Question: Recently it was mentioned to Student Council to have a Grievance Committee. This committee would hear suggestions and the various complaints of students and try to improve the conditions. What is your opinion on this suggestion of having a GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE?

Diana Stizza: Freshman

I believe that the main purpose of the Student Council is to satisfy the needs and wants of the students, therefore, the best possible way of doing this, would be to talk to the people who have the complaints. The only organized and efficient way of doing this would be to have a Grievance Committee.

Joseph Popadics: Sophomore

I feel that a Grievance Committee is an excellent idea. Students would feel more free about bringing complaints and suggestions to a committee set up specifically for this purpose than to bring their ideas to student council. A committee organized for this definite purpose would have a more thorough understanding of the problems and could therefore be more effective in improving the conditions.

Mary Louise Perunko: Junior

Although I'm not too familiar with the Grievance Committee, it sounds like a fine idea. A committee hearing suggestions and complaints of students would certainly be in a position to evaluate the most important ones if by no other means than the frequency with which they are mentioned. However, the power of the committee to correct or improve conditions would determine more than anything else, its use and importance.

Barbara Knott: Senior

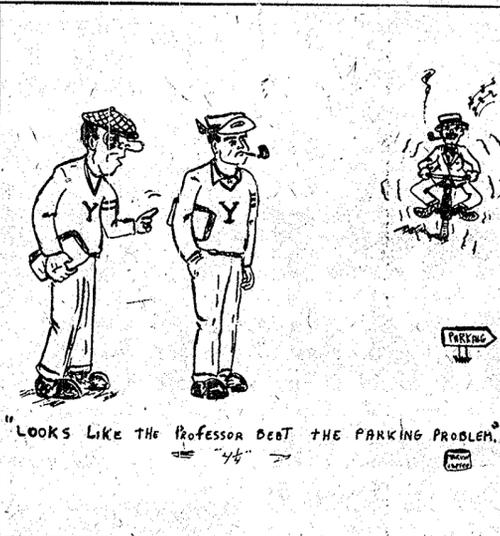

This is an excellent idea. However, it will only be successful if the students themselves take the time to go to a meeting and let their suggestions be heard. This will be wonderful for those who are always complaining to do something about it. I pity the poor members of the Committee, tho. They will really have to be patient and understanding.

William Gereb: Freshman

The effectiveness of such a committee has proved highly successful in other organizations because of its ability to obtain a more thorough understanding of the problem. I am very much in favor of a Grievance Committee and I think it would benefit the school a great deal.

ENGINEER'S ANGLES

As we sit here pondering on who to turn our wrath on next in this articulate masterpiece of literary genius we notice that the holiday spirit is already taking its toll among the students. We have suspicions that all the red noses are not from the cold weather. All right you guys where do you have your hide?

The other day we happened to walk into the thermo. lab and was taken back aghast by the sight that met our bloodshot eyes. We noticed hanging on the wall a barometer that was made in the land of Sherwood Forest. What we wonder is how did this pass the security setup to screen all foreign matter coming into "Charlignom's Chalet".

Upon strolling down the basement hall the other day we heard some strange utterances coming from around the corner. Upon investigating we discovered that we have acquired a mechanical bovine amongst the nourishment dispensers.

Smoke Control

A news item from the Engineering School states that a smoke control ordinance is going into effect in the A.C. apparatus lab. The cause for this movement is that a few of the boys were seen blowing the smoke away from a transformer so that they could read the meters. The very resourceful Bob Mazur rushed out for some marshmallows because he said he hated to see a good fire going to waste.

We heard Sam Grist exclaim the other day 30,000 students would give their right arm to be the instructor of this lab. We understand Sam now has decision of what to do with 30,000 right arms.

We are now about to try something unusual for us, we are going to get serious for a moment since Thanksgiving is approaching we should think of it not as a day off from school, for football games and a big dinner but as a time when we should give thanks for all our blessings.

It is really great to live in a land where you can choose your own vocation without someone forcing you to do anything against your will. I would really like to see more of the engineers in Chapel at Wednesday noon, not only during the holiday season but all year around.

I must sign off now and go wrestle with a drumstick.

Think A Minute

Those football cheers are echoes now. The smell of burning leaves has long since gone. Even on a sunny day the stark bareness of the trees proclaims the advent of winter. And so we have Thanksgiving with us again.

What has our University got to be thankful for? What do we, as students, have to make us feel any more secure or confident about our university's future?

An interesting question, to be sure. Each year at this time the JAMBAR attempts to answer both. And this year we feel we can.

We have at the helm a man who has given, thus far, twenty-five years of his life-time to making our University what it is today - President of Youngstown University, Dr. Howard W. Jones.

We have a good faculty, many of whose members are experts in not just one but many fields of academic achievement.

We will see within the next five years better parking for students, a new science building, a new physical education building and a new student union.

We will see the enrollment of today doubled in less time than we think.

But how does this tie into the present? Quite simply, because the groundwork for all that progress of the future is being firmly set in place right now, each day, each year.

And this year's progress is one more chapter in Youngstown University's book of advancement.

When you're savoring that Thanksgiving turkey, why not think a little about your University? There's really a lot to be thankful for. Don't you agree?

New Committee

In showing its continued interest in the student here at Youngstown University, Student Council has instituted a new committee for our use.

It is called the Grievance Committee. It is composed of two members of Council, Robert Bucher and Robert Mazur. Its purpose is to listen to the complaints of each individual student on any problem concerning the University that they think might be corrected.

Almost every student has some suggestions that would help our University as a whole. Suggestions such as placing more pencil sharpeners in the classrooms, putting cigarette machines in the main building and sweeping the floor in the cafeteria more often.

Any problem or grievance, no matter how large or trivial, is welcomed by this committee.

As editor of this student newspaper, I might also suggest that any discontentment among students concerning any aspect of the paper should be directed to this committee rather than to the editor or members of the staff.

It should also be mentioned that the grievances and problems do not necessarily have to be directed only to Mr. Bucher and Mr. Mazur. Contact with any member of Student Council will warrant immediate action on the problem, Council states.

Some Kent students answered the age old question, "Why did you come to Kent?" in this way: "It's easy to get home from!" Well it's a reason, isn't it?

HEADLINE HEADACHES

In our scanning of many papers, we find that others also make mistakes. A couple of examples: "Janitor charged with battery" - Cincinnati Times Star. "Five shady seniors take scholarship exams" - Beckley Post Herald.

DAFFY DEFINITIONS

A Dime - A dollar with taxes taken out.

Golddigger - A girl who breaks a date by going out with them.

Man - What he becomes when he stops asking his father for a larger allowance, and begins asking for a loan.

Hors d'oeuvres - A ham sandwich cut in forty pieces.

College Education - A compromise between the right and wrong answers.

English Professor - A man who decides how you should have written an essay after you have written it.

MORE SEATS

Ohio State University

A plan has been devised to double the seating capacity of the big horseshoe. Merely sell each seat in the stadium twice. Give the guy who pays the regular price the privilege of sitting on the lap of the person who shares the location.

Sell the person underneath his ticket cut-rate in view of the burden he'll have to bear. Sort of a carrying charge. This plan has disadvantages along with the advantages of having a pretty co-ed sitting on-one's lap.

Spanish Club Sees Slides of Guatemala

The Nov. 8 meeting of the Spanish Club featured slides of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potter's recent trip to Guatemala. The brilliant life and costumes of this Central American country was skillfully portrayed in the shots of Guatemala City and Antigua, where the festival of Santiago was being celebrated in the ruins of the ancient cathedral.

Mrs. Potter described the events of the past summer as the pictures were being shown. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

During the business meeting, it was decided that the first project of the current year would be a book sale, held in the library, Nov. 19-20. The proceeds of the sale will go into the club's scholarship fund.

The program for the next meeting will present Dr. Alfonso Garcia, who will speak to the group about Archaic poetry. Dr. Garcia is professor of Latin American history, and is connected with the Catholic Charities. He was formerly Director of the Puerto Rican Center in Youngstown.

Foreign Students Have First Meeting

Members of the International Student Organization held their first annual banquet of the year at China Lane on November 4. The group honored Dr. E.B. Smith, who was the guest speaker of the evening. Dr. Smith addressed the members with a talk on Understanding the American Political System.

After the banquet, the organization proceeded with its meeting to discuss future plans for the coming year. A trip to Pitt University will be the big concern of the group for November.

The group favored a tour through one of the steel mills, which was suggested by Dr. Smith. The tour will possibly be conducted in December. A trip to New York is also being planned at a later date.

Anyone Interested

All students, American and Foreign enrolled at Youngstown University who might be interested in the International Students Organization are welcome to attend meetings held every second and last Friday of the month at Pollock House.

Anyone wishing more information about the organization can contact Tony DiPaolo, RI 4-4493 or Anthony Morano, RI 7-0073.

IT'S GREEK TO ME

By Pat Hrinko and Pat Gubany

With the Phi Lam Sweater Dance and Theta Chi Harvest Moon Dance on the agenda this Thanksgiving holiday, the Greeks have much socializing to look forward to during this long weekend.

Congratulations to the Kappa Sigs on their successful Sadie Hawkins Day Dance; the Library Ribbon Dance and the Beta Sig's on their delightful Minstrel Show and Dance.

During this weekend of celebrating, let's not forget the true meaning of Thanksgiving and do as Eddie Fisher says, "Count Your Blessings!"

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

Kappa Sigs' T.V. celebrity, Vinnie Creps looked mighty good Saturday night on the stage of Stambaugh Auditorium pledging Kappa Sigs' donation to the Cerebral Palsy Fund.

The second rush party of the current rush season was held, Sunday, Nov. 11 at the beautiful new pavilion in Wick Park. Former president, Ray Baker spoke, as only he can, on "Fraternalism and Brotherhood." Movies were shown by brother Jim Nagy of the 1956 Homecoming Parade.

The brothers would like to extend to Ed Tragesser and his wonderful hard-working committee, their loudest congratulations for a successful and enjoyable Sadie Hawkins Day celebration and dance.

Prizes for the best Dogpatch style dress were awarded to Joan Ault and Tim Abraham. Congratulations Joan and Tim. The semester's tuition or cash equivalent raffle was won by Jack Lehnerd of 37 Halleck Street in Youngstown.

The Kappa Sig's wish to thank Mayor Frank X. Kryzan and County Engineer Sam Gould for being such good sports in taking part in the days' festivities. Also thanks to all those who patronized the 20th Annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance.

The Kappa Sig's would also like to thank all the beautiful Daisy Mae's and Hopeful's for next year for doing your part in the chase at the game, the wedding chase, the WFMJ-TV show as well as the dance. Your help was appreciated.

Rushing Chairman Dick Reilly announces the third and final rush party was held Sunday, November 18 at the Club 422 in the form of a banquet. Honored guests included Mayor Frank X. Kryzan, County Engineer Sam Gould, Professor Willard Webster, Dean of Men, John Gillespie, County Commissioner Tom Carney, Mr. William Flas and Mr. Philip Buchanan. Guest speaker of the evening was Attorney Nybell, Assistant City Prosecutor.

Congratulations to brother Buck Gillespie, newly elected Secretary of Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity.

The Kappa Sigs' athletic spirits were uplifted once again with their recent win of a football game with Theta Chi. The score was 40-0.

Phi Mu

Friday night, an initiation ceremony will begin pledging season for four girls. The new candidates for Phi Mu are Betty Maino, Faye Baker, Margaret Wallace and Nancy Zumerick. The affair will be held at Nancy O'Neil's, an alumni of Phi Mu.

The home of another alumni Janet Davis was the setting of a formal meeting Friday night. Plans were discussed for future events through the Christmas season. The remainder of the evening was spent in enjoyment at the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Congratulations are extended to Phi Mu president and sister Lucille Elias, on being chosen Snowflake Frolic Chairman and to her committee. The Phi Mu's would also like to congratulate the hostesses "Chuckie" Van den Handle from Phi Mu; Peggy Tiller; Phi Lambda Delta; Joan Sinistra, Gamma Sig; Peg Kramer, Beta Sigma Omicron; Lorana Jones, Delta Sigma Theta and the Independent Hostess Veronica Swider.

T-E-A-M

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Thanks to some fast work by one of the fraters, Joe Ula, the Tekes and guests enjoyed a fine dinner at Palazzo's on Midlothian Boulevard, Sunday. Because of some mix up, their earlier reservation for the feast was canceled at 3:00 the same afternoon. As things turned out, everybody had a swell time and a swell dinner, too.

It looks as if some of the fellows will just have to improve their bowling score. Last week a few fraters spent the weekend at Beta Rho chapter of T.K.E. at the University of Akron, where they went down to defeat on the tenpin alleys at the hands of the Beta Rho Tekes.

However, a win can be chalked up for Brother Frank So, who took a trip down to the campus of Miami University, last weekend, to see his "one and only" Carolyn. We understand Frank and his friend, Jim Carr were received with the utmost hospitality, at the Miami TKE house.

One of the fraters has "met his Waterloo" by taking the big step across the "Rubicon". All kidding aside, congratulations and well wishes to Brother George Beeleh who got married last Saturday.

By the way, the Tekes are thinking of electing Bob King as their new social chairman because of the (huge) success of the party that he planned, Dec. 9

Alpha Pi Epsilon

Alpha Pi Epsilon would like to thank everyone who attended their dance after the football game. Everything went off well until the record player wouldn't work but Barb Bussinger came to the rescue.

The first rush party went off very well. They didn't know there was such talented people in their sorority, the skit was really something. Mary Lou Perunko must stay up nights thinking of crazy skits to do.

The sisters were happy to see so many of their alumni at the rush party. Games and skits highlighted the second rush party which was held on Wednesday, November 14.

The sorority is making final plans for the doll contest to be held in December.

Nu Sigma Rho

The Nu Sig's would like to extend their congratulations and also their best wishes to Jack Menosky, newly appointed editor of the "NEON". Chuck "Church" Lynn is finally catching up on his letter writing as corresponding secretary.

The second rush party of the Nu Sig's proved to be a great success with the rushees and actives both enjoying themselves under the guidance of Doctor Glenn. The brothers recently received a letter from Robert Jaarsma, an honorary fraternity brother from Holland, who attended Y.U. last year.

Robert misses the hospitality of the Americans and remarks that after being in America for a year, he finds the boys in the university in Holland are too conservative.

Tom Pacic, Gerry Rowe, Don Keck, Dick Moskosky, Dennis Katsaras, Dan Donofrio, Jack Menosky, Jerry Kuzma, John Andreyko and Gil Prokop decided to exercise a little Sunday, but soon found out that age and lack of exercising claimed many the following day.

Phi Gamma

The Phi Gam's held their second rush party on Nov. 2 at the frat room. With a huge crowd in attendance, it was no wonder that so many came out looking as if an explosion had gone off.

If some of the Phi Gam's look a little bleary-eyed around campus, maybe it's because they're filling their new mugs a few too many times.

The third rush party was held Sat. Nov. 17. All who attended enjoyed themselves and the Phi Gam's are looking forward to a great pledge class, who will be under the capable leadership of Ernie Hammar and Jack "Iron Head" McGuire.

Since Bob Czepak has his hands full of work and studies, he has been

Looking Around...

With Ernie Gauld and Bill Sponsler

Well, it seems now that midterms are over we can all settle down to the nice easy quiet life of the cafeteria again.

Someone ought to tell Ranny Guttridge that, there are laws against shooting professors. Anyway it is much easier to think up excuses to get out of class. Excuses thought up by some freshmen like Joyce Flak, Jerry Pierce, Joetta Smur, and Ronnie Robertson, for instance, are disgustingly weak in structure.

But upperclassmen like Jim Bucher, Jim Hudson, and Bill Metzler are getting to be masters at the art. Of course they get all their training from the old master himself, Joe Reddick, who spends hours thinking up new methods, looking into professors backgrounds, etc. He even uses blackmail when confronted with a stubborn prof.

Joe probably knows more about each professor here than they do themselves. Joe's motto is, "Tell a prof, a little sensible lie and he probably won't believe you; but if you tell him a real wopper he will skip class with you."

Besides these connivers, we also have some very diligent workers around here who have one aim in life-Parties. Seriously though, if you haven't got your alcohol for your car yet, you should see Ed Tragesser, Ed Bair, and Tony DiPaolo. They will be glad to be of service for a nominal fee.

And if anyone knows "alcohol" these guys sure do. There is only one catch to the whole deal. You had better throw in an extra pint (typographical error, it should have been fifth, excuse again, gallon is the word).

What's this about Karl Mogg starting off the semester with fifteen hours and dropping twelve! Karl now has a total of three hours (which he cuts anyway), for those who are not mathematically inclined. But, don't worry. Karl still has oodles of extra-curricular activities to keep him busy.

Ed Vanivk recently carbon dated and epigraphized our cafeteria.

For the non-pulsed, carbon dating is the radio-active method of determining the age of organic material. Epigraphy is the study of inscriptions. And what he found out about the "good old" cafe!

From the inscriptions on the tables, Ed has concluded that Y.U. has long been a center of culture. And they must have produced a long line of artists and scholars. The artists are Ginny Sumner and Deanna Fix who practice drawing "people" for graphic arts. As far as scholars go, you've got us stumped.

Ed also discovered lots of Greek symbols which he interprets as the revival of the Renaissance cult of classical letters.

Tim Abraham is really in his glory now after being chosen the "best dressed" at the Sadie Hawkins Day dance. (Don't anyone hurt his feelings and tell him the prize was really for the "sloppiest bum.") After all, he graduated from the eighth grade in the tie he had on. We all hope that if, and when, he graduates from college he will wear a little more than just a tie!

One course this school doesn't offer that it sure needs is a course in driving, especially for absent minded sergeants who forget to put the brake on when they park a truck on a hill and let it roll back down the hill and hit another car. Ask Sgt. Cruise what he thinks about this course.

In closing, a word of advice to all men planning to get married or who are married. Alimony is like buying oats for a dead horse.

sending some of his Warren sweethearts to a capable brother, Tom Ceranic, who is never too busy.

In closing the Phi Gam's would like to wish one and all, a happy Thanksgiving.

Gamma Sigma

Congratulations to Loretta "Lip" Liptak and Jody Konesky upon their appointment to who's Who in American Colleges. Congratulations, also, to all the other students who were recently chosen to this organization.

Last Thursday night, the Gamma Sig's and Kappa Sig's held a party. The party was wonderful and all had a lot of fun. The Gamma Sig's want to thank the Kappa Sig's for such a great party.

Plans are now being made for the annual Christmas party to be held sometime during December. Co-chairmen for the party are Anna Marie Shan and Patty Jo O'Brien.

The Gamma Sig's had a terrific time at the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance and also at the chase held in the afternoon. "Daisy Mae" (Helen Reardon) and "L'il Abner" (Bob D'Amico) really had the right spirit. Congratulations to Joan Ault and Tim Abraham for winning first prize for their unique costumes.

The Gamma Sig's wish the Theta Chi's success on their coming Harvest Moon Dance.

Alpha Phi Delta

Alpha Phi Delta, again for the third year, is conducting the Organizational Drive in the annual Library Fund Drive. Al Guerrieri, fraternity treasurer, is general chairman of the Library Fund Drive.

Nov. 1 saw another rush party which was again held at "Buchies Hideaway". The rushees and members are still commenting on the good time they had. The evening's activity was augmented by the presence of Mike Roncone and his "Twilight Serenaders". Another rush party was held Nov. 15 and it also proved successful.

Alpha Phi Delta is joining the other fraternities in the latest fad of the last two years. "Watch for the coming of the Suede".

Sigma Delta Beta

The Sig Deltas had a good time with their rushees at the third rush party of the season which was held on November 11, at the Victoria Cafe. Dean Gillespie was the main speaker. He gave a very enlightening speech on fraternity life.

HOW THE STRAP CAME

by Anita DeVivo and Jia Bordenkircher

Many years ago before the days of sports-cars and pizza-pie, there lived a rugged individualist in an African jungle so full of animals that it was called the Bulgin' Congo. This man was an Oxford graduate with a PhD in spear-throwing, and all the natives loved him for his patience and prudence. They called him Mr. Stripes, because of his natty zebra-skin loin-cloth.

Mr. Stripes was happy there in the jungle. He and his son Tarzan spent their days together swinging from vine to vine. Some days they would join the natives for dinner, other days they would jaw with the beasts.

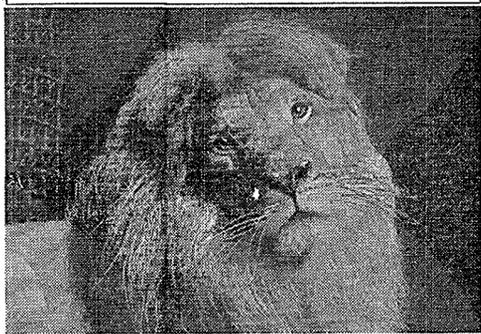

One sunny day Tarzan was resting in his favorite tree when he spied lovely blonde Penelope Livingston coming down the narrow jungle trail with a long column of natives behind her. The natives were carrying many copies of "The GENEVA GUARDIAN"

"The NEW YORK TIMES," and "The JAMBAR" for her brother Stanley. It was the first newspaper column Tarzan had ever seen. He could hardly contain himself when Penelope rustled through the trees and he shouted as he swung on a vine.

Turns on Hi-Fi

Mr. Stripes, disturbed by his son's behavior, turned on his hi-fi recording of the Westminster Chimes signaling Tarzan to report home. There in the Frank Lloyd Wright tree house Mr. Stripes removed the belt from his Bermuda loin-cloth and beat Tarzan with the buckle-end for his lack of inhibitions.

Mr. Stripes realized then that it was time to educate Tarzan in the ways of the civilized world so he sent him to the distant shores of Yale. At Yale Tarzan saw many girls just as beautiful as Penelope, and he took to swinging on the ivy that hung along the school walls. His playful school-mates soon caught on to this great sport and they would join Tarzan in swinging the ivy to watch the girls.

The ivy-swingers grew in number and they decided to form a club. It was called the Ivy League. Tarzan was their first president and at his installation they sang "Tarzan Stripes Forever" in his honor.

Stripes Visits Tarzan

At Homecoming that year Mr. Stripes came to visit Tarzan. He soon learned of his son's ivy-swinging ways. Tarzan's popularity with the students did not deter his father, and right there in front of the whole league, Mr. Stripes beat Tarzan with the buckle-end of his belt until huge buckle-shaped welts began to appear on his back.

The loyal Ivy League, not to let a fellow-member take such unfair punishment, lined up to receive their beatings too. It became the mark of distinction in the Ivy League to have the sign of the belt buckle in the back.

The belt-buckle in the back was passed down from father to son, and since the days of Tarzan Stripes it has come to be the mark of any discriminating man who would swing on the ivy at any college just to get a look at the girls.

Shirley Claret Holds Recital

Three periods in musical history were represented on Wed. evening, Nov. 14, at C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium when Shirley Claret, student of William Hurlbert, gave her senior piano recital in partial fulfillment of the Degree of Bachelor of Music with a major in Music Education.

Miss Claret opened the program with Partita No. 1 in B-Flat Major by Johann Sebastian Bach, a composer from the classical period. The Partita, consisting of a prelude and three dances, displayed intertwining melodies characteristic of the numerous works for piano by Bach.

Adagio Sostenuto from Beethoven's Sonata in C sharp minor, known as the "Moonlight Sonata," presented quite a sudden shift from the rhythmic mechanisms of Bach. Miss Claret performed the Sonata, also from the classical period.

Midway in the program Eva Pia, a sophomore, gave a performance of Mozart's Concerto for Clarinet in A major, accompanied by Marjorie Ebers at the piano. She is a student of Doctor Mark Dolliver.

Plays Prelude

Miss Claret began the second half of the program with Prelude No. 12, Book 1, by Claude Debussy, French composer of the impressionistic period. She also played Nocturne, Opus 19 and Toccata No. 1 by Valarie Jelobinsky.

As a climax, Miss Claret gave a performance of Cantique d'Amour by Franz Liszt, of the romantic period.

After curtain calls, Beverly Knight, piano major, presented Miss Claret a bouquet of red roses from her classmates.

Shirley has been playing the piano for eleven years, having begun her study at the age of nine. She has been taking a minor in voice during her study at Dana's Musical Institute, and plans to teach music in the public school system of Cleveland after her graduation in August.

Shirley is quite active as chairman of the Program Committee of the "Square Dance Club" at the "Y", and was sponsored by Omega Psi Phi Fraternity as a member of the 1956 Homecoming Court.

Integral Part of Y.U.

These recitals are presented regularly on Wednesday evenings at C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium, featuring senior performances, student ensembles, faculty members, and artist recitals. The programs, beginning at 8:00 P.M., are open to all students and the general public.

The next events are: senior recitals by Naomi Boston, clarinet, and Robert Fitch, trumpet, on Nov. 27; Dana Symphony Orchestra concert with Regina Hopfel, piano soloist, on Dec. 5.

President Reviews ROTC Cadets At Annual Corps Night

The Youngstown University ROTC Cadet Regiment, under the command of Cadet Col. Robert Mazur, held its Sixth Annual Corps Night during the halftime of the Youngstown - Gustavus-Adolphus football game.

The Corps Parade was dedicated to all Veterans present in commemoration of Veteran's Day which was Nov. 11.

Highlight of the parade was the presentation of the new Army Song, "The Army Goes Rolling Along." The music resembled the old Artillery Song.

Reviews

Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown University and World War I Veteran, was the reviewing officer. Dr. Joseph Smith, ROTC Coordinator, Youngstown University, and Lt. Col. O.R. Hummel, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, at Youngstown University, were Dr. Jones' staff.

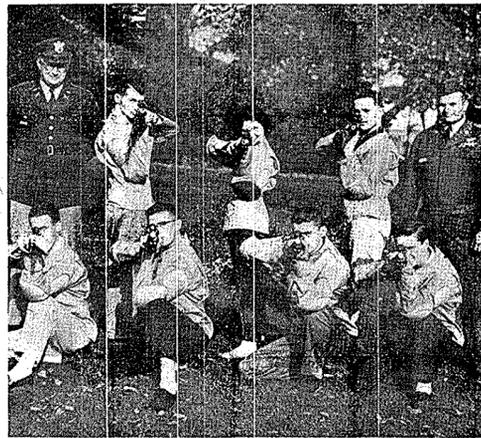

Dr. Jones commented, "The Youngstown University ROTC is stronger than it ever has been as was demonstrated by the excellent review ceremonies to which the band contributed so much. I feel the Corps is to be commended for its outstanding achievement."

Jet's Jargon

By John E. Tudhope

Look out Columbus here we come! The JAMBAR is sending two writers and the editor down to Buckeye land for the Ohio State-Michigan game, all expenses paid. When we arrive back on the scene sometime next week we will give all of the details.

You may think we are kidding when we say sometime next week. We really aren't. If anyone has ever seen a homecoming weekend at a campus school and know what they can be like, just magnify it three times for this game.

Well let's get down to the business at hand. With the end of the football season, the interest of the school can turn to the nice warm confines of the South Field House. The 56-57 edition of the Penguin basketball team has been practicing for the past couple of weeks and will open their season, Dec. 1, at Baldwin Wallace.

The Yellow Jackets will not be as easy to defeat as the B-W football team was. The Berea school always has one of the outstanding teams in the state. They will have Lynn Hawkins back this year to lead the team.

Will Be Handicapped

Youngstown will be handicapped somewhat this year again by the lack of height. Coach Rosselli has only Bob Mayberry, Herb Lake, and Bob Atterholt that he can count on this year. Most of the other men on the team are smaller and may find it difficult to move in the fast college circles.

No matter what the manpower shortage may or may not be the netmen can always be counted on to give a good account of themselves. The Penguins seem to come up with at least one big upset every year.

One year they dumped a Dayton University team that later played in the NIT tournament; another year it was LaSalle and last year it was Akron.

The turnout at the games should be good because the people who won't go to outdoor events because they say it is too cold will have no excuse.

Showed Spirit

If the Youngstown University rooters will show half of the enthusiasm that the Baltimore fans at Cleveland Stadium showed it will certainly stifle any complaints that we don't have any school spirit.

On Nov. 11, four students of the University (including myself) witnessed one of the strangest sights in Professional Football. The spirit that was shown by the fans from Baltimore was almost as much as is shown at many big college games.

The Colts brought their band, and cheerleaders all the way from home to inspire the fans. And believe it or not, there must have been 5,000 fans that had come from Maryland to cheer their team to victory.

The fans joined in the cheers led by the cheerleaders and sang the Colt fight song continuously. All of us were dumbfounded. It has been said that the pros do not have the spirit that the collegians have. All I can say to them is, "You have never seen the Colts play!"

Several Are "Over Hill"

Needless to mention the Colts galloped over the Browns. The Colt line outcharged the Brown line all afternoon. It looks like several of the Brown linemen are over the hill. Frank Gatski was noticeably weak. On almost every play "The Gunner" was knocked down at the line before he could throw a block.

Gatski wasn't the only one who looked bad. Groza and Giron also

Worried

During a crucial moment in the Penguin's contest with Gustavus Adolphus, Coaches Willard Webster, Sloko Gill, and "Dike" Beede try to think up some solution to a problem. It must have been a good solution.

Penguins Defeat Gusties In Final Game Of Season

The Penguin offense took a while to warm up, but it knocked the chill off the cool night when it drove for paydirt twice in the fourth quarter of the season's finale at Rayen Stadium against the Golden Gusties from Minnesota.

Hard-running Dave Kimmel completed his junior year by scoring these two touchdowns and adding to his total yardage gained record 114 yards which makes him near the top among the nation's small college rushing leader with a total of 940 yards in eight games.

Dinner Held

The visiting Gusties were feted at a dinner after the game at the Four-Square Club. Hosts to the team, its coaching staff, chartered plane hostesses and pilots, Youngstown U. officials, their wives and boosters were Vic Johnson and his wife.

Five seniors who finished their college career with the Gustavus Adolphus contest were: Dom Del-Signore, Len Batcha, Tony Cougras, John Rouse, and Tony DeAscentis.

A recent local newspaper editorial commented on the "fresh and interesting" football season just completed at Youngstown University. It lauded the absence of high-pressure methods of increasing football prestige and power here through the coaches, officials, and alumni. The 4-4 season record does not show the success the team has had, playing football against the most formidable opposition a Youngstown squad has ever faced.

Rifle Club Lacks Experience; Drops First Four Meets

The Youngstown University rifle team competing in its fifth year of participation in the Lake Erie Inter-collegiate Rifle Conference, has dropped its first four matches.

M/Sgt. Nick Felt, advisor of the riflemen, contributes the teams lack of victories to lack of experience. Only two lettermen, Willis Wolfe and David Patterson, have returned to the team from last year.

Wolfe, a junior, is the captain of the team. Patterson is a sophomore.

Because of large turnouts of freshmen interested in the rifle team, a freshmen team is being maintained to hold matches against other freshmen collegiate teams.

RESULTS OF MATCHES

Akron	1356-Youngstown	1328
John Carroll	1354-	1339
Kent State	1376-	1361
Gannon	1390-	1363

looked weak. "The Toe" and Abe were not able to clear the path for the ball carriers. Proof of this came two days after the game, when Giron was dropped. It is a shame but it looks like the end of an era for Paul Brown and his men. But you can bet that they will be back next year ripping the league apart.

The reason all of our expenses are being paid to Columbus is because we received the tickets free and are getting rooms gratis.

In closing I would like to congratulate the Penguin football team on the fine season. We didn't win all of the games but the manner in which the men played was something for the school to be proud of. There were many tough opponents on the schedule but the record shows that we don't have to take a back seat to any of them. Hats off to a job well done.

Hernando's Hide-away

By John Hernandez

For some time the question of Youngstown University joining a conference has been popping up consistently, and for good reason because we feel Youngstown U. has gained enough prestige and is so well known that we should join a conference.

But when you get down to the bare facts and set aside the glory and the particulars that come from joining a conference, you must inevitably consider the financial part of the deal.

While reading a recent article in the "Vindicator", I changed my opinion about hastily joining a conference. Coupled with the facts presented by the Vindicator plus some of my own investigation, it comes out that joining a conference is a step which we are not ready yet to make.

The probable conference to join would be the Mid-American, which includes such schools as Miami, Bowling Green, Kent State, Marshall, Western Michigan and Ohio University. These schools are tax supported schools and can afford to enter well equipped teams. If they finish in the red, they requisition cash to make up the deficit. We can't do this. Our athletic program is operated on too tight a basis.

Bigger Staff Added

Another angle that must be considered is that of entering the school in all sports programs. That means track, golf, football, basketball, baseball, tennis, swimming, etc. That would necessitate more equipment and, consequently more coaches. Sending teams such as this to far away places is just impractical. And we would have to play games away. This brings up another point.

We are hampered by the fact that we do not have our own stadium. We don't have a football field, a baseball field, a track or a golf course. We must, for the present, use facilities of the city. Conference schools are blessed with these gifts. Until someone donates their backyard for a stadium and the cash to build one, we will have to operate on our present arrangement.

But don't think that our administration is sitting idly and viewing the matter with disinterest. If you have this opinion, I can assure you that those in charge of the University are trying to remedy our ills. They realize that joining a conference would be great.

It would help the school in many ways, such as drawing more students who like to go to big schools. It would also benefit the teams for they would get the spirit of fighting for something, such as a conference championship. Already Youngstown is beginning to absorb the top talent that graduates from our city schools. In the past these boys were going to the "Big" schools, where they figured they could make a better name for themselves.

Has Grown

But as I said before, Youngstown U. has grown, and it is no longer regarded as a "second choice" school. We are getting the big boys, and this can only serve to strengthen our name.

There is a very strong possibility that we will have a baseball team in the spring. Nothing, as yet, is final but Dom Rosselli is working hard at it. This proves that we are on the march and that within a very short time we will realize the reality of joining a conference.

FINAL STATISTICS

As yet, the final statistics for Youngstown University football have not been completely tabulated, but here are some of the facts which we managed to dig up:

Davey Kimmel was undoubtedly the top ground gainer for the Beede eleven. The "red head" carried the leather 168 times and ground out an amazing total of 940 yards. This is an average of around 115 per game. Y-U made a total of 93 first downs, and tallied 112 points to the opponents 98. An oddity occurred this season which is indicative of an alert defense; the Penguins recovered 14 of their opponents 19 fumbles. Tony Cougras caught 15 passes for 290 yards, and Jerry Cox completed 35 of 73 passes, two going for TD's.

Picked by head coach Dom Rosselli as a tentative starting lineup, (from l to r) John Melfi, Charlie Moore, Herb Lake, Bob Mayberry, Bob Atterholt, Stephen Hawthorne, receive final instructions from Coach Rosselli before starting a practice session. The 1956-57 season opens at Baldwin Wallace Dec. 1 at B-W.

Undertaker at burial (to aged mourner): "How old are you?" "I'll be 98 on Election Day." "Mmmmm! Hardly worth going home is it?"

Golfer - You must be the worst caddy in the world! Caddy - Oh, no, sir. That would be too much of a coincidence.

The brothers would like to welcome Duke Volnerburger back to "active" duty. It's good to have him aboard again.

Last week the Sig Deltas and Sig Eps clashed in a football game at Struthers. At this writing the game was not played, so it is impossible to give the results of the game. However, one result that is common among the players is that everyone will have a "sore" Thanksgiving.

Theta Chi

Theta Chi concluded its fall rush season with their third rush party held at the Victoria Cafe on Saturday, November 17. The party was a formal banquet, followed by a smoker at the home of John H. Storey, past fraternity president.

At the banquet, the fraternity presented Tony Cougras with a trophy for an outstanding performance as left end on the Youngstown University football team. The presentation was made by president Jack Chugdon and Advisor Professor "Mac" Browne. Special thanks also go to Bill Bigley as chairman of the 1956 fall rush season.

Everyone is working a little overtime in order to help make this year's Harvest Moon Dance a big success. Chairmen are Bill Beeman and Jim O'Neil; publicity, Dick Shoemaker; and posters, Ed Lavlin and Karl Mogg.

Phi Lambda Delta

The Phi Lam's are looking for a good sweater sale as they conclude preparations for the Ninth Annual Phi Lam Sweater Dance, Nov. 21 at the Eagles Hall. Prizes to be given away are two crew neck sweaters, one for a boy and one for a girl. The sisters invite everyone to attend as they plan to make it a wing-ding affair. Mary Fran Doyle is chairman.

"Shape up pledge" seem to be the favorite words of the Phi Lam's this week as the sisters attempt to recruit another pledge to the ranks. In her yellow knee socks and sailor cap, pledge Gert Bury adds a colorful note to the campus.

Birthdays seem to be the thing these days as pledge Gert Bury and Phi Lam sisters Eileen Larson, Judy Millard and Pat Hrinko chalk up another to the already growing number. Happy Birthday sisters and also to our dear friend, Jim "Digger" Roof.

The sisters are looking forward to another Sig-Ep - Phi-Lam party, Nov. 30.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Sig Eps would like to wish the best of luck to brothers Fred Milquist and Jay Troy who will take that 'fatal step' on Nov. 22 and 23 respectively. Good luck soon-to-be-newly-weds.

The Sig Ep's held their third rush party at Chicone's Restaurant on November 14. Approximately 85 men attended and everyone heartily enjoyed both the meal and the following program.

A few of the men are going to 'brave the raging crowds' at the stadium in Columbus this Saturday to see the outcome of the highly rivaled Ohio State-Michigan game. Hope you make it back alive. John Tudhope just hopes he can get back.

The future holds two notable events for the Sig Ep's, their party with the Phi Lam's, Nov. 30 and a party with the freshman girls sometime in December.

Congratulations also to brother Dave Zeigler upon his pinning to Joan Kristin.

Also, HAPPY THANKSGIVING, EVERYONE!

On Oct. 17, members of the organization journeyed on a field trip to the Old Mill Museum at Mill Creek Park. The members observed many different articles of this area. A talk was given by Dr. Marcy and the keeper of the museum, illustrated with live specimens. After his talk on snakes, Dr. Marcy gave live snakes to the members for closer observation.

Trip to Cleveland

Another field trip was conducted to the Cleveland Health Museum on Nov. 16. Observations were made of a transparent family composed of a man, woman, and a dog.

The biologists have planned future trips to the Cleveland Clinic Museum, the Cleveland Aquarian Zoo, the Solarium, Planetarium, Observatory, and the Pittsburgh Museum.

A Christmas party is to be held for all active members on Dec. 18.

The next regular meeting will be held in room 305 of the Main Building on Dec. 11 at 11 a.m. On Tues., Nov. 27 at 7 p.m. at Pollock House, a program meeting will be held. Guest speakers will include a hypnotist, eminent surgeon, and other lectures.

BEHIND LOCKER ROOM DOORS

By Vince Golle and Don Infante

This week we have deviated from our usual procedure of interviewing Penguin athletes and would like to focus this article on the terrific lack of school spirit. Just why is it that Youngstown U. students seem to lack the school spirit upon which a college thrives.

First of all, too many are unwilling to unattach themselves from high school memories. In other words they support their high school first and their college second, if at all. This applies directly to incoming freshmen, whose lack of school spirit is simply devastating.

Secondly, we would like to tip our hats to the fraternities and sororities who seem to be the only students willing to back the team with any enthusiasm.

Other Commuter Schools

The question arises, "Can there be true college spirit in a commuter school?" In answer to this, we would like to say that there definitely can be and, in some commuter schools, the spirit overshadows that of many of the well-known campus colleges. For example, let's take a look at Akron University. Here is a school located in the center of the city that somehow, somehow, has grasped the school spirit we here at Youngstown University lack.

Whether the team has a winning or losing year the students are fired with enthusiasm because it is their team and their college. This is the idea that we are trying to put across in this article. This is your college, and this is your team, if other commuter schools can do it, so can we.

Too many of our students are chronic complainers about having to attend this school. It is these people whom we wish would "wake-up" and take advantage of the opportunity offered to make their college life here enriched. The college life is here, you simply have to find it. And when you do, you'll be out there cheering and supporting your school at every game.

Think Twice

If anything we have said in this article points a finger in your direction, be sure you think twice the next time you run down your school in the future. It's probably you who is responsible for us having to write this article. Football is now bowing out to basketball. We'll see you all cheering for the Red and White on Dec. 8 at the South Field House.

There was a young fellow from Wheeling,

Endowed with such delicate feeling,

When he read on the door,

Don't spit on the floor,"

He jumped up and spit on the ceiling.

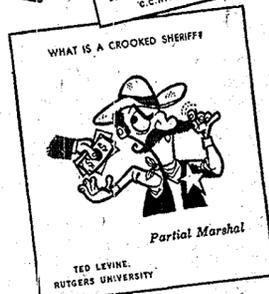

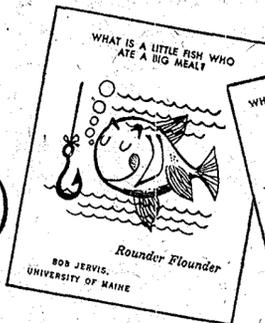

"I had a rotten date last night."

"What did you do about it?"

"I spit it out."
