Outlook remains bleak for engineering classes

by Timothy Fitzpatrick

A meeting of the electrical engineering faculty last week revealed that those engineering students who protested the lack of necessary summer classes are out of luck until at least fall quarter.

The disgruntled students, all juniors in engineering, gathered last Monday outside the office of Dr. Leon Rand, acting academic vice president, complaining that approximately 72 students needed to take two classes which are limited to 20 students and offered only in the summer quarter. Rand explained to the students at the protest that the scarcity of classes is caused by the loss of two instructors in engineering who had not yet been replaced.

In a letter to Rand, Dean of Engineering, George E. Sutton, wrote that he had consulted with the engineering faculty concerning the problem and had suggested that limited service faculty be allowed to teach the necessary classes.

Their response, according to the letter, was "an absolute refusal to accept this solution."

The letter was turned into the Jambor office by two engineering students who refused to identify themselves or the method by which they had come by the letter.

Sutton further disclosed in the letter that "The consensus (of the faculty meeting) was that I (Sutton) had created the problem by reallocating funds from electrical engineering to other departments for summer offerings when, in fact, the monies belong to the electrical engineering department."

Sutton went on to write that he did not foresee the needed classes being offered until at least fall quarter explaining that he would attempt to fill the two vacant teaching positions in the school as quickly as possible.

Group to present play on alienation by English prof

A dramatic reading of The Rub, a play by Dr. Stephen Sniderman, professor, English, will be presented at 5:40 p.m., Thursday, in the Arts and Science Lecture Hall.

The reading of the play, which is centered on a man alienating both his father and son, will take about 45 minutes and will be followed by an informal discussion on the issues raised in the play.

Sniderman wrote The Rub about four years ago and it has recently been performed at the Unitarian Church. The Rub is one of four plays that he has written.

Sniderman has been trying to get his plays published but has thus far not been successful. He is also currently trying to obtain a grant from the Ohio Program In The Humanities to get the plays performed locally.

The play is being read as a part of Lorraine Baird's "Humanistic Perspectives on Medicine" class, but is free and open to the public.

Readers for the performers include Gary Solomonson, graduate, English, Michael Bertin, Freshman, F&PA, Maxine Owen, Howland teacher, and Jackson Moody, Youngstown Playhouse veteran.

For further information call Lorraine Y. Baird at 742-3426.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CANDIDATES

Edmund Salata Jr. will run unopposed for Student Government President in the upcoming May 20 and 21 elections according to John Lynch, chairperson of Council's elections committee.

Lynch announced yesterday the names of candidates for Student Government president and vice president, and for academic senators. All individuals interested in running for one of the offices were to have submitted a petition declaring their candidacy to the Student Government offices by 4:00 p.m. yesterday.

Salata's running mate is Karen Snyder, junior, CAST, current secretary of Student Government.

Candidates for the five vacant representative-at-large positions in the Academic Senate are: Edward Menaldi, senior, F&PA; Raymond Nakley Jr., senior, A&S; and Harlan Siegel, junior A&S.

Six positions, on the Senate, one for each University school, are also open. However, only two individuals, James Horton, Jr., senior, CAST and John Yemma, Jr., A&S, have applied.

A meeting to determine the order in which names will appear on the ballot will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 7.

YSU women's team captures third softball championship

by Tina Ketchum

They say "diamonds are a girl's best friend," and that saying certainly fits the YSU women's softball team.

For the third year in a row, the Penguins have walked off the softball diamonds as state champions, but this is just the first fast-pitch title for YSU.

YSU started the OASW Division I state tournament with an 11-10 come-from-behind win over Cleveland State Friday morning.

The Penguins went into the sixth inning down 10-3, but picked up seven runs in the inning to tie the score.

A grand slam homer by Lori Ceremuga was the highlight of the inning followed back-to-back by a single hit over the fence from Linda Sikora.

Ceremuga led off the eighth with a single and then Sikora hit a triple to bring in Ceremuga with the winning run.

Lesli Ingram came in on relief of Vicki Lawrence, who gave up the 10 runs, and was the winner from the mound. Ingram pitched three solid innings of shut-out relief.

In the second tourney game, YSU was matched with number two seeded Miami University, and came out on top with a close 2-1 finish.

Lawrence picked up another pitching win by allowing only five scattered hits.

Sikora paced YSU from the plate with three hits.

Then it was on to the semifinals against Bowling Green State University, where the Penguins (Cont. on page 7)

Fellowship group endures hunger during 30-hour 'Planned Famine'

by Linda M. Dohar

From noon on May 9 until 6 p.m. the next day, approximately 15 people from YSU's Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship group will be experiencing what 500 million people live with each day-hunger.

Debbie Kurtz, publicity leader of the group, explained that this 30-hour fast is a 'Planned Famine' sponsored by World Vision International. World Vision is an interdenominational Christian humanitarian agency supporting a number of hunger-related relief and development programs. The 'Planned Famine' has a two-fold purpose, Kurtz said.

First, the inter- varsity youth participating in the program plan to stay together during the fast so that they can share the experience of feeling hungry, Kurtz said. During this time, they will also learn why world hunger exists and what they can do about it.

Kurtz said that lifestyles, population and the energy crisis are just a few of the many factors contributing to hunger. The inter- varsity youth will learn about these factors during the 'Planned Famine' and discuss how they can be part of the long-range solution.

Kurtz said that the second reason for the 'Planned Famine' is to collect money and involve others. The inter- varsity youth will each contribute $6 of their own money-$2 for each meal missed-to participate in the program. They will seek out famine supporters to contribute $6 donations.

Kurtz added that the participants will ask their supporters to read a fact sheet on hunger and to give up a meal so that they also can be actively involved in the program.

The money collected during the 'Planned Famine' will be dispersed in three ways, Kurtz noted. Half of the money will be channeled through World Vision International to help hungry persons in two dozen Latin American, Asian and African countries.

One fourth of the money will go to a boy in India. The inter- varsity youth sponsor this boy's education along with paying for his food and clothing, Kurtz added.

The rest of the money will go to Cathedral Out-Reach in Youngstown.

Last year the group collected over $500 with approximately 100 sponsors, Kurtz said. She added that she hopes her group can collect at least that much this year.

Individuals interested in learning more about the 'Planned Famine' program, or in helping the group meet their goal, should call Debbie Kurtz at 746-4897.

Season ends with historical play

Spotlight presents Bolt drama

YSU's Spotlight Theatre will present Robert Bolt's A Man For All Seasons at 8 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, May 7-10 in Bliss Hall, Ford Auditorium.

A Man For All Seasons won numerous theatre awards and critical praise when it first opened on Broadway in a very long and successful run.

The drama, true to historical fact, concerns Sir Thomas More, Lord Chancellor of England, during the reign of Henry VIII. Specifically, the plot deals with episodes surrounding Henry's desire to divorce Catherine of Aragon in order to marry Ann Boleyn. Sir Thomas More aligned himself with the Pope in Rome and refused to sign the Act of Supremacy that would establish King Henry as the spiritual and emporal leader of the Church in England. The King was supported by Thomas Cromwell, Cardinal Wolsey, the Duke of Norfolk, and Sir Thomas Cranmer, the Archbishop of Canterbury.

YSU cast members include: Gary Solomonson, Sir Thomas More, graduate, Phillip Gentile, Thomas Cromwell, seniors A&S, Robert Phillips, The Duke of Norfolk, senior, F&PA; Jim Tisdale, Henry VIII, freshman, Business; Robert Dubec, Cardinal Wolsey, junior, F&PA.

Dr. William G. Hulsopple, speech communication and theatre, is the director for A Man For All Seasons. He is marking his tenth year of service and his fiftieth production at the University. Assisting Hulsopple is Robert Mortz, a former Spotlight Theatre performer and YSU graduate.

The unit setting for the show was designed by Frank Castrovano, speech communication and theatre, and Spotlight's designer and technical director.

Costumes for the production were coordinated by Nan L. Stephenson, speech communication and theatre.

Tickets for A Man For All Seasons are available at the box office in Bliss Hall between 12:45 and 4:30 p.m. on weekdays or until the curtain time on the evenings of the performances.

Additional information and reservations are available by calling the College of Fine and Performing Arts, theatre box office: 743-3634.

Internal casualties

The significant tenth anniversary of the May 4th slayings of four Kent State University students, comes at a fitting and highly appropriate time: the end of a relatively tranquil decade and the commencing of another, which promises to be marred by the turmoil of military conflict.

For many, the Kent State deaths marked the beginning of the end of the violent protests which plagued the 60s. That end was greeted with mixed emotions by most—feelings of relief were tinged by a sadness accompanying the demise of an era of social consciousness.

Now, the tenth anniversary of the Kent State tragedy serves to remind the nation of the internal casualties to be suffered should the impending military crisis become a reality. Regardless of whether one favors or opposes the use of military force in Afghanistan or Iran, potential internal consequences of such action cannot be ignored.

The events at Kent State 10 years ago are symbolic of the increased alienation of the people of this country, which results when any issue becomes polarized, and especially when military action is considered as a viable response to it.

Such alienation comes at a time when it is essential to unite and work together towards peaceful solutions to the problems which now confront us.

Alienation often leads to violence and ultimately to tragedy.

The United States still carries the scars of the Vietnam War and the tumultuous events of the 60s and early 70s. As the nation confronts the current dilemmas now before it, it is imperative to recall Kent State and to ask if the people of this country are willing to suffer and accept the violence and personal tragedy of internal alienation, in addition to the casualties of military action abroad.

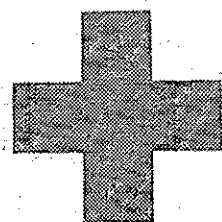

Just as Kent State marked an end to a turbulent period, its 10 year anniversary may eventually be viewed as having greeted the beginning of an equally violent and tragic decade.

Program provides psychiatric care

YHA seeks student volunteers

by Linda M. Dohar

Are you preparing for a career in clinical psychology or social work? Are you interested in on-the-job training?

Arlene Brewster, unit therapy program supervisor, is seeking YSU volunteers for the Youth Services Unit of the Youngstown Hospital Association (YHA).

The Youth Services Unit is a specialized program of the YHA designed to provide short-term intensive psychiatric treatment, Brewster noted.

The program services children who are 6 through 17 years old with severe depression. Out-patient facilities are no longer adequate care for these children and a 24-hour service is necessary. Children are referred to the unit by mental agencies and private practitioners.

The Youth Services Unit opened the end of February and has a total capacity of 20 beds with 15 now filled, Brewster continued. The target population of the unit resides in a four county area, Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula and Columbiana counties, in Northeastern Ohio, Brewster said. The unit is located in the North Unit of the Tod Babies and Children's Hospital on Gypsy Lane.

As an inpatient, Brewster explained, the child participates in a living-learning environment. Individuals attend school at the unit with off-campus activities such as gym class at the Jewish Community Center. Children also participate in individual, group and family therapy.

Brewster said that the purpose of this 24-hour service is "to take individuals through the severe, acute part of their crisis." A normal stay at the unit is 6-8 weeks. Brewster said that the main goal of the program is to reintegrate these children back into the community.

"Some children will not be able to be reintegrated and must go into group homes," Brewster noted.

Brewster is now looking for volunteers to help with various activities.

"What we can provide for volunteers is exposure to this field," Brewster said. Volunteers will assist in educational programs, instructional activities, in group management and in other activities.

Brewster said she wants YSU students who have completed two years of college. At present, five to six volunteers are needed. They will be required to complete a three hour orientation program.

By next fall, Brewster said she hopes that a formal internship can be formulated with the University. Such a program can offer clinical credit to students.

If individuals are interested in volunteering for work at the Youth Services Unit, contact Irene Rabiega at 747-1431, extension 3184. She will set up an appointment with Arlene Brewster.

Baseball team derailed by latest opponents in weekend twinbills

by Ron Anderson

In the past four days the YSU baseball team went through one of its tougher stretches as the Penguins played doubleheaders against Pitt/Johnstown, Akron and Slippery Rock State College, and could manage only one victory against five losses.

The Penguins came away with 3-1 victory in the first game of Friday's doubleheader against Pitt/Johnstown played at Canfield High School.

Bob Moliterno drew the starting assignment for YSU and responded with one of the finest pitching performances of the season going the distance, scattering four hits and allowing only one run while striking out five and walking only two in his seven-inning victory.

While the YSU offense could get only four hits of their own, they made them count in the 3-1 win.

John Luklan had the hot bat for the Penguins going 2-for-2 and scoring the winning run on a fielder's choice in the bottom of the sixth.

In the nightcap of the doubleheader with Pitt/Johnstown the Penguins' bats were smoking and the breaks were going with YSU as they rolled up a 10-2 win.

Glenn Head started for the Penguins and went three innings before leaving the game. Head allowed one run on four hits while striking out five and not walking a batter.

Bob Haseley relieved in the fourth inning, allowed only one hit and picked up the win.

Randy Cameron finished the last three frames, allowing six hits and one run.

John Luklan once again had the hot bat turning in a 2-for-3 game with a pair of runs scored. Lucklan also drove in four runs with one swing of the bat by hitting a grand slam homer in the third to put the game out of reach.

The Penguins traveled to Akron and lost both ends of a doubleheader to the Zips by one-run margins.

In the first game Akron jumped on YSU for three runs in the first inning and then didn't score again until the bottom of the sixth when they broke a 3-3 tie with a pair of runs.

YSU could score only once in the seventh, and Akron came away with a 5-4 win.

Lee Rudibaugh started and went only one inning for the Penguins before being relieved by Randy Cameron. Cameron pitched better than four innings and was tagged for the loss. Bob Haseley finished the game on the mound for YSU.

Mike Nittoli once again had the hot bat for YSU, going 3-for-4 with a run batted in.

In the nightcap at Akron the Penguins scored twice in the top of the seventh, falling just short of victory in a 4-3 Akron win.

Mark Schlarb started and went the distance for the Penguins. Schlarb allowed four runs, of which only two were earned, on six hits while striking out four and walking three.

Yesterday's doubleheader will definitely fall into the file-and-forget category, as Slippery Rock scored eight times in the seventh inning of each game for 13-7 and 12-10 victories.

In the first game the score was tied at 5-5 after six innings before the eight-run Slippery (Cont. on page 7)

YSU netters edge Akron; Dunn qualifies for nationals

by Melinda Ropar

The YSU tennis team collected their eighth victory of the season Friday by edging the University of Akron with a 5-4 margin.

Rob Adsit paced the Penguins by collecting both singles and doubles wins in his first match at the number four spot. He defeated Julian Gutierrez 6-2, 6-3 in his singles match and then combined with Terry Lyden to post a 6-3, 6-0 doubles win. Pierre Tanguay also featured for YSU by defeating Mark Davis 6-2, 5-7, 6-2 in singles and then teamed with Mike Fraley to register a 6-4, 6-7, 7-5 doubles win.

In other singles action, Kurt Kamperman easily disposed of his opponent 7-5, 6-2, while losses came at the hands of Bill Dunn (3-6, 2-6), Terry Lyden (5-7, 2-6), and Mike Fraley (4-6, 2-6).

Although Dunn and Kamperman lost their doubles match 6-7, 3-6, were still pleased because they received a bid to compete in the NCAA Division II National Championships to be held May 15-18 at Southern Illinois University.

Dunn also qualified to compete in singles competition.

The Penguins will return to action on Wednesday against Cleveland State at Hubbard Racquet Club. Their record now stands at 8-3 or the year.

YSU places second in Ashland tourney Dean, Sedlacko star

by Bob Gugliotti

The YSU golfers continued their consistent play down the stretch, by compiling a second place finish in the Ashland College Invitational held Thursday.

The Penguins trailed only the team champion, rival Akron, by five strokes in the tournament, which had been postponed in early April.

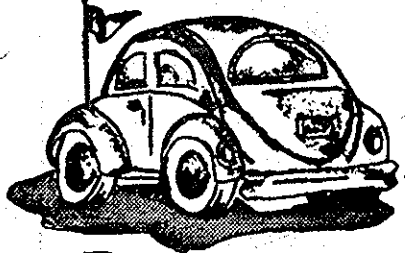

YSU carded a 392 score, with Don Dean and Ron Sedlacko pacing the Penguin attack with rounds of 76. Others contributing were Rick Jones and Mike Kowalczyk with 79s, Fred Gintert an 82, and Joe Costanzo, 86.

The Penguins will travel to Macomb, Ill. to compete in the two-day Mid-Continent Conference Championship tourney at Western Illinois this Friday and Saturday. The cumulative scores of both days' rounds will determine the conference's individual medalist and team champion for 1980.

guins downed BGSU with a 4-1 score.

Donna Tinkey cracked a two-run single in the third and as it turned out, it was the game winning smack.

Lawrence had a superb day on the mound. She gave up no earned runs and there were no Bowling Green runners to advance past second after the first inning.

The Penguins then declared themselves state champions, again, by winning the final game against BGSU, 4-3.

In the top of the seventh,

Tinkey led off with a single. After one out, Ceremuga then smacked another single, advancing Tinkey to second.

Sikora brought Tinkey across home plate with the winning run, after picking up a single.

BGSU scored two in the bottom of the seventh and had a runner at second before any outs were made.

Lawrence then buckled down and got three outs in a row, raising her mound record to 9-3 and YSU's mark to 14-4.

Ronie Prince, Denise Schwab, and Sikora each were credited with an RBI in the game.

Head coach Bill Wolf, in his first year at YSU, was quite pleased with his team's output.

"It was a total team effort with everyone contributing," stated Wolf. "After seeing that Ohio State and Miami were out of it, we felt, 'we're as good as anyone here.'"

Lawrence, by pitching all four games, was honored as the Most Valuable Player of the tournament. Linda Papagna was also named to the All-Tournament Team for YSU.

Coach Wolf and his squad are now anxiously waiting to face number two seeded Illinois State in the Mid-West Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women this Thursday at Western Illinois University with game time set at 1 p.m.

If the Penguins win this game, they will be matched against the winner of the Western Michigan and Ball State game at 6 p.m.

Rock outburst.

Dave Baker, Rick Coles and Bob Moliterno pitched for the Penguins, collectively allowing 13 runs on 11 hits while striking out five and walking six.

The Penguin defense, which was to have more than its share of troubles yesterday, committed four errors in the first game.

Leading the YSU hitting attack was Joe Iacobucci with a 3-for-4 effort.

In the second game lightning struck twice in the same place as YSU held a 10-4 advantage at the end of six innings, only to witness another eight-run onslaught by Slippery Rock in the seventh, and a 12-10 loss.

George Vukovich, Joe Scavelli, Mark Mozinski and Randy Cameron all saw duty on the mound for YSU with the Penguins giving up 12 runs on 11 hits with six strikeouts and seven walks.

Defensive problems carried over to the second game when YSU committed a total of five errors.

Leading the YSU hitters was John Hogan. Hogan, a senior catcher, was 3-for-4 with a single, double, homer and three runs batted in.

The Penguins hitting attack accounted for 10 runs on 15 hits for the game. All totaled, YSU scored 17 runs on 28 hits for the doubleheader.

The action over the weekend has now seen the Penguins' record drop to 9-12 for the season, with roughly three weeks left to go.

Today the Penguins travel to Clarion State College for a doubleheader.
