Youngstown University, Youngstown, Ohio

VOLUME NO. 36 NO. 1

Seven New Full Time Faculty Members Added

In its ceaseless struggle to meet the growing student enrollment, the University has added to its full time faculty seven new members.

At a time when colleges and universities across the country are experiencing great difficulty in acquiring the services of qualified personnel it is indeed fortunate that our staff of instructors is growing in both number and stature.

Of the seven full time additions, four are assistant professors and three are instructors.

Dr. David Behen, Head of the History Department has had his staff increased by two assistant professors. James E. Johnson, who acquired his Ph. D. from Syracuse University, will teach American History and Guido A. Dobbert, whose native land is Switzerland, will specialize in European History. Mr. Dobbert, who originally came to the United States to study, has received his M.A. degree from Chicago University and has been working on his Ph. D., at Western Reserve.

Carson Named Head

William B. Carson has officially assumed the directorship of the Dept. of Health Education, Physical Education and Recreation Education with the title of assistant professor. Mr. Carson who resides in Girard, Ohio replaces Mr. Lou DiOrto who resigned.

Bernard J. Voitko a 1956 graduate of Rayen School of Engineering, has returned to familiar surroundings as he assumes his duties as instructor in the Electrical Engineering Department. Mr. Voitko who resides in Masury, Ohio, is working on his Masters Degree at Pittsburgh University.

Mr. E.P. White, who holds an M.M. Degree from Ohio University will become a music instructor in the Dana School of Music. Mr. White will direct the band and will instruct the trumpet students.

Kenneth L. Whipkey, a 1958 recipient of a M.A. Degree from Kent State U. has become a math instructor. He will reside at 3430 Black Oak Court, Youngstown.

Irene Eastman, a native of North Dakota, will assume duties as yet undefined in the chemistry department. She has a Ph. D. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University.

Paper's Name is Local Trademark

By Ed Nolte

The word JAMBAR no doubt has puzzled the Freshman class and other newcomers to the University. Behind the word JAMBAR is a story that is both interesting and informative. Contrary to popular belief, the JAMBAR was not named for the popular "recreation center" on the South Side. It was also not named for the overcrowded taverns along Federal Street where the steel workers used to drown their sorrows, many years ago, after putting in many hours over a hot blast furnace.

The name of the Y.U. newspaper was derived from a tool used to clean the furnaces in the "welsh" puddle mills after each "heat" was completed. This tool was called a Jambar.

The name JAMBAR caught on and was constantly being associated with Youngstown. When Youngstowners attended an iron and steel convention, Jambar was picked up by others attending the meetings and Jambar and Youngstown were connected on a nation-wide basis. Youngstowners migrating west used the name on various enterprises to help further its fame.

Searched for Name

JAMBAR was first used with the YoCo paper in 1931. The paper, then a mimeographed sheet was nameless. The publisher of the paper, Mr. Burke Lyden, searched in vain for a name for his publication until his sister, Miss May Lyden, came up with "Jambar", because of its association with our fair city.

The dance will also feature the Lenny Esposito Orchestra with Bob Hassey as Master of Ceremonies. Dress will be semi-formal and admission is $2.50 per couple.

University Allocated Funds Through Student Loan Program

Youngstown University has been allocated the amount of $47,695 from the 1959-60 funds appropriated for the National Defense Student Loan Program according to a letter received by Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the university, from L.G. Derthick, U.S. Commissioner of Education. The university will receive $31,798 of the total amount this month and the balance, $15,897 in January, 1960.

Congress appropriated $30 million for Federal Capital Contributions under this program during the 1959-60 academic year.

Derthick explained in his letter that each state allotment of loan funds is computed in terms of the ratio of the total full-time enrollment in the institutions of higher education in that state to the total enrollment in all such institutions in the Nation. Allocations to the institutions within the state are then made in proportion to their approved requests.

Derthick expressed his appreciation to Dr. Jones for his efforts through this program to enable needy and promising students to continue their education. Derthick said, "The splendid cooperation that we have received from the 1,370 participating colleges and universities of the country in our efforts to achieve an equitable distribution of Federal funds under the program is a source of great satisfaction to us."

The Discipline Committee of Student Council would like to point out to you several rules which you should know concerning card playing on campus. There are rules which prohibit card playing in the Snack Bar and Cafeteria at all times. Card playing is also prohibited in the Furnell Room of the library until 3:00 p.m., after which it is allowed. The rules are posted in the Furnell Room and should be read by every student who makes use of the room.

YU Show Begins Tenth Year

The 10th year of informing the students of Youngstown University by way of the Y.U. Show is now under way. Under the direction of Barb Cronie and Fred Kirby the show, in keeping with its objectives, will bring to you — the students and the listening public — the latest in campus news, interviews, and music.

This semester Barb is taking Bucky Gillespie's place who graduated last June. Barb, a graduate of Austintown Fitch, is a Senior majoring in English. This is her 2nd semester with the Y.U. Show and her 3rd year in radio work. Barb was very active at Kent having her own show — "The Campus Co-Ed" — with WKSU, the University Station. She is the first girl to hold the position of Director of the "Y.U. Show."

After competitive auditions, Kirby was voted in last semester to succeed

Miss Cronie. Graduating from Ursuline in '57, he is now a Sophomore majoring in Industrial Management. He is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity.

The first show of the season started off last Saturday with an interview with Tom Smolanovich, captain of this year's football team. The show will try to have an interesting personality from this campus on the air each week.

The show will be on every Saturday at 11:05 A.M. over WBBW, 1240 on your dial. Any campus organizations or individual students having announcements they wish to be made on the show, are to place them in the YU Box or contact Fred or Barb. Watch the Jambar for the Y.U. Show schedule and news pertaining to the show.

By Way of Introduction

The Jambar is the student newspaper published by the students of Youngstown University. This publication and staff will do their best to present to the students a newspaper worthy of the time which you will invest reading it. We intend to report the news of the university and to stimulate some honest thought along various lines. If at any time any student feels compelled to voice his opinion, he can do so in the form of "Letters to the Editor." Such missives must be signed. This does not mean that personal or group wars can be waged through the medium of the Jambar.

Freshman Day—A Success

This year's Freshman Day goes into the books as one of the best organized events yet sponsored here at Y.U. Jim Corbett, IFC prexy, speaking to a group of freshmen about fraternity life on campus stated, "When I was a Freshman, they didn't have Freshman Day to start you off on the right foot and acquaint you with college life." Certainly Freshman Day has been a step in the right direction and helping make that step in the right direction a success were some capable student leaders. Leonard Loewp, president of Student Council and "Harry" Freas, Y.U.S.A. president served as co-chairmen of the event and did an excellent job of organizing the day's events. Carole Albright certainly should come in for some well deserved praise for her tremendous effort in making the day a success.

Provincialism

We have in the valleys of the Mahoning and Shenango a confined way of developing certain traits that is narrow, uncultured and illiberal. Too many times we excuse this narrowness by attributing the end result to the highly industrialized organization which is simply labeled "steel town." We then develop what we call "steel town" talk and "steel town" ideas. Some of us tend to cling to old ethnic groups and ideas which were brought from the "old country" several decades ago. This is a type of contagious conforming which breeds prejudice and hate.

We are now attending a university seeking a liberal education which should broaden our concepts and perspectives in regard to life and living. However, if our minds are closed by preconceived ideas, founded not on reason but on bizarre provincial thinking, we destroy the basic purpose of seeking an education.

Let us shun provincialism and become open minded citizens, independent thinkers, basing thought on facts.

Mr. Loewp served as co-chairman of Freshman Day this fall and is presently serving as the business manager of the Neon.

He is a student in Business Administration, majoring in general business and minoring in accounting. Although he has participated widely in student activities, Mr. Loewp has maintained a 2.6 quality point average.

Library Inaugurates Identification System

Beginning this week library cards are being issued to users of the University Library. For several years tuition receipts have been used for identification of book borrowers, but their fragility and size has caused inconvenience to students and the library staff. The new cards are small enough to fit identification containers and are sturdy enough to stand hard wear. They are issued at the circulation desk free of charge upon showing of the tuition receipt. Students are urged to guard their library cards with care, because the person in whose name a book is drawn is responsible for it. In case a card is lost a charge of twenty-five cents is made for a duplicate card.

NEWLAND

ON KHRUSHCHEV

NO SIR, SHORTY, THAT'S NOT A SOUP LINE.
IT'S A BOOK LINE.

For the first time in the history of the United States, a high Russian official has set foot on American shores. This man is Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

What sort of man is he; a man, acclaimed by some to be the most powerful man in the world.

MAN and MYTH

What were the forces that vaulted this virtually unknown person to the top of the Russian Party?

Khrushchev has many qualities unlike those of former communist leaders. He is neither a radical or a revolutionarie, even though he lived a life of poverty under the Czar. He is also a born politician, as witnessed in his debate with Vice President Nixon several weeks ago.

THE BEGINNINGS

Sergevich Nikita Khrushchev was born April 17, 1894 in a mining village on the Ukrainian border. He was one of seven children.

When World War I came, Khrushchev was drafted in the Czar's army. After the Communist Revolution there was no food or work and Khrushchev joined the Communist Party of necessity.

The Soviet Premier speaks poor Russian and his profanity has become historic in Communist circles. He spent a total of two years in school.

STRUGGLE FOR POWER

In essence Khrushchev's rise to power can be accredited to his ability to communicate with the Russian peasants. They understand his Communism. He wasn't concerned with the opinions the top echelon Communist leaders had of him.

With Khrushchev's rough qualities he needed a more refined party member to help him to the top. This person was Lazar Kaganovich; The man responsible for Khrushchev's rise to power. Many years of patience on the part of Khrushchev were rewarded when, on March 5, 1953, Stalin died. He had nominated fat Georgy Malenkov as his successor.

Malenkov had made many promises to the Russian people; promises he did not fulfill.

It was with the failure of Malenkov's promises that Khrushchev made his move.

He struck at Malenkov in the open, attacking him as a "silly braggart" and an "incompetent fool".

Malenkov fell under this verbal attack and resigned.

The Central Committee then appointed Khrushchev as the First Secretary of the Communist Party, which made him the absolute ruler of the Soviet.

This is Nikita Khrushchev, the man said to control the fate of the world.

What will his reactions be while visiting our country? Will anything worthwhile come of his visit? Only Khrushchev himself knows the answers to these questions.

Student Association Behind School Spirit Movement

The Youngstown University Student Association has launched an ambitious program to stimulate school spirit. This organization with the help and co-operation of The Jambar, The Athletic Department, the cheerleaders, and IFC has started the ball rolling on something that we hope will be of lasting duration.

"HR" Freas, president of Y.U.S.A., gave the following statement to The Jambar on this program.

"For many years it has been the recognized fact by students and faculty and campus leaders that there has been little or no spirit at Youngstown. No one seems to know the reason why. In the last few years our athletic teams have obtained recognition on a national level. This is an attempt to start something which is intangible and part of college life. I have initiated a program which I hope will be the starting of real school spirit. (1) The money obtained from membership in the Association is being used to buy shakerocs for all home games. (2) The membership card serves as an identification system because they are registered by number. (3) We will attempt to keep a student section reserved at all home athletic events. The object of this is to give the cheerleaders a section to work in front of plus reserving the seat for the student. (4) The IPC shall delegate certain fraternities to greet the team upon their arrival on the field. This we hope shall become a tradition.

Anybody who desires to purchase a Y.U.S.A. membership card can do so at the Dean of Women's Office. A budget is forthcoming in The Jambar.

Anybody who is interested in promoting school spirit should contact Jerry Harklerode, Y.U.S.A. vice-president.

To the student body:

We have a fine University! Let's give it the spirit it deserves. Let's get to know and back the members of our athletic teams. Let's be proud of Youngstown and let everybody in it."

THE GREEK LETTERS

This first column is written primarily with our new freshmen in mind, especially those who may harbor a desire to become a part of the active Greek life. The five sororities and twelve fraternities on the Youngstown University campus are Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Omicron Pi, Beta Sigma Omicron, Phi Mu, and Sigma Sigma Sigma; Alpha Phi Delta, Beta Tau, Kappa Alpha Psi, Kappa Sigma Kappa, Phi Gamma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Tau Gamma, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Tau Omega, Theta Chi, and Zeta Phi.

Members of these groups function not merely as "sociables" but are guided by principles founded on scholarship, fraternity, philanthropy, and other elements conducive to a well balanced campus life. Of this doctrine, one of the most important and most often neglected principles is scholarship. The number of Greeks remaining active "by the skin of their point averages" is shocking. It does not seem improbable that this situation stems from early study habits or even the lack of them. Perhaps a remedy for this would be to incorporate into all pledge training compulsory study hours as those groups enforcing study seemed to have met with favorable results.

However, the proverbial other side of the story is that many of the University's top students are Greeks. Several of those who excelled scholastically in the fall semester last year are Mary Pellizzeri, Rosemary Hackett, Ron Stowe, Vilma Terle, Eugene Lupi, Bob Huuter, Mary Mazi, John Smythe, Jane Moore, Sandy Bailey, Donna Sampson, Joe Allegretto, John Biros, John Laborde, Marlene Mogish, Doreen McCleery, and Annette Cioffi.

Even though competitive, the sororities and the fraternities work, play, and learn together and in cooperation with University officials contribute to the progress of the University.

The summer season is most looked forward to by Greeks. Here they can shelf the books and relax while remodelling the house or apartment, making plans for summer workshops and socials, studying from morning to night at conventions -- this is relaxing?

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

New members of the Sigma Sigma Sigma Mother's Club met with the officers and former members of the club at a sorority sponsored Mother-Daughter Picnic held at Lake Arrowhead.

Nancy Veauthier attended the National Tri Sigma Convention in St. Louis, Missouri where the Y.U. chapter was awarded a silver tray for its outstanding contribution to the national social service project.

PHI GAMMA

At the 103rd convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, it was voted that the Phi Gamma fraternity would become the 143rd chapter of the national organization. The Phi Gams, to be installed December 4, 5, and 6 will be known as the Ohio Alpha chapter.

James Douglas, Jack Tesyk, and John Biros spent a week at Northwestern University attending the S A E Leadership School.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

President Dolly Stizza received two national trophies for Phi Lambda chapter at the AOPi International Convention in Victoria, British Columbia. The Youngstown chapter was awarded the first trophy for its high scholastic record over the past two years and the second for being one of the most outstanding chapters.

The new actives entertained the other members at a Pledge-Active Party at which they presented the old actives with ceramic vases ornamented with the gold AOPi rose.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

The brothers of Sigma Tau Gamma have spent most of the summer preparing for their 13th annual Pete Penguin Ball. However, under the direction of house manager, Dick Baker, they did find time for house repairs and the addition of a parking lot in the rear of the house.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

A jaunt to Washington, D.C. for the Sig Ep National Convention is prominent in summer memories of Mickey Kaiser and Jack Uslick.

A popular back to school style is being modelled by their fraternity house -- a satiny white coat with smart gray trim.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON

On State Day, the home of the Beta Sig National Vice-President was graced by the presence of twelve members from Youngstown.

Representatives from the Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania region met at the affair in Cleveland. An informal party marked the retirement of the sorority's senior faculty advisor, Mrs. E.T. Reilly. President Delores Lariccia presented Mrs. Reilly with an engraved silver tray from the sorority.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

This summer, Youngstown was host to the first international Greek convention ever to be held in the city. Jim Corbett, Vice-President of Kappa Sigma Kappa served as chairman of the event.

ALPHA PHI DELTA

The brothers of Alpha Phi Delta honored their mothers at a Mother-Son Tea held at Pollock House. The past year's activities were reviewed and the new officers and advisors were introduced.

A summer resort in Pennsylvania, Galen Hills was the scene of the Alpha Phi Delta National Convention at which Sam Lalama and Elmer Mazzocco represented the Beta Omicron chapter.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Convention-bound Pat Agresta and Dave Manley motored to Detroit, Michigan where Dave served as chairman for the New Chapter committee and Pat, primarily was concerned with the development of fraternity rush program.

ZETA PHI

A wet weiner roast finally ended up at the home of Bob Spak. Various members of the fraternity entertained the group with skits and singing.

THETA CHI

Theta Chi has made its new home at 742 Bryson Street. Don Riley will serve as house manager of the new frame and brick home which boasts a 5-car garage as well as a large parking lot.

Karl Mogg served as chairman for the annual Alumni Fraternity Stag last night. The stag was held at Vinetti's Grove.

TAU OMEGA

Besides picnicking at Lake Arrowhead, the Tau Omegas spent several days painting a Hubbard home under the guidance of Bob Larson.

An excursion to Cleveland to the ball-game, sponsored by the fraternity proved to be quite a disappointment for the group when the Indians lost.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Several outings were enjoyed by the Phi Sigs at Phalanx Mills in Warren as the guests of Frank Guarnieri. Preparations for the picnics were handled by Blase DeLeo, social chairman for the fraternity.

"That's all right," said the professor. "I've changed the answers."

Beede-Webster Duo Goes Into Eighteenth Season

The combination of two men serving together since Youngstown University started intercollegiate football is one that the students should note and take pride in. The association of Dike Beede and Willard Webster goes back to Geneva College when Mr. Beede coached there in 1934, 1935, and 1936. Mr. Webster was then a student at Geneva College and served as student manager and trainer for the football teams. The head coach and the student manager developed an admiration and respect for each other. When "Dike" left the coaching ranks at Geneva to enter the business world, Willard told him, "If you get back into coaching again I'd like to have a job with you."

Coach Beede returned to the coaching of the gridiron sport in 1938 when he assumed the position of head coach here at Youngstown. This was the first season for the sport so Dike got in on the ground floor of the athletic program.

The first call went out for tryouts and a practice to be held at South High Field in the fall of 1938. After the first session was completed and Mr. Beede was passing through the gates, up stepped Willard Webster and asked Coach Beede, "Can you find a place for me?" The coach found a place for Mr. Webster all right and that place became increasingly important as the years passed by.

Struggling through those first years was not an easy task but the burden was made lighter by the two men mulling together. Mr. Webster, reflecting on those early years, remarked, "You look back on it now, and wonder how we held those teams together."

The athletic program has broadened and improved greatly since its inception. The accomplishments of the two men tell much of the story. Coach Beede introduced the signal flag for use by officials to denote outs. The first occasion when a flag replaced the horn was in 1941 when Youngstown University played Oklahoma City College at Rayen Stadium. Beede is also credited with introducing the famous "spinner" play to the single wing attack while starring for Judge Wally Steffan's Carnegie Tech teams in the 1920's.

Mr. Webster was officially made Athletic Director in 1945. In addition to the many duties of this office he serves as the team trainer, and is affectionately known as "Doc" Webster among the players. He is an associate professor in the department of Biological Sciences.

"Thus we have had and do have an active 'team' that produces teams which we should take pride in -- the Athletic Director and the Head Football Coach of Youngstown University."

The Jambar Salutes Larry Markasky

In looking for the elements that compose strong football teams, sometimes we fail to cite the underlying factors that make a team a success and a real "team" in the true sense of the word. Such is the case of one Larry Markasky who has uncomplainingly switched roles three times on this year's edition of Dike Beede's Penguins.

At the beginning of the season Larry was assigned to quarterbacking, in that the squad was needing an experienced man to be a capable replacement for starter Harold Green. Larry was equal to the task and did a fine job.

Shortly before breaking training at Camp Fitch, it became obvious to the coaching staff that they were needing a strong man to back up Ralph Morelli at fullback. Mr. Markasky went to the Gustavus-Adolphus game prepared to run from the fullback position.

In the first game the starting left halfback, Dave Johnson was injured and Tom Richards stepped up to that starting role, but the coaching staff readily saw that there was not another left halfback behind Richards. Who

by Jim Quilty

A wilying sun, not unlike other suns of that week or of the week following, steamed down upon Youngstown University's 1959 football edition at Camp Fitch.

The day was Friday September 4, ten days before the school term began and long before most, if not all, of the upwards of 6,000 enrolled students had given a serious thought to activities other than summertime enjoyment.

Only the occasional cooling of a moist towel on their necks and an even less frequent refreshing breeze lightened the load of the 37 gridders moving through their daily drills. The cracking of helmets in the scrimmage session was audible at the mess hall, some 500 - yards away.

Begins 27th Season

Coach Dike Beede, beginning his 27th season in the coaching ranks and 19th as head mentor at Youngstown, observed the workout carefully. He and his handful of assistants constantly interrupted the session with helpful comments to each player.

The scrimmage, lasting better than one hour, produced some sterling individual performances but the number one development was the exposition of a powerful, quick moving forward wall, something which the Penguins lacked during the 1958 campaign by Beede's own admission.

But the day was not all toil. Following a well rounded light breakfast the team was put through a brisk two-hour morning drill in preparation for the afternoon tussle. Rest, one of the most necessary commodities for athletes, was plentiful with a two hour break between lunch and the 3:30 afternoon starting time.

Lusty Menu

The dinner menu that night consisted of beef or fish, baked potatoes, corn, a salad, bread and milk, and ice cream. As any gourmet can see, the training table is more than adequate.

Finishing the meal the gridders returned to their sleeping quarters, 10 tents located adjacent to the practice field and far removed from the mess hall.

The sun set, the footballers beat off the biting mosquitos, braved the cold night air on Lake Erie and retired from another grid-filled day.

did they call on but Mr. Versatile, Larry Markasky.

This speaks well of the individual's spirit and his ability to adapt himself to where he is needed most. Without this type of co-operation, the team would lack that extra spirit that makes winners out of losers and a crippled team into a physically solid unit.

A real pat on the back to Larry Markasky and the spirit he has shown to the entire squad and student body.

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

Today I begin my sixth year of writing this column for the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro Cigarettes. For this I get money.

Not, let me hasten to state, that payment is necessary. "Sirs," I said a few days ago to the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, "if I can introduce America's college men and women to Philip Morris and Marlboro, and thus enhance their happiness, heighten their zest, upgrade their gusto, magnify their cheer, and broaden their bliss, there is no need to pay me because I am more than amply rewarded."

We wept then. I'm not ashamed to say it. WE WEPT! I wish the wiseacres who say big business is cold and heartless could have been there that day. I wish they could have seen the great, shimmering tears that splashed on the board room table. We wept, every man jack of us. The makers wept--the secretaries wept--I wept--my agent, Clyde Greedy, wept. We wept all.

"No, no!" cried the makers. "We insist on paying you."

"There's no need to pay me...!"

"Oh, very well," I said, and the gloom passed like a summer shower. We laughed and we lit Philip Morris and Marlboros--and some of us lit Alpines--which is a brand-new cigarette from the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro--a fine new cigarette with a light touch of menthol and the rich taste of choice tobaccos and the longest, most efficient filter yet devised. And if you are one who likes a fine new cigarette with a light touch of menthol and the rich taste of choice tobaccos and the longest, most efficient filter yet devised, you would do well to ask for new king-size Alpines. If, on the other hand, you do not like menthol but do like better makin's and a filter that does what it's built for, ask for Marlboro. Or, if you don't like filters at all, but only mildness, ask for Philip Morris. Any way you play it, you're a winner.

But I digress. "Will you," said the makers of Philip Morris, Marlboro and Alpine, "write about the important issues that occupy the supple young minds of college America this year in your column?"

"But of course," I replied, with a kindly chuckle. "And will you," asked the makers, "from time to time say a pleasant word about Philip Morris, Marlboro and Alpine?" "Crazy kids!" I said with a wry grin, pushing my fist gently against their jaws. "You know I will."

And we all shook hands--silently, firmly, manfully. And I left, dabbing my eyes with my agent, and hurried to the nearest typewriter.

The makers of Philip Morris, Marlboro and Alpine take great pleasure in bringing you another year of this uncensored, free-wheeling column.

Mangum Back As Rifle Coach

Official announcement has been made of the appointment of M Sgt Woodrow W. Mangum, Assistant Instructor in the Department of Military Science and Tactics, as University Rifle Team Coach for the coming year.

Although the team will feel the loss of Mr. David H. Patterson who has fired 4 years on the team, Sergeant Mangum predicts another successful year. Last year the University achieved third place in the standings of the Lake Erie intercollegiate Rifle Conference which is made up of teams representing Akron University, Case Institute of Technology, John Carroll University, Kent State University, Cannon College, and The Youngstown University.

Any student in the University who is interested in trying out for the team should contact Sgt Mangum in the RCTC office located on the third floor of Pollock House or at the Army Reserve Center, 399 Miller Street, any afternoon, Monday through Friday from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Rifles, ammunition, and equipment are furnished by the University.

The first match is scheduled for 16 October 1959 with Akron University. Applicants for the team are therefore urged to submit their names to Sergeant Mangum at the earliest possible time.

Column "On Campus With Max Shulman" Starts Sixth Year

This fall marks the sixth year the column, "On Campus with Max Shulman," will be syndicated to more than 200 leading college newspapers across the country.

Besides turning out his college columns, Shulman is currently engaged in his first television venture, a comedy series based on his famous Dobie Gillis stories. Called "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," it stars Dwayne Hickman in the title role and features a tantalizing and talented newcomer, Tuesday Weld, as one of his many "loves." The telecast will debut under Philip Morris-Pillsbury sponsorship on Tuesday, September 29, at 8:30 PM (EDST) over CBS-TV.

Last month, Bernard Geis Associates brought out a new Dobie Gillis book by Shulman titled, "I Was a Teen-Age Dwarf." Prior to publication, bookstore demands brought its sales to more than 60,000 and it is now in its third printing.

Besides these recent activities of bringing out a new book and a new television series, Shulman will bow on TV as an announcer. He'll deliver the commercials on the "Dobie Gillis" telecast. He also penned the lyrics to the show's theme song.

The University of Minnesota alumnus began his prolific professional writing career in his senior year at school. "Barefoot Boy With Cheek" was the first of his best-sellers that include: "The Feather Merchants," "The Zebra Derby," "Sleep Till Noon" and "Rally Round the Flag, Boys." With Robert Paul Smith he wrote the Broadway hit, "The Tender Trap."

HELEN OF TROY, N.Y. says: "There's no greence, just natural good grooming!"

Sir Isaac Newton is struck by another great idea!

As sure as little apples, Newton knew that what goes up must come down.

But when it comes down to a really pleasurable filter cigarette, it's what goes up—in front of the filter, that is—that makes the difference!

And there's where Winston had an inspired idea—Filter-Blend! Winston specially selects choice, mild tobaccos, then specially processes them for filter smoking. The result: Filter-Blend up front of a modern filter. That's what makes Winston a complete filter cigarette.

Filter-Blend also makes Winston America's best-selling, best-tasting filter cigarette. Take it from Sir Isaac:

"You don't have to be hit on the head to know that Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"
