Subcommittee considers proposals

Studies of General Fee requests continue

by LuWayne K. Tompkins

Requests for 1980-81 General Fee monies are running 9 per cent over last year's budget, according to Dr. Charles McBriarty, associate vice president for student services.

McBriarty, who chairs the Budget Subcommittee on the General Fee, says that while the requested increases from the 14 areas financed by the General Fee are at 9 per cent, the anticipated increase in the General Fee revenue is only 3.5 per cent.

The Subcommittee is currently holding semi-weekly meetings to review the requests submitted by Athletics, Kilcawley, Career Services, Intramural Recreation, Student Government/Council, Special Lecture Series, Marching Band, Spotlight Theatre, Forensics, Graduate Student Association, and the four student publications.

It will be the job of the five students and three administrators on the Subcommittee to examine each budget proposal, and decide how to reduce the 9 per cent request increase down to only a 3.5 per cent budget increase.

"Our goal is to keep the General Fee at its present level," McBriarty explains.

The final proposal is expected to be submitted to YSU President John Coffelt on Friday, Feb. 8.

At the present time, according to McBriarty, no resolutions have been made on any of the budgets. "We have not yet reached any conclusions," McBriarty remarks.

He notes that in the discussions thus far, the Athletic budget has been the "tough one."

In the five meetings of the Subcommittee, it has heard representatives from Athletics, Intramurals and Kilcawley explain their submitted requests and answer questions from Subcommittee members.

"We are not anticipating any more formal presentations," says McBriarty. Any questions concerning the other budget requests will be handled by members of the committee on an individual basis rather than by formal presentations to the full Subcommittee.

McBriarty reports that during Friday's meeting the Subcommittee was presented with a petition bearing 22 signatures encouraging the allocation of more money to the Special Lecture Series and less toward Athletics.

He says all the budgets are examined in order respective to their size and tentative decisions have been made, but the proposal cannot be finalized until all the budget requests have been reviewed.

Senator Meshel to open Black History Month

Opening ceremonies for YSU's Black History Month 1980 will begin at noon, Monday, Feb. 4, Kilcawley Center's Ohio Room with guest speaker Senator Harry Meshel.

Highlighting this year's program are guest lecturers: Tony Brown, executive producer and host for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting's (CPB) show "Black Journal," Dick Gregory, professional comedian, recording artist and author; James Baldwin, spokesperson of the American Negro Revolution and a prominent writer; Nikki Giovanni, "The Princess of Black Poetry."

Conductor Everett Lee, Musical Director and Conductor of the Bogata Philharmonic in Columbia, South America is scheduled to present a lecture and concert. The lecture, co-sponsored by the Youngstown Symphony Society, will be given at 1 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 7, in Room 236, Kilcawley Center. The concert to be conducted by Everett Lee will be held at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 9, in Powers Auditorium. Admission will be $1.75 for YSU students with vouchers. The concert is sponsored solely by the Youngstown Symphony Society.

Black History Week was inaugurated in Feb. 1926 by Dr. Carter G. Woodson, founder of the association for the study of Negro life and history. The national observance has now been expanded to the entire month of February.

The purpose of Black History Month is to focus on the contributions and experiences of Black people. Emphasis is placed on what Black people have thought, said and done in order to correct the myths of the past and prepare a pathway to the future.

Each year, in observance of National Black History Month, YSU's Black Studies Department brings to campus Black spokesmen, scholars and artists who stand at the forefront of contemporary Black expression.

This year's line-up of speakers and programs have been specifically selected to prepare a pathway leading to the future of Black Americans. "Black Image of the 80s: A Claim For True Portrayal" is the selected theme of this year's YSU Black History Month.

Tinkering with the intricate social workings of America can require a surgeon's touch. As a close examiner of "The American Social Projector" (American art, culture, education and mass media) Black History Month forecasts and envisions the American Black Image of the 80s. The entire month-long program's structure considers the past-American Black history and culture.

Cagers break two records in Sat. tilts

Saturday was a record breaking day for both the men's and women's basketball teams.

The men set an NCAA national record as they shot an amazing 81.6 per cent from the floor against Northern Iowa.

Wanda Grant set a new single game scoring record for the women's squad tossing in 18 field goals and two free throws for 38 points against Bowling Green.

For more details on these games see the stories on pages 6 and 7.

Agency representatives to attend Gov't, Social Services Career Day

Students interested in jobs with government and social service agencies will have an opportunity to speak with agent representatives at the second annual Government and Social Service Careers Day, scheduled from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, in Kilcawley Center. Admission is free of charge. YSU's Career Services Office is sponsoring the event which is designed to give job-seekers the opportunity to find out where the jobs are, what preparation is needed, and how to apply. Forty representatives from government departments and social service agencies will be on hand to discuss job opportunities in government administration, social work, counseling, medical service, military and corrections. Tables in the Ohio Room will be arranged in an informal career fair setting to encourage individual discussion with agency representatives.

Application forms for the Professional Administrative Career Exam (PACE), the test required to establish eligibility for many entry level federal government positions, will be available. Jobs filled through this examination are trainee positions leading to higher level professional, administrative and technical jobs.

Most jobs are filled at grade GS-5 which is a starting salary of $11,243 and do not require specialized education or experience.

Those preparing to take the PACE test will find the book How to Prepare for the Professional and Administrative Career

Exam available for use in the Career Services Office. The book will explain the exam and give test tips along with sample questions.

Agency representatives for Careers Day are particularly interested in talking to students majoring in social work, guidance and counseling, business administration, engineering, all health fields, criminal justice, and liberal arts.

The list of agencies attending include NASA Lewis Research Center, the FBI, Youngstown Civil Service, the Jewish Community Center, Gateways/ to Better Living, U.S. Secret Service and Veterans Administration Medical Center.

Applications must be post-marked by Feb. 15 for March and April testing.

Study abroad during summer

Spanish Club offers scholarship

The YSU Spanish Club, Los Buenos Vecinos, is offering a $1000 scholarship for foreign study to an interested student with a Spanish major or minor.

The scholarship is to be used by the recipient to study abroad during the summer of 1980 in a Spanish-speaking country.

This is the thirtieth year the scholarship has been available through the Spanish Club, with a total of 32 scholarships previously awarded.

Students have traveled through Spain, France, Germany, Austria, Mexico and Guatemala in the past.

According to Dr. Margarita W. Metzger, acting advisor during the absence of Dr. Ivania Del Pozo, an applicant is free to study at will once abroad, but must have a proposed project of what he/she intends to accomplish.

She explained that one option is to register in an accredited school where credits can be transferred back to YSU.

In other years, $500 scholarships have been awarded, but because no one applied last year, the scholarship has been doubled.

First year Freshman and graduating Seniors are not eligible to apply.

Applications for the scholarship are available in the Foreign Language Department, Room 501 (Arts and Sciences) or from Dr. George Beelen, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, in the History Department, Room 518 (Arts and Sciences).

Applications are due no later than March 31.

Senior citizen attends YSU classes for lectures, personal satisfaction

by Tim Evans

Most of the students attending YSU have one common goal. To get an education which will enable them to get a job when they graduate.

However one man who does not fit into this group is Edward Manning. Manning is one of many students over 60 who attend the University as part of the Continuing Education program.

Recent legislation now enables Senior Citizens to attend the University tuition free.

Manning was born in Youngstown in 1913. He graduated from Rayen High School in 1933 and worked temporarily for the post office. He then worked for G.F. Business Equipment for 28 years before retiring in 1975.

Manning says that he enrolled at YSU after hearing a lecture by Dr. John R. Loch, Continuing Education, given to a group of retirees at a G.F. Union hall. Manning started to attend classes in the fall of 1976. He has taken history, geology, political science, public speaking and English courses. All of these classes are taken on a non-credit basis.

According to Manning, he is doing it for enrichment, achievement and personal satisfaction. "Being out of school so long I appreciate the fine lectures of my professors," says Manning.

Manning relates that he has always had a special interest in history and political science, and this has led to some interesting research that he has done.

Spending a great deal of time and energy in the Maag Library, Manning has collected a vast amount of information on Ohio's nineteenth Congressional District.

This includes a list of every congressman representing this area from 1803 through the present, along with many records and pictures.

Manning has nothing but praise for the many professors that he has had, saying that he had "talked to students from other schools and I believe that YSU has an excellent staff. They are always available to the students and are willing to help."

Manning spends a great deal of his time writing and reading, especially books recommended by his professors.

When most students are anxiously awaiting the day they can get out of school, Manning says he "will continue as long as I am able to. I enjoy it very much."

Reassessment

Periodic interpretation and assessment of one's activities in relation to intended goals is necessary for the success and effectiveness of every operation. So it is with the Jambar.

As we approach the middle of the academic year we too look back to what we had hoped to accomplish and gaze forward to the remaining weeks of this term.

Improvement in the quality of the newspaper, in content, context, and appearance, has been a primary objective of this year's staff, and one which, thus far, has been adequately accomplished through an effort to adhere to professional standards.

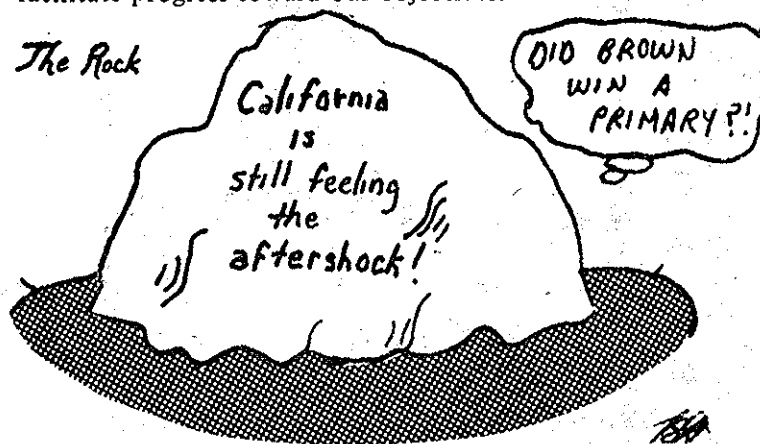

While comprehensive coverage of activities and events on campus has met with less success, primarily because of the limited size of the Jambar staff, the paper has been able to provide insight through faculty interpretations of many events which will ultimately affect the destiny of YSU students: the Iranian crisis, Russian intervention in Afghanistan, etc. Through these, it is hoped that the Jambar has assisted the University in serving its academic function.

The Jambar had also intended to serve as a forum for ideas and opinions. Through editorial page comments and in regular news and feature stories, it has done so, in a very limited sense.

However, a newspaper should serve as a voice for its readers, and in this sense, our "forum" has been severely restricted. At a time when so many events (both on- and off-campus) are directly affecting the future of the student population, it is now more necessary than ever to speak out and be heard. Only through increased student input can the "voice" function of the Jambar be effectively attained.

To summarize, the year has been one of partial success. During the upcoming weeks we will continue our efforts to meet established goals. We have many things to our advantage. Paramount among these is our acquired experience and an increased awareness of our limitations, both individually and collectively. Properly utilized, both will facilitate progress toward our objectives.

Apologizes for problems during film showing

To the Editor of the Jambar:

The film committee of Kilcawley Center Program Board wishes to express their apologies to the audience who viewed the Jan. 24, 4 p.m. showing of Superman in the Chestnut Room. Due to the technical problems (one of the projectors broke down), it made it almost impossible to see the picture clearly.

We would like to thank the audience for their patience and understanding and we hope that they will continue to support the KCPB film series.

Sees economic motivation for draft

To the Editor of the Jambar:

The editorial in last Friday's issue (Jan. 25) of the Jambar aptly introduced an issue which will continue to be an ever-increasing concern for millions of young people.

Janesh's viewpoint will undoubtedly become a crucial point: whether compulsory militarism (soft peddled as "selective service") is an infringement upon the rights of free people or whether the involvement of U.S. forces (populated by an impressed soldiery) in an endless series of senseless exploitive foreign wars is a form of "patriotism."

Carter's newest piece of sabre rattling diplomacy is a proposed registration of young people for the war machine—a supposed show of force for the Soviets.

This is not only an abhorrent measure, it will prove to be highly ineffectual. The Soviets are certain that the U.S. will not engage in conventional warfare, not while the military trump card of thermonuclear war exists.

Draft registration is an economic measure—designed to bolster the sagging industrial/military complex and a means of solving the unemployment problems among the young.

Carter's address, as the editorial suggests, was the groundwork of a declaration of war. Yet it was an overture to the Masters of War who make and sell war. We cannot defend the world against itself even in the name of "National Interest."

In modern warfare, the "host country" loses, the people lose, only the dollar remains victorious. Registration is an anachronism, a feudalistic concept in a modern age, forcing the people of this country to prepare to be the mandatory mercenaries of an Exxon army.

Supports Olympic boycott by U.S.

To the Editor of the Jambar:

When Moscow was selected as the host city for the 1980 Olympics, it meant the Soviet Union had finally arrived as a full-fledged member of the world community, deemed worthy of the honor and glory of showcasing the world's most prestigious event.

In addition to the economic benefits of hosting the games, the Soviet politburo also gained a new double-barrelled weapon, promotion of the Olympics. It is double-barrelled because it would provide a chance for them to impress a prime-time American television audience and it would also enable the propaganda ministry to broadcast to the Soviet people that their government is viewed by the rest of the world as responsible enough to entrust in the government's hands such a peace-promoting event.

Sending a team to the Moscow Olympics would be a slap in the face to the Olympic idea and spirit. How could we even entertain the idea of allowing the Soviet Union to be the presenter of a symbol of peace when their hands drip with Afghan blood?

How too will the propaganda ministry explain to the Soviet people why the rival American athletes aren't present? The Soviet people aren't stupid and could probably discern the truth out of any government explanation of the American absence, an absence which would have profound effects on Soviet prestige and admittedly on international athletic competition.

But international competition in politics as is war and we can no longer naively conduct business as usual on the politics of the Olympics while the politics of war originate from the same city.

An Olympic boycott is an effective medium for expressing our concern for the sovereignty of the people of Afghanistan and our distaste of the Russian bear, Misha.

Student Council still fighting to establish YSU day-care center

by Rhonda Jacobs

The day-care center is not a dead issue with Student Government claims Ray Nakley, senior A & S.

Nakley, Secretary of External Student Affairs, reported yesterday at Student Council's meeting that $163,000 has been appropriated to YSU to remodel Disciple House, located at the corner of Wick Avenue and Spring Street.

The Senate has granted the money, which must be used specifically for some sort of day care facility, however Council must find a way to pay for the upkeep of the project.

Student Government President Tony Koury, junior, A&S, added "We're working very hard on it. We are trying to get an impact to get the program going."

Under the Council Chairperson Bob Wasko's report, a dinner and discussion session with President John Coffelt was announced. The dinner for Council members is to be held at the President's home on Friday, Feb. 22.

Karen Snyder, sophomore, Business, will be replacing Renee Cambiar on the trip to the Washington Conference, Jan. 31-Feb. 3. Council allocated another $100 to the previous $1100. Also, the group is sending one other member to the conference to act as secretary to Koury, at no extra cost to Council.

Michael Anderson, member of Council, recommended a referendum that would permit students to decide how the General Fee is allotted. He needs 5 per cent of the student body to support the issue which would then be presented to the Elections Committee of Council and then be put on ballot before students.

In other news, Council has allocated $50 from the Speakers Fund to the Geological Society to ask Dr. William Cook to be their guest on Feb. 7, and $100 to Phi Mu Alpha, a music fraternity, to have as their speaker, Paul Collin, nationally known saxophonist, on Feb. 29.

The Special Projects Committee has located typewriters in the Physical Plant Warehouse and plans to secure them before the auction which takes place each quarter. Spokesperson for the

by Ron Anderson

Before the YSU men's basketball team embarked on its recent road trip head coach Dom Rosselli stated, "If we can split the two games the trip will be a success."

Well, the Penguins did just that as they lost to Northern Michigan on Thursday, and beat Northern Iowa on Saturday.

The split now leaves the season's record for YSU at an impressive 14-2.

In Thursday night's contest against Northern Michigan the Penguins found themselves on the short end of a 90-69 score after playing their worst game of the year. The weather wasn't the only thing that was cold, as the Penguins could only hit 45 per cent of their shots from the field, and found themselves trailing by as much as 31 points in the second half.

YSU was also frigid in the rebounding department. The loss of an injured Mitch Atwood was felt in 45 to 20 Northern Michigan dominance of the boards.

The only heat in the game for the Penguins was provided by their sophomore scoring ace Dave Zeigler. "Z" canned 37 points on 14 out of 22 from the floor and nine of ten from the line. Bruce Alexander was the only other YSU player in double figures. He added 12 points.

Evidence of the off-shooting night for the Penguins came in the person of senior forward Steve Miodrag who was held scoreless for the game.

Starring for Northern was 6-7 sophomore Eric Posey, a former stand-out at Youngstown North High. Posey scored 21 points and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Saturday night in Cedar Falls,

Iowa was another story with the Penguins setting what is believed to be an NCAA record by hitting 81.6 per cent of their shots from the field (31 of 38) in upending Northern Iowa, 72-69.

The mark betters the old record of Fresno State who canned 34 of 42 shots against Portland State in 1977 for 81.0 per cent.

In a turnaround from Thursday's game, YSU built an early 6-0 advantage never trailing in the game. They increased their lead to 10-2, then to 26-12 and finally to a 35-30 halftime advantage.

The second half was a little closer as the 10-point YSU margin whittled down to two points at one time, but four free throws by freshman Shawn Burns, and the front end of a one-and-one by Alexander iced the game for the Penguins.

As is becoming customary, Zeigler led all scorers again, tossing in 27 points. Dave also had a pair of steals.

Burns had his finest game of his freshman year as he tossed in 17 points as the Penguins number two scorer.

Alexander hit for 11 points and Steve Miodrag added 10 to round out the Penguins in double figures.

The only other Penguin to score in the contest was Mitch Atwood who chipped in with seven points. This was an encouraging performance for Mitch who missed two games in a row because of a back injury. Atwood played well as his nine rebounds led all players from both teams.

YSU now returns home to Beeghly Center to begin the home portion of their Mid-Continent Conference schedule.

Thursday night the Penguins play host to the Panthers of Eastern Illinois, who were the favored team in the conference at the beginning of the season.

Saturday night the Fighting Leathernecks of Western Illinois invade Beeghly Center.

Both games have scheduled starting times of 8 p.m. At the Eastern Illinois game, the first 1,500 fans will receive a YSU scream machine.

YSU takes down Baldwin Wallace Matmen split triangular at Wright

by Tina Ketchum

Now boasting an 11-5 record, the YSU matmen will take a breather this week after having played host to Baldwin-Wallace on Thursday and traveled to Wright State on Saturday.

Rolling in victory number ten, the Penguins defeated the guests from Baldwin-Wallace with an impressive 36-5 score.

Penguin mentor Norm Palovick commented, "It's an impressive score. This team beat us last year, but Baldwin-Wallace was not in good shape. We were the better team, and we're still improving."

Two pins were registered by the Penguin grapplers. Freshman Tim Bowman (177) pinned his foe in 4:43, while freshman heavy-weight Ken Willsey took only 2:46 to do the same. Winning by decisions for YSU were Don Baldwin, John Andrews, Mike Hardy, Pete O'Conner and Steve Schneider. Frank Stewart won by picking up a forfeit in the first match of the evening.

YSU split a pair of matches Saturday, defeating Wright State, 25-12, but falling to a 27-0 shutout by Tennessee-Chattanooga. Wright State was also smashed by Tennessee-Chattanooga with a 42-0 score.

Winning for YSU in the bout with Wright State were Stewart, Baldwin, Andrews, O'Conner, Jeff Saylor, Schneider, and Willsey.

The next dual meet for the YSU squad will be Friday, Feb. 8 when they play host to Central State. The following day, Saturday, Feb. 9, the Penguin grapplers travel to Bowling Green State University for another dual.

Junior Wanda Grant led the Penguins once again by sinking 38 points and smashing YSU women's basketball single-game scoring record. Grant also broke her previous game high of 33.

Vicki Lawrence, junior, picked up 13 points, followed by freshman Barb Nick's addition of seven.

The female Penguins will again go into action when they travel to Ashland College this Thursday and then head for the University of Toledo on Saturday. The next home game for the YSU five will be Wednesday, Feb. 6 with the University of Akron as guests.

group, Bill Buchman, sophomore, Engineering, said they will attempt to get the typewriters to the library, but first they need to get a maintenance fund established.

Buchman also introduced Frank Squillo, sophomore, F&PA, and Dr. Alfred Owens of the F&PA, who are working on the format of the "Kilcawley Connection," an entertainment list of student events.

A sample tape of the program was played at the meeting and, according to Buchman, should be aired in Kilcawley in a few weeks. (The Telecommunications department is in the process of moving their equipment). The tape is divided into three segments, Kilcawley Center, campus, and Greek organizations news. The recording will last from five to eight minutes.

The Election Committee plans to have two spots for students to campaign in and vote at this year's Council/Government elections. The locations are in Kilcawley Center and the lobby of Maag Library.

Swim team suffers at home Bosse, Hilk score individual wins

by Melinda Ropar

The YSU swim team suffered a 62-51 setback at the hands of Clarion State College Saturday in a home contest, resulting in the Penguin's record falling to 3-3 while Clarion's climbing to 4-1. "We swam very well, but not well enough to win," commented coach Tucker DiEdwardo. "We had some injured members on the team, and a couple of performances weren't up to par," he added.

Tom Bosse and Tim Hilk paced the Penguins by each claiming double individual first place victories.

Bosse won the 100-yard freestyle in 48.00 and the 200-yard freestyle in 1:47.04, while Hilk swam to victory in the 500-yard freestyle in 4:50.29 and the 1000-yard freestyle in 10:00.11.

Both Bosse and Hilk also teamed with Jeff Weller and Todd Spencer to win the 400-yard freestyle medley relay in 3:15.21.

Dov Nisman also added a first place finish by taking the 200-yard individual medley in 2:01.63

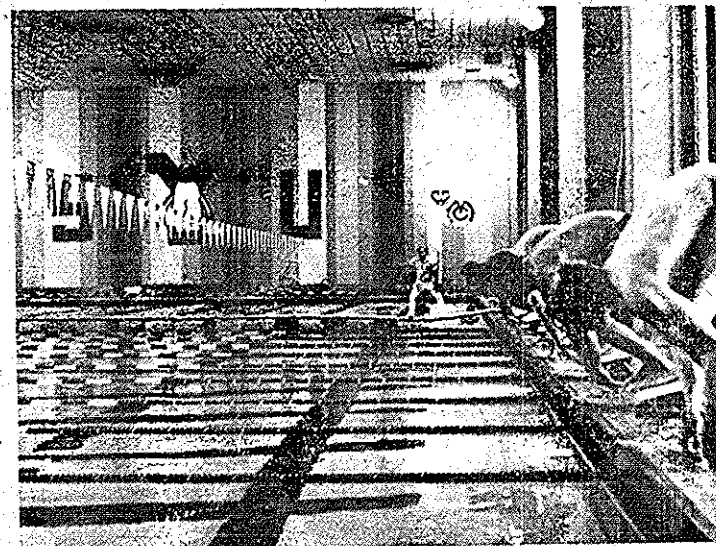

He also placed second in the 200-yard butterfly and in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Other second place finishers were Spencer in the 200-yard backstroke and Lee Brown in both the one and three meter diving events.

Third place finishers include Greg Stokes, Chris Swan, and Spencer, while Greg Lecue and Joe Cunningham took fourths.

The Penguins will be traveling to Division I power Cleveland State University on Feb. 1. DiEdwardo says he feels that CSU "will feature a number of fine swimmers, and provide an exciting meet."
