

Neon Dedicated To New Library

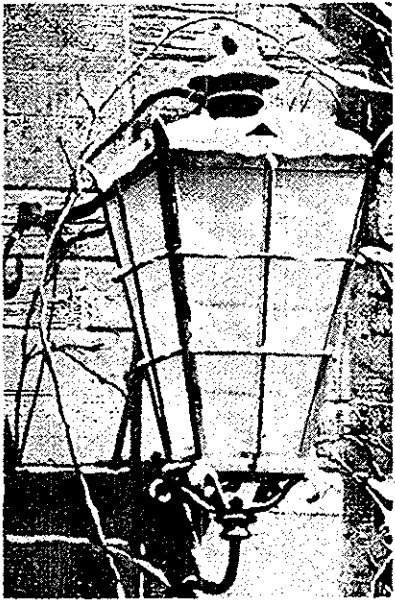

by Sandra Suttles

The 1952 Neon contains 240 pages chronicling the events and highlights of the year. The theme of the book, which is dedicated to the new college library, is the lamp of knowledge vividly portrayed in chronological order through the four seasons.

Articles about the college organizations, their accomplishments, members, and officers, are written in a clear and interesting style.

Has Beauty

The Neon will not lack beauty for on its pages will be found the lovely faces of the girls who have reigned as queens of the year's social events.

The lamp that is being used to signify the theme of this year's Neon. It is at the entrance of the main building.

Special features and events such as athletic contests, a student directory, and a section of cartoons provide a variety which should prove of interest to all.

The book includes 132 pages printed in color, plus pictures of outstanding events, seniors, and the fraternity and sorority groups.

Law School Adds Faculty Member

Frank J. Battisti, local attorney, who was appointed to the faculty of the School of Law of Youngstown College, began teaching with the opening of the Spring Quarter on Mar. 24. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the college, has announced.

Attorney Battisti is a graduate of Ohio University where he received the bachelor of arts degree, and has the bachelor of laws degree from Harvard University Law School. He is a veteran of World War II and is at present a lieutenant in the Military Intelligence Reserve Corps. Following his admission to the Ohio Bar in 1950 he was appointed assistant Attorney General of the State of Ohio.

In January of 1951 he was appointed attorney-adviser, Office of the Chief of Engineers, Department of the Army, Washington, handling legal problems in connection with government construction.

For the past year Attorney Battisti's work has been in connection with Military Defense Eases in the European, African, East Asian, and Far Northern Theaters of operation. He has recently associated with the law firm of Attorney Henry P. Kosling, 608 Central Tower.

JAMBAR STAFF MEETING ON TUESDAY AT 11:00 A.M.

Drama Guild's One-Act Plays Here Tonight

The Drama Guild will present three one-act plays tonight and Saturday night at the Strouss Memorial Auditorium. Admission is twenty-five cents and curtain time is 8:30 P.M. The plays will be directed by students.

"The Flattering Word" by George Kelley will be directed by Andy Vargo. Andy is a senior and also president of the Drama Guild. The play is a comedy in which an actor comes to visit his old flame who is now the wife of a minister. Complications arise and the fun starts. The cast will include Doug Collins, Mrs. Andy Vargo, Josephine Grohovsky, Peggy Tarney and Jim Kish.

"Balcony Scene" by Professor Donald Elser will also be presented. "Balcony Scene" is a fantasy in which a man attends his own funeral and finds out what his friends really think of him.

Student Directs

Ed Cunningham, sophomore speech major will be the student director. Gerry Goldman, Sam Drake, Jane Bailey, Shirley Blake, Eleanor Angelo, Bill Bush and Elaine Bott will be in the cast.

The third play to be presented will be "The Idol And His Girl" written by Ferenc Molnar and directed by Jim Schaeffer. Molnar's play tells the story of an extremely jealous actor who is a complete "ham". The cast will include Marilyn Amey, Jerry Rudolph, and Eleanor Angelo.

Club Will Discuss Puerto Rican Issue

The Puerto Rican question in Youngstown will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the Make Democracy Work Club, Sunday, April 6, at 2:00 p.m. in Follack Hall. The club members believe that specific measures must be taken if there is to be more than lip-service to the idea of equal rights to all racial and religious groups.

A letter embodying the club's views will be sent to Youngstown City Council. It is being prepared by Frank O'Connor and Jim Cook, and will be presented at the club's Sunday meeting for approval by the members.

Also on the agenda is the consideration of specific plans for a direct presidential primary. A committee, consisting of Charles Darling, Harry DaSilva and Ed Crook, will make a report on the subject.

Nazi Victim Addresses Foreign Relations Club

The second meeting of the International Relations Club will be held on Thursday, April 3, at 2:00 p.m. in room 206 of the main building. The speaker will be Mrs. E. Weltman, wife of a local physician.

Mrs. Weltman and her husband left Germany shortly before World (Continued on Page 8)

Annual Jester's Ball Coming; Has "Mesh-Mask" Contest

Is This The End of The World?

by Nancy Crofford

April 5 will mark the 4th annual Jester's Ball which will be held at the Elms Ballroom. Shy Lockson and his orchestra will provide dance music from 9 to 1.

This affair is under the co-sponsorship of Alpha Pi Epsilon service sorority and Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity. Though formerly sponsored by the fraternity alone, this year the proceeds will be divided between the two organizations to be used for service projects throughout the year.

The feature attraction of this event will be the "Mesh-Mask" contest. Quite a mouth full isn't it? This idea originated in Life Magazine and should be a lot of fun. The only requirement is to have a picture taken with a ladies' stocking over your head. It really does wonders. Anyone wanting to enter, need only contact a member of either (Continued on Page 8)

No, calm your fears. The above is merely a picture of Yoco students giving an example of what entering the "Mesh-Mask" contest can do for you. Anyone having information leading to the arrest of the above pair should notify the JAMBAR office at once.

Marine Lieutenant Coming; Seeking 'Ideal Officers'

First Lieutenant George S. Belli of the Marines will visit Youngstown College campus on 4 April to launch a drive toward enrollment of "ideal junior officer" material. "The ideal Marine Corps junior officer," said Lt. Belli, "is 23 years old, has had combat experience, is five-feet 10 inches high, is a college graduate or an enlisted man of four years service who can pass the college equivalent test, and has the required leadership qualities."

"Not all Marine officers necessarily fit this category," Lt. Belli pointed out. "That is the type of man the Marine Corps would select as its ideal. It's really a composite of all the things we look for in enrolling college men in our officer training program."

"Junior officers don't come that way full-blown. We take the best raw material available and mold it in a time-tested pattern," said Lt. Belli.

Now Includes Students

Since 1934 the Marine Corps has conducted an officer candidate program for college undergraduates known as the Platoon Leaders Class. Beginning last year an allied program was instituted for college seniors and graduates.

The Platoon Leaders Class is open to particularly qualified male students pursuing a course of instruction other than one leading to a medical, dental or theological degree, who will be less than twenty-five years of age on 1 July of the calendar year in which they graduate from college.

Qualified students who desire to enroll in this program are enlisted in the volunteer U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and remain on inactive duty throughout their college careers except during the summer vacation periods, are not required to enroll in any specific academic courses while in college, and under no circumstance does this program require that they take military training during the scholastic year.

Payed For Summer

During the six-week summer training periods, the students receive pay at the rate of approximately $95.00 per month for the first and about $117.00 per month for the second summer period. In addition they are quartered, subsisted, clothed, provided medical care, and furnished transportation from their homes (Continued on Page 6)

Newman Retreat Is Next Sunday

Reverend John J. Dollbaum, Missionary of the Sacred Heart, will conduct the annual Day of Recollection for all the Catholic students of the college Sunday, March 30, at Ursuline High School.

The schedule for the one-day retreat will consist of spiritual exercises and meditation periods. A high mass, sung by the Newman Club choir, under the direction of Cammen Renaldi, will begin the day's activities at 9 a.m. and they will close with a Holy Hour at 3 p.m.

Confessions will be heard before mass for those who wish to go. Breakfast and dinner will be served in the Ursuline cafeteria. The remainder of the time will be used by Father Dollbaum for conferences, prayers, and private consultations. Price of the retreat will be $1.50.

Chairman Ed Rhodes announces that he has tickets for the Passion play to be presented by the Patriotic Players of Hubbard at the Hubbard High School on the evening of March 30.

Accounting Clinic Has Noted Local Experts

Alpha Tau Gamma, honorary accounting fraternity, has announced that it will have several prominent men in the accounting field as panel members for the coming Accounting Clinic to be held at Calvin Center on April 23.

They include: C. F. Reimer, Doctor of Account, C. P. A., and faculty member of the Graduate School of Western Reserve University. C. F. Kincaid, Controller and Treasurer of Mathews Conveyor Co. of Elwood City, Pa.; member of the local Chapter of the N.A.C.A. and also The Controllers Institute of America. The Spirit That Haunts Us

Every time another project flops because of lack of support, we are bombarded with requests from the faithful to do something about it editorially. The people who do this asking mean well. Worse than that, they do well - they do most of the work on the campus. But it always seems that there are too few of them to make any given drive or campaign go over with any kind of noise, much less a bang.

However, we do not believe that it is possible to do anything about this situation by writing scorching editorials. For that matter, not by any other type either. Any increase in that slippery thing often referred to as school spirit will have to come from the mass of students themselves, and this will not happen until enough students feel themselves to be a part of a real student body, and not members of various and sundry small groups.

Of course, it would help if the College would promote wider campus activities that the students would want to take part in. On the other hand, this may be impossible in a school with so many commuters. It might be worth a try, however, since it seems that students of any kind will be hard to get for quite awhile, and since it is a cold hard fact that many people of college age look first at the activities and then at the school.

What Price Good Management?

The recent New Hampshire primary voting produced some interesting results - which both sides neglected to mention. The Eisenhower backers, for instance, failed to mention that their candidate was not the terrific vote-getter that they had asserted he was. They wisely kept their estimates of his victory so small that, had they been right - had Ike only won by a paltry 2500 votes - they would have been forced to concede that he was a washout. As it turned out, they were able to claim a great victory, four times larger than they had expected, neglecting to add that it was much less than was needed to prove that the General is any overwhelming favorite. Chalk one up for Lodge and Co.

On the other side, it is beginning to look like the Taft forces are not the smooth-working politicians they have been called. It is still debatable whether or not Taft should have entered the New Hampshire race at all. The outcome indicates that he made a mistake. But the way he made it is what really hurt him.

Taft announced that he would campaign on the understanding that he would not be expected to do too well in what was generally conceded to be an Eisenhower stronghold. He should have stuck to this pose, so that he could have claimed a moral victory with a small number of votes. As it was, he is now credited with a stinging defeat in spite of the fact that he received a truly remarkable number of popular votes.

It would seem that Taft has let charges of his unpopularity go to his head, and he is determined to prove that he is not only popular, but the most popular. This is, of course, ridiculous. Taft is not the type of man to be a "Popularity Boy". His only chance is to convince the American people that he is the best man for the job, regardless of his popularity.

Thus Taft let it be known that he would be disappointed if he didn't do extremely well in New Hampshire. Most people got the impression, therefore, that he expected to, and even had to, win. And that is how Taft himself changed a good showing into defeat.

On the Democratic side, it seems plain that President Truman got a real black eye from the New Hampshire voters. Since it is likely that much of Kefauver's vote was anti-Harry and not pro-Estes, it is even harder for Truman to take. One thing, however, that may well have seriously hurt both Truman and Taft was the conduct of labor leaders in the pre-election campaigning. They urged union men to vote "against Taft", and many may have switched to the Republican ballot just for the primary in order to hurt Taft. This would account for the extra-heavy Republican vote as well as Truman's not getting his expected support from labor.

All in all, it would seem that the most important result of this New England election was to show the regular Republicans that it will take more than Taft to stop the "Me-too" Ike-men from gaining control of the G.O.P. MacArthur's 4000 write-in votes must have suggested the idea that he may be the only man that can do the job. For this reason, we would not be surprised to see the deposed general's presidential stock rise rapidly.

Question: What is your favorite recreation or hobby?

Shirley Fish

Summer is the season I look forward to, because swimming is my favorite interest. It is a sport that is really enjoyable and is always lots of fun. It is very relaxing, and helps a great deal in keeping a person trim. The tan acquired during the summer is something I look forward to during the winter.

Al Boggio

My favorite recreation is playing baseball. In fact, it is the only recreation I have had for the past five summers, and it takes a good part of the summer. YoCo should never have dropped the sport. The city of Youngstown is the home of amateur baseball and a lot of its boys are playing professionally, yet the College discontinued the sport instead of emphasizing it.

Charlotte Kupensky

Everyone is fond of some form of recreation, either a hobby or a special interest. Basketball - heads my list because it can be full of excitement up to the very last minute of play. I certainly enjoyed the games YoCo participated in this year and I would like to congratulate them on their victorious season.

LeRoy Whittaker

My hobbies? Fishing and hunting. And they are so much a hobby that they are known as the obsessions - Fishitus Huntosis. My special interest is raising animals, and my present project is angora rabbits and angora cats. They are easily raised and make gentle pets. The hair of the rabbits is very valuable for commercial purposes, selling as high as forty dollars a pound.

Dorothy Vross

My hobby is photography. I like to take pictures because they will later remind me of my good times and past acquaintances of my college days. Most of my snapshots are not posed. The reason for this is that posed pictures, when taken by an amateur, have a very artificial look and don't truly represent people as they are.

Stan Wyosky

My main interest is in roller skating, because of the fine companionship, good music, and the relaxing atmosphere. My favorite spot for skating is the Boardman Roller-cade. I have always enjoyed skating, and think if more people tried it they also would like it.

Letters To The Editor

GET IT STRAIGHT

How about that European tour for $100 that you had in your last issue? What is the hitch and, if it is true, who can I get in touch with?

D.M.

(Ed. note - the hitch is that you have to get to Europe on your own before you can take advantage of the offer.)

What's the idea of that fake European tour business? That was very misleading, and should have been explained. It didn't tell you how you were to get to Europe to take the tour. There is nothing cheap or especially good about that.

D.S.

NOT AGAIN

Well, I see that you managed to get more politics in that last issue, and about Al Smith yet. Why don't you come off that stuff? It wouldn't be so bad if you knew what you were talking about, but anyone who is for Taft over Eisenhower is crazy.

IKE'S BOY

LEVEL RECEEDING?

The more I read this column, the more I am convinced that any intelligence in college students is purely coincidental. About the only letters that you can get are either about Johnny Ray or Snarky Parker, and one is about as bad as the other. Since you seem willing to print almost anything, it is too bad that someone doesn't write something that is worth reading.

DISGUSTED

PURELY TRASH

Where did you get that baloney about Ireland that you put in the last issue? They can afford to be big hearted, since they haven't been in a war since anyone can remember, and wouldn't be able to do anything about it if Russia attacked western Europe. The only reason that the Irish don't take any of our money is that we haven't offered them any.

P.D.

PLAY YOUR CARDS RIGHT

It is about time that somebody said something about card-playing in the cafeteria at lunch time. Those who are guilty of it show no home training whatsoever. They are thinking about no one but themselves. Now that you have mentioned it, why not do something about it?

D.W.

THE TIME IS NOW

Who is the wise guy who gives you the ideas you put in those so-called editorials of yours? Conservatism is supposed to be for old men, not college students. Who do you expect to be for when you get old, Truman?

P.J.

YANKIE DO IT

In the last issue of the JAMBAR I read where Snarky Parker confidently appointed the Boston Red Sox to win the American League Pennant - just like that! Well brother, I have news for you!

Did you happen to forget the Yankees? Since the Bosox will probably lose Big Ted Williams to the Marines, I wouldn't even consider them a team. And as for that big Serb, Walt Dropo, he doesn't know a baseball from an egg. Can't he take a hint?

I'm a Yankee fan all the way and I'm proud of it. They did it last year and they'll do it again this year. You must have been kidding when you picked the Red Sox, but you sure made this Snarky Parker fan mad!

A YANKIE

CUT NO GOOD

Why doesn't this paper do something about all the cuts in student activities that have occurred recently? In that way you could be of real service to your fellow-students. If this stuff keeps up no one will want to come to this school. I suppose you will be afraid to print this, and I don't blame you - I won't sign my name.

UNSIGNED

(Ed. note - We published it in order to find out just what you mean. We would appreciate another letter with more details. You are not obliged to sign your name, just as we do not have to print it.)

HAS TO DO IT

I hate to have to remind you of this again, but when it comes to politics, you are all wet. Why not give up? Or don't you know yet that MacArthur is a worthless bum?

M.G.

SORRY - We could not print all the letters in this issue. They will be printed, however, as soon as possible.

Story Starts Travel Fever

Did you read the article in the last issue of the JAMBAR entitled "Students Get European Tour for Only $100"? If you didn't, you must belong to a small minority, since this paper has been deluged with requests for more information, not only about the particular tour mentioned, but about European travel in general.

Bell Elected OSPE Officer

John N. Bell, Youngstown College Junior, was installed Saturday as secretary-treasurer of the State Student Council of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers at the annual convention of the professional group held in Cleveland this weekend.

John Bell

The convention of the Ohio Society met Mar. 13, 14, and 15, for the installation of state and council officers.

Bell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bell, 917 Brentwood Ave. He is a mechanical engineering student in the William Raven School of Engineering. He is a member of the recently organized Youngstown College Student Chapter of O.S.P.E. of which Charles A. Akins is president.

The plan offered what it called a "low-priced quality non-escorted tour to Europe within a college student's budget". This was to feature "ten days in Europe for $100".

Many readers immediately caught the actual meaning, that the $100 covered the tour of Europe only, and did not include any provisions for getting the student across the ocean and back again.

However, because of the interest shown by our readers in the subject, the JAMBAR will attempt to gather information on what is available in the way of low-priced student tours to Europe for the coming summer. Watch for it in the next issue.

Students, Teachers Attend Convention

Three Youngstown College faculty members and seven students attended the meeting of the Midwest Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation meeting Mar. 17-19 at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Mary B. Smith, head of the physical education department, Miss Bertina A. Laborde and Miss Babette Marks of the physical education department faculty, and the following students from the class in Organization and Administration of Health and Physical Education: Evelyn Booth, Peggy Crisnal, Nancy Kelly, Patt Lowry, Lillian Salem, Frances Sampson, and Gertrude Sandusky.

Claims Time Lost By 4-Year Program

Princeton, N.J. - (I.P.) - "We are needlessly losing valuable years in the productive lives of our brightest students," Henry Chauncey, president of the Educational Testing Service, declares in his annual report. He proposed that modern tests be used to help identify students capable of progressing through school at a faster than-average pace.

He strongly advocated educational acceleration for superior students as a means of reducing the manpower shortage.

Make Savings

"If it is possible," he said, "to place as many as one-third of the engineers who will be graduated during the next five years into active productive status one year earlier, there will be some 30,000 extra engineer man-years at the disposal of the nation."

Comparable savings in manpower, he said, can be made in chemistry, physics, medicine, and other specialties in critically short supply. Present "lockstep" educational procedures delay the development of critical skills sorely needed in this period of national emergency, he stressed.

Denver Has New Doctorate

Trustees of the University of Denver have adopted a new honorary degree to be conferred upon persons of outstanding achievement "in service to the public and to mankind." The degree will be that of "Doctor of Public Service".

Attends Dance Meeting

Miss Babette Marks, member of the physical education faculty of Youngstown College, represented the college at the Oberlin College dance symposium held recently.

Critic Praises Yoco Art Show; Daily Wins $50 S-C Award

Joseph Dailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Dailey, of 1215 Woodland Ave., Warren, won first mention in oils, thereby winning the $50 Purchase Award offered by Student Council, in the 16th annual Youngstown College Spring Exhibition showing at the Butler Art Institute throughout this month.

Winners of awards were selected by Prof. Robert Iglehart, chairman of the department of art education at New York University, and judge of the show. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown College, presented the awards Friday night following a public talk by Prof. Iglehart at the Institute.

A well known authority on contemporary art, Prof. Iglehart said in commenting on the student show, "I found the student work fresh and exciting, and I hope that Youngstown is as proud of these young people and of the department which trained them, as it has a right to be. The painting, drawing, and textile sections were especially interesting."

In Same Direction

"These students are working in the same direction as the students of other good college art departments throughout the country, but the best of their work indicates a personal approach which their teachers have effectively encouraged. The paintings selected for award might be shown with credit alongside the work of professional painters of far greater experience."

Prof. Iglehart will be the main speaker at the annual conference of the National Committee on Art Education in the Modern Museum of Modern Art held in New York this month and he will be consultant at the annual conference of the Western Arts Association to be held in Columbus the week of April 7.

The exhibit of The Youngstown Experimentalists, composed of a group of Youngstown College alumni, which occupies the first gallery of the Institute, was studied by Prof.

Art student Joe Dailey and his prize-winning oil painting. Joe was one of three Warren students to win prizes in the exhibit. He received the $50 Purchase Award offered by Student Council.

Iglehart, the exhibition was an invitational showing and was not in competition for awards. Prof. Iglehart said, "The Youngstown Experimentalists seem to me to include a number of very promising young painters, and their association has in no way affected the individuality of their work."

In the current showing I was particularly interested in Robert Leepard's "Bus Ticket" and "Ousia", Robert Elwell's "Vertical Inquiry I", Jon Nabereznys "Rose Window", David P. Skegg's "Aggressive", and Beatrice Fried's "Here Is the Clown".

Given Awards

The list of winners of awards in the various classifications follows:

Oils - First, Joseph Dailey; second, Larry Steiner; third, Bill Hall.

Watercolors - First, Harold Borovetz; second, Alex Kuthy; third, Charles Daugherty.

Design - First, Charles Daugherty; second, Gordon Hockenberry.

Drawing - First, Maurice Coste; second, Charles Daugherty.

Textiles - First, Martha Swanson; second, Bob Stewart.

Jewelry - First, Larry Steiner; second, Barbara Schramm.

Advertising art - First, Alfred Boggia; second, Bill Hall.

Fifty Dollar Purchase Award - Joseph Dailey. (Presented by Youngstown College Student Council in behalf of the students of Youngstown College.)

Occupying the entire South wing of the gallery, the Youngstown College show includes a total of 315 exhibits representing 69 exhibitors. Exhibits include oils, watercolors, drawings, designs, textiles jewelry advertising art, metal structures, wood sculpture, wire sculpture, ceramic sculptures, a woodcut print, and a crayon.

The displays for exhibits were designed and constructed by students Maurice Coste, Joseph Dailey, and Joseph Humenuk under the direction of Prof. Skeggs. Cover design for the programs was produced by Larry Steiner.

Annual Science Conclave At PCW Next Week

Pittsburgh, Pa. Delegates from over 80 colleges and universities will meet at Pennsylvania College for Women this spring for the Sixth Annual Eastern Colleges Science Conference.

During the three day conference, April 3, 4, and 5, tours, lectures, and exhibits will be focused on the theme "Science in An Industrial Era."

The presentation of approximately 50 student papers will highlight the conference.

Exhibit Accepts Fried's Woodcut

Miss Beatrice Fried, local artist and teacher, has had a woodcut print accepted for the 6th National Print Annual Exhibition at the Brooklyn Museum, Brooklyn, N.Y., showing from Mar. 19 to May 18. This show is considered one of the most important print exhibitions in the United States.

Miss Fried, graduate of Youngstown College, and a teacher at Lincoln School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fried, 180 New York Ave. She is a member of the Youngstown Experimentalists, and her woodcut print entry in the Brooklyn exhibit is entitled "Above Affection."

Art For Art's Sake

Vancouver, B.C., (U.P.).

"Melancholia in the Swamp" gave a 17-year-old artist a big laugh recently.

The abstract painting by that name was sent by artist Bob Neales to a Toronto art gallery and an official of the gallery promptly sent him a letter of praise and interest.

Neales confessed today that the painting was only a piece of cardboard on which commercial painters had cleaned their brushes.

Off the Record . . .

by JIM MCGINTY

Have you ever taken stock of what people do, who attend a display of jumping feet, swinging hips and flaying arms? Honey, you haven't lived! Masquerading under the cryptic title of dancing, it puts all thoughts contrary to law, out of order. Being a person, who when under the influence of persuasion commits to "tripping the light fantastic", admits that when looking about -- throwing oneself around a large area of a hardwood floor, seems rather silly.

The object, naturally, is to interpret the music as it affects the inner organs, tissues and muscles -- et al, so that individually or collectively -- ex. two people of different sex; will get the most satisfaction from the melodic and rhythmic sounds which emit from the players horns or skins.

Moral Small

The moral of my little dissertation reveals that 97 people out of 100 don't dance - to the music, with the music or against the music. Ex-you push me around awhile, then I'll push you. Also that some bands (percentage unknown) do not play music in a smooth meter to permit effectual movements of the skeleton to be possible or practical.

So the next time you go to a dance remember these basic rules: If you want to talk, sit down; if you want to shake it, go on a diet; perchance you want to dance, excellent -- but practice your semaphore signals at home. -- This article was brought to you through the courtesy of one (1) smashed toe and one (1) bruised cheek -- resulting from a brief encounter with a two legged weapon of destruction -- alias the dancer.

Income Tax Report

The top money-making band in 1951 was of all people -- Guy Lombardo, who pulled down a neat $50,000 bananas. Trailing not far behind was the famous master of "My Hero", Ralph Flanagan -- he struggled along on a measly $575,000, which he acquired by making $260,000 on 160 one-nighters, $190,000 from radio and TV in addition to his platter sales.

Thirty-two thousand was charged for four weeks of theater dates, and ninety-six thousand for hotel and ballroom engagements. The third man in this theme (notice the subtle pun) was Ray Anthony who took home about $125,000.

But the biggest robber of them all was Johnnie Ray who stole from the public at the rate of 1,500 dollars -- per week for any club date. He should be so lucky: -- Also I found out that the fellow who wrote the words and music to "CRY" lives in Pittsburgh and works for the Werner Dry Cleaning Co., as a night watchman.

Only A Hobby

He writes songs as a hobby and had entered Cry in a contest, but it was rejected the first time the judges heard it. Mr. Ray's manager picked up the tune and then performed a great miracle -- need I say more? -- Advice to a young composer: "If you want to be successful use only tonic and dominant chords. No diminished sevenths!"

The CBS-TV show, Songs For Sale, with Steve Allen as M.C. had a Youngstowner -- Al Gentile, who wrote a polka. It was presented by the five DeMarco Sisters -- not too bad either. The song -- I mean. He didn't win, but will undoubtedly have his Picnic Polka on sheet music and maybe a record or two. The latest rumor -- Jester's Ball Will Top Them All. -- Could be!

New Angle

Ladies and gentlemen, we now present the latest musical group, currently appearing at the Yocodyditis Ballroom. We give you the famous singing sensation, known as the: FOUR MALDIHYDES alias the Penguinaires. This quartet got started in Prof. Beckmans chemistry lab. AFTER CLASS -- naturally. They have sung at various school functions -- namely Yocohooy, plus other private and civil gatherings. How civil they are remains to be seen. (Joke).

Mr. Joe Dannery at 1st bass, Mr. Bill Bunkey sings baritone, Mr. Walt Hogen is the lead tenor and Mr. Bill Pancy, the top tenor. Their repertoire includes such novelties as: Mother, Don't Stab Father With The Bread Knife -- Your liable to dent the blade. Also -- Daddy Get Your Baby Out of Jail. Then too, they sing ballads, as: She May Have Seen Better Days and Love Is Like a Dream. Any time you need a good quartet call on the Four Maldihydes -- close harmony is their forte.

Song Of The Week

T-R-Y- by Stan Freeburg -- as a take-off on Johnnie Ray's Cry, is the wildest piece of material in many-a-day. Even to the quartet singing in the background, it sounds very true to the original. The lyrics are quite crazy and the exactness of getting stuck on the famous Johnnie Ray high notes is still there. Very funny.

Wax in Your Ears

May-I -- Tommy Dorsey -- A fine easy beat and will make a good danceable tune. My Hero -- The Four Aces -- They better stick to pop tunes -- This is pretty sad. Dixie Jump -- Ralph Flanagan -- Flanagan's loosing his head. A few more cuts like this and he'll be back pounding the ivories in some joint. Real commercial mickey, plus a faint 1940 style.

Your Invitation -- Johnny Green -- Nice tenor sax, with flute figures and good rhythm.

A Cloud in My Valley of Sunshine -- Russ Morgan -- A two beat mountain tune -- mit yodels -- too.

A horse walked up to a bar and asked for a martini with catsup "Okay, bud," said the bartender, and mixed it pronto. After tossing down the drink with obvious relish, the horse leaned over the bar and said, "I suppose you think it strange that a horse should come in here and ask for a martini with catsup in it?"

"Heck no," said the bartender. "I like them that way myself."

T-V Tries For Personal Touch

by Jim French

Television has made some remarkable advances in the last several years, so much so that it is generally regarded today as the greatest entertainment and educational medium ever devised.

The entertainment your set provides (or the set next door) offers a large variety of programs; amateur talent, quiz programs, comedy shows, sport events, newsreel films, play productions and some extraordinary musicals. Some of these T-V shows rival the production excellence of the movie theaters and at the same time are much more successful because of their up-to-the minute coverage.

The gigantic success of television, however, seems to be the result of several factors, the most important of which is the individual interest appeal of some productions. A good example of this is the T-V coverage of outstanding sports events.

Most Popular

Some of the most popular programs are: Paul W. Liteman's musical review, the Colgate comedy hour, Fred Waring's show, Red Skelton's comedy program, Arthur Godfrey's talent scouts, Amos 'n Andy, Songs for Sale, The Ken Murray show, The Show of Shows with Imogene Coca and Sid Caesar, and many many others.

Red Skelton's lovable antics (according to the latest polls) has the greatest national popularity.

The biggest objection to television seems to be the all too frequent advertisements that in some instances takes up as much program time as the featured presentation. These national manufacturers undoubtedly need a curtailment of advertising activity. (Hint to the F.C.C.)

Also Educational

Aside from the entertainment value of T-V we can also use it for educational purposes. The pioneers of this field in T-V are the medical schools who are using an unobtrusive television camera over operating tables so that students can see the detailed movements of operations. Undoubtedly this will help immensely in the science of saving and preserving human life.

Magic Loan Fund Has Ready Cash

Iowa City, Ia. - (I.P.)

The magician who pulls a few many rabbits out of his hat is strictly small-time compared to students at the University of Iowa who have borrowed $14,000 out of a $600 loan fund. It sounds impossible, perhaps, but it actually happened, and it has proved to be a sound investment, moneywise and otherwise. Here's how it works:

One of the many student loan funds at the University has turned over its principal more than 21 times since it was established four years ago. From the principal of the Dean's Loan Fund, totalling only about $616, University students have borrowed more than $14,400 in small, interest-free loans. Rapid repayment of loans has made the money available to other students who also need money for short periods of time.

A goof left his friend to telephone. He saw a dial phone for the first time. He looked at it, observed it, looked at it again; then came out.

"I've got to find another phone," he said.

"Why, what's the matter with the phone in there?"

"It's got holes in it."

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Take your hat 'n goat and scr-r-ram!" Sheedy's girl said. "I won't give you a date, but your hair sure gives me a billy-laugh!" But-but-but," he butted. Said she, "Haven't you herd of Wildroot Cream-Oil? For well-groomed hair it can't be beat! Non-alcoholic. Contains Lanolin. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Relieves dryness. Removes loose dandruff." So Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now every gal wants to horn in on his time! Better milk 29¢ out of your roommate and hoof it to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter. Buy Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. And ask for it on your hair next time you go to your favorite barber shop. Then no uther goat will get your nanny!

McKELVEY'S

With the Greeks . . .

by Nancy Crofford

Well, another Pan-Hellenic dance has come and gone, congratulations to Queen Fran Restelli and her court Kitty Trenner, Viive Prees and Marlene Schnauffer. Also thanks to Pete Michaels and Chuck Hanna.

Two more Greeks made news recently, Nancie O'Connor of Gamma Sigma sorority and Fran McHugh of Sigma Delta Beta fraternity were chosen Mr. and Miss Popularity in a contest held by the Phi Gams.

Rushing is just about over, probably to the relief of the rushees, however, kids the fun's just beginning!

Magic Dinner

Back to the subject, the Sig Deltas held their last rush party at the Little Casino. A spaghetti dinner was served and during the course of the evening Jim French lost $5 and the magician lost 50¢.

Virginia Nicholudis was hostess at a "cocktail" party the Gamma Sigs held for their rushees. Their last party was a formal dinner at the Colonial House.

Nu Sigma Rho held a stag rush party at the Cycle Club Wednesday George Cataland was recently made Vice President of the Nu Sigs as their former officer went inactive.

Dance Tomorrow Night

The Alpha Deltas and the Phi Sigs will hold their annual dinner dance tomorrow night at the Mahoning Country Club. The rushees will be guests. Incidentally the tea from the Boston Tea party finally showed up. The Alpha Deltas had it. It cost them $3.50. They are very proud of sister Pat Baluck who appeared on TV last Sunday on Audition Ambition over channel 9 in Cleveland.

Lincoln Park was the scene of the Phi Sig stag breakfast last Sunday.

The Legal Value Of a Smile

We have never tried to place a monetary value upon a smile until a recent newspaper account told of an instance wherein a Court was called upon to decide such an issue.

A boy suffered an accident which burned and paralyzed one side of his face. In Court the boy's lawyer asked the little fellow to turn toward the jury and smile.

He tried and one side of his face smiled but the injured side just puckered up in a pitiful contortion.

The jury took just twelve minutes to award the boy $20,000. This amount was thus certified as the legal value of a smile.

Looking Around...

with Jack De Rose

Have you ever encountered a group arguing over political candidates? Such a scene I beheld recently.

In the first round, ROGER OTTAWAY slugged ED NOGOWSKI with an epithet, and JOYCE STERLING cried "Foul!" Ottaway kept boring in. He threw a quotation to Nogowski's jaw, and Nogowski countered with a discourse. The men went into a clinch, hammering phrases at each other. Waving her arms wildly, Joyce clouted Ottaway with an adjective. There was a flurry of indignation. Sterling kept pounding Ottaway with diatribes. Referee NED MERVOS moved in, pleading with the men to separate. The crowd was going wild, screaming for a knockout.....

In a million homes, television audiences watched bug-eyed. It was a terrific fight, even if the blows were only verbal.

Here's the bell for round two and now your announcer, ED CERIMELE:

"Thank you, Jack, and at the bell, Ottaway leapt from his corner and tore into Nogowski, shouting, "Affaire d'honneur!" Nogowski's knees buckled and Ottaway drove him back against the ropes with a tape recording, in which Nogowski's voice was heard declaring, "On questions of foreign policy, I certainly do not claim to be an expert..."

At this point, referee Mervos moved in to save Nogowski from further punishment, but decided he could still continue.

The crowd set up a roar. It clearly was rooting for Ottaway to drop Nogowski for the count. In Nogowski's corner they were ready to throw in an infinitive, but, meteorically mustering up all his waning strength, Nogowski exploded with atomic violence, a powerhouse vituperation which caromed off Ottaway's jaw and struck his own physiognomy. Both men were carried off. Such is the lot of all argumenters.

In reference to the above, ED REILLY, a great philosopher, once said: "Lever argue--- You'll lose if you're wrong, and if you're right you don't have to." End of quote....

to training camp and return.

After successfully completing the summer training, and after graduation from college, members of the program are commissioned as second lieutenants in the U.S. Marine Corps or in the Marine Corp. Reserve, dependent upon the desires and qualifications of the individual concerned and upon the exigencies of the service.

The Officers Candidate Course is designed for seniors and graduates, the qualifications are basically the same as for the Platoon Leaders Class with a few exceptions, specifically the visual acuity required is 20/30 rather than 20/20 and the age limit is 27 years on 1 July in the year of commissioning.

After graduating from college the applicant is trained at Quantico,

Virginia for ten weeks, then he is commissioned as second lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve. From there on his training consists of attending the Basic Officers Training Course for a period of five months at Quantico.

For Women Also

In 1949 the Marine Corps initiated a sister program to the Platoon Leaders Class. This program is designed to provide officers for the Women's branch of the Marine Corps, and is conducted under requirements similar to those of the Platoon Leaders Class.

There is, of course, a limited need for women officers in the Marine Corps, hence the quota is small. Lieutenant Belli will be prepared to answer all questions regarding this program for Youngstown College coeds.

Lemme See Now, Your Name Is--

One American in eighty-eight is now named SMITH which continues to outnumber all other surnames in this country. It is estimated, however, that only a little more than half of these people trace their ancestry to the British Isles. The rest include the German Schmidts, the Scandinavian Smeds as well as those of many other nationalities for whom Smith is a more or less literal translation of various ancestral names in practically all known languages.

The only other surname besides Smith to be borne by over a million Americans is JOHNSON. This, of course, includes many Scandinavian Johannsons and Dutch and German Jansens. In Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul there are more Johnsons than Smiths.

Following Smith and Johnson the most predominant surnames follow in this order: Brown, Williams, Jones, Miller, Davis, Anderson, Wilson and Moore.

In New York City Smith is followed by Cohen, Miller, Brown and Schwartz; in Boston by Sullivan, Brown, Johnson and Murphy, in that that order.

European Schools Expect Record American Visits

The leading universities of Europe are now completing arrangements to receive this summer the greatest number of foreign students since World War II. Students from the USA will join with students from the Near and Middle East, Western Europe and Scandinavia in discussion of present day problems in a wide number of fields.

For the first time, several important universities and academic institutions such as the Institute of Political Science in Paris are setting up International Summer Courses and Seminars with lectures and discussions conducted entirely in English.

A Scotch traveler was looking for a reasonable place to put up for the night. After hunting high and low for hours he came to an Inn. Outside was a large sign which read: For only Fifty Cents--Room and Bath, 10-Course Meal, Music, Dancing, and a bottle of liquor.

He kept looking at the sign and looking at it.
"What's wrong?" asked the proprietor.
"Don't say whether it's a pint or quart."

Prison Inmate Finds New Life

(This article is reprinted from the Washington State Prison OUTLOOK. It is a contest entry from a Mexican inmate who prefers anonymity.)

Since I arrived at this institution I have learned many things. I was afraid when I arrived, think they will hit me with clubs, shoot me, put me in cell, give me to eat just bread and water.

Nothing can be farther from the truth. The officers talk nice, not treat you rough. I go to school, learn to read and write. I get sign to lawn crew in fresh air, meet a well bunch fellow inmates. Sometimes fellow I meet in county jail gives me extra dipper mush in mess hall, he works on steam table, is nice people.

Mr. Hardisty talk nice to me, promise he is going to help me. Tell me to take it easy. I take a shower, each night with soap, got clean socks every day if I want it, clean clothes every week. When I got sick I caught bad cold. They send me to hospital, put me in nice clean bed, take my temperature twice daily.

My godfather came to visit me with my little boy. He said his papa looking fine. I feel that way since rest up, eat good every day. I can read good now, write good grammar, not like ignorant people. When I go to yard I play on guitar and sing old country songs of Mexico like when I am young man. What more can you expect?

All this is blessing to me and I say prayers to Virgin Mary each night for God bless Mr. Cranor, Mr. Hardisty, Mr. Hazelbaker and all the bulls so nice to me. Soon I go on to the Board, find out how long can I stay. Thank you.

A mother hearing the family cat crying in the back yard looked out the window and saw her small son shaking the cat by the tail. Telling the boy to stop, the boy answered that last night he heard his Dad, while playing cards, say there was three dollars in the kitty and he was trying to shake it out.

Yoco's Goldston Signs With Football Eagles

Yoco's fleet-footed halfback, Ralph Goldston, has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Professional Football League. Goldston is currently enrolled at Youngstown College, and is a senior Education major. He expects to graduate in June.

He will go to the Eagles Training camp late in July or early August, to try out for the squad. If he does not play ball this fall, he will try for a teaching job.

Goldston was well pleased with the contract. "It's a good chance, and I hope I make it" he said. Then he added, "but I would like to teach, maybe I could play in the fall and teach the rest of the year."

Top Gainer

Goldston was one of the nation's top small-college stars in the last two years and shone as a sprinter on the track teams. The 23-year-old back, who stands five-eleven, led Youngstown to an upset 10-6 victory over previously unbeaten John Carroll last year. He threw the winning touchdown pass.

Goldston threw three other touchdown passes last season, and picked up 500 yards on 83 carries in

Ralph Goldston seven games, completing 13 passes for 162 yards and scoring three times.

A Youngstown resident, he is married and has a three-year-old son.

Marietta Calls Magula Toughest Opponent

Mike Magula of Youngstown was picked for the second straight year as a member of the Marietta College all-opponent basketball team selected here today by vote of the Marietta players.

Glenn Hursey of Ohio University, All-Ohio and All Mid-American candidate this year, along with high scoring Bob Bernihr of Capital, flashy Percy Grenfell of Kent State, and Sam Jankovich of Youngstown round out the first team selections.

Youngstown dominated the all-opponent selections by placing two Penguins on the first five. The Marietta Pioneers also picked Youngstown as the most outstanding opponent of the year, and Magula as the most outstanding individual of the season.

Against Marietta, Magula chalked up 33 points, Bernihr 21, Jankovich 21, and Grenfell 15, all in single contests. Hursey got six in the first and then 23 in the second tilt. All turned in sparkling floor games to lead their respective teams against Marietta.

The Odds Are

Golfing experts in general put the odds for a hole-in-one at 27,000 to one. The late Jack Doyle, the famous Broadway odds-maker, always held that the odds for an ace in golf should be 20,000-to-one.

Newman, Phi Gams Tie for I-M Lead

The Phi Gams will meet the Newman Club this Sunday at the Champion Bowling Alleys to decide who will lead the red-hot I-M Bowling race. The upswinging Phi Gams moved into a first-place tie last week by defeating the Sig Sigs 3-0, while the Newmanites were inactive.

Crytzer's 202 and 519 set paced the Victors while Martinko's 432 set was high for the Sig Sigs. In other league action, the Independents, behind Steele's 459 set, swept the set from the Kappa Sigs. Coughlin had a 437 set for Kappa. The Phi Sigs won by the forfeit route over the ROTC team. Snyder had a 484 set.

was back in front again with 170, but Zill was hanging on to a close second with 168.5. Yurcho, 167, Curtis, 166, and Herman, 165, round out the first five men.

With the season drawing to a close, the game Sunday between Newman and the Phi Gams is likely to determine the second-half winner. Below are the present standings.

THE NEUTRAL CORNER

By Snarky Parker

Due to the many "Letter-To-The-Editor" comments on this column, I decided to get the opinions of different students on the subject "WHO IS THE BEST BALL PLAYER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE???"

Walking down the hall in the main building, I jotted down a few words from four different male students.

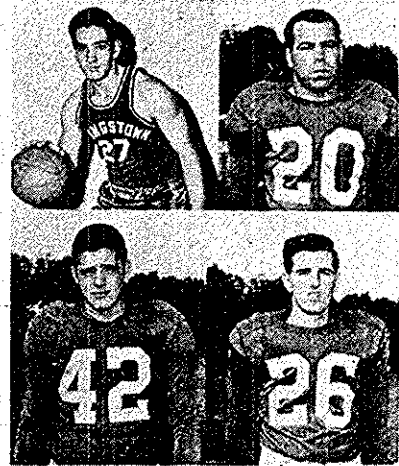

Here is what they say:

SAM JANKOVICH

Who else can hit a ball like WALT DROPO in the American League? He is strictly too tough for that competition. Why, if they had a league higher than the American and National, DROPO would be in it. He's colossal.

LOU CHIARO

From what I hear from very reliable sources, if WALT DROPO lives up to his potentialities, he'll become one of the greatest hitters in Major League history. Believe me, I hear that DROPO's potentialities are very good.

GEORGE DOKMANOVICH

Being a National League fan, I don't know very much about the Junior circuit. Last year though I got a chance to see the Boston Red Sox play and believe me, that boy WALT DROPO IS something short of terrific.

BOB LYNN

I can't see how anyone can compare another ball player in the American League with WALT DROPO. In my opinion the "Big Serb" is sensational. Don't let anyone fool you, DROPO is really good.

College Men!
CHOOSE A CAREER
in the U.S. Air Force

Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Opportunities for Collegians Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is a real man-size opportunity! You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly-expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. However, seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can insure their future and serve their country best by applying for Aviation Cadet Training today. You receive the finest training and experience when you fly with the U. S. Air Force—experience that pays off in later years.

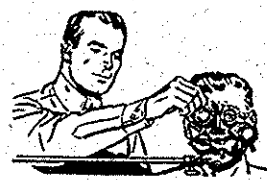

WHO MAY APPLY

AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and enlist for two years only!

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting May 27, July 19, August 19 and October 2, 1952.

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate and win your wings! Commissioned as a second lieutenant, you begin earning $5,000 a year. In addition, you receive $250 uniform allowance and a 30-day leave with pay.

WHERE To Get More Details

Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

Now how can you "Letter-To-The-Editor" writers doubt the word of four so intelligent looking men. I think that should settle the "rhubarb."

Assisted to Honors

On March 21, 1807, Zebulon Pike, after whom Pike's Peak is named, became the first American to enter El Paso, at that time a Spanish post in the present state of Texas.

However, he did not gain the honor without assistance. He was brought to El Paso as a prisoner of the Spaniards, having been arrested for exploring in their territory.

Your Future?

Are you wondering how best to use your college education?

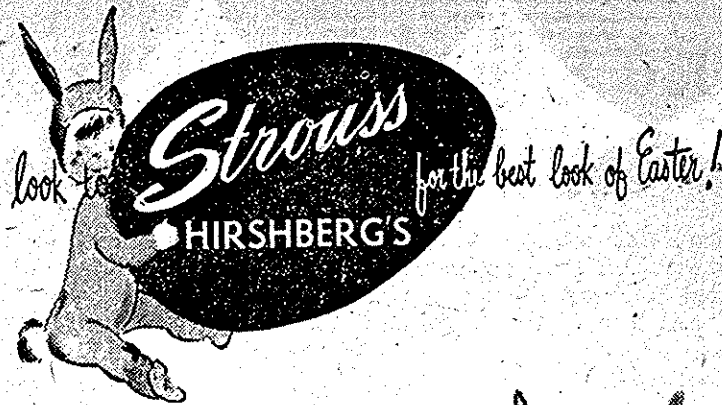

Would you like to enter a profession which acutely needs young persons of college caliber and high ideals?

Have you considered the field of mortuary practice?
