

Y.U.S.A. Kicksoff First Annual "Helping Hand" Drive Wed.

Student Body Collects Food For Needy

Open Letter From Dr. Jones To Students Urges Support of Charity Project

In keeping with the Spirit of Christmas, the Youngstown University Student Association will sponsor a Helping Hand Drive for the benefit of the poor and needy families throughout the Youngstown area.

The drive will begin on Wed. Dec. 9, and continue to Fri. Dec. 11th. Each student in the University, both day and night school, is asked to bring at least one can of food to any of his morning classes where they will be collected. The faculty will be asked by Dean Smith to participate in the program.

Containers, for the cans of food, will also be placed in the main hall, library, Science Building and Engineering Building. Students are asked to place their offerings either in the classrooms or in the containers.

Dr. Jones, in a letter to the Students of Youngstown University, has appealed for their aid and co-operation. Dr. Jones writes:

1 December 1959

To the Students of Youngstown University:

I should like to call your attention to the campus holiday gift project, an appeal to each of you to bring one can of food for underprivileged and needy children of our community. The food you give will be distributed through the Children's Service Bureau to the many families which have been hard pressed by the employment situation this year. Your help will mean much to them.

You will be invited to bring your gifts to the campus Thursday and Friday, December 10 and 11. The Youngstown University Student Association will arrange for collection in the classrooms, and members of the faculty have been asked to remind you of the dates.

Many of you, I know, have limited budgets yourselves. The campus-gift project, combining many small gifts into a meaningful program, gives you a chance to share in the spirit of the season without undue personal sacrifice. I hope that the campus shipment to the Children's Bureau will be a large one, representing your thoughtful help.

Yours very truly,

H.W. Jones, President

Cans that are collected will be given to the Children's Service Bureau of Youngstown. The Bureau will then distribute them among the poor and needy families of the district. Canned goods are preferred because of their ease of handling and durability.

The President of Y.U.S.A., Harold Frease, calls upon the student body for charity during the Christmas season. Mr. Frease states, "Because of the strike, unemployment and other difficulties, there is a great need during this Christmas season for charity throughout the Youngstown area. The Social Welfare Organization is being strained to the limit in help for the underprivileged and less fortunate."

"Helping Hand" Drive Deserves 100% Backing of Students

The YUSA has taken on an admirable project in its effort to collect food for the needy of the Mahoning Valley. This drive deserves 100% backing from the entire Student Body and faculty. This is an opportunity for us to spread some real Christmas cheer in light of the steel strike, which has affected the economic status of so many families in the immediate area. There will be some hungry children in Youngstown during the winter if we don't get behind this drive. How do you get behind the drive? Simply by bringing one can of food, yourself and help to spread the spirit to fellow students.

Let us do something constructive that will be done in a real spirit of love and lend a "helping hand."

"Exodus" Reviewed For Jambar

By Audrey A. Zagorec

"The only kingdom that runs on righteousness is the kingdom of heaven."

EXODUS by Leon Uris is filled with page after page of savage abuses, tortures, and murders confronting the Jewish people who trudge onward with nothing but courage behind them in pursuit of a dream two thousand years old, a homeland for the Jews. The novel moves with such intensity that the Jewish and Gentile reader alike cannot help but feel deep compassion for a people whose nation has been long dispersed struggling against all imaginable inhumane treatment for one thing—the right to live in human dignity.

Katherine Fremont, an American nurse better known to her friends as Kitty, is driven by her love for a little Jewish child and an attraction for a Jewish man into a land of strangeness; to a battlefield where people are carving an oasis in the sand with their agonies and with their blood.

Thus Kitty, a Christian, and Ari Ben Canaan, a Jew, are brought together by a child and by a need. They do not fight for Christians, for Jews; but for people.

Operation Gideon

One of the many tense moments in the story is Ari's Operation Gideon. In twenty-four hours three hundred and two children would be moved from refugee camps at Caracolos to Kyrenia where the ship Exodus waited to transport them to their freedom, Palestine. A ship with provisions and a story to be released on D-Day to all the newspapers awaited the safe delivery of all the children to Kyrenia. After they were all aboard the Exodus and it had moved a safe distance out into the water the British were notified of the escape. They hastily sent armed soldiers to stop the ship from sailing. But to the surprise of the British the ship didn't plan to sail now, it would wait until it had created enough sympathy in all the people then they would undoubtedly be given permission to sail. Time passed slowly and no progress was made so Ari declared a hunger strike and all children who passed out were brought out on the deck for the British to see. For eighty-five hours no one on the Exodus ate and many children were laid on the deck to be viewed in horror by all.

Volunteers Commit Suicide

Still there was no permission to sail for Palestine. Ari then announced that in twenty-four hours beginning at noon ten volunteers a day would commit suicide on the bridge of the ship in full view of the British garrison. This would continue until the Exodus would be permitted to sail for Palestine or everyone aboard the ship would be dead. There could be no compromise! Shortly before the twenty-four hours were up the British gave in. But this was not the end! It was the beginning of a terrifying struggle where a people ... a nation ... lived by need and not by truth.

In this story many different people were brought together and then separated by love then hate, trust then suspicion. They saw their country and loved ones torn from them one by one brutally, unreasonably; yet they struggled for the birth of Israel, their bridge between darkness and light. They took murder, sorrow and humiliation for 6000 years and still they had kept faith. They had outlived all those who had tried to destroy them.

Passover and Triumph

This is the story from the events leading up to the sailing of the Exodus to the night in Ben Canaan's cottage at Yad El where the religious holiday of Passover was celebrated in memory of the deliverance from bondage in Egypt. All the sufferings and struggles were for this night, different from all others because it was in celebration of the most important moment in the history of the Jewish people. This was the night of Triumph, the night they moved from slavery into freedom.

This novel shows there are no odds too great for those with the desire to be free. These people have suffered great losses so that their kind in years to come may live in dignity, in peace!

NEWLAND

Red China's 650,000,000 Today

Living conditions in Russia, under the dictatorship of Joseph Stalin, were at best miserable, but conditions in contemporary China are even worse under Mao Tse-tung. This is difficult to perceive, but true.

The poor existence of the Chinese masses is a result of the strict economy control enforced by the Peking government.

It is easy to understand how economy controls have adversely effected the Chinese people when the Peking governments figures for capital investment are studied from 1952 to the present. Total investment in 1952, in heavy industry, was 3.7 billion yuan. This figure was doubled in 1953.

It increased slightly in the next two years; but in 1956 it jumped to 13.8 billion yuan. This was followed by a slight increase in 1957 and then a shattering 26.7 billion yuan in 1958.

These sharp increases in government expenditures were paralleled by a series of decreases in the living standards of the Chinese masses. The uprise in the number of escapees and refugees also verifies the sharp decline of living standards.

Collective Farming

In 1955 the Peking regime initiated collective farming in Communist China. It was during this year that the life of the peasant dropped to new depths.

More work was demanded of the peasants and his diet wasn't sufficient to sustain him during the long hard working day. It is interesting to note that the peasants' diet is the only measure of their living standard.

This depression of the level of life and the rise of government investments can hardly be a coincidence.

Communes

Once again, in 1958, Chinese agriculture was reorganized, this time into labor camps called people's communes. This reorganization was also guilty of complete disregard of the human element in its plan.

This new agricultural plan was again accompanied by a decline in the living standards.

Russian Peasant

In contrast to the Chinese peasant the Russian farmers were left undisturbed and in complete control of their lands until 1929. In 1929 the five-year plans were born and collective farms were formed. Therefore, in Russia, the peasant interest was allowed to grow before Stalin forced his industrialization on the people at their expense. This change was abrupt and peasant massacres had to be ordered to enforce Stalin's plan.

However, in China, the change was not abrupt, but took place in successive stages. Increases in the state's take from the farm products was made in stages, with huge increases in 1955 and 1958.

This creeping control assumed by the Peking government explains, in part, the passiveness of the masses.

Sacrifices

It must be mentioned that the sacrifices made by the Chinese peasants have not all been in vain. For instance, the all important steel output has reached eight million tons and the goal for this year is 12 million tons.

The Chinese farmer can only look forward to a hard, bitter winter. The state's share of land products will not be reduced and industrialization will continue at the same back breaking pace; all at the expense and hardship of the peasant masses.

The question now is, how long the masses will continue to bear the burden being forced upon them by the Red China government without internal eruption.

THE GREEK LETTERS

Once again from the Greek temples comes the click click of the typewriter.

Two more fraternities now boast of their newly acquired houses; the Phi Sigs now reside on Yale Street and the Beta Tau's house on Bryson Street.

From the hallowed halls of the Snack Bar come the sounds of "Alpha, Beta, Gamma, Delta . . . ." which heralds the fall pledge season for the sororities and fraternities.

Kappa Sigma Kappa's "Sadie Hawkins Day" was a huge success and added a bit of life to the campus the day before Thanksgiving. The most popular girl at the race was "Miss Burro of 1959".

Men! to get in the true Christmas Spirit, remember to find yourself a girl, five dollars (to feed her), a car (to drive her) and one YU student activity book (to take her) and go to the Snowflake Frolic on December 18th at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Now let's see what's happening on campus.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority

The lonely pledges that were seen on our campus a few weeks ago wearing pink and green were Barbara Clopton, Carol Black and Beverly Kelton.

This week they are no longer pledges but are now full fledged sisters of AKA. At a lovely initiation ceremony at Mrs. Felix Patton's home the girls took their final pledges. Mrs. Patton is the graduate advisor of the sorority. Those participating in the ceremony were the president, Helen Oates; Vice president Evelina Sellers; Secretary, Constanca Williams; Treasurer, Claudette Stonework; Club reporter, Joan Vaughn; Florine Thompson, Dean of Pledges; and Bernice Anderson.

Alpha Iota Sorority

Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority

Congratulations are in store for Sister Kathie Schunn the 1959-60 Theta Chi Dream Girl.

Wednesday of last week the Theta Chi House was the scene of a gay party. Sisters of AOPi wish to thank the men of Theta Chi for their hospitality and an enjoyable evening. Entertainment was provided by the pledges.

Sisters of AOPi are busy preparing packages to send to needy families and underprivileged children of Kentucky.

Tau Kappa Nu Sorority

Tau Kappa Nu Sorority held its annual Mother and Daughter Tea in November at Pollock House. Mothers of the actives and pledges played crazy bridge after which refreshments were served.

Phi Mu Sorority

Phi Mu was visited by Mrs. Elizabeth Harding, District president November 30th thru December 2nd which was her annual inspection tour.

Karen Rogers and Nancy Urban are pledges of APEI Service Sorority.

Theta Chi Fraternity

Skits performed by both pledge classes were the highlight of the recent AOPi-Theta Chi party held at the house.

This semester Theta Chi has the following pledge class pending approval of IFC. They are: Tom Canovan, Vic Bell, Steve Clapp, Russ Swegan, Ted Vonschullick, Bruce McBurny, and Bob Russell.

The Brothers of Theta Chi would like to extend their congratulations to co-chairmen, Pete Showmaker and Fred Kirby for their splendid job on the 13th Annual Harvest Moon Dance held in November at the Elms Ballroom. A good time was had by all dancing to the music of Lenny Esposito's Orchestra. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Miss Kathie Schunn as Theta Chi 1960 Dream Girl. Kathie, chosen by the brothers was crowned during intermission by Miss Davene Ucello, last year's Dream Girl. Kathie is pinned to Brother Jim Roof.

Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority

Our new pledges, Sue Cleevly, Dottie Hite, Nancy Humphries, Peggy Opsitnik, Sandy Vuko, and Myra Warden held a very successful bake sale as their first project. They are also planning a mother and daughter tea for December.

We are looking forward to the annual visit of our regional collegiate director, Mrs. Frances Beck, who will be here this weekend (Dec. 4, 5, and 6). She is always a help and inspiration to us to continue to work at our best.

Congratulations to the new Theta Chi Dream girl, Kathie Schunn. She was crowned at the very successful Harvest Moon Ball by last year's Dream girl, Davene Ucello.

We would also like to congratulate the Kappa Sig's on a terrific Sadie Hawkins Day. Sorority pledges got plenty of exercise that day, chasing all those handsome (?) men!

Who is the little nebbish who has been planting nebbish napkins in our Greek box? A reward of 159,000 slightly used napkins is offered for the answer to this puzzle.

Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity

The Brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa recently installed six new pledges. The pledges are: Bob Renner, Mike Bires, Ev Rice, Greg Loughrie, Darwin Teilheit, and Ed Sebak.

Best wishes are extended to Brother Gene Lupi and Marjane Doran who were recently married.

And one final word . . . "Digger", a certain disc jockey does not receive payola only old shoes, socks and furniture.

Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity

The brothers wish to thank all those who attended their dance. The handsome boys from Dogpatch have recuperated after running from all those "beautiful" women the day before Thanksgiving. We think some of you Dogpatch boys tripped on purpose.

Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority

Congratulations to Joyce Billy the 1960 Freshman Sweetheart of Sigma Tau Gamma, and Kathie Schunn, the 1960 Dream Girl of Theta Chi.

The sisters wish to thank Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity for a wonderful party in November, and on a successful Sadie Hawkins Day.

On Wednesday night the Betas and the Sig Eps enjoyed a "Night on the Nile" at the Fraternity House. Thank you for the lovely party.

Pledges Angie Criscione, Mary Ellen Murphy, Taisa Kachur, and Becky Gibson did a wonderful job of entertaining at the Annual Mother-Daughter Tea held in November at Pollock House.

Last week the sisters were seen cramming for their Founder's Day test. Founders Day is December 12th. Beta's and our alumnae will enjoy a dinner at the Mural Room to celebrate the occasion.

Happy Birthday again to Eleanor and Dulcie.

Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity

On November 13th the Sig Tau's of Youngstown journeyed to California, Pennsylvania for a conclave with members of Sigma Tau Gamma.

After a hurried return and little sleep brothers all enjoyed their annual Sig Tau Stomp on November 14th. Joyce Billy was crowned "Freshman Sweetheart of the Sig Tau Stomp." The hard-working co-chairmen for this dance were Tom Knight and Dick Moskosky. (Moss, where's your fraternity pin?)

Seen busy in the snack bar each day are Sig Tau pledges Chuck Andean, John Beron, Jerry Bernard, Jim Capo, Pete Donlin, Steve Jordan, Len Kuzma, Tom Landoff, Frank Lawrence, Ron Margala, Russ Ricker, and Dick Vanmeter.

A remedy for cold nights was purchased for the Sigma Tau Gamma residence on Lincoln Ave. In the kitchen is a new coffee-hot chocolate machine.

Congratulations to Theta Chi on a successful dance and to Kathy Schunn, 1960 Dream Girl.

To Kappa Sigma Kappa, congratulations on a successful Sadie Hawkins Day.

AMERICAN LITERATURE: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

Today, as a service to students of American literature, this column presents digests of two classic American novels:

THE SCARLET LETTER

by Nathaniel "Swift" Hawthorne

This is a heart-rending story of a humble New England lass named Hester Prynne who is so poor that she does not have what to eat nor a roof to cover her head. But she is a brave, brawny girl and she never complains, and by and by her patience is rewarded: in the summer of 1859 she wins a football scholarship to Alabama.

Hard-working Hester soon wins her letter and everyone says she is a shoo-in for All-Conference honors, but along comes the War Between the States and football, alas, is dropped for the duration.

Everyone says she's a shoo-in for All-conference honors

Poor Hester goes back to New England. It is a bitter cold winter and poor Hester, alas, does not have any warm clothing except for her football sweater from Alabama, but that, alas, has a big scarlet "A" on the front of it and she can hardly wear such a thing in New England where Union sentiment runs so high.

Poor Hester, alas, freezes to death.

LITTLE WOMEN

by Louisa May "Bubbles" Alcott

The Marches are a very happy family—and for no discernible reason. They are poor as snakes; they work from cocker to evensong; their dear old father Philip is away with the Union armies; and they can't do a thing with their hair.

Still, nothing can dampen the spirits of madeap Meg, jocular Jo, buoyant Beth, animated Amy, and crazy old Marmee, as the merry March girls laughingly call their lovable mother.

Well sir, one Christmas the March girls get an invitation to a ball. They are dying to go because they never have any fun at all except maybe a few chuckles during the hog-rendering season. But Beth reminds her sisters that they can hardly go traipsing off to a ball and leave poor Marmee all alone at Christmas time. The sisters swear a lot, but they finally agree with Beth.

Marmee, however, will not hear of it. "Land's sakes, little women!" she cries. "You must go to the ball and have some fun. There will be fruit punch and Toll House cookies and Early American sandwiches. Best of all, there will be morris dancing. Oh, how your father and I used to love that!"

"I never knew father could dance," cries Meg. "Oh yeah?" cries Marmee. "You should have seen Philip morris."

"Was Philip a good morriser?" cries Jo. "The best!" cries Marmee. "Philip could morris in soft pack or flip-top box and was full of fine, fresh, natural midsness!"

The girls are cheered to hear this and go to the ball. Marmee stays home alone, but soon gets a wonderful surprise: Philip comes back from the war!

When the girls return from the ball, they find Marmee and Philip morrissing, and they cry "Huzzah!" and throw their poke bonnets in the air, where they are to this day.

And speaking of literature, in our book the best selection of cigarettes on the market today comes from Philip Morris Inc.—Marlboro filters; new Alpines, high filtration and light menthol—and, of course, mild, unfiltered Philip Morris.

Local Sinfonia Chapter Wins Best Chapter Award

The Delta Eta chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honorary music fraternity, was awarded a certificate signifying their chapter here at Youngstown University as the best chapter in Province 21, which includes colleges in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. The certificate was awarded on the basis of efficiency in fraternity business, a constructive service program, and achievement in promoting American music. President Dale Rauschenberg was presented the award by the province governor, Dr. Clei T. Silvey, at a recent province convention held at Baldwin Wallace College.

RIL To Hold Annual Christmas Party

The annual RIL, Christmas Party will be at the home of Reverend and Mrs. Albert L. Linder on the evening of Sunday, December 13.

Preceding the party, members will sing carols at area rest homes.

Carolers will leave the Chaplin's residence, 634 Bryson Street, to visit the old folks.

Christmas cards, a box of 21 for a dollar, are being sold in the Chaplins' office on the second floor of the Main Building. Students desiring them may purchase them from Eleanor Novotny.

OHIO DEER SEASON OPENS ON DEC. 10

One Whitetail Permitted During Three Day Season

Pheasant, Partridge and Quail Season Draws to Close on Dec. 9

By Paul Jagnow
(Jambar sports editor)

With three weeks of Ohio's upland game season behind them, the big attraction for area nimrods will be the opening of Ohio's three day deer season which runs Dec. 10, 11 and 12. Hunters may stalk the whitetails with shot guns loaded with rifled slugs or ball type ammo only. Rifles are prohibited.

In addition to their regular licenses, hunters must purchase a special deer permit which sells for $5. This permit entitles nimrods to take one deer of any sex or age during the three day campaign.

Pennsylvania's open season on the whitetails is well under way, having begun Nov. 30, and will continue through Dec. 12 with action being limited to bucks only. Pennsy nimrods will get a crack at the femes on Dec. 14, 15 and 16.

According to a bulletin issued by the Ohio Division of Wildlife, hunters using bow and arrow have bagged 10 deer since the season began on Oct. 15. The open deer season for the lemonwood enthusiasts will run through Dec. 31.

First Reports On Season Hunting Posted

Reports on the opening weeks of the upland game season indicate that although there were fewer hunters than in previous years, the number of game taken from the fields surpasses that of past seasons.

Officials of the six wildlife districts report that the quail kill is low and that the number of nimrods hunting the elusive bird is not as plentiful as was anticipated.

Dale Whitesell, game management supervisor, said that one reason for the lack of interest in the bobwhite was that "Most hunters cannot hit quail". He also noted that many hunters would not hunt on the public lands that permitted quail and rabbit hunting only and preferred those areas which also permitted the hunting of pheasant. The quail bag was reported to be moderate in northwest Ohio, and low elsewhere, including the southwest area of the state which normally supports a high quail population.

Although the pheasant kill is reported to be lower this year than in 1958, the rabbit kill is up throughout the state with the exception of the northeastern section where a slightly lower kill was reported.

Hunting pressure was greater on the public hunting areas this year and most reports show that the pressure on the private lands was lower than in 1958.

"Klu", Lollar Sign With White Sox

The two big guns of the Chicago White Sox attack, first baseman Ted Kluszewski and catcher Sherm Lollar, became the first players signed by the American League champions for 1960.

Sox president Bill Veeck said both players received salary increases.

"I gave them contracts Tuesday, but told them to think it over a day or two," said Veeck. "They did, and accepted the terms offered."

Lollar, 35, batted .265 last year and set a big league career high of 22 home runs and matches his 1958 RBI of 84.

Kluszewski, also 35, provided most of the Sox thunder in the World Series, belting three home runs and driving across 10 runs. Big Klu joined the Sox Aug. 25, coming from the Pittsburgh Pirates in a swap for Harry Simpson. He played in 30 games for the Sox, batting .297.

District supervisors and game wardens also agreed that hunting violations were lower than in 1958 and that fewer arrests were made this year than at this time last year.

Bill Edwards, game biologist for the Ohio Division of Wildlife, related some interesting data on pheasant hunting in a report issued last week.

Edwards maintains that Ohio has, for all practical purposes, only a three day open season on pheasant. These three are opening day, the first Saturday and Thanksgiving day. At other times hunting is light or altogether non-existent.

Now this statement may seem a bit rash, to say the least, but Edwards has the proof to back it up.

Division Of Wildlife Makes Pheasant Study

A study made by the Division of Wildlife shows that there was one hunter for every 122 acres of land on opening day of 1958. After the initial day hunting fell off to practically nothing until the Saturday following opening day, when one nimrod for every 250 acres was counted. Hunting activity then fell again until Thanksgiving day, which was the last day of heavy hunting, with one sportsman recorded for every 230 acres. These statistics were acquired by airplane flights over individual areas. Results of similar studies in 1951 and 52 followed the same pattern.

Hunting Tips Given For Pheasant Hunters

What good are all these statistics? According to Edwards, much of the good pheasant ground in Ohio is not heavily hunted, with most of the hunting taking place in concentrated areas. Hunters therefore should spread their activity over more time and more area. There are many farms that are never used for pheasant hunting, or any other hunting for that matter, that could be utilized by nimrods if permission is granted by the landowner.

Edwards states that there are plenty of pheasants around and since there are relatively few hunters in the field the chances of filling the gamebag are greatly improved.

Waterfowl Season Proves Poor

In comparison with previous years, area duck hunters have had only meager success in bagging the wily waterfowl. State officials maintain that one reason for this is that the waterfowl had a poor breeding season this year. Climatic conditions also caused nimrods disdain.

The days left for hunting Hungarian partridge, ringnecked pheasant and the bobwhite quail, are dwindling fast and nimrods have only a few more days in which to hunt these wary gamebirds, before the season closes on Dec. 9.

Conerly's Record Is Outstanding

Pro football fans in New York say thanks tomorrow to quarterback Charlie Conerly, the 38-year-old Mississippi cotton farmer who in 11 National Football League seasons and three-fourths of another has:

1. Thrown 2,573 passes.
  2. Completed 1,297 for 17,801 yards and 153 touchdowns.
  3. Led the Giants to two Eastern Conference titles and one world championship in the last three years in the wake of a chorus of boos that almost forced his retirement.
  4. "Aged 25 years."
- The latter is Conerly's chucklin' retort to his gray, almost white hair and his grand-daddy appearance when in the informal company of his young, frisky teammates.

THE LOCKER ROOM

By Pete Arlow
(Jambar sports columnist)

This column will be devoted entirely to the graduating seniors on the football team. They are Tom Smolanovich, Paul Ceremuga, Larry Markasky, Dave Johnson, Jim Sevenich, and Ed Bodnar.

Jim Sevenich had been a stellar performer in his first three years, but in his senior year did not see as much action. Sevy has received a letter each year and was a starter part of last season. He was regarded as a strong replacement at either guard position. The 5'7", 200 pound guard was known for his hard blocking and strong defensive playing. He is the father of two fine boys and presently resides in Leetonia, Ohio. Jim is an advertising major and will graduate in June.

Playing behind a little All American for three years, Ed Bodnar confronted the same situation this year in tough Tom Majovsky. Ed has an all-city performer while at Chaney High School and entered Youngstown U in 1956. Although not seeing much action, "Punchy" was a spirited ball player and a real hustler. Not big as college players go, the 5'8" 180 pound center displayed himself worthwhile many times. Ed is a physical education major and would like to enter some phase of coaching, preferably at his alma mater.

The "hard luck" ball player this year has been Dave Johnson, who was hurt in the first game of the season and was hampered by an ankle injury all year. The Englewood, N.J. speedster has not been up to par because of this ankle injury and a torn ligament which he received later in the campaign. Even though playing behind such standout headliners as Dave Kimmel and Ray Carter, Dave showed his fine running talents on many occasions. If not for his numerous injuries, no doubt the speedster could have ranked with the best tailbacks. In his collegiate career, Dave doubled at tailback and wingback and was a stalwart at both positions.

In three years as a varsity competitor, 24 year old Larry Markasky has played every position in the backfield for the Penguins. He recently took over for ailing fullback Butch Morelli and did a commendable job. Larry occasionally punted and was noted for his booming kicks. "Fishey" was a standout on defense and was known for his bone-crushing tackles. Larry's unique ability was in being a spirited and bigorous performer on and off the field. "Mr. Versatility" is an engineering major and is the lone varsity performer in this category.

Team captain Tom Smolanovich was an all around performer for the Penguins this year. Tom punted, kicked off, kicked extra points, played in the line and in the backfield, and did everything that one individual could do on the gridiron. The "glue fingered" end was a marvel to watch on offense, especially, with his spectacular and unbelievable catches. It will be a very hard task to find someone who can perform as well at so many things. "Smo's" plans are indefinite as yet, but has been scouted by numerous pro teams and is considering it seriously. His loss will be a great one, not only as a player but as a leader.

Paul Ceremuga was another bright spot for the Penguins the past three years at his wingback spot. This year his pass catching excelled and he was the team's leading scorer. Not called upon to run the pace often, Paul could always be counted on for extra yardage with that short pass. In the Akron game alone he accounted for 3 T.D.'s, all on passes. On defense "Muga" was a tiger making tackles all over the field. Paul is a physical education major and has received offers to coach at numerous high schools. In addition, he has been sought by a number of professional football teams and is considering turning Pro.

Phi Gamma Fraternity

Have you noticed how much fun some of the Phi Gams had re-learning the Greek alphabet from A to Z. That's why you may hear them whispering something about what a good time the Alpha Z's are.

What Phi Gam by the name of Tom has been seen putting his loose change into a jar marked "Gas Money for My Next Date"? Rumor has it he may have to go as far as Ohio State for the Snowflake Frolic.

Phi Gamma has installed 14 new pledges this semester. They are Bobby Alton, Joe Cywinski, Bob Dagnon, Wes Gollan, Mike Klovianich, Tom Mack, Don Nelson, Bill Perry, Larry Rollin, Dennis Smith, Artie Sowinski, Ron Taylor, Chuck Wiegel, and Dave Williams.

Today marks the last day there will ever be a Phi Gamma Fraternity on this campus. It is with joy that we will open the pages of Sigma Alpha Epsilon tomorrow, but it is with sadness that we must close the pages of history on Phi Gamma. Though the organization of Phi Gamma may cease to exist tomorrow, the spirit of Phi Gamma will live forever. For 33 years Phi Gamma has been a part of this institution. It has become a living part of every person who has ever come in contact with it. It has etched itself into our hearts forever. Wherever we, the members and alumni of Phi Gamma, may go or whatever we may do in future years, we will always be first and last, Phi Gams until the day we die.

Beta Tau Fraternity

The Brothers of Beta Tau have moved into their new apartment at 664 Bryson Street, which is in the process of being furnished.

We would like to thank all those who helped with the laborious task of redecorating these new quarters.

Limited Quotas On Six Month Program

Mid-year graduates facing the gloomy prospect of early selection by Selective Service are urged to contact the US Army Reserve Center, 1075 Wick Avenue, Youngstown.

Limited enlistment quotas for six months active duty training during January and February are now available. Those selected may be ordered to active duty during these months and discharge the remainder of their military obligation by serving in local Reserve units.

Beta Tau pledges are: Jim Adaway, Joe Bedry, Dave Scott, Bill Creighton, Bruce Irwin, Stan Jaffee, Andy Hamady, Clyde Jordan and Arnold Rudolph.

Andy Hamady did an exceptionally fine job of producing and directing the recent presentation "An Enemy Of The People."

Looking U Around...

By Pat McCarren

We hope that you enjoyed the Thanksgiving vacation as much as we did. That snow on the ground the morning after gave several of our friends a short panic, Shades of 1950.

Our congratulations to the young ladies and gentlemen(?) who braved the wintry weather on Sadie Hawkins Day for the race. A special round of applause to the gal who made the flying tackle on the parking lot to land her man. By the way, will she please report to the Athletic Office immediately?

One day recently the soft drink machine in the SE put on a one man show for the entertainment of all patrons of that notorious hall. Some unsuspecting person inserted a dime, and good ole "coke-nik" cut loose with all sorts of fascinating clicking, choking and gurgling noises. After it sputtered away all of its bottled air and flashed its lights, Robbie the robot settled down to a brief honking every few hours. In an exclusive interview with the repairman, we were assured that no one will have to take refresher courses on count-down procedures. Snarf.

Overheard in the Snack Bar the other day:

Active: "Pledge, what is your greatest ambition?"

Pledge: "To die a year sooner than you do."

Active: "What's the reason for that ambition?"

Pledge: "So I'll be an active in Hell when you get there."

Have you seen the notation on the Student Council bulletin board in Main Hall? It reads: "Like help." Are our leaders going beatnik?

The newest game on campus in spinning pennies on tables in the cafeteria, Snack Bar or the Library. What next?

Why doesn't someone start a fund to repair the drinking fountains in the Main Building? The ones that aren't broken have no pressure. The only ones that are able to get a drink are the campus strong men who take hold of the pipes and wring the water out of the line. This tidbit came from a person who wishes to be known as "Dehydrated".

Class schedules are out now for next semester and the fun begins. They ought to offer a course in class scheduling, passing only those who manage to get the courses, hours and instructors they prefer without standing in line for sixteen hours at the card center. It could be a 1/2-hour credit course, replacing Physical Education.

A new short cut across the grass to the Library is receiving a lot of traffic lately, despite a fence and a sign erected to discourage this malpractice. Either some people can't stand the cold for the extra 27 1/4 seconds (we timed it), or else they are just plain ornery and can't take a hint.

Seen at the corner of Bryson and Spring: some one who obeyed the "WAIT FOR LIGHT" sign painted on the walk. This person finally departed at 6:30 PM when the street light went on.

Overheard in the Library:

Senior: "What's the name of the book you're reading?"

Frosh: "What Twenty Million Women Want?"

Senior: "Let's see if they spelled my name right."

"You can't beat the system", moaned an OSU man at one of the local spots on Thanksgiving eve.

"I decided to take Basketweaving for a snap course this quarter, but two Navajos enrolled, raised the curve, and now I'm flunking."

We'll leave you now, Little One, with this closing thought... You say you won $100,000, on a television quiz show, and then invested it in cranberries; is that what's troubling you, Bunky?

Student Body Collects Food

I feel that we, the student body of Youngstown University, can play a part in making this a happier Christmas season for a great many people, if each of us will bring at least one can of goods to our classrooms or designated points."

He further states, "That it is a part of the American spirit to help others. Lets each of us do our share."

Mr. Freas and his co-chairman, Gerry Harkelrode have incorporated help from all of the university departments. Chairmen for the various departments are: Engineering - Sam LaLama; Business - Leonard Loepp; Liberal Arts - Frank Court; Music - Vic Bell.

Dr. Johnson turns another elegant phrase:

Sir, if it hasn't got it there, it hasn't got it!

Old Dr. Sam has done it again—brought his dictionary up to date in terms of modern Winston usage.

Winston (win'ston), n. A cigarette with Filter-Blend on one end and a wise man on the other.

Taste (tast), n. What decorators argue about and Winston smokers enjoy.

Filter-Blend (fil'ter-blend), n. A happy marriage of art and science. Light, mild, flavorful tobaccos are artfully selected, then scientifically processed for filter smoking.

Slogan (slô'gan), n. (e.g., Winston tastes good like a cigarette should). A statement of disputed grammar but unquestioned fact.

Front (frünt), n. (used in conjunction with the preposition "up"). The section of a filter cigarette where if it hasn't got it, it hasn't got it. Also, the section that counts, the section where exclusive Filter-Blend is to be found.

Boswell (bôz'wél), Nickname for a guy who is always hanging around to cadge Winstons from you.

"There is nothing which has yet been contrived by man by which so much happiness is produced..."

NOSMO KING Campus Philosopher

by Frank Court
(Jambar feature writer)

Careless action has been responsible for the ruination of many famous men. Anthony became careless with Cleopatra and he suffered. Napoleon became careless with his empire and lost his power. Egbert Glubb, student at Nuttsta U., became careless with a meat grinder and was sold for .98 cents a lb. This created a problem.

News of Egbert's tragedy spread rapidly throughout the student body. As usual, many students remained apathetic and unconcerned. Others realized the seriousness of the tragedy and began to formulate an intelligent solution. The remainder of the student body acted accordingly and jumping to a hasty irrational conclusion, decided that .98 cents a lb. was not a fair price and that Egbert should have been sold for a $1.05.

Without giving a thought to their actions, the quick tempered students stormed the administration building and demanded that the price be changed. They blocked the entrance and permitted no one to enter. The faculty, who up to this time had tolerated the trouble makers, became furious when they saw the blockade. How was the Popsicle Man going to get in?

Nosmo King, campus philosopher, was called in to try and quiet the mob. "I can tell by the holes in your head, that you are going into this with an open mind," cried Nosmo. "Don't you realize that raising the price of Egbert will add to inflation and we might have to resort to our education for a job after we graduate."

The students didn't listen. They were intent upon causing trouble and continued to block the entrance. Soon, chaos resulted and Nuttsta U. became a hot bed of confusion and scandal.

A campaign of bitterness and suspicion that infested the whole student body was begun. Fights raged, grades fell, students were hung in effigy and threatening letters became as common as cutting class. Many students lost interest in the university and transferred or dropped out.

A year later, when the school was nearly deserted and on the verge of ruin, it was discovered that the whole incident had been unnecessary. Egbert didn't fall into the meat grinder after all. He was pushed.

A group of quick tempered, slow thinking students had been responsible for the ruination of an entire university. There remained only one course of action for the faculty of the university to take. They converted it into a gas station and sold pizza in the auditorium.

Nosmo suggests a moral: It only takes a second to come to a rash unjust conclusion but it might take a lifetime to make amends for it.

American Greetings Seeks Graduates

The American Greetings Corporation this week announced plans to enlarge its verse writing and humor writing staff by adding several college graduates of the class of 1960 to its Editorial Department.

"We feel that many college graduates have talent and abilities which might be sharpened if they are given an opportunity to develop in a creative atmosphere," said Dave Davis, Vice President in charge of Creative Personnel. "People who are creative, imaginative, and can communicate effortlessly possess the qualifications needed for these positions."

Graduates who believe they can originate ideas for conventional and humorous greeting cards will find a writing job at American Greetings stimulating and satisfying.

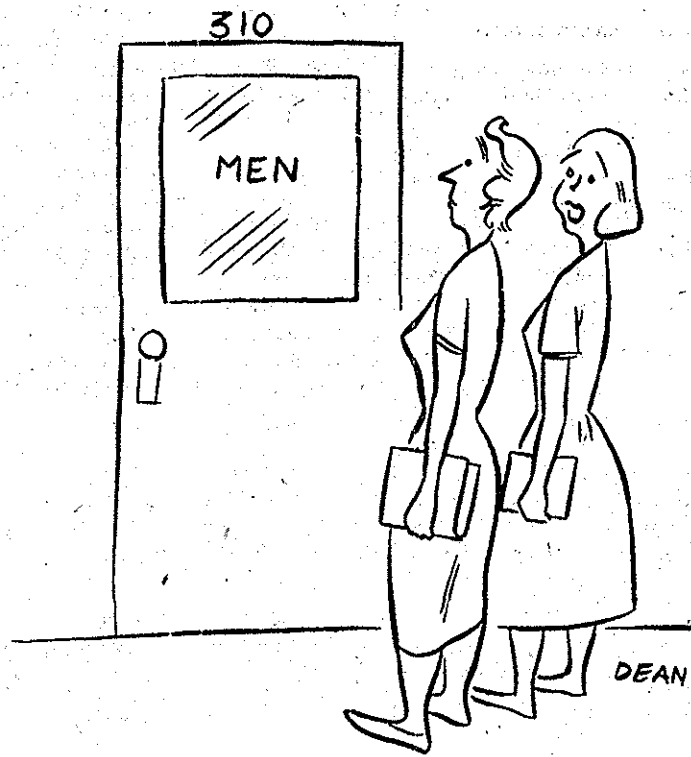

To arrange for a personal interview, write to Mr. Irv Leiberman, Editorial Director, or Ray Matousek, Verse Editor, American Greetings Corporation, 1300 West 78th Street, Cleveland 2, Ohio.

For those students who are not seniors, there is also a need for free-lance material.
