Agency History

The Jambar is a student newspaper published twice weekly during fall and spring semesters and weekly during summer sessions. Free copies are distributed throughout campus, and subscriptions by mail are available for a yearly fee. Currently, the Jambar is also available online at www.thejambar.com.

The Jambar covers campus events, YSU sports, and local entertainment. It also reports on national news and entertainment, such as CD and movie reviews. Students work as editors, reporters, writers, and photographers. The newspaper serves as a forum for opinions in the editorial section and letters to the editor.

Burke Lyden founded the Jambar in 1931 and published the first issue on January 14, 1931. In October of 1931, the Jambar announced its plan to change from mimeographed form to standard newsprint format. The masthead has changed frequently over the years, as has the size of the newspaper. Beginning in 1967, the Jambar began publishing an annual April Fool's edition, in which all articles were humorous and false. This tradition continued through 1998.

Since its founding, the newspaper was awarded nine Associated Collegiate Press All-American honors. Youngstown State University's English Department offers journalism major; students may write for the Jambar as part of that curriculum.

Scope and Content Note

Many of the materials in the collection were originally housed in three-ring binders. For preservation purposes, all materials were removed from the binders, and negatives (Series I) were separated from proof sheets (Series II) and photographs (Series III). Printed materials, such as style books and advertising rate cards, are in Series IV. Series V contains handwritten notes and identification items, which were originally found in the three-ring binders. The bulk of the first five series covers the years 1987 to 1995. Original order and organization were maintained whenever possible. Archival appraisal principles were applied to water damaged negatives.

Series VI contains the master negatives of all microfilmed Jambar newspapers. This is a complete run of the paper, beginning in 1931. This series will continue to expand as additional papers are microfilmed. The master negatives are preservation copies and should not be used for access. The duplicates (access copies) are housed in Maag Library's microforms area. Series VII is printed newspapers, which were collected by the reference department and by archives staff. For additional printed copies, see the Jambar bound volumes in Special Collections. Series VIII is digital scans (TIFFS) saved on CDs. The scanned images cover newspapers from 2000 to 2006.
