Missionary to Speak At Religion in Life; Is YU Student

The Religion in Life Fellowship program for Sun. Oct. 26, 8 p.m., at First Christian Church has as its speaker the Rev. Charles Anderson, a student at Youngstown University and a major in Business Administration, who was, during recent years, a missionary in Brazil. He is taking additional work for the purpose of specializing in administration on the Foreign Mission field in South America, or elsewhere. His wife Norma will accompany him in the program, and will talk about "The Coffee State" or the State of Parana, where they served during the past few years.

Mr. Anderson will talk about the possibilities in Brazil in the fields of education, business and religion. A number of beautiful slides will be projected during the program. The Reverend will prepare some samples of coffee cooked in the South American way. Both Charles and Norma Anderson will be garbed in South American fashion, he wearing the clothes of a South American Cow Boy, she wearing an ensemble typical of what many South American women wear. The State of Parana, where they served as missionaries, produces more coffee than any other territory in the world.

John Mellon, RIL President, will preside. Refreshments and recreation will follow the regular program.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Plans 'Football Frolic'

String 'Em Up

We hate to make our points with parables, but let us reflect for a moment on horse-stealing.

Back in the days when men were men and horses were necessities, a stern citizenry spent a good portion of its time looking about for horse thieves. When found, the thieves were hanged to the general delight of all.

Besides providing a little rustic amusement, the horse stealers were placed on the gibbet as a warning. One simply couldn't get anywhere except on horseback. Without his faithful cayuse, a man was helpless.

Of course, it was also illegal to steal.

In a university, books are every bit as valuable to the student as a horse used to be to a plainsman. Books carry us down the road to knowledge and understanding. We can't get anywhere without them.

However, our university society has no provisions for the hanging of a book thief. We can only attempt to reason with those who stupidly or thoughtlessly "borrow" books for long or short periods of time, by pointing out to them how gravely they are incapacitating those who wish to get somewhere intellectually.

We can only warn book robbers by reminding them that their heedless acts might result in suspension from the University for an indefinite period of time.

THE POST, in a recent editorial campaign, attempted to reduce book thievery. The library was missing many books and this newspaper pleaded with those responsible to return their loot. Some of the missing books were returned. A great many were not.

Stealing is still a criminal act. A book should be little short of sacred to a student. Stealing books for the purpose of -- we are ashamed to say it -- reselling them is nothing more than a cheap racketeering trick.

We don't suppose the day will ever come when book thieves will be strung up, but should this ever happen, we will bring our popcorn and fight for a front-row seat.

Marching Band's Potential

Dana School of Music students who participate in the University marching band deserve commendations for a job well done. The band, however, has been handicapped because of lack of interest throughout the entire school.

The organization's 65 members, with few exceptions, are all students in the music school. Along with a full load in other courses, the musicians must practice drilling every day from 12 to 1.

In a letter from President Jones following a performance, he stated, "It was, I think, one of the best shows the group has ever put on, demonstrating both precision and enthusiasm."

The marching band has potentialities. Musicians not in the organization, but who would be interested in becoming members should contact the school of music.

Utilization of Voting Powers

Voting is the duty of every true American.

From the days of the Revolutionary War to the period of today, men and women have given their lives so citizens could exercise the right to choose the men they wanted to represent them.

Exercise your rights by voting for the candidate of your choice on Nov. 4. Help to keep our country the Democracy that it is.

City Club Requests Stop to Trespassing

Students are requested not to infringe on the Women's City Club property.

A group of 30-40 students have been asked not to climb over the City Club's expensive new stone wall. Not only do these students damage the landscaping work recently finished, but they are also rude and offensive when the City Club personnel ask them not to trespass.

The Campus Voice

By Vilma Terle

With the recent discussion on whether or not the President of Student Council should be elected by the other members of Council or by the popular vote of the entire student body, we thought that it would be in the interest of the students to find out what some upperclassmen on campus are thinking.

Gerard Repasky

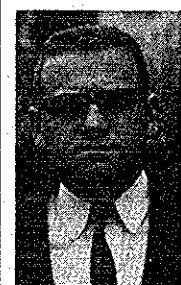

"Remember that Student Council is open to suggestions or questions from the entire student body on this issue or any other one that may arise. Feel free at all times to present them to the proper source, Student Council meetings or members. The method of choosing the president has been a tradition set forth in the Constitution by the founders of Council who weighed all possibilities, both positive and negative and believed that this was the best plan to follow. They felt that only 22 members of Council, who are elected by popular vote, were truly qualified to know the true capabilities of aspiring presidents. The question is, should we elect future presidents of Council by popular vote or should we continue with the 'electoral college' method as we have done in the past? Only interested students presenting the facts to the proper source can help Council decide whether the present plan is outmoded and a new one is needed."

Ike McHugh

"Actually, this question at hand arises from the minority of students that vote in the election of Student Council representatives. With this minority existing, it does make possible the hypothesis that was given in the editorial of the last issue. It is my contention that if Student Council were to hold election of officers by popular vote, it might stimulate the interest of and reduce the majority of students that are not interested enough to vote for representatives in the first place.

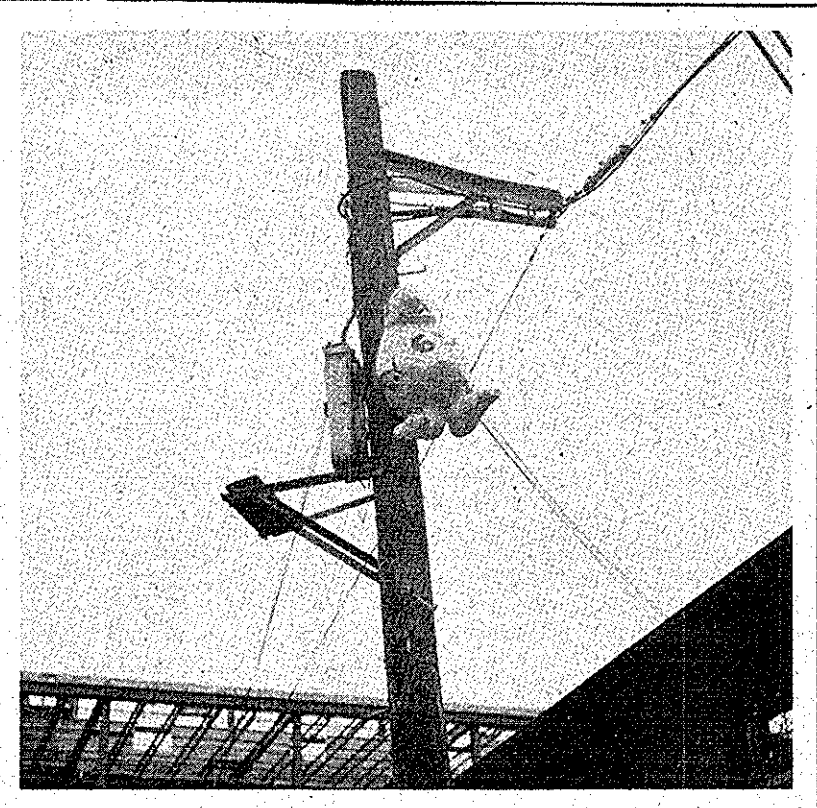

"With added stimulation of the interest in Student Council and the elections of its officers, we might eliminate the election of officers and representatives on the basis of popularity and power behind them and start electing them on the basis of ability. With that type of election, it would tend to eliminate factions in Student Council working against each other and contribute to a more wholesome and representative body."

Ed Wall

At the present time, the students on campus are experiencing possibly a new but yet old method as to voting for elections. Being a present member of Student Council, I am familiar with the approach, method, and final determination of candidates nominated, voted, and placed into office. The President, other officers, and representatives from the various schools are placed into the Student Government by the student body. But as far as for the selection of future officers, this is left to the present representatives who are in Council. It is up to their discretion as to the election of officers.

I mentioned previously in my opening statement as to a new but yet

'Right to Work' Issue; Originates with Wagner Act

By Geri Zellers

For many of the students at Youngstown University, Tues. Nov. 4, will be their first opportunity to vote in governmental elections. This year there is an especially controversial issue on the ballot -- The Right To Work Law. If this law is passed, it will become a constitutional amendment and not easily ratified, therefore a complete understanding of the proposal is necessary.

The law has already passed in eighteen states and is being put before voters of six states in this election. If passed in all six states, a total of twenty-four, one half of the United States will be working under this law. Legislators hope from there it will gain favor and eventually will gain favor and eventually will be adopted in all of the forty-eight states.

This is not a new controversy. It originated in 1935 with the passing of the National Labor Relations Act sometimes called the Wagner Act and was aimed primarily at protecting labor and encouraging the growth of unions. At this time, business was just beginning to overcome the effects of the 1929 depression. Many workers were unemployed and without protection, employers could impose conditions of employment that nullified any right of employees to organize and bargain collectively.

Unions Grew

Under the protection of the Wagner Act, unions grew stronger and the rights of organizing and collective bargaining were established. The Wagner Act was, however, designed to regulate the activities of employers only, union practices were not restricted in any way.

In 1947, The Labor Management Relations Act (Taft-Hartley Act) was enacted to correct certain abuses and add provisions to the Wagner Act. The amendments of this act were designed to equally distribute to employers, employees, and unions the rights, privileges and responsibilities to which they are entitled. "Closed Shops" were prohibited, union shop agreements were permitted under certain conditions, foremen old method for voting at elections. Since the student body elects their representatives within their respective schools, I feel that it is the student body's privilege to elect the officers of Student Council. This method for election of officers could be effective if certain restrictions were made. These are: (a) as to qualifications of candidates, (b) previous experience with aspects of governmental policy, (c) a required point average above the present members of student council, preferably a 2.0 average for officers, (d) certain distinction as to rank of candidates running for office.

were excluded from employee status and more less significant sections were also enacted.

The proposed section 1a, which will appear on your ballot is as follows

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this State. All agreements in conflict with this section are, to the extent of such conflict, unlawful and of no effect in this state."

Arguments in Favor

The arguments in favor of this amendment are that every man and woman in Ohio will have the freedom to join or not to join a labor union, it will prohibit compulsory "Union Shop" agreements between management and union officials, make unions voluntary organizations which require union organizers to secure members on the basis of services rendered rather than compulsion; and it will help to build public confidence in the labor movement.

The opposition argues that the amendment would mean excessive governmental control, that the majority of Ohio's working people voted in a secret-ballot election that they want "Union Shops"; that everyone benefits from their local union therefore everyone has a moral obligation to support it; and that because eighty per cent of employer-employee contracts in this state include union shop agreements, Ohio has obtained the status of second in industry in the nation.

There are many more aspects. Consider them all carefully and above all - Vote!

Richards Named 'Player of Week'

Editor's Note: Each week during the remainder of the football season, the outstanding performer in the preceding week's football game will be designated "Player of the Week."

Small in size but mighty in desire is this week's "Player of the Week" Tom Richards. Richards, a sophomore, weighs only 170 pounds, and is in his second year of varsity football at Youngstown. Yet anyone who saw the Penguins whip Eastern Kentucky Saturday can attest to the saying: "Big things come in small packages."

All he did was intercept an enemy pass on his own eight yard line to stop one touchdown drive, recovered a fumble on the three to halt another and score the second Youngstown touchdown himself from eight yards out after setting the score up with a 22 yard gallop.

As defensive linebacker he thwarted many charges which would have resulted in longer gains otherwise.

Richards was quick to point out the victory was a team effort, stating: "The credit belongs not to me but to the blockers up front."

IFC Football Upset Recorded

By Pete Sloan

The second week of IFC football brought one surprise and a near upset at Borts Field. On a wet field, the Kappa Sig's were given a little trouble by the TKE's but finally won 19-6. The Kappa Sig's showed a good running attack combined with a passing attack.

In the upset of the day, Kappa Alpha Psi, won over the Phi Gam's, 12-0. The Kappas showed speed in the backfield and a good passing attack. It was an off day for Phi Gamma.

In a near upset, the Theta Chi's edged Sigma Phi Epsilon, 12-6. Collins proved to be too straight in his aim as he fired two touch-down passes. Domini and O'Neil were on the receiving end. The Sig Ep's only touchdown came on a Hoffman to D'Amico pass.

The Zeta Phi's ended the day with a scoring spree over the helpless Phi Sig's, 67-0.

This Sunday in Division A the Kappa Sig's take on the Theta Chi's in a game of the undefeated. Nu Sigma Rho plays the TKE's in the other. In Division B, Zeta Phi Eta plays Phi Gamma and Alpha Phi Delta meets Kappa Alpha Psi.

Penguin Gridder

John Armeni

John Armeni, Tackle Four-Year Letterman

John Armeni is the 220 pound tackle that can be seen bolstering the right side of the Penguin line both on offense and defense. He has gained four letters at the tackle position since coming here in 1955. Woodrow Wilson was his alma mater where he played basketball in addition to football.

John feels that the team this year has a lot of spirit and that they are looking better each week. He senses when the team plays together and remarked that this usually means victory. He cited this year's Western Kentucky game for an example.

After graduating, John would like to go into teaching and coaching. He is a health and physical education major with a special interest in biology. He has compiled a two point plus average. His natural interest is coaching and he would like to work in the city or the outlying district. When asked the system he would employ, his answer was Dike Beede's Composite Offense. John is married and has a nine month old baby girl. They are settled down on the South side of town. Bowling and basketball with the Varsity-Y Club keep him active during the off-season.

Coach Dike Beede had this to say about Armeni, "This is his best playing year. He seems to have settled down more and has more concentration on the game. Armeni, along with Krafcik, rank as the best tackle combination in Youngstown football history."

Civil Service Has New Program

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced a new Student Trainee examination for use in selecting college students and high school graduates for work-study programs in various Federal agencies. The training programs are in the scientific, technical, agricultural, accounting, and statistical fields.

Some positions are located in Washington, D.C., and the nearby area only. Others will be filled throughout the country. Trainees will be paid at the rate of $3,255 to $3,755 a year during the periods in which they are employed.

Students must be enrolled in, or accepted for enrollment in, a curriculum in college leading to a bachelor's degree in one of the fields included in this training program. A written test will be given.

Further information and application forms are available at many post offices throughout the country, and at the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C. Applications will be accepted until April 2, 1959.

Gustavus-Adolphus To Face Penguins

By Pete Sloan

The Penguin football team will probably face an undefeated team next Thursday at Rayen Stadium, Nov. 6. The Gusties have a high scoring team, with the team averaging 38 points a game and rushing 418 yds. per game in five wins.

The boys from Minnesota use the straight T and have a good running and passing attack. The line is solid right across. Bob Swigum, a three year veteran, is the quarterback.

The Gustie coach is Lloyd Hollingworth. His team has won six Minnesota College Conference titles. The series between the two schools shows Youngstown ahead, 6-2-1, with the Penguins winning the last six games. This includes a 40-13 win last year.

The Penguins will have all they can handle. There is always the possibility of spoiling an unbeaten season with the home team the spoiler this time.

Penguins Defeat Kentucky Squad

Youngstown University stopped the Maroons of Eastern Kentucky College 14-9 before 5000 chilled fans at Rayen stadium last Saturday evening to boost their record over the five-hundred mark for the first time this season.

Touchdowns by Backs Harold Green and Tom Richards, along with an extrapoint run by Ray Carter provided the winning margin for the Penguins.

Eastern Kentucky fullback Hode Durkin sprinted six yards through the Penguins' line for their only touchdown. The Maroons other scoring came on "Dike" Beede's planned two-pointer to subdue a last quarter scoring threat.

After holding a slim 8-7 lead at halftime, the Penguins took the opening kick and marched 60 yards with Richards crashing over right guard for the locals last scoring.

Youngstown's win left their football record at three wins and two setbacks. This victory split the series at two games, each and avenged a 13-0 setback at Kentucky last year.

Intramural Basketball Plans Being Completed

Anyone interested in forming a team to participate in the Intramural Basketball League this coming season should watch for a notice in the next edition of the Jambar. "This notice," states League Director Dom Rosselli, "will state the time of the first meeting for all who are interested."

Netters Begin Routine Drills

Youngstown University fans are looking forward to the coming basketball season with increasing enthusiasm. With memories of the past two years fresh in their minds, Penguin Boosters are anticipating a third successive state NAIA championship. Ten returning stalwarts form the nucleus of a dynamic team which has its varsity squad being pressed by a group of promising freshmen.

After a week of routine drills and daily scrimmages, Ohio's 1956 "Coach of the Year", Dom Rosselli, reports that a squad of 50 or so has been cut down to 28 with probably three or four more to go.

Veterans back this year are: second team Little All-American, Herb Lake; forwards - Jim Cramer, Mickey Yugo-vich and Charley Bushman. Trying to move into the starting guard spots which were held by Jim "Beanie" Gordon and Roy Taylor last year, are John Melfi, Howard McElroy, Jerry Fitzpatrick and Steve Hawthorne. Also mentioned to move into the traveling squad is 6'5" Ed Korbeni who joined the squad at mid-season last year.

All in all, the coming season promises excitement galore as the Penguin cagers will be gunning for their third consecutive state NAIA Championship. They will set their sights on the opening game at Kent State University on Dec. 1.

Teacher Exams Are Planned

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 250 testing centers throughout the United States on Sat., Feb. 7, 1959.

At the one-day testing session, a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-verbal Reasoning; and one or two of eleven Optional Examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. The college which a candidate is attending, or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations and which of the Optional Examinations to select.

A Bulletin of Information can be obtained from college officials, school superintendents, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed applications, accompanied by proper examination fees, will be accepted by the ETS office during November and December, and early in January so long as they are received before Jan. 9, 1959.

Mr. Gay Appointed English Advisor

Mr. Thomas Gay, professor of communications, has accepted the position of advisor to the English Society. In the past the club has had only two advisors, Dr. Harder, and Dr. O'Brien, both of the English Department. The club, however, felt it would be to their advantage to add another one.

The English Society is now planning entertainment for a Women's Club engagement. They are also trying to gather books for a book sale in December.

University Has Another 'First'

Youngstown University has become the first institution in this region to go on the Punched-Card System for Monthly Certification for veteran training allowances. This system has been in effect in New York and Chicago for two years, and more recently in Cincinnati. If it is successful here, all schools in this region will be on this new system next semester.

Veterans Reminded About New System

Veterans are again reminded that the VA is to put a new system into effect for monthly certification for training allowances.

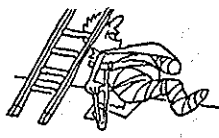

Those men on PL-550 who have not received letters or who desire further information should stop at the Business Office of the University.
