"Charley's Aunt" Plays Two Nights

Famous College Farce Will Be Last Mimes Presentation

"Charley's Aunt", famous stage and screen hit of recent years, will be produced by the Mimes Dramatic society in the College auditorium this Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9. The three-act comedy farce will be the final presentation of the Mimes this year.

All students who saw the famous production in which Charlie Ruggles took the lead when the movies made "Charley's Aunt" one of the funniest, side-splitting farces ever attempted, will be willing boosters of the Mimes present efforts.

What do you think would happen if two college students wishing to make an impression on the "one and only," introduced a wealthy aunt who is really a man in "she's clothing"? What do you think would happen when a college dean, a colonel in the British army, and the father of one of the boys, all propose to the would be "siren."

If you are wondering what would happen in these and numerous other hilarious situations, come and see "Charley's Aunt" and get a big kick out of a college play that is really guaranteed to be "a scream."

For the first time the Mimes is presenting a cast that are all experienced actors down to the last man. Many of them have had two or three years experience with the Mimes and quite a few at the Play House. Others were stars in high school productions.

The members of the cast are as follows:

Wanted - - Match Covers

The match cover collection is growing by leaps and bounds. And no wonder—some generous people are bringing in their collections which they have been saving for a long time. Paul Davies, aged 16, a brother of Emily Davies, gave his collection of 300 match covers. Another collection of 400 covers was given by eight-year-old Jerry Epstein, a nephew of Mike Jaffee. At this rate the goal of 10,000 should be reached in a short time.

"The Nickel Goes Down and Round" Shows Prom Booster

As the date of the Junior Prom grows nearer, Chuck Zellers, junior class president, hopefully drops his nickle into one of the three candy machines that his class has installed in the college. At the same time, he breathes a prayer that his five-cent piece will act as a decoy for lots of other buffaloes.

These machines have proven themselves to be an outstanding source of revenue for the junior treasury. The prom planners also intend to sponsor at least one more theatre show before the Big Evening.

The latest reports from the prom committee seem to favor the bands of Carl "Deacon" Moore or Barney Rapp. Other bands are yet to be contacted. The committee welcomes suggestions from all students.

Campus Political Battle Ends With Election Results Mystery

The intense campus political battle over the election of a Junior Prom Queen that has overshadowed all other activities at Youngstown College this week ended Friday but now an air of mystery has taken its place.

The mystery is — Who was elected Prom Queen? The tradition surrounding the election of the Queen has always been to keep the results secret until the night of the Junior Class Prom. The Prom is scheduled for May 13.

Who Won

Which one of the candidates won? The three "regulars" nominated by the men of the Junior Class were Helen Gifford, Rose Rosapepe and Marion Parmenter. The fourth contestant was Katherine "Dimp" Jones, a dark horse candidate sponsored by the opposition who "wrote-in" her name over the official nominees in an effort to stop the "regulars" from winning.

The battle started last Monday morning when members of the Sigma Delta Beta fraternity and a group of non-fraternity students protested the choice of the Junior Class and tried to "write-in" Miss Jones' name over the official nominees. The election was postponed because of demonstrations by the "reactionaries."

The Write-In

Arguments warred hotly pro and con with both sides claiming political interference in a fair choice of candidates. But the high point around which the battle raged most fiercely was in a litigation involving the constitutionality of "write-in" ballots.

The Juniors held a class meeting and passed rules governing the election which outlawed efforts to use "write-ins." Miss Jones' backers immediately appealed the case to the student council. The council approved the legality of "write-ins" and censured the Juniors for trying to draw up rules governing an election while the election was taking place.

Real political strategy was used by the backers of the "regulars" nominees Friday when in a desperate attempt to stop their votes being split three ways, they formed a coalition between Phi Delta and Phi Gamma fraternities in order to concentrate all efforts on the election of Miss Rosapepe.

Sandwich Men

The campus seethed with political activity as Miss Rosapepe's backers used the same methods in demonstrations on election day as the "reactionaries" did last Monday when they stopped the election. Signs and posters adorned the campus while "sandwich men" walked about in an effort to attract votes from the other side.

From all indications the coalition succeeded and the race for the honor of being Prom Queen was between Miss Rosapepe and Miss Jones. However, election officials say that votes were cast for all four candidates, so there is still a good chance that the other two candidates got many more votes than the predictions of the two major parties try to make out.

Which one of the four will be Queen? Marion Parmenter, Helen Gifford, Rose Rosapepe or Katherine Jones. The mystery will be solved at the Junior Prom May 15.

Delta Epsilon Formed By Council; Patterned After Phi Beta Kappa

The new honor system that has been devised by the student council of Youngstown College has been approved by the faculty and will go into effect sometime after students get back to school after the spring vacation. It will be known as Delta Epsilon.

With the installation of the new society, scholastic stars of the college will receive recognition for their ability. The new system was modeled after the nationally known Phi Beta Kappa honor society.

Juniors and Seniors

To be admitted to the new society students must be members of either of the Junior or Senior classes with at least 60 academic credit hours. The last 30 of these hours must have been at Youngstown College.

The biggest factor in admitting students to the society will be their ability to keep up their good work once they have joined the new honor society. Because of this a 2 point average in grades must be met before admittance is even considered.

Seniors: Stella Cassano, Albert D'Orsi, Howard Rempes, Anthony Rosano, Phileas Russo, Paul Shields, Charles Stine, Fay Treffert, Rebekah Westfall, and Marjorie Wighton.

The society was first planned by the student council after the faculty had asked them to consider some method by which students would have some incentive for studying hard and attaining a higher scholastic standing.

The council at once appointed a whole, were David MacKil, Faye Treffert and Jeannette Powers.

Research Necessary

The council at once appointed a committee to investigate what other schools had been doing along

Viking Dance to Benefit Library

Stenross Orchestra Will Play Easter Eve

Entire proceeds of the Easter Eve Viking Dance Club will be turned over to the college library fund. This offer was made by the Viking Club as their share in the present college library campaign.

Charles Stenross and his Lotus Garden Orchestra will be the feature of the dance to be held at Stambaugh Auditorium, April 16.

Tickets for the dance may be bought from Henry Schmid, Jane King, John Middleton, Paul Maloney, and Jerry Vanish. The advance sale will be $1.50 per couple. Dancing will be from 9 till 1.

The amount of the Viking Club's contribution cannot be estimated as it will vary with the size of the crowd. All money received over expenses will go directly to the college.

"Howsabout a War, Adolph, Old Boy"

ATLANTA, GA. (ACP) — Two years ago it was the "Veterans of Future Wars" who were asking for their bonuses in advance. Last week it was . . . and still is, according to last reports . . . the "Institute for International Ill-Will" asking for war right away.

Founded by two Emory University undergraduates with a zest for bloody burlesque, the organization seeks other chapters "all over the world" to help burlesque modern war and international diplomacy.

In a telegram to Adolph Hitler, they said, "quit stalling and fight Austria." The telegram was refused by two wire companies. Another message was drafted, and reported accepted by one of the companies. It read:

"We are all behind you and the eight ball. We recommend Austria for your growing pains."

Music Club to Hear Opera Review Tonight

For the benefit of those who are going to the opera April 8, the Music Society will sponsor an opera review tonight in the College Lounge at 7:00 p. m.

Dr. Stearns will speak on the operas "Tannhauser" and "The Bartered Bride." He will also use recordings of the operas sung by well-known singers to stress different points of the operas. This will enable the opera goers to appreciate the music and the plots of the productions.

The music society extends an invitation to all that are going to Cleveland and all who appreciate Grand Opera. Refreshments will be served.

Campus Politics

In the past, both in the present issues and under former editors, it has been the policy of the Jambar to frown upon campus politics.

Early last semester, for instance, we editorialized upon the evils of the political plum. We asked that the position of Neon editor be filled as it is in eastern colleges — by virtue of merit. As a result, students' council set up a system whereby the editor is now elected after due consideration of qualities of all applicants. When training is required, there is no place for politics.

In the same manner, beauty might be considered as a special talent or gift. Beauty and personality alone should play a part in the selection of a Prom Queen.

Instead, politics was allowed to enter into the game. As a result of this, a counter campaign was launched which rivaled circus publicity — much to the embarrassment of four junior girls, who found their names publicly exploited and denounced by a bunch of thoughtless males. This is now a closed incident and the sooner that is forgotten the better.

It is to be hoped, however, that steps will be taken to prevent similar outbursts in regards to future "Queen" elections. Give chivalry a place above politics.

Forgotten Men

All student attempts at raising money for football have been successful. Credit, laurels, and praise has been generously dished out to chairmen, committees, and the student body. Those, alone who have not been remembered are, the art department.

The colorful posters that accompanied the basketball dance, candy sales, and even now adorn the match cover box are the result of many hours work over the drawing board. These are the work of the commercial art class. Time, material, and the finished posters have been furnished free for publicity and football.

CAMPUS COMMENTS BY FRANK JACZKO

EXPLANATION

Our first effort this time will be in our own behalf. We find it necessary to defend ourself against the serious insinuations that charge us with being Puritanical and narrow minded. The indictments are based on our one man campaign against conditions in the lounge. For several issues we have been harping on the gambling and promiscuous necking that is carried on in the social room. In spite of the adverse criticism from various sources we maintain that we are right in our crusade. Now we have nothing against gambling. One of our greatest joys lies in a friendly poker session and the biggest possible thrill we can experience is to go into a seven stud game with a pair of deuces buried. Nor are we down on boodeling. We are as fond of this interesting pastime as the next man. But we contend that there should be a definite time and place for both of these institutions and the lounge while school is in session satisfies neither requirement. We feel very strongly on this subject and as long as there is no definite action from the students urging us to desist we shall continue our drive. So far it has been more or less ineffective. Our next step will be to start printing names.

THIS AND THAT

Frank Stewart, Sir Francis in "Charley's Aunt" has hit the bug fifteen time this year. He's raked in about $175 and most of it has gone for tuition. The dancing class is progressing very well indeed. The boys and girls have got to the point of dancing with each other. Miss Ballard the instructor tells us that the men learn much quicker than the women and that they seem to have a better sense of rhythm. . . . It's a very exciting time at Professor Bunn's home. An 8' pound girl has joined the Bunn troupe and the popular faculty member and play director claims that she is destined to be another Sarah Bernhart.

PETEY-PENGUIN

The Jambar had just come out and there I was standing in the lounge minding my own business and not hurting anybody when a female charges up to me and with words just dripping with venom flings the following at me:

"Are you trying to be funny?" Then without another word she stalked haughtily away . . . I would like to see the cafeteria stay open all afternoon. With warm weather coming on the students could drop in for ice cream and milk shakes and maybe sometimes I might happen in when someone was setting them up. Furthermore, I can see where a lot of nickels and dimes would make their way into the college cash register instead of wandering down town. . . . Who is he?: The busiest person in school and yet when you ask him to show results he's stuck . . . the latest pair of goons to infest the lounge with their public love making to the disgust of most everybody is the mentioned once before college widow and a male who thinks he's a cross between Bing Crosby and Adonis . . . Then there is the wise guy who asked the Phi Lamps if they wanted their sorority all in one or two pictures.

At last the Senate has seen fit to pass a bill which it is hoped will greatly increase the efficiency of economy with which our government's business is transacted. Seven past presidents have in vain attempted to push through bills similar to the present "Reorganization Bill." It seems, however, that there is little publicity to be found in saving the taxpayer's money, so up until now the bills have been shelved to make way for those more magnetic.

COMMENTS LAUREL

A multiple garland for the members of the chapel choir. They provide a consistently bright spot to many programs that would otherwise be not so good.

IN THE MAIL

Editor, Jambar
Dear Sir:

An exceedingly deplorable condition exists in the library of our college. As this letter is being written two students, a man and a woman, are carrying on a conversation despite the fact that they are two tables distant from each other. They have conversed for several minutes already, and apparently have no intention of quitting very soon. At another table, three men are conversing with absolutely no effort on their part to keep their voices as low as possible, and as a crowning gesture for all this a man and woman are walking around the room discussing the books that are on the shelves.

Is not the lounge the proper place for conversation and social gathering? Is not the library the place for quiet study and concentration? Must the enterprising serious students who seek the proper place for quiet study submit to the thoughtless and boorish behavior of a few who are evidently not aware of the purpose of the library?

A general appeal is herewith being made to all students to permit only the minimum amount of noise in the library, to carry on only those conversations which are necessary and can be subdued to at least a gentle roar if not a whisper.

Very sincerely yours,
H. R. S.

HONOR SOCIETY APPROVED

(Continued from Page One.) This line, Phi Beta Kappa sent plans of their system and many other schools all over the country submitted suggestions as to how their respective systems worked.

After many weeks of hard and trying work, the committee drew up tentative plans for the new society. The plans did not meet all the requirements that all members of the council thought they should and other attempts had to be made.

At last after weeks of debate, changes and new ideas had all been looked into and the new system was submitted to the faculty for their final approval. Prof. Doll, the advisor to the council, helped to a great extent in coordinating the few changes that the faculty suggested. The faculty unanimously approved the final draft. The committee who did most of the research work before the council took action as a whole, were David MacKill, Faye Trefert and Jeannette Powers.

At last the Senate has seen fit to pass a bill which it is hoped will greatly increase the efficiency of economy with which our government's business is transacted. Kick It Around
Unfortunately, this highly desirable bill has been pounced upon by various foes of the administration, and there is great danger that it may become nothing but a political football. At writing the bill is just starting its career in the House. By the time this is published its fate may be decided. Let us hope that

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

This week the Inquiring Reporter finds the students likes and dislikes on the choice of Evans Field as a home ground for our new football team.

Charles Axtmann, sophomore president, says: "I am not in favor of it because of the trouble in collecting admissions. There are too many ways to sneak in." Tell us, Chuck.

Rose Raspepe, junior, states, "I like the choice as it is close to the school and adequate as to size."

David Dingley, senior, avers, "It is not a good field as it is too hard and has little turf."

Tom Young, sophomore, "There is nothing wrong with it; it's big enough and it's near enough and it has seating arrangements."

Bill Scraggs, junior, says, "It's a good field, an ideal location and the best available field I know of."

May Day Plans Include Something New in Pageants

A new form of pageantry will appear when the May Day's festivities take place this year. The pageant committee announces as prospective plans are being formulated.

Cinderella and the Glass Slipper will be the theme of the pageant instead of the older and more familiar "Greek Myth" Dramas. Many choices were considered, one being "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." But Walt Disney's famous fairy tale finally lost out — it has been popularized too much.

It is rumored that Dick Thomas, charmer from the Junior Class had been considered as one of the chief actors if Snow White had been selected as the pageant. Thomas was slated for the part of the Prince Charming or Dopey.

The new pageant that will built around Cinderella will be written and directed by Totty Patrick, the chairman of the May Day Pageant committee. Miss Patrick feels that the pageant will be a success because of the large group of supporters she has helping on the committee.

This year's pageant will be larger than ever attempted before and will be entirely new and different. The procession and marching will be the same but one of the main attractions will be a "May Pole Dance."

the political fault finders will find their efforts frustrated.

That the bill will make President Roosevelt a virtual dictator, as is charged by its opponents, is an absurdity. It is, indeed, most adequately provided with enough checks and balances between President and Congress to gladden the heart of the most obdurate Constitution drafter.

It would, indeed, take a great deal of imagination to devise a plan whereby the executive branch of our government might, through its agency, indulge in dictatorial practices.

Oppose Bill

It would certainly appear that the opposition comes from one of two sources — either from those whose unproductive jobs might be disturbed by a reorganization, or from those who are politically opposed to any bill advocated by the President.

Now playing, "Love, Honor and Behave" with Wayne Morris.
April 8, "Of Human Hearts" with Walter Huston and James Stewart.
April 12, "Bordertown" with Paul Muni.
April 15, Deanna Durbin in "Mad About Music."

PARK

Now showing, "Invisible Menace" and "Girl with Ideas."
April 8, "Man Proof" plus "Boy of the Streets."
April 12, "I Met My Love Again."
April 15, "Everybody Sing" also "Tarzan's Revenge."
April 19, "Gold" is Where You Find It" plus "The Girl Said No."
Coming April 27, San Carlo Co. presents — matinee, "Faust" — evening "Aida."

STRAND

Now showing, "Mannequin" and "Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo."
April 10, Pat O'Brien and Bette Davis in "Hell's House" also "Perfect Specimen."
April 14, "Man Proof" and "Thank You, Mr. Moto."
April 17, "You're a Sweetheart" plus "Missing Witness."
One Man's Opinion
"Of Human Hearts," shown last Saturday for press preview, is a forceful picture of pathos, whimsicality and emotional conflict set in the picturesque background of a period of conflict — the Civil War.

The hardships of a circuit-riding preacher of Ohio, misunderstanding between father and son, motherly devotion and self-sacrifice, and a son's unconscious neglect — all produce a film finely acted, capably directed and authentically set. "Of Human Hearts" is a four-star picture in One Man's Opinion.

War Denounced In Peace Survey

Students' disapproval of war received complete backing in the recent poll conducted under the auspices of the Jambar and the Cosmopolitan Club.

The proposed Neutrality Act that has been put into effect was considered to be the strongest defense against the participation of the United States in wars or armed conflicts of any kind.

One hundred ninety-two students unanimously agreed that they would fight for their country — if it was invaded. A few others signified they would fight in other cases, but opinion was against war and all that armed conflict stands for.

The question of how students stood in regards to the Officers Reserve Training Corps, received many diversified answers, but the majority agreed to make training of this kind optional.

Some of the outstanding answers to the questions that were listed in the poll are as follows: 80 favored a boycott against Japan; 96 favored withdrawal of American troops in China; 132 favored declaring Japan an aggressor and stopping all relations with her.

The largest group of votes polled were for declaring allegiance to the United States if it was invaded; the second largest was in favor of passing the billion-dollar naval appropriations bill.

Independent Party To Be Organized

A definite step was taken by the independents and non-fraternity students, Monday March 28, with a view toward the organization of an Independent Party of Youngstown College.

A meeting held at this time was attended by a large group which showed interest and enthusiasm toward a permanent organization to protect the interests of non-fraternity students. The meeting was held as a result of the political actions which accompanied the recent Prom Queen elections.

An organizing committee was appointed by the temporary chairman and it will draw up plans for the Independent Party.

Stanley Sylak was elected president of the Varsity Club at the last meeting of its groups. Tony Vivo was given the vice-presidency while Tom Robinson became the secretary and treasurer.

The club, whose members include all athletes who have received the varsity "Y" are attempting to unify themselves as one of the strongest groups on the campus. A spring program is being formulated.

Soloists Featured In Chapel Concert

The College Orchestra gave its first concert of the season in Chapel today. Featured soloist was Prof. Dykema, who played Sabathiel's "Le Canari" on the piccolo accompanied by the orchestra. Prof. Dykema is an accomplished flute artist and has studied under the famous George Barrere at the Julliard School of Music in New York. Irving Hotinsky, a new student in the School of Music, rendered Schumann's "Traumerli" on the violin. He was accompanied by Miss Elva Myerovich. Profs. Dykema and Myerovich, gave a flute and violin duet playing two movements from Kulan's concert duets.

Numbers by the orchestra included:

Dance of the Apprentices, R. Wagner; Entrance and March of Peers, A. Sullivan; March Classique, Von Weber; Procession of the Sarda, M. Ippolitow-ivanow. Dance of the Moorish Slaves, Verdi; Finale from "The Farewell Symphony" Haydn.

An item of interest to students is that P. W. Dykema, Prof. of Music at Columbia University, who collaborated in publishing "Classical Gems," from which the orchestral numbers were selected, is the father of our own Prof. Dykema.

Large Spring I. M. Program Planned

The spring intra-mural program announced today includes five sports which will make this season's program the largest in Yo Co history.

Handball, table tennis, volley ball, tennis, and soft ball are included on the schedule. The individual athletes in the college will be given a chance to show their wares, as handball, ping-pong, and tennis are not team competition. The volley ball and softball contests will be run off in the same manner as the winter basketball tournament.

All men in the college, both fraternity and independent, are urged to take part in these important affairs as set up by intra-mural director Ranny Layshon.

The following dates are not subject to change.

April 4 — Handball; April 18 — table tennis; April 18 — Volley ball; May 3 — tennis; May 11 — softball.

Cooper Will Coach Varsity Tennis Team

When our tennis team is practicing on Volney Roger's tennis courts this spring, Howard Cooper — one of the city's leading tennis enthusiasts and players — will be out there teaching our athletes the finer points of the game.

The number of tennis aspirants is soon to be cut down as the new coach feels that working with around ten men at the beginning of the season is the best procedure.

With most of last winter's varsity men back in school, Cooper feels that we should better last year's work of four wins and three losses very easily.

New comers to Youngstown College will find they have to replace Wagman, Inglis, Jaczko, Taylor, and Thomas to gain a position on the team. From all conditions it appears that the ability of some of the "new bloods" will make remaining on the team a hard job for any of those mentioned.

What ever may be the final tennis team selection. Youngstown can depend on Howard Cooper's varsity being feared by all of its rival tennis teams.

Why newspapers are like women
1. They are thinner than they used to be.

2. There is a bold face type.
3. Back numbers are not in demand.

4. They have a great deal of influence.

5. Every man should have one of his own and not chase after his neighbor's.

Maloney Chosen To Head Newman Club

The organization of the Newman Club reached completion last Sunday, March 27, when officers of the year were elected.

Paul Maloney is president; Robert Murphy, vice president; Stella Cassago, corresponding secretary; Madeline Agnone, recording secretary; Jerry Vanish, treasurer. Committee chairmen appointed by the new president include: men's membership, Dan Chance; women's membership, Marge McKeown; Social, Dave Mackil; and social secretary, Betty Haas.

Dr. Brennan, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Hubbard, and instructor at Ursuline Academy for five years was the speaker. He chose as his subject the influence of Catholics in the preservation and furthering of learning, using many references to men and events, particularly from the thirteenth century. Refreshments were served following his talk.
