

HOMECOMING DANCE SAT. AT STAMBAUGH

Proclaimed Royalty by Popular Vote

Making their appearance as King and Queen for the 12th annual Youngstown College Homecoming celebration are Joan Pokabla and Lou Lehner. Chosen by popular vote of the students, the pair will be crowned at the half-time ceremonies tomorrow of the Youngstown-Marshall game. They will also reign at the traditional Homecoming dance.

Pokabla, Lehner Reign For Gala Celebration

By Tom Dohar

Bow thee low, knave! For thou art in the presence of royalty. Whom, do you ask? Why Joan Pokabla and Lou Lehner, who take their place among the ranks as Queen and King of the Homecoming. In case you seldom see Joan, you can always find her loaf — er — working in the library between classes. A life-long resident of our fair city, Joan attended Wilson High. She is a sophomore in the field of elementary education. An Independent, she also belongs to Newman Club and Alpha Pi Epsilon Sorority, and is an honorary member of Nu Sigma Rho Fraternity (? . . . how did that get in here!).

An avid swimmer, she can often be seen, during the summer that is, at Shady Run Pool, showing great form. Dancing is a favorite activity of hers, whether it be on ice or roller skates, or even on foot.

Plays Piano

One of her pet subjects is music, evidenced by the fact that Joan can readily curl the strings of a piano with her playing.

When asked if she had any dislikes, she immediately replied no, but stated that she might cultivate a few later on when she begins teaching.

Our other royal member is well known around the campus not only by the fellows, but also by the girls. (Gads, what charm!) I wonder if his being on the football team has anything to do with it?

Tennis Anyone?

Lou, who hails from Pittsburgh, Pa., is a junior in the field of Advertising. Besides being a star in football, he also enjoys baseball and basketball. Ward has it that he plays a mean game of tennis (informers' name supplied upon request).

A member of Sigma Delta Beta Fraternity, Lou also belongs to Newman Club.

Like most of us, Lou likes good food, his choice being thick, juicy steaks. Man, what an appetite! The only thing he dislikes is getting up in the morning.

After the election, his only statement was, and quote, "I was framed!"

TYPISTS NEEDED

Anyone who has spare time and is a fairly good typist will be welcome. Please apply at the JAMBAR office.

YoCo Produces Opera This Year

After a lapse of two years, Youngstown College is returning to the production of opera. Participation in this production is open to all students of the College regardless of whether they are members of the Music School or not.

There are vacancies in the chorus for altos and basses particularly. The production will be in charge of the committee consisting of Mr. Kitchen, Miss Guarnieri, and Dr. Stearns.

Anyone wishing to join the chorus meeting on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 1:00 should see Mr. Stearns in his office in Central Hall. Production is scheduled for the end of February.

Lash Commands YoCo ROTC Unit

By Jeanne Shutrump

Lt. Col. Eugene Lash, by now a familiar figure on campus as the newly appointed head of the college's R. O. T. C. unit, is a softspoken, congenial person whom any student can approach with ease and confidence.

With nearly twenty years of varied Military Service behind him, Colonel Lash is well equipped to advise and guide the students enrolled in this military program. Although his position here is the first of its kind in his career, he considers it a unique and interesting experience to be able to observe, through the college years, the development of future leaders.

The highlights of Col. Lash's military career included his service with the 535 Anti-aircraft automatic Weapons Battalion, participating in the Normandy, Rhineland, Ardennes and Central European campaigns.

Subsequently, he was stationed for 34 months in Japan serving as supply officer of the 40th Anti-aircraft Artillery Brigade and as a member of the staff of General Headquarters of the Far East Command in Tokyo.

Was in Far East

In his last assignment he was in the logistic plans branch of G-4 section, and was engaged in developing the plans for logistic support of the U. S. Forces in the Far East after the peace treaty with Japan went into effect.

The Colonel, being rather modest and a bit reluctant to speak of his accomplishments, was awarded the Legion of Merit for services in support of the U. N. operations in Korea. During World War II, he was awarded the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Lt. Col. Eugene Lash

When asked whether he had any plans for future changes or improvements in our R. O. T. C. unit, the Colonel said that he and his staff hope to introduce a plan whereby the cadets may become more active in the administration of the Cadet Corps.

Rally, Dance Set For Friday Night

Highlighting the festivities for the 12th annual Homecoming will be a gala two-day celebration which will begin at noon today and end with the traditional Homecoming Dance Saturday evening.

Today's activities will start with the introduction of the cheerleaders, band and majorettes at the Freshman Rally in the Strouss Auditorium. The next event which will feature the king, queen and her attendants, floats, ROTC units, band and majorettes, is the parade that will form on Park Ave., between Elm St. and Fifth Ave. at 4 p.m. It will disband at the Butler Art Gallery for judging of the floats, the winning one to be announced at the rally.

This year's winning team, Joan Pokabla and Lou Lehner, will be on hand along with Marilyn Dunn, last year's queen, and Mark Markos, last year's king and first Homecoming king in Youngstown College history. They will be presented at the Bonfire Rally which starts at 7:30 p.m. Also on hand will be the queen's attendants, the football players and the band. A dance around the bonfire will mark the end of the rally and the beginning of a stag dance in the gaily decorated Strouss Auditorium.

Host to Marshall

Saturday will find YoCo playing host to Marshall College. A local band representing them, will perform at pre-game ceremonies.

The really big moment will come, however, at half-time when lovely Joan Pokabla and handsome Lou Lehner will be crowned Queen and King, respectively. Cars will pick up the royally and attendants from their stadium seats and escort them to the field where they will be received by the ROTC honor guard.

Following a welcome speech by President Howard Jones, the young couple will be crowned by last year's royalty.

Dance Follows

Immediately following the game, activities will move to Stambaugh Auditorium for dancing to the music of Paul Kutz and his orchestra. At this time the royal pair will receive their gifts and a trophy will be presented for the prize winning float. Roy Andrus, Homecoming chairman, is in charge of all activities. He is a senior art major and a member of Sigma Delta Beta fraternity. His chairman is Bob Anderson, rally; Fran McLaughlin, Saturday night dance; Nancy Taylor, Friday night decoration; Norma Deramo, flowers and gifts; Red Tyrell, Bonfire; George Eleotha, Bonfire and stag dance; Bob Congor, half-time ceremonies.

Applications For Draft Tests At Local Board

Applications for the December 4, 1952 and the April 23, 1953 administrations of the College Qualification Tests are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information. Eligibility of a student is determined by their respective boards.

File Now

Applications for the December 4 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, November 1, 1952. Eligible students will be given preference to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

The dates for the test at Youngstown College are Thursday December 4, 1952 and Saturday, April 23, 1953 from 8:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. in the Strouss Auditorium.

Skeggs to Head Art Department

David P. Skeggs, a member of the art faculty of YoCo since July, 1948 has been appointed head of the art department. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the college, made the announcement recently. Skeggs obtained his degree of Bachelor of Arts from Denison University, his master's degree from Iowa University, and has continued with special study under Hans Holmann at Provincetown, Mass.

Has Won Awards

Skeggs has exhibited at more than 25 galleries and museums. He has won many awards, and some of his most recent firsts were won in exhibits at the Ohio Water-Color Society, Butler Art Institute, Tetry Art Institute, Canton Art Institute, and the 1952 Canfield Fair.

Skeggs is replacing Miss Margaret Evans who headed the art department for 17 years and who retired this fall. David is the son of the late Leonard T. Skeggs and Mrs. Skeggs, is married and has a year old son. He resides at 11 Outlook Ave., Poland, O.

Pan-Hel Council Governs Rushing

Full time students who have attended Youngstown College for one semester and meet the grade requirements as specified on page 69 of the catalogue are eligible for rushing. This rule does not apply to those who previously have been initiated and are members of fraternities and sororities.

Pan-Hel Elects 2 New Officers

Members of Pan-Hellenic Council at their first meeting elected Dick Hill as chairman and Clair Ann Lyden as secretary-treasurer for the semester.

The governing body of the sororities and fraternities at YoCo, Pan-Hellenic's purpose is to unite more closely the interests of the Greeks for better fellowship and closer harmony among each other and to co-operate for furthering the interests of the college.

Each sorority and fraternity elects two members to represent their organization at the monthly council meetings.

Scholastic point averages of the Greek organizations for the past semester are:

Phi Lambda Delta	2.2361
Alpha Theta Delta	2.0483
Gamma Sigma	2.0127
Beta Sigma Omicron	1.9222
Sigma Delta Beta	1.7107
Phi Gamma	1.6970
Pi Beta Chi	1.5654
Phi Sigma Epsilon	1.5403
Sigma Sigma	1.5403
Omega Psi Phi	1.4318
Kappa Sigma Kappa	1.4246
Nu Sigma Rho	1.4185

Kappa Alpha Psi has resumed its active status on campus but their point average is not included because they were inactive at the time.

Now Is The Time

We see by reading the paper (the JAMBAR, of course) that the College Qualification test is again being offered. This means that the government still thinks that it is worth it to have some of us stay back here and acquire all the varied skills necessary for running the country while other go out and do the fighting so that there will be a country to run.

Possible there are some students who are still wondering whether or not to take the test. Well, all we can say to them is that they keep right on wondering, since they are the only ones who can decide whether or not the test is worth taking. But to anyone who is seriously interested in an education, it seems worth a try, at least. Pass or fail, you can always join up.

However, it would seem that now is the time to stay in college if it is at all possible. When the Korean War first started, and it looked like everyone would be getting into it, there was a lot of talk about college being nothing but a haven for lazy draft dodgers.

Well, there was—and is—probably a lot of truth in that statement, but the fault lies not with the colleges but with the draft dodgers. Any place that affords an out from service would automatically become just such a haven, and if there were no colleges or similar institutions, there would be an increase in the number of fine young American mutilating themselves just enough to be able to stay home.

But at this stage of the game, and we use the word advisedly, it is beginning to look as if the Korean Police Action is like the poor—it will always be with us. There is no likelihood that, even if we all run off and join up, we will be able to do much fighting for our country.

So, it seems to us, there is nothing at all wrong with staying here and finishing an education. We will still do our time like anyone else when we graduate, and it is up to us if we want to put it off. In fact, it may turn out to be much harder on college students when they do go in,—they may know better.

It's Your Money

Now that Student Council has been re-organized and is getting back into operation, the question comes to mind as to whether or not this new attempt in the student government field will be any better than previous ones.

Well, it probably won't be if the students don't take any more interest in the present council than they did in previous ones. The big question in student government, at least here at YoCo, has been "how can we get the rank and file to take some interest in what is going on?"

To show how important this question has become in recent years, it has been modified to read "How can we even grab the small number of students necessary to fill out a pint-sized council membership?"

As yet, no one has proposed that we draft students. To a casual observer, however, some sort of strong-arm would seem to be the only answer to such deep-seated aversion to taking part in school activities. Just about everything else has been tried.

Maybe, however, in all our attempts to recruit likely prospects, we have been doing too much of the flag-waving type of speech-making. Most Americans heartily dislike this approach, which is a healthy sign. It is enough to sicken most people. But then again, most Americans are interested in making or keeping the Almighty Dollar.

Therefore, perhaps the way to approach the constituents of our local student governors is to talk personal interest to them. Remind them that it is Student Council which spends the goodly sum they pay each semester in activity fees. Whatever happens to this money, which comes directly out of the pocket or purse of each and every student, is determined by council. It would be no more than common sense for a half-way intelligent student to take an interest in council if for no other reason than to find out where his money is going.

Keep It Clean

The new library, that is. As you all know, classes have started in the Seminar wing, and the rest of the building will be open soon. The new class rooms are as fine as anyone could wish for—and yet, already we see some students hacking away at the furniture.

Now if it were a new kindergarten, we could say that such antics were inevitable. But, as far as we can tell, all the students using these bright and airy, pastel-painted rooms are old enough to know better. Therefore, we don't think that it is too much to ask them to be careful, so we're asking.

Photopinions

by Rose & Charlotte

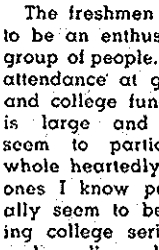

Question: "What do you, as an upper classman, think of the freshmen?"

Tom Dohar — Soph.

The freshmen, just out of high school, are just what this school needs. They're a shot in the arm. Though in a state of temporary general confusion, they still retain that bubbling enthusiasm and spirit gained in high school. In other words, if we didn't have to put up with the new freshmen each fall, we'd be lost. The freshmen? We love 'em!

Janet Ohl — Sr.

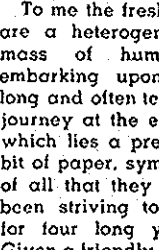

The freshmen seem to be an enthusiastic group of people. Their attendance at games and college functions is large and they seem to participate whole heartedly. The ones I know personally seem to be taking college seriously and realize what it has to offer them. College can build them into responsible citizens and I wish them "good luck."

Paul Wigton — Jr.

I know only a few of the freshmen class but those I have seen in the halls and cafeteria seem to be a good and energetic group of people. If they have this energy in the classroom they should be getting very good grades. Let's hope they carry this spirit on.

Charlotte Kupensky — Soph.

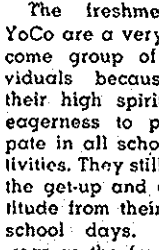

To me the freshmen are a heterogeneous mass of humanity embarking upon the long and often tedious journey at the end of which lies a precious bit of paper, symbolic of all that they have been striving toward for four long years. Given a friendly boost and helping hand it will take them no longer to become oriented than it took any one of us.

Jack Persch — Jr.

What do I think of the freshmen? Well I'll tell "you all" as the good lieutenant from South Carolina would say. No fooling, they really are the finest group of freshmen that ever landed on the campus. They're friendly, sociable, and very pleasing to "look upon."

Arlene Barnes — Soph.

The freshmen at YoCo are a very welcome group of individuals because of their high spirit and eagerness to participate in all school activities. They still have the get-up and go attitude from their high school days. Each year as the freshmen enter YoCo they revive the spirit of the school. Let's hope the freshmen this year retain their spirit as they become upper classmen.

Letters To The Editor

SLAP HAPPY?

Instead of saying hello, this year, why don't you make a few zillion people happy by taking a powder? Your column is forever the same. Nothing but Droppo, Droppo and more Droppo. After all, there are other people in the world. Furthermore, your conceit is shown all through your column, are you really such a prize package? Why don't you reveal your true identity, or are you afraid you wouldn't have any friends left?

Tell me do you look like Burt Lancaster or Rock Hudson? Let's have a picture of you in the next JAMBAR, then we can all have a big laugh! The only thing you can do Snarky, me boy, is to fly the coop—in other words—go blow. Why don't you take the advice of five intelligent people? ? ?

NO APPRECIATION

I've read a lot of derogatory letters about Snarky Parker in this column written by people with no appreciation of truly fine journalism. The two main complaints seem to be his so-called anonymous identity and his out spoken admiration for Walt Droppo. His identity is not so very mysterious and as he says—can he help it if his father's name is Parker and he called his son Snarky? Let's not be too hard on him because of his father's oddities.

As for the Mighty Serb, Walt Droppo, I agree wholeheartedly with Snarky, being a baseball addict myself, and especially a Droppo fan, I say keep up the good work Snarky, your column is tops.

S. J. C.

THE BOYS

WHOSE FAULT?

Hang out the crepe, for school spirit, what little there was of it at YoCo, is dead. Or rather, it died a horrible death at the recent football game between YoCo and Mount Union.

People are constantly tearing down the school spirit of the student body, saying that there is none. The spirit is there, but it needs to be guided into action. Our crew of cheerleaders, talented though it may be, still lacks the quality of leadership. If they pressed themselves into a little more action and learned a few more NEW cheers, instead of continually watching the game, and occasionally breaking in with a "Fight, team, fight," or a "Hold that line!", they might be able to do something about raising the spirit of the students, for the power to do such is in their hands as leaders.

Do they realize the importance of their position, or are THEY the ones that lack school spirit?

IRATE STUDENT

LEAVE OUT THE VOTE?

What's the big idea of a few students trying to keep others from voting for Homecoming Queen? And why can't voting be carried on in Rayen and Dana, etc., just as in the main building? What this college needs is some junior Estes Kefauver to investigate this situation.

CHEERS!

Hip, Hip, Hurray—Snarky Parker is back again! What a column! What a man! I laugh at those people who complain about his identity. I can't think of anyone except Nogo, who gets around more than Snarky. He's in the cafe, in the main hall, always breezing in and out of somewhere doing something for somebody.

He knows everybody and if everybody doesn't know him that their tough luck. It just happens I'm one of the lucky ones. P. S. to Snarky—Remember the girl in Kittinging?

LUCKY

OFF AND RUNNING

The first issue of your paper was very fine, especially for a first issue. If you keep it up, this should be the finest paper we have had in years. The only complaint is that, while most of the copy is good, there is not enough too many ads for such a small paper. Do you have to have that many? The sport page almost didn't get in last issue.

ATTENTION

There will be a JAMBAR staff meeting Monday, Oct. 20th, at 12:30. Please be there.

Student Council Digest

Friday, October 10

Council voted unanimously to continue to have one name band dance per semester rather than more small ones.

Bowling teams desiring to enter intramural play must submit their names by Wednesday, October 15.

Petitions due October 13 for class officers, voting will be on the 16th and 17th.

A plan was submitted which would increase the capacity of the student parking lot by 10%. Action was delayed until an estimate of cost is obtained.

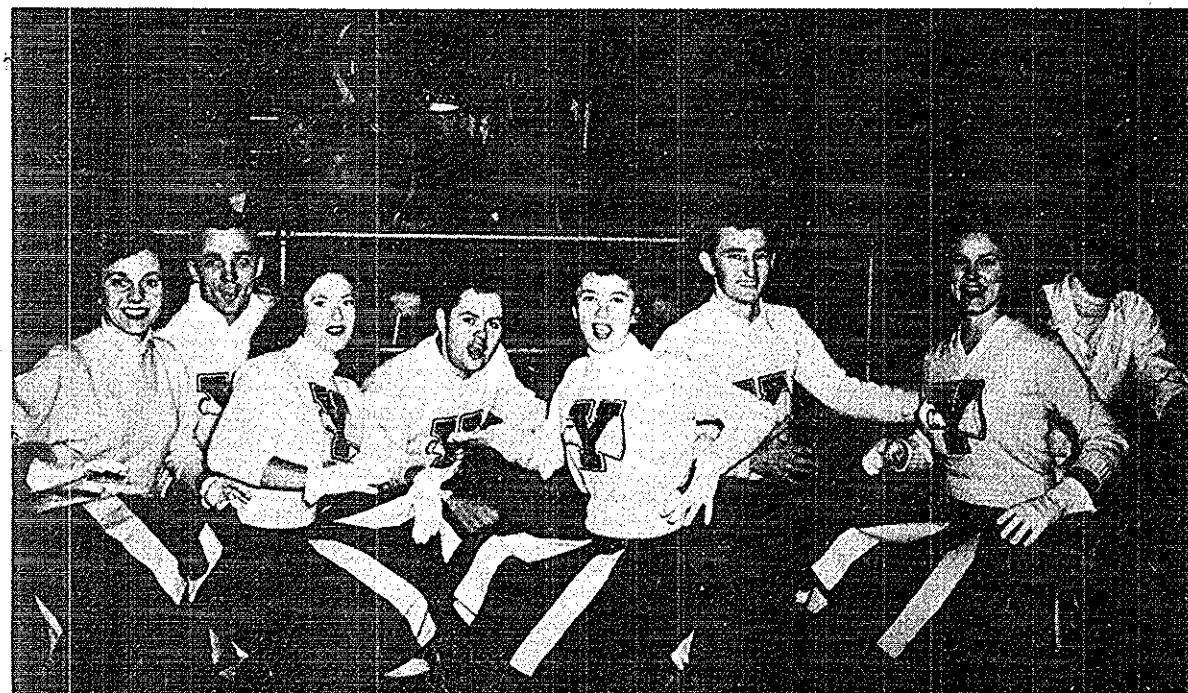

It was voted to temporarily suspend the rule limiting the Homecoming court to four girls.

In the future the ballot box for all Student Council supervised elections will be rotated between the Main Building, Engineering School and Dana. The amount of time in each school will be determined on the same basis as the representation of that school in Council.

Cheerleaders Boost Team At Penguin Field Battles

by Bud Ross

All who have witnessed the victories of Youngstown's fine corps of ball carriers and "rock-ribbed" defensive line have been sufficiently impressed, but how many will recall the efforts of eight uniformed young men and women to lead a somewhat "stoic" student body to cheer?

The hard working crew of cheerleaders who always have a smile on their faces and are continually yelling (both for the team and at the students to cheer) are but one symbol of that wonderful time known as the "football season". Ladies first are (l. to r.) Peggy Balla, Fran Restelli, Molly Rollins and Janie Olsavsky; the gentlemen include Bill Nagy, Bill Martin, Bob Anderson and Bill "Mouse" Moskalik.

Our cheerleading corps is headed by Bob Anderson, one of the school's most energetic and hardworking young men. Taking over the reins from Bob Hritz at the close of last season, the current captain immediately set himself the task of lining up additional talent and cheers.

Bob has not limited his activities to cheerleading. There is very little time out of the academic year that this senior biology major and Navy veteran is not actively associated with one or more social committees.

His other activities include membership in Phi Sigma Epsilon social fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity, and Omicron Lambda Biology honorary.

Has Veteran

The real veteran of the squad is Molly Rollin, who has been a pleasant sideline attraction since 1950. Her curricular activities this year have been confined to evening classes but she remains an outstanding active member of Youngstown's student body.

A junior and psychology major, this young miss could lead us in cheer if she couldn't yell and couldn't smile. She does both superbly.

Bill Moskalik, a member of last year's squad, is the tall, pleasant faced, brown haired youngster, who seems unable to remain immobile before, during, or after the game. He is an outstanding member of Phi Sigma Epsilon social fraternity and hasn't missed a Sunday night Newman Club since...

In this space one name, Janie Olsavsky, fills a paragraph. Janie is also a second year member of the squad, a member of the Drama Guild, Newman Club, and this year is participating in the college radio program, "YoCo on the Air." Her golden brown hair and brown eyes are very much in evidence and her enthusiasm is unbounding.

Bill Martin, the biggest little man on campus, is the voice behind the megaphone. Bill, a senior, was recently chosen Neon editor, is president of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and a member of Omicron Lambda Biology honorary.

Gamma Sigma's gift to our squad is Fran Restelli. You remember her best as last year's Pan-Hellenic Queen. A junior, majoring in Physical Education, her activities include membership in Newman Club and the Sports Board.

New Members

The two new members of this year's squad are Bill Nagy and Peggy Balla. Bill is secretary of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and a member of the Newman Club. Peggy is a member of Alpha Theta Delta social sorority and is on the Neon staff.

You will have a further introduction to the Cheerleaders at today's Homecoming ceremonies. Let's applaud them and follow their lead at the remaining home games.

SORRY

The Kappa Sigs and Nu Sigma Rho were the only ones to turn in any Greek news, so there is no Greek column this time. Thanks, fellows. What's the matter with everyone else?

Queen's Court

Ready to take part in the Homecoming festivities are five lovely co-eds who have been chosen as attendants to this year's queen. Seated (l. to r.) Claranne Lyden, Jeanne Shutrump; standing, Viive Prees, Peggy Balla and Nancy Tapley.

Popular Co-eds Are Attendants

Five Youngstown College co-eds, who were chosen by popular vote, will serve as attendants for the 1952 Homecoming Court. They include Peggy Balla and Claranne Lyden, sophomores; Jeanne Shutrump, junior and Viive Prees and Nancy Tapley, seniors. The girls will be honored at Homecoming festivities which fill today's schedule and come to a climax tomorrow evening at the Homecoming game and dance.

Peggy Balla is social chairman of Alpha Theta Delta sorority and is majoring in medical technology. She was recently elected to the YoCo squad of cheerleaders and can be found at any of the games cheering our team to victory. Her other activities include membership in the chemistry fraternity, Omega Kappa Upsilon; RIL, and the Neon staff.

All Are Busy

Claranne Lyden and Jeanne Shutrump are both members of Gamma Sigma sorority. Claranne, who is an education major, was recently elected secretary treasurer of Pan-Hellenic Council and is an active member of Newman Club.

Miss Evans, Art Department Head Retires After 17 Years at YoCo

A familiar and much-loved person is missing from the Youngstown College campus this fall when, after 17 years as head of the art department, teacher, and counselor of hundreds of college students, Miss Margaret Evans has retired from active service. That means, however, from active service on the campus only—for throughout these 17 years at the College her students and former students who have gone out to do graduate work, to teach, or work in the business world, have taken their paintings and problems to her at her home at 810 Glenwood Ave. at all hours of the day and night.

Young as ever in spirit, Miss Evans has always taken a keen and active interest in the needs and hobbies of her students. Her classes were in art, of course, but as one student said of her, "She dished out a lot of wholesome philosophy in all her classes." An avid reader, Miss Evans not only kept up with the latest in the field of art, but in many other fields as well.

Kept Writing

During World War II she kept up a chain of correspondence with all of her former students, who would write back to find out "what was going on in Room 201" where the art department was housed at that time.

Miss Margaret Evans

First Impression

"The summer of 1913 I saw the exhibition of the work of the great French moderns in New York which made the greatest possible impact on my art teaching. This, together with my work under Prof. Dow, made me realize the importance of modern art," Miss Evans said.

Former Student In Cartoon Contest

Pvt. Charles Cycyk, a former student at the Art School took second place and honorable mention in a cartoon contest held at Camp Polk, Louisiana.

The 26-year-old soldier copped the second prize and mention in a field of approximately 75 entrants in the contest sponsored by the Camp Polk Public Information Office.

All military personnel at Camp Polk were eligible to enter the contest. The entries were judged by the staff of Dixie magazine, published by the Times-Picayune, a New Orleans newspaper. Judging was based on art work and originality of the cartoons.

Cycyk studied art at the Youngstown College and Butler Art School Youngstown. He was a sign painter and commercial artist before he joined the army. He said his entrance in the contest was the first time "I played around with cartooning on a big basis."

All organizations wishing to have pages in the '53 NEON, make arrangements at the NEON office as soon as possible. ADVERTISING MEN NEEDED ON STAFF - apply to Bill Martin.

Former Youngstown College student, Pvt. Charles Cycyk took second place in a contest at Camp Polk, Louisiana with his cartoon depicting Army life.

D-G Will Open 1st Play Tonight

Youngstown's drama season gets off to a start tonight with the Youngstown Player's production of "Happy Birthday" an Anita Loos comedy. The second act drunk scene should prove hilarious when Jean Tornello, as the young librarian, tosses aside the conventions usually associated with her small town position, and pitches a hang-over size drunk scene.

Depicting the visual acrobatics of a neophyte drinker, the tables and chairs float about the stage, all glittering objects on stage are reflected about ten times normal size, a potted lily near a phone booth leans at her, and the whisky bottles on the bar all wink provocatively at her.

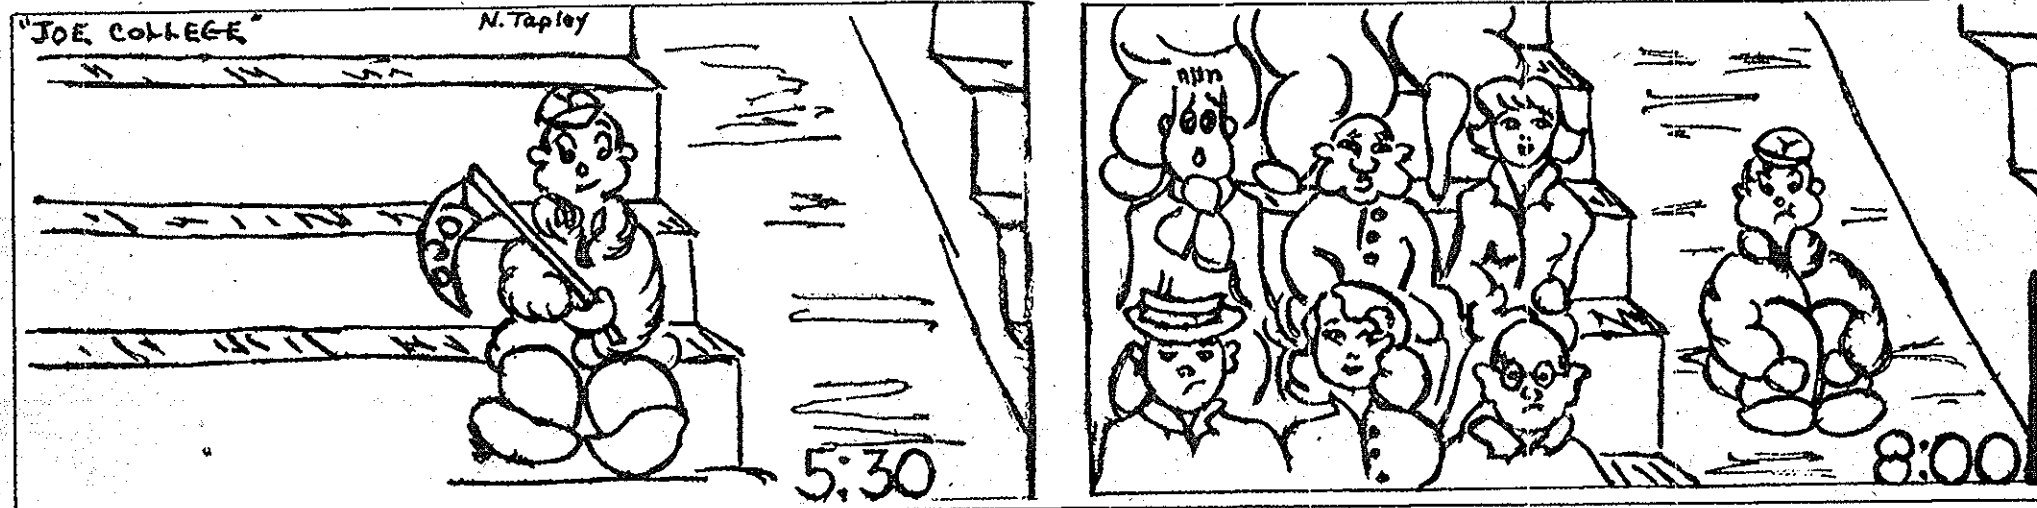

Coordinating all this mad going-on is technical director George Corrin, who has also come up with his wonderful and authentic stage settings. Director Arthur Sircom has welded the cast into a production of professional calibre. The play is worth your time.

Coming up next week at the Palace Theatre is the road company of "Mr. Roberts" starring Tod Andrews. Your reporter saw Mr. Andrews in the role last year and can recommend him, and the play, very highly.

The language and actions of the play are sometimes lusty and realistic, which is to be expected of sailors on the sea, and weeks away from shore-leave, however, none of it is offensive. Instead, the situations are extremely funny. From a technical standpoint, you will probably be amazed at the numerous and quick scene changes, often in the time it takes to turn a switch on and off.

Scheduled soon for Stambaugh Auditorium is the First Drama Quartet with a ### Record Ramblings . . .

by Eddie Simons

Well, with people switching to Camels and Camels switching to doctors I too must confess a switch. Those of you who were charitable enough to give up some of your valuable time noticed, above a list of records, the words "The top ten according to Variety are," well now I've switched to Billboard. Now you will see the words "The top ten according to Billboard are:" Well now you know. "So What" you say. The reason I tell you this is that in keeping with the JAMBAR Policy "Keep the Public Informed" I feel it is my duty to tell you so you won't be in ignorance if someone who you meet on the street should ask you "Where does Record Ramblings get its information?"

Here They Are

- I'll not keep you in suspense any longer. The top ten according to Billboard are:
1. You Belong To Me—Jo Stafford—real great.
  2. I Went To Your Wedding Patti Page—No. 1 material.
  3. Wish You Were Here—Eddie Fisher—only good song from the show of same name.
  4. Aul Wiedersch'n Sweetheart—Vera Lynn—East recording out but I don't like the song.
  5. Half As Much—Rosemary Clooney—Take away Clooney and the harpsichord and you have nothing.
  6. Jambalaya—Jo Stafford—after a rest Jo came through with a pair of hits. Good Tune. Nutty Words.
  7. High Noon—Frankie Laine—Good all around.
  8. Meet Mr. Callaghan—Les Paul—Very Good arrangement of catchy tune.
  9. Somewhere Along The Way—King Cole—I like it.
  10. Walking My Baby Back Home—Johnny Ray—A perfect tune with good words ruined by a screaming idiot. King Cole's version is better by far.

That's it for this week along with my opinions of them. Some will agree with me. Not many I know but to show that I am open minded I ask each one of you to send in your opinion of my opinions. They will make an excellent fire in the Public Office this winter when the heat fails. I'm just kidding please send them in, we get $1.00 per hundred pounds when they're mailed and tied.

Some Favorites

Some favorites around Youngstown in addition to the top ten are:
Columbia's waxing of "Have a Good Time," by Tony Bennett who, along with Lily Ann Carol recently gave two performances at Stambaugh. I didn't get to see them but heard they were very good.
Now that Mario Lanza has decided to work you've been buying his pressing of "Because Your Mine." Those temperamental actors! Also on the Victor tab is Sunny Gale's version of "I Laughed at Love" which is a big seller at McKelvey's record department.

The Four Aces rendition of "Should I" is a good seller but how those boys can butcher a number. They would make an East Indian Funeral March sound like "Twelfth St. Rag." You can keep this record of theirs. Slim Whitman also took up the meat cleaver when he made his disc, "Indian Love Call." With the world in a constant rush I suppose Chopin's Minute Waltz will be cut to 30 seconds.
I Like 'Em

I guess I've wracked enough records for this week so here are the records I like:

"Trying" by Hilltoppers on the Dot label scores highly in my opinion. "It's a Blue World" by the Four Freshmen, (I suppose it is for Freshmen these opening weeks of school) and appropriately saved for the end of the paragraph "Adios" by Giselle MacKenzie (A Patti Page arrangement or she has two sets of vocal chords) but nevertheless "Muy Bueno."

By the way have you heard Ray Anthony's platter of "Slaughter on 10th Ave?" This along with the Harmonic disc of "Blues from American in Paris" will go down as truly great instrumental of our time. Hear them somewhere and you'll probably buy them.

Be sure to listen to "Marilyn" (it's a song) by Ray Anthony, another record inspired by Marilyn Monroe. My one thought of perfection in a woman is Marilyn Monroe with April Stevens' voice. (On second thought she doesn't need any voice). April recorded "That Naughty

Pan-Hel Council Governs Rushing

General regulations governing rushing are as follows: rushing season shall begin on Monday of the fifth week of each semester and end on Sunday night of the ninth week, Sunday being designated as the first day of the week.

Parties Limited

Rush parties shall be limited to three per semester. A joint rush party is one at which both fraternity and sorority members are present and either or both has rushers present. This shall constitute a rush party for each organization.

Silent period begins at 12:01 a. m. on Monday of the ninth week of each semester. During this period rushing activity ceases and rushes may not approach or be approached by fraternity or sorority members. Bids are given out on or after the third day of Silent Period. Rushes may accept only one bid, giving a written answer to be left, where designated by Pan-Hellenic Council.

Nature has given woman so much power that the low cannot afford to give her more.

ART CLUB OFFICERS

The art department announces its officers for 1952-53. They are: president, Joe Dailey; vice president, Joe Humenuk; treasurer, Martha Swanson, and secretary, Babette Goldstein.

Night Hawk . . .

by Dean

Threatening letters will get you nowhere I'm gonna write this column anyway.

Stumbled into Tom Chuey on his way to Miss Chapman's class. Snom he lost his latest thesis; Bilingual Retorts of Torpid Teachers. If anyone find it please return it to Tom.

Walked up to the JAMBAR office. Walked right out again. D. d women editors have curtains up. (With flowers yet).

I saw an editorial in the last JAMBAR (should get a raise for the plug) which aroused my animal instincts. It had something to do with "College Spirit." There is no "spirit" at staunch old YoCo Tech.

Heavens No

Staid YoCoites do not belittle themselves by engaging in such juvenile monomanias as "College Spirit." Rather than the lurid, raucous cries of the uncivilized neanderthal man there is a more subtle feeling that pervades, rather, pervades each and every one of us.

So remember freshmen, don't embarrass our refined and sophisticated institution (and I do mean institution) by emitting noxious, ill-mannered cheers at our athletic events and please don't listen to those propaganda filled editorials of our editors. School spirit . . . laugh!!!

Well bless my nearsighted lil ole eyeball but did I see Molly Rollin actually going to class?

Protest To Eds.

I won't type my column. That type writer is just too heavy and bulky to run around the halls looking for news with. Besides no one will wait long enough for me to get the paper in the roller.

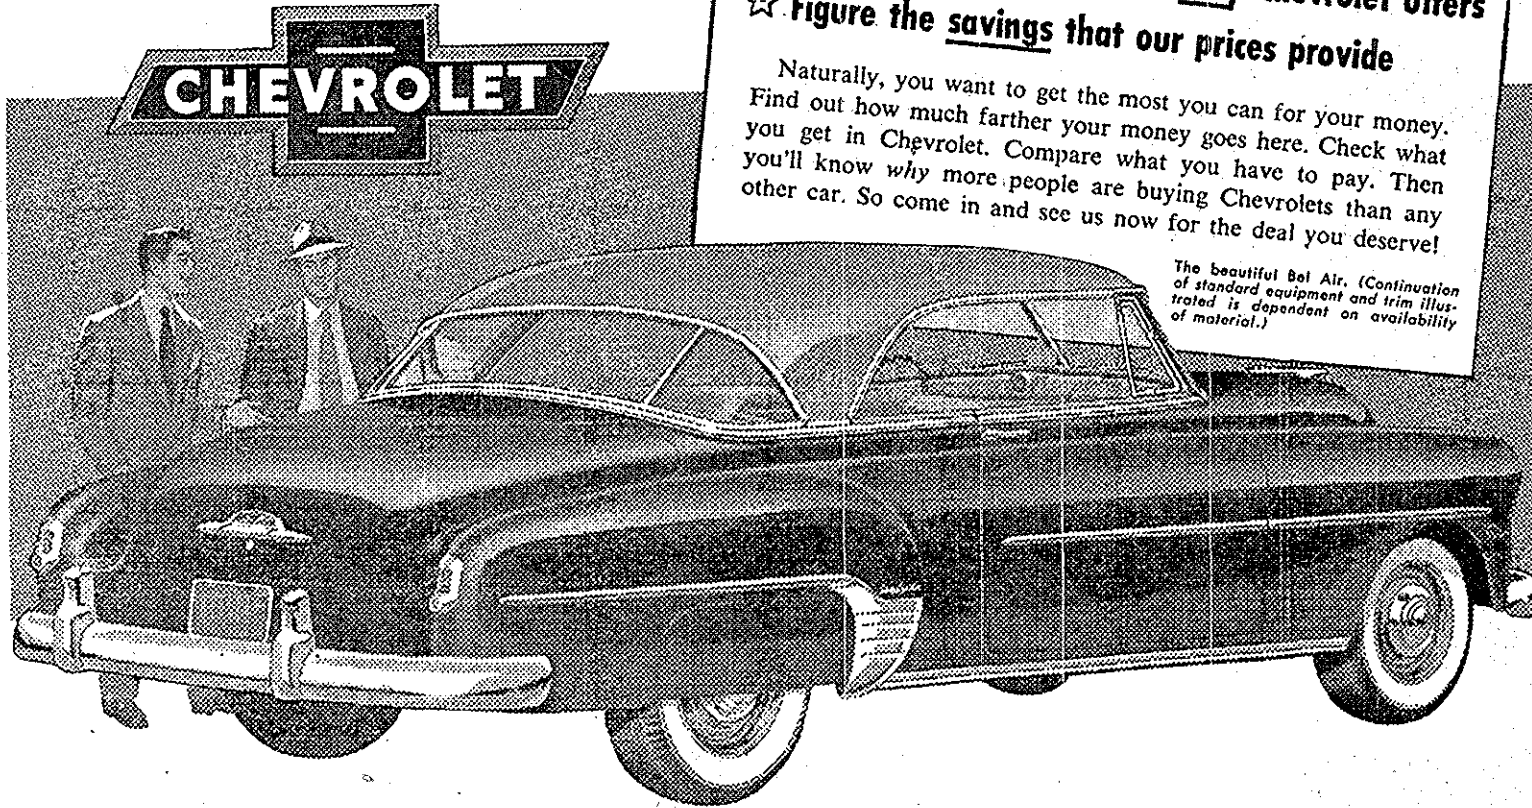

Now as the dusk darkens and the lights unlight in the halls I should like to leave you with this pleasant thought to our freshmen girls.

Gather kisses while you may
For time brings nought but sorrow
The girls who are so cold today
Are chaperones tomorrow.
See you at Homecoming, P. S. If you would like this to be a serious column . . . Fire me.

With the ENGINEERS . . .

by Jim Ellsworth

Members of the engineering department were guests at a meeting of the Youngstown Section, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, this month. Dr. Erwin Vigness, chief of the shock and vibration branch of the U. S. Naval Research Laboratory, was the principle speaker.

He gave a technical presentation of the development of instruments to record shocks caused by explosions aboard ships and under water. Stanley E. Babcock, chairman of the association welcomed the engineering students and gave a special invitation to attend future meetings.

Some of the members of OSPE attended a meeting of the Mahoning Valley Society of OSPE and heard very interesting talks by Sam Gould and James Ryan. They discussed the three quarter mill levy which will be used in financing bridge improvements in Mahoning County for the next five years.

Summer Daze

If you noticed anything different about Jack Jobling, Ken Smith, Ken Arner, Bud Betcha, Romeo DiChristoforo, and Ed Chuhnich it is probably because they were married during the summer vacation.

The most noticeable of these is Mr. Betcha, that home cooking sure is good isn't it Bud? The latest odds passed by the engineering library staff have Nick Granitto on 8 to 5 favorite to be the next to be added to the list of married men.

If any of the instructors are having trouble getting the students to do their homework they should contact Prof. Charignon. He is letting each student teach one period in his Jets and Turbines class. This is good experience for the students and also helps the instructor know what the student "doesn't" know.

At Last!

The engineering department has a beautiful addition in the petite Miss Dorothy Jean Rubino. The little (4 ft. 9 in. and 109 lbs.) bit of feminine pulchritude is a transfer student from Seton Hill College. She is a sophomore and majoring in electrical engineering. Best of luck Dorothy in your years of study here and don't let that "hunting" look in the boys' eyes scare you, for their years of confinement have made them harmless.

If all of Larry D'Amico's classes had something to do with drawing he would get tired of seeing A's. Have you seen his poster (OSPE) on the bulletin board? Congratulations Larry.

Evans Retires

"I shall never forget the power of this exhibition of the work of these great moderns."

"I came to Youngstown College in September, 1935, where I have had many happy experiences with associates there. No one can overestimate the vision of Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the College, in permitting the art department academic freedom over the years," Miss Evans said.

Commends Work

In the summer of 1950, Miss Evans attended a workshop at the Modern Museum of Arts in New York City under Victor D'Amico, a chairman of the Art Education Committee of the Modern Museum of Art, of which she is a member. Miss Evans said that Prof. D'Amico was much impressed with the work being done at Youngstown College in modern art as was Prof. Robert Iglehart, of New York University, who said when visiting Youngstown College, "It amazes me that this type of art is taught so far West as Youngstown."

"Living at home has been a constant help to me," Miss Evans commented. "The interest and encouragement of my family has been a great factor in my enjoyment of my work."

"The greatest reward of my years of teaching," Miss Evans said, "is in the enthusiastic ambition of my students as they return from teaching or other work from all over the country to talk about art and express their appreciation of the years they spent at Youngstown College. My education has been expanded greatly over the years as I have learned from my students. Each student has contributed of his creativeness to the sum total of my education."

A joint bank account is a gimmick to enable the little woman to beat the old man to the draw.

Nancy is majoring in elementary education and was a member of last year's Junior Prom court. Besides being a member of Phi Lambda Delta sorority, her other activities include membership in RIL, Alpha Pi Epsilon service sorority and the JAMBAR staff.

Looking Around...

by Josie Frazzini

Well, hello all ya nice people. Here I am again. Sho nuff. (Hey LOU CHARLES—check the accent. Think I'll ever make the grade? Lou likes girls with accents and he can't say I didn't try.)

KIT (from the cafeteria) is trying awfully hard to find out Snarky Parker's real name. I know but to quote one of his most famous song titles "I'll Never Tell."

BUD ROSS and TOM LAVELLE told my fortune in the cafeteria one day. They said my future was dark and cloudy. Who knows it may even rain.

Overhead somewhere — A. It's raining cats and dogs outside. B. That's better than hailing taxi cabs. (One more like this and your fired — Ed.)

The freshman class certainly is proving to be colorful. We have a PHYLLIS GRAY and MARY BROWN. CHUCK WOLLITZ thinks it's colorful too. His reason is ALMA MACKIN.

I've reached the conclusion that there's no place like Youngstown College. Where else can you see a light haired young man with an East All Stars jersey raking leaves. A word of advice to the freshman girls — Look into this.

A few words of thanks to DICK BRUSH for the wonderful football programs he's turning out. We really appreciate them. Looks like NICK GALARDO found out that the girls at Youngstown College are really pretty smart after all. It takes times but you'll learn.

If you should see FRED LYNCH, ANG DELIQUADRI and SANTI CATALDI standing in the hall playing with a ball and paddle don't be surprised. It's an experiment their doing for their Psych. class. From the expressions on their faces I'd say they were enjoying it.

MOLLY ROLLINS is my candidate for Miss Vitality. She's always so full of pep and always has a big smile. We need more people like you, Molly.

HANK HENDEL and SAM DRAKE did a very good job as co-chairmen of the Freshman Breakfast. It was the first Freshman Breakfast we ever saw that had so many freshmen. This goes to show that the freshmen are really entering into the spirit of things, and that's good.

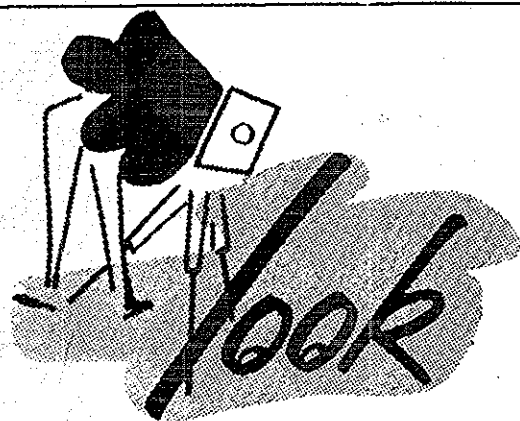

I read this in the Vindicator a while back and thought I'd pass it on to those of you who may have missed it. "How to climb the ladder of success—Start at the bottom and wake up." Worth repeating, wasn't it?

Congratulations to QUEEN JOAN POKABLA and KING LOU LEHNER. Congratulations are also in order for the Homecoming Court. Don't forget to go to the game and buy a mum.

ARLENE BARNES is a very talented young lady. I think that everyone that attended the Touchdown Trot will vouch for that. Arlene has a wonderful twirling act. I know that the applause was for the twirling but what was all the whistling for? (Don't tell me, I'm not that dumb.)

Looks like a lot of our coeds are turning grey overnight. Too much studying or another advancement of science—take your choice.

I always thought that DICK FEES was a nice guy until I found out that "He Likes Ike". All I can say to that is "Win With Stevenson." All kidding aside, YoCoites, vote as you please, but please vote.

Butler Institute Changes Exhibit

Changing the annual January New Year Show to a summer exhibit and raising the prize total to $5,000 has been announced by the Butler Art Institute in Youngstown, Ohio. Director Jos. G. Butler, in making the change to summer, feels that artists will get a better break, both in being able to exhibit their best paintings which otherwise may be tied up during the winter season and by a rise in attendance to the show which has always been hurt by inclement January weather.

This competitive exhibit, national in scope, will henceforth be called the Mid-Year Show and the 18th Annual will take place during the summer of 1953. Circulars and entry blanks will be available about March 1953. Other changes of the Institute exhibits call for the holding of the Ohio Ceramic Annual (formerly a biennial) during January as a replacement on the schedule for the New Year Show.

Over $500.00 in prizes will be awarded and this exhibit will be open to all residents and former residents of Ohio. Entry blanks and circulars of information are now available and may be had by writing the secretary, Butler Art Institute. The annual Spring Salon for artists living within 25 miles from Youngstown, previously held during May, will be changed to Fall and will be known as the Autumn Annual for Area Artists.

Is Biggest

The Annual New Year Show was the most important exhibit of the year at the Institute and its successor, the Mid-Year Show, is expected to go even further in presenting the best works by the nation's artists.

The New Year Show had its beginning in 1936 for the purpose of giving artists of the Youngstown area an opportunity to exhibit their works and to arouse the public in taking a supporting interest.

This first show covered a radius of 75 miles from Youngstown, and drew around 600 entries, including crafts, photographs, drawings and prints in addition to oils and watercolors. It proved so popular that the territory was expanded in 1937

MARSHALL DUELS YoCo IN HOMECOMING SCRAP

YoCo Triumphs Over Stubborn Mt. Union Team

Sparked by Dick Franko and Lee Bobo, a pair of hard running freshman backs, Youngstown College gridgers annexed their third consecutive triumph of the season by romping over outclassed Mount Union, 26-7.

Franko tallied twice on runs of one and seven yards. His 20-yard jaunt off tackle set up the Penguins' third score. Bobo skirted right end for four yards on a pitchout for the second tally and registered again in the final period on a beautifully executed bootleg play covering 10 yards.

Defense Good

Frank Marsteller, Lou Chioro and Joe Jockovina featured defensively, shackling the Mount Union running game completely. Francis Schovillo grounded out huge chunks of yardage throughout to share offensive laurels with the freshman pony backs.

Trailing 13-0 at half-time, the Purple Raiders unleashed a 60-yard touchdown drive, highlighted by three successful flips from Bill Goy to Cliff Davies.

The croused Penguins struck back with a 55 drive to extend their lead to 20-7. Marsteller's pass interception led to the final marker early in the fourth quarter.

SNARKY SEZ . . .

by Snarky Parker

Every once in a while, you run into those issues that you just don't know what to say to your many, many FANS . . . Well, this is one of them, so if you'll bear with me, we'll take a stroll down the lane of memories to come and make believe it is the year of 1962.

What do you know? The Detroit Tigers won another World Series — four in a row for the motor city team. Walt Dropo, though in his late 30's is still hitting 400. He had a bad year in the home run department for 1962 though, his 73 this year was far short of the 92 he rapped in 1958. That boy Dropo is tough. And you know what, they even moved back the fences to 500 feet in all the ball parks because he was hitting them so far. What are you going to do, the Big Boy is too tough!

Locals Are Formidable

The 1952 YoCo football squad is one the school can certainly be proud of. The boys are the type that love to play the game, they love to hit hard and are among the best conditioned in the country.

D. V. "Dike" Beede had put together a formidable squad which will give to the fans all the football action and thrills they can muster in an eight game schedule.

The going really gets rough from here on in, with the grid greets of Marshall coming to town tomorrow, Baldwin Wallace's pass-happy team next and John Carroll. Bowling Green and Toledo follow.

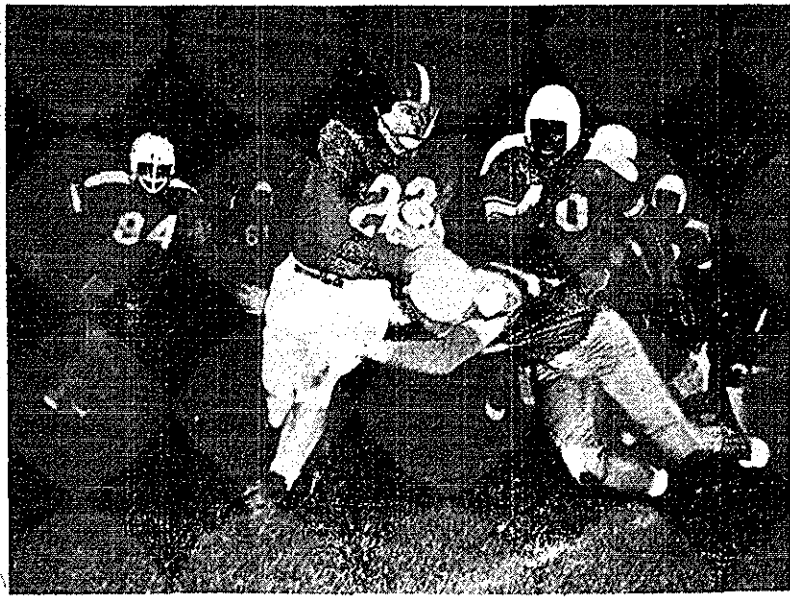

The blocking of the offensive line has been terrific. Bobby Lynn, Tom Andros, Ned "The Surging Serbian" Mervos, Bob Gurcar, Jack Marsteller, and ends Angelo Pezzuolo and Ray Latsko has gone unnoticed by the men of the press, but not by the backs which they open the holes for.

Backs Look Good

George "Choo Choo" Ceremuga, and Dick Franko are two of the boys who

Broadside . . .

by BARRETT

In the October 1951 issue of Sport magazine there appeared an article concerned with selecting that section of the country which has produced the most glamorous names in football over the past decade. Four states, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, and Oklahoma, were voted head and shoulders above their fellow states in this manly art.

One, Texas, seemingly takes offense at being placed in such inferior company. Texans will tell you that the "paradise" state has produced more All Americans and pro stars, more nationally ranked teams, and above all, the best high school football to be found in the confines of North America.

With all respect to the ability of Texas, we hereby take up the hammer and tongs in defense of our own sovereign state.

In the matter of All-Americans and pro stars since 1940, the Texans do indeed present an imposing list of names. Among them are Doak Walker, Kyle Rote, Bobby Layne, "Tex" Coulter, John Kimbrough, Pete Layden, Bulldog Turner, Fred Benner, Mal Kutner, and Jackie Fields.

If the Texas troupe of magicians sound imposing though, they are the galaxy of immortals collected under the Ohio banner must impress as being super colossal.

These would include Frank Sinkwich, Vic Janowick, Dick Kaymaier, and Les Horvath. (All Heinselman Memorial winners). Mix these with Marion Motley, Bill Willis, Lou Groza, Bob Dove, and Lin Houston. Brew with George Pochner, Bob Chappius, Nick Bolkavak, Dante Lavelli, and you would have quite a concoction.

Ohio State alone was voted the nation's number one football team in 1942 and 1945. They placed in the top 10 on three other occasions. The whole state of Texas, with its numerous powerhouses, has failed to wrest a single national title in that span.

So far as high school ball is concerned, the Ohio Conference league, made up of teams in seven cities in the Northeastern section of the state, is reputed by top coaching authorities to be the toughest in the land. We also venture the opinion that the Masillon Tigers can hold their own with any scholastic eleven to be found anywhere.

Ohio boasts also of the top coaching genius of this decade in Paul Brown.

TOP THAT, TEXAS!

The campaign committee for "Lou Lehner" for King, wishes to thank all those girls who so graciously supported our candidate. At this time we announce our expenses for the campaign were $0,000,000. R. O., Chairman

Unbeaten Penguins Face Rugged West Virginians

by Dick Selby

Tomorrow night at Rayen Stadium the undefeated Youngstown Penguins will meet a stiff test in the form of the Big Green from Huntington, West Virginia, Marshall College. The Homecoming celebration, which includes the crowning of the king and queen at the half-time ceremony, would be complete with a victory over this highly-touted foe.

Marshall has a veteran team which includes many holdovers from the 1950 squad that Youngstown defeated 28-13. Veterans on the defensive squad include Phil Milano, 185 pound line backer, and Ted D'Alisio, 250 pound tackle from Youngstown East. The forward wall on this veteran defensive team has tremendous size, averaging 229 pounds.

Includes Veterans

The offensive platoon which also includes many veterans, is led by Hall-back Carl York and Fullback Van Hellyer. The offensive line, led by Captain Floyd Davis at right guard, is big and fast and capable of putting gaping holes in the opponents' defensive line.

The thundering herd could spoil the Penguins' record of never having lost a Homecoming game. So far this season Marshall has victories over Morehead State, Eastern Kentucky and John Carroll. The only loss came at the hands of a strong V.P.I. eleven.

Injuries Hamper Squad

Injuries may limit the effectiveness of several of the Youngstown regulars. Bob Lynn is still bothered by the buritis infection in his right foot. Roger Ottoway is slowed up by the hip injury he received in the opening game. Leo Coughlin and Dick Franko are bothered by bruises received in the Mount Union game.

Let's all get out and support the team. See you at Homecoming!!

Penguins Down St. Francis 35-0

St. Francis, the second team to meet the Penguins, was no match for YoCo's well-rounded attack. Little competition was offered as Youngstown scored a decisive 35-0 victory.

Again the defense was at its best. But the offense was in high gear with Franko, completing six of seven passes and scoring two touchdowns, at the wheel.

Schovillo, Ceremuga, and Villa were the hard running backs we saw in the opener.

The new split "P" formation and the brilliant team work may be the reasons for this early season success.

The man had just been presented with his twelfth child. As he was escorting the doctor to the door, a duck passed by. "Whose duck is that?" asked the doctor. "That's no duck," sighed the man, "that's the stork with his legs worn down."

ROTC Rifle Team Enters Conference

The newly formed ROTC rifle team, under the direction of Lieutenant William L. Collins, Assistant Professor of Military Science, was formed last spring because of efforts by Sergeant Blevins and Cadet Lieutenant Jack Parsch.

The team will compete in the Lake Erie Inter-Collegiate Rifle Conference, which includes such schools as Akron, Case, John Carroll, Kent, Oberlin and Western Reserve.

Will Enter Matches

In addition to the matches with conference schools, they will also shoot against Penn State, Temple and Gannon. The team will also enter the matches in competition for the Hearst Trophy next spring.

All home matches will be held at the Rayen Armory. The first of these home matches is on October 14 at 9:00 p.m.

Members of the Rifle Team include: Joe Mazur, John Daleo, Jack Parsch, Joe Ihnat, Phil Voius, Mike Raptis, Dale Hixenbaugh, Jim Sekinger and Joe Thompson.

Where Are They?

What are yesterday's athletes doing today? As we enter upon a new school year and a new football season, we not only look at who is playing on the team today but we remember the stars of yesterday. What are they doing today?

HERB THOMAS and PAUL ANDRISH, two stars of the G. M. McKeivey nine, Youngstown's entry in the N. A. E. F. tournament, have coaching and teaching jobs at Champion and Howland respectively.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING

The intramural bowling league will start Sunday Oct. 19 at 1 p.m. All teams entered should report to the Champion Alleys at 12:30 p.m. ready to bowl. Seven teams are entered. Other wishing to do so should contact the Athletic Office located in the new library or have your entire team at the alleys on the 19th.

Local Interest

Of more localized interest is the forthcoming "Yocohooey 52," scheduled for Thanksgiving week, opening night is November 24th. Director Will Foley has chosen Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize play, "Skin of Our Teeth," for the main event, throughout which will be spotted the usual Yocohooey variety acts.

A production number planned for the second act intermission will be something entirely new. As this paper went to press, the complete cast for the play had not been named, nor had all the variety acts been placed. There is still time for any interested to work in their act. See Mr. Foley in West Hall or back stage for an audition.

That takes care of only four events for the season, and the season is very young yet. Looks like a busy winter ahead.

You can't single out any one star on this crew — they're all TOUGH . . . Stafford, Coughlin, Garcar, Pollifrone, Chiaro and Pagano, all very rough boys up front. Not too much had gone by these boys.

The linebackers, Joe Jakovina, Warren Gurski, and Billy McCabe, good boys each of them and those ever tense pass protectors, Ed Nogowski, Frank Marsteller and Lee Bobo, always where you want them to be.

These boys and the ever ready reserves, all eager and waiting to get into the action, are keeping fans buzzing. They probably won't win all of their games with this schedule, but remember . . . It won't be because they didn't

We're sorry to hear that HARRY MYERS, who was to be captain of the '52 '53 basketball team, will not return to school due to family responsibilities.

Other graduates of YoCo who are coaching area teams are PETE LANZI, East; CHARLEY BUSH — North; BOB THOMPSON — Woodrow Wilson; RED ANGELO Chaney; HARRY KRALL; BOB GIBSON and JOE BERNARD Leetonia. We sincerely wish all these coaches and players the best of luck in their coming seasons.

For the 1940 show the territory was increased to include West Virginia with the above states and new eligibility rules made only oils and water colors acceptable.

New High

A new high of 1,037 paintings were submitted with enough entries selected to fill the entire first floor of the Institute as only one-half the galleries were used heretofore. For the 1942 show, Virginia was added to eligible states and prizes were upped to $755, having begun with a $50 Popular Prize for the first annual and gradually increased each year.

In 1944, Indiana artists were welcomed to the exhibit and in 1948, Michigan and the District of Columbia were added to the five-state area. A new high of $1,025 in cash prizes was awarded in the 1949 show, to which a record total of 1,592 paintings were submitted with the jury accepting 194, lowest annual number catalogued throughout the entire series. Expanding to the limit, the 1951 annual made all artists of the United States and its territories eligible and the total for prizes increased to $2,505.

Through the years many distinguished persons in the art field have served as judges.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
