

Carter is well-received at Federal Plaza rally

Governor Jimmy Carter arrived amid hundreds of yelling supporters, Saturday, at Youngstown's Federal Plaza for a "Welcome Back Carter" rally.

Carter's arrival cut short a speech by Senatorial Candidate Howard Metzenbaum and threw the crowd into a five-minute uproar.

At the beginning of Carter's speech the crowd began yelling at the press, who had been strategically (accidentally) placed in front of them, to sit down. The members of the press did so grudgingly.

Carter started his speech by accusing Ford of distorting his (Carter's) platform and repeating half-truths. Carter stated that he wasn't for raising middle income tax levels and that he wouldn't cut the defense budget by fifty million dollars. He did state that he would cut the waste and overspending in the military.

Carter also showed a telegram he had sent to Ford telling him of the half truths. He stated that since, "As I believe President Ford is a man of integrity, I do not expect he will repeat these half-truths."

Senary lauds Narduzzi before Council meeting

In his chairperson's report, Senary said the coach had done a "good job" at YSU by demonstrating a concern for players as persons as well as athletes. Narduzzi recruits people who will "make it" academically as well as athletically at YSU, said Senary.

Specifically, Senary said that misconduct by football players had decreased since Narduzzi began coaching and that he (Narduzzi) had always cooperated completely with the faculty.

Council approved $400 for a dance at Kilcawley to promote Student Council elections.

Jeff Gwin, Special Projects committee chairperson, explained that candidates will be invited to attend the dance and introduce themselves during an intermission. This will enable students to meet the candidates, he said.

Spectator Alice Budge, English department faculty member, questioned the practicality of the dance.

Council member Barb Gazdik replied that students are largely unaware of Student Council and its functions and that a dance is often the only thing that will attract them.

Also approved by council were $161 for Circle K and $350 for Lambda Tau.

Circle K will use the money to erect a Christmas "tree" on the side of Kilcawley Dorm. The tree,

Pollock House to remain standing; $8,000 is allocated for renovation

The University has allocated $8,000 for the renovation of Pollock House.

ROTC, which conduct its classes in Pollock House, requested campus development to investigate the building's condition.

Director of Campus Development, Nick Leonelli, said after an investigation it was found "We would have to fix or move. We have no place to put ROTC so we decided to fix." With these findings campus development approached the budget committee for funds.

Leonelli said the main purpose of the renovation is to make Pollock House "a little more presentable and practical."

The repairs will include wiring, painting, carpeting and installing bulletin boards.

THE BIG THREE—These three candidates for office (Carney, Metzenbaum, and Carter) were featured during a "Welcome Back Carter" rally Saturday in Downtown Youngstown. Carter talked about his platform, and President Ford. Local candidates were introduced to a crowd estimated at around 5000 to 6000. (More pictures on page five.)

Cleaver to lecture at Stambaugh; presented by YSU Lecture Series

Eldridge Cleaver, poet/essayist and former information director for the Black Panthers, will discuss "The New Approach to Change" at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 25, in Stambaugh Auditorium, presented by YSU's 1976-77 Artist Lecture Series.

The lecture is free and open to the public. Cleaver replaces Dr. Laurence J. Peter who was unable to appear in the Artist Lecture Series for health reasons.

Once the epitome of Black rage, Cleaver fled the United States in 1968 and travelled to Cuba, Algeria and France, during a seven-year exile, an exodus made in the face of imprisonment.

Though his rhetoric has moderated over the intervening years his verbal thrusts are no less direct. Where massive verbal body blows had once been his stock in trade, the stinging calculated jab now suffices. The methods are equally effective.

In an essay written for The New York Times last November shortly after his return, the author of Soul on Ice noted that "With all of its faults, the American political system is the freest and most democratic in the world. The system needs to be improved, with democracy spread to all areas of life, particularly the economic. All of these changes must be conducted through our established institutions, and people with grievances must find political methods for obtaining redress."

With cold precision Cleaver explained in the same article his reluctance to dogmatically pursue old methods.

"We cannot afford to re-fight battles that have already been either won or lost. If Richard Nixon and his friends had accepted the verdict of the people in 1960, rejecting him at the polls, the nation would have been spared the debacle of Watergate. But the truth is that nations do get the leaders they deserve."

At the time of his departure in 1968 Cleaver had just survived a gun battle between Black Panther Party members and Oakland (Ca.) police that killed Bobby Hutton and resulted in the wounding of Cleaver, Warren Wells, and two policemen. After being arrested in the confrontation, he was ordered to prison on charges of parole violation by the Appellate Court of California. He was scheduled to surrender to law enforcement authorities on Nov. 27. That day Cleaver was in Montreal, beginning a seven-year exile.

Input Abortion

I feel the time has come for someone to speak out against the OWL and other pro-abortion organizations. Too often in the past this country has had unwanted legislation shoved down its throat simply because the supporters of this legislation screamed louder and longer than the opponents. The time has come for this to end.

I do not fully understand the OWL's indignation over the Right to Life Exhibit. Let us look at this logically. This group speaks out fervently about the "rights" of the people which as Americans we should be guaranteed under the law. What are our rights as anti-abortionists? You pro-abortionists blatantly attack all work of Pro-Lifers as being religious. You accuse us of trying to force our views on the rest of the people. In your view, it is wrong for us to do this. You hypocrites! Let us examine what you do in the name of your cause.

Last week I was asked by a group of girls in the Maag Library to sign a petition favoring an abortion clinic in town. I very politely stated that I am a Pro-Lifer and could not sign (in the presence of a friend who did sign). I was then verbally accosted with questions about my beliefs (Cont. on page 7)

'Cope' catches spirit of audience Saturday

An exciting event called "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope", erupted Saturday, October 16 at Powers Auditorium.

Written by two black women, Micki Grant and Vinnette Carroll, the play took a look at the black experience from slave ship to Harlem ghetto.

This musical Broadway hit boosted the spirits of many who were in the audience and reflected a rich experience of togetherness with a cast that delighted my soul.

Those who agreed that violence and hatred are a sheer waste of life, happily applauded Elaine Holloman, when she sang with her smooth but strong voice, "So Little Time" and that "I've got No Time for Killin'".

"Cope" in some outstanding way managed to touch the hearts of all who were willing to love. When John-Ann Washington and Nat Morris joined together in a rapturous lovely duet called "Thank Heaven For You," it cast a warm silent romantic spell over the audience, rising above color and touching the hearts of all present.

With such excellent dancing and singing of over 21 songs, "Cope" beautifully copes by successfully winning both black and white audiences. It insists that blacks and whites recognize the fine contributions blacks have made through history. But at the same time "Cope" ask that we all reach out to join hands and try to live in peace and understanding.

The second half of the musical was vibrantly brought alive by Billy Dorsey when he sang "Good Vibrations".

The audience participated by joining in with claps and sounds of enjoyment in cadence to the musical prayer and hilarious sermon which sent laughter throughout the auditorium.

This musical Broadway hit touched many bases. Black attitudes and feelings toward tenement living, white landlords in black ghettos, political graft, welfare living, Harlem streets, joys of falling in love and the burden of trying to cope with the problem of getting through life unscarred.

Music for the production was well supplied by a guitar, piano, bass and drums, which was set behind a black screen on a high platform. Through the fantastic lighting designated by Ken Billington for the show, the combo was projected through the screen at certain times of the performance which highlighted the show even more.

NATIONALLY KNOWN SPEED READING COURSE TO BE TAUGHT HERE IN THE YOUNGSTOWN AREA

United States Reading Lab will offer a 4 week course in speed reading to a limited number of qualified people in Youngstown

This recently developed method of instruction is the most innovative and effective program available in the U.S.

Not only does this famous course reduce your time in the classroom to just one class per week for 4 short weeks but it also includes an advanced speed reading course on cassette tape so that you can continue to improve for the rest of your life. In just 4 weeks the average student should be reading 4-5 times faster. In a few months some students are reading 20-30 times faster attaining speeds that approach 6000 words per minute. In rare instances speeds of up to 13,000 wpm have been documented.

Our average graduate should read 7-10 times faster upon completion of the course with marked improvement in comprehension and concentration.

For those who would like additional information, a series of free, one hour, orientation lectures have been scheduled. At these free lectures the course will be explained in complete detail, including classroom procedures, instruction methods, class schedule and a special one time only introductory tuition that is less than one-half the cost of similar courses. You must attend any of the meetings for information about Youngstown classes.

These orientations are open to the public, above age 14, (persons under 18 should be accompanied by a parent if possible).

If you have always wanted to be a speed reader but found the cost prohibitive or the course too time consuming... now you can! Just by attending 1 evening per week for 4 short weeks you can read 7 to 10 times faster, concentrate better and comprehend more.

If you are a student who would like to make A's instead of B's or C's or if you are a business person who wants to stay abreast of today's everchanging accelerating world then this course is an absolute necessity.

These special one-hour lectures will be held at the following times and places.

- Oct. 26 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.
- Oct. 27 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.
- Oct. 28 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.
- Oct. 29 7:30 p.m.

TWO FINAL MEETINGS Oct.31 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Nov. 1 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

THESE MEETINGS WILL BE HELD AT THE RAMADA INN 4225 BELMONT

If you are a businessman, student, housewife or executive this course, which took 5 years of intensive research to develop, is a must. You can read 7-10 times faster, comprehend more, concentrate better, and remember longer. Students are offered an additional discount. This course can be taught to industry or civic groups at "Group rates" upon request. Be sure to attend whichever free orientation that fits best in your schedule.

CANDIDATE CONSIDERATION

By Neil Yutkin

Last Friday's debate between Dole and Mondale was decisive, more so than thy presidential debates.

Mondale, Carter's choice for vice-president stuck to the issues, made clear his beliefs and in general came across very well.

His nervousness only made him seem human.

Dole, Ford's running mate, on the other hand, was viscious, seldom answering the questions, and going out of his way to personally attack Carter and Mondale through half-slurs, poor jokes and many innuendos.

For example, Dole was asked about the pardon of Nixon and replied, "As you know most of the wars since WWI were under Democrats. If you total all the deaths from these democratic wars they total the population of Detroit."

This is only a small example of how Dole dodged questions, and acted, in Mondale's words, as a "Hatchet Man".

PBS commantators, including Lisagor and Agronsky, gave the debate to Mondale because of the visciousness and evasiveness of Dole.

The census seemed to be that Dole hurt himself enough to damage Ford's campaign slightly.

The final debate takes place this week. With the momentum from the last two debates, Presidential and vice-presidential, Carter should score a stunning victory.

Kilcawley Films

A comedy-horror classic will be shown in Kilcawley's Multi-Purpose Room on Wednesday Oct. 20. Abbott & Costello Meet Frankenstein bears the distinction of being one of a few movies to successfully feature comedy without detracting from the films moments of terror. Comedy is used as a release for the fright built up during the comic teams encounters with Frankenstein, Dracula (Bela Lugosi), the Wolfman (Lon Chaney) and the Invisible Man (Vincent Price). The film is Abbot & Costello's most ambitious and successful film. Along with the film, six Bugs Bunny and Daffy Duck cartoons will be shown. The films will be shown from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Kilcawley's Multi-Purpose Room (old cafeteria) and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the College of Applied Science & Technology (T&CC) room B-031, Lecture Hall. Speak-up

Yes, the Advisory Task Force is a good idea. Some student problems that might not surface otherwise can get exposure here. Realizing that student apathy is at its peak these days, and that there is no way that you as students can be forced involvement, it shouldn't be a wonder why a very few people showed for the Task Force meeting. However, there is another way to look at the situation. If there is a problem that has been bugging you, but you don't feel that you want to "get involved" just remind yourself of one thing-if you don't make known that there is a problem, especially to the right people (Student Government, Student Affairs, Jambar, etc.) then you will have to live with the problem, unless it gets cleared up some other way (which is doubtful). If you don't want to do anything to help yourself then just quietly go to school and work and don't become involved. But, if you feel that you have an obligation or a contribution to make to the University then by all means speak up. Change starts at the lowest level, which is the student.

Closed Mind

Unfortunately Mr. Giancola, you have been exposed to the inconsiderate actions of a few females on the YSU campus. Because of these pushy and uncouth females, people are not getting a balanced and equal evaluation on the so-called "Right to Life Exhibit." Certainly we all have the right to choose our own stand on abortions and due to your so-called morality you have totally left out a few aspects which enter into the picture. But, as you say, everyone is subject to their own opinion!

Clarifies faculty obligations

To the editor of The Jambar:

In an effort to aid the students of YSU and to clarify their views on the matter of requirement of office hours and syllabus by the faculty of YSU, members of Student Council will show you the University requirements set by the Agreement of the YSU and YSU Chapter of the Ohio Education for the Years 1975-77.

Article 2 of the General Policies states: "Faculty members shall maintain five or more office hours weekly during each quarter at times convenient to both faculty member and to his/her students.

Alternative arrangements may be made subject to the approval of the department chairperson. During these times, a faculty member shall be available to meet with students in connection with courses, academic advisement and registration.

In addition, Article 25 states: "Members of the faculty shall provide a course syllabus for students in each course taught. The syllabus shall include a clear explanation of the faculty member's grading policy for the course. A faculty member shall explain a grade to a student who requests such explanation during the regular office hours."

If any student has a problem with any teacher that fails to meet these requirements, they are urged to notify their representative from the school of their major. They may do so by leaving a note in their representative's mailbox in the Student Government office in Kilcawley Center Room 226.

Claims 'south paws' are ignored

To the editor of the Jambar:

It seems that most public institutions (including YSU) are making every effort to accommodate the handicapped, through the use of barrier-free architecture etc. While this is to be applauded, one handicapped group's problem is worsening because their needs are being ignored. These people are left-handed.

As this is a right-handed world, I am not advocating a change to make every object operable with the left hand. This would not be feasible. Most left-handers could get along fairly well if it wasn't for one thing: the right-handed desk.

From experience, every student knows that note-taking can be tough on the hand. Writer's cramp easily sets in. Well right-handed desks double this problem for left-handers by not giving them any support whatsoever. All the surface area is concentrated on the right side, intensifying the pain of a lecture. I, as a left-hander, try to combat this by positioning a desk on my left side or flipping up the desk to my left in lecture halls. This is not always possible in a full classroom and one professor thought I was trying to cheat from this position. But why should I (or any of us) be forced to do this? My sister has informed me that there are numerous left-handed desks at KSU Trumbull Branch. Why not any at YSU? At least ten percent of the population is being ignored. Come on fellow lefties, is this right?

Asks Jambar readers to decide

To the editor of The Jambar:

My only comments to the editorial of October 15, is first, if I waited until the Dean of Student Affairs called his special meeting once a quarter to sit and discuss student problems; I am a poor excuse for a student body president. I am in contact with the Dean of Student Affairs practically three to five times a week to talk about student concerns.

As to why I missed the meeting;

I had planned to attend, but so happened that at approximately 3:20 p.m. that day a student came to me with a problem. Should I have told him I didn't have time for him; I had to go to a meeting? You decide!

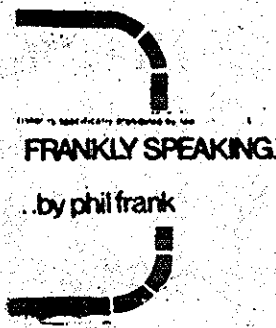

George Glaros
 President of Student Government

Editor's note: First of all the Advisory Task Force is not a once a quarter affair. The meeting was designed to let the Student Affairs office and the student leaders know about student problems they might not have been aware of. This "project" has failed in the past because of non-interest by students and student leaders. Secondly, the President of Student Government has the power to delegate government members who serve under him to attend such meetings, to leave the meeting up to a "either-or" situation is a good way to send the idea down the tubes.

Dear Fed-up,
You better leave him alone. One cockroach is bad enough but having another 2,000 attend the funeral services is too much.

Dear Raven,
Lately I have found myself humming songs to myself. I've heard of people talking to themselves but I haven't gotten that far yet. Do you think I may have

Dear Jaye P.

Humming to one's self is not a serious matter. When you begin to hear a band accompanying you and there ain't no band around, you got problems.

Dear Raven,

I saw the premiere of WONDER WOMAN on television last week. I can't understand how that skinny broad can turn around two times and turn into a va-voom size 42. Clue me in.

Dear Foxy Lou,

Now you know where they got the title, WONDER WOMAN. Makes you WONDER, right?

West sider opens jeans outlet to help pay college costs

One YSU alumni has hit upon a unique idea for putting her own son through college.

With the help of her family, Mrs. Doreen Cavalier has opened a discount jeans outlet on the west side of Youngstown and hopes to put her son, Charles, through YSU by using the income from the store.

Mrs. Cavalier graduated from YSU in 1968 and now teaches 5th grade English at Canfield. Charles is a senior at Austintown Fitch and plans to attend YSU next fall.

The Cavaliers got the idea for the store early this spring and were able to get things organized for its opening in July. They decided that a place offering discount, brand name jeans would be a hit because, "Everyone wears jeans; especially the university students," said Mrs. Cavalier.

The whole business has been a family affair from the start. Mrs. Cavalier's parents and brother came over from England to help out and stayed here six weeks to prepare for the opening. Her brother, who is an architect, painted the colorful outside of the building. Mrs. Cavalier also hails from England, but came to this country when she married.

Since its opening, Rodney, Mrs. Cavalier's older son, and Charles have been running the store.

Mrs. Cavalier said she hoped to do a lot of business with the YSU students and plans to offer specials for them.

Anti-abortion

being unfair to the rights of women. An effort was made to start an argument which I ignored. Do not I, Miss Filer and you other pro-abortionists have a right to my opinion? Do I not also have a right to expect it to be respected as you expect yours to be? I am an intelligent man; I can read and weigh both sides of the issue. I do not need "Big Brother" to tell me what is right.

Unfortunately many people are not as well informed about abortion as I am. Are you? Have you looked at the exhibit? I dare say you have not. You have a belief that you seemingly would die for, yet have you objectively looked at both sides of the argument? I doubt it; and you do not want others to do so either. That is why you stand outside the bus to grab the interested people and twist their minds before they have a chance to judge for themselves. This is your strategy: keep the masses uninformed.

The issue of abortion is no longer a question of "Is it human?" Most intelligent people any more know deep inside, whether they care to admit it or not, that a fetus is human. The question facing us now is "Do we have the right to kill a human being?" Does any condition or set of circumstances justify the right to kill? I should like to quote Miss Filer's letter as it appeared in The Jambar, October 15: "I am not saying that abortion is a pretty thing, but until the U.S. government thoroughly researches the area of birth control and makes birth control information and apparatus available to every citizen, I will support abortion." Are you for real, Miss Filer? Do you have such a low regard for human life that you use the ineffectiveness of the government to justify abortion? Is this true? True the government is ineffective, but does abortion solve this? Does the end justify any means? Did killing innocent women and children in Viet Nam justify the end that generals have hoped for? Do the innocent always have to suffer?

I cannot understand, but I can appreciate a woman who honestly believes that the fetus is not human. I feel she has made an error in judgment, but that can be rectified. If she honestly believes that she is not committing murder and she submits to an abortion, it is debatable whether or not she had committed murder. But you apparently realize, Miss Filer, that it is murder and you support it to twist the arm of the government. How dare you speak of anyone's rights. No one has the right to kill. No government, no man, no woman.

My wife and I had to face the problem of abortion recently. It concerned the lives of both my wife and the unborn child. There were no guarantees that either would live. Yet we faced it in the mature, adult way. We did not take the easy way out and kill it. Luckily, both lived, though I am not naive enough to believe that this is always the case. We took our chances because we could not do something that is morally wrong. Of course I am assuming that you have morals.

Our country is facing a great dilemma. What we decide now will ultimately shape our destiny. It would be easy to kill anything or anyone that was not wanted. The Nazis did it very effectively. But where do we draw the line? I caution you OWLs and supporters of abortion, you are playing with human life. This is no game. Someday because of your actions now, a government or people may place as little value on your lives as you place on the lives of unborn children.

To those who are uncertain, I say weigh both sides. Listen to the arguments of the OWL. But look at the exhibit also. Get the whole story. Do not let a group of selfish radicals make your decision for you. Do not let them keep you from looking at the whole truth of the issue. They try to cover the truth, because they know they are wrong. The exhibit is a threat to them, because it expresses the truth about abortion: that it is a horror to any civilized person.

I challenge the OWL, or any other pro-abortionist to answer this letter from the standpoint of murder. Do not tell me about the rape victim, or about the unwanted child, or about the rights of selfish women, who are so wrapped up in themselves that the only thing they can offer a child is death. Talk to me about murder. Tell me what circumstances justify murder. I cannot wait to hear this.

Jazz club to provide opportunities for listening and learning on campus

A new club has been organized on campus for students interested in jazz. It is a chapter of the National Association of Jazz Educators (NAJE) a nationally chartered organization which plays an important part in sponsoring various jazz festivals, clinics, and workshops to promote jazz music.

The purpose of the NAJE chapter is to bring together those who are interested in any aspect of jazz-listening, playing- and to provide opportunities for listening and learning experiences.

The new chapter will be open to all YSU students, with an annual membership fee of $5. This fee also entitles members to five issues of the NAJE magazine, a monthly distribution, which contains information on festivals, clinics, performances, transcribed solos, charts and other news concerning jazz.

This year's first issue contains a feature article on the YSU Jazz Ensemble and director Tony Leonardi. At the Wichita Jazz Festival last spring, the NAJE awarded the YSU Big Band and Small Combo first place in their respective categories. In addition to this honor, ten members of the ensemble were given scholarships to summer jazz clinics.

Matt Betton, national secretary of NAJE recently extended an invitation to the Jazz Ensemble to perform at the next NAJE Convention at Daytona Beach on Jan. 22.

This year for the first time, the Jazz Ensemble is sponsoring a weekly jazz seminar on Fridays at 4 p.m. in Dana 101. The programs involve lectures and performances by locally and nationally acclaimed jazz musicians. The seminars are open to all YSU students and faculty at no charge.

For further information concerning membership and meetings of the NAJE contact: Jim Grinta, 747-9994; Frank Messuri, 545-8902; Steve Frank, 746-2408; or Bill Harrison, 543-9605.

Tony Bindas was nominated as secretary of the Special Projects committee by George Glaros, Student Government President. However the motion to approve the nomination was turned down touched upon were economics, food prices and Ford's Eastern European faux pas.

POWER AND PRECISION—Marilyn Davis, YSU modern dance club member, and karate instructor Ted Rubbo compare the beauty and flowing rhythms of karate with the art of ballet for a performance at a martial arts tournament Saturday, Oct. 23, at Struthers Field House. Their routine during the 7 p.m. final eliminations will incorporate dance technique and positions that highlight similarities of the two art forms. Marilyn, a YSU physical education and 1973 South High graduate, is a former member of the Western Reserve Ballet Company. Rubbo is owner of Karate International of Youngstown and co-director of the all-day tournament.

After the rally Carter waded through the crowd shaking hands, kissing cheeks and just generally greeting the people.

There was a bit of trouble at the rally before Carter arrived when an anti-Carter sign was torn down and the holder roughed up a bit. The Youngstown Police Department quietly subdued the attacker and the situation went no further. The anti-Carter sign and holder reappeared later on in the rally.

Also appearing with Carter at the rally were several Democratic candidates and office-holders.

Howard Metzenbaum was a featured speaker but was cut short when Carter arrived earlier than expected. Metzenbaum charged that Ford didn't know of the conditions of the small people like Youngstown.

Charles J. Carney also spoke before the crowd stating that while Democrats are proud of their party and heritage, the Republicans were trying to hide theirs. Carney also made reference to allegations that candidate Hunter was funded by the Ohio

Medical Association.

A plethora of other candidates were introduced to the crowd including, Michael Yarosh—candidate for sheriff, Thomas Carney—State Rep. from Boardman and also various mayors from around the area.

YSU wins number two, Haynali ties school mark

YSU travelled south to Morehead State College (Ky.) Saturday and brought home a 33-7 victory, their second of the year against four defeats.

Place-kicker Chuck Haynali, who also doubles as the Penguins punter, booted field goals of 32 and 37 yards to tie a school record for most three-pointers in a game.

Cliff Stoudt, YSU's talented quarterback, was chosen as the offensive player of the fray after completing nine of 16 passes for 176 yards in addition to rushing for 48 more.

The game's scoring started in the first quarter on a 47-yard Stoudt touchdown pass to Ray Hernan. Haynali added the extra point and followed later in the first half with his two field goals to enable YSU to hold a comfortable 13-0 halftime advantage.

In the third quarter, Penguin halfback Curt Huffman tallied on a two-yard run to up the lead to 20-0 and fellow back Dave Townsend later scored on a 43-yard pass from substitute signal-caller Wayne Smith and on a 4-yard dash to end the Penguins scoring for the afternoon.

Morehead State, now 1-5 under coach Wayne Chapman an ex-YSU aide, averted a shutout in the fourth frame when Carl Linton scored from five yards out.

Offensively, YSU led Morehead State in first downs (23-13), rushing yardage (266-115) and in passing (243-100) for a whopping total offense of 509 yards.

Senior fullback John Kinch gained 82 yards rushing in 16 tries and sophomore tailback Marschell Brumfield added 52 in 12 attempts to spearhead YSU's running game.

The Penguin's defense contributed tremendously to the winning effort, especially senior monster back Don McCloud who made seven solo tackles and recovered a fumble. Ron Pentz, Quentin Lowry, Tom Rice and Greg Fitzpatrick all recovered enemy fumbles and back Kevin Statzer also intercepted an errant Morehead State pass attempt.

YSU will take to the road again this Sat. when they travel to Philadelphia to meet Villanova University, a victim of a Penguin upset a year ago.

Hockey, volleyball teams defeated by Oberlin College

Oberlin College proved to be a nemesis for YSU women's athletics last Saturday as they edged our field hockey team by a 2-1 score and also defeated the Penguin's volleyball team.

Playing at home, the hockey team made a valiant effort against highly ranked Oberlin who now stands at 4-0. YSU is 2-2 on the season with two away games coming up on the schedule. The team travels to Hiram for a 4:15 p.m. match on Tuesday and will meet Lorain Community College for a 1 p.m. fray on Saturday, Oct. 23.

Oberlin scored first in the opening half but the Penguins kept fighting back. With about a minute remaining in the first half, right wing Cindy Buchanan scored to tie the game. The second half was evenly matched with Oberlin scoring with about ten minutes left in the game. YSU missed some scoring opportunities but played excellent hockey and showed that they are a team to be reckoned with.

The volleyball team now stands at 1-1 with a victory over Case Western, 15-5, 11-15, 15-9 and their loss to Oberlin, 15-13, 10-15, 12-15 at the Case Western gym. The team plays today at 7:30 p.m. against a tough Akron team at Akron. On Saturday, Oct. 23 YSU will host a quadrangular meet at Beeghly Center beginning at 1 p.m. The teams participating with the Penguins include Mount Union, West Virginia and Duquesne.

Coach Jocelyn Ramsey felt the team played well in their first outing but cited some mistakes that cost them the Oberlin game. She said, "We were not moving well on the floor and we missed many blocks and spikes. Judy Rutz and Beth Fenton made some good sets and Candy Evans and Linda Fredericks hit excellent spikes off of the sets. We won the first game of the match and then let up a bit and Oberlin came on strong."

The leading scorers for the six games were Candy Evans—21 pts., Cindy Hackett—13 pts., Judy Rutz—11 pts., Cindy Gettig—10 pts., Beth Fenton—9 pts. and JoAnn Caputo—8 pts.

The seniors on the team are Evans, Gettig and Caputo while sophomore members include Rutz, Fredericks, Fenton, Hackett, Denise Vanaman and Claudia Wheland. New frosh members are Terry Landgraff, Cara Fortunato, DeAnn DeFlippo and Carol Gifford. Team managers are Alice Bail and Michelle Worrellea.

Intramural football action shows tough division races taking shape

Intramural football action was in full swing over the weekend with many teams showing play-off potential.

In independent play, the Adidas defeated the Stars 12-6 and the Valley Crew topped H.O.A. 13-6 to emerge as frontrunners in Division I. The P.E. Majors nipped the Kilcawley Diseases 7-6 while Burnt needed overtime to garner a 13-12 decision over the Qantas Bears. Both the P.E. Majors and Burnt share the lead in Division II.

Division III shows a powerful All-Stars team as one of its leaders via a 21-0 rout of the Mexico crew. Theta Xi shares the lead with the All-Stars as they rolled past 4-Wheel Drive, 19-6.

Lincoln Towers turned back a determined Mean Machine outfit 13-6, while the Cardinals edged the Wick Tech Raiders, 7-6. Both Lincoln Towers and the Cardinals rest atop Division IV.

In Division V, the defending All-University champion Roundballers opened their season with a 6-0 win over Morton Marauders, while the Inner City Players turned back the Average White team, 12-0.

In Division VI, the BMF crew rolled past the Engineers 19-0, while the Salug Gang needed overtime to defeat the Austintown All-Stars, 7-6. Both the Salug Gang and BMF sport 2-0 records as they rest atop their division. Also in Division VI, the Maroon Marauders walked over the Outlaws, 26-0.

In Division VII, Red Pride posted their second win as they defeated the Green Machine, 26-0 to gain sole possession of first place. In other action, the APD Gang made their independent debut a successful one as they shutout the Blazers, 15-0.

Division VIII is by far the division to watch for all four teams are tied for first place; each with a 1-1 record. The Gamecocks turned back Bo's Pros 7-0 while the Sox knocked off the previously unbeaten Canadian Club, also by a 7-0 margin.

In fraternity action, the defending champion Theta Chi's rolled to their second straight victory as they defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 35-0. Sigma Chi Alpha bounced back from an opening game loss to Theta Chi as they defeated Nu Sigma Tau, 21-6.

Other action saw Sigma Phi Epsilon have no trouble in disposing of Tau Kappa Epsilon 26-6, while Phi Delta Theta posted their second win of the season as they turned back Phi Sigma Kappa 18-0. Also, Zeta Beta Tau had no trouble with Kappa Sigma as they evened their record at 1-1 with an easy 27-6 victory.

In women's play, Benny's Jets easily defeated the Rookies 18-0 while the OB's had an even easier time as they turned back Sigma Sigma Sigma, 28-0. Also, HPE Club was a victor by forfeit over the Little Sigs.

Intramural notes: An Intramural Rating Committee has been formed in order to provide a weekly "top ten" in the Independent League and a "top four" in both the fraternity and women's division's. The top teams will be decided on the basis of total points cast by each member for first place on down the line. Since not all teams have been in action yet, it would be unfair this week to show who's number one on down the line. However, in the independent division, the Roundballers ride atop this week's poll as the top team as they are the defending All-University champions. The other nine listed alphabetically are: Austintown All-Stars, All-Stars, APD Gang, Burnt, Canadian Club, Mad Dog, P.E. Majors, Salug Gang, and Theta Xi.

In the fraternity division, Theta Chi rests on top while Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon share the other three slots.

Since half of the women's teams have only seen action, a top four will not appear this week. Next week, a rating on all the teams will appear after Saturday's and Sunday's games are completed.
