Students and administration hold conference Monday

A conference between President Albert L. Pugsley and Student Council will be held at 3 p.m. Monday in the audio visual room of the Library.

A request was made by Student Council for the conference to exchange ideas and view points with the administration. "Our major purpose is to learn where the administration stands on certain issues and learn their basic philosophies on education," said Bill Jones, student council president: yesterday. Jones said the whole university community is invited to attend and take part in the conference.

Other administrators participating in the conference will be: Dr. John Coffelt, vice president for administrative affairs; Dr. Earl Edgar, vice president for academic affairs; and Joseph Rook, vice president for financial affairs. "These four people run the university and make major decisions concerning student life," said Jones. All other members of the university administration were asked to attend but only these four will be present at the conference.

Jones further explains that many students attend four years of college and never meet the administration and, thus the administration never receives the necessary input from the stu-

OEA takes university to court; wants YSU budget open to public inspection

Atty. John G. Ingram, special council for the university, will represent YSU in a complaint filed by the YSU Chapter of the Ohio Education Association seeking to force the university to open its budget to public inspection. The complaint maintains that the university has refused to date to comply with the requirements of Ohio Revised Code Section 149.43 which provides for public accessibility to all state records except those prohibited State or Federal laws.

The complaint will be heard by Common Pleas Judge Forrest J. Cavalier at 9 a.m. Monday morning at the Mahoning County Court House. The complaint states that the plaintiff organization has demanded and been refused permission to inspect the budget. The university, President Albert L. Pugsley, and Vice President for Financial Affairs, Joseph S. Rook have been named as defendants.

The plaintiffs, to be represented by Atty. Eugene Green, ask that a Writ of Mandamus be issued ordering the defendants to deliver copies of the budget for the academic years 1970-71 and 1971-72 at the plaintiff's costs. They also demand an alternative writ be issued directing the defendant's to show why they have failed to deliver copies of the budget for the two academic years.

The OEA has been trying to obtain copies of and/or access to the university budget for over a year. President Pugsley, when first asked about access to the budget, questioned the attorney general's office about the legality of releasing it.

The attorney general's office informed him that they had no jurisdiction over the matter. He then questioned the attorney vised him that the matter was up Monday morning.

to the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

The matter went before the Board of Trustees at their last meeting and they, in an effort to seek faculty opinion on the matter of releasing the budget and in effect faculty salaries, referred the question to the Faculty Affairs committee for a recommendation. The Faculty Affairs committee has, as of yet, made no recommendation.

An OEA spokesman yesterday general appointed university urged all interested faculty memcounsel, Atty. Ingram, who ad- bers to attend the court hearing

A general discussion followed the dinner hosted by the governor and his wife. Topics discussed included Kent State, the Ohio Plan, public availability of state university budgets, and the formation of a student advisory board to the governor.

When questioned about the state dropping charges against 20 of the individuals indicted for the Kent State disburbances for lack of sufficient evidence Governor Gilligan assured those present that as long as he was governor National Guard troops would not enter a college campus armed with lethal weapons.

He refused to sign a petition requesting President Nixon to establish a federal grand jury to investigate the incidents at Kent State University saying that doing so would only be exposing the state to examination and possible condemnation by the whole nation. He said that as governor he could not be a part of putting Ohio into that position.

Gilligan hopes to have the Ohio plan or some similar plan passed by the state legislature during his term of office. The Ohio plan provides for the paying back to the state of Ohio the amount of tuition subsidy provided for students by the state. This repayment is to be made following graduation and will be on a graduated scale.

McGovern group will caucus and select delegates

The YSU McGovern for President Committee will caucus with other area McGovern Supporters at 8 p.m., Tuesday to choose McGovern delegates for the Democratic National Convention.

The meeting will be held at the Steelworkers Local 1330 union hall at 1080 Salt Springs Road in Youngstown. It will be conducted in accordance with the McGovern Committee reforms adopted at the last Democratic Convention.

The reforms stipulate that delegates must be elected during the year of the Presidential election and must be picked at a public caucus. Any registered voter is eligible to run as a delegate.

There will be six delegates and three alternates representing the 19th Congressional District and these nine will be selected by the Ohio McGovern Committee from a list of eighteen persons selected at next Tuesday's caucus

The McGovern reforms stipulate that the delegates must compose a balanced slate and in the 19th Congressional District this would mean 50% women, 18% under the age of thirtyand 10% block

YSU students have been invited to both attend and/or run for one of the delegate positions.

Senate votes raise for state, county welfare workers

Ohio AP -

The Senate today passed a $98 million pay raise bill for state employes and county welfare workers and sent the measure to the House.

e House.
The vote was 30-0.

The bill allocates nearly $50 million put aside for pay raises in the recently passed budget tax bill.

The remainder will come from special department funds and federal money. The Legislative Service Commission estimated the total cost at $98 million.

The bill means a 10 per cent or 38 cent per hour increase for all state employes. The hourly rate will be applied if it is higher.

Budget

Governor Gilligan expressed a desire following the meeting to establish a permanent student advisory board to his office and said that it initially should be composed of three or four representatives of the twelve state universities

Student governmen presidents of the twelve state universities will meet tomorrow to work out the details of selecting these representatives.

Career Library aids students

What does a history or a geology major do for a living after he graduates?

A newly formed Career Library in the Counseling Center can help students find out what kinds of jobs their majors qualify

The library was put together because of the previous lack of information available to students needing career and job counseling.

The non-technical majors, particularly those in geology, geography, political science, history, and the social sciences will find it the most beneficial.

The library consists of a collection of recruitment materials from numerous companies across the country, various government agencies and professional organizations, such as the historical or psychological societies. It also contains pamphlets, occupational handbooks and career placement information.

The library is open from 10-12 on Tuesdays with a graduate assistant available to help students find any information. For use at any other time students should check with the secretary in Ford Hall as to which hours the library is open. The supervisor of the library, Mary Ann Dobrich, can then provide guidance for anyone using the

Communicate

Monday afternoon at 3 p.m. an opportunity will exist for all members of the university community, particularly students, to meet with those administration members Student Council has deemed responsible for running the university.

As Bill Jones has said it is not too often that students have an opportunity to meet with the four executive leaders of YSU. Perhaps part of the blame for that could be placed on the students themselves who never seek to meet with these people. With few exceptions, the Jambar has been able to meet with these individuals with a minimum of prior

What will be interesting will be the opportunity to learn of these men's individual concepts of education. It will be interesting to find out how many view the university as simply a business institution with "education" the product. Student Council and Student Government have asserted this to be the case on many occassions and it would seem that they now have the opportnuity to really find out.

Thanks

The Jambar was published for the first time today from its new facilities at 629 Bryson St. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who made this move possible: President Albert L. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Clauzelle S. Boswell, janitorial, service who has served us faithfully and well and whose presence we will sorely miss.

Powerful Peckinpah

By John Manser

"Straw Dogs" is not only a baby-faced singer. great motion picture, it is also a ector Sam Peckinpah, who finally unifies talents loosely shown in other films, in a masterly picture.

This work, showing at the Wedgewood, is much more ambitious than "Cable Hogue" and eminently more successful and lucid than "The Wild Bunch". It should place Peckinpah, a relatively unknown director, with the lew other top American directors. I hope it will also get the public attention films like this deserve but do not always receive.

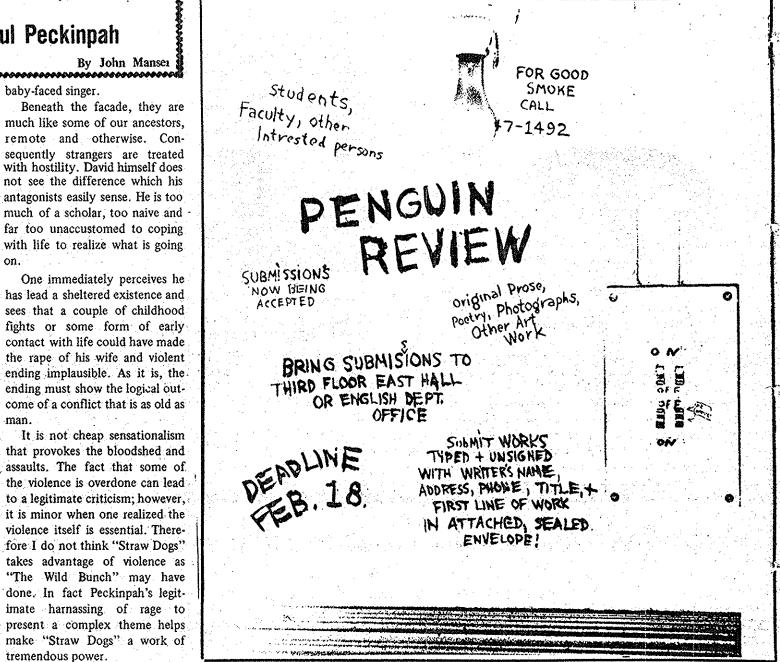

The plot is simple: a mathematician named David, (played expertly as usual, by Dustin Hoffman) and his wife (Susan George), have moved to Cornwall, where he has rented a house to work on a grant. David, the intellectual, instantly comes in conflict with the crude, almost peasant-like inhabitants of the village, including his wife's ex- it is minor when one realized the boyfriend. Tonight the Birds face rugged Buffalo State University at 8 p.m. in the Struthers Field House.

BSU, a 63-52 victor over the Penguins last year, suffered a big loss with the graduation of threesport All-American Randy Smith, now starting for the NBA's Buffalo Braves. The Bengals have posted a 4-3 mark to date prior to defending their Pocono Classic title Tuesday and Wednesday.

BSU has topped Toronto, 114-67, New Paltz State, 93-38, Oneota State, 51-49, and Wisconsin Dominican, 81-74, while bowing to Providence, 76-58, Niagara, 107-65, and Illinois State. The Bengals lead the series, 4-2.

The big gun for coach Don O'Brien has been senior Durie Burns who dominates the backboards with his 6-6, 195-pound frame. Burns leads the Bengals in both scoring (18.6) and rebounding (15.4). He'll likely be joined by 6-5 juniors Rich Clark (4.4) and Chris Fuller (6.0) at forwards and Ken Zak (14.8), 5-10 senior, and either George Holt (6,0), 5-10 junior, or Mike Bonds (7.2), 6-1 sophomore, at guard.
