WHEN WILL IT END?????—For two weeks now the Youngstown area had had snow flurries almost everyday. YSU snow removal crews have had to shovel walks daily in an effort to keep with the speedily accumulating snowfall. During some periods of snowfall the university has had to resort to tractors and dump trucks to remove the snow.

Metallic material discovered in dormitory caf brownies

Dessert at the Kilcawley Men's Dormitory cafeteria last Thursday night proved to be a surprise, when a wire-like substance was discovered in the brownies, by one of the residents.

John Weakley, food service director, termed the incident, "one hell of a misfortune." He stated that the metal was definitely not from any equipment used in the Kilcawley kitchen. Tests run on the metal proved it to be non-magnetic and therefore, Weakley and Jerry Breesee, area supervisor of Gladieux Food Services, which operates the resident's cafeteria, think the metal may be aluminum.

They had at first thought the metal could have been scrapings from a pan or cuttings from an aluminum can, but the curly uniformity of the metal made them think that it could possibly be screen or filter wire.

The metal looked like silver slivers and ranged in size from one-quarter to one-half inch in length. They looked as though they could have been in a weaved pattern or tightly curled. There were three to four pieces in the two brownies examined by The Jambar.

Weakley said nothing in the kitchen looked like that or could have caused a metal shaving that looked like that. He said, "I have checked all equipment—mixing bowls, scrapers, sheet pans—nothing could have caused it."

The brownies were made from an institutional box mix by a well-known producer of baking mixes. Four boxes of the mix were made for the Thursday meal, but the metal was found only in the last pan.

Both Weakley and Breesee think the metal came from the box mix.

Weakley said that some type of machinery malfunction at the company's plant could be the source of the metal. He stated that sometimes wire brushes are used in the mixing and that perhaps the metal came from something like this.

Weakley said he was definitely going to call the company. As of yesterday, Weakley had not been able to get through to them, but the company was supposed to call him by today. He said he also will no longer use the box mix.

Hancock-Benson, jazz artists, to perform Sunday, February 13 at Beeghly Center

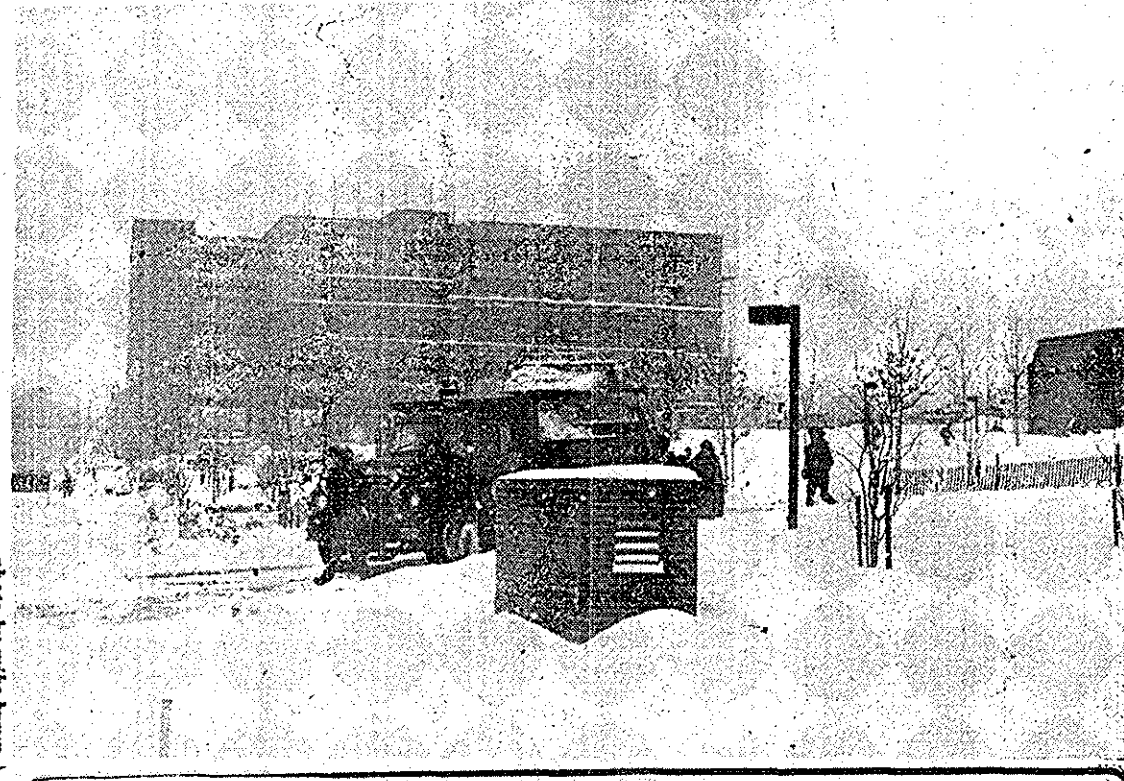

Sunday, Feb. 13 is a day for jazz fanatics to circle on their calendars. Herbie Hancock and George Benson will perform at YSU's Beeghly Physical Education Center on that day.

Hancock, making his first appearance at YSU, has been playing jazz tunes since he was a sophomore in high school, although he had started out giving performances of classical music when he was 11.

He has performed with numerous jazz greats such as Donald Byrd, Cole Hawkins and Miles Davis.

Hancock, a follower of Nichirin Shoshu Buddhism, says that his introduction to this particular religion has been incorporated into some of his recent works.

Opinion survey reveals parking problem to be major concern with YSU students

Some results of a student opinion survey conducted by the YSU Student Affairs Office are now known.

Headed by Dr. C. David Bertelsen, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, and performed in cooperation with Student Council, the survey was the first large-scale assessment ever conducted at YSU.

During a recent interview,

Bertelsen answered questions concerning the survey and explained some of the results now compiled. He noted that one of the most prominent results was that a plurality of students consider parking to be "the one most important problem facing the YSU student at this time."

Bertelsen stated that the purpose of the study was "to elicit students' attitudes concerning student activities and services, communication on the campus, and the University in general and to gather basic data about commuting (distance, problems, time utilization, etc.)."

The six page questionnaire was sent to 2,000 students in October, 1976. Bertelsen explained that these students were chosen at random and comprised 12.6% of the total enrollment.

According to Bertelsen, of the 2,000 questionnaires mailed out, 940 were returned. He termed this 47% return "absolutely excellent—outstanding." He maintained that, normally, a survey of this type would have a 20-25% return.

Bertelsen went on to say, "What we got back in the 940 is very representative of the total student body in terms of school, class standing, sex, age and full or part-time status."

One outcome of the survey showed that almost half the students claimed parking at YSU as their primary transportation problem. However, the survey also revealed that 80% of the students usually get to campus using their own cars, while only 8% participate in car pools.

The study also showed that 62% of the students spend an average of one to five non-class hours per day on campus, but nearly half of the students questioned do not participate in or attend extracurricular activities or Benson lists his inspiration as coming from several excellent jazz guitarists such as Wes Montgomery, Charlie Christian, Hank Garland, and Grant Green.

Benson has been picked in Playboy's All-Star Poll and has had a Grammy nomination. His latest release, Masquerades, is high on the top 40 and jazz charts, and he has recently appeared as guest artist on Saturday Night Live.

Tickets for the Hancock-Benson Concert will go on sale Friday, Jan. 28. Advance ticket sales on Campus will be $5, while general admission and tickets at the door will be $6. Tickets will be available at all National Record Mart stores.

Survey

One area of the survey dealt with activities and programs available at YSU. The students were asked to mark a number of these activities and programs according to the amount of interest they had in each area. Of the 23 programs and activities listed, the program that presented the most interest to the majority of the students was concerts and musical performances. Activities for minority students generated the least amount of interest among the students surveyed.

Student Council was of major interest to only 8% of the students, with 49% claiming no major interest in the Council at all. A question regarding the representation of students' interests by Student Council showed almost half the people surveyed responded by answering they had no opinion as to the effectiveness of the Council.

Another area of the survey had to do with services available to YSU students. Financial aids was the one service most regularly and frequently used by students. Almost two-thirds of the students had never heard of some services, such as those offered for handicapped students and communications seminars.

Fifty-four percent of the students surveyed felt that YSU provides enough services for its students; however, a majority of the people had heard of, but never used many of the 20 services listed on the questionnaire. These services included career planning, counseling, the free clinic, health service, tutoring and the escort

Radio Reading Service broadcasts programs for blind, handicapped

by Brenda Shick

Every evening at approximately 5:30 p.m. some 200 Youngstown area residents turn on their radios. True, there's nothing unusual about people listening to the radio, but what these particular people hear is unique.

The radio station is Youngstown Radio Reading Service and the audience is some 200 blind and physically handicapped persons in Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula and Columbiana counties.

Youngstown Radio Reading Service is a broadcast system that is transmitted over one of the private channels of WYSU-FM. It is a non-profit broadcast for the print handicapped, who are individuals unable to read print due to a visual or physical disability.

Broadcasting for the service began with a grant from the Ohio Rehabilitation Service Commission in June, 1976. This grant covered one-time expenses, such as some of the radios necessary to receive the private FM channel, and recording equipment for the broadcasts. However, the service is now totally funded and managed by the Youngstown Society for the Blind and Disabled, located on Glenwood Ave.

The main emphasis of the programming is to provide the listeners with current information about the community, as well as encouraging them to share experiences and views and perhaps learn from one another.

The reading service, which is on the air Monday through Friday from 5:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., covers many diverse areas of interest in trying to fulfill its programming goals. The first area covered is a daily in-depth reading of the Youngstown Vindicator where everything from page one stories to sports, and even advertisements are relayed over the radio. The programming also includes material from weekly magazines such as Time and TV Guide, weekly newspapers and books. Talk shows and special interest programs round out the coverage.

Since the Youngstown Radio Reading Service is a closed circuit and private broadcasting service, the radio signal can only be received by special radio sets or receivers. The receivers resemble table radios, are simple to operate and require no tuning. Sockets for earphones make for private listening, as well as being able to tape record a favorite program. The receivers may be obtained from the Youngstown Society for the Blind and will remain the property of the Society, which is similar to a book being the property of the Library. The receivers are leased by listeners for $15 per year which allow them to maintain the set in their home. The Society is responsible for all repairs on the set. Although this fee is not mandatory, it is greatly needed in order to keep the program going. Any individual that can't afford the subscription price will be furnished with a sponsor.

However, before a person gets one of these receivers he must meet specific requirements. Persons, with handicaps in the following categories are eligible as listeners: legal blindness, partial vision, a physical handicap which impairs reading or a reading disability. No one else may subscribe to the service, and it is possible that applicants may have to be certified by their physicians as being handicapped. This provision is made because of the Federal Communication Commission's rulings on private broadcasting.

A 30 day free trial period is offered so that each listener can determine the value of the programming for himself.

In order to continue this program and make it successful the Youngstown Radio Reading Service is in need of many people with all kinds of talents. Not only does the program require readers to provide the broadcast material, but also persons to do clerical work, public relations, research, transportation, fund raising and many other tasks.

Any service that you would care to contribute would be greatly appreciated. Interested volunteers may contact the Youngstown Society for the Blind at 788-2411.

Depending on contributed funds, the future plans of the service include the purchase of 700 more receivers and to expand the broadcasting time from noon until 10 p.m.

Bertelsen explained that the results of the survey "will be used to evaluate existing programs and services and to identify student needs not currently being served." He went on to add, "If something isn't done we've wasted our time."

The final report of the survey should be completed by Feb. 1. A copy of the report will be sent to Student Council. Anyone interested in further information concerning the survey can contact the Student Affairs Office, room 115, Kilcawley Center, or Student Council chairperson, Linda Hayes.

Feedback

Suggests closing school for oil job

To the Editor of The Jambar:

I seriously recommend closing school for an hour, so as to save enough oil to lubricate all those doors in Kilcawley, especially those on the south side.

The high pitched shrill has persisted for about a month now and nobody seems to notice it except me. Perhaps the security here feels the shrill is cheaper than installing a door mat buzzer to detect entry at night.

Concerned students can pass the problem however, with the following suggestions:

1. Wear stocking caps until well inside the building.
2. Obviously frequent use caused the problem, so team up and carry your girlfriend piggyback, opening the door only once.
3. Boycott all squeaky doors.
4. Start an oil collection-donate old motor oil and hair tonic.
5. Don't eat that next

"Wonder-burger" until you first wring the grease out-a couple of drops should go a long way.

6. If you are unable to form a door pool, then open the door quickly enough to raise above the human audible frequency (also keep dogs away).

A little grease off your hair would make your ears more comfortable anyway.

To Hell With Who?

Many Student Council members often express concern about YSU students' apathy toward Council matters. However, don't feel too bad, students--your apathy toward Council may very well be outdistanced by some Council members' lack of concern for you.

For instance, at yesterday's Student Council meeting, which lasted over two hours, lack of respect was shown to recognized members and guests when they had the floor, as much inter-mingling among members, note-passing, laughing and a general atmosphere of chaos enveloped the meeting. Due to this, and many insufficient committee reports, there were irrelevant questions and points of information and clarification that took up valuable time which could have been use much more constructively. In one committee report, a 15-minute discussion could have been completely avoided had the chairman done the necessary preparation for its presentation. Also, during the meeting, Council was asked for a volunteer to represent them on the Creative Arts Festival Committee. Since no one volunteered, one will be appointed next week. This hardly seems like dedication, or an attitude of involvement on any Council member's part. I shiver to think what would happen if they needed five volunteers.

And lastly, in a discussion relating to publicity of Council members for the benefit of the students, and their availability to them, one Council member summed up his feelings about the students he represents by saying "...to hell with them; they can come and find me."

Urges students to look at Greeks

To the Editor of The Jambar:

Being Teke's we're interested in student involvement toward Greeks. We would like to urge all students to take a look at one of the Greek organizations.

Each quarter this organization offers a formal Rush Program which extends an invitation to the student to come and look at them. Like anything else, fraternities and sororities have changed over the years and it's a shame their image hasn't. Most students feel that the Greek systems are the same as they were in 1950. They're not. Take a look at the Greeks during these rushes, and I'm sure you'll see the changes and find them interesting. They have much to offer the student in the way of orientation, leadership, and social life and involvement within the college community.

Goes beyond Rotagilla's absurdity

To the Editor of The Jambar:

I am writing in reference to Pamela Cook's article on the Rotagilla Band. In the article, Cook states that, "Nothing like this (Rotagilla band) has ever hit Youngstown." That such "massive absurdity may never again be seen on any local stage and get over."

The Rotagilla Band may be absurd. But, The Bizzarri/Faras

Group, who have been getting over on local stages, goes beyond absurdity and into measles.

Alcoholics warned of the dangers that could accompany their habit

story by Mike Braun

They may not believe that people know, but they do. All the characteristics that mark the habitual alcoholic are as plain as day to anybody who can see, age group. Ley also said that they have had people with alcoholic problems in the clinic from ages 16 to 82. Ley attributed much of the over indulgence by the 40 to 50 group to unemployment, severe depression, family problems, and could lead other family members down the same destructive path.

The Jambar asked Ley if there was any correlation to illustration by Sharon Levy

Contrary to belief, alcohol is a drug. In ancient times it was mixed with opium and used as an anesthetic. Those who abuse it's effects are known as alcohol addicts, or more popularly, "drunks". Like drugs, alcohol abuse may be directly related to a need for some people to escape their problems and avoid making decisions.

According to Mr. Phillip Ley, director of the Alcoholic Clinic of Youngstown, the majority of alcoholics who have used the clinic were in the 40-50 year-old marital problems and because "sometimes it takes some people longer to become alcoholics."

Alcohol is a drug like heroin, amphetamines, cocaine etc. It changes the psychological as well as physical structure of the addict and chronic use of alcohol can lead to a psychological as well as a physical dependence.

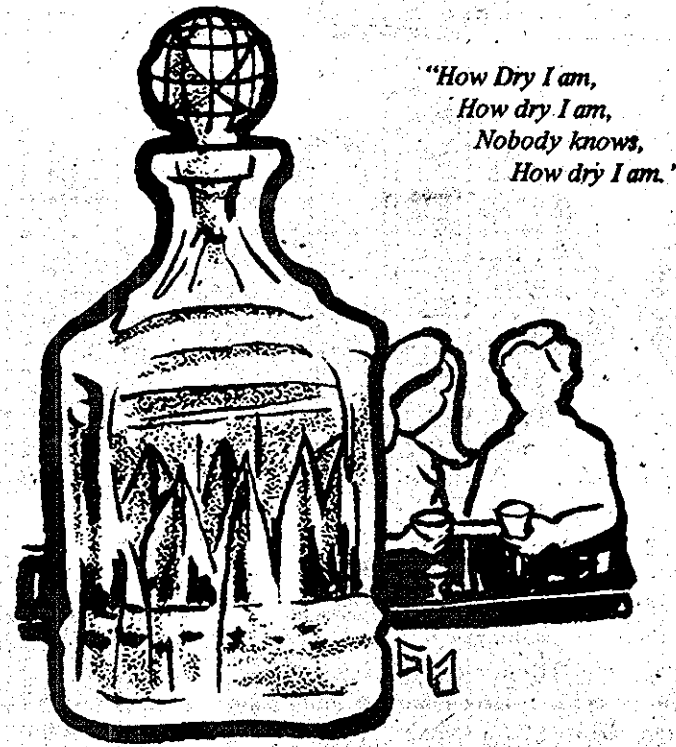

A common misconception about alcohol is it is believed to be a stimulant, when in reality it is a depressant. "At first you get a small jolt, then down you go," related Ley.

Overuse of alcohol can lead to "regular" drugs and alcohol. Ley replied that today's youth were "getting away from drugs and going back to alcohol because it's cheaper."

There have been quite a few "famous" people who have died at the mercy of alcohol-drug combinations. Janis Joplin, Dorothy Kilgallen, Brian Jones, Judy Garland, etc. just to list few.

There is no social or economic class of people who are immune to alcoholism. Rich, poor, doctors, lawyers, senators, ditchdiggers, etc. all are susceptible to abusive drinking.

There is a fairly lengthy list of diseases which are alcohol related. In the neurological system delirium tremens (DT's), convulsive disorders and polyneuritis are after effects of the alcohol abuser. In the gastrointestinal system over indulgence in alcohol can bring about, gastritis, chronic diarrhea, esophageal carcinoma, esophagitis, malabsorption, fatty liver, hepatitis and cirrhosis (which may lead to cancer of the liver).

Alcohol also effects the skin which can develop such diseases as rosacea, pellegra and cutaneous ulcers.

In pregnant women alcohol can affect the fetus by inhibiting it's growth both physically and mentally. Alcohol abusing women run a 20% risk of giving birth to babies with birth defects. Alcoholic women also have a 17% chance of still birth.

One of the biggest factors involving alcohol today is crime. According to FBI figures fully 33% of all arrests involve drunkenness and 50% of all traffic fatalities are related to drinking.

Treatment for the alcohol abuser is basically the same for all alcoholics. According to Ley the treatment used at the Youngstown Clinic is "mild tranquilization and a lot of vitamin shots." Ley also added that "real good (balanced) meals" were essential in "drying" out the alcoholic. Even with the forementioned treatment Ley stated that an alcoholic was never cured of alcoholism and "could never forget" that he/she had been hooked on alcohol. Ley added "even if I had been off of alcohol for 17 years all it would take is a few drinks and I would be hooked again."

The Youngstown Alcoholic Clinic is one of the main treatment centers in the area. With a staff consisting of professional doctors and registered and licensed practical nurses (23 staff members), the clinic is open 24 hours daily.

The clinic's patients come from a majority of areas, California, Illinois, New York etc. but the main flow of patients is from the Tri-state area (Ohio, W. Virginia, and Pennsylvania).

Funding for the clinic is from private sources: patients and medical services (such as the Red Feather United Appeal Agency). The received no federal or state funding since it is a private institution.

For any interested group the clinic does provide free lectures on alcoholism and its effects. The majority of groups taking advantage of this service are area schools.

When asked what criteria the clinic had for accepting people to the treatment program, Ley said, "We never turn a person away the first time."

Bosse leads swimmers with top ten ratings

"Our rather dismal start does not really reflect the fine job our swimmers are doing." Those were the words of YSU swim coach Tucker DiEdwardo concerning this year's current 0-5 record.

"Our priorities are to the Penn-Ohio Conference meet and the NCAA Division II finals which will be held at YSU in March," said DiEdwardo.

Coach DiEdwardo's feeling that "Everyone is swimming well" was enhanced by the fact that eight members of this year's squad are currently ranked in the top ten nationally according to Swimming World Magazine.

Freshman Tom Bosse leads the group with two top ten ratings. He is rated second in the 200 yard individual medley with a time of 2:01.7, and eighth in the 500 yard freestyle with a time of 4:54.1. Freshman Doug Shilliday was rated second in the 200 yard butterfly with a time of 2:02.4.

The 400 yard freestyle relay team of Bosse, Paul Lonneman, and Gary Stokes and Gary Van Eerden is rated tenth nationally with a time of 3:20.1. Diver Joe Kemper established a new one meter diving record with a score of 447.24 for 11 dives. The suspension of three swimmers for disciplinary reasons was a deciding factor in three of the five dual meet losses.

YSU Basketball

With only a minute and a half remaining Buffalo State increased their advantage to 67-60 as the restless Beeghly Center crowd, complete with its largest contingent of boo-birds in recent memory, began clamoring for one of those patented Penguin rallies. But this was not to be one of those nights as the Bengals caged the Penguins for a 72-66 victory.

Two big contributing factors to their second-half success was a tenacious 1-2-2 zone defense which later developed into a harassing full-court press and the fact that the Bengals canned 15 of 17 free throws compared to only three of three for YSU in those final twenty minutes of combat.

The final statistics revealed a fine display of balance scoring as Buffalo State drilled 25 of 58 field tries for 43 percent. Miller, Czmola, and guard John Dougherty each scored 16. Miller also led both squads with 11 rebounds as the Bengals held a decisive 38-30 advantage in that department.

Covington led YSU with 23 points, Parks had 18 and Tony Mitchell followed with 14. As a team, the Penguins did shoot at a fine 54 percent from the floor on 27 of 54, but, as mentioned were defeated at the foul stripe which doesn't say much for the so-called "home-court advantage." The winners were 22 for 26 at the charity stripe as opposed to YSU's 12 of 20.

Our reserves also took it on the chin as they were bombed 74-59 by Kim Inn of Canton. Bill Devone paced the visitors with 14 and ex-YSU great Billy Johnson added 10. Forwards Mark Yurjevich and Robin Vincer each tallied 17 for coach Roger Lyons' squad which dropped their second game in nine outings.

YSU Wrestling

Success is relative to Tom Cox's Penguin wrestlers. In just their third varsity season they have risen to 19th spot in this week's NCAA Division II polls, released by Amateur Wrestling News. Junior Don Hernan brought home some glory last weekend, winning the 134-pound title in the two-day Ashland Invitational. He raised his season record to 10-1. Sophomore Dan Stilgenbauer (150) and freshman Stan Spencer (Hwt) each placed sixth in the 20-team event, which was won by Eastern Illinois. Youngstown State will host a quadrangular meet Saturday at noon with California (Pa.), Grove City, and Behrend.

Women basketeers edged by Miami; to face Cleveland St.

by Linda Marker

The YSU women's basketball team was edged by Miami (Ohio) University, 58-54, in an exciting overtime game played last Saturday at Beeghly.

This was the first outing for the Penguin women while Miami evened its mark at 4-4. YSU has a busy schedule this week with two frays and one home match. YSU travels away Wednesday to Hiram and is on the road again Thursday at West Liberty.

On Saturday, YSU will entertain Cleveland State in a contest to be played before the men's game at Beeghly. The game starts at 6 p.m. YSU narrowly beat Cleveland State last year ripping them 61-60 and this Saturday's game should be just as exciting.

In last Saturday's game against Miami, YSU led throughout the first half but hit a 10 minute cold spell in the second half which spelled disaster for them. YSU had a nine-point bulge with 8 minutes left in the first half, 21-12 but ended up leading only by four at halftime, 29-25.

YSU lost the lead midway through the second half and only made one shot from the floor in the last 10 minutes of the game. With 17 seconds left in the game and Miami leading 50-49, Cindy Gettig, YSU forward, was at the foul line for a one and one. She sunk the first one but the second shot bounded off and regulation play ended at 50 all.

In the five minute overtime, YSU could manage only four points while Miami meshed eight and handed YSU its first setback. YSU shot 22 of 57 from the field for 39% and 10 of 17 from the foul line for 58%.

Marilyn Colla was YSU's leading scorer with 16 points while Linda Fredericks hooped 10 points and led in rebounds pulling down 9. Gettig also had 9 points and 8 rebounds.

Kilcawley P.A. format to include information on campus happenings

Remember missing out on that IFC fall quarter beer blast? Or missing the Berlitz lecture on The Bermuda Triangle? How about KCPB Kink-Relief Night featuring your favorite group? Or that ski trip to Blue Nob; and that outing with the History Club?

Often students have missed out on campus happenings because they were either unaware, or had forgotten about notices listed once or twice in The Jambar. Hopefully, after some revisionary work on the Kilcawley P.A. system, this situation will change.

Student Council Chairperson, Linda Hayes had suggested that an information-music format be run through the Center's P.A. system. The format would differ from the present one only in the information service that it would offer. Announcements concerning major events, registration, weather emergencies, etc. could be broadcast frequently throughout the day.

Hayes suggested that an Ad Hoc Committee to Council would try to get students from different departments and members of telecommunications classes involved in the project. Once disc jockeys were found and students were handling announcements, then the committee could be turned over to them.

The improved P.A. system would serve as an added reminder to the Jambar announcements, and would benefit organizations as well as students. By making use of the P.A.'s services various campus groups could familiarize students with their organization.

Steve Furgas, chairperson of the Video Arts Committee and advertising co-ordinator for KCPB would like to see this project taken a step further. By utilizing video tape machines, more complete information service could be offered. Furgas explained that the "Video Arts Network" has outlets in Kilcawley. One located in the video lounge downstairs near the reading room, one in the Pub and another in the arcade. Those in the video lounge and arcade are most frequently used. Furgas feels that simultaneous programming to these outlets would be added encouragement for student involvement in YSU activities, services and organizations.

If approved, the revisions in the P.A. system which runs from upstairs in Kilcawley through Hardees and the Hoagie Stop, would take place sometime this quarter. Once the project gets under way, and students become aware and involved, "missing out" on campus happenings and being misinformed should become almost an impossibility.

Tax return

There are still openings in the course Prepare Your Own Tax Return offered by YSU's Department of Continuing Education.

Classes will be held Jan. 26, Feb. 2, 9 and 16. The four sessions focus on preparing individual tax forms, with emphasis on gross income, filing requirements, forms and schedules, exemptions, filing status and itemized deductions.

Registration is now being accepted in YSU's Department of Continuing Education located in CAST B086, where additional information may be obtained.

Is it crazy to love marker pens that give you the smoothest, thinnest line in town... and feel so right in your hand? Is it mad to worship pens with clever little metal "collars" to keep their plastic points from getting squishy? Not if the pen is a Pilot marker pen.

Our Razor Point, at only 69¢, gives the kind of extra-fine delicate line you'll flip over. And for those times you want a little less line, have a fling with our fine point 59¢ Fineliner. It has the will and fortitude to actually write through carbons.

Penguins upset by Buffalo State; N. Kentucky returning for rematch

by John Creer

As far as YSU's basketball followers are concerned, the halftime juggling act was the best thing that happened Sat. night as Dom Rosselli's Penguins blew an 18-point lead and suffered a 72-66 upset loss to Buffalo State before 4,173 shocked fans in Beeghly Center.

The faltering Penguins have now lost four of their last six games after winning their first nine in a row for a season mark of 11-4.

Rosselli wasn't nearly as successful in juggling his lineup as the halftime entertainer was in performing his act. A total of ten players saw action but to no avail as YSU failed to find the winning combination in the late going after storming out to a seemingly insurmountable 42-29 lead with only minutes left in the opening half.

The Penguins are now faced with a rough schedule for the remainder of the year and will certainly have to work hard to achieve a post-season Great Lakes tourney bid, which is the long-range goal of the team. YSU will next clash with Northern Kentucky (10-5), who beat them earlier this season on Weds. night and Wright State (6-10) on Sat. night in 8 p.m. home matches. Both are Great Lakes Division II foes and wins in these two encounters will certainly enhance YSU's image in the eyes of those who will determine the four Great Lakes teams in the 32-team NCAA championship bracket to be held in early March.

Buffalo State disaster started out as anything but that as the Penguins jumped out to a quick 11-4 lead, which included four baskets by 6-7 All-American Jeff Covington. However, the visiting Bengals clawed back and even held a slim 14-13 point lead at the 12:24 mark on a shot by center Greg Miller. Covington went on to notch 19 points and guards Gerald Parks and freshman Steve Miodrag, combined for another 19 as the Penguins staked a 43-29 halftime lead as the "calm before the storm" began to disappear.

At the start of the second half YSU managed to score only nine points in the first eleven minutes thus squandering their once hefty lead. The absence of senior play-making ace Terry Moore because of a nagging ankle injury, was severely felt as the locals could not mount any kind of attack. Freshman Joe Sekora, one of Rosselli's hopes for the future but currently lacking the necessary experience simply could not fill the void left by Moore, although he did serve out eight assists.

As was the case in previous games, especially in the loss at Dayton, Buffalo State very wisely opted to double and even triple-team Covington who, with the possible exception of Parks, has suddenly become Rosselli's sole offensive weapon and limited Jeff to only four second-half points. YSU's margin finally evaporated at the seven with seven minutes remaining as Olek Czmola of the visitors tipped in an errant shot

Key games to highlight this week's intramurals

by Greg Gulas

With the basketball season now half over, several divisional races are beginning to take shape with several key frays on tap for next weekend.

In independent action Sunday, the top rated Kilcawley Diseases continued their winning ways as they rolled to their third straight triumph with a convincing 68-29 thrashing of the Terps. Randy Montgomery took game scoring honors with 19 points.

The Knights used a balancing scoring attack to dispose of White Trash 58-25, the Cards got 16 points from Jeff Patterson as they rolled over the Flying Castellanos 64-19, and the Eyeballs got 25 points from John Bernt and 20 more from John Galardi as they subdued the Average White Team, 78-55.

Elsewhere, the Salug Gang rolled to their third straight with a hard fought 56-51 victory over the Morton's Marauders. Emmett King meshed 20 markers for Salug.

Butch Harris hooped 19 points helping Ujama to a 55-19 victory over the Schwontz House, the Blazers topped Rocco's Army 42-36, Seagrams "77" edged the P.E. Majors 48-37, the Rookies rolled to a 44-29 victory over the Skypipers, while George Bellish pumped in 17 markers to lead Yuk Fu to a 42-33 victory over the Stars.

Marakesh Express nipped Engineering Technology 39-32 despite 18 points by Mike Wolochak in a losing effort. Burnt got 24 markers from Brian Meenachan as they disposed of the Wall Street Warriors, 50-20, the Engineers topped Hana's Bananas 59-29, Red Pride rattled the Junkyard Dogs 55-23, the B.S. five defeated the Outlaws 34-25, and Tom Sharkey meshed 14 points to pace the H.A.'s to a 39-26 victory over Theta Xi.

The U.S. Funk Mob received 20 points from Dave Worth and toppled the Whiz Bang Gang 61-42, the Roundballers broke in to the win column with a 40-26 over the Bionics, Bob Conger meshed 18 points to lead the Austintown All-Stars to a 48-28 drubbing of the Fishermen, Mad Dog coasted to an easy 41-15 win over the Dean's Council Dribblers, and Dave Moore continued to pace the Celtics as his 18 points helped aid them in a hard fought 27-24 victory over the Cardinals.

Bill Tiberio's 21 points led the Bo's Pros to a 62-29 victory over the Shooting Stars, Tom Murphy meshed 16 as Ruane Concrete just got by the Geology Department 37-32, Canadian Club got 16 markers from Nick George as they defeated the Valley Crew 35-27, and the Moon Shooters just edged by Y.S.A.S. 40-36. Rich Namie had 18 points in a losing effort.

The White Dwarfs placed five men in double figures as they rolled to a 77-28 triumph over Flash, Gib Stit got 16 points from Jim Erskine as they routed Connie Hawkins' Almost Italian Army, Hoop toppled A.I.B.S. by a 62-33 margin, the Coup rolled over the Flashes 70-36 with the help of Joe Christopher's 16 markers, while the Concrete Cagers were victors by forfeit.

In fraternity action, Theta Chi rolled to a doubleheader victory as they defeated Phi Delta Theta 49-25. Chuck Wesp aided the Chi's victory with a 21 point effort. Then, the Chi's got 32 points from John Georgiadis as they easily defeated Kappa Sigma 64-42.

Elsewhere, Zeta Beta Tau had little trouble in disposing of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 57-7. John Moser took game honors with 19 markers. Sigma Phi Epsilon found the going rough as a determined Nu Sigma Tau team took them to the wire before succumbing to the Sig Ep's, 21-19.

Phi Sigma Kappa broke in to the win column as they defeated Tau Kappa Epsilon 30-12, and Sigma Chi Alpha did likewise as they routed Phi Kappa Tau, 37-18.

In women's action, the Happy Hoopers got 13 points from Karen Wright as they handled Phi Mu 24-6, Bo's Pros routed Alpha Omicron Pi 16-1, Beth Frank tossed in 19 points to lead the Bleacher Bums to a convincing 47-8 victory over the Carnation Creamers, and Robin Colbrunn meshed 14 in leading the Little Sigs to a 26-14 victory over Sigma Sigma Sigma. Also, Benny's Jets were victors via the forfeit route.

INTRAMURAL NOTES—as mentioned earlier, there will be several key games this weekend which may have a lot of bearing on the outcome of several divisions. At 12:30 p.m., the Knights and the Coup, both 2-0 in division II will do battle, at 2:30 p.m. the H.P.E. Club, 2-0, and the Happy Hoopers, 3-0, will tangle for the lead of division II in the women's division.

Benny's Jets, 2-1, and the Bleacher Bums, 3-0 in division I of the women's league will square off; the APD Gang, 2-0, and Bo's Pros, 3-0, will battle for the division IV lead at 4:30 p.m.; at 6:30 p.m. the Canadian Club and Red Pride, both 2-0 in division X will duel while the Salug Gang and the U.S. Funk Mob, both sporting unblemished 3-0 records in division V, will take on each other for the right to move in to sole possession of first place.

The ratings for week three will appear in the Friday edition of the Jambor.

Movies-foxier than ever

by Mike Braun

Seen any good flicks lately? Do Nickelodeon, King Kong, The Enforcer and all the other recently released "turkeys" leave you yawning in your seat? If they do, then shake those cobwebs loose and get ready for some quality films from 20th Century Fox studios.

20th Century has just finished production on 19 films (with 19 more in production) to be released this year.

The first film, Silver Streak (released around Christmas '76) features Gene Wilder, Richard Pryor and Jill Clayburg. Wilder and Pryor are a fantastically funny duo. Jill Clayburg lends a bit of beauty and class to the film.

Two rock music writers who were part of one of the biggest rock groups in music history have teamed together to write the words and music for 20th's next release. John Lennon and Paul McCartney have come together for All This and World War II which is billed as a "Magical Mystery Tour" of WWII.

Supplementing the film will be film clips from 20th's library and a documentary collage.

If you liked Fritz the Cat, Hard Times and Coonskin you'll love Wizards. Producer Ralph Bakshi, with his fantastic style of animation, developed Wizards from his own experiences.

Wizards portrays the "struggle for world supremacy between the powers of war and technology and the practitioners of peace and magic."

"Major Rane is the ultimate paradox. He is alive, but dead. And the dead know no fear." Sounds interesting? Or frightening? Whatever the emotion Rolling Thunder is a movie not to be missed.

Major Rane is a Vietnam Vet returning home after spending eight years in a Viet Cong prison. He has spent his soul to save his body. He is witness to the murder of his son and his wife and knows of only one way to seek revenge, search and destroy.

3 Women is the story of two Texas girls who share an apartment in the California desert. Sissy Spacek and Shelly Duval are featured in this Robert Altman film about the experience the two girls have which shape their lives forever.

For the Sci-Fi fan 20th Century has created (besides the animated Wizards) two fine Sci-Fi creatures. Star Wars is about civilization elsewhere in the universe and Survival Run is a feature about life after a nuclear holocaust.

Stars Wars, featuring Alec Guinness and Robert Cushing, portrays life as it might be in the far, far reaches of the universe. Excellent special effects are a fine aspect of this offering. Survival Run, adapted from a novel by Sci-Fi novelist Roger Zelazny, utilizes a whole new aspect of sound, Sound 360, which literally surrounds the viewer.

The survivors of a nuclear holocaust travel across a land mutated and gone berserk as a result.

Along comedy lines, 20th Century will release several outstanding films. Fire Sale, with Alan Arkin, Rob Reiner and Cid Korya and Joseph Fajack, Youngstown City Prosecutor Edward World's Greatest Lover, starring Gene Wilder, is about a search for a rival to Rudolph Valentino. Mel Brooks stars in High Anxiety, a film he also directs.

All these and more from 20th Century Fox will be released to local theatres during 1977. The line-up looks very promising.

RAPE

Are rape victims and rape cases treated differently than other victims and other crimes?

Rape—A Different Kind Of Case?, a half-hour special which will air over public television Channels 45 and 49 at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 27, will attempt to determine the answer to this question.

The program, produced for Channels 45 and 49 by the YSU TV Center, will examine the investigation, interrogation, court appearance, verdict and the aftermath of a rape case.

Police, rape counselors, city and county prosecutors, judges, parole and probation officers will be interviewed on the program. Some officials explain that rape was indeed a "different" kind of crime and they dealt with it in a different manner. Others said they handled it as they would any other case.

Some of the interviewees who appear on the program include Youngstown Police officers Norma Konya and Joseph Fajack, Youngstown City Prosecutor Edward

ROOTS

by Neil S. Yutkin

Last Sunday at 9 p.m., television may have entered a new era, with the beginning of the television mini-series, Roots.

The idea of the mini-series has been around for a long time, and the idea of using a novel for a mini-series has also been around for a year or two, but never has a network picked a novel that does not have that soap opera connotation.

Roots is the story of Alex Haley's family, traced from their tribal days in Africa through slavery and to eventual freedom and prosperity. Rather than glossing over the parts that might be annoying and depressing, or going the other route and emphasizing the pain and agony in the slick, sick forms that movies have used, this show goes out its way to evenly balance the reality of slavery.

Balancing mean showing enough to make the viewer feel queasy and a little sick to their stomachs, but not enough to make them throw up or change the channel. The producers manage to do this, yet they do not overly preach to the audience, something which would be fairly easy to do considering the

One of the firsts that Roots will be attempting, is running the series on eight consecutive nights. Most people feel that this will lose viewership, but it may have the opposite effect. A great number of people will prefer to see this show in one week, rather than eight.

Roots may also begin the demise of the outdated and antiquated TV censorship code. Previously television shows have been allowed to use one "hell" and one "damn" per half-hour. A great deal more was used in Roots. The show also showed (heaven forbid) the naked bosoms of a native African women. Here, though, a concession was made to the censors. There would be no breast shots within ten feet, and no bare breast would measure larger than a 34C. How they arrived at that figure is a complete mystery.

The acting seems to have been near perfect for the first show. Burton LeVar is one of the best new actors to hit Television. He portrays the main character at this point in the show, Kunte Kite, a young African warrior stolen by the slave merchants.

Ed Asner was excellent in the role of a Christian captain struggling with his conscience on this, his first slave run.

The supporting cast is also very good, outstanding in fact. If the show continues at the same level throughout, it will definitely change the direction of television, and for the better.

tom chapin

The figure strides across the stage, leans over into the mike and says, "Ladies and Gentlemen, YSU is proud to present Tom Chapin".

Saturday night, Kilcawley

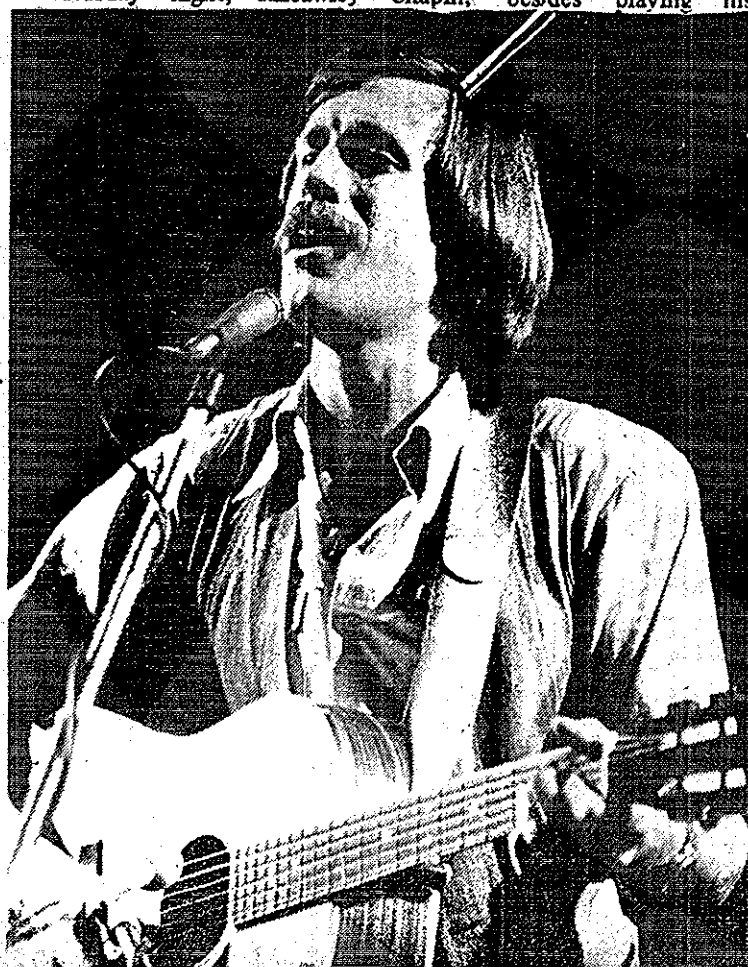

Center Program Board and Major Events presented Tom Chapin as the wind-up activity to Winter Weekend. Chapin, a striking six-foot plus figure, pleased the crowd with songs of his own composition.

The 400 plus attending were treated to a better than average concert by the star of the Sunday morning Make a Wish series. Chapin, besides playing his guitar, delighted the crowd with stories about his travels with the show to such "exotic" places as Greece, London, and New York.

As Chapin wound up his concert and left the stage he was called back for an encore, attesting to the crowds desire for more of a good thing.

This marks the second appearance Chapin has made to YSU; if you missed both you'd better have your eyes checked to make sure you can read.

Organizational meeting set -

YSU to form chapter of national honorary broadcasting society

by Bill Snier

YSU is establishing a local chapter of Alpha Epsilon Rho (AERho), the National Honorary Broadcasting Society to begin operations during spring quarter.

For those students interested in becoming a member, there will be an organizational meeting held at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 27 in Kilcawley Center room 216.

The society is open to any student, providing that their course of study leads them to take some course in the field of telecommunications. Applications for admission, along with printed information about Alpha Epsilon Rho will be distributed during the meeting.

The idea of forming such a group was first discussed last quarter in Speech Instructor Alfred Owen's Radio Production 780 class. Owen was quick to point out the advantages of forming a branch of Alpha Epsilon Rho here at YSU: "1. It's an opportunity for fellowship; and association with a group of radio-TV trained persons, 2. Opportunity to take part in chapter projects in the field of radio-TV, 3. Opportunity to develop leadership abilities through the offices and committee assignments in the chapter, 4. Opportunity to meet and discuss common problems and goals with other radio and television students across the nation through regional and national conventions, and 5. Opportunity to hear speakers in the broadcast field of interest."

A committee was established last quarter with the purpose of writing a constitution and a local charter, which are required by the national charter to gain admission to the chapter. These will be finished and presented at the meeting on Thursday.

The committee is quick to point out that this is not a social fraternity. Because it is an honorary society, certain scholastic requirements will have to be met in order to become a member. These requirements will be discussed at the meeting.

In addition to the constitution and charter, the national society requires a demonstration of the capabilities of the applicant in the radio-TV field. This is demonstrated by the production of either three radio programs or one video tape television program to be produced solely by students. This will also demonstrate creativeness and ingenuity on the part of new members, as well as the capabilities of the University itself. People to assist in the production of these programs will be picked at the meeting.

Owens quoted the National Constitution of AERho to describe the purpose of forming such a society at YSU: "to encourage and reward scholarship and accomplishment among students of broadcasting, to promote the advancement of education in the art and science of broadcasting, to establish meaningful communication between student and professional broadcasters, and to foster integrity in the art and science of broadcasting."

People interested in helping out on a committee, or if you have any questions concerning Alpha Epsilon Rho please contact one of the following people: Cathi Morell, Ricky Robinson, John Magulick, Steve Furgas, Gregg Mansour, Sue Shaffer or Bill Snier, or get in touch with faculty advisor, Alfred Owens, ext. 237.

Student employment looks promising for this summer

Summer job analyses indicate that the prospects for college student employment for the summer of 1977 look promising.

National parks throughout the nation will once again staff their facilities with college student summertime help. Opportunities appear to be expanding into many support accommodations and facilities surrounding the park areas. State parks also indicate a high demand for temporary summer employment by college students. Some national parks will hire as many as 3,000 college students for the summer period.

It is emphasized that students desiring summer employment in the various recreational areas throughout the nation should apply early. Students interested in obtaining additional detailed information may request a free brochure by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to Opportunity Research, Dept. SJO, Lock Box 4000, Kalispell, MT 59901.

YSU Spanish Club to offer scholarship for study abroad

The YSU Spanish Club, Los Buenos Vecinos, is offering a $1000 scholarship for foreign study to an interested student with a major or minor in a foreign language.

The scholarship is to be used by the recipient to study abroad during the summer in a country of his language of interest. This is the 26th year the scholarship has been available through the Spanish Club, with a total of 30 scholarships awarded in the past. Students have travelled in such countries as Spain, France, Austria, Mexico and Guatemala in the past.

According to Dr. Margarita Metzger, advisor to the Spanish Club, an applicant is free to study at will once abroad, but must have a proposed project of what he intends to accomplish. She explained that one option is to register in a school where credits can be transferred back to YSU.

In the past, $500 scholarships have been awarded, but because no one applied last year, the scholarship has been doubled for this year. The Spanish Club earns the money for the scholarships through book sales, bake sales and the annual International Dinner.

The only obligation the recipient has to the Spanish Club upon return, is to present an informal talk about his experiences at a Spanish Club meeting, and to write a formal paper about his travel, acquaintances and learning experiences during his trip, to be completed by the following winter quarter.

Applications for the scholarship are available at the Foreign Language Dept., Jones Hall, Room 312 or from Dr. Leslie Domonkos, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, A & S Building, Room 211. Applications are due March 15, to Dr. Domonkos.
