2. November 4 is the deadline for submitting course proposals to the General Education Committee for consideration for the 2023-2024 catalog. However, considering the ongoing review and revision of YSU's current general education model, the General Education Committee strongly recommends all programs consider the implications of submitting new general education course proposals before the November 4 deadline. We strongly urge all departments to consider a pause on submissions of new course proposals for inclusion in the current general education model until the new model is either finalized or a date for new course proposals has been announced.

Adam Earnhardt, Chair, General Education Committee (2022-2023)
