. The club members want everyone to feel free to express his opinions on any matter.

Only Willingness

The only requirements for members are the willingness to attend the meetings and the signing of a roll. No person will be denied membership because of race, religion, sex or political status. EVERYBODY IS WELCOME!

Mrs. Pauline E. Boty of the Sociology Dept., and Dr. G.W. Eddy, Dr. C.P. Gould, Mr. Zenos E. Hawkison, and Dr. E.B. Smith, all of the History Department, are participating advisors in the clubs.

The present officers of the M.D. W.C. include Mr. James W. Cook as President, Mr. W.A. VanCourt as Vice-Pres., Mr. C.W. Darling as Secretary, Mr. A.J. Accordino as Recorder, Mr. A.P. Chiarello as Treasurer, and Mr. P.R. Hewitt as Sergeant-at-arms.

Dr. E. B. Smith addressing the Foreign Relations Club. Dr. Smith will serve as moderator at next week's meeting.

Dr. Gould, center, and Dr. Eddy, right advisors to the Make Democracy Work Club, listen to the lively discussion on the Direct Primary.

Air Force Needs 300 College Men

WASHINGTON, D.C. College graduates and second-semester seniors with credit for one year of college physics and mathematics through integral calculus are now eligible to apply for USAF commissions and government-expense training to become weather officers with the USAF Air Weather Service.

Successful applicants will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve and ordered to active duty by mid-August 1952 to begin a 12-month meteorology course at one of seven participating U.S. colleges and universities.

Schools which will offer the weather training course are the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, New York University, the University of California at Los Angeles, Pennsylvania State College, the University of Chicago, Florida State University and the University of Washington.

Interested young men and women who will graduate before August of this year are urged to write immediately to the Chief, Air Weather Service, Andrews Air Force Base, Washington 25 D.C., for application forms and detailed instructions for applying for a USAF commission.

Bunn Calls Service Teacher's Goal

"The Teacher's Creed" was emphasized by Superintendent of Schools Paul C. Bunn in his talk to members of the Elementary Teachers Professional Club of Youngstown College at their meeting held recently at Pollock House. Members of the department of education faculty were special guests of the evening.

Superintendent Bunn spoke on the theme "What Makes a Good Teacher." He told what qualities are considered essential for a good teacher, and said that above all, the teacher must consider her work with children a profession, a high calling to service, and not just a job.

The speaker gave time for questions from the group concerning the teaching profession. These questions pertained to getting a position, the school salary schedule, and what a superintendent looks for when selecting teachers.

The meeting was conducted by president George Gales. Plans for the spring banquet were discussed. Special guests were Miss Mary Haddow and Dr. George M. Wilcox. The committee in charge of arrangements included Virginia Browne, Paul Arvin and Virginia Pitts.

Wanted In Jambar Office One Radio, Twice Removed

by Rose O'Horo

Creeping around the YoCo campus is a radio maniac. He takes nothing else but radios and now is making it an annual occasion.

Last year on a wet, cold, rainy, dreary day when all lonely hearts and ears were glued to the radio some very fine students made their way up to the Jambar office intending to work and listen to some soothing music and when they reached the office -- Lo and behold! The radio was GONE!!!!

Who done it? Who took it? WHO WOULD WANT IT? These are the questions that were left unanswered.

Several weeks passed. The crafty thief then misled us into believing he had repented by quietly returning the radio. A Change of heart, we thought. Our faith in humanity (college type) was temporarily restored. But on with the story.

The person was very clever for he left no clues. But he couldn't let well enough alone-- NO! This year he paid a return visit. One day (we know not which) he entered the desolate office and his sticky fingers touched this year's radio and so when he left -- the radio went with him. We feel that someone is operating a radio shop at the Jambar's expense.

They talk about Korea and radio-activity -- we have radio-activity right here on our campus. Dirty -

Miss Davis New Member Of Youngstown Faculty

Miss Ann Davis, 1202 E. Indianola Ave., is a new member of the Youngstown College faculty this term, teaching part-time in the department of education.

Miss Davis is a graduate of Kent State University, where she received the bachelor of science in education degree, and has her master of education degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

She is a member of the Youngstown Education Association, the Mahoning Valley Social Studies group, and the American Association of University Women.

Student Council Digest

Feb. 15:

Lou Charles, S. C. Treasurer, resigned. Pan-Hellenic Council asked to rule whether an organization may have two major dances a year. Dan Dundon and Bill Snyder were selected as joint chairmen for the Junior Prom.

The Budget was discussed and passed. Items include $250.00 for lights for the student parking lot and $1,202.00 in a reserve for a future student union.

Feb. 22:

Don McBride elected new treasurer. $72.72 spent on the last stag dance. May Queen elections to be held on Mar. 14. Petitions are still being accepted for nomination of Independent members of S.C.

February JAMBAR Sweetheart

The JAMBAR proudly presents its February Pin-Up Girl, Janie Olsavsky. The photo at the right was entered in the JAMBAR contest by photographer Theodore Parent.

We hope that more pictures like this one will be entered in this contest. The JAMBAR intends to publish at least one photo each month from those submitted, and, later this semester, to give our readers a chance to choose their favorite, who will be Miss Yoco of 1952.

All entries must be, like Janie, a student of Youngstown College. Anyone may enter a photo, but each must have permission from the subject for publication.

So let's go, students, get those pictures in. Make your favorite this year's Miss Yoco!

We wish to welcome Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority to both the campus and our column and hope we'll be hearing quite a bit from them in the future. The Beta Sigs were recently formally introduced on campus at a tea held at Pollock Hall. Since then they've been quite active, having had one party with Pi Beta Chi and many more planned for the near future.

Mary Zervos and Phyllis Eberhart did quite a job entertaining their sisters with their piano artistry. It could never have been accomplished, though, if Mary Adele Krafoff hadn't been there to push the pedals.

Nu Sigma Phi Fraternity recently enjoyed a spaghetti dinner at the Zanzibar. They are also planning a joint rush party with the newly formed Beta Sigma sorority to be held March 5.

Nu Sig committee heads who have recently been appointed are: Chuck Palisky, Pledge Chairman; Jim Odomisi, Public Relations Chairman; Tony Genetto, Alumni Committee; Frank Salvatore, Historian; Hal Englebaugh, Recording Secretary; and George Cataland, Social Chairman.

Proud Papa

The Nu Sigs are all proud of "proud papa" Alfonso Decola who had an addition of a 7½ pound baby girl to his family last month. Alfonso who is treasurer of his fraternity is being watched pretty closely. After all diapers and baby bottles are pretty expensive!

The Phi Lambda Delta sorority recently held a meeting at the home of Nancy Mock with officers of their Junior Alumnae group being present. They were also hostesses at the first nights showing of the outstanding movie "Quo Vadis" at the Warner Theater.

Several members of Pi Beta Chi fraternity accepted Lake Erie College's kind "invite" to come up for a dance on February 16. "Rapid Ray" Feranchak had a "big" date. From what Ray says her conversation was really fine!

Almost Here

Rush season is almost upon us and plans for Pi Beta Chi's first rush party are being made by Dick McCollum. Dick says it will be with the Alpha Deltas on March 12.

The Alpha Deltas have been busy making rush plans and are glad to see the return of "jokester" sister Nancy Crofford.

Sigma Sigma fraternity will hold its annual installation banquet at Ma Perkins Restaurant on March first. Co-chairmen of the affair are Dick Fees and Al Dapville.

The second floor will house 13 faculty offices, and a microfilm and micro-card reading room will be located on the first floor.

Purchased in 1949

The site for the new library, with a frontage of approximately 160 feet on Spring St. and 300 feet on Bryson St., was purchased by the College in October, 1949.

"College officials are looking forward to the new library," Dr. Jones said, "and will appreciate the modern and spacious facilities because of the crowded conditions under which they have worked over the past years when the library has been housed on the fourth floor of the main college building.

The new building will be completed in time to take care of students who are enrolled in the new library courses offered for the first time at Youngstown College last fall, and who will need the modern facilities made available by the new library when they are ready for the advanced work.

As the regiment was leaving and a crowd cheering, a recruit asked: "Who are all those people and why are they cheering?"

"They," replied the veteran, "are the people who are not going."

A party was recently held with the Gamma Sigs and everyone present had a very enjoyable time. We also hear that we may soon be seeing Sig Sig sweaters flashing around campus.

The Phi Sigs had a social meeting Feb. 19 -- a date that will be well remembered by Bob Bowden. "King" Bob finally had to relinquish his crown to brother Jack Higgins after several hours of grueling card wizardry.

Joe Gorski was recently appointed rush chairman for the approaching rush season.

Plans Made

The last meeting of the Gamma Sigs was held at the home of Lillian Salem with plans being made for rushing. Fran Restelli will assist Mary Lou Parker as co-social chairman in the future.

Jean Mellinger an active alumnae will act as new co-advisor for the Gamma Sigma Sorority. Mary Jo Davin who has been in California for several months is expected home soon.

With the ENGINEERS . . .

by Ted Herman

At the last regular meeting of the Student Chapter, Mr. Wayne Ault, Vice President of the Mahoning Valley Society of Professional Engineers and fire protection engineer at the Automatic Sprinkler Corporation, was guest speaker. His topic was fire protection, emphasizing chiefly the methods of better fire protection. He also pointed out that a fire protection engineer must have the knowledge of all the various engineering fields to some extent. This is true of all fields of engineering.

Of the students I questioned after the conclusion of Mr. Ault's lecture, not one gave a negative opinion of what I believe was one of the best lectures we have had. The Student Chapter wishes to express their thanks to Mr. Ault for his coming and hope that he will visit us again in the future. I liked the way water was represented on one of the display cards, diving board and all.

Hagenlocher To Come Again

Mr. W. J. Hagenlocher, engineer for the Portland Cement Association, will return on March 26 to deliver a lecture to the students. One of the most important developments in cement and concrete during the past decade, that of air-entrainment, will be discussed and illustrated with slides.

Mr. Hagenlocher has mentioned in previous lectures, the importance of air-entrained concrete and how it eliminates pavement scaling and increases durability in exposed structures. Students will now have an opportunity to learn the engineering aspects of this important discovery. If an engineer knows the "how" and "why" of a problem it makes the application much easier.

Professor Karl Benkner made the arrangements for bringing Mr. Hagenlocher back again for a discussion of this relatively new subject and should be thanked by all concerned for making these lectures possible. The lecture will take place in the Strength of Materials Laboratory at 2:30 P.M.

Seniors Reminded

All graduating senior students are urged by the faculty to complete their theses as soon as possible. The day of reckoning is April 21, 1952 at which time completed theses are to be turned in. Members of the faculty point out that little or no home work is done by the seniors during the months of March and April due to their late starting in undertaking a thesis

Leap Year

Run for the hills, men! ... Once every four years it happens, and today's the day -- LEAP YEAR DAY!!! Look around corners carefully, don't go out at night. You can even get caught in the Draft, if nothing else will save you -- In short, look, before "they" (the women) leap! The Four Freedoms do not include a freedom from being hooked, so if you're over 21 and a red-blooded American boy, you're doomed!!!

If you're unlucky enough to get caught, maybe JIMMY DUNN will sing at your wedding. Perhaps he and BETTE SAVAGE will sing a duet. She's got the "Cuckoo Clock" down cold.

In all other respects, things are normal. People still hound us to buy tickets...BUGSY MAYHEW is still combing the fields...PAUL WALSH is still gazing at the stars. Such is college life.

Speaking of tickets, (I think we were) the Phi-Gam "Popularity Dance" is coming up March 8th. The most popular man and woman will be announced at the dance. Voting by all students will take place soon, so now's the time to start thinking of your choice for the title. Then go to the dance to see if you were right...

Grabbed By Sam

Old Uncle Sam might grab our buddies from under our eyes, but he can't keep 'em. Lately, we have had several visitors from "parts unknown." Servicemen JOHN SINCHOCK, NICK SOSTARIC, BRUNO DEMOLLI, DAVE MASSARO, TOMMY DORAN, JOE PARISE, and GUY SAVASTANO included the "Lincoln" and the cafeteria on their rounds. Someday, when they are a few years older and Uncle Sam needs them no more, maybe they'll be back gracing the halls of YoCo once more.

BOB HOUSTEAU, one of the hardest playing ballplayers Youngstown College has ever had, was honored last week at a stag party held in his honor in Girard, Ohio. Bob is leaving for the Army on the 29th and his closest buddies gave him a gift that was greatly appreciated. We'll never forget that bone-crunching block he threw against that unfortunate St. Francis player last year.

Speaking of football players, I had a chance to meet and talk to the ones whom I didn't know very well, at Bob's party. Now you can hear all kinds of talk about how conceited and egotistical they are, but sometimes I wonder if the wrong people are being blamed for having those qualities. Our boys on the team are, in my estimation, more friendly and amiable, once you get to know them, than many others around the campus.

We've got to realize that most of them are from out of town, so naturally they don't know as many other students as we do. Since most of them live together, in Pollock Hall or Varsity Hall, it is not surprising that they pal around together. Perhaps we are the ones who should try to get to know them better.

Play Review Starts Spirited Debate

by Marilyn Amey

At least I know that two people read my column in the last JAMBAR for I received two letters concerning the play THE SLEEP OF PRISONERS on which I commented briefly. I am reprinting parts of them for they contrast the views of a college professor, who found no merit in it, and a student at Yoco, who has nothing but praise for it.

The student is Ed Cunningham, who has appeared in several regional plays. The other commentator is professor Ives of the dept. of Language and Literature. The first from the Prof, who:

Fries Fry

"With the Christopher Fry rage still with us, it has occurred to me that those who did not attend the recent performance of 'A Sleep of Prisoners', as well as that lonelier number who went but were unimpressed, may derive some consolation from knowing that at least one other person was also disappointed.

"I cannot recall any play, good or bad, which so completely failed to move me in any way at all. It seemed to me sophomoric in conception, forced and artificial in structure and development, obscure in meaning, and defectively acted. Except for two brief moments, I was never made to feel that anything was going on except that some people were putting on a play, doing their best to overcome its weaknesses and the strangeness of the stage's surroundings, but adding to these difficulties through an egregious technical fault which better direction could have eliminated.

The second from the student v

Toasts Fry

"In the last issue of JAMBAR, columnist Marilyn Amey gave a brief, and quite incomplete, review of Christopher Fry's 'A Sleep of Prisoners.' I heartily agree with everything she said regarding 'Sleep', but felt that the entire issue could well have been devoted to the highest praise of this highly emotional and moving drama, and still would have left much unsaid.

"I cannot find words to express the depth and sheer beauty of this poetic drama, beautifully portrayed by a completely competent cast. In this day, which nurtures the tendency to underplay a scene to make it believable to a skeptical audience, a quartet of masters gave credence to difficult roles by playing them wholly stylized and in the best traditions of the "scenery-eating" theatre.

Yoco Members Serve Penn-Ohio A. C. S.

Prof. William Beckman and Dr. Catherine M. Bridgman, both members of the chemistry department faculty of Youngstown College, have been elected to offices in the Penn-Ohio Border Section of the American Chemical Society for this year.

At the meeting of the group held recently at Grove City College, Prof. Beckman took office as chairman, Dr. Bridgman as secretary, and other officers are: Dr. Donald E. Babcock of Republic Steel Corp., chairman-elect; Dr. Winston Pike of Thiel College, treasurer.

Dr. Eugene D. Scudder, head of the chemistry department of Youngstown College, will continue in his office as councillor, and Dr. Kenneth C. McCart of New Castle, will serve the second of his three-year term as alternate councillor.

She: "Why did you take up the piano?"

He: "My beer glass kept sliding off my violin."

Thus you have two entirely different reactions to one play. Those of you who saw it will most likely agree with one or the other, those of you who didn't see it, in my opinion missed one of the greatest plays now being discussed in literary circles.

Zeke bought a pink shirt with huge purple dots. In the pocket was a note with a girl's name and address and a request that the buyer of the shirt send his photograph.

"Ah, romance," thought Zeke, and mailed a snapshot.

Several days later he tore open her letter: "Thanks for the photo. I just wanted to see what kind of a jerk would buy such a shirt."

College To Drop Track, Baseball

Athletic Director Willard Webster recently announced that Youngstown College has dropped baseball and track from the 1952 Spring Sports schedule. The National Emergency, economic conditions and other factors have been the principal reasons in the curtailment.

"We've enjoyed success in baseball and track in recent years, although just getting really started in the cinder path game," Webster explained. "But the outlay for both sports is tremendous, and with a marked decline in grid receipts, it necessitated immediate measures. The armed services have also been draining our material."

Webster pointed out that the services have hit the track squad pretty hard with Dick Lynch and Dick Melvin, two of his leading sprinters, both being inducted. John Moran and Jim Kelly's not being available takes the spark out of the relay teams.

Webster coached the track squad while Dom Rosselli, Penguin cage mentor, piloted the baseballers.

Golf and tennis will continue at the college what with manpower being available for both sports. The tennis squad this season should be one of the finest turned out by Coaches Leo Mason and Ralph Beard. On hand will be Joe Pickering, local singles champion; John Boliver blonde giant from Greenville, Pa.; and Bob Cantwell, a talented veteran.

Women Receive Sports Day Bid

An invitation has been received from the Women's Athletic Association of Mount Union College to their annual Sports Day to be held on Saturday, March 22. YoCo girls began practices on Monday, February 25, for basketball and volleyball in which they will participate at the Sports Day.

Any women students can become eligible for the Sports Day by participating at least four times in intramural volleyball which begins this week. Volleyball will be in order on Wednesday and Thursday of each week at 4:00 p.m. in the YWCA gym, while basketball will be played on Monday and Tuesday.

All those who are interested in participating in the Sports Day should sign the sign-up sheet which is posted on the Intramural Bulletin Board in the YW gym.

Former YoCo Grid Star May Play Pro Football

Augie Yahn, well known Penguin grid star, who more recently was with the Camp Lejeune Marines, has received his discharge. Future plans for the former line star are yet unknown but the grapevine has him tabbed for a professional football spot. Several squads have been after his services since his discharge.

THE NEUTRAL CORNER

by Snarky Parker

Coach Dr. Joseph Smith will have a rebuilding year with his golfers with Mike Peokop being the only returning letterman. Prospects look good with Jack Blaski, local caddy champ and Mike Magula, Penguin cage stars out to make the squad.

Spring training camps have opened for all the big league baseball clubs and from just viewing pre-season rosters, training camp notes and other incidentals, believe it or not, I think I'm going to pick the Boston Red Sox to win the American League pennant.

I know that folks like Cecil Duffett (Yankee fan); Donna Lee Probst (Cleveland fan); Lou Chiaro (Yankee fan); and Tony Clemente (Yogi Berra and fire plug Phil Rizzuto fans) just won't care for that prediction but with Fran Restelli and Mrs. Wait Drogo (both lovely Red Sox Rooters) on my side, I'm picking the BoSox.

OPEN LETTER TO ? (Letter to the editor write last issue)

Dear ? :

I'm sorry if this column doesn't agree with you but I know that you really didn't mean half the things you mentioned, did you? After all, pal, I can't help it if my name is Parker and that my dad calls me Snarky. You see, fella, I'm not afraid to use my name, but why are you ashamed of yours? You can sign your letters with your name boy... Don't be bashful.

Your pal, (I hope)

Snarky.

OPEN LETTER TO DORIS DAY.

HELLO BEAUTIFUL!!!!!!!

Yours (if you want me)

Snarky.

Well I guess that's enough for this time. Before I go though, I'd like to pass along a little poem to all you NICE people and especially to D.L.P.

THE MOON AND I

The moon was yellow, the lane was bright, As I gazed at her in the pale moonlight.

Her every gesture, every glance, Gave me a hint, that she craved romance.

I stammered, stuttered and time went by The moon was yellow,and so was I.

Youngstown College will attend the N.A.I.B. Regional Playoffs to be held in Delphos, Ohio, next week.

The winner is eligible for the N.A.I.B. Kansas City Tournament starting March 10.

In 1943, Yoco went to the Kansas City meet, but was eliminated in the first round.

Vivo Leaves Yoco, Joins Red Cross

Tony Vivo, former Youngstown College ticket manager, is now serving with the Red Cross in Alexandria, Virginia. Vivo was well known to sports fans in the Youngstown area not only as an athlete but as a leader of children's affairs.

For 22 years Tony has been associated with Christ Mission. Now he is broadening his activities in the recreational field. A popular recreational director at the Mission, and boss of the Knothole Club, Vivo joined the Red Cross as

Newmanites Gain Tie In I-M Bowling Race

By taking two games from the independents this week, the Newman Club moved into a first place tie with the Phi Gams in the hot Intra-Mural bowling league. The Phi Gams knocked the Phi Sigs into second place by defeating the first-half champions in their match.

Vross and Zill paced the Newmanites in their victories over the Independents, which had been tied for first place, and Hurtuk's 530 led the Phi Gams to victory over the Phi Sigs in spite of Herman's 207 game and 544 mark.

In the remaining match, the Kappa Sigs, behind Pagano's two-game score of 369, took two games from the Sigma Sigma team even though Webster had 459 and Petrucci 455 for the losers. Zucker's 511 featured the ROTC's practice set.

In addition, several records were broken this week. Newman Club rolled up a new high in single game scores with 941, and Vross took over the individual lead in the high single game with 234 and a high three games with 593.

Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Opportunities for Collegians Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is a real man-size opportunity! You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly-expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. However, seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can insure their future and serve their country best by applying for Aviation Cadet Training today. You receive the finest training and experience when you fly with the U. S. Air Force—experience that pays off in later years.

WHO MAY APPLY

AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and enlist for two years only!

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting May 27, July 19, August 19 and October 5, 1952.

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate and win your wings! Commissioned as a second lieutenant, you begin earning $5,000 a year. In addition, you receive $250 uniform allowance and a 30-day leave with pay.

WHERE To-Get More Details

Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

Assistant Field Director. He is on leave of absence from Christ Mission and his job here at the College.

Just how long he'll be in the Red Cross hasn't been determined. Because of his background in recreational work the usual training period has been shortened.

A former East Sider, Tony is a product of the Mission, having attended it since he was five years old. As a football and basketball star at East High, Vivo was captain of the Blue and Gold Cagers as they won their first city cage crown in 1935. Later he piloted the Youngstown College Basketeers.

Miss Haddow Attends Boston Conference

Miss Mary Haddow, member of the education faculty of Youngstown College, attended the annual conference of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development meeting recently in Boston, Mass.

Miss Haddow is a member of the national board of the association. The Convention theme was "Growing Up in An Anxious Age," and Miss Haddow participated in the discussion group on extended school services for children and youth.

On Feb. 15 Miss Haddow went to Bronxville, N. Y., to attend the meeting of the Association for Children Education International, and spoke on the topic "Moral and Spiritual Values in Our Schools."
