Students to face parking squeeze as decks go up

Even with the addition of a new parking area on Grant Street, there are still 400 less parking spaces for students on university lots this quarter than last year, Mr. Phillip E. Rogers, assistant to the vice-president of financial affairs, said yesterday.

According to Rogers, the 2,130 parking spaces now available are 400 less than the number of spaces available last spring due to the space required for the construction of the new student parking decks. Once completed, the decks will provide spaces for 1,250 additional cars. The new decks were to be completed fall quarter but were delayed 83 days because of the operating engineers strike. They are expected to be completed in mid-January, however a warm weather welding requirement may further delay them.

The new parking area, which can accommodate 175 cars, is located across Grant Street from the rear of Elm Street School.

Rogers said that the addition of this new lot is only part of the program for fulfilling the university's goal of being able to provide parking space for all students.

He also said that parking rates should go down when more spaces become available because more parking stickers sold at a lower price would still provide a higher income than the university now receives from the sale of the stickers. Rogers added that the university makes no

Outdoor concert, tea welcome new freshmen

An outdoor concert will be held to welcome YSU's new freshmen today from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Kilcawley Amphitheater, and there will be a tea for freshmen women from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Mike Duquin, chairman of the activities committee on student council, said yesterday.

The concert will feature Hot Apple Pie, Willus the Zipper, Queen, His Majesty's Voice and Mainstreet. In case of bad weather, the bands will play Friday night, starting at 8 p.m. in the university cafeteria.

WELCOME TO YSU - Gary Skubick, a freshman speech major, is seen moving into Kilcawley dorm. Skubick is one of several thousand freshmen entering YSU this fall. See p. 7 for a story on fall enrollment and the financial problems related to it.

Although the events are aimed at the new freshmen, all students will be admitted with their university I.D.'s.

The tea for freshmen women will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in Pollock House. Welcoming the new girls will be the Committee on Women, headed by Dean Edith Painter and including 17 women faculty members.

Helping with the tea, which is sponsored by student council, are the Gamma Sigma service sorority and the Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority.

Expansion to cause many relocations

Six campus buildings will be torn down during the current academic year according to a report delivered to the faculty last Saturday morning by Dr. John J. Coffelt, vice-president for administrative affairs.

Dr. Coffelt said the buildings must be removed to allow for expansion of the university. The six buildings are East Hall, Central Hall, West Hall, the bookstore building, Ford Hall, and the Jambar building.

The university is also losing the use of the third floor of the Rayen Building. The total loss in floor space is about 40,000 square feet or about 10% of the university's available space.

To accommodate the bookstore, an 8,000 square foot building on the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Grant Street has been leased for three years, and the bookstore will be moved as soon as possible after the period of heavy book sales is over and unpurchased and unused books are returned.

According to George Connor, bookstore director, tentative plans call for open shelves except during rush periods at the beginning of quarters.

After the bookstore has been moved, the bookstore building will be relocated at the present site of the Jambar Building following the demolition of the Jambar Building. After relocation the bookstore building will house the band on the first floor and the Central Service print shop in the basement.

Tentative plans are for the Jambar to relocate in a recently purchased house further north on Bryson Street sharing space with the Dana School of Music.

The Post Office and remaining portion of Central Services will be moved into the basement of Tod Hall after the athletic department offices are moved into the new Health and Physical Education building. The health offices will be moved when the new H & PE building is opened, probably in spring quarter.

The university has also leased a two-story building at 19 Lincoln Avenue, south of Jones Hall. Financial Aids, Personnel, and Student Placement will be relocated in this building.

When Ford Hall must be razed, the Counseling Center will Decision pending in Poddar case; OEA claims breach of confidence

While a decision is pending in the court-ordered hearing of the reasons for the non-renewal of the contract of Dr. Bhagwati P. K. Poddar, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, the YSU chapter of the OEA has made charges of violation of confidentiality in the administration's handling of the case.

The open hearing took place September 15 and 16. Dr. Poddar and four senior members of the department of sociology and anthropology testified. The hearing centered on Dr. Poddar's protest of the university's promotion and salary policies.

The Hearing Officer, Atty. Stanley M. Fisher, said he is now waiting for final briefs by YSU's and Dr. Poddar's attorneys. The briefs will cite legal authorities and precedents in the case. Mr. Fisher, a member of the American Arbitration Association, was appointed Hearing Officer by U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. Battisti.

The Executive Committee of the YSU Ohio Education Association charged in a letter to faculty that YSU breached student-professor confidentiality when university attorneys read letters of recommendation that Dr. Poddar had written for two students into the hearing record.

Dr. James W. Kiriazis, chairman of sociology and anthropology, said yesterday he did not know the letters were introduced until he had read the OEA letter. (Dr. Kiriazis and the other senior members were present only when testifying.) Dr.

'Jambar' 1st class

The Jambar has received the rating of "First Class" from the Associated Collegiate Press for the publication of the newspaper during spring quarter of this year, it was learned yesterday.

The newspaper received "Marks of Distinction" in Writing and Editing and Editorial Leadership, two of the five areas evaluated. The ACP critique described the Jambar's writing as "highly professional" and noted that the editorial page "deals with sound and relevant issues."

For publication during the winter quarter of 1971 the newspaper received an "All American" award, receiving "Marks of Distinction" in four of the five areas.

Frosh face draft without 2-S

by Pam Zander
Jambor Staff Writer

College students who were enrolled full-time in the 1970-71 academic year may still be eligible for student deferments in the 1971-72 school year, Father Raymond DiBlasio, associate Newman chaplain, said yesterday.

However, young men who entered school for the first time this summer and those who are enrolled as freshmen this fall will not qualify for student deferments.

"The wording of the announcements in the Vindicator and on the radio was deceptive, in saying that all deferments are abolished," Father DiBlasio added. "Only new student deferments are abolished, beginning with this summer's freshmen."

Deferments for other reasons, such as medical or hardship, will be continued. The surviving son exemption, which in the past applied only to the last son, has been broadened to include any man in the family of whom one or more members have died as a result of U.S. military service or are captured or missing.

Freshmen who enroll in military science will not be touched by the ruling, according to Capt. Robert Minney, assistant professor of military science. Until last year, students who were signed up for the four-year program in ROTC were exempt. The new policy now gives exemption to any student enrolled in the military science program.

People wishing advice concerning the draft can leave their name and number with the operator at 743-0439, the Youngstown Draft Counseling Center, and will be contacted by someone who can assist them.

On the state level, Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, Selective Service Director for Ohio, said: "Few incoming freshmen students are likely to be inducted in the near future because of the student deferment phaseout. Of the 1,034,000 incoming freshmen males estimated by the Office of Education, approximately 80% are 18 years old and only 20% are 19 years of age or older.

"The 18-year-olds will receive their lottery numbers in 1972, and they will not be subject to induction until 1973, when draft calls should be low. The 19-year-old freshmen received their lottery numbers August 5 of this year and will be subject to induction next year; at least 1/2 should have high enough lottery numbers to preclude their induction. Of those remaining, approximately 50% will be disqualified on mental, moral or physical grounds."

Dr. Tarr added that college students will not be drafted in the middle of a semester or term. "If called while enrolled, they will be allowed to postpone their induction until the end of the semester, or term. If in their last academic year, they will be able to postpone their induction until after graduation.

Wilson Fellowships, others suspended in aid cutbacks

There will be no Woodrow Wilson Fellowship competition this fall because of the lack of funds available, H. Ronald Rouse, national director of the foundation has announced.

Funds currently available to the foundation for first year graduate fellowships are being used to support over 200 fellows during the 1971-72 academic year. Rouse stressed that the suspension of this 20-year-old program is only temporary and that during the coming year, trustees and officers of the foundation will design a new fellowship program and seek funds for it.

A total of 213 Woodrow Wilson Fellows will be supported this year at 69 graduate schools.

The Wilson Fellowship is one of a number of programs throughout the country which have suffered from the recent decline in financial support, Rouse said.

The U.S. government, which in 1967 supported nearly 11,000 beginning graduate students, has reduced or eliminated several programs and will provide only about 1,500 new fellowships for 1972-73.

Jobs open now in Foreign Service

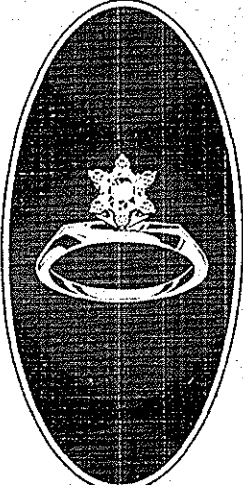

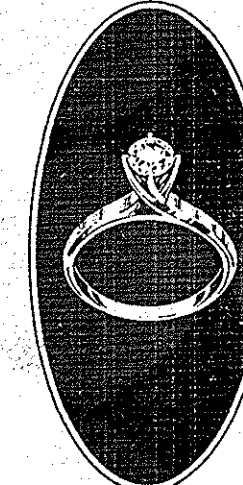

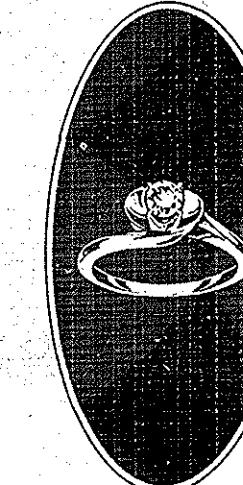

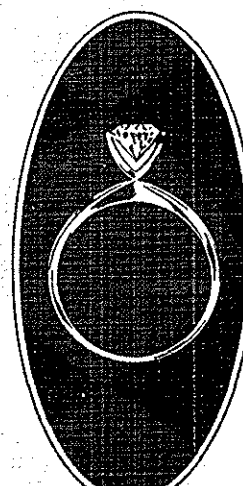

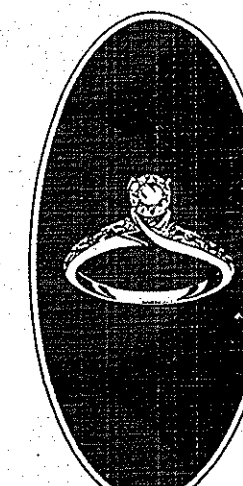

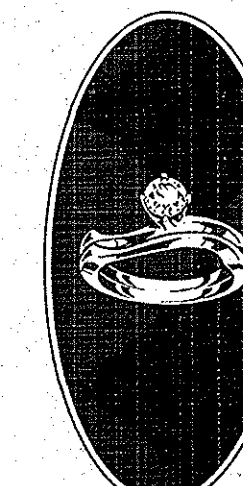

Applications are now available for Foreign Service or Information Agency positions with the federal government, Congressman Charles J. Carney, 19th Ohio District, has announced.

Employment in the Foreign Service is based on a competitive examination in five major fields: administrative, consular, eco-

Arthur Goldberg,

Rod Serling to be among speakers

YSU's Artist-Lecture series for 1971-72, beginning October 29, 1971 and ending May 10, 1972, features six guest speakers, a musical, and a vocal group. Speakers include Dr. Athelstan Spilhaus, Robert Evans, Dr. Jeanne Noble, Dr. John Tyson, Arthur J. Goldberg and Rod Serling.

According to John Bernacki, director of student activities, the Artist-Lecture Series is handled by the special events committee, which is headed this year by Dr. Daniel O'Neill of the speech and drama department. The committee, composed of faculty, administration, and students, selects speakers for the Artist-Lecture Series.

Two of the lectures in this series are known as Skeggs lectures, in recognition of Leonard T. Skeggs, Sr. Skeggs lectures, presented semi-annually, are intended to bring to the University outstanding speakers who are authorities in their fields.

Justice Harlan retires; Nixon to name two jurists

WASHINGTON AP - John Marshall Harlan, the scholarly conservative who was generally rated as one of the Supreme Court's most able jurists, retired Thursday because of ill health. He is suffering from cancer.

The retirement, effective immediately, was the second from the nation's highest court in less than a week and leaves President Nixon in the rare situation of having two crucial appointments to make at the same time.

Associate Justice Hugo L. Black retired last Friday, also for reasons of health. Black was reported in very serious condition at Bethesda Naval Medical Center.

The 72-year-old Harlan was taken to the Bethesda Hospital Aug. 16 for treatment of what then was termed a "backache." He was later transferred downtown to the George Washington University Hospital.

After the White House announced Harlan's retirement, it was announced at the court that he is undergoing treatment for bone cancer.

The Supreme Court is scheduled to open its fall term on Oct. 4 with only seven justices on the bench and several major issues awaiting decisions.

Perhaps paramount among these is the question of whether capital punishment is constitutional.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon recognized the situation and was expected "to move as swiftly as possible to find two highly qualified individuals to fill the vacancies."

The Harlan retirement will not have much ideological impact on the court's makeup as will Black's. Harlan was a solid member of the court's conservative side and Nixon is expected to replace him with an appointee of similar bent. Black, on the other hand, was considered a member of the liberal bloc.

Free University

A free university has long been awaited at YSU. We can only hope that the university will give its approval and cooperation to the functioning of that free university even though they cannot recognize any of the work done there for academic credit.

Although the concept of the free university has existed for many years at YSU no organization has been active in recruiting students. For all practical purposes any out-of-class discussion between faculty members and students or students and students about mutually interesting topics could be regarded as a free exchange of knowledge or a "free university." However, the creation of a free university at YSU has provided a more formal setting for these discussions to take place within and has established specific topic areas to be explored.

The topics being offered are not part of the university curriculum but are important to an understanding of how America operates as a nation.

We hope that in the future more YSU faculty members will join the seven in offering to share their knowledge in specific areas that are not part of YSU's curriculum.

Privacy Invasion

The possibility exists that letters of recommendation for graduating students are not private correspondence between university faculty members and graduate institutions. If this possibility has any element of truth to it we demand that all copies of letters of recommendation in the possession of the university be destroyed and that in the future no copies be retained except by the author of the letter.

We call upon the Student Affairs Committee to investigate the matter fully and, if it should confirm the possibility, to bring the practice to an immediate halt.

Privacy in this matter is not a privilege of graduating students, but a right.

Jambar editorials reflect the views of the editors and are not necessarily those of the university or its administration.

Forum and Letters Policy

The Jambar wants students, faculty, and staff to express their opinions on University subjects and issues. To this end the Jambar offers two avenues of expression, Letters to the Editor and the Forum.

The Forum is intended to permit comment on matters that are broader than immediate campus issues. The Jambar will print only those manuscripts which conform to accepted literary standards and which do not exceed 700 words. The author should fully identify himself.

Letters should be typed, triple-spaced, and should bear the author's signature, address, school-class, and phone number. Letters under 250 words in length will be printed in full, providing they contain no libelous or otherwise offensive material. The editor reserves the right to edit or otherwise condense letters which exceed 250 words.

Nine-month faculty salaries frozen

Scheduled salary increases for YSU nine-month faculty members are not allowed under present interpretations of the wage-price freeze, although faculty hired on a 12-month basis are receiving the higher pay.

Most faculty members at the university are hired on a nine-month basis and their salaries are frozen because no service had rendered before August 15.

At a faculty meeting last week, University President Albert L. Pugsley said that a president at another Ohio university has asked that all 12-month faculty voluntarily yield their salary increases to conform with nine month faculty.

He said, "The position I have taken is that it is improper to request voluntary return to last year's rates for new rates effective July 1. . . I do not believe that voluntary action could or would be uniform or fair. I take the position that we could meet our contracts to 12-months faculty and employees and not further erode salaries that are already too low in higher education. . . Nine-months salaries should be increased as soon as legally possible as called for in contracts."

Expansion

be relocated in a renovate building on Wick Oval unless a better temporary home closer to the campus can be located.

The demolition and relocation is necessary for construction of two of five new buildings to begin. The Music and Fine Arts building will be located at the current site of Ford Hall and the new Librar, will be located on the sites East Hall, West Hall, Central Hall, and the bookstore building.

The construction of these two buildings should begin sometime during spring quarter. Construction of the new Technical and Community College is expected to begin sometime during fall quarter. The Student Center addition is expected to begin as soon as the new Spring Street right-of-way is opened.

The Spring Street right-of-way opening cannot occur until the property owner permits access to his property which intrudes into the right-of-way. It has taken Urban Renewal two years to purchase the property and under law they must allow him ninety days to relocate. The City of Youngstown is constructing the right-of-way and has indicated that it will complete the street from both directions leaving only the owner's property to be surfaced after the ninety day waiting period.

The Power Plant is expected to be under construction as soon as a capital appropriation is made by the state legislative. Tentative plans call for the construction of a tunnel system to begin in January. The tunnel system will run South under Elm Street to Spring Street, East under Spring Street to Bryson Street, and South under Bryson Street to Lincoln Avenue.

Construction of the parking decks is now 83 working days behind schedule primarily because of the heavy equipment operators strike this past summer. The decks should be completed by mid-January 1972. Since the decks are not completed there are 400 fewer student parking spaces than there were a year ago. When the decks are completed there will be an increase of 1,225 student parking spaces.

The Beeghly Health and Physical Education Building should be completed by mid or late December, Dr. Coffelt said. An additional 60 to 90 days will be needed to complete interior work, test the heating, air conditioning, and electrical systems, obtain Federal approval of construction, and also move into the building. Plans are to place the building into limited use for spring quarter.

SPRING STREET TO BE COMPLETED - After two years of litigation, the Department of Urban Renewal has acquired this property, permitting the completion of Spring Street, after the previous owner vacates.

Three faculty get doctorates

Three returning YSU faculty members were awarded doctor of philosophy degrees at recent commencement exercises.

Dr. Robert A. Ameduri, assistant professor of education at YSU, has been awarded a Ph.D. in science education from Kent State University. Dr. Ameduri, who has been a member of the YSU faculty since 1962, titled his dissertation, "Analyses of Research Studies Pertaining to the Chemical Study and Chemical Bond Approach Programs"

Dr. Wilber M. Hammack, director of student teaching at YSU, was awarded his doctor of education degree from the University of Akron. Dr. Hammack's dissertation topic was "The Capability of Seven School bills Introduced into the 108th General Assembly of Ohio to Fund Schools by Ohio education Association Criteria." Dr. Hammack joined the YSU faculty in 1966.

Also receiving his doctor of philosophy degree as Dr. George D. Beelen, assistant professor of History at YSU. Beelen, who earned his Ph.D. in history from Kent State University titled his Dissertation "Harding and Mexico: Diplomacy by Economic Persuasion." Dr. Beelen has been at YSU since 1966.

Lectures

The two speakers in the Artist-Lecture Series who are Skeggs Lecturers are Dr. Athelstan Spilhaus and Arthur Goldberg.

The Artist-Lecture Series begins at 8 p.m. Friday, October 29, 1971, at Stambaugh Auditorium with speaker Dr. Athelstan Spilhaus, renowned meteorologist and oceanographer and president of the Franklin Institute. Dr. Spilhaus is a member of the National Science Board, is a noted scientist, author and inventor.

The musical, "The Me Nobody Knows" will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, November 11, in Powers Auditorium. The musical is based on the book, which is based on experiences of ghetto children. Music is by Gary William Friedman. Robert Evans, CBS newsman, will speak of his news experiences in Strouss Auditorium at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, January 12, 1972.

Dr. Jeanne Noble will speak during Black Studies Week at Strouss Auditorium at 2 p.m. on Thursday, February 10, 1972.

The New York Pro Musica, a classical Voice Group, will sing at 8 p.m. Saturday, February 19 in Powers Auditorium. The Pro Musica, directed by Paul Maynard, specializes in Medieval and Renaissance music and thirteenth century music dramas.

At 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 5, 1972, Dr. John Tyson will speak in Strouss Auditorium. Dr. Tyson is an obstetrician and gynecologist and will speak on human sexuality.

Arthur Goldberg will speak as a Skeggs Lecturer Friday, at 8 p.m. April 21, 1972 in Stambaugh Auditorium. Goldberg served as a representative to the United Nations and as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. He will speak on America's future and America's Foreign Policy.

The final speaker in the Artist-Lecture Series will be author Rod Serling, who will speak in Powers Auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 10, 1972. Serling is noted for his dramatic writing for radio and television.

Lectures are free to University students and members of the community.

- 7) Curtail research from university funds and cut departmental funds.

President Pugsley said that he has "absolutely no idea yet which of these might be appropriate or needed at this institution. They are simply things that would have to be considered."

The $10 increase in the general fee was dedicated to the construction of the Kilcawlye Student Center. Should the university be unable to keep this money, no financial plan exists that provides enough money to build the center. The alternatives that exist, President Pugsley said, are to form a new financial plan which would include a loan, or cut the size of the building, which would mean the elimination of the bookstore facilities.

Kiriazis said that copies of such letters are sometimes put in students' files but declined to comment on the particular letters.

Dr. Earl E. Edgar, YSU vice president for academic affairs, said yesterday he had no knowledge of the letters before they were presented at the hearing. President Pugsley was out of town.

Mr. Theodore R. Cubbison, one of YSU's attorneys, said the letters were part of the university's records, and originated in the department of sociology and anthropology. He said he did not inquire how the letters were obtained.

He said he received the letters during the preparation of YSU's case in the Poddar suit, but did not remember from whom he had received them.

Dr. Poddar said he had no knowledge of how the university obtained the letters. He said he had sometimes given letters of recommendation to the department secretary for typing and that he had never explicitly instructed her not to make copies of the letters.

The department secretary declined to say whether or not copies of such letters were made as a matter of course.

The OEA letter also charged that "the administration had compiled extensive clandestine records on Dr. Poddar in the form of 'notes' kept by Dr. Kiriazis.

Dr. Kiriazis said he had begun keeping notes of his interviews with Dr. Poddar only after Dr. Poddar charged that he was being treated unfairly by the department.

Dr. Edgar said it is the official responsibility of department chairmen to evaluate junior faculty members, and that the taking of notes might be necessary in some cases.

Home season opens for Penguin grid men

Coach Dwight "Dike" Beede and his Penguins open their home season at Campbell Memorial Stadium tomorrow night hopeful of ending their 13-game losing streak by beating Central State University.

Losing last week's opener to Central Michigan, 47-19, the Birds' offense will have to flock together to move against the experienced Marauder defense. The YSU defense must act as a stone wall to break Central's offensive line to get to the question-marked backfield.

Jim Walker will be starting his third season as head mentor and has 45 vets including 30 lettermen trying to improve the 10-7 slate of the past two seasons.

The YSU offense will have to face senior defensive tackle Mel Lundsford listed at 6-4, 255 pounds and a definite pro prospect. He was a first team NAIA All-American end last season when he dumped opposing quarterbacks 23 times for major losses. He's flanked by ends Jay Chapman (6-1, 235) and Doug Smith (6-1, 215), tackle Brian Deremer (6-1, 210), and middle guard Rickie Foster (6-3, 240). The defensive backs include: Danny Scrivens (5-9, 210) and Al Hagins (5-11, 190); Allen Clements (5-10, 180) and Larry Barnes (5-10, 165) cornerbacks; Jim Jarret (5-10, 180) and Donnie Walker (6-0, 180), safeties.

The offense of the Marauders is as follows: Tony Brown (6-1, 170) and Adam Scott (6-4, 205), ends; Eugene Harmon (6-1, 280) and Leonard Copeland (6-2, 240), tackles; Dimetrice Pruitt (6-1, 210) and Clarence Atwater (6-1, 217), guards; Tony Myles (6-0, 193), center; Jim Woods (6-0, 175) or Steve McPhearson (5-10, 180), quarterbacks; Darwin Valentine (5-10, 178) and Bob Douglas (5-10, 160), halfbacks; and Steve Miller (5-9, 185), fullback.

One good thing going for YSU is that Charles Hester (6-2, 205), CSU's leading rusher with 642 yards in 1970 and another pro prospect, was injured in practice last week and is not expected to play tomorrow night.

Catcher Kozak bats among top 40 in U.S.

Bill Kozak, all-star catcher on the Penguin's 1971 baseball team, finished among the top 40 batters in the nation, according to the final NCAA College Division statistics.

Kozak's .417 average placed him 39th. He had 43 hits in 103 at bats during 33 games. Named first string catcher on the District 4 NCAA College Division All-Star team for the second straight year, Kozak finished his career with the highest batting average in YSU history—a .361 mark. The Struthers High grad also set one-season records for RBI (29) and tied the hit mark for one game (5), one season (43) and equalled the career home run standard (8).

Dale Herbert of Baldwin-Wallace was the leading batter with a .527 average. Lefty Ken Kravec of Ashland, who beat YSU 3-2, led the country in ERA (0.42) and strikeouts (16.7 per game) and was 10th in victories (9). Don Yates of Cleveland State, who led a 5-0 no-hitter at the Penguins, was 5th in wins with his 11-0 record.

'Nonamers' are champs of summer golf league

By virtue of winning both halves of the YSU Summer Golf League, the Nonamers are the 1971 League Champs. Competition was held at the Mahoning Country Club.

Members of the winning team are Stu Aubrey, Personnel; Frank Koeller, Maintenance; Nick Mortellaro & Dick Burden, Mathematics; G. Pappas, Cafeteria; Eugene Gonda, Accounting; and Bill Swan, Education.

Outstanding for the winners was Nick Mortellaro who won a total of eight points for his team, the highest in the league. Honors for lowest averages went to Dale Peskin, Student Government, and Hank Garano, Landscaping, who both ended the season with averages of forty.

GOOD LUCK — Marie Slifka, junior English major, and Dave McCamon, an injured football player, discuss the upcoming football game with Central State. The banner was placed on the facade of Kilcawley Dorm by YSU cheerleaders on Wednesday.

YSU students aid symphony society

Many YSU students and service organizations are participating in Symphony '71, the Youngstown Symphony Society tent promotion downtown.

The theme of the program is "Fill the Air With Music." The show began yesterday afternoon with a fashion show and will conclude Saturday night with the season's first symphony concert.

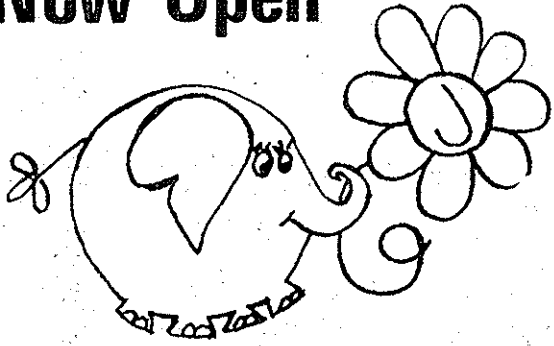

According to Sue Doyle, service organization coordinator for the event, groups of workers from Rotaract, Circle K, and Alpha Phi Omega were at work Wednesday and Thursday setting up the main tents and booths on West Federal Street.

Miss Doyle said that Gamma Sigma Sigma, campus service sorority would operate some of these booths as concessions along with the Circle K and Rotaract groups.

In addition, a number of YSU students will participate in International Night as members of nationality singing and dancing troupes. The program is sponsored by the Nationality Council of the International Institute.

Finally, according to Mrs. Daniel Lewis of the Symphony Society, a show booth is to be run by the Dana School of Music featuring highlights of that school's history.

Catch - YSU Summer Vacation?

by Carl Basic

Well, sports lovers and fight fans summer vacation is over. As I looked back on my rather uneventful summer I wondered how other members of the YSU community spent their summer vacation. I decided to talk to a few people and find out.

"Excuse me. I'm doing an interview for the Jambor and I wonder if you would tell me how you spent your summer vacation?"

"Sure. I hitch-hiked all over the country, went to a couple of rock festivals that never happened, took a freedom ride through the South and helped clean up an oil spill on the West Coast."

"Are you a student here?"

"No, I'm on the faculty."

I made sure that my next interviewee was a student.

"Excuse me, but how did you spend your summer?"

"Well, I worked most of the time. You see I'm the oldest of 14 children and in addition to putting myself through school I have to support the family."

"I see, and what kind of work did you do?"

"I scrubbed floors for twenty-five cents an hour."

The next student I talked to was a little more affluent.

"Excuse me, but are you a student here?"

"Yes, my name is Rockefeller M. Greenbacks, the 'M' is for Mellon and I'm from Bouillion, Ohio. You may have heard of our slum area, Shaker Heights."

"Sounds impressive, what does your father do for a living?"

"He's president of the World, makes a million dollars an hour plus time and a half for holidays and overtime."

"I see, then your father is putting you through college?"

"Certainly not! My father doesn't give me anything and I don't ask him for anything. I work and put myself through college with no help from my father. I worked on a construction crew all summer counting the number of children who come to watch the bulldozer work each day."

"That sounds like a pretty easy job."

"I should say not. Kids are pretty easily amused. Somedays so many kids came that I got writer's cramp making those little marks on the paper not to mention headaches from all that addition. I also got blisters in the region of my gluteus maximus from sitting on that unbearably hard stool all day. It wasn't really worth the effort for only seventeen dollars an hour but, as I said, I needed the money since my father refuses to give me a cent."

"How did you get the job?"

"My father got it for me."

"Thank you."

I next decided to visit my old friend, the spokesman of the administration, the scholarly, the dapper, Dean Dean.

"Well Dean, what did you do all summer?"

"I took a few courses at South High. I'm working for a high school diploma you know. Right now I'm trying to figure out a way to help my nephew get back in school."

"What's the problem?"

"Well, he earned enough money this summer to pay his tuition and reserve a room in the dorm but he is still twenty five thousand dollars short."

"Why?"

"He has to buy a new text book."

Only full-time students may receive assistance

Students receiving financial aid who have questions about full-time status requirements should contact the Financial Aids Office, said John E. Wales, Financial Aids Director.

Most students receiving financial aid do not realize that full-time status is necessary because of strict federal and state rules.

To be full-time, a student must carry a course load of twelve hours not including audited courses. Failure to meet these standards nullifies any agreements made.

Under unusual circumstances these requirements may be waived.

Free U. classes open; seven courses offered

The Free University of YSU, an unchartered group of YSU students and faculty, will be offering seven seminars fall quarter including one to be taught by a university trustee.

A free seminar course was offered this past summer and at that time President Albert L. Pugsley made it clear that they were in no way connected with the university. No university fees, grades, or credits were applicable to that course and none will be to the seminar courses being offered this fall.

Tentative seminar topics, time, and instructors are:

Human Sexology—Dr. Assad S. Kassees (assistant professor of sociology), Monday 6-8 p.m.

Experience and Communication—Dr. Charles L. Reid (associate professor of philosophy) Thursday 6-8 p.m.

Collective Bargaining, Social Cost and Benefits—Mr. J.J. Koss (assistant professor of Economics), Monday and Wednesday 11-12.

Labor History—Albert J. Shipka (university trustee), Friday 10-12 p.m.

Social Problems—Dr. Bhagwati P.K. Poddar, (assistant professor of sociology), Wednesday 6-8 p.m.

Agitational Speaking—Dr. Daniel O'Neill, (assistant professor of speech), Tuesday and Thursday 12-1 p.m.

Theory of Social Conflict—Dr. Thomas Shipka (assistant professor of philosophy), Tuesday 4-6 p.m.

Anyone interested in attending any of these seminars should leave their name, phone number, and designation of which seminar they are interested in at the Student Government Office in room 108 in Kilcawley Hall.

Locations for the seminars will be announced as soon as possible.

Anyone requesting any additional information should contact one of the following: Joseph Magielski 757-3174, Armond Rossi 788-4922, Jeff Showman 534-1525, Kathy Pernotto 533-5774, Dennis Thompson, 793-1797, or Janice Driscoll 759-1445.

Student vies for ed. board

George Skajac, freshman business major, announced yesterday that he has filed Declaration of Candidacy papers for the Youngstown Board of Education.

Skajac, along with 7 others, is seeking one of the four seats available this year. He acquired 544 signatures in a week's door-to-door solicitation. Skajac says that he will give his salary to charity.

He promises to give a "fresh perspective" to the "crisis" that the Youngstown schools are in.

Skajac, a 1970 graduate of Chaney High School, says he is a "nominal democrat" and says his chances for victory are "good." Mrs. Mary Burns, Youngstown Democratic Committeewoman, said his chances are "miserable."
