the nineteen sixty four

College is a strange place . . .

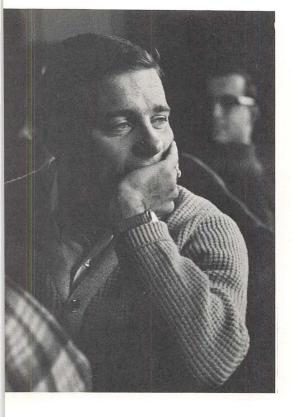

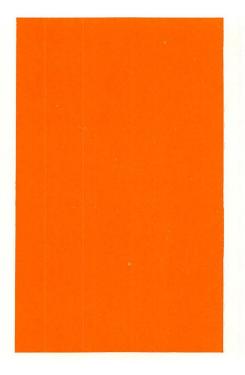

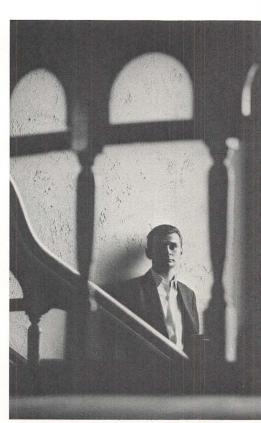

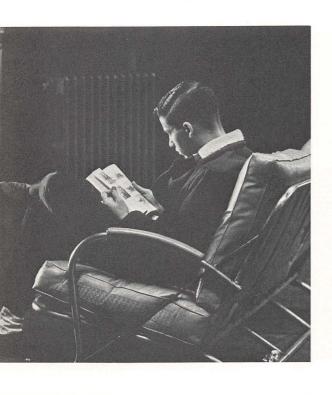

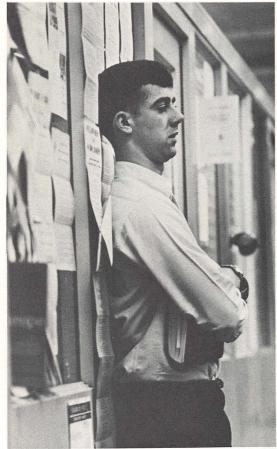

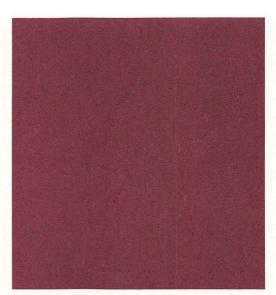

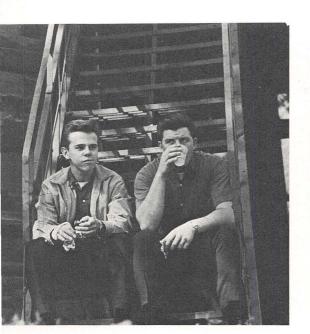

. . . Sometimes
It is a four-year fantasyland
Composed of equal parts of Country Club
Football field
Fraternity house
And drive-in theater . . .

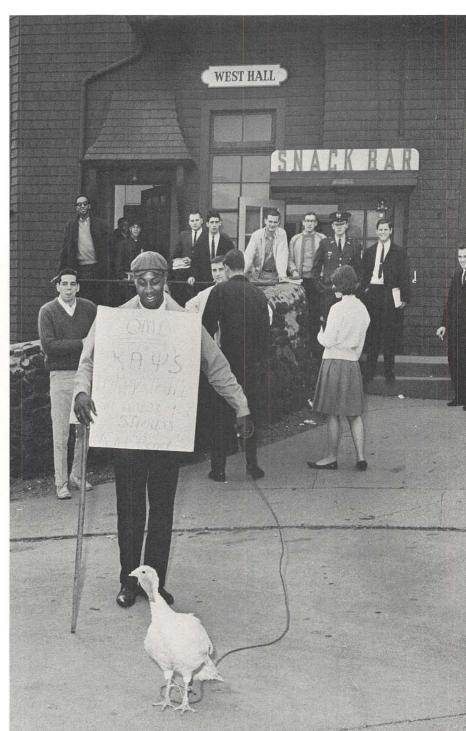

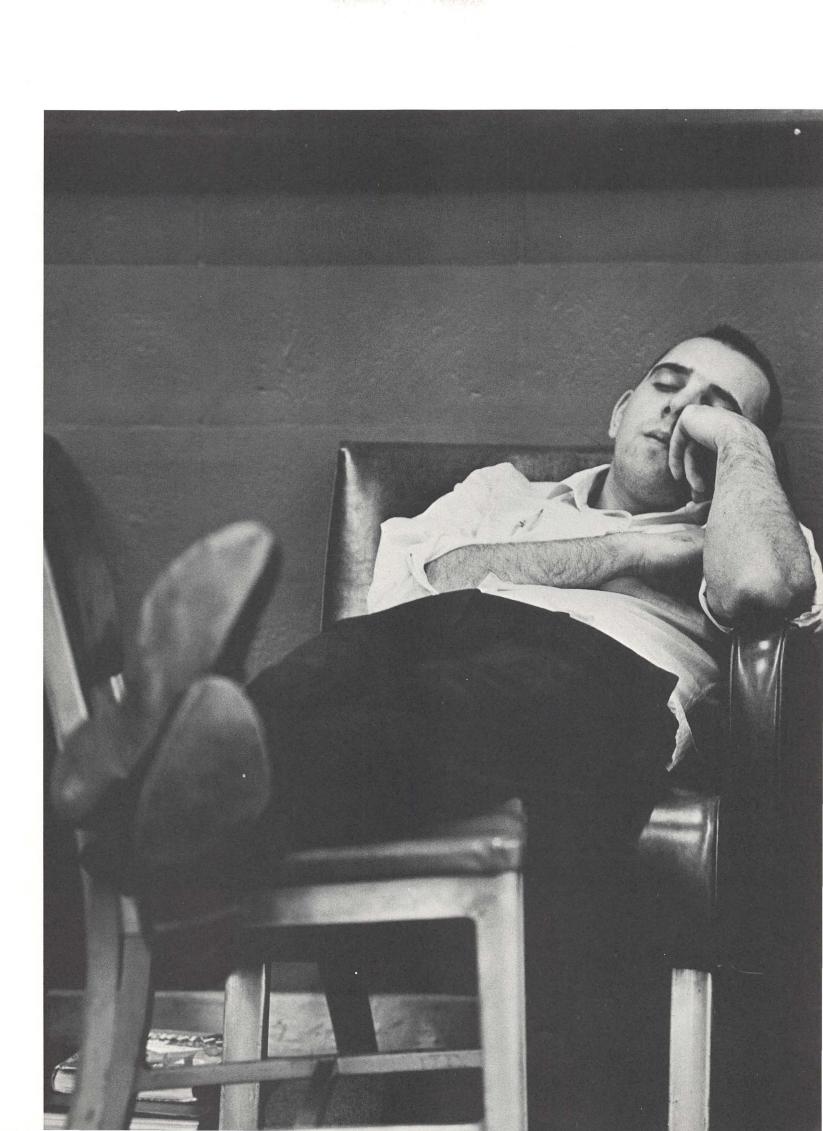

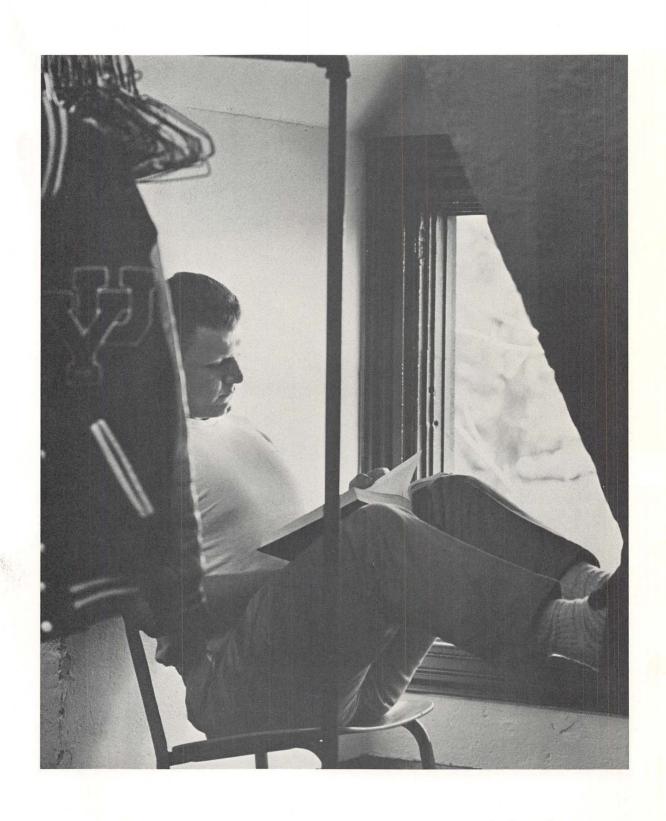

. . . Sometimes. It is a place Where we work

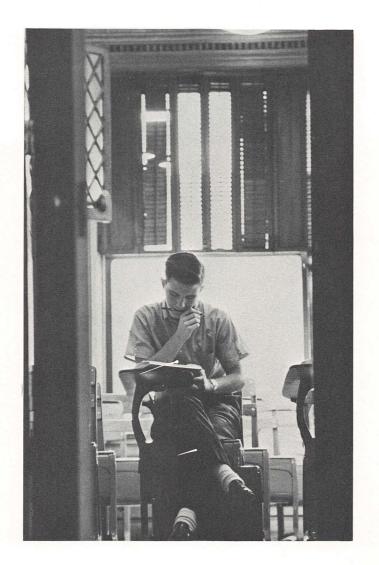

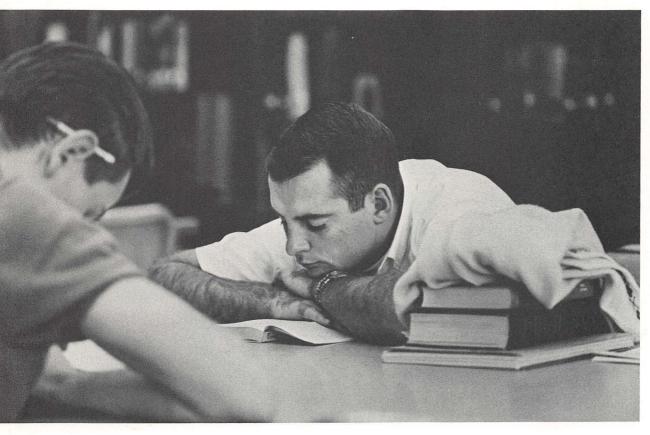

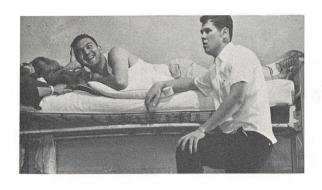

. . . And work . . .

... And work
Until we forget
Just what it is
We are working for.

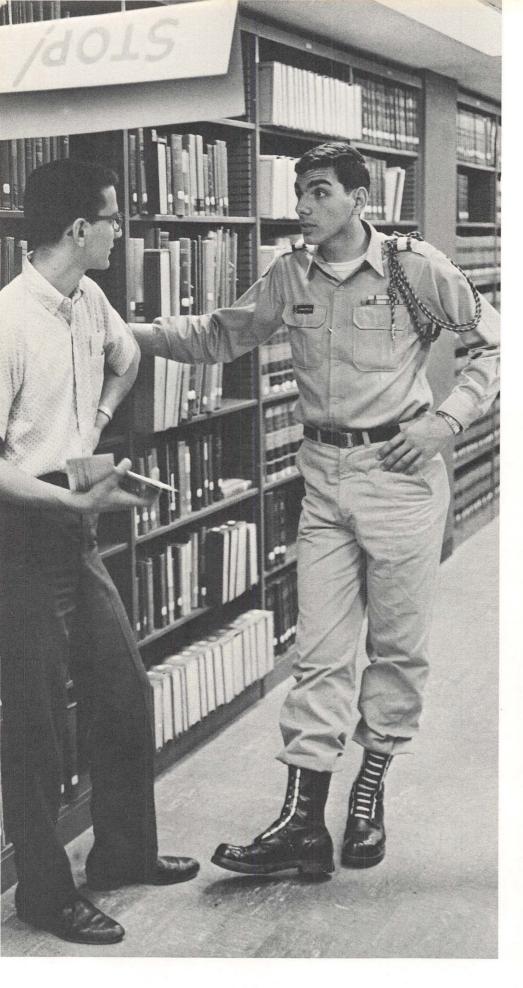

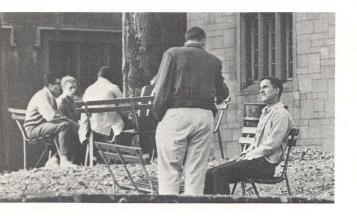

. . . Sometimes,
It is a shelter . . .
From the world where People work for a living,
. . . Or from the martial harshness
Of the draft

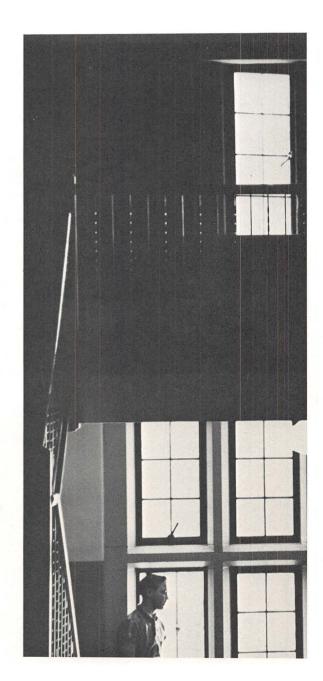

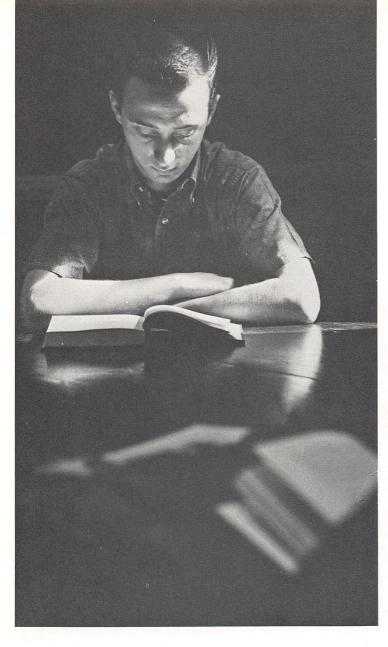

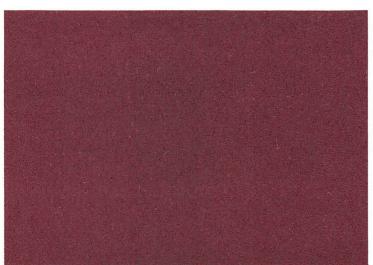

. . . Or from the other assorted
Realities
That make up the world.
. . . And sometimes,
It is all of these.

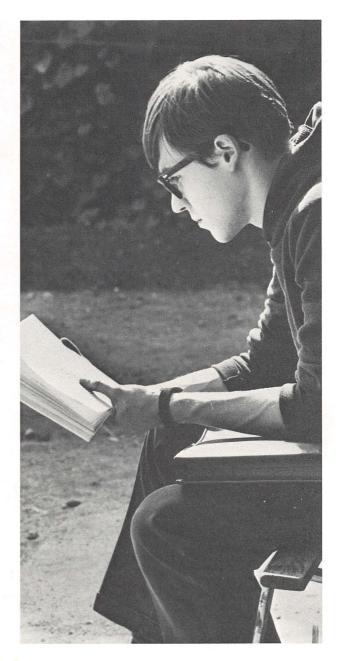

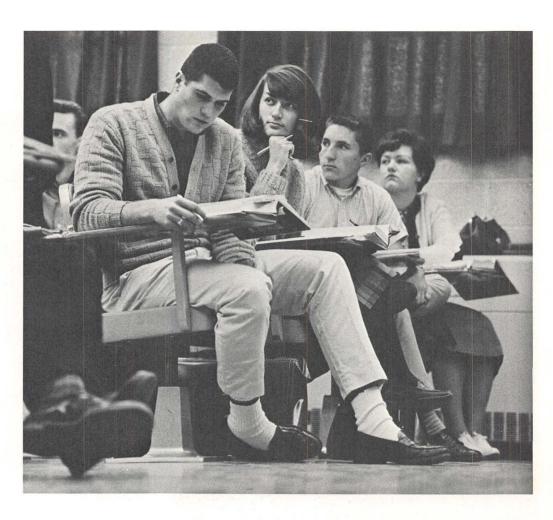

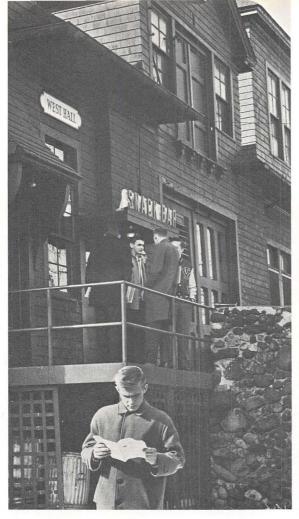

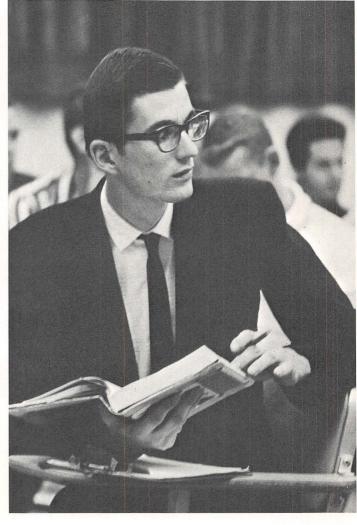

But the strangest thing
About college—
Any college—
Is that it is
A place where you go
Without thinking
As a part of
Your life's course

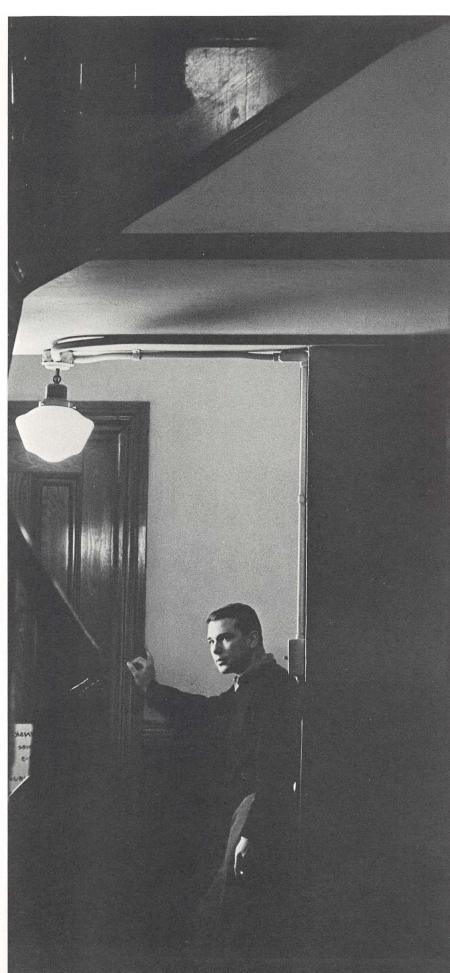

Until one day
Walking across the campus green
Or cement
You suddenly stop and ask
"Why am I here?"

The time it takes
Each person
To ask this question
Varies . . .
Some never ask it at all.

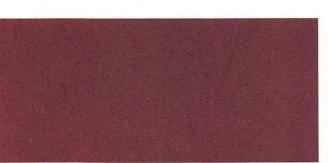

And the answer
Like the question
Varies with the person
Some never ask at all
For a college is
More
Than the sum of its parts.

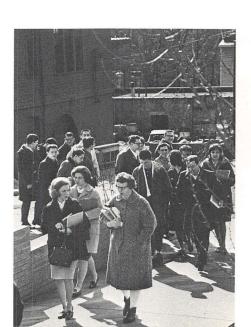

More
Than the sandstone and brick . . .
The classes and exams . . .
The gravel and stone . . .
The parties and dances.

College is the center of four years Or, perhaps, more Of life . . . Social Academic Intellectual.

And it is a place where Men and Women
Including that name in the yearboo
Number in the Business Office
Face in the crowd
That is you,

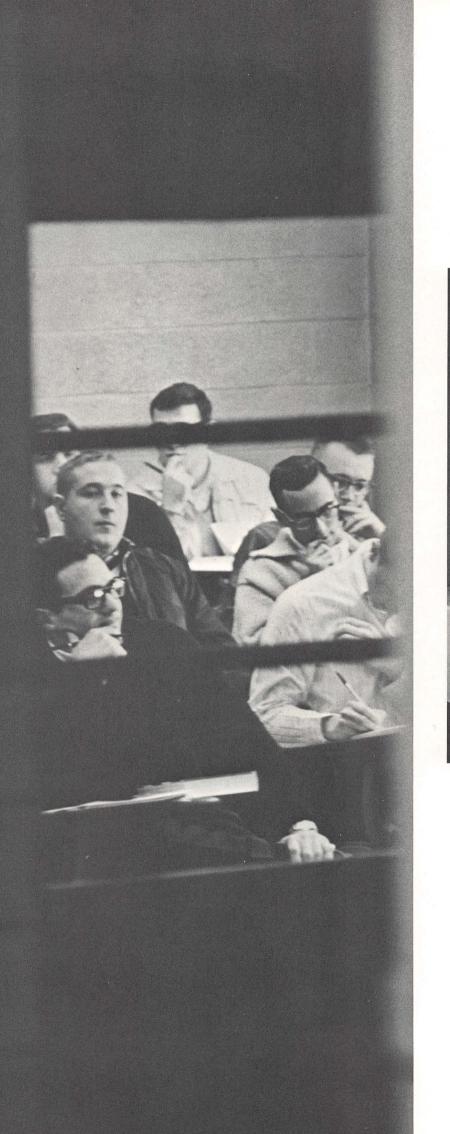

Work toward some goal Whose existence is Hard to define But easy to sense.

. . . Or at least A college should Be this.

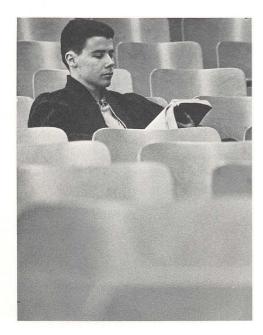

The problem is
That the "life adjustment"
Aspects of a college
Often become synonomous
With "non-academic."

But we get through Somehow
And the tests
And term papers
And lab reports
Are sometimes forgotten
On a spring afternoon
Spent on a park bench
Or in the snack bar
Or an ordinary bar
Or a dance
A party
A blast.

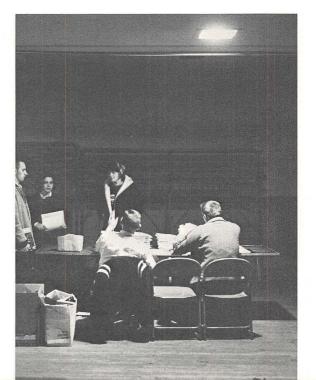

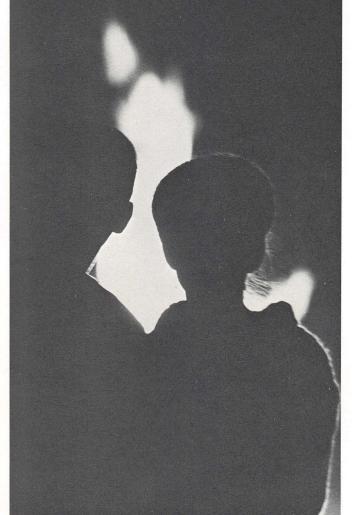

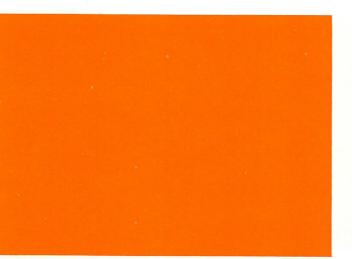

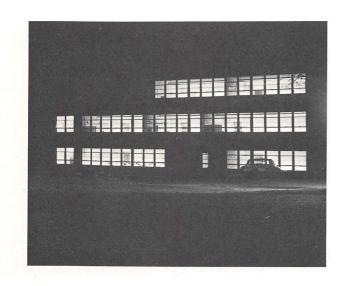

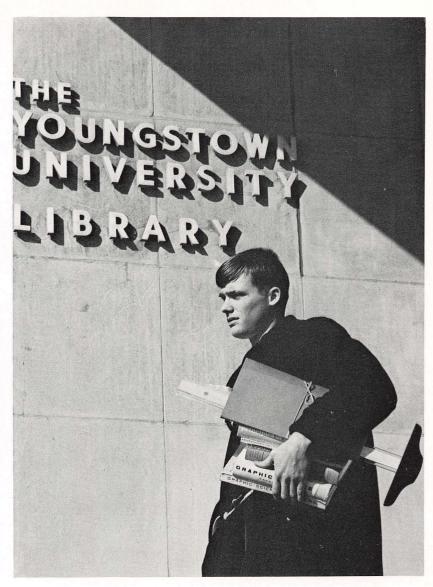

Then suddenly
It's all over
The four years are gone
The campus is part
Of our past.

We look back at college
In puzzlement
And just wonder what it
Was all about,
And even with the wisdom
Born of hindsight
We are oftentimes
Never quite sure.

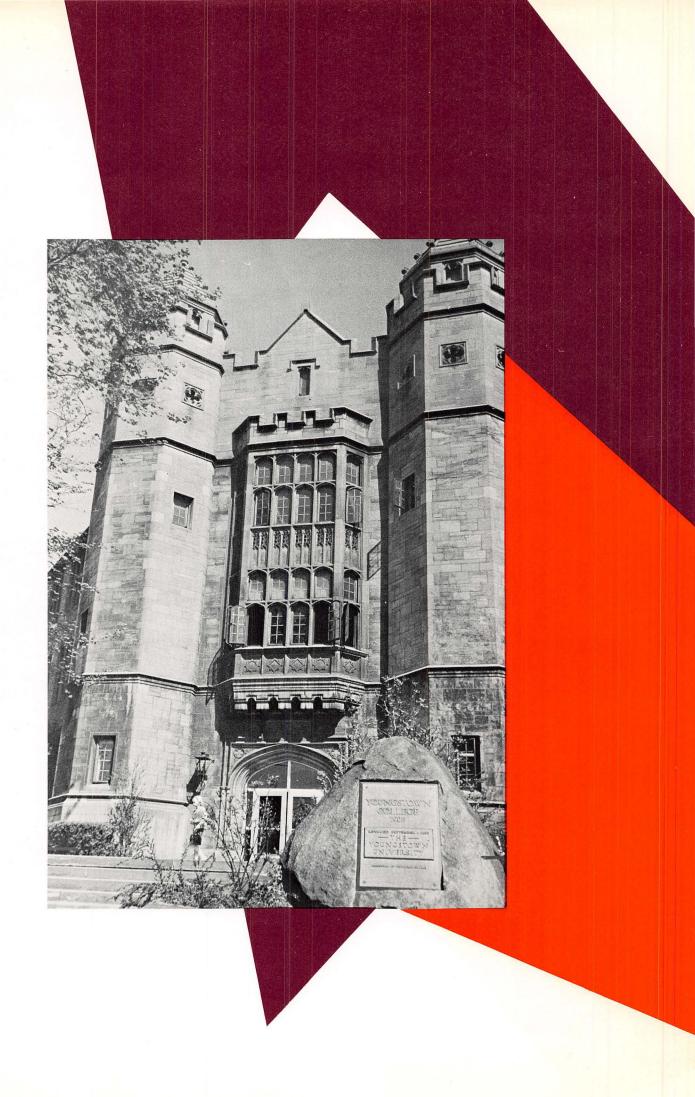

College is a strange place . . .

Dr. Howard W. Jones, President

Dr. Howard W. Jones, President of the University, is a man whose duties revolve around the functions and problems of Youngstown University in their every aspect—academic, social, and financial. His is a deciding voice in determining University policies concerning such things as admissions, graduation, and curriculum. Especially as the proposed plans for campus redevelopment and expansion come closer to reality, President Jones finds himself forever in the position of making decisions and plans for construction and for attaining and allocating the necessary funds.

But aside from his many duties regarding the smooth and efficient functioning of the University, President Jones occupies an important position as the official representative of Youngstown University. He is faithfully seen at most University functions whether at a formal dance or up front rooting for the Penguins.

During his long association with the University, President Jones has initiated its outstanding growth of both size and academic progress and is directly responsible for making YU the keystone of education in the Mahoning Valley.

Administrative Deans

Dr. Joseph E. Smith, Dean of the University

As Dean of the University Dr. Joseph E. Smith is head of academic matters of all five schools at Youngstown University. In this capacity he administrates University policies and coordinates the curriculum. The Dean serves as Chairman of the Board of Publications and is a member of the Student Faculty Finance Committee and the Faculty Senate. Dean Smith is also advisory assistant to the President and to the Dean of the Department of Social Sciences. With all these duties he is still available to any student at any time for advice and guidance.

Dean Smith's affability was recently attested to when he was voted Boss of the Year by the Youngstown Secretarial Association.

JOHN P. GILLESPIE, Dean of Men

Dean John P. Gillespie serves as a key member of the Administration Staff. He often is a consultant for the President and Dean Smith, and as moderator for the Inter-Fraternity Council Dean Gillespie has an important voice in determining University fraternity policies. He is also responsible for the discipline of all male students on campus. Youngstown University students can always find the Dean a helpful counselor in applying for jobs and graduate schools.

Dean Gillespie was appointed Dean of Men in 1955, and since then he has advised and helped a countless number of University students with a countless variety of problems.

The essence of Dean Edith Painter's position as Dean of Women is guidance. Every incoming freshman or transfer woman and every graduating senior is granted a personal interview with Dean Painter. In this way both co-eds and Dean become personally acquainted with each other and students feel more at ease in approaching the Dean with their problems.

In an official capacity Dean Painter serves as an advisor of the Pan-Hellenic Council, and it is she who must approve the calendar events of all student organizations. Mrs. Painter received her bachelor's degree for Tufts University and her M.A. from Columbia University. She became Dean of Women in 1961.

The spending of University finances is under the supervision of Mr. Calvin Pickard, University Business Manager. In this capacity Mr. Pickard must keep track of all tuition payments and approve the purchasing of all University supplies for classrooms, offices and campus. Mr. Pickard has held the position of Business Manager since 1936.

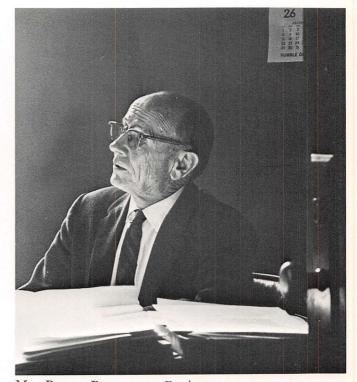

MR. CALVIN PICKARD, Business Manager

Mary B. Smith, Recorder

Mary B. Smith in her position as Recorder finds that her duties revolve around the accurate recording of all academic activities of each and every student who has ever attended Youngstown University. This includes everything from recording grades for each semester and evaluating the records of candidates for graduation to evaluating transcripts from other schools and supervising the sending of transcripts from Youngstown University.

Mrs. Smith received her A.B. degree from Hiram College and her M.A. degree from Ohio State University.

Mr. Philip Buchanan, Registrar

Mr. Philip Buchanan as Registrar of Youngstown University reviews and evaluates all applications for admission and interviews personally as many prospective students as possible in order to give them professional guidance in their decisions concerning their college careers. As the enrollment in the University continues to increase this job becomes even more complicated and selective.

Mr. Buchanan received his A.B. degree from Hiram College and his M.A. degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He has been the Registrar since 1928.

Mr. George Jones, Head Librarian

MARY ANN POPE DOBRICH, Testing Office

Every student who enters Youngstown University must have taken the American College Test, and there are a variety of test required for admission to the Education Department. The administration and recording of results of these and various other tests is supervised by Mary Ann Pope Dobrich of the Univerity Testing Office. Mrs. Dobrich received her bachelor's degree from Youngstown University and her M.Ed. degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Since a university naturally becomes an integral part of the community in which it is located, the citizens of this community are always interested in university activities. As Director of Public Relations, Miss Freda Flint keeps the public well informed on all University activities.

One of the means by which the quality of a university is determined is by the number of volumes in its library. Mainly due to the hard work and close supervision of Mr. George Jones, Head Librarian, Youngstown University is able to boast of a very fine library.

WILLIAM G. NELSON, Asst. Bus. Manager

Mr. William G. Nelson assists Mr. Pickard in the Business Office in keeping accurate accounts of incoming and outgoing University finances.

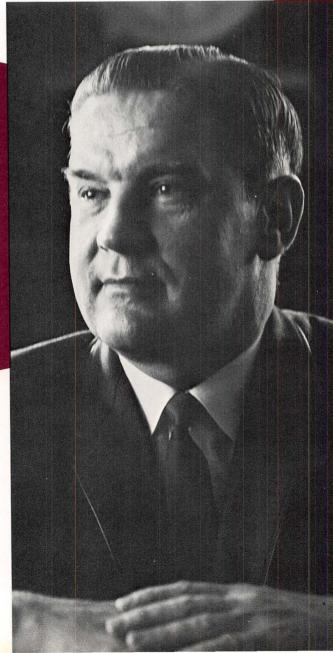

of incoming and outgoing University finances. Mr. Nelson received his A.B. degree from Youngstown College, his M.Litt. and his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

The William Rayen School of Engineering has gained distinction across the country as an outstanding engineering educational center. The governing body of this school is the Dean's Council, an organization made up of representatives from each of the professional academic organizations in the Engineering School. This group seeks to further the aims of the Rayen School, which are to impart special and technical knowledge based on a sound understanding of science.

American Institute of Physics

The American Institute of Physics is an organization for the propagation and promulgation of physics and physicists. Those who are among its membership consider themselves true scientists, in a class alone with chemists and mathematicians, as opposed to problem-solving engineers. Frequently, however, the distinction is the finest of hair-splitting, for engineers often venture into the field of pure theory, just as scientists frequently step into the application and developmental fields of their specialties.

What makes an artist? Is he a man in a smock with paint brush in hand and the gift of creation at his finger-tips? Is the artist a little old lady etching quaint little people in New England scenes? Is the artist an angry "young man" with a beard and a pair of thongs? Or is the artist simply someone more gifted at seeing the world around him?

We don't really know! We do know, however, that for the student who someday hopes to be an artist or an art teacher there is a club. This is the Art Club. The club is designed to bring together the campus "Grandma Moses," The "Angry-Young-Man" and the "Al Capps."

Drama Guild

Youngstown University Theater's major productions for the 1963-64 season were Christopher Fry's "Lady's Not For Burning", a battery of oneact plays, and "Romeo and Juliet". The Theater's activities extend beyond the immediate campus. It is the Theater that directs the productions of the popular community Family Plays. Theater productions employ the talents of any student who has the time and interest. The talent needed to produce a play ranges through the categories of acting, set designing, set building, lighting and special effects.

The various countries of today are rapidly becoming aware of the need for people of different lands to understand one another. The exchange student programs are increasing at a rapid rate every year. The International Student Association is Youngstown University's attempt to reap the benefits of learning about different world cultural programs from the students who are visiting our country. The association is open to all students. This association offers a varied and colorful program and could be called the University's best geography course.

There is always only a very small portion of any age gifted with the ability to write well and to appreciate what others have written well. Because there are very few in the group of people we lump together and call students who are blessed with a flare for the literary, the budding author and learning poet often feel the need to communicate with someone who understands. This is the function of the English Society.

With a click of the heel, the glamour of gold braid, the polish of military brass, and the flash of any military group the Youngstown University Pershing Rifles deserve a respectful salute from the University they represent. The intricate drill work of the Pershing Rifles has repeatedly brought praise from all who have viewed them. One of the most impressive demonstrations given by the unit is that drill given yearly at freshman orientation to introduce the new "frosh" to the various aspects of campus life. You don't just decide to join the PR. The new PR is a choosen member. Because the group is a selective one it is a close one which takes great pride in its accomplishments.

Scabbard

& Blade

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is the honorary military fraternity. Young men tapped by the Society have to have attained a three point in Military Science. Scabbard and Blade served as the sabor detail at Snowflake Frolic. The society's activities are not all military. This year they conducted a bake sale and military goods sales. The members look forward to the annual dinner dance and various parties held by the society. But most of all, the members of Scabbard and Blade will probably remember the days on the the drill field—Hey hup! . . . Hey hup! . . . Ah to the right - - -HALT!

Social Science Club

Wilma Brown Home Economics Club Social Science Club is one of the new organizations devoted to bringing together students with the same vocational interests. The club invites speakers to entertain and inform the membership about new concepts in the field of Social Science. Although the club is primarily directed at those students who plan careers in Social Science, it also enters many phases of community life which are of general interest.

The family is the basic unit. The person most responsible in today's society for making that unit a healthy happy one is the home-maker. Today's young home-maker has one of the most demanding and complex jobs in American society. She must be a cook, house-keeper, hostess, nurse, taxi-driver, lover and mother. The Home-Ec Club helps young women interested in this field to meet the challenge of these demands.

Mathematics is sometimes called the "Queen of the sciences." Except, of course, by scientists. Even the most ardent chemist or physicist, however, must acknowledge that the basis of his, or of any science, lies in mathematics, the orderly representation and reflection of the universe as a set of symbols defining quantity, size, number. Mathematics goes beyond the symbols which are its tools into the manipulation of numbers to describe the world they represent. Representation, manipulation, speculation are keynotes of the Math Club.

Classical Society

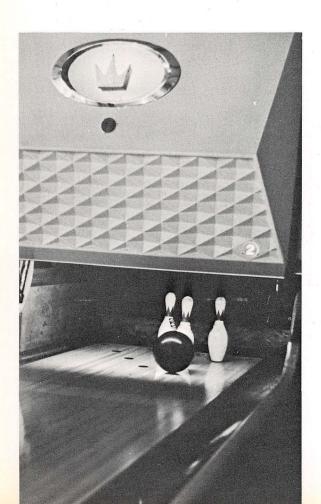

Did someone say that Latin was a dead language? One wouldn't think so if they had ever attended one of the Classical Society's functions. The society is composed of those students who are interested in Greek and Latin. Pollock House once a month houses the members as they view slides of some of the ancient art work of early Rome and Greece. The society also enjoys reading Latin comedies. Miss Nancy Lee Block, a Full-bright Student, entertained the group one evening with stories about her studies in Italy. The Classical Society presents an award to the outstanding Latin student each Honors Day. Although the Society is basically interested in Latin Studies, parties are also in order. Dr. and Mrs. Ives have repeatedly opened their home to the group for their parties.

There is more and more emphasis placed on the merits of being physically fit. The Women's Recreation Association is an organization concerned with providing an opportunity for the University women to participate together in various sports. The participation may be extensive or limited depending on the desires of the women involved. The Association has a wide range of activities. This range reaches to highly competitive sports like basketball and softball through the very femine forms of dance. Each year there is a series of sports meets with other colleges in the area. This is one of the most pleasant features of the Association activities. The Women's Recreation Association trys to promote a program of interest to all.

Alpha Mu

The "Madison Avenue" image of the advertising executive has become all too familiar of late through the works of Vance Packard and the adroit satires of Stan Fredberg. Belonging to Alpha Mu, the honorary advertising fraternity, involves, however, a little more than owning a grey flannel suit and a fast tongue well greased with the latest cliches. Under the direction of Prof. William Flad, the organization has become the hallmark of scholastic success for those seriously interested in advertising as a profession. The high standards of the fraternity make membership in Alpha Mu the most coveted honor among advertising, merchandising, and public relations majors.

Sigma Taus

Alpha Tau Gamma

Unlike the professional societies of the William Rayen School of Engineering, Sigma Tau does not draw its members exclusively from one specific branch of engineering. Membership in the honorary engineering fraternity is open to honor students in all fields. Prime qualification, of course, is a 3.0 accumulative average or better in engineering. This restriction places a premium on membership in Sigma Tau.

Alpha Tau Gamma, the honorary accounting fraternity, represents the "cream of the crop" among accounting majors. It not only serves as a mark of distinction in the accounting profession, but also provides its members with a social schedule including accounting breakfasts and two dinner dances. Alpha Tau Gamma is also the source of accounting lab instructors at the University.

American Chemical Society

Have you ever wondered where the "mad" little chemist who appears on 5 o'clock Showtime had his beginning? If you should trace his origin, you would probably find he sprang full-grown from the mind of a "mad" little T.V. director. The chemist of today is a man very much in tune with the world around him. The Youngstown Chapter of the American Chemical Society realizes the role that tomorrow's chemist must play in a jet age. For this reason, the Society was founded to answer the students questions about the chemical profession.

Cathode-ray oscilloscope, signal generators, audio oscillators, vacuum-tube voltmeters may not be terms that the average "Joe Colleges" would have in his vocabulary. The American Institute of Electrical Engineers is an organization designed to bring together those young men interested in fields which use these terms with the ease of a polished professional. The A. E. E. I. helps the learning engineer to correlate the theories of electrical engineering with the actual practices. So when you pass a table in the cafeteria and hear inductors, resistors, condensers, transformers and percision meters as the topic of discussion its pretty safe bet that it's an electrical engineer eating his lunch there.

"I am concerned that bridges be constructed properly. I pour concrete just the right thickness. I solve long intricate math problems. I will someday design huge highways. I am a civil engineer. Color me intelligent." The coloring book routine may be a gag but the degree of intelligence, time, hard work and study that it takes to be a really good civil engineer is certainly no joke. The student working in Rayen Engineering Building realizes there is no joke to the job he will do in the future and the preparation he must make. The American Society of Civil Engineers is devoted to bring together the young men who will manage to meet the requirements of the Civil Engineering field.

Mechanical Engineers

American Society of Metals

Have you ever wondered what that queer appendage at the end of a mechanical engineer's arm was? After extensive research the Neon staff has discovered this is not a birth defect but instead a slide rule. It seems every good engineer feels naked without one. This will begin to give the nonengineering student an idea of the kind of accuracy and precision needed to become an engineer.

The American Society of Metals is an organization of University students interested in the manufacturing and production of metals. The student group is an outgrowth of the parent society known as the Mahoning Valley American Society of Metals. The society enables the young engineers to view and discuss the processes and problems that are studied in the metals theory classes.

Economics Student Association

"Economics is Truth . . . sometimes," may seem a paradoxical statement, but it has at times been asserted that ten economists asked the same question will come up with eleven different answers. Economics walks that popular fence between "art" and "science." Sometimes it falls into one catagory, with pure theory that speaks only in generalities, and sometimes it falls into the other, when it pinpoints with exactness the behavior of an economy. The Economics Club provides a forum where those eleven different answers are frequently discussed and debated.

Future Secretaries of America

Although Ford Hall is rather isolated from the center of campus life, the young women who attend classes there are very much in the stream of activity at the University. Ford Hall is the home of YU's "gal Fridays." Although the director of the secretarial school stated that there are no courses taught in track for out running the boss or Judo for out wrestling the boss, he assured us that YU secretarial graduate is very capable in all fields of office work. Maybe part of the efficiency of Youngstown's secretarial graduates is due to the fact that they are able to communicate and profit from one another through associations like the Future Secretaries of America.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi is a rather unique organization: an honorary society rewarding academic achievement in a school that requires academic achevements above the normal just to gain admission. Kappa Delta Pi is the honorary society in the School of Education, and, like the School, selects its members only from upper classmen and graduate students. Members are drawn from those whose grades place them in the upper quintile of the University; therefore membership in the society honors high achievement among those who have already proven their ability.

Among the most highly respected of the honorary societies on our campus is the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. One wonders at the term "professional" in the title, since amateur engineers are not as common today as they once were, but if any organization is entitled to the use of this cognomen, the O.S.P.E. is that organization. This group serves not only as an honorary society in the Engineering School, but also as a forum for the discussion of events relating to Engineering as a profession. The O.S.P.E. fills both roles admirably (or should we say "professionally?").

Omicron Lambda

Omicron Lambda is the University's honorary biology fraternity. One of the highlights of the year was the field trip the members took to Cleveland's division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The fraternity also visited Woodside Receiving Hospital. It was Omicron Lambda that sponsored a dinner in honor of the late Dr. Clair Worley, former head of the Biology Department. Omicron Lambda, although directed primarily to those who have achieved academic excellence in biology, is also concerned with social interests as is apparent to anyone who has attended their annual Christmas party and picnic.

Men's Health and Physical Education Majors

Although none of the University's physical education majors have been ask to pose for a Charles Atlas advertisement, their accomplishments in the field of athletics are worth noting. The day of the "brainless brute" is certainly over. Today's student interested in teaching or coaching has to complete a rugged program of academic study and physical fitness. The Men's Health and Physical Education Club provides an opportunity for the student to participate in the various sports he studies. The club provides an atmosphere of friendly competitiveness.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is the men's honorary fraternity of the Dana School of Music. The Delta Eta chapter here at Youngstown University has always been a valuable addition to our campus, for it is a close-knit group in a close-knit school. More than any other, the music major senses out-of-place personality as he senses, almost without thinking, the discordant note in a chord structure or the out-of-tune instruction in an orchestra. The brothers of Phi Mu Alpha provide an example of teamwork as refreshing as the music they produce. The organization has a well rounded slate of activities, embracing the social, cultural, and educational aspects of college life. Phi Mu Alpha membership is an asset to music majors.

The Dana School of Music is one of the closest knit schools on campus for the harmony of working together seems to appeal to music majors even more than to others. Sigma Alpha Iota, represented on the YU campus by the Alpha Nu chapter, is the professional women's fraternity of the Dana School. Its membership personifies the spirit of cooperation that pervades the Dana School as they work together to further the careers of each member of the fraternity.

Student Educational Association

The School of Education is one of Youngstown University's largest schools. This is not only encouraging, considering the need for teachers, but also surprising, for the Education School draws its members primarily from upper classmen.

Of primary importance in the Education School is the Student Education Association, a society of students planning to work as educators after graduation. S. E. A. helps its members prepare for their vital and rewarding future.

Y. U. Nurse's Association

The Youngstown University Nurse's Association is one of the newest organizations on campus. The university women engaged in studies which will culminate in their becoming a registered nurse have never had a standardized curriculum. Because there is no curriculum that strictly pretains to nursing the new student often feels that she is not an integral part of the university. It has been the goal of the Youngstown University Nurse's Association to establish a program of study for these students. The Association hopes that in the near future this goal will be realized.

Germany is not the only production center for "mad chemists." Youngstown University has a patent on their own special brand of chemist. He is the kind of guy who will devise a fuel for tomorrow's rockets, create a new and stronger steel and maybe even find a new formula for Gold that will yield a boom for underdeveloped economies. Regardless of the ultimate field the chemical engineer goes into, as a student, he finds the course of study difficult and demanding. The YU Society of Chemical Engineers brings these students together. And just for the record, a man who can earn $10,000 per year certainly isn't mad.

Who are the giants of Industry? It's not the machines. It's not the factory owner. It's the industrial engineer. It's this man that keeps the steel presses rolling. It's this man who knows the inner workings of the plant. It's this man that coordinates the operations involved in turning out the finished product of industry. Where does the industrial engineer get his training? Rayen School of Engineering can take credit for some of the future's better industrial engineers. The YU Society of Industrial Engineers can also take a bow for its effort to unite those who study this field.

"Always ready to offer a smile and a helping hand," is a definite earmark of Circle K, one of three campus service groups. A national college affiliate of the Kiwanis organization, the male group performs many valuable service projects annually on the campus, local and state scenes.

The group is always ready to assist city charity drives and offers a vast amount of service to both University functions and events sponsored by various campus groups. But it's not "all work and no play" since the group takes time to hold several social functions each semester.

Four years ago the Ohio Alpha Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon founded a sister organization known as The Little Sisters of Minerva. The group assists the fraternity and performs on its own many charitable works, social functions, and helpful activities.

Celebrating its first year on campus, the American Hellenic Educational Peoples Association has already amassed a formidable membership. The Association, known as AHEPA, has as its purpose the betterment of the social and educational tone of its membership. Although, as its name implies, the organization is composed of persons primarily of Hellenic origin, its membership is not strictly limited to those of such descent. Its name is derived more correctly from the respect in which it holds the Hellenic ideal, whose rich historical and cultural heritage has survived for nearly three millenia as a guide to nations and to men.

Y. U. Debate Society

Discussion, the exchange of ideas, is fundamental to communication. Likewise, debate, the discussion and contrast of various viewpoints on any given subject, is vital to democracy. The Y.U. Debate Society, now in its second year, works to foster interest in speech competition on the campus and serves as a "bench" from which members are drawn for the University's Debate Team. Recent activities of the Debate Society include several intramural tournaments and the Harvard-YU exhibition debate.

Sometimes in the frenetic pace of college life, with its social and academic loads and overloads, a student's spiritual life gets pushed into the background. Sometimes it stays there for the rest of his life. The Newman Club of Youngstown University offers the ideal fusion of spiritual, social, and academic life. A member of the Ohio Valley Province of the National Newman Federation, the Newman Club is the campus religious center for students of the Catholic faith. Co-ordinating a program of religious service, social activity, and presentations of academic interest—the panel on civil rights springs instantly to mind—the Newman Club provides an opportunity to integrate religious activity with campus life.

Religion in Life

The Religion in Life Fellowship is an organization serving those of the Protestant and Orthodox faiths on Youngstown's campus. It is also open to those who have no other religious representation on campus. RIL presents a unified program of religious, social, and intellectual activities, and strives to offer each student a chance to blend spiritual activities with participation in the other phases of collegiate life. The Fellowship meets on Sunday evenings, and presents a program that may vary from commentary on current religious controversy to a folksinging Hootenanny. The program of social activities is wide, and provides a relaxing interlude after the more formal program is finished.

Student Council, campus governing body, consists of 25 members elected by popular vote from their respective schools. So as to maintain some degree of equality, there are two Representative-at-Large seats which can be filled only by persons not affiliated with a Greek organization.

Council allocates some $48,000 a year to various student groups and sponsors activities such as Homecoming, Snow-Flake Frolic and the newly initiated Spring Weekend. They also pass many regulations governing the student body.

In the heat of athletic competition few people realize the importance of school spirit and moral support by the student body. Physical adeptness, dedication, and beauty are the characteristics of our cheerleaders who have helped lead our squads to an imposing record. No doubt all of the students on campus agree that our cheerleaders should be given a rousing cheer for a job well done not only on the home field or the home court but when traveling with the team.

Majorettes

The joys of being a majorette are many. Number one, the good majorette can spend many long hours practicing. Number two, the good majorette can spend many more hours working out new and entertaining routines. And when the majorette finally has her routine down pat she can look forward to putting on a short skirt in zero weather and marching down a football field or a street full of people watching a parade while she smiles brightly and trys not to think about the frost-bite which seems to grip all parts of her body. But through it all the YU majorette has the satisfaction of knowing she has contributed much.

Youngstown University Band Put your hand on your head and rub clockwise while your other hand pats your tummy. Oh, I see, you learned to do that as a child—Well then, try this. Take a musical instrument, any one seen in a marching band, and play it with proper timing and with skilful accuracy and at the same time march down a long field in a perfectly straight line while keeping time with the rest of the marching unit. What's that? You say that's just a little too difficult for you. Well then, from now on let's have a little more respect for the group that can do all of it well, YU's Band.

Jambar

The University Jambar, campus weekly newspaper, is sponsored by Student Council in conjunction with a large advertising income. Receiving many awards each year and ranked First Class by the national Associated Collegiate Press for the past three semesters, the student journalists give the publication a professional touch. In addition to its high quality, The Jambar made history this year by printing the largest issue of 14 pages and the first extra, in memory of the late President Kennedy. The newspaper has a policy of neutrality although several slashes were launched against Student Council and the Greek system during the year. It is not "censored" beforehand although repercussions may occur afterward from the University Publications Committee.

This may be the shortest copy in the entire book. It's deadline time and quite frankly the copy editor is now turning out volume and not quality. Even though you think you are finished there are still the details, that each by itself amounts to nothing, but together mean a few more hours. By now the staff knows the pictures by heart and they are making just one more check. Some names are bound to be spelled wrong and someone is bound to be unhappy . . . but that's a yearbook! The Neon and Neon staff are no different than any other yearbook or staff.

For those who refer to the Neon as a "glorified scrapbook", we take this space to make reply. The Neon is a "glorified scrapbook" for which we refuse to make apology because its only function is that of portraying this year at Youngstown University. We portrayed the year the way we saw it. Whether our efforts mean anything or nothing to you depends on what this year meant to you. We hope this is the year that was.

SPORTS

30 Second Season

The football year of 1963 can be classified as the thirty-second season. Although the Penguins outplayed and compiled higher statistics than their opponents, Youngstown posted a 5-4-1 record. Two of these defeats came in the final 30 seconds of play.

In the opening game, Youngstown was defeated in the last 30 seconds of play by a formidable Texas Lutheran team. Central Michigan visited Youngstown the following week and came from behind in the final 30 seconds to scratch a 7-7 tie. The Penguins traveled to Susquehanna for their next contest. Again the Youngstown team suffered a heartbreaking setback by the score of 12-7. This defeat also came in the final 30 seconds of play.

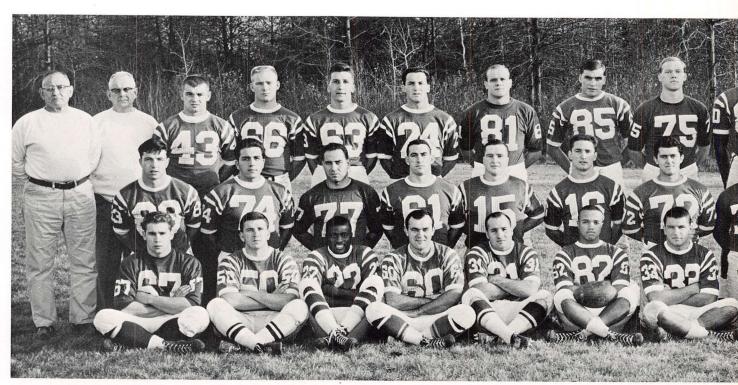

Youngstown played its first Saturday afternoon game against a highly rated McMurry team. This time the hard charging line and the excellent Penguin backfield were not to be denied a well deserved victory by downing their foe 17-12. Youngstown continued to play good football as they went on to defeat Southern Connecticut, 12-0, witnessed by a large Homecoming crowd. The following week Youngstown defeated the nationally rated Baldwin Wallace team 16-14.

The Rubber Bowl of Akron was the scene of the next game. Akron provided too much opposition against which Youngstown could not get started and so lost 21-7.

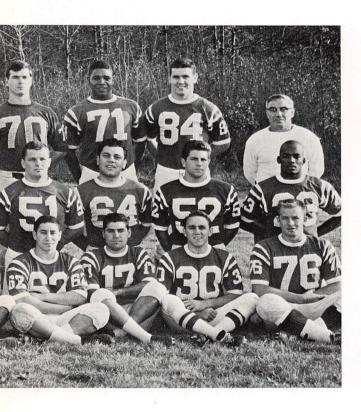

Youngstown recorded two more victories downing Gustavus Adolphus 26-6 and Augustana 26-7. For the final game of the season Youngstown traveled to Kentucky and played a hard nosed Eastern Kentucky team. Youngstown came out on the short end of the 34-14 score.

Youngstown University started the season in grand style with a 117-81 victory over Malone College. The 117-point total set a new school scoring record which was later to be broken and that record in turn tied before the season ended.

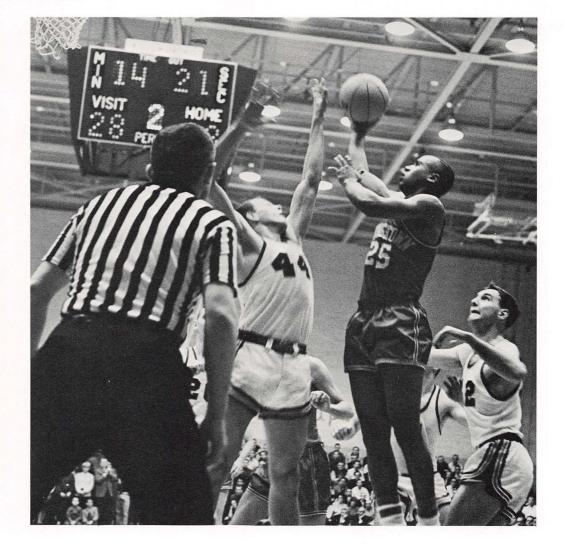

On January 11, the Penquins soundly tromped Lakeland College of Wisconsin 127-53 and then on January 29, Geneva College fell victim to a 127-71 YU victory.

Youngstown University ran up 16 straight victories before suffering its first defeat to a powerful Central State squad 75-69 on the Maurader home floor. Following the game, the squad received another blow with the announcement that star rebounder and scorer, Ronnie Allen, would be ineligible for the second semester. At that time, Allen was averaging 16 points and 15 rebounds per game.

This loss was severely felt when the team traveled to Erie, Pa. to Gannon College four days later. Gannon soundly defeated Youngstown 78-63 which reversed an earlier 74-44 YU victory. The next six games were ended in victory with YU receiving an invitation to the NCAA Tournament in Akron.

The Youngstown University nine posted a respectable 11-4 mark for the 1963 baseball season. Inclement weather hampered the "Penquins" by canceling many practices, and continued into the first part of the season.

Youngstown University started the season on the wrong foot by dropping the opening day double header. As the weather improved so did the team. They went on to win the next four games, Geneva, Alliance, and Fenn. Fenn College was on the short end of a double header.

Saint Vincents proved too much for "the Penquins" ending the winning streak. Youngstown got back on the road to victory by defeating Clarion twice, the Barons of Steubenville, and Alliance College on their home field. The YU nine made a trip to Berea to face a formidable Baldwin-Wallace team. The hard hitting "Yellow-jackets" handed Youngstown its fourth and final defeat of the season. The "Penquin" nine bounced back defeating the College of Steubenville for their final two victories.

Varsity Swimming Team

A beginning year is always one of the most trying years, but in contrast it is also one of the most rewarding. The 1963-64 Swimming Club has devoted many long and tiring hours in practice. This team was organized and directed under the efficient guidance of Coach Ralph Johnson. Although the first year was not a winning year, it was a year in which to gain experience. The Fin-men are organizing toward the day when they become a major varsity sport to be ranked among the other University sports.

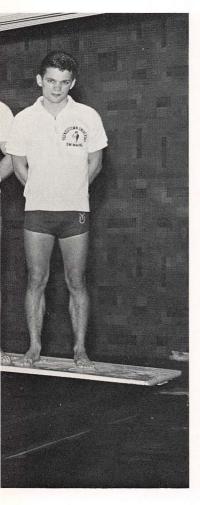

Since indoctrination to inter-college competition, in the early part of 1964, they met with many of the major Ohio and area swimming teams. Under the direction of Johnson, Bert Taylor has become one of the most talented and promising divers in eastern Ohio. All and all it was a good season.

GREEKS

The saying "politics is a man's field" isn't applicable at the University in the case of Pan-Hellenic Council, campus governing body for the four social sororities. Composed of four elected delegates from each sorority, the co-eds decide what is "best for the rest" when making many decisions during the year. Often the peaceful political atmosphere is shattered as the co-eds discuss controversial motions. They meet every Tuesday afternoon with their advisor, Dean of Women Edith Painter.

Alpha Kappa Alpha

Alpha Kappa Alpha is a national social sorority founded in January 1908, at Howard University, Washington, D.C. While its main purpose is to cultivate and encourage high scholastic and ethical standards and to promote unity and friendship, its effects go far deeper than that. In addition to supporting and promoting those standards and ideals that it is ifficially pledged to encourage, a sorority reaches into each member's life with profound effect. The result is often a more mature outlook on life and an increased self-confidence on the part of the member.

Delta Delta chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha was founded on the Youngstown University campus in May, 1953.

Delta Chi Epsilon

Delta Chi Epsilon sorority celebrates its first quarter century on the Youngstown University campus this year. Founded in 1939, the sorority represents night school students attending the Secretarial School and was originally chartered to bring together working girls and further their interests in the University.

The Greek letters ΔXE stand for the qualities of development, character, and efficiency.

Annual social functions of the Delta Chi's include the Mother-Daughter Tea, the Christmas Dinner-Dance, the Spring Dinner-Dance, and the Founders Day Tea.

In addition, Delta Chi Epsilon attends many fraternitysorority parties and the sorority members participate in a wide range of campus activities.

Prominent among the social sororities of the Secretarial School is the Alpha Iota International Honorary Social Business Sorority. Alpha Iota was founded at the American Institute of Business in Des Moines, Iowa, on October 25, 1925. It was incorporated under the laws of the State of Iowa as a national sorority on April 11, 1930. The Youngstown University chapter was founded in October 30, 1930, and has from that time endeavored to hold to the friendship and loyalty which are the ideals of Alpha Iota.

Each Ohio chapter of Alpha Iota annually sends a queen candidate to the Ohio State Conclave. The Conclave winner represents Ohio at the International Dinner Dance. Other activities include the Christmas Dinner Dance, St. Patrick Day Dance, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Beta Sigma Omicron

Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority was founded in Columbia, Missouri, in December 1888. Three years later it became a national sorority and in 1930 was admitted to the National Panhellenic Council. The Youngstown University chapter was established in 1951. Since then it has grown into a sisterhood that upholds ideals of scholarship, philanthropy, University service, and friendship.

The philanthropic activities of Beta Sigma Omicron include supporting the Pine Mountain Settlement in Harlan County, Kentucky, a school for underpriviledged children in the district, and helping the Nephrosis Foundation.

The Beta Sig's social activities include an annual Dinner Dance at which its outstanding Junior girl is crowned "The Pink Lady," its Founder's Day Banquet, its Family Casserole Dinner, and its annual summer stay at Geneva on Lake Erie.

The Y.U. chapter is aided by a Mothers Club and Alumni Association.

Phi Mu

The second oldest women's fraternal group in the nation, Phi Mu, was founded at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, on March 4, 1852. A century later, in 1952, the Alpha Theta Delta local sorority was installed as Delta Mu Chapter of Phi Mu. Over the past one-hundred and eleven years Phi Mu has grown in her "bonds of love" and today is among the largest national sororities in the country with over 38,000 members active in 88 collegiate chapters, colonies, and alumnae chapters. In addition, Phi Mu's Magic Carpet District reaches Phi Mu's overseas.

Phi Mu is active in many of the campus organizations at Y.U. and originated Greek Sing on this campus.

Social events in the Phi Mu schedule cover a wide range of activities, including the Dinner-Dance each spring which honors graduating seniors and the Pink Carnation Princess and Phi Mu Man of the Year, Founders Day Banquet, Mother-Daughter Casserole dinners, and collegiate-pledge parties.

The new Phi Mu apartment is located at 827 Fifth Avenue. The faculty advisor is Prof. Ester Neimi, a Phi Mu, and its alumnae advisor is Miss Bev Javorsky.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Sharing friendship, developing character, attaining high scholarship, and encouraging good citizenship and spiritual consciousness are some of the purposes of Sigma Sigma Sorority. These principles and ideals have been passed down since April 20, 1898, when Sigma Sigma Sigma was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. In May, 1957, Gamma Sigma local sorority was installed on the Y.U. campus as Beta Psi chapter.

The sorority's major social service project is The Robbie Page Memorial Hospital of Chapel Hill, North Carolina. One source of funds for this project is the Topsy Turvy King election on

Alpha Phi Delta

Beta Omicron chapter of Alpha Phi Delta was chartered in March of 1953. Prior to its acceptance by the national fraternity it was known as the Alpha Phi Club.

The chapter has been very active on campus in the eleven years since its founding. Its annual projects include: the Spaghetti Dinner, the Orphan's party, the Mother-Son Tea, and the Communion Breakfast.

The year 1963-64 will be remembered by the brothers as the year their house plans became a reality. The house was remodeled both inside and out. In addition, furniture was put in and a kitchen was installed. The chapter was aided in their work by the newly formed Mothers Club and Alumni Club.

With a solid base to work from, the brothers of Alpha Phi Delta expect to grow socially, intellectually, and politically in the coming years.

Delta Sigma Phi

On December 10, 1899, a group of students at the College of the City of New York, Columbia University, and New York University formed a fraternity. This group sought to develop an atmosphere of close and sincere fellowship among men of good character, support the educational institutions in their teaching functions, and develop and instill in its members a spirit of patriotism and a sense of financial responsibility, honor, and honesty. Its name was Delta Sigma Phi.

The Y.U. chapter of this organization began in 1958 as a local fraternity named Tau Omega. During the summer of 1961, largely through the interest of Professor Raymond E. Meiners, Tau Omega became associated with Delta Sigma Phi. In December of 1961 Tau Omega became a colony of, and in May 1962, Delta Sigma Chapter of Delta Sigma Phi.

Theta Xi

The Kappa Alpha Chapter of Theta Xi Fraternity, the oldest national fraternity on the Y.U. campus, was until January of 1963 a chapter of Kappa Sigma Kappa. The merger, in August 1962, of Kappa Sigma Kappa and Theta Xi national fraternities necessitated a name change for the Youngstown Chapter but left the competitive spirit and ideals of its members undiminished. The merger has brought new strength to the Kappa Alpha Chapter, and the past year has seen it prosper and grow.

Theta Xi National Fraternity was founded on April 29, 1864, at Rensaller, New York, and the Kappa Alpha Chapter was founded at Youngstown University in 1940.

One of the most noted of Theta Xi's many activities at Y.U. is the annual "Sadie Hawkins Day" Dance and attendant festivities. Patterned after the famous Dogpatch celebration of cartoonist Al Capp, Sadie Hawkins Day features a race of horrifying proportions followed by a dance at which the victorious femmes exhibit their not-so-unwilling victims.

Alpha Phi Omega

Unlike the other twelve fraternities on campus, Alpha Phi Omega is set up not as a social organization but rather as a service group. The projects of this service fraternity are varied and far reaching, but all have as their goal a positive addition to the well-being of the school or the community. Whether building a float for the Homecoming Queen or guiding high school students on campus for college entrance testing, the brothers of Alpha Phi Omega show themselves to be dedicated and hard workers who are an asset to Youngstown University.

Gamma Sigma Sigma

This year commemorates the fourteenth year on campus for the University's only service sorority. Gamma Sigma Sigma is an organization made up of both sorority and independent women. It exists to provide service wherever needed.

The charming Gamma Sig's stand ready to serve as hostesses for teas, as usherettes for convocations, and as workers whenever they can be of aid. The sorority women often provide a touch of femininity in what would otherwise be a somberly formal and academic setting and by their presence enhance innumerable functions.

President John F. Kennedy

Ask Not What Your Country Can Do For You— Ask What You Can Do For Your Country

Born—May 29, 1917 Died—November 22, 1963

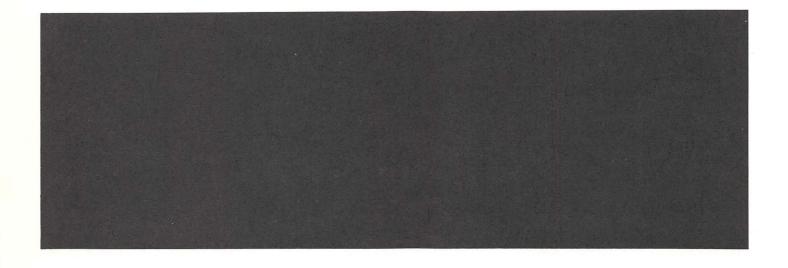

Clair L. Worley

Louis Lengyel

The national tragedy of the assassination of President Kennedy was compounded at Youngstown, with the death of two renouned professors. Dr. Clair L. Worley, Head of the Biology Department, and Professor Louis Lengyel of the Business Administration Faculty, were both suddenly taken from their positions of importance. The University as a whole regrets their untimely passing.
