My hearth-baked Rye is a delightful treat for calorie-conscious patients.

Yes, my variety of flavorful rye breads fits perfectly into low calorie diets. And they taste delicious. If your dieting patients find the usual flat diet breads distasteful, recommend my rye breads. They are hearth-baked the old-fashioned way, and full of real rye flavor . . . yet, lower in calories than ordinary breads. I'm sure you'll like them, too!

Our President Speaks

Your president wishes you and your loved ones a Very Happy and Peaceful Year.

The past year has seen the creation of a board of health with the appointment of a full time qualified health commissioner, Dr. Leonard Blum. He has taken over his task with vigor, enthusiasm and cooperation.

Mr. Howard Rempes became our first executive secretary in 1958. He should be a great asset to our organization as he brings a layman's viewpoint in considering our problems. I urge every one to cooperate and consult with him.

Dr. Detesco faced many problems during his tenure of office. We are very proud of Andy.

More and more of our society's work will revolve around our committees. We have great talent among our members and it should be utilized to the fullest extent.

Our society should become more and more politically active to keep abreast of this changing world and help mould democratic ideals.

M. W. Neidus, M.D.
President

EDITORIAL*MARCH OF DIMES

The March of Dimes Campaign began on January 2, and ends January 31, 1959. This year it is an attack on arthritis, congenital defects as well as poliomyelitis. To the many victims of these diseases and defects and their parents, it means a hope for the future. Certainly, few of us, including our families and friends, during a lifetime escape all three of them.

Arthritis, as we all know, can be a crippling disease affecting young and old. The basic etiology of it is still unknown and the treatment unsatisfactory. Certainly it should be included in this campaign for there is much research to be done about prevention and or cure.

Birth defects are probably one of the major childhood medical problems. They are exceeded only by accident as a cause of "crippling" and "disability" in children. They are the cause of 34,000 infant deaths, or one fourth of all U.S. infants who are stillborn or die annually within the first month of life. Some result from inherent errors in heredity and are a difficult problem in prevention. The other main group lend themselves more readily for control i.e. those caused mainly by "environmental conditions." They include mishaps, injuries and infections that are often preventable. There is also much research to be done in this field.

Although victory over polio is in sight, research in the rehabilitation of polio victims will continue, as well as continued polio clinical inoculations and aid to those who contract the disease.

It is encouraging to see this great foundation with all its' experience now concentrating on other diseases which disable and cripple our children. All of us can aid when the March of Dimes Campaign needs funds. Remember . . . one of us or ours can be next.

L. O. Gregg, M.D.

SOCIAL NEWS

St. Elizabeth Hospital

The social news at St. Elizabeth Hospital seems to be rather scant at this time of the year even with all holiday festivities in full swing. The main event of the season to date was the excellent dance at the Squaw Creek Country Club sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary. Pre-dance parties were held by the Brudis, the Gujus and others. Afterwards, all couples adjourned to the dance to continue gaiety and dancing till the small hours of the morning.

The absences of Dr. and Mrs. Paul J. Mahar, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Scheetz, Dr. and Mrs. Saul Tamarkin, Dr. and Mrs. C. Edward Pichette, Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Gambrel, Dr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Ondash, Dr. and Mrs. William E. Sovik, Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. John F. Stotler, Dr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Mangie, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Raupple and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Sofranec, were noticed, but, their annual Pullman pilgrimage to the Ohio State-Michigan football game was in progress. I was led to believe that it was a "rip roaring" success.

Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Mahar entertained at a series of parties for close lay and medical friends.

On December 9th, the Sisters of St. Elizabeth Hospital gave a dinner for the staff which was most enjoyable and well attended. Members of the advisory board of the hospital were also present at the sumptuous dinner served in the cafeteria.

To Keep our Community Healthy

At these three locations, the familiar face of Peoples Service Drug Store is a part of the scene. Inside, you find that the heart of each store is the prescription department.

And you find that it's a drug store, first, last, and always. Accurate compounding of prescriptions, fresh stock of drugs complete and up-to-date, prompt service . . . all these you take for granted.

Helping to keep the community healthy is the profession of your Peoples' pharmacist. He serves with professional efficiency and pride.

Twenty Years Ago—January, 1939

President Skipp said that the Society needed a central office with an executive secretary. He said, "Publicity must be continued. Lay education is more important now than ever before. Scientific advancement cannot be sidetracked for any of these. They must all progress together if we are to keep our self respect and our place as a noble profession."

Dr. Robert Poling was President-Elect after serving four years as Secretary. John Noll was the new Secretary after two years on the Program Committee. Dr. H. E. Patrick was the Editor of the Bulletin and Elmer Nagel was Treasurer.

At the annual banquet the main speaker was Dr. Jonathan Forman, Editor of the Ohio Medical Journal and instructor in allergy at Ohio State University. His subject was "Uncle Sam M.D." He warned the doctors about the creeping socialism of the New Deal and gave advice on methods to maintain the private practice of medicine by independent plans for sickness insurance.

The A.M.A. was under indictment in Washington, D.C. accused of being a combination in restraint of trade. It caused a great stir in medical circles because it was a criminal action, tried in a criminal court. The details cannot be given in small space but the outcome was that the A.M.A. and the Medical Society of Washington were found guilty and some of the officers heavily fined. It was a case of the United States vs. the A.M.A. As the gambler said when he heard the indictment against him as "The State of Ohio vs. Joe Blow," he thought a minute and said "not a chance at those odds."

The Medical Crier was taking stock and bragging about the wonderful age of planes flying across the continent; radio, assembly lines, Diesel engines, pneumonia serum and novocaine; spinal anesthesia, insulin, diathermy, fever therapy, vitamins and sulfamilamide. He never said a word about television and antibiotics, rockets or space ships. It makes one afraid to speak about how modern we are. The writer twenty years from now might laugh.

Dr. E. W. Coe died in November, one of the leading physicians of the day. Dr. W. J. Colbert passed away, still a young man full of promise.

There were 271 members: 211 active, 12 non-resident, 42 associate and 6 honorary.

Ten Years Ago—January, 1949

Dr. John McCann took office as President. C. A. Gustafson was the Editor. Other officers and committees were not named. There were 230 active members, 9 interne, 3 associate and 11 honorary.

At last the A.M.A. had decided to do something. For sixteen years the threat of socialized medicine had been growing until the situation was critical. The House of Delegates voted to assess each member $25.00 to pay for a nationwide program directed by public relations experts to sell the advantages of the American system of medical practice to the public. Up to that time the A.M.A. had sidestepped the issue because it was political. The rising clamor of the doctors was finally heeded and the A.M.A. decided to use all its resources to fight the trend toward a system copied from Europe. What they accomplished is well known and makes a fine page in medical history. They are still waging the fight and will continue to do so as long as doctors refuse to be regimented into panels and their patients refuse to become numbers instead of persons with the power to choose their physicians.

for better doctor-patient relationship

*U.S. PATENT NO. 2,441,498    MADE IN U.S.A.

Dr. Douglas Bond, psychiatrist from Cleveland, addressed the Society on "Doctor and Patient Relationship." His talk was down to earth and very practical. He told the doctors to listen to their patients, close the doors and not fiddle with things to distract attention; to keep quiet when the patient wants to talk and get other people out of the room so that the patient can unburden his troubles in confidence. Not to get offended if the patient with chronic illness complains about his treatment, for often the patient does better after such an outburst. To anticipate the need for consultation and suggest it before the patient in desperation asks for it or goes to someone else.

A recovery room was instituted at the North Side Unit for patients after surgery. Dr. A. J. Fisher advised the doctors to tell the anxious relatives that there would be a delay of several hours before the patient was returned to his room but in the meantime he would be receiving the closest attention.

New members that month were R. J. Scheetz, E. A. Shorten, Ben Brown, and D. M. Metcalf.

Dr. R. M. Morrison died Nov. 19th. He was one of Youngstown's outstanding physicians for 54 years. While conducting a large practice he was active in civic affairs and was the leading figure in the construction of the North Side Unit and the rebuilding of the South Unit of the Youngstown Hospital.

IN MEMORIAM

DR. T. K. GOLDEN

The death of a friend or acquaintance always produces much comment. The remark, "He never said an unkind word to anyone" seemed to epitomize T. K. Golden.

The passing of this quiet man evoked regret in those who only knew him, genuine sorrow in those who knew him well and a sense of wrenching loss in his family group.

One of the Almighty's favorites, he lived as His servant and suffered as a saint.

A social evening with T. K. Golden was a low key pleasant event. In discussion, the exactness of recall was noted as Kernan quietly stated the missing facts. Leavened with an impish, sly wit, talks with him were always most enjoyable.

As a surgeon, T. K. Golden was possessed of a depth of knowledge of his specialty—Orthopedic Surgery—which permitted him to use the bold approach confidently in trying situations; the much sought "good result" seemed almost the prerogative of his patients.

Kernan's family who survive him are his wife, Anita, devoted and uncomplaining in her care of him, his children, Thomas, Peter, James and Katey, one brother, Jerome and his sisters, Margaret Golden and Helen Colbert—the latter assisted him greatly in his work.

T. K. Golden was born in Duncansville, Pa. on Oct. 23, 1903. He came to Youngstown with his family and attended St. Columba and Rayen Schools. He graduated from Georgetown in 1928. He served one year internship at St. Elizabeth Hospital followed by three years Residency in Orthopedics at Bellevue Hospital in New York City. He began his practice in Youngstown in 1934.

Mrs. Golden is the former Anita Hartzell of Baltimore.

SOCIAL NEWS Youngstown Hospital

Winter arrived but as yet no skiing accidents have been reported. No shortage of medical illness among our members though. Most notable examples: Dr. George McKelvey recovering from a coronary; Dr. W. H. Bunn, Sr., recovering nicely after Colon surgery; Dr. Dean Nesbit, Coronary thrombosis. We also have word that Dr. Nick Gordon was laid up for a short time for lab studies but is back to work now. Dr. Paul McConnell has returned to work after a year's illness.

And on that encouraging note we move on to gayer things. The Dr. Jack Schreibers announced the arrival of a son, Jeffrey Robert, on November 28th. Dr. Charles Wagner and Dr. Ed. Thomas have both moved into brand new homes—what better Christmas present for any wife? Dr. Ray Catoline moved into a new office on Oak Street in Youngstown. Dr. Frank Vargo has returned from service and is again associated with Dr. J. N. Gordon.

Last, but not least, we are all pleased to learn that Dr. Reese received the Mead Johnson Award for Residents in General Practice—Congratulations.

MEDICAL GLEANINGS

DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT OF STROKES

Irving S. Wright, M.D., F.A.C.P.
New York, N.Y.

The study and treatment of cerebral vascular diseases can no longer be compartmentalized within one specialty such as neurology. In fact, strokes are not primarily lesions of the brain, but usually represent a localized manifestation of a generalized condition, most commonly either atherosclerosis, hypertension, or a disorder of the clotting mechanism. Many specialties have a legitimate interest, including lipid chemists and other biochemists, ophthalmologists, roentgenologists, those studying atherosclerosis, hypertension and blood coagulation, vascular and neurosurgeons and many others.

The relation of the amount of saturated fats ingested to the development of strokes is not established, and much further work needs to be carried out in this area. It is doubtful that a high fat meal increases in any significant measure the risk of intravascular thrombosis.

The use of anticoagulants constitutes an important contribution to the treatment of transient or "little" strokes due to partial occlusion of the carotid or basilar arteries. They appear to influence favorably the long-term outlook for patients after the first stroke. Additional studies are being carried out to refine the diagnosis further and to evaluate the risks of this treatment, especially when used during the acute phases of a stroke involving the cerebral arteries and other branches passing through the brain substance. Venous thrombosis should also be considered more frequently in analyzing the pathogenesis of strokes. New surgical technics are being used for the treatment of massive brain hemorrhage, and for prosthetic by-passing of seg-

Albamycin (as novobiocin sodium).....125 mg.

2. Panalba KM,†† Flavored Granules, 60 cc. size bottle. When sufficient water is added to fill the bottle, each teaspoonful (5 cc.) contains:

Panmycin (tetracycline) equivalent to tetracycline hydrochloride .....125 mg.
Albamycin (as novobiocin calcium).....62.5 mg.

ments of the carotid arteries when they have developed occlusion. These and other surgical approaches are pioneering but important forerunners of the future. Rehabilitation and psychiatric care are being subjected to more critical scrutiny and evaluation but, pending the results, it seems justified to apply the principles of both very early in the treatment of the patient.

Comprehensive and cooperative studies are now under way which should produce answers to many of the problems which remain unsolved.

HYPERTENSIVE CEREBROVASCULAR DISEASE: A Clinical and Pathologic Review of 100 Cases

Arthur J. Hudson and Herbert H. Hyland

A series of 100 cases of hypertension with autopsy has been reviewed, mainly with regard to neurologic features.

The initial symptoms were found to provide some indication with regard to the subsequent course of hypertension. The actual cause of death was of course not predictable, except that those with a stroke as the initial symptom most often died of a cerebrovascular accident.

About half of the patients had strokes due to vascular insufficiency or occlusion, and about half of these had more than one such episode. It is emphasized that in hypertension considerable damage to the brain may exist without its being apparent in the history or on the clinical examination.

The mortality from intracranial hemorrhage was 31%. Ten per cent of the series survived a cerebral hemorrhage (1 to 3.5 cm. in size), although in most instances death occurred later from another hemorrhage elsewhere in the brain. Blood was present in the cerebrospinal fluid in only half of these cases, and there may therefore be difficulty in distinguishing nonfatal hemorrhage from infarction. The need for caution in the use of anticoagulants in severe hypertensives with cerebrovascular accidents is emphasized.

Mental deterioration occurred in 18% of the series, and was observed most often in association with strokes, but it sometimes existed in the absence of recognizable clinical episodes. This was usually found to be associated with multiple small softenings both old and recent, throughout the brain.

Papilledema, when present, was usually accompanied by hemorrhages and exudates. No consistent correlation was found between the presence of papilledema and increased cerebrospinal fluid pressure, or between papilledema and the presence of cerebral edema at autopsy. In those cases showing cerebral edema at autopsy, uremia had frequently existed.

Convulsions occurred in 20% of the series, most often in the few days prior to death, in association with uremia, cerebral hemorrhage of thrombosis, and shock.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS COMMITTEE REPORT

The Council of the Ohio State Medical Association did not approve the proposed Constitution and By-Laws. It was returned with suggestions and reconsidered by the local committee. The revised form was adopted by the Mahoning County Medical Society on May 20, 1958.

Then the Council of the Ohio State Medical Association approved only the sections dealing with reorganization of the local Council and the new election procedure. Further suggestions for revision were referred back to our local committee.

The continued devotion of the committee members to the task and the widespread interest of other members of the Society is deeply appreciated.

ILOSONE™ assures a more decisive clinical response in almost every common bacterial infection

(erythromycin ester, Lilly) as the propionate

Ilosone provides more potent, longer-lasting therapeutic levels in the serum within minutes after administration. A fast, decisive response is assured in almost every common bacterial infection.

Usual adult dosage is one or two 250-mg. Pulvules® every six hours, according to severity of infection. For optimum effect, administer on an empty stomach. (A 125-mg. pediatric Pulvule is also available.) In bottles of 24.

*Shown by how many times the serum can be diluted two hours after administration of the antibiotic and still inhibit identical pathogenic strains of bacteria. This is the Tube Dilution Technique, which is regarded by leading authorities as the most meaningful method of comparing different antibiotics. It shows not merely the level of antibiotic in the blood but the actual antibacterial effectiveness of that level.

START NOW—BUY BONDS

During "Share in America" week, January 12-17th, the local Savings Bonds Committee, headed by Walter H. Paulo, Vice President of the Isaly Dairy Company, urges doctors to buy United States Savings Bonds.

In a letter addressed to doctors, the committee says, "By investing now in United States Savings Bonds, you get maximum security for your hard-earned funds plus a generous return on your money.

"By putting at least part of your income into Savings Bonds, you avoid the problems of market fluctuations . . .

"Series E. Bonds pay you 3¼%, compounded semi-annually, when held to their maturity of 8 years, 11 months. The interest earned is added to the cash value every six months. Series H. Bonds pay you a current income, by semi-annual check, with a full yield of 3¼% when held 10 years. And they are always redeemable at par."

"Does it matter who fills the prescription?"

"Ah Doctor, does it matter who writes the prescription?"

Lactum® formula was selected...

Mark ... age 3 days

Mark's urea clearance is low—but only normally so, for a newborn. Mark's renal functions will mature in a few days. Meanwhile the Dextri-Maltose® carbohydrate modifier in Mark's Lactum formula protects him against renal osmolar overload.

Dorothy ... age 1 month

"Lactum liquid is so easy to use! I just add a canful of water to the contents of the Lactum can," Dorothy's mother says, "and there's a day's supply of formula! I spend less time in the kitchen and more time with my baby. And that's the way it ought to be."

Sandra ... age 2 months

Sandra's mother didn't have enough breast milk for her hungry little daughter and felt a bit guilty about it—though for the average baby, her supply would have been quite enough. The extras that Sandra needed were supplied by convenient supplemental feedings of Lactum (powder), and by Poly-Vi-Sol® drops.
