Engineers Dinner Dance Honors Dean

The Engineers Dinner Dance honoring Dean Franklin was held at the El Rio Club. Over one hundred engineers and their guests attended. Other honored guests were Prof. Bernard Yozwiak, past advisor, Prof. Eugene Klingshirn, present advisor, and Philip Richley, a city engineer and coordinator of local student and parent chapters of O.S.P.E.

Dean Franklin presented Wallace Grist with a plaque engraved with the names of the graduating seniors to be hung in the hall of the Engineering School.

Dean Franklin talked to the group concerning the dangers of becoming too technical and losing sight of subjects such as the humanities. He said engineers need faith in humanity. Toastmaster Vincent Yambrovich presented to both Dean Franklin and Prof. Yozwiak a certificate of lifetime membership and a key.

Prof. Klingshirn made the presentation of the awards to the outstanding junior and senior in the engineering school based on their contributions to the student chapter of O.S.P.E.

Receive Awards

Ed Salata received the award for the outstanding senior and Wallace Grist received the outstanding junior award.

John Ewashko presented Dean Franklin with a gift from Dean's Council, which Dean Franklin organized.

It's Coming Your Way!

Last week an event took place that will greatly affect the lives of all of us in the Mahoning Valley. Through this event this whole section of the country including Northeastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania will become the largest industrial section in the World.

The City of Cleveland received the first ships to pass through the St. Lawrence Seaway. Five Swedish ships docked at the Cleveland lake front. Many more ships are expected to arrive at the port within the next few weeks.

Ashtabula is constructing docks to receive many of the ships that are expected to pass through the portals of the seaway. Almost all of the other major lakefront cities are also involved in the same operation. Some cities are offering to major industries large tracts of land at ridiculously low prices in hopes that they might accept and establish their plants in that area.

The cost will naturally be cut on expenses for the companies and therefore encourage more new companies.

As has been said before this section has everything to offer. Not only do the companies have the access to transportation but also to cheap power. Just 60 miles from Youngstown is the heart of the largest power producing area in the world. On the Ohio River there are a great number of power plants capable of supplying most of the power to supply the entire United States. This is another bargaining point for the people that are trying to build up the industrial might of the section we are concerned with.

With all this industrial might coming to this area just think of what it will mean to us when we graduate. The job opportunities will be tremendous. This will create more interest in people attending college and will mean the growth of our University to fantastic proportions.

We have everything laid out at our feet so may we all take advantage of the situation as it is going to be presented to us. When announcements are made concerning a new plant or some other such thing, stop and think it over, and try to discern what it means to you as a student, as a future businessman, etc., and even as a family man. It will shape your whole life.

Why Don't You Do Something?

Parking is becoming a very serious problem around here as most of you know. With the rapidly increasing enrollment rate here at Youngstown University, the space allotted for parking is rapidly evolving into a serious question.

Just a short year ago a new parking lot was constructed by the University which relieved some of the congestion of cars, but the increase of enrollment has created a new problem. Many of the students have been parking on Spring and Bryson streets and paying the consequences. It is the purpose of this column to inform the student body that something is being done about this unfortunate happening.

One student of the University who has been hampered by the parking consequences of Spring and Bryson streets, has taken matters into his hands. This student made an appointment with his councilman to discuss the problem of the two hour limit on these two streets. This councilman invited the student to attend a council meeting in order to express his views and opinions for a solution.

At least one individual on this campus is doing something about the problem. Maybe if more people on this campus will do something besides just complain about the tickets they receive and talk more to the influential members of the city, the parking problem might be a thing of the past.

Question: What is your opinion on the high statistical rate for people leaving college or not finishing?
Judy Milard - Freshman

Leaving high school and coming to college is a big adjustment for the average student. Many in their freshman year take the extra-curricular activities more seriously than their school work. This causes them to fall behind, and to eventually feel, they would be better off leaving school and striking out on their own. If the incoming freshman would realize that although a liberal education includes social activities these should not overshadow their scholastic work.

Marcia Geiger - Senior

The promise of immediate and greater security probably provides the largest percentage of students with their basis for leaving college. Although at entrance the student has formulated long-range plans, disturbed home conditions, the loss of interest or of health, or more appealing plans such as marriage and a family alter his concern for a professional career.

Steve Maruschak - Junior

Reasons vary with every student for having to leave college. Some leave because of the lack of funds and because of family conditions beyond students control. In many cases it's because it does not fit with the working schedules. In case of layoffs the question arises whether one will first go to school or look for another job. With hard work and will power most obstacles are overcome. Many questions also arise with the working student.

Irene Wal - Freshman

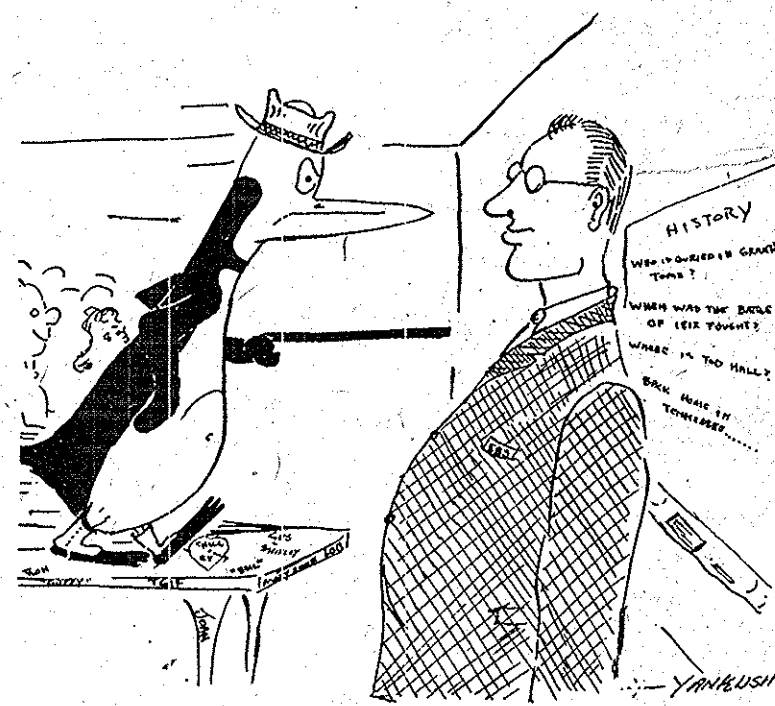

The statistical rate for people leaving college is high not only at Youngstown University, but at practically every other college in the state. The only way one can tell if he will like college or will be able to pass the work is to try it out. Those who feel that they shouldn't remain in college usually drop out during the first year. Therefore it is quite understandable why the statistical rate for people leaving college is so high.

LOST AND FOUND

Although we do have a Lost and Found department, most people do not realize the fact. There are several articles in the office at the cashiers office in the Main Building, that can be claimed by the owner by identifying the article.

Some of the articles that are there are:

- Gloves (many pairs)
- Scarfs
- Glasses
- Wallets
- Keys
- Jewelry

Who Mr. Smith, Did you say discovered the South Pole?

ENGINEER'S ANGLES

The dinner dance is now officially over, but the memory of it will linger in the memories of those who were present. The evening moved off to a good start when everyone had a delicious steak dinner. Following this were the awards to the Honorary Members, Dean Franklin and Mr. Yozwiak. The awards to the outstanding junior and senior went to Sam Grist and Ed Salata respectively. Congratulations to all those gentlemen.

After the lights were dimmed, the action really began. During the usual progression of time it became apparent that a great leader was in need. And who should rise to the occasion and lead the fun starved mob in the bunny hop but the pride of the electrical department - Neil Beard.

Some culprit with ticket number "11" enjoyed a good meal without paying. Mr. Sam Grist, the ticket chairman, was determined to seek out this offender in the name of fairness and decency. He spent the biggest portion of the evening twisting coat lapels and searching through wallets before he discovered who this foul creature was. In the sense of fair play, we shall print his name here for all the world to see. His name -- Mr. Sam Grist! Remember, you read it here first!

Some of the more prominent socialites present at the dance were, Mike Solomon, President of the YUSCE; Bob Martincic, President of the ASME; Bill Vogan, President of the AIEE; Frances Minghetti, Campaign Manager of Beta Sigma Omicron; and last but not least, that outstanding personality Hazel's Husband.

And so the book is closed once more, the next chapter will be written sometime next April when another dinner dance will be held. I hope to see you all there.

Rumor has it that a certain group of seniors will not be taking the long walk May 31st. Things were going pretty good without they put a double short circuit on the frequency converter in the A.C. Lab. Well, don't feel bad boys, you'll be able to play ball with the OSPE again next year.

Speaking of softball, at this writing, the OSPE is tied for the top spot in the league by virtue of their victory over the Phi Gams. Dick Jones was the starting hurler, but Dick tired near the end of the game. (In the third inning to be exact), and Neil Beard took over the mound and led the home nine to a 10-9 victory.

Vic Richley scored the winning run and it was Charlie DePalmo who drove him in. When it was discovered that we only had one good bat to use, John Ewashko was barred from the field.

The question of the week is, who got so excited after the game that they ran off and left their shoes lying on the field?

Joe Santangelo is in the meter wrecking business nowadays. He's taking it up as a sideline. His cellar is full of bent pins and jeweled bearings. Well - it takes all kinds!

The new officers of the Industrial Engineering Society are, Lou Kello, President; Bob Sherich, Vice President; and Jerry Bosch, Secretary-Treasurer.

Keep the 3rd of June open for the All-Engineers Picnic. More details next issue.

Maxim Speaks On Crime Lab

On Wednesday, April 18, Lt. George Maxim, a member of the crime laboratory section of the Youngstown Police Department, presented a talk in the audio-visual room of the library, on the functions of the detective bureau and the new police laboratory. He was sponsored by the Student Forum Committee of Youngstown University.

Lt. Maxim provided a thorough insight on the workings of the important components of the police force. He stressed the fact that, all through its history, and especially in recent years, our law enforcement division has been striving constantly to raise police work to the level of a profession.

He explained the operation of the lie detector and the drunkometer, two very valuable accessions to the department. The city of Youngstown pioneered in this part of the country in the application of lie detectors to police work.

Lt. Maxim showed a series of interesting slides, coupled with a colorful running commentary on them. They depicted scenes of various recent crimes in the area and included a large number of photos of homicide and suicide victims.

THE GREEKS SPEAK

By Joan Pavlov

Sigma Delta Beta

If you should happen to get run down by an anxious Sig Delt be patient for their latest raffle of a Hi-Fi set seems to have everyone worked-up to a frenzy.

New Sig Delt pledges are Edward Wall, Dominic Marino, Dick Lee, Robert Buzga and Dave Dows. Pledge-masters for this season are Clive Unger and Jack Cerimelle.

The Sig Delt's have started their old newspaper again. John Hernandez is editor with Carl Verholick and Tom Buck acting as Sub-editors. Bill Dusch is working as Managing Editor.

The Sig Delt's and the Alpha Phi Delta fraternity held a joint dinner and stag on April 29, in Lowellville. Both fraternities had their pledges present.

Nu Sigma Rho

To start off the Nu Sig pledge season a candlelight ceremony was held at Gil Prokop's home in which pledges were assigned their big brothers. Afterwards a "soda pop" party was held with Gil's mother serving delicious sandwiches.

In preparation for the on-coming baseball tournament, a few of the Nu Sigs went to Roosevelt Park to practice. All went well until a few of the men got into trouble. Just ask Dick Meskoshy, Dan Donifrio, Bob Buccieri and Gil Prokop. They will be happy to tell you all about it.

Plans are being made for their Alumni organization. The Nu Sigs have been practicing for the I.F.C. Sing. Under the direction of Dick Popson, the boys are singing whole heartedly.

Beta Sigma Omicron

The Beta Sigs would like to congratulate their sisters, Nancy Puskar, Newman Club May Queen, Joann Witherow, an attendant in the court, Barb Wenz, who was elected treasurer of R.I.L.L., Peg Potts, who was elected secretary of R.I.L.L. and Nancy Puskar, vice president of Newman Club. Congratulations also to all the girls in the Newman Club May Queen court.

The Beta Sig actives have been recuperating from "turn-about" day, which took place on April 18. The Beta Sigs have enjoyed two successful parties with the Phi Gams and the Sig Sigs.

The Beta Sig actives would like to thank the pledges for doing such a lovely job of modeling the fashions from the "Beta House of Fashions" at the Greek Mixer on the April 25. (What you have to go through when you're a pledge!)

Phi Mu

The Phi Mu field secretary arrived April 25 to spend ten days with the sorority. The slumber party that was held at Janet Smeltzer's was a great success. No sleep and plenty of laughs.

The sorority is now approaching everyone with their May Day Raffle tickets. Have you gotten your ticket yet so you can win the G.E. clock radio?

Chosen the outstanding pledges of the week were Lillian Shook and Phyllis Trope.

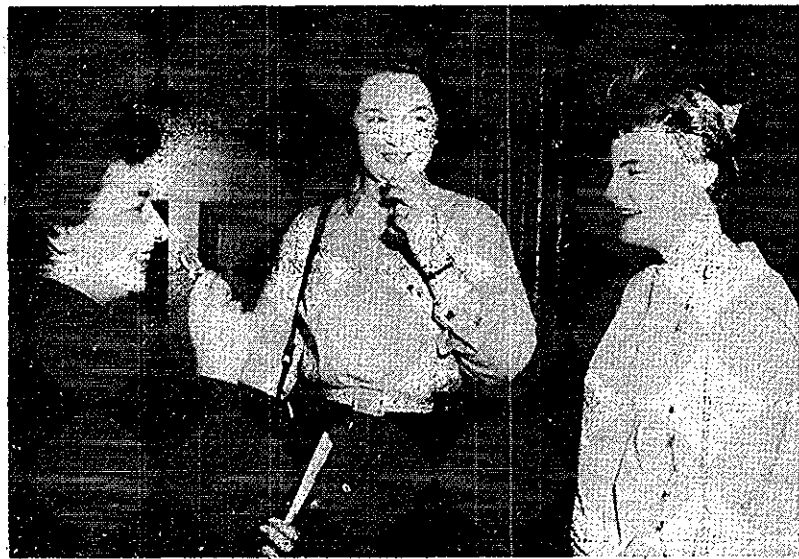

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The Sig Eps have been busy for the last couple of weeks, and by the looks of things will be till the end of Everyone seems to have enjoyed themselves at the Greek Mixer. Thanks to everyone who made it a success, my co-chairman Bob Covelli, the sororities and fraternities, who put on the skits, (you, too, Gene Kouch and Winnie Creps) and everyone who cooked the hot dogs. One last remark though, why didn't you eat more hot dogs?

The Kappa Sigs, Sig Sigs and the Sig Eps are looking forward to the Tri-Sig blast that will be held at Venetti's grove. A warning from experience -- take your football helmets, they have hard floors especially when you fall on your head.

school. A little get-together was held at Barbara Miller's house after the Junior Prom. The Gamma Sig party was a success and even Jambar editor Tudhope took time off from the paper to go.

A bright note on the sports side is that under the leadership of Lou Gossick, Sig Eps defeated R.O.T.C. softball team 4-3.

In the future there is a party lined up with the Phi Mus on the 10, a hayride on the 13, and a party with the Phi Lams on the 25. The Tri-Sig Blast has been finally set for the 9 of May at Venetti's grove. This should keep the fellows busy for awhile.

Congratulations, to the newly elected officers of R.I.L.L. and the Newman Club.

One of the Sig Ep charter members was home for a leave recently. He is 2nd Lieutenant Jack Persch of U.S. Army. They are also happy to announce that the pledges are anxiously awaiting the NIGHT!

GAMMA SIGMA

Gamma Sigs held a party recently with the Kappa Sigs. Presenting a delightful program were the pledges of both groups. Mistress and Master of ceremonies were Mo Cooney and Marv Levy. One of the highlights of the show was Pat Quinlan and Bob Hawkins, singing "This Old House."

Recently also the Gamma Sigs were honored by a show put on by the Sig Ep fraternity at a party on April 24. Jim Bordenkircher had trouble selling Nancy O'Connor a pair of shoes, though.

The Gamma Sigs have been practicing for the Greek sing very earnestly. They are looking forward to two weddings that will be held in June, Nancy O'Connor and Ella Clark. Ella was the former writer of the Greek column is now teaching in Boardman, while Nancy O. is working at WPMJ.

Coming soon is the sorority's annual dinner dance. Congratulations to Cookie Korody, the Gamma Sig's choice for May Day queen.

The "glorious" night was held recently. Poor Mo Cooney was very surprised to see that she still had her pony tail, while Joanne Keschak and Dot Daley are singing "Oh, what a night it was!"

PHI LAMBDA DELTA

The Phi Lamb pledges are still comparing the "glorious night" scars. Margene Flannery is still chuckling over the way she administered raw egg, vinegar and shoe polish shampoos. Judy Millard and Pat Hrinko had only one statement to make after the evening's activities were over -- "Wait till next year".

The Phi Lams would like to congratulate their sister Jean Palatas, their nominee for May Queen. Also to Joyce Van Sack and Bob Reesch and Carol Pachell and Bob Magni on their recent engagements.

The Phi Lams have been attending many parties lately. A good time was had by all at the Ma-Fe Club with the Sig Delt's. Everyone is still feeling the effects of the 'Kappa Sig party. Mrs. Gugliem's "Untidy Joseph's" made a big hit - everyone came back for seconds.

Everyone wondered who the mystery guest was with the red face. It was none other than Eileen Larson, who fell asleep under the sun lamp.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Highlighting the events of the nationalization of the Pi Beta Chi fraternity will be the formal installation of members on May 5, and on Sunday, May 6. A banquet at the Victoria Cafe will wind up the nationalization program.

Toastmaster at the banquet will be Jack Schaffer. Many last minute details are being taken care of by the Activities Committee, under the direction of George (B.J.) Beelen. Social activities for the next two weeks will be parties with the Phi Lams and the Gamma Sigs.

PHI GAMMA

Congratulations are certainly in order for the members of Sigma Sigma, the brand new chapter of Theta Chi fraternity.

An informal opening of the new frat rooms of the Phi Gams, was held last week with a party with the Beta Sigs. Seems everyone had a nice quiet time, but Don Infante, can't understand why dancing isn't permitted on Market St.

The rooms were the scene for a date party last Saturday night. The Phi Gams can't understand Major Rein flaking out so early in the evening.

In the first practice baseball game of the Phi Gams, they evaded the soldiers from R.O.T.C. behind the speed balling of "Big Richard".

Browsing Around

With Ernie Gauld

Well, here we are back in the old swing of things after the JAMBAR staff's rousing trip to the Ohio College Newspaper Association Convention in Steubenville where I picked up a few scandal items.

Did you know that Pat Muretic has the most beautiful elbows ever seen? Just ask the boys from Bowling Green. In fact they were going to start a little side show and charge admission for a look at "the most beautiful elbows in the world."

Of course our prominent editor, John "Scoop" Tudhope, and sub-editor, John "Copy boy" Poulson spent the entire weekend talking shop. It seems that the only editors they met were girls, I wonder why?

They sure had a good newspaper staff at Miami. If you don't think so, just ask Ernie "My Namesake" Greenberg. Seems that she and Miami's business manager became very friendly.

I can't forget Joan Pavlov. Our delegation voted her as "the person who got into more trouble than all the rest of us put together." Ask her to sing a certain little melody that she "learned" that weekend. WELL, JOANIE!!

And many, many thanks to our dearly beloved advisor who accompanied us to Steubenville, Prof. Harold "No questions asked" Crites; without whose guidance and cooperation the Convention could not have been a success.

Since your old dad's writing this column, you aren't going to find anything out about him. All I will say is that "I had a BALL!"

During my "browsing" I came across some very good "definitions" which I like.

Pink elephant: beast of bourbon

Diploma: a sheepskin that a graduate uses to pull the wool over some employer's eyes.

Upperclassmen: students who are a shining example for freshmen... shining because they are either bright, lit up, or polishing the apple.

Did you know that Louise D'Agostino has discovered a new way of getting through college? All you have to do is rush pledges before school starts and have them as pledges for four years. Each active is given one pledge who is required to go to class, take tests, and use the active's name. Upon graduation the pledge turns over the diploma to the active and is then given "hell night" and made an active. Simple, isn't it?

Bill Burby and Jim Hudson, their pledgemasters, are keeping the new pledges on the ball. As soon as they add a few finishing touches to their rooms a formal opening will be announced. Look out!

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

The Kappa Sig inaugurated the 1956 Intramural softball season with a 5-2 win over the Bombers. Al Sandel pitched no hit ball until the final inning when he was nipped for two singles. Bill McCabe's home run featured the hitting attack while John Pavlov's perfect strike to the plate to cut off a run was the defensive gem of the game.

The Kappa Sig-Gamma Sig party was one of the highlights of the social season. A show by the pledges of both organizations put on an hour of very fine entertainment. Future Thespians included, Tom Glosier, Bob Hawkins, "New Jersey" George Taylor, the singing angel. Joe New spent the evening teaching the pledges his latest hit tune from Tokyo. The show was so good they decided to put another on for the Phi Lamb party. The highlights of the second show was a ventriloquist act by the Glosier brothers and Norma Jo Mitchell's Eloise.

Pledge of the month is Steve Valentasis, his selection was due to the direction of the Kappa Sig pledge show and the fine job he did on the paddles. Active of the month is Bob O'Neil, for his fine work on the constitution.

Congratulations to Bucky Gillespie for his election as Publicity chairman of Newman Club.

SIGMA SIGMA

On Wednesday, April 11, the new Sig Sig pledges were welcomed at a stag held at the American Legion hall. During the past few weeks, the pledges have been showing their appreciation for being accepted into the fraternity, by shining shoes, washing cars and etc.

The Sig Sigs started off the intramural softball season with a 7-0 win.

Hitting star of the contest was Rennie Domini with three hits. The team has high hopes of being in contention for the league championship.

A baseball excursion to Cleveland is being planned on Monday night, May 14, when the New York Yankees are in town. So far, thirty of the members have signed to go, and a bus is being chartered. The Indian fans outnumber the Yankee fans 2-1. "But everyone knows one good Yankee fan is worth 25 Indian fans," says Bill Metzler.

Engineers And Phys. Scientists Needed By Gov't.

Faced with an urgent Government wide need for an estimated 8,700 professional engineers and certain categories of Physical scientists in the next 12 months, the Civil Service Commission today raised starting salaries for these jobs for the third time in approximately a year.

Beginning today, persons hired for such positions in all Federal agencies will receive a starting salary of $4,480 a year instead of $4,345 if they have a bachelor's degree or equivalent experience. They will be hired at grade GS-5. Those with a master's degree or equivalent experience will receive a starting salary of $5,335 a year instead of $4,930. They will be hired at grade GS-7.

Affected are professional engineers, physicists, chemists, electronic scientists, metallurgists, astronomers, mathematicians, architects, patent examiners, meteorologists (grade GS-5 only), seven types of technologists, and geophysicists specializing in earth physics, geomagnetics and seismology.

Increases Authorized

Above-minimum pay increases are authorized under 1954 legislation designed by Congress to give the Federal Government a fair share of critically needed personnel. This latest raise is intended to bring into Federal service by April 1, 1957, an estimated 3,700 employees at grade GS-7 and about 5,000 at grade GS-5.

It is estimated that about 1,200 employees already are employed in the Federal Government in these categories at grade GS-5 and 2,800 at grade GS-7. These employees also will receive the new minimum salaries.

BEHIND LOCKER ROOM DOORS

By Don Infante

With the Yankees picked to win, and the Athletics, Senators, and Orioles almost certain to comprise the American League picture does not seem to be radically changed.

Although these three clubs are all hopelessly outclassed in the Junior League race the scramble in the first division should prove to be interesting.

The New York Yankees have two problems - scraping together a pitching rotation and settling their infield. However, after Casey settles this, he should have clear sailing. In the outfield Stengel has a host of power headed by Mantle and Bauer, who should cause considerable trouble to opposing pitchers, and of course, handling the catching will be "Yogi" Berra who hopes to improve on last year's performance. After all, it is sort of embarrassing to be named MVP again, when only hitting .272.

Two Are Improved

As far as Boston and Chicago are concerned, they both are teams to watch. Each team is loaded with good-looking youngsters and both stand a chance of upsetting the apple cart. Boston still has T. W. along with their one-man team, Billy Goodman, and if their pitching holds up, it is possible that they might win their first pennant since 1946.

Chicago pitching seems sound and should be effective. However, they are shy on reserve strength and are my choice to finish second, if not first.

Being realistic, the only thing that could keep Cleveland in the race is their pitching staff, and several of those have reached the age where they may no longer be able to carry the load. Al Lopez may therefore, have to shift the load to the younger pitchers like Herb Score, Don Mossi, and Ray Narleski. Rocky Colavito should be interesting to watch, although only batting .286 at Indianapolis he did hit 30 home runs and bat in 104 runs.

The Detroit Tigers have the speed to rate a chance as a first division club, but won't threaten seriously until they develop a pitching staff and a few power hitters. With Al Kaline, league leading hitter at .340, and Bill Tuttle, they have an excellent start.

All in all, the American League race should prove to be very interesting, with the competition in the top division teams being close and hard fought, especially if the Yankees fail to live up to their expectations.

Once Over Lightly

By Vince Golle

Youngstown University tennis team opened its season at the Volney Rogers Courts on Wednesday April 18, against Geneva. It was a hard fought match but the Covenanters had too much for the Penguins and overwhelmed them 9-0.

The second match of the season was played Friday, April 20, at Volney Rogers against John Carroll University of Cleveland. The squad, although they lost their second match by the same 9-0 score, looked stronger and as the season rolls on may cause a great deal of trouble to some of their ensuing opponents.

Loss To Hiram

The Hiram College netters defeated Youngstown 7-2 at Hiram April 24. Don Garver and Jim Lewis gained the victories for the Penguins in singles matches.

Coach Ashmus has a young team. Last year the team lost five lettersmen through graduation. The team this year has been built around Randy Seay, Paul Scheurer, Jim Lewis, and Jim Hart. The new members of the team include, Don Garver, a Westminster College transfer, Dave Perdue and Ralph Lane. The schedule for the remainder of the year is:

May 4	Gannon	Home
May 8	Kent State	Home
May 9	Fenn	There
May 11	John Carroll	There
May 15	Mt. Union	Home
May 18	Gannon	There

treasurer, Charles McCabe; and sergeant-at-arms, Pete Hazifotis.

Linksmen Win Four Lose One

A full slate of matches is on schedule for the Penguin golfers. Victorious in four of their first five matches, the squad had three more meets on tap for this week. They opposed John Carroll University on Monday, Kent State on Wednesday and this afternoon they will match strokes with the Grove City team on the home course, the Mahoning Country Club.

Seeking to continue their fast pace after dumping the College of Steubenville, 18-0, in the season's opener, the team stopped the Geneva-Covenanters, 10-8, on April 18 at Mahoning C.C. The match was sparked by Pete Rosko's 74, which took medalist honors, and included a sub-par second round.

On Monday, January 23, the squad traveled to Erie, Pennsylvania, to take on Gannon College. The Penguins emerged with a 9½ to 8½ victory. In medalist play, Seginak's 72 and Rosko's 73 led the Penguins, but Galko, Kupka, and Gorbey amassed 2½ points each to point the way in that department. Walsh and Moffatt paced the Gannon team with 18-hole totals of 72 and 73.

With three triumphs in four matches on their record, the squad traveled to meet Slippery Rock State Teachers' College, and emerged victorious, 6½ to 2½. Four members of the team broke 80, and everyone cut into the scoring column, for the second time this season. Rosko's 72 and Galko's 75 led the visitors from Youngstown, and Assione's 76 was low total for Slippery Rock.

The locals met a tartar in John Carroll, succumbing to them, 13-5, for their initial setback of the season. The Penguins were paced by co-captains Ed Seginak and Pete Rosko, who had rounds of 73 and 74, respectively. Kenning, with 74, and Behm, with 77, led the invaders from Cleveland.

Beede Needs Signal-caller

It may seem out of line to be writing about football at this time of year, but actually football season will be here before we know it. Already many local high schools are winding-up spring practice.

The number one ill here at the University is Coach "Dike" Beede's need for a competent quarterback. With ace men Dick Franko and Frank Beck graduating this summer, and with Homer Green, who was slated for full-time duty in the service, the Penguins are left without a pilot. No one on the squad is capable of moving up, since Beede was priming Green for the position.

East High's Cox

Without a prospect on the present roster, a quarterback will have to be taken from a local high school. The pipeline has it that East High's Jerry Cox may decide to come to Youngstown University. Cox is an amazing ball handler and an excellent passer and runner. He was a unanimous choice for All-City.

East High has given the university many noted men, among them Dom Delsignore, George Suadey, Jim Dellick, Ronnie Stoops, and the two Santillo brothers are the most recent.

Probably the reason the University does not get the outstanding men of the area is that Big Ten and other Conference Colleges can offer them attractive rewards. This is currently being under-fire by an investigating committee.
