

They would walk for hours.

Once, many years ago, a father and his young son were walking together down the path which led to and from their village. They would walk for hours, as they were most accustomed to, examining everything that they came upon with the most detailed curiosity. Many times they would stop and investigate the same plant or tree or rock two or even three times in the same walk for they were actually walking in somewhat of a circle, and though the father knew that they were walking in a large circle about their home, he preferred not to tell the boy, lest the boy should become disenchanted should he discover that many of their objects of inspection were not new and different.

Together...

Each day during sunset the father would lay down his tools and call his son to his side so that they could begin their walk. Together they would start out, always in the direction of the sunset, to just walk and look. On their trip through the jungle like forest, they would pass many plants and trees and an occasional brook or stream. Though the boy had seen them all before, each time he would stop to examine something, he did so with fervor, optimism, and expectation, all in hopes of discovering something that was unfound before. This would delight the boy's father, for he saw that the boy was happy with all that he had to offer him.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Carefully he would observe

Occasionally on their journey through the dense brush and tropical vegetation, at a point farthest from their destination, the father would stop with his young son. He stopped in such a fashion as to watch the boy's every movement for it was there, that upon close and scrutinizing examination, one could detect the remnants of an adjacent path, running at a tangent to the one the boy and his father stood upon. The once travelled path was barely perceptable and almost completely overgrown with vines and plants. Carefully, the father would watch his son play near the path's camouflaged opening. Carefully he would observe his son's arduous examination of the plants and leaves and twigs which had grown to help hide the pathway's entrance. His son would sometimes squat and pick something up, perhaps a pebble, roll it between his palms, and throw it down at the foot of the path. But, soon the boy would move on past the dense brush and thickets and the father would follow, happy that they were now on their way home and the journey would be easier.

As the boy grew older

The boy looked forward to the walk with his father, for though he worked very hard on his chores near their hut, he was still forbidden to wander much further than a few hundred feet from their home unsupervised. Often the father would return home to find the boy eagerly awaiting his arrival. Though the father would sometimes be in despair for lack of food to feed his family, he would never let his eyes tell this to the boy and would quickly start out on their walk.

As the boy grew older, he became more adventuresome in his explorations, climbing even higher on the trees that enveloped the path as well as attempting greater feats of strength with his tall, well developed body.

"It is another path,"

One day on their walk through the woods, as they approached the area as to where the old path was to be found, the father noticed his son progressing especially slow. As it was late, and the father feared that darkness might overcome them, he urged his son to be quick. This dis-pleased the boy, as he was accustomed to lin-ger during this one time of each day that he was afforded to relax. However, he respected his fa-ther and knew not to anger him. Just as the boy was about to stand up to move on, he stopped, and lowered his knees onto the ground. Again, and lowered his knees onto the ground. Again, his father cautioned him as to the fleeting day-light. Still, the boy stay knelt, intently looking down at the brush. He turned to his father and abown at the brash. He turned to his fainer and stared at him. Standing up, he pointed back down to where he had been looking and asked his father what it was that he pointed to. As his father looked down, he closed his eyes and took his son's hand in his own his son's hand in his own.

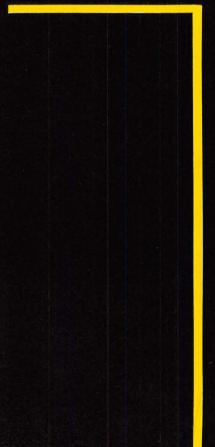

"It is another path," said the man, "the path of knowledge." His son's next question would not surprise him. "Where does it lead, father?"

For years the boy's father had walked through the jungle with his son and each time that they would pass this spot, he would think of the day his son would ask him that question. Many times he would go over the answer in his mind, trying to think of all that revised now that day had arrived.

"Its dertination l do not know."

The man motioned to his son to sit next to him in the middle of the path. Brushing the flys from his face, he looked over to the boy and spoke.

"Its destination I do not know. I can only tell you what is to be found along the way."

The boy sat and listened with a deep look in his eyes.

"Though the path is old and travelled by many, once you step onto it, it becomes yours alone. And only you may decide how far to travel in its direction."

"The trip itself is not easy, and not all who attempt it will be persistant and unwavering in their goal. The road they travel will be long and arduous, filled with adventure and intrigue at every bend. They shall encounter friend and foe alike during their journey. Many times they will stop and examine their compass, for the road will twist and turn, offering lesser paths with fewer stones, making them question the needle and its accuracy."

"...the prey you reek will be the most elusive."

"Though streams and creeks will be many, seldom will they find water that will allow them to quench their thirst for few will be the times that the water may be drawn upon easily."

easily." "Similarly, food and nourishment will be as difficult to obtain. The fruit which ladens the limbs of the tree must be examined carefully, lest it be picked too soon, or too late. Only when the fruit is ready may it be eaten by one without fear of foul taste and aches which will trouble the brain as well as the body."

"Also, it is often found that the prey you seek will be the most elusive in the jungle. Only the inherent intelligence that these individuals possess will put them ahead of their prey, for in every other way, they are as strangers in another land. The hunt itself will be difficult and exhausting. Many times they will want to rest but will be unable to stop, lest they lose sight of their prey. Usually, the animal will outrun them. But endure they must without discouragement for as they wipe their tears, another game may be lost as they weep."

wipe their tears, another game may be lost as they weep." "Though the pitfalls great and the disappointments many, those that see the trip to the end are not sorry, for in its completion great power may be received. All that you dream becomes obtainable, as you need only pursue it."

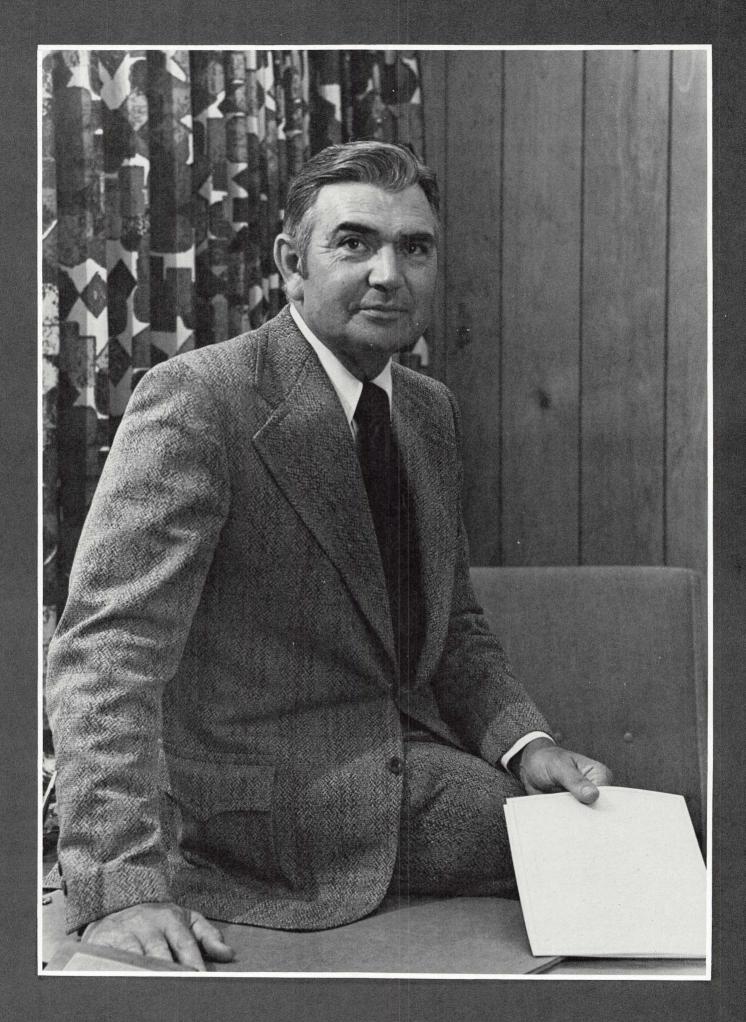

As the old man and his son sat talking, darkness began to fill the forest. Soon, only the moonlight offered to distinguish their features against the jungle back drop. Realizing that it was late, the son rose and helped his father to his feet so that they could return to their village.

As they started back, the boy turned to his father and said,

"I think that I would like to explore that path someday, father." His father smiled and said,

"You already have."

To The Student Body:

Forty-five years ago the first NEON was dedicated to Howard W. Jones, President of Youngstown College, in recognition of the "inspiring service and successful endeavor" he so generously gave this youthful institution.

This anniversary edition of 1980, at the beginning of a new decade, gives us an opportunity to look back at accomplishments and sight ahead at goals we'd like to attain—as students, faculty, administrators and as part of this community and an interrelating Mankind.

Out on this campus is a granite rock that marked a beginning when what is now Youngstown State University was established by the Young Men's Christian Association. The ideals are the same, the horizons far broader.

In 1952, the NEON was presented as the symbol of the Lamp of Knowledge. It, too, recorded the university experience: learning, self-accomplishment, frustrations and fun. One picture of book-laden students at semester start was captioned "Books, Brains and Bedlam." Another was the NEON photographer's delight, a student asleep! (Presumably from studying the night through.)

In other yearbooks down the years, NEON has portrayed students engrossed in a lab project, or music, athletes being tested, sweaters and bobby sox, military uniforms and hula hoops.

The 1978 NEON asked: "Where have you been, where are you going?" In it I mentioned the dramatic changes in physical environment of our campus and the advances in academic standards with new ideas, new awareness and pride in Youngstown State and, more important, its increasing influence and the impact of its graduates on the community.

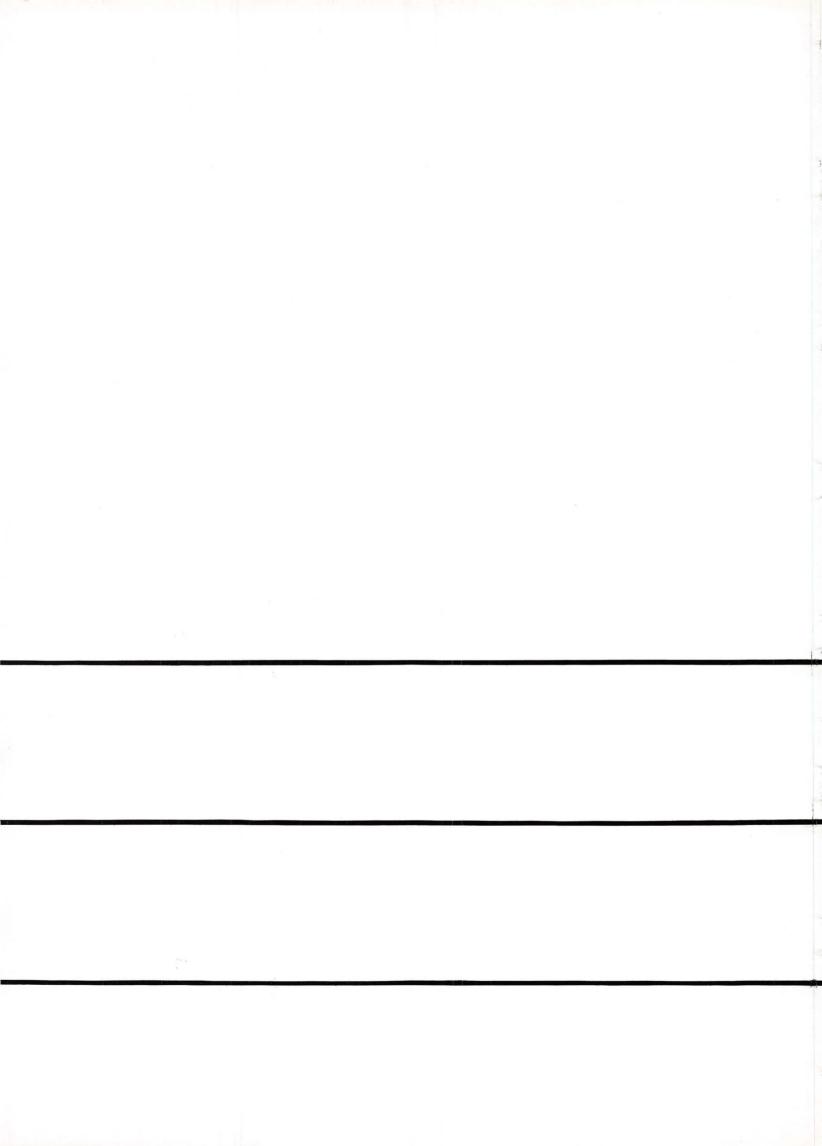

The 1979 NEON was dedicated to the concept of the university as an urban community center with student concern and faculty commitment fused toward greater humanistic values, seeking solutions to the complex problems of community and our world.

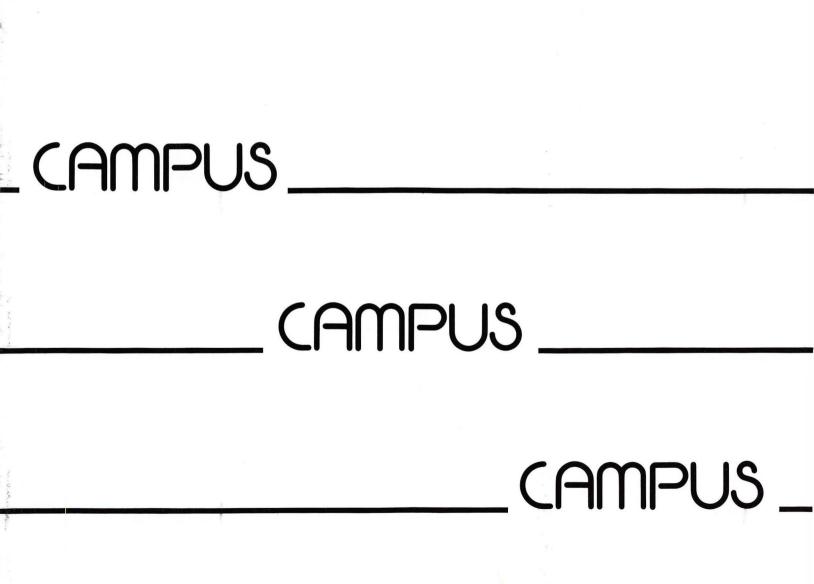

"Where are we going?"

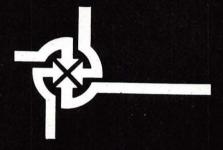

As the NEONS through the years have so well illustrated, if you will take this university experience and carry it forward, continuing to strive for more learning, still more education and a still better Mankind, those far horizons and the goals we all seek will be clearer, closer.

Sincerely yours

John J. Coffelt President

GALLE_RY: In Retrospect

In past editions of the NEON, a gallery has been presented to display fine works of pictorial art. This 50th volume of the annual marks the 45th anniversary of the NEON, and the 72nd anniversary of Youngstown College; presently Youngstown State University. Depicted in the following pages is a retrospective view of the university, encompassing its structural, functional, and attitudinal aspects.

A Basic Beginning

Owing to the imagination and creativity of YSU's planning department, the campus has developed structurally into a highly organized and aesthetically handsome attribute; complimenting the university and the surrounding community.

Guided by the hands of experience, functionally the university has assumed a leading role in education in the state. Few schools in Ohio are able to offer the student as broad an array of career goals and educational opportunities so economically as YSU.

Spirit and Pride-Ever Present

The attitude of a university, unlike the structural and functional aspects, is not hinged on the opinions of a few, but the ideas of many.

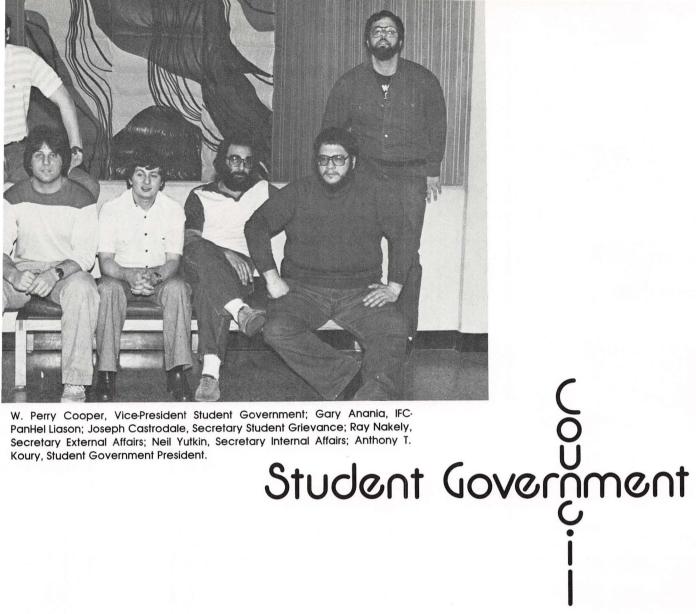

For that we must tip our hat to the students of Youngstown State University for, no matter how one views it, the attitude of Y.S.U. is by and large a reflection of the students. Fifteen thousand people together exert a powerful influence on the ideas and philosophies of a university community.

So, as you begin to assess the attitude of this campus while reading this, remember that only you can decide whether to give yourself a pat on the back or a kick on the backside.

The Penguins, who concluded their 25th season under coach Dom Rosselli, enjoyed an outstanding spring as they finished the season with a sparkling 21-5 overall record. That marked the 10th season in the last 11 that YSU baseball squads have won 20 or more victories in a season. As the Penguins baseball mentor, Rosselli has fashioned a 393-193 mark.

After a slow start, in which they won just two of their first four battles, the Penguins came on strong as the season progressed. A 10-3 defeat by Akron, in the first game of a twin bill, halted a 13 game victory streak. That loss, coupled with the regional com-mittee's decision, tested the mettle of the Penguins. They answered that test in first-class fashion by nailing six wins in their last eight contests.

A young team for the most part, the Penguins had only one senior in the infield and none in the outfield. Of the ten pitchers on the staff, only two were seniors.

Senior second baseman Andy Saxon was a study of consistency during his ca-reer at YSU. A four-year letterman, he pro-vided the Penguins with a steady glove in the field and consistent punch at the plate.

One of the top hitters in the region, Saxon ended the campaign with a .315 bat-ting average. He tied teammate Dave Ziegler for runs scored with 18, and was the pace-setter in walks with 17. His four dou-bles was also second best on the squad.

YSU enjoyed a fine season, due in part to the pitching of seniors Dave Smercansky and Bill Sattler. A southpaw from Poland, Smercansky fashioned a 40 record with a 0.90 ERA. The team leader in complete games with four, Smercansky's ERA was third in that category. Smercansky and Sattler both tied for team honors in wins ### with four apiece.

sattler, a righthander from Youngstown Wilson, led the squad in strikeouts with 39 and innings pitched with 31. At the sea son's end. Sattler had a 42 mark on the hill A four-year letterman, Sattler's career stats include a 17.10 record and 224 strikeouts. That strikeout mark is the sec-ond-most in YSU history. Two years ago, as a sophomore, Sattler fanned 89 batters to establish a new school record. Last year, his 48 whiffs in 33 innings was good enough to lead the nation's Division II hurlers.

Saxon, Sattler, and Smercansky were not the only heroes for the Penguins. More than anything else, YSU's baseball squad could be characterized as a team great balance.

Freshman catcher Mike Nittoli and junior centerfielder Joe lacabucci tied for the team tead in batting average with .333 marks. Sophomore third sacker Scott Bass aided the YSU hitting punch with a .307 average.

Freshman first baseman Dave Zeigler, who had a disappointing season at the plate with a .237 mark, still played a promi-nent role for YSU with his bat. Zeigler led the Penguins in total bases with 49, crack-ing five homers, three doubles, and a triple. He set the pace in RBI's by driving in 18

Five rookie hurlers saw action this spring, and YSU's baseball future looks brighter because of their performances this season. Righthander Dave Baker, for example, pitched well enough to compile a 3.0 record and led the squad in ERA with a brilliant 0.44 mark.

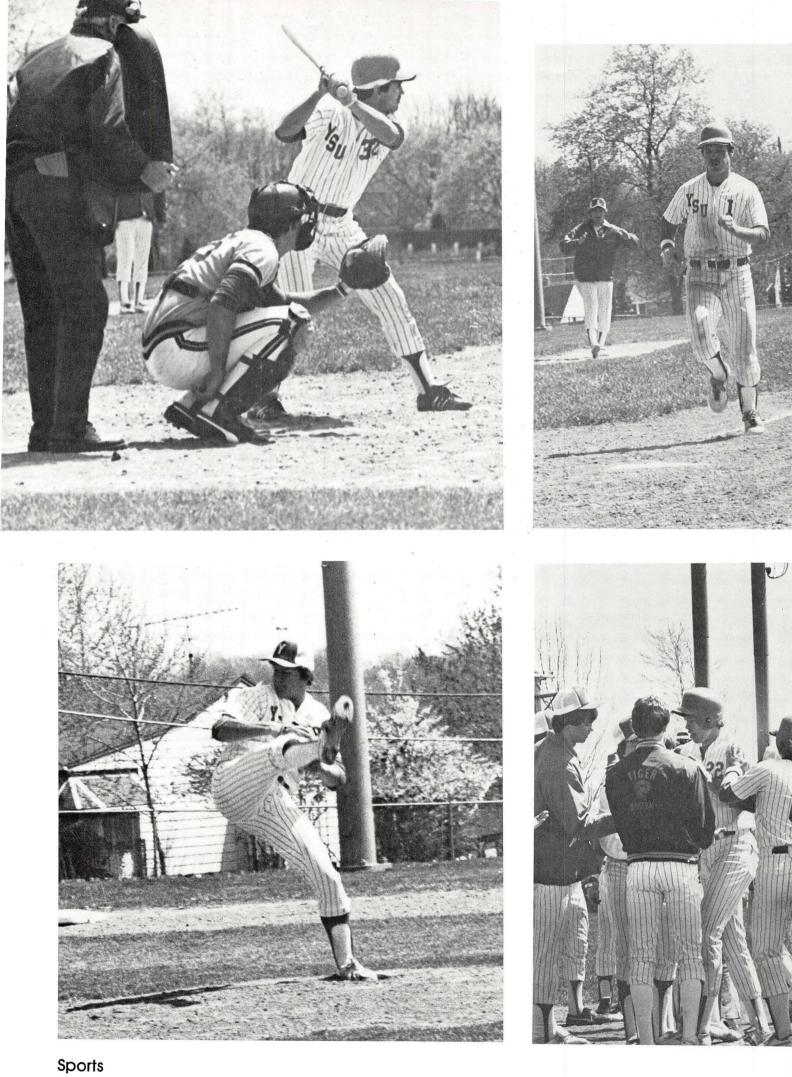

Two former Coshocton High School standouts, who teamed with Zeigler to lead Coshocton to the state Class AA baseball title a year ago, also hurled for the Penguins this year and will be the backbone of next year's mound staff. Glenn Head was second in ERA with a 0.81 figure, and he also posted a 2-1 record in three starts. Also a righthander, Mark Schlarb was used mainly in relief where he was extremely effective. Schlarb finished the year with a 1.0 record and a 1.86 ERA.

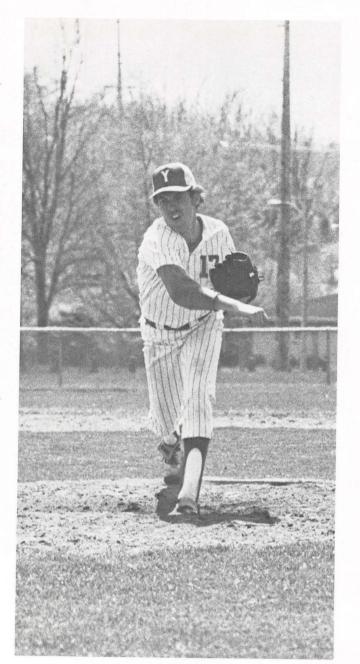

Junior righthander Joe Sekora began the season in impressive style before being bothered by a sore arm. But despite that malady, he built a 2.1 record with a 2.61 ERA. His 28 strikeouts in 20 frames was second in that department.

While Rosselli will hate to lose the ser-vices of Saxon, Sattler, Smercansky, and reserve catcher Rick Zuzik, enough top-flight talent will return next season to again make the Penguins a competitive baseball unit.

Men's Basketball

The 1979-1980 Basketball campaign was one that proved to be very successful at YSU.

The man most responsible for making winning and basketball synonomous at YSU is legendary head coach Dom Rosselli. The "Wizard of Wick Avenue," Rosselli completed his 36th season as the Penguins I basketball mentor. His squads have achieved success on the hardwood matched by few other schools in the nation.

With a 570-353 overall coaching record, Rosselli ranks as the third winningest active basketball coach nationally. In 36 years at YSU, Rosselli—coached teams have compiled 25 winning campaigns and appeared in 13 postseason tournaments. Despite their youth, the Penguins have branded themselves as a never-say-die unit with their hustling and aggressive style of play. This attack was led by sophomore Dave Zeigler, a 6'5" forward who averaged 27.7 points a game. His 1,288 points set a new sophomore scoring mark, and he has been named to two All-American squads.

Adding additional punch for the Penguins was sophomore Bruce Alexander. A fine-shooting guard, the 5' 11" Alexander netted 13.5 points an outing to finish as the squad's second-leading point producer. His fine all-around play will make him an integral part of the Penguins plans for the next two season. The Penguins consistent play was closely aligned with the improved play of 6'8" junior center Mitchell Atwood. A junior college transfer, Atwood led YSU in rebounding with 196, and tossed nearly 11 points a contest in his second season for the Penguins.

Besides that trio, starters Steve Miodrag and Shawn Burns have also contributed to the team's steady play. Miodrag, a 6'5% forward, averaged 9.7 points to aid the YSU offense, while Burns dished out 144 assists to lead the time in that category.

The Lady Penguin cagers had a successful year by compiling a 13.5 season tab.

As a team, the Penguins shot .445 from the field, while they were able to can their free throws at a .553 clip. Hauling down 691 rebounds, dishing out 276 assists and stealing the opponents' ball 253 times, the Lady Penguins rippled the nets for I,310 points in their 18 outings, scoring at a 73.1 clip every game. When you couple that with the opponent's scoring average of 59.9, you see why the Penguin cagers were able to cop 13 of their 18 travs able to cop 13 of their 18 frays. The Penguins were led all season long by All-American candidate Wanda Grant, who paced the lady basketeers in every offensive category. She led the team in scoring with 26 points per game and also hauled down 236 rebounds (14.8 per game) despite missing two games due to an injury.

injury. "Wanda did exactly what we expected her to do for us this year," Ramsey stated. "She's a tremendous talent and we're expecting bigger and better things from her next year."

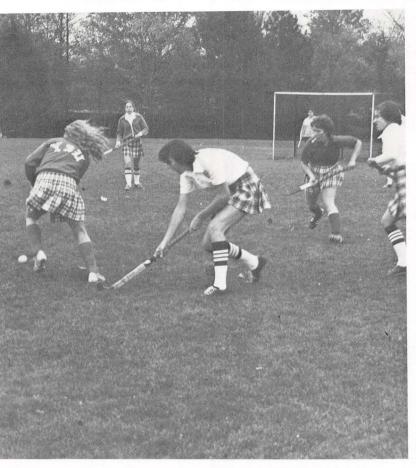

The play-maker of the team, Vicki Lawrence, was the second leading scorer on the team (15.4) and is considered by many as the catalyst who makes the team go. "Vicki played good ball for us throughout the whole year," Ramsey emphasized, "but when you couple her return with that of Grant's next season, you can only expect better things of the two of them for they complement each other very well."

The 1979 season was one of improvement for coach Denise Vanaman's field hockey players.

When the season started, coach Vanaman had ten players who had never played field hockey before, and five were starters.

Vanaman commented on this by saying, "Back on September 15 we had to show those girls how to hold the stick! I can't believe how far we've come. Our 48 record is significant. Anyone who saw our last three games knows we can play."

The team was lead by senior Leslie Ingram, who was selected at this year's Most Valueable Player. She is YSU's all-time leading scorer with 29 goals to her credit, 7 of which were scored this year.

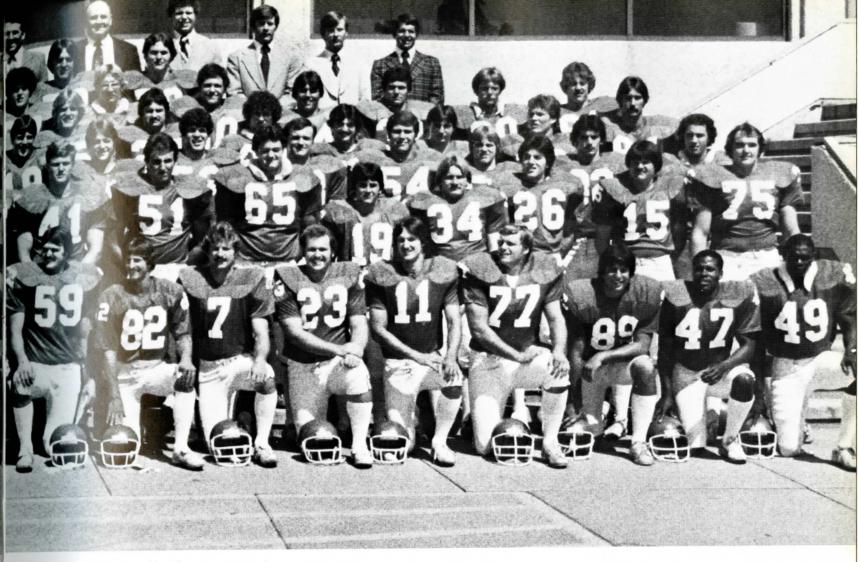

Kathy Quinn also featured for the Penguins by finishing second in the goals scored category with six. Kathy and Leslie also serve as the team's co-captains.

Y.S.U. Football MCC Champs

For the Penguins, the 1979 season came to a close on a sour note, but head coach Bill Narduzzi, his staff, and all the players had a fantastic campaign. The Penguins claimed their second straight Mid-Continent Conference title with a 50 mark, while their 11.2 overall record is the best log in the history of Y.S.U. football.

The 1979 football season at Youngstown State was one which put YSU in the eye of collegiate football's very best. For a team who wasn't even picked to win their conference, and to do that and almost become national champions reflects the pride and dedication this team had. We worked hard as a team, we won as a team, and, eventually lost as a team. This was the greatest football team in Youngstown State's history and it's only the beginning.

Bill Jarduzzi

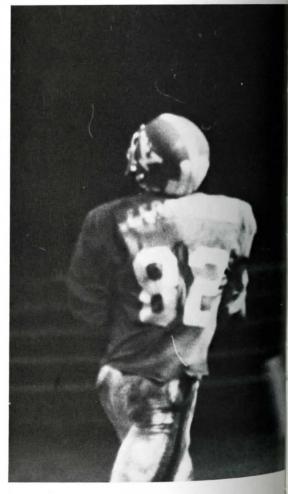

Junior tailback Jim "Robby" Robson (Bottom left) was the nation's leading scorer with 120 points in 10 games. The 6'1" 190 pounder was also ranked ninth in rushing with a 114.4 yards per game average.

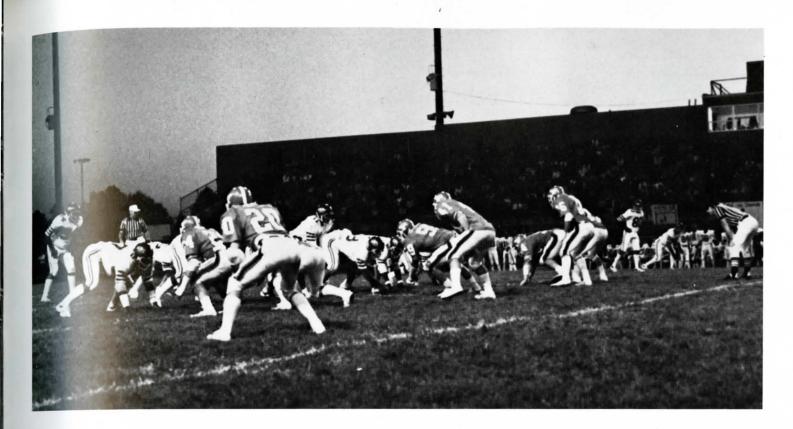

Senior wide receiver Jimmy Ferranti (bottom right) was the third leading pass receiver in the country with 60 catches for 1062 yards and an average of 6.0 receptions per game. He was by far the leader in touchdown passes caught with 10.

Senior quarterback Keith Snoddy (top right) was ranked fifth in the country in total offense with a 197.2 per game average. He was also seventh in passing efficiency with a 129.6 mark.

season log: 11.2 YOUNGSTOWN STATE FOOTBALL

GAME 1 The Penguins claimed their first win of the 33-27, in year by clipping host Illinois State 33-27, in the initial meeting between the two schools. Keith Snoddy led the Penguin of fense which amassed 410 total yards. The senior quarterback completed 14 of 21 passes for 229 yards and four touchdowns. Jim Ferranti hauled in eight aerials for 158 yards, including three of Snoddy's TD strikes.

Game 2

In what marked the first of three defensive efforts, YSU ripped Central State, 17-6, in the Penguins first home contest. Senior safety, Kevin Statzer, gathered in one theft, and sophomore linebacker Joe Schartner add ed another.

Game 3

Defense keyed the Penguins' third win as YSU rolled past visiting Ashland, 243. Pat Durina, Junior cornerback, had a pair of in-terceptions, while Statzer, senior noseguard Terry Dittmer, and sophomore linebacker Jeff Gergal each had six solo tackles. GAME 4

Game four was a shutout at Falcon Stadi um as the Panguins' defense held Northern lowa to only 13 yards rushing and crushed their first MCC foe, 19-0. Jim Ferranti collect-ed seven passes for 132 yards and a touchdown becoming YSU's all time record holder for both career receptions and yards. Kevin Statzer, Larry Grist, and T.C. Reynolds each picked off a Panther pass while Chris Weber kicked five punts for a 40.5 average.

GAME 5

Game 5 proved to be one of their biggest as YSU upset host Villanova, 27-22. Robby Robson put on an offensive show scoring four touchdowns, rushing for 85 yards on 25 carries, and throwing a 51-yard halfback option pass to set up a Penguin tally. GAME 6

YSU stretched its unbeaten streak to six as Michigan, 2423, on the road. Snoddy di-rected a ten-play, 83-yard scoring drive late in the final quarter, and senior cornerback ten bras intercented a Wild cornerback Tom Jaros intercepted a Wild cat pass in the last minutes of the game to assure the win. GAME 7

For game seven, the Penguins traveled to Akron and dealt their archrival at 163 set back. Snoddy was awarded the MCC player of the week as he passed for 183 yards on 13 out of 22 completions. Carey Orosz booted three field goals, and Jim Ferranti had nine receptions, while Terry Dittmer and senior Tom Harder led the de-fensive squad.

GAME 8

Five records were shattered on the Penguins' 29-8 Homecoming triumph over Western Illinois. Robson carried the ball 38 times for 175 yards and three touchdowns. Ferranti's six catches broke the YSU single season reception performance, and Orosz placed his name into the record book with a 52-yard field goal, the longest in the Pen-guins' history. Snoddy's twenty-third fouchdown pass of his career shattered the old Jaworski mark, and lastly, the victory marked the first time a YSU football team had won eight games in a row. GAME 9

In game nine, YSU captured their second straight MCC crown as the guest Penguins smashed Eastern Illinois, 49-21 to avenge last year's playoff defeat. The game proved to be another record breaking contest for Robson and Ferranti. Snoddy was also awarded the MCC player of the week for the second time. GAME 10

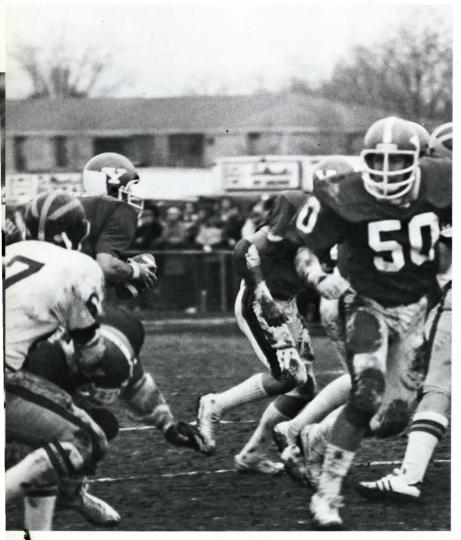

In the tenth game, the YSU undefeated streak was shattered at the hands of Dela-ware by the score of 51.45. Superb perfor-Robson, Ferranti, and senior Dwight Dumas. GAME 11

In the beginning of the playoffs, YSU rolled over South Dakota State, 50-7 with a solid defensive effort and advanced to the na-tional semifinals. The YSU defensive squad caused seven turnovers and stopped the Jackrabbits' running attack cold, holding it to zero yards rushing. In addition, Robson scored four touchdowns and became YSU's single season rushing leader.

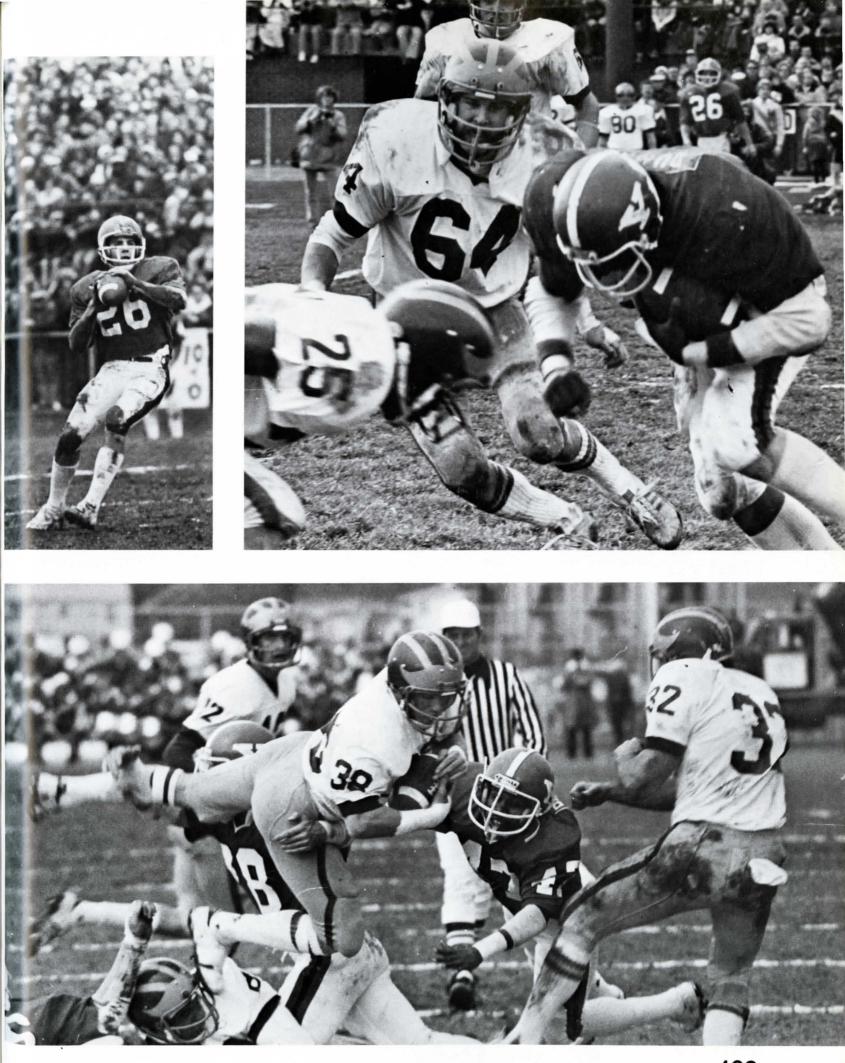

GAME 12 YSU set the stage for the national championship showdown against Delaware as the Penguins thrashed Alabama A&M, 52:0. The Penguins rolled up a total of 481 yards while limiting Alabama to a mere 68. Led by Reynolds and Jaros, YSU came up with two A&M turnovers. Offensively, Snoddy set a new record for most total yards in a season, and Robson became YSU's leading career rusher. GAME 13

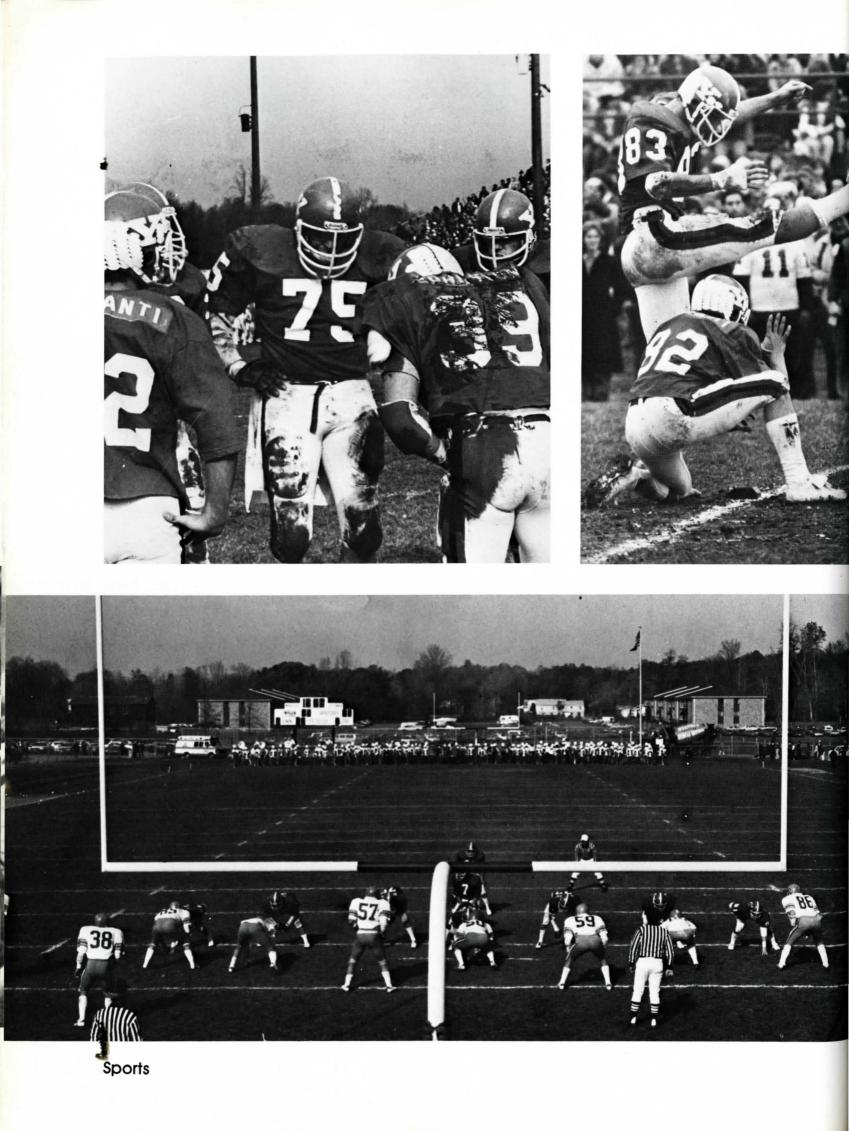

The NCAA Division 11 National Championship eluded YSU when Delaware handed the Penguins a disappointing 38-21 loss. A pair of long touchdown passes, a 61-yard interception return, and a fake field goal snubbed the Penguins' title hopes. YSU scored all of its points in the second as Robson, Dumas, and Snoddy each tallied on short bursts.

"Our team has played some good and exciting golf this year," commented first year coach Duke Barret. "Golf, however, depends so much on individual skill that it takes on the mental and psychological approach. Much of the golfer's progress depends on how much the effort he wants to put into it," Barret added.

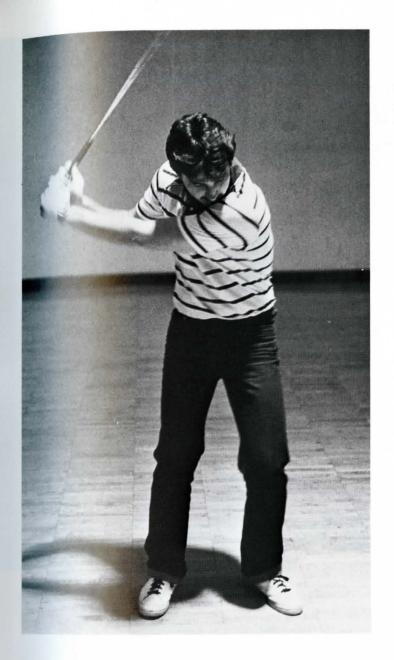

Senior transfer student John Zebroski has been YSU's most consistent performer with an average of 74.2. This qualified him to participate in the NCAA Division II Golf Championships in Davis, California. He then made his season complete by being named the "Player of the Vegr" in the MCC

Gymnastics

Although the Penguins finished 3-6 on the year, two women from the team were chosen to represent YSU in the AIAW Regional Gymnastics Championships on the campus of Northern Michigan at Marquette.

Freshmen Mari Anne Sefcik and Beth Chepke both qualified to compete in the meet, and Mari Anne later went on to win the title.

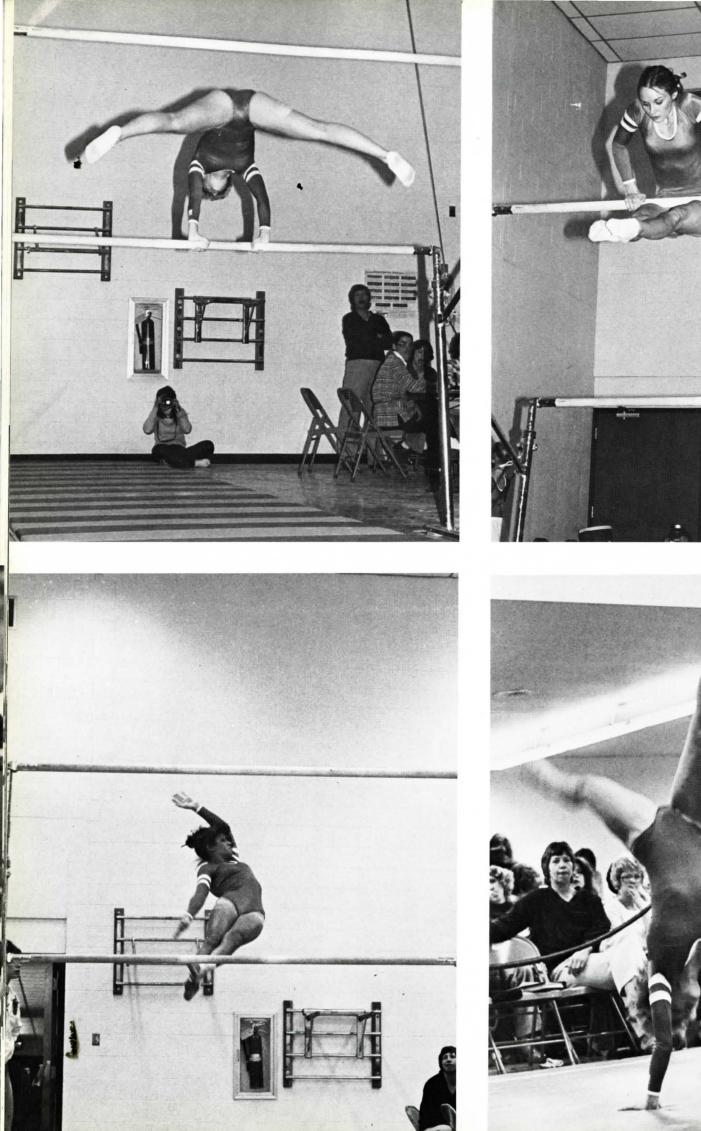

Sefcik and Chepke also have been bright spots for the Penguins in regular season competition. Mari Anne's best performance came at Edinboro State when she took three firsts and a second to lead YSU to a 108-59 win. Mari Anne also was the only YSU woman to place against Kent State. Beth on the other hand, was a consistent performer in the floor exercise. She has won this event three times in this season. Her victories were against Edinboro State, Pitt, and Indiana University (Pa.)

He also feels that the team will continue to improve and that it is still a couple of years away from becoming a real threat.

Three Penguin performers have led the team all season. The first of these players is senior team captain Jill Harmon, the club's top hurler. On the mound this season, Harmon has posted an excellent 11.1 won-lost record, which includes shutout victories over Miami and Mount Union, and a 1.04 earned run average.

Harmon is also a double threat at the plate, as she is the squad second leading hitter, she has clubbed 16 hits in 35 at bats for a .457 batting average. Asked about her team captain coach Noe stated, "Harmon's pitching record speaks for itself. Her maturity and winning attitude has really had a positive effect on the other girls. Jill is an all around team player."

Another senior who has been counted on heavily this season is shortstop Andrea Zbydniewski, last year's most valuable player. Zbydniewski is the fourth-ranked hitter on the squad with a .404 average. However, she tops the Penguins with 20 RBI's and three home runs. Commenting on her star shortstop Noe stated, "Zbydniewski is just starting to play to last season's form. She had to make the transition from third base to short."

The final Penguin who has been counted on is freshman third baseman Lorie Ceremuga. Ceremuga has clouted 18 hits in 44 at bats for a .409 average. She also leads the club with five extra base hits.

Sports

The 1979-80 swim season can best be described as one of marked improvement from last year, and the Penguins are looking toward an even better season next year since none of their members were graduating seniors. The Penguins finished 1-2 on the year. Their solo victory was against Mount Union, while their losses were to Xavier and John Carroll. Leading the Penguins all season has been freshman, and most valuable swimmer, Karen Williams, a product of Austintown Fitch. Her times in both the 100-yard and 200-yard individual medley qualified her to participate in the State Championships, where she finished 17th and 18th respectively.

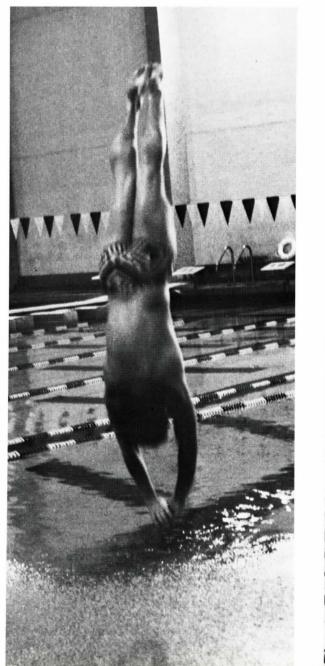

Other top performers include: backstroker, Stephanie Ondich and Tammy Swearinger who swims both the butterfly and freestyle events.

Men's Swimming

It was another winning season for Coach Tucker DiEdwardo and his Penguin swimmers. Freshman Tim Hilk has led the Penguins all year by shattering school records in the distance freestyle events. He then made the season complete by claiming All-American honors in 1,650-yard freestyle at the NCAA Division II Nationals which were hosted by YSU this year.

Three-time All-American and former National Champion, Tom Bosse also featured for YSU by claiming numerous firsts in both the 100 and 200 yard freestyle. In addition, four-time, All-American Doug Shilliday finished the season in fine form as he finished third nationally in the 200 yard butterfly.

Although they lost at the state tournament, the Penguins won the YSU Invitational volleyball tournament by defeating Toledo, Kent, Walsh, and Muskingum College. ### YSU Tennis 1979 MCC Champs

By coming to YSU, first-year tennis coach Steve Edwards inherited a position that may well have been the envy of his fellow coaches. With a team featuring five returning lettermen that posted a 12-3 record last year, expectations were high. "I've inherited an experienced team with a lot of quality players," commented Edwards.

As proof of their experience, the Penguin-netters claimed a first place finish in the YSU Invitational Tennis Classic against top-rate talent from the University of Cincinnati, Temple, Bowling Green, Ohio University, Toledo, Mercyhurst, and California State College. The Penguins then made their season complete by claiming the MCC Crown at the University of Northern Iowa.

Bill Dunn

The team's top performer was Bill Dunn, who was selected as the Mid-Continent Conference's player-of-theyear. The junior from Boardman has been the Penguins number one singles player for the past three years. During that time, he has compiled a personal record of 28-10. Last spring, Dunn came into his own by posting a 15-4 mark in singles play. In addition, he copped the number one singles title in the league against some top flight opposition. He also teamed with teammate Rob Adsit, another junior from Boardman, to capture the conference's number one doubles championship

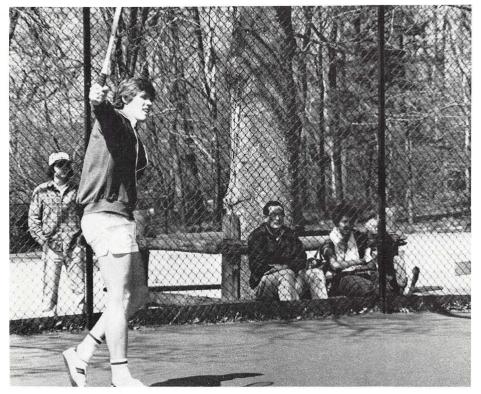

A well-rounded athlete, Dunn has been a solid and consistent performer for YSU through three years of collegiate action. He has been a threat for the Penguins both as a singles and doubles player. As positive proof of his versatility and all-around play, Dunn has compiled a blistering mark of 37-8 in doubles play.

Butch Thomas

Another standout for the team was last year's most valuable player and four-year letterman, Butch Thomas.

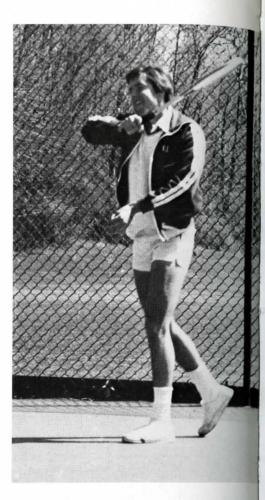

The Chaney High School product has been the Penguins number two singles player for the past four years. His consistency as a competitor is evidenced by his 13.3 mark in singles play. He has also won the singles flight in the YSU Invitational for the past two years and finished as MCC runner up last year. In doubles action, Butch combined

In doubles action, Butch combined with teammate Kurt Kamperman for a three-year record of 32.2. They were also YSU Invitational Champs for the last two years and MCC runner-ups last year.

A versatile athlete, Thomas is noted for his powerful serves and devastating volleys. Last summer, he traveled to Europe to play the European tennis circuit, and has recently won the Valhala Tennis Championships.

Rob Adsit

Playing number four for YSU was junior Rob Adsit from Boardman. During 1979, he compiled an 18-5 singles mark and combined with Bill Dunn to register a 19-4 doubles log. log. He has also won the singles flight in the YSU Invitational and was an MCC singles and doubles champion last year.

Rob's strengths are in his backcourt game and his return of serve. His 1980 season goal is to see the team receive a bid to the National Tournament.

Kurt Kamperman

Playing number five for the Penguins was junior Kurt Kamperman from Austintown. During the last three years, he has compiled a 304 singles log and was MCC Champion in his division last year.

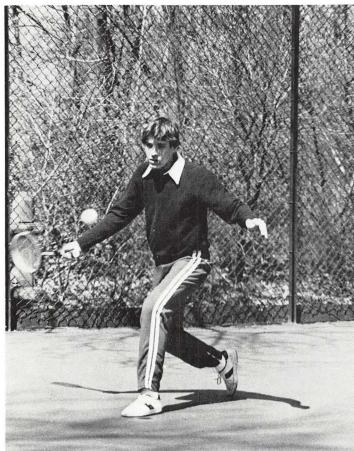

Kurt excells in the sport by playing an aggressive game and hitting a hard serve. He has also played the European Tennis Circuit last summer.

Scott Miller

Playing number six was Scott Miller. His season log was 9.5, and was the 1979 MCC Consolation Champion. He then combined with Brian Hunter to claim the MCC Crown. The newly selected 1980 team is FRONT ROW: Chip Chuey, Mike Fraley, Pierre Tanguay, Dave Thompson. SECOND ROW: Terry Lyden, Rob Adsit, Scott Miller, Dave Hudoba BACK ROW: Kurt Kamperman, Coach Brian Hunter, Bill Dunn, and Advisor, Bob Green.

With four lettermen returning, the outlook for the 1980 tennis team looks good. Bill Dunn, Rob Adsit, Kurt Kamperman, and Scott Miller will provide a good nucleus for this year's squad while outstanding freshmen prospects, Terry Lyden, Pierre Tanguay, Dave Thompson, Mike Fraley and Jeff Sinclair will also contribute to the team's success. Added depth will come from sophomores Dave Hudoba and Chip Chuey.

Coach Brian Hunter

Wrestling

The 1979-80 wrestling season became the most successful in the school's history. A national ranking of 18th in Division II and a final 19-7 record is made even more impressive by the fact that eight of the ten starters were freshmen. The two elder statesmen of the team were senior, Mike Hardy and sophomore, Steve Schneider.

Mike Hardy closed out an outstanding career with his second consecutive 20 victory season despite serious knee and hand injuries which will require post-season surgery. The two-time national qualifiers amassed an impressive total of 45 victories (including 19 plns) in a three year career since transferring from Slippery Rock State College.

Under the leadership of Coach Norm Palovcsik and his assistant, Ken Moser, several individuals turned in exceptional performances throughout the season. The experienced leaders were Hardy, the team captain, and Steve Schneider, who gained victories at three different weight classes during the season. The determined freshmen who formed the nucleus of the team were John Andrews, 134 lbs.; Pete O'Connor, 150 lbs.; Bob Donaldson, 150.158 lbs.; Tim Bowman, 177.190 lbs.; Ken Willsey, Hwt. (team leader with 11 pins); Frank Stewart, 118 lbs.; and Bob Pawlowski, 134 lbs.

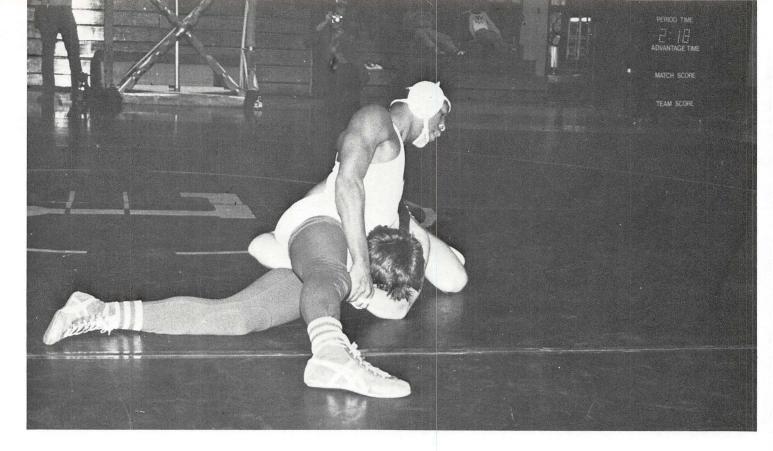

Special recognition must go to freshmen Don Baldwin, 126 lbs., and Jeff Saylor, 158 lbs., who qualified for the Division II National Championships by their outstanding performances at the tough Mid-Continent Conference Tournament.

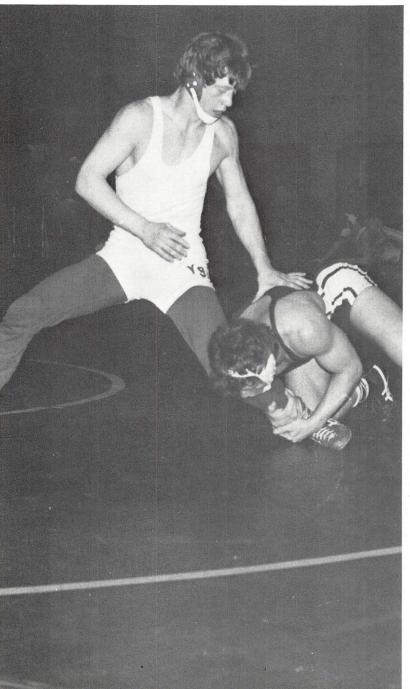

Coach Palovcsik now owns a two year coaching record of 23 victories and 20 losses, but he is not resting on the laurels of turning last year's 4-13 team completely around. He has already begun the extensive recruiting job which he feels is necessary to be able to compete on the Division I level in the 1980-81 season. Given Division I support from the athletic administration, Coach Palovcsik feels certain the wrestling team can be just as competitive in Division I as this year's squad was in the lower division.

Intramurals

Youngstown State University's intramural program offers over 60 different activities for male and female students, faculty, and staff. The program is designed to help meet the physical, social, and recreational needs of the university people. This is accomplished by having many individual, dual, and team sports that help improve sports skills, physical fitness, coordination, and endurance.

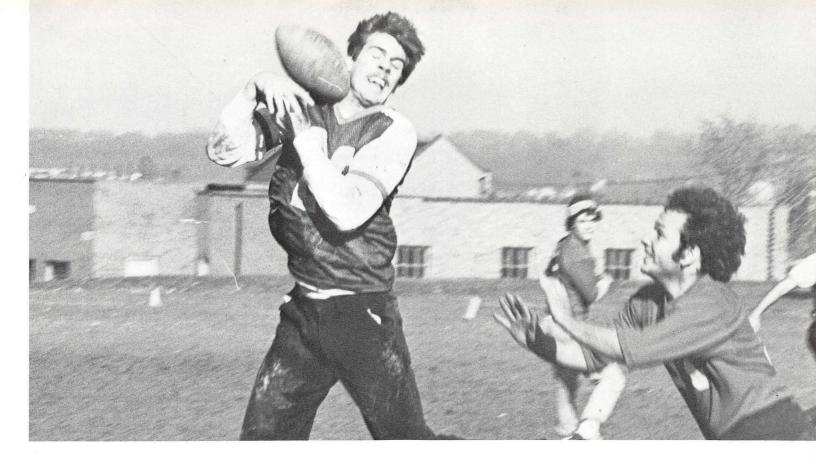

Currently, the Intramural Recreation Department has the largest number of participants of university sponsored activities for students. Last year over 7,000 students participated in approximately 1,800 scheduled contests. It has also sent three intramural champions to extramural tournaments, supported two sports clubs, and sponsored several all-star team invitationals.

every word counts...

Whew!

—Denise Petruzzella, Editor

Twenty-eight hundred copies of the 1980 NEON were printed on enamel paper stock. The cover design was created by Ron Parkonen and silk-screened in four-color with day-glo inks. Special effect color in the opening section was Lasercolor. Headlines in the opening section were set by the staff using 36 pt. Cut-In Medium dry transfer letters. The remaining copy and headlines were printer set in Avante Garde.

Color photographs were made from four by five color transparencies and the majority of the candid photography was taken by Neon staff photographers. Nostalgic photographs were obtained from University Relations Office tiles. Senior photography was done by Abey Studios. The 1980 NEON was printed by Bert Coburn & Associates.
