

ROTC PROMENADES TONIGHT

Student Group Formed To Aid President Jones

President Howard W. Jones (left) addresses a group of students in a preliminary move to establish a student-president committee. It is hoped that such a group can play an important part in student-faculty relations.

With the aim of furthering relations between the student body and the Youngstown College administration, the President's Student Committee was recently formed.

At the first meeting of the committee, President Howard W. Jones explained the purpose of the new group. One basic aim is for the administration staff to acquaint the committee with problems that face Youngstown College. The other aim is to have the President's Committee advise the administration on the students own ideas on the best way to solve each problem.

A third function was recently performed when the President's Student Committee aided in the Scholarship Day Examinations given at the college for seniors of high schools in the Mahoning Valley area.

This entailed a responsibility on each member of the committee. Realizing that there was a real need for the visiting students to have guides to show them around the college and to make sure that all were at the proper advisors meeting at the correct time, the administration sought and received aid from the committee.

The members of the President's Student Committee are chosen for their qualities of scholarship and leadership.

President Jones stated recently:

Instrumental and vocal scholarships for the 1954-55 school year in amount from $150 to $400, were announced recently by Dean Kenneth Kitchen of the Dana School of Music.

The scholarships are open to any high school senior and will be awarded on the basis of talent, intelligence, character and need. Auditions were held last week in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium, with local and district musicians and vocalists on hand.

Last year was the fourth consecutive year of increase in the traffic death toll.

Greeks Hold Sing; Vie for Trophies

All Greek organizations on campus will participate in the Second Annual Interfraternity-Sorority Sing to be held May 20, in Strouss Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Each group will present two songs, one of which must be a fraternity or sorority song. No costumes or props are permitted and piano accompaniment will be allowed.

The following groups have signed up to sing: Nu Sigma Rho, Gamma Sigma, Sigma Delta Beta, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Kappa Sigma Kappa, Beta Sigma Omicron, Phi Mu, Pi Beta Chi, Sigma Sigma, Phi Lambda Delta and Phi Gamma.

Nu Sigs Sponsor First Jazz Concert

A jazz concert, featuring prominent local musicians, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 11, in the Strouss Auditorium. "All of us are music lovers of some sort," say concert committee members, "and we like to listen to the radio or TV, but most American jazz lovers have to listen to records only." This is an attempt to afford people the opportunity of listening to good jazz, and perhaps to create some new jazz lovers.

Three Nu Sigma Rho students prepare for the Jazz Concert being held next Tuesday, May 10, in Strouss Memorial Auditorium, and sponsored by Nu Sigma Rho fraternity. They are: (l to r) Teddy Hydus, Johnny Petrone and Tommy Frabotta.

Nearly all of the musicians appearing have been featured from time to time in various night clubs and dance halls around the district. Joe Cooper, with different combos, has appeared at the Tropics and the Club Lido and other local niteries. ## Student Council Value

Student Council elections will be held Monday and Tuesday next week. These elections will be very important. Every eligible person should make it a duty to vote. The problems and decisions that will face these elected representatives will be of vital import to Youngstown College.

The good work that Student Council has done this semester should serve as a goal for future councils. Steering its way through some extremely difficult problems and projects, Student Council met the standards expected of it.

Under the guiding hand of President Kevin Ramsey, Council was effective in enacting many of the proposals set forth throughout the semester. The success of Student Council this year was due also to the fine state of officers and to the fact that the committee-chairmanships were filled by extremely able members.

Student Council meetings are open for all students to attend. Students thus far have not taken advantage of this privilege to actually see and hear council in action.

If future Student Councils are to be as effective as the one we have now then strong, continued support will have to come from the student body. No organization can really survive if support is not in evidence.

Need For Study

Now that the school year 1953-54 is drawing to a close, studies will undoubtedly decrease as activities intensify.

Activities are, of course, an integral part of college life, and are, within themselves, a broad education. Yet the importance of paying attention to our school work cannot be overlooked.

Dances, baseball, and other sports may beckon to us, but we are still expected to maintain our studies. That is the reason why we are in school. Final examinations will be coming up in the very near future. The more attention paid now to studies, with less than a month to go, means extra points when final grades are totaled up.

Now is an excellent time for all students to start, in their spare moments, to brush up on past lessons and notes. This casual method of studying is much better than trying to stay up all night just before the final test is given.

It would also be wise now, and it would certainly pay dividends in the future, if we were to analyze our mistakes in the methods we use in studying.

The idea of summer vacation is too pleasant to be off-set by low grades when the semester ends.

Mark Worst Year

The year 1953 saw more than two million casualties - the worst automobile accident toll in the nation's history - recorded on our streets and highways. This shocking record sets the year aside as a shameful one.

Even worse - except in a few cases where thoughtful people are very much concerned about this mobile slaughter - the totals were recorded without many of us realizing what was happening.

The Travelers Insurance Companies of Hartford, Connecticut, report 38,500 people killed and 2,140,000 injured in 1953. Traffic deaths increased 900 and injuries jumped 50,000 over 1952.

The lessons to be gained from previous statistics continued unheeded in 1953. Excessive speed was the most dangerous driving mistake again last year. Speed killed 13,870 persons and injured 600,000. Three out of four auto accidents happened to passenger cars driving in clear weather on dry roads, and 80 per cent of vehicles involved in fatal accidents were traveling straight ahead. The death toll increased for the fourth consecutive year.

There are hundreds of splendid safety organizations in this country dedicated to safety education. Many insurance firms make major efforts in this direction at considerable expense. In hundreds of communities, civic clubs have taken on the job of spreading safety information and education. State and community authorities have spent millions of dollars in an effort to provide safer and better roads and highways. Driver training programs at all age levels are aimed toward safer and saner driving.

State, County, Local and Parkway Police are constantly patrolling streets and highways. More and better engineered thruways are coming off the drawing boards. It appears to us that almost everyone is concerned with this needless slaughter and its accompanying waste of human and property values. Almost everyone, that is, but the drivers. The problem starts and could ideally end with the drivers. Who are the drivers?

Each one of us knows the answer to that question. Let each one of us ponder these latest grim figures and then determine a proper and safer and saner course of action.

Question: How does it feel to be a pledge?

Judy McFarland - Fr.

I like being a pledge of Phi Mu Sorority, but can hardly wait to become an active so I can sit and relax for awhile. It has disadvantages though. I almost forgot my real name because I'm so used to being called "PLEDGE". Other than running around and forgetting my name it's a great life being a pledge.

Ruth Navin - Fr.

Being a pledge is an experience unlike any other. If it does nothing else, it certainly teaches the "low lives" on campus a spirit of humility. Of course, there is one consolation. Someday, we'll be actives, and then it will be our turn.

Jody Koneski - Fr.

"I'm nothing - I'm a pledge." That's a familiar saying among pledges. I haven't had so much fun since I came to college though, and I wouldn't give it up for anything. Besides a lot of fun, a great deal of constructive work has been accomplished. I'm sure all the other pledges feel the same way, but we're all looking forward to becoming actives.

Don Bergman - Fr.

Being a pledge Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity is to me an honor, since I feel that the men in the fraternity think that I am capable of upholding the high standard which has been set by my future brothers over the years.

Kenny Shaffer - Fr.

As a pledge of the Phi Gamma Fraternity, I feel that the small inconveniences I am made to suffer now, as a pledge, are more than compensated by the fact that I am in close association with my actives, which of course was my purpose of joining - to become associated with the finest bunch of fellows on the campus. I'm a Phi Gam 'til I die.

Bill Moore - Fr.

To be a pledge of Sigma Delta Beta Fraternity is somewhat trying, however, I can see the advantages to be gained far outweigh these trials that we must endure. To me, membership in an organization such as Sigma Delta Beta is a very essential part of college life.

THE TIMES

by George Miller

With the arrival in primaries in the month of May this reporter would like to talk about something that has been talked about many times before-in fact, so much so that the general public is bored almost to the point of disgust. But the value of the primaries is so important the matter will have to be brought up again, and again. Primaries are just as important as the actual election is. At the primaries candidates are narrowed down. Usually it is a case of the public just not caring and not realizing the importance of the primaries. Such attitudes are factors that weaken America. The average of total votes cast in the primaries as weighed against the total votes cast for national elections shows considerable contrast. America take care - we face a danger from within as well as from without.

The recent announcement by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that the United States delegation would not countenance much in the way of attempts to get Red China to be recognized and if pressure was applied we would walk out, was predicted in The Times volumn several issues ago. The announcement shows that the U.S. will take very little from either the Russians or the Chinese.

The site of the present Geneva Conference, the old League of Nations building, the Palais de Nations, brings back many memories to the days before World War II when the building was used for another series of important conferences. Used only a few years before that fatal September of 1939, the building was the scene of fatal meetings that, in their own way, helped to cause the problems that exist today. While Europeans bickered and double-crossed each other, Russia sat silent and kept her ears peeled for music - the beautiful music of decay. When decay set in, Russia was ready, hence the situation today.

Speaking of World War II, the news that the Big 4 has finally come to an agreement on the fate of some of the high Nuremberg Nazis in Spandau Prison is interesting. Constantin von Neurath now 81, is one of the highest ex-German leaders about to be released. Neurath lived through the exciting days of the Weimar Republic and the Hitler regime. The story goes that Neurath in 1936, when he was Hitler's Foreign Secretary, was called to a meeting with his leader and told of the plans being made for the taking-over of Austria. When he saw these plans, so the story goes, Neurath had a nervous breakdown. Now aging and extremely ill, Neurath is left with nothing but a memory of a Germany that no longer exists.

A newspaper worth reading is the New York Times. Most cities carry the paper and the Times can be depended on to give excellent reporting on "All the News That's Fit to Print." The editorial page is worthy of attention also. It gives the reader plenty of sound facts to think about and if you don't agree with what they say, at least you've read opinions that are well considered and usually sound. The New York Times is the paper in America - and friend or foe should read it.

Talk, as they say, is cheap-in Washington. Many a policy of national importance has been scrapped because news of it got out prematurely. Public opinion is a powerful thing. If any administration wants to have success in selling the public a new policy it must first condition the people, especially if the policy signifies a great amount of change. At Cabinet meetings, where the items on the agenda were supposed to be top secret, some officials, in the past, have leaked the big news that should not have been known at the time.

The charges against Dr. Robert J. Oppenheimer, who was quietly suspended from his position by the Atomic Energy Commission just before last Christmas, are sensational - in their effect on the general public. His name has stirred up a great debate right in Washington, because officials are openly divided over the question of his loyalty. To match those that strongly are against him, a group has come to the limelight just as strongly defending him. This will be a hot issue in the Capitol for some time to come, because some newspapers have conjectured that he was snatched away from his job before Senator McCarthy could get to work on him. At any rate, FBI evidence is being used.

An interesting bit of reading, recently, was in the column of David Lawrence, an old hand at reporting and commenting on the events in the Capitol. Lawrence believes that too much undue publicity is being given to the McCarthy-Schine affair. He thinks the files of the Pentagon are full of cases where Army officials have been pressured by officials to give special treatment to draftees who were sons of relatives or constituents.

Tuition Rates Upped; President Announces

College tuition rates will be raised from $10 to $11 a semester hour, effective September, 1954, it was announced by President Howard W. Jones, recently at the meeting of the President's Student Committee held in the Library Auditorium. In discussing this change with committee members, Dr. Jones described the effect of rising costs on the College budget and the consequent need for adjusting tuition charges.

The President commented that the revised tuition rate is still low in comparison with rates of $12 to $25 a semester hour currently in effect at other accredited, non-tax-supported colleges in Ohio. Committee members were given copies of the Ohio College Association booklet, "Looking Toward College", which presents a tabulation of tuition and fee charges for all Ohio colleges.

Points Out

President Jones pointed out that in this comparative tabulation Youngstown College costs rank in the lowest fourth for accredited co-educational schools and in the lowest tenth when tax-supported colleges are excluded from comparison.

"We must remember," the President concluded, "that an individual student pays about two-thirds of the actual cost of his education at Youngstown College. The annual College budget is met only in part by total tuition income, and must be further supported by gifts and endowment income."

"In addition, the campus, its buildings, and much of the laboratory equipment are actually free to students, since in every case they represent gifts from community industry and business."

Speeding on U.S. streets and highways last year killed 13,870 men, women and children.

Plan to Organize Group of Veterans

Plans are now underway to build a veteran's organization on campus. With an estimated veteran enrollment of nearly 950, organizers of the group are trying to lay the groundwork this semester.

Purpose of the organization would be to inform a veteran of his standing on educational benefits. Another aim is to build more school spirit. The setting up of a loan system, for needy student veterans is also being discussed.

"There would be no conflict with fraternities, as this group would not be classed as a fraternity. But the proposed organization would help in every possible way all campaigns and activities being organized by fraternities and sororities that would be of benefit to all students," explained Tony Sembieda, one of the group of planners.

Sembieda also stated that a "constitution, which is now being drawn up, and which must be approved by Student Council," will be an important factor in the organization.

Advisor to the group, Mr. William G. Nelson, of the Business Office, stated, "I'd be pleased to advise such a group and I feel that it definitely has a place on campus - to build school spirit and bring about better college-veteran relations."

Every year through rain, snow, wind or sleet come the pledges to YoCo to obey the commands of their big brothers and sisters and the other active members of the fraternity or sorority.

According to one pledge, "they never leave me alone!" and that's the truth. No one ever sees a pledge who isn't on an errand, busy counting something or other, scrubbing or sweeping, carrying actives' belongings or singing praises to their groups.

Actives seem to enjoy ordering pledges as they remember their own pledging days. Many pledges can be seen carrying signs saying "I am nothing, I am a pledge." Few really believe it because they know it isn't too long before they will be actives wearing the much longed for pin of active status.

Many of the organizations plan in advance projects for their pledges to complete before they are initiated. Some of these projects and other happenings of the groups shall now be mentioned.

Pledges Busy

Pledges of Gamma Sigma are busily planning a bake sale to be held in the cafeteria, cleaning out lockers, and writing essays. The girls have been seen wearing bunny ears and dressing like comic strip characters. All the girls are busy planning their annual dinner dance for one wonderful night in June.

The Beta Sigs have been busy planning for and finally having their annual conference of all the Beta Sigma Omicron chapters which was held at Pollock House Saturday, May 1. All the chapters in the eastern district had representatives there.

2nd Army Officers Visit Local ROTC

Cadet Capt. Joe Knapic's "B" Battery is prepared as Maj. William J. Dunkerley inspected the cadet ranks at the recent Federal Inspection held at Harrison Field. President Howard W. Jones also observed the Cadet Battalion going through its paces on the drill field.

Inspecting officers from the 2nd Army's Ohio Military District visited the ROTC at Youngstown College last week. Col. Jack P. Campbell, accompanied by Maj. William J. Dunkerley, Lt. Col. Thomas Wood, Jr. and Capt. George T. Steele, inspected all aspects of ROTC activity on campus.

From 9 to 11 a.m. the officers inspected the various daily classes and asked questions of the cadets, checked instructional methods and reviewed knowledge learned during the past year. Following this the officers inspected the complete Cadet Battalion. There was a massed battery review and afterwards, individual batteries were inspected.

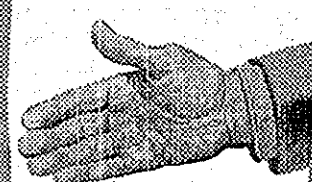

Special attention was paid by the inspection team to such details as haircuts, shined brass, shoe shines and general neatness of the uniform. Particular care was taken to observe the form of the cadets as they went through their paces on the drill field.

After lunch more class inspections were made. At 3 p.m. a critique was held. This covered suggestions and comments by the officers on ROTC activities and facilities.

Social Science Club Hopes to Build Fellowship Among Department Pupils

With the aim of promoting fellowship among students in the department of Sociology and the faculty members of that department, and stimulating interest in the problems related to sociology, the Social Science Club was recently organized.

Meetings are held on the first and third Fridays of every month at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting will be on May 14, at 8 p.m., and guest speaker will be Walter Morgan, who is a Commissioner of American Indian Affairs. He will speak on the past and present conditions of the American Indian.

Throughout the year the Social Science Club discusses various contemporary problems, visits Social agencies and presents benefit shows for those agencies.

Parties Held

Various parties and other social affairs are held throughout the year and will be continued during the summer.

Officers of the club are: President Barbara Griffith, Vice-President Bill Latham, Secretary Treasurer, Joe Ann Harrison, Program Chairman Betty Paul and Delores Costello and Publicity Chairman Julie Procopio.

Freshmen and sophomores whose major is Sociology, Psychology, and other related fields, are encouraged to join this semester, explained Julie Procopio.

Miss Elizabeth Allen, psychiatric social worker at the Child Guidance Center, and an instructor in the Sociology department of Youngstown College, is the advisor.

Varieties Show To Substitute; No YoCohooney

By Eddie Simons

This year, due to many conflicting time commitments beyond our control, there will be no YoCohooney. After searching for a proper time and finding a block in the way of any time chosen it has been decided to postpone YoCo Hooney and substitute in its place the "YoCo Spring Varieties" which will be along the same order as YoCo Hooney but will not receive the vast publicity that YoCo

Hooney receives and will not be presented for a run of six nights.

The content of the show will be interesting to all and everyone should be entertained by the acts. The dates of performance have been scheduled as May 28th and 29th, and this year show promises to be bigger and better than last year's show of the same format.

Students Produce Show

The Spring Varieties this year will be a student production from start to finish. Production and direction of the show is completely handled by the students as well as all other phases of the show.

Ray Schindell has been chosen as master of ceremonies for the show and will be the student director of the show also. It will be his job to assemble the acts, to write them into a show and to plan rehearsals and other details involved in the show.

Variety is Attraction

Variety will be the chief attraction of the show and acts ranging from singers, dancers, monologists, comedians, impersonators, hand balancers and other variety type acts will fill the bill.

Although this is an amateur show, all of the acts in the show are of professional caliber and many have worked as professionals.

Greek Pledging

and much was accomplished in the way of meetings and inspection. The pledges provided entertainment for the girls and told of the bake sale they are planning soon.

In the near future the girls are planning a picnic with their sisters at Baldwin Wallace. Also in the way of parties, the girls had one with the Sig Deltas and their pledges.

The Fellows and their Gamma Sig sisters are getting together soon for a joint party where the pledges will entertain. Their pledge mistress and master, Nancy O'Connor and Bill Conroy have renewed the old custom of coke dates in the cafeteria this semester.

A tug of war by the Sig Delta and Phi Gam pledges was held Sunday, the winner treating the other fellows. A weiner roast was the scene of the Phi Lam pledges party for their actives. The pledges are also holding a bake sale and washing windows of the Main Office.

Finish Plaque

Other busy pledges are those of Phi Mu who are finishing a plaque for the cafeteria, and holding a bake sale. The group will honor several of their outstanding girls with trophies and recognition at a dinner next week. The pledges will provide entertainment.

The Alpha Phi Delta pledges have been constructing a green house to raise flowers so they will have their own flowers for dances. They also assisted in a waste paper drive last month and are currently selling tickets for a raffle. A war bond and camera will be the prizes. All the pledges have been getting signatures on eggs from the alumni. All agree eggs break too easily, invent something boys, invent something.

Talking of inventing things, the Phi Sig pledges were inventing new ideas for their posters for the annual April Showers Dance held last Friday, April 30. Although the fellows have already been installed as actives, they did scrub Lexington settlement while they were pledges.

Letters Pour Out

Letters have been pouring out of the homes of the Kappa Sigma Kappa pledges, all going to the alumni and inviting them to the dinner dance in June. Last Saturday the fellows held a weiner roast for dates and fun.

Beta Sigs Play Host; Convention Held Here

The Beta Sigma Omicron Eastern Regional Conference was held at Youngstown College recently. Last Saturday, after registering at Pollock House, the delegates held a joint meeting of alumni and actives. A welcome address was given by Lucy Zarlena to actives and the Past National president, Mrs. Jan Barnard and alumni president, Mrs. Ruth Ellis, also spoke.

Alpha Pi

A Bake Sale will be held next Monday, May 10. Alpha Pi Epsilon will also help in preparations for the Bare Brunch and is also working on decorations for the May Dance. One of their present campaigns is to raise funds on behalf of the Cerebral Palsy drive.

Improve Gardens

Improvement of the sunken gardens, in the rear of Pollock House is another project. The gardens, once one of the most famous in Youngstown, have been in a state of disrepair for some time.

Officers of the group are Phyllis Gray, president; Barbara Brezovek, vice-president; Elaine Ohi, secretary; Joanne Powell, treasurer; Marie Gerramone, recording secretary and Norma Deramo, historian.

Last Christmas the sorority organized a doll dressing contest, between the different sororities. Following the judging of the contest the dolls were collected and given to needy young girls and toys were purchased for boys.

The sorority was responsible for the placing of ashtrays and salt and pepper shakers in the cafeteria.

At the conclusion of this meeting the delegates divided into separate groups and panel discussions were held. Topics discussed were rushing and pledging.

At noon luncheon was held and Kathy Mosich, as toastmistress, welcomed the various speakers. The pledge class presented a skit. Vocal selections were rendered by Ginny Shelar, who sang "Because" and "One Kiss." The alumni then presented the active chapter with a guest book.

After lunch various panel discussions were held. Vice-President Clarice LeMoine then gave a brief resume of what had happened during the day to a joint meeting of Actives and alumni.

Mrs. Ellis thanked all for coming and also for the co-operation and help from both the actives and alumni in making the convention a success. At the end of the convention the group sang "True Love."

Delegates from Queens College, N.Y., Thiel, Westminster, Pitt, Youngstown, Baldwin-Wallace and Berea attended the convention.

Looking Around...

by Roy Schindell

As I write this I am basking in the Lincoln's hospitality. I have just completed a ketchup sandwich (not too palatable, but economical) and settled back on this rainy, dreary day to look at the faces around me, which, oddly enough, reflect none of the gloom of this miserable day. There is idle chatter of this and that mingled with orders for more coffee and speculation about those approaching finals.

Bill Finn, a comparative newcomer to this setting, assures his position by proclaiming that girls that do everything under the sun usually get their hides tanned. Lee Gilboy seizes upon this opportunity to put in a plug for a suntan lotion she's tried, and Bob Mahoney and Duke Volgeneger nod their heads seemingly in agreement.

Nancy Johnson jumps up and hurries off to class while Bob D'Amico quickly grabs her chair so he may continue the academic discussion with the G.S. pledges (sharp boy, that Bob.) Cookie Cagua tries to tell Jack Walter and Ralph Reel he was suffering from temporary insanity when he threw (assisted by Ken Shaffer) Eddie Simons into Unpleasant Valley (as Eddie now calls it.) Mrs. Lincoln (Mom to the boys) chose this time to again turn down the juke box, and Carol Weaver, encouraged by Ginny Krupa, Lois Jacobson, Kay Riley, and Marsha Giger, turns it up again.

A group of Phi Gams come out of a huddle to announce that "the reason we lost the tug-of-war was because the wind was against us." This brings a chuckle (which, oddly enough, sounded like out and out laughter,) from Larry O'Neal and Bill Snyder. The P.G.'s go back into another huddle. (Hard losers, these boys.)

Somebody walks by my table and comments on the Esther Hamilton of the JAMBAR (me?) (I must cut my hair differently.) Sam Drake just walked in with finger to forehead (out of respect to intellectuals) and wanted to know if anyone wanted to go with him and Stan Wyoski. "Anyone care for a matinee?" were his exact words. Profound, that Drake chap. I'd better wrap this up - Sam's offer deserves some consideration.

Record Ramblings . . .

By Ben VanCobb

In the recording business disc jockeys have usually a lot to do with whether or not a record will become a hit. The DJs play mediocre recordings so often that they grow on the public and eventually cause a big sale in records.

But occasionally, a song will come along that needs no pushing whatsoever. The melody or the lyrics in the song are so great that the public's first response upon hearing it indicates immediately that it will be a big hit.

Some songs that are now in this category, which are filled with plenty of meaning, are: Kitty Kalen's "Little Things Mean a Lot," and Vera Lynn's "If you Love Me, Really Love Me."

Keep your eyes on these two recordings, they're already favorites around the YoCo campus and it shouldn't be too long before they're on the list of the "top ten" in the nation.

Label "X" has issued a series of 100 jazz LP's of recordings made by some of the artists of the twenties. These include such greats as Ben Pollack, Eddie Condon, Jelly Roll Morton, Jimmy Lunceford and Jimmy Yancey.

Norman Granz's Clef label offers more recent jazz styles in recorded sessions by the Lionel Hampton Quartet and the Count Basie Band.

"Jazz in concert form" is the subject that is being talked about around YoCo lately, with everyone, including myself, anxiously waiting to hear some good jazz played by the best musicians in this area.

Big Sales Predicted

Three cheers for Billy Eckstein, Ernie Graves has just informed me that Mr. B has a recording called "Seabreeze" that should break all existing record sales. Well, being a connoisseur of music, Ernie should know what he's talking about, at least let's hope that he does.

Students Aid (Continued from Page 1)

"While I realize that in a school the size of Youngstown College, it is impossible for me to know many students personally I feel that membership of Student Committee is representative enough to give me a valuable cross-section of campus opinion. I think the Committee will meet a need of long standing as a core group for major campus projects.

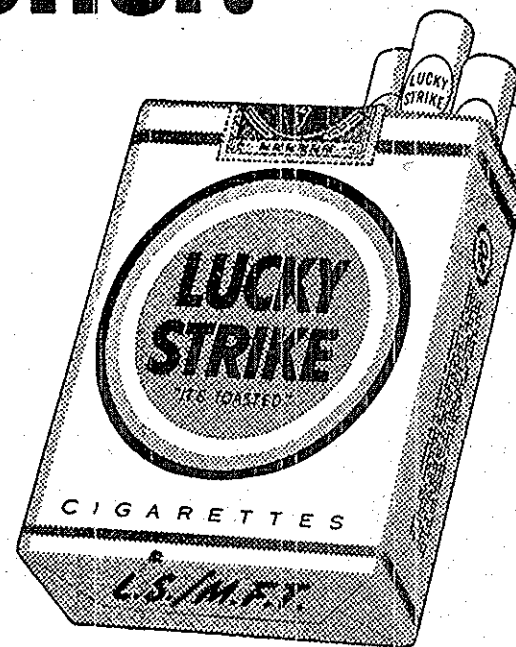

Mr. John P. Gillespie, of the college faculty, told the group recently that: "Our primary job is to interpret Youngstown College to other people - what it is and what it does."

Kappa Sigs, Santillo A C Set Softball Pace

Both Squads Gain Early League Lead

Shown making a swing as he attempts to whack the ball out of the park, during practice for the interfraternity softball games, is Al Eaton. The man behind the plate is Catcher Carmen Anzivino.

Kappa Sigma Kappa and Santillo A.C. are pacing their respective divisions in the Intramural Softball League. Both squads have won easily in their first three outings.

The independent squad is managed by and bears the name of varsity footballer Paul Santillo. A sound ball team, they have been paced by veteran twirler Bob Lynn with his deceptive windmill delivery. A number of double "A" ball players, including first baseman, Dom DeSignore and infielder Ted Vestal, along with outfielder Mike Butch, round out the attack.

Fireballer Frank Beck and chunky John Demas have handled the Kappa Sig pitching chores. First baseman Ned Mervos and outfielder Don McCloud provide the hitting power. Putting pressure on the Kappa Sig aggregation is a scrappy AOH outfit. A tight defense and plenty of power, along with the steady chucking of Jack Broderick have paced them to three victories in four ball games.

Field Bunched

In the National Division, behind the Santillo combine the field is bunched in a three way tie. Newman Club, Kappa Alpha Psi and Sigma Sigma have all dropped one ball game, but posted two wins.

The Sig Deltas and a New Castle ball club have yet to register a win in the American division, while an FPF aggregation has dropped four opening encounters. Alexander AC holds down third place in the American Division. Phi Sigma Epsilon is in fourth, dropping two ball games after winning the opener. Nu Sigma Rho rounds out the National field, in fifth place. They've won one and lost three.

League Play-offs will get underway Monday, May 17, with the top teams in each division vying for

Penguin Golfers Face "Teachers"

Penguin golfers will oppose Slippery Rock linksters today. The local squad was looking for revenge when they teed off against Kent State earlier in the week. The Kent Staters took them twice last year.

Despite an abundance of inclement weather the YoCoites have managed to win three of their first five starts. The team chalked up wins over Thiel, Gannon and Geneva, but dropped a pair of close decisions to John Carroll and Grove City.

Bob Savko, team captain, has copped medalist honors in all matches played to date. Driving Ray Brayer and steady Ed Poplava came around with sparkling 73's to pace the victory over Geneva.

All home matches are played on the Avalon course with Mahoning Country Club pro, Richard Carlson, tutoring the locals. In addition to Savko, Poplava, and Brayer; Mike Lallo, Roger Price, Bob Somich and Joe Voytik carry the Penguin hopes.

championship honors. League play is still young and the season finales will probably see considerable juggling in division standings.

There were 90,000 more persons injured in U.S. motor vehicle accidents last year than in 1952.

10. Games will be played Monday through Thursday - at 3 and 4 o'clock.

Local Netters Drop Matches

The Youngstown College tennis team has played only three matches thus far, dropping two of their first three encounters. They outpointed Gannon 5-4 were rained out at Duquesne, and then suffered defeats at the hands of John Carroll and Penn.

The Penn netters won easily, 3-1, with Bill Homick garnering the only local point. In the Gannon victory, Burley, Gadnez and Butch won single matches, while in doubles play, Butch and Homick, and Vestal and Winslow, teamed up to win their sets.

The Penguins were scheduled against Kent State earlier in the week and face Slippery Rock today. All home matches are played on the Volney Rogers courts.

Excessive speed was the principal cause of traffic accidents in 1953.

Last year's traffic toll of deaths and injuries was the heaviest in history.

More than 15,800 persons were killed in week end traffic accidents last year.

Beta Sigs Take Time Out

Delegates to the Beta Sigma Omicron are taking time out from their busy convention schedule to enjoy the spring weather on the steps of Pollock House. Delegates representing six schools visited the college.

A westerner entered a saloon with his wife and three-year-old son. He ordered two straight whiskies. "Hey, Pa," said the kid, "ain't Ma drinkin'?"

Doctor: "Ask that accident victim his name, so we can notify his family."
Nurse (few minutes later): "He says his family already knows."

Sleep Learning Device Takes Price Decline

Dr. A.E. Johns, founder and director of the Modern Coue Institute, Inc. in New York City, has announced that the DR. JOHNS METHOD of increasing learning capacity which has been internationally known for over ten years, is now within the reach of every college student's budget.

This technique makes use of the latest advances in psychology and electronics. It is based on the principles of the Psychology of Suggestion, namely that knowledge can be absorbed in sleep and that efficiency is increased enormously when an individual is completely relaxed mentally and physically.

Dr. Johns, a practicing psychologist for over twenty years and known as an authority on Auto-Suggestion, has applied these principles in developing his method and its instrument of application, the Johnsophone. The latter consists of a tape recorder plus various attachments, such as an under-pillow speaker, a message-repeating mechanism and a special clock (the JOHNSOPHONE clock) which can shut the recorder on and off up to 72 times in 24 hours.

The DR. JOHNS METHOD enables students to learn more, in a shorter time, with less effort. It employs the JOHNSOPHONE to repeat messages during both waking and sleeping hours. This method of learning while relaxed or even during natural sleep has been confirmed time and again by experiments conducted at various major institutions such as the University of North Carolina, etc.

A follower of Emile Coue ("Day by Day, in every way, I am getting better and better"), Dr. Johns has frequently demonstrated in his public lectures and writings how auto-suggestion - the automatic or unconscious realization of an idea - controls life-processes.
