Question And Answer: Booster Club Activity Asked About By Reader

Editor:

During the 1953-1954 school year a great idea swept this campus, and it carried enough force with the students to be realized immediately. The "Great Idea" I am referring to is the YoCo Boosters Club.

Through the energetic work of some of the leading students the Boosters did a wonderful job last year, but what has happened to those leading students this school year?

At the beginning of this semester memberships were available to the students for the nominal fee of one dollar. The question that now arises is, "What has happened to the money?"

I am aware that shakers were bought for the home football games and tickets to the John Carroll-YoCo football games were made cheaper to the members of the Boosters Club, but when and where have the reports of these expenditures been presented?

As a member of the club, and I believe I can speak for the majority of the members, I am completely unaware of any reports being made public or, as a matter of fact, any meeting being called.

Also I am wondering about the length of the present officers' tenure in office. I believe the occasion is rare in any organization on this campus that any officer's tenure shall exceed one year as a maximum. I now ask, "How long have the present officers been in office without an election?"

I am not trying to degrade the character of any of the officers, I would merely like to have the facts brought to light so that I and any other inquisitive members of the Boosters Club may be enlightened.

AN INQUISITIVE YOCCOITE

It has been brought to my attention by means of an anonymous letter written to the editor and various other uninformed sources that apparently the students are dissatisfied with the Booster Club this year. They say:

- a) The Booster Club "hasn't done anything this year."
- b) "There haven't been elections this year of new officers."
- c) "The finances have been used unwisely."
- d) "School spirit is very low."

Each of these individual complaints can be answered by one phrase: "Less talkers and more doers." If the students who gripe the loudest would apply their efforts in a constructive, tangible means, the club would open up to fulfill its potential. Lack of co-operation can be summed up to be the whole fault of the Booster Club.

Let's take each of the above mentioned categories, separately and examine them—Let's take the first statement, "the Booster Club hasn't done anything this year." With a group of three or four workers, the Booster club has: a) Given free admission to each dance after each home football game, b) given shakers to each Booster Club member (and usually non-members, too) at three games this year (possibly four games) instead of two games as last year.

c) Chartered a bus to Cleveland for students and Band for one away football game as done last year. (We also lost money on the trip, as last year.)

d) Decorated the stadium for most home games, e) Provided cheerleaders

Queen Rules Over Semi-Formal Dance Ted Hydros To Play

The Pan Hellenic Sweetheart Ball will cap this semester's social activities, when the Pan Hellenic Council and The Inter Fraternity Council will hold their annual dance on January 29. The familiar music of Ted Hydros and His Orchestra will be heard at the semi-formal affair to be held from nine to one at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Dana Presents Public Concert

The Youngstown College Concert Band under the direction of Prof. Raymond H. Dehnstiel of the Dana School of Music faculty, recently presented a public concert in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

The seven part program included the following numbers: "Overture for Band" by Mendelssohn "Ballet Music" from Prince Igor by Borodin, a trumpet trio "The Three Aces" by Herbert Clark played by George Harling, Andrew Moreland, and Wayne Miller; "Second Suite in F" by Gustav Holst, "Armenian Dances" by Aram Khachaturian, "Comedians Gallop" by Dmitri Kabalevsky, a baritone solo "Concerto for Cello" by Haydn - Harold Byrns played by Virginia Stewart; and "Prairie Legend" by Elie Siegmeister.

Members Named

Members of the band include: Flutes

Reigning over the evening's festivities will be a Queen and a court of three. Each sorority in the Pan Hellenic Council has named a candidate for the honor.

Candidates for the honor of Queen were Lucy Zarlenga of Beta Sigma Omicron, Patty Sequella of Gamma Sigma, Ruth Navin of Phi Lambda Delta and Yolanda Morano of Phi Mu.

The Queen was chosen by all Greeks on campus last Monday and Tuesday, but the results of the election were not known in time for inclusion in the JAMBAR.

The queen will receive her crown at intermission, with Fred Nebot as Master of Ceremonies. Following the intermission the dance will then resume until one a.m.

Cathy Nosich of Pan Hellenic Council and John "Corky" Grohovsky of the Inter Fraternity Council, will represent their respective organizations at the dance as co-chairmen.

Decorations for the dance are being taken care of by the pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Delta Beta Fraternities.

Plan Proposed To Convert Library Basement Into Temporary Student Union

Several petitions are being passed around the campus by a group of interested students to see what the student body thinks of the idea of converting the basement of the college library into a temporary Student Union.

Regazzo Has Tune Published

A musical composition, "Janet", with words and music by Bernie Regazzo, senior music major at the Dana School of Music, has been published by the Bullock Music Company of McKeesport, Pennsylvania.

Regazzo is also choir director for the Youngstown College Newman Club and has been active in musical activities at the college for sometime.

Ted Hydros, well-known student bandleader on campus, also a Dana School of Music student, has made an arrangement of the tune and has included it in his musical schedule for performance.

The petitions state that the proposed Union would be a "place where the individuals could have access to table tennis, pool, chess, records, cards, etc. There could be a juke box for dancing, coffee and donuts for refreshments and a place for different organizations to meet..."

The basic idea behind this proposed Union is to provide a place where students can meet informally and get to know each other, according to an interested student. The motto of each petition is "More campus life for the campus."

The English language is a funny thing. Tell her that time stands still when you look into her eyes and she'll adore you, but just try telling her that her face would stop a clock.

What About The Future?

There would appear little reason to doubt the success of the recently created Pan Hellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils. These two groups deserve praise for the work they have been doing to further fraternity and sorority relationships.

The Pan Hellenic Council has done a magnificent job of adopting rules governing sorority problems. The Inter-Fraternity Council has dealt with the old rushing and pledging problem in an extremely able manner.

The general feeling among the Greeks on campus is that the institution of this new system, that is, having one group to deal with the sororities and another to deal with the fraternities, is the best method so far adopted on this campus for bettering the relationships between all Greeks.

The new system has gotten off to a good start. There can be little doubt about that. But what of its future?

The future of both groups is completely dependent on the students that are rushed and pledged to become active members of each fraternity or sorority.

It is often said that "rushing is the life blood of a fraternity or sorority." This is all too true. But it should be added that rushing and pledging are also the lifeblood of both the Pan Hellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Each pledge is a potential member to represent his or her sorority or fraternity in these councils. Therefore, the whole future and success of both these young organizations depends on potential Greeks as well as actives.

It is often a sad fact that we dwell too complacently on the present and not enough on the future, because the future will someday become the present. Then it is too late.

We trust that such will not be the case of the Greeks at Youngstown College.

The Greeks on a campus can mean life or death to any college.

"Finalitis" Here Again

When you read this you will no doubt, as we will, be cramming for your finals. This is not a good state of affairs, but all victims of "finalitis" succumb to it eventually.

The point is often brought out that final examination time should be a time for evaluation of the courses we take. We should, in our preparation, it is said, look at the subject as a complete unit, not as a series of disconnected hours of classes.

The correct emphasis should be placed on looking on the courses we take as a complete unit all through the semester, not merely at the end of the semester.

Nowhere do we find better justification for making this statement than in the fact that cramming exists. If each course was being constantly evaluated for its scope and general understanding of the subject, then we feel that cramming would go out of style.

A Literary Magazine For YoCo?

As you might have noticed in this issue, there is a notice aimed at all students at Youngstown College who would like to see a literary magazine published at Youngstown College. This magazine would be written solely by students.

In our bi-weekly toil to publish a newspaper for Youngstown College, it has come to our attention that there are several students, either part or full-time, who might be willing to write literary pieces for publication, both poetry or prose, and yet who might not feel inclined to write newspaper stories.

We feel that such a magazine would be a commendable undertaking. Each student has a story to tell. Each student has a good imagination. It is a pity that both are not more frequently utilized for the general benefit of all students.

Writing does not require a great mass of brainpower. It is not a field restricted by any means to that group of society commonly referred to as "intellectuals."

Surely each one of us has a story to tell. The only thing required is to set that story down on paper. If what you write is interesting to yourself then it should be interesting to other students also.

We recommend such a magazine to you for your consideration.

Question: What has been your most humiliating experience as a pledge?

Dennis Katsaras - Nu Sigma Rho

I do not know if the experience was hectic, but it certainly was a "male-function." I was sent on a blind date and informed if she was displeased I would be the butt of drastic action. Imagine my concern to avoid the alternative. Throughout the evening a perfect gentleman was I. The out come? Ugh! I vow to one and all blind dates have seen the last of Dennis. She wasn't bad looking but she was one of my fellow pledges on a similar assignment. No questions please!

Bill Metzler - Sigma Sigma

One of the most humiliating tasks that a pledge can have is the normal, everyday rule of carrying the Fraternity paddle. Because we carry this trade mark of a pledge, we must get signatures of the active members of our own fraternity. And usually, as a consequence for receiving the actives signatures, we must pay a penalty which may be any crazy idea that comes into their heads. To obtain our revenge we will pass our paddles to those poor, innocent pledges of next year.

Howard Garrett - Pi Beta Chi

One thing I have found out to be true is that a pledge is very conspicuous in his actions and appearance. In appearance a pledge is recognized by his paddle and some other outstanding signs. Once I enter the cafeteria I get nothing done but get coffee, milk, water and other services for the actives. One more thing is that I consider myself as a walking cigarette and gun machine. In closing, much fun. Ha. Ha.

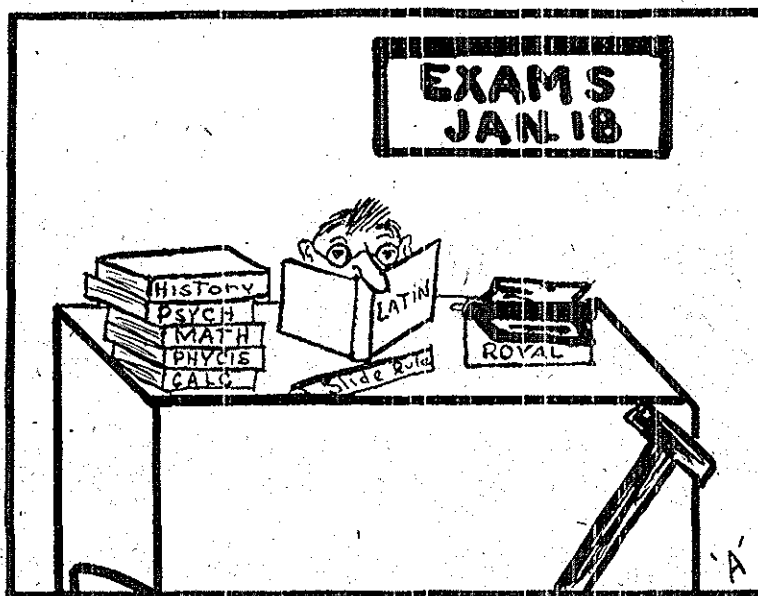

John Felde - Alpha Phi Delta

The pledges of Alpha Phi Delta are not asked to do anything that will hurt or embarrass them. The main purpose of our initiation is to learn as much about the fraternity as they can. Any humiliating experience is brought about by a pledge not addressing an active correctly which frequently happens to me.

Frank Di Giacomo - Kappa Sigma Kappa

My first reaction to this question was, "Oh No! Uh-uh! You don't pull that stuff on me. What're you trying to do? Set me up for more torture?" All I'd have to do is make some statement as to what I thought was the most humiliating pledge incident that I had experienced and I'd have all the actives on my back. Respecting the wisdom (horn of experience, not intelligence) in that reaction, I believe it will be best if I play it conservatively by saying this: There is no most humiliating experience because they, the actives, can always find one that will be even moreso.

"'Cause there you are, and here I am."
- Mr. George Gobel, NBC TV Star.

With the ENGINEERS . . .

The holidays are over - you've had it! Put away that ten pound bag of monogrammed walnuts from Aunt Martha and drag out those books. That time is here again.

Some of the boys in A.C. Lab won't have to worry about not passing the course. One more semester like that and the ole' lab just wouldn't be the same. Science marches on!

The O.S.P.E. has finally recovered from its tours and is now planning a display in one of the downtown stores for Engineers' Week in February. This should be a good project, so all you so called engineers lend a hand and let's put something out to show the taxpayers that we do get some results from all these long hard hours of studying.

Campaign is Due

While we're on the subject - I suppose the O.S.P.E. will be conducting their membership campaign soon, and all you new sophomores are now eligible. So don't get left out.

Mucho congratulations to Dean Franklin, Mr. Kramer, Mr. Kingshinn, Mr. D'Isa, Mr. Charignon and all the rest of the faculty in the Electrical and Mechanical Departments for getting those courses accredited by the E.C.P.D. You may not know it, but that's a big step forward. They've already started expanding the school.

Haven't you noticed the new numerals for the rooms in Clingan-Waddell Hall?

Well, I'll have to cut this one short. I still have fourteen lab reports to do.

Hit those books, friends, and I'll be see'ing you around next semester.

Letter To The Editor

Editor:

Something's the matter, I need help. It goes like this, three chapels a year the churches are just filled with students then the next Wednesdays and the ones in between, everyone gets lost. What's the answer?

"Twenty minutes, that's all, and it could relax you and make you forget your troubles and give you a serene outlook on your classes, your life and problems."

Everyone's got problems, who hasn't? Wouldn't everyone like help in solving them, you know, that hard class, money (always money), maybe there's a little problem between your family and you, anyway why not try going to chapel and as the old hymn says, "Carry everything to God in prayer?"

What have you got to lose, twenty minutes! Twenty minutes out of a rigorous schedule of chess, gossip and eating, I know, but you still have 40 minutes till 1:00 for these, so what goes kids, why not go to chapel 12:00 to 12:20 in either St. Joseph's for Catholic students or St. John's for Protestants.

See you in chapel Wednesday? Bring a friend.

A STUDENT

"I've got my husband to the point where he eats out of my hand."
"Saves a lot of dishwashing, doesn't it?"

Doctor: "Ask that accident victim his name, so we can notify his family."
Nurse (few minutes later): "He says his family already knows his name."

Advertising Test Is Feb. 5

Careers in advertising again will beckon to Ohio college students -- juniors and seniors -- and other interested young men and women when the American Association of Advertising Agencies conducts its annual aptitude tests in Cleveland on Saturday, February 5, in 1955.

The examination, sponsored at Cleveland by the city's chapter of the AAAA, is given to encourage qualified young persons to enter the advertising business. Nationally the test has a high record of placement of examinees in advertising and in related fields, according to Chairman E. V. Carlquist of the AAAA examination committee at Cleveland, and a vice president of Fuller & Smith & Ross Inc.

Received Rating

Each candidate receives an official rating, based on a thorough scientific test of aptitudes, temperament and practical knowledge. The candidate may authorize the AAAA to circulate this rating among agencies in the area in which he or she resides, or candidates may use the ratings to submit to a prospective employer as evidence of qualification for the advertising field.

Carlquist urged promptness in writing for full information about the examination. He suggested the coming holiday season as a convenient and practical time for enrolling for the tests. Information and application blanks may be obtained by writing: E. V. Carlquist, AAAA Examination Committee Chairman, c/o Fuller & Smith & Ross Inc., 1501 Euclid Ave. Cleveland 15, Ohio. A charge of $20 is made for each application.

Looking Around...

by Ray Schindell

By the time this goes to press, I imagine the oooing and awwing over every one's Christmas presents will have subsided and we can settle down to the miserable business of finals. This is always a lot of fun and the looks on students' faces around this time make Mr. Vaschak (of funeral home fame) rub his hands together, speculatively.

"But things ain't as bad as dey seem" exclaims Iguatz Fortz an English major, who is quite prepared for his final in Badminton (his only class this year.) The comments of other students concerning the dreaded event run something like this. Terry Fitzgerald "I am always very consistent in my work and I expect to fail my finals as usual."

Izzie Splain: "finals aren't bad, its the grade you get on them that hurts." And Roger Cain insists that finals give one a chance to evaluate oneself in regard to academic achievement, or as he put it - "you can see how dumb you really are."

Joe Phelan, Don Phillips, Jerry Eberhart and Jack Storey are having lots of coffee and cigarettes lately. For those all night sessions with the books - chin up fellows, the worst is yet to come.

Pledging as you've probably noticed is in full swing and from time to time you will undoubtedly notice seemingly sane people doing some very insane things. Just bear in mind that this too shall pass, which is more than I can say for myself.

A good time was had by all at the big Sig Delt Christmas Dance. Always a favorite. Lots of thanks go to Bela Csejty, Bob Mahoney, Marty Flynn and Bill Conroy for the work they did.

Jumping Tony Knott is at it again this year, stinking basket after basket. For the YoCo's and backed up by Fred Cleary, Bob Mayberry, Bob Atterholt, Ed Poplava, Ralph Melfi and Charlie Moore every game is a thriller. Make it a habit to attend as many games as possible. Believe me you won't be sorry - about all for now.

STUDENTS ARE ECSTATIC about Luckies. That's the word, straight from the latest, largest college survey ever. Again, the No. 1 reason Luckies lead in colleges over all other brands, coast to coast—border to border: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. This famous Lucky Strike process tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. ## With the Greeks . . .

by Ella Clark, Joan Pavlov

The Greeks have all recuperated after the long holiday rest. Rest, who rested? Every one had parties or went to parties during the holidays. But its back to the books because its exam time again.

The Phi Lambs held their annual "Poppa party" for the underprivileged children at the Christ Mission on Dec. 18 with Lois Jacobson in the role as Santa Claus. Paying for this party was accomplished by a bake sale that was held on December 20, in the Central Tower Building. They also had their dinner dance in the Cascade Room of the Pick-Ohio Hotel in which the Krupa Sisters and Joann Gioglio entertained.

Winding up their holiday festivities was a gift exchange party at the Phi Lamb Room. Mary Summers and Betty Mastadonna held a shower for Ginger DeMarzio, Mrs. Richard Boyle, to be. Congratulations to Ruth Navin, the Phi Lamb candidate for Pan-Hellenic.

Xmas Party Held

The Phi Mus also had a Christmas party at the home of Terry Fitzgerald with a funny gift exchange, highlighting the evening. Their alumni advisors Ginny Zerar and Ginny Gordon attended with three district Phi Mus from Penn State, Ohio State, and Virginia University as guests.

The alumni and active chapter held a reception for all district Phi Mus for Christmas vacation. Visiting New York City during Christmas vacation were Sandy Butler and Carolyn Easter. Congratulations to Yolie Morano, Phi Mu candidate for the Pan-Hellenic.

Parties at Home

Over the Christmas holidays the Beta Sig's enjoyed themselves with parties at homes of their sisters. Cathy Nosich entertained at her home and also Janet Higgins had a party after caroling at the alumni homes. Lucy Zarlena, the president of Beta Sig's, was nominated candidate for the Pan-Hellenic dance. Virginia Schar's eyes danced when she opened a tiny box at Christmas and found a diamond ring. Congratulations to Doris McClelland, who announced her marriage at an open house that was held for her Sunday, Jan. 2.

Highlighting the Gamma Sig's events was their Christmas party that was held on December 22, with Helen Savic as chairman, at the Mannechoir. A gift exchange was also held at Rhoda Sabel's on Dec. 20. Lillian Lindquist received the first ring for New Year's, which was surprising because of last year's number of nine receiving rings for Christmas.

Representing the Gamma Sig's in the Pan-Hellenic dance will be their candidate, Patty Sequella. On January 7, a slumber party was held at Jody Konesky to celebrate the birthdays of Alma Mackin, Rhoda Sabel and Marylee Davis.

Held First Reunion

The Gamma Sigma Sorority held their first reunion for their alumni at Pollock House on Dec. 12th. It was a huge success with Ella Clark as head of the committee with Loretta Liptak, Anna Mae Franko, Diane Burke, Marylee Davis and Joan Pavlov.

The fraternities activities are slowing down after all the Christmas and New Year's parties. The Phi Gams held their Christmas party at the Phi Gam Room with Ralph Reel as chairman. On New Year's Eve, a party was held at the Ma-Fe club with Joe Pheasant and Tom Moran as the chairmen.

Phi Gams home for the holidays were Ike McHugh, Don Williams, Tom Dundon, Herbie Bartlemay and Tiger Dempsey.

Pi Beta Chi was very pleased that their January Jump turned out to be a success, and wish to thank all the students for patronizing the dance.

Also thanking the students for the success of their Annual Christmas dance are the Sig Delt's. The Sig Delt's have just elected new officers for the coming year with Warren Gurski, president, John Grohovsky, vice president, Marty Flynn, secretary and Don Hoeszel as treasurer.

In high school she was active in music, dramatics and journalism and was a member of the National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll and the National Thespian Society for Dramatics.

SONG OF CHRISTMAS

The streets are wet and icy, the night is very cold;
The snow is white and glist'ning; the moon shines
as of old.
The people all are sleeping, no light is to be seen
The darkness is quite peaceful as children sleep and dream.
But wait! Neath one lone lamp post a little girl
I see,
Her clothes are all in tatters and she cries un-happily.
It seems that on this Christmas Eve she has no home at all,
There is no mother's warm embrace, there'll be no
Christmas doll.
And as she waits she sees a star shining high above
Looking down upon the earth, telling of God's love.
The light grows brighter as she stands and an angel
there appears
Who asks her please to give a smile and dry away her tears.
The angel leads her to a stair; the child's no longer cold,
And far above the Heavenly Star is like unto great gold.
No longer will she stand and cry, alone and without love.
This child has found the greatest peace that angels share above.

Phi Epsilon men have a few who either pinned their girls or game them rings over Christmas. Among them are Joe Malenic, Ronnie Schink giving pins and Eddie Alberth and Bob Kapp with engagement rings for their girls. They had a Christmas party and New Year's Eve party with another party being held at Shirley Aey's house. John Constarella is leaving for New York to take dancing lessons. John Driscoll, first pledge to be installed in 1955 left for the Marines last week, after a big sendoff party given by his fellow library workers. Bill Nagy and Jack Hamley are to be co-chairmen of the Mardi Gras. Congratulations.

Jim Mangie and Jack Martinec were chairmen of the Kappa Sig New Years Eve party and Tom Carney, for the Christmas party. Both parties were held at the Blue Crystal. They were both a success with every one having a terrific time. Chuck Leonard and Fred Nebot lead the group in singing Christmas carols. Over Christmas vacation, Bill McCabe's wife had a baby girl.

Party at Storey's

The Sig Sig's had another party at Jack Storey's house. This one was after Midnight Mass on Christmas. Breakfast was served.

Alpha Phi Delta has been doing a lot of travelling these days. They went to Ohio State and Steubenville College where they were shown a very good time by their brothers. Ralph Melfi was in charge of making arrangements for the championship game between the Browns and Lions.

They are planning a party for the chapter at Steubenville College after the Steubenville-Youngstown College game.

Drama Guild To Hold Plays

The Spring One Act Competitive Plays was the topic at the January 5 meeting of the Drama Guild backstage at Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

It was suggested that all organizations should begin planning their one act plays now in order to be ready and eligible for the Play Competition. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

Tryouts were held on last Monday and Tuesday, January 10 and 11.

for home basketball games. I tried, but couldn't through lack of personnel to act as guards, reserve the section between the two forty yard stripes. Yet most members did get those seats, all did not, I'll admit.

Now let's look at the second complaint. "There haven't been elections this year of BC Officers." Last year the Booster Club was the largest organization on campus, totalling over 200 members. Attendance at the Noon meetings would range from 10 to 25 people, approximately 10%. Later on in the semester attendance was nil at these meetings. This showed me a definite tendency toward "you give and I'll take" philosophy.

People expected something for which they wouldn't exert any effort. This attitude, unfortunately, still prevails. The only difference now is they not only sit down, but they sit down and complain.

How can you have elections when there is no one to elect or be elected? If one person would have come up to any officer and said "what can I do to help?" I can guarantee you, he would have gotten a job and, in addition, an office. We don't want the offices, either. One year's service is more than enough.

The third complaint has to do with unwise spending of money. To this I say my books are open to inspection at any time, by anybody. But that's not enough, let's take a closer look at the finances. This year we have not received one cent from the record dances. In fact it has cost us money for each dance.

Last year we made money on the dances, but this year another club received the profit. We promised the dances, so we kept our promise. This year at three games you got shakers. Cost per game: approximately $54 per game. Another promise kept.

Decorations at each game cost money also. We lost money approximately $70 on the bus to John Carroll. We promised this too, so we did it. All in all, there are few, if any, promises we didn't keep.

The fourth and last major complaint that is brought up has to do with school spirit, or rather the lack of it. We of the Booster Club are only human. We can only do so much. We can lead the horse to water but we cannot force it down his throat. We have tried our best to provide a means to school spirit.

What was done by the students after we have done our jobs is a matter that is out of our hands. I can truthfully say we have tried our best to do an unrewarding job. Maybe we have failed, maybe we have not. That is up to you.

But one thing I do know is the fact that a little more combined effort and a little less idle talk will provide a better club for all concerned.

"Sixty Plus" Jamboree Held by Sociology Class

A new twist has been added in the way of finals for this semester. Instead of a written exam which is the usual procedure, the class of Sociology of the Aging is staging a Sixty-Plus Jamboree for the aged of the community at Isaly's Auditorium, 1033 Mahoning Avenue from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. The Jamboree will be held January 22.

Robert A. Beameir and J.R. Gates are co-chairmen of the complete affair. The rest of the class are on various committees.

The members of the publicity committee have a program arranged ending with a community sing. The program will be introduced by the Rev. Chester Holmquist and Mayor Frank X. Kryzan.

Ted Conner, WFMJ Radio-TV announcer, will be Master of Ceremonies and award special gifts contributed by local merchants. The program will feature music by a well-known choral group and concert band, singer and a pianist.

Be Hostesses

Ann Herschel and Joanne Harrison will be special hostesses and the rest of the class will act as general hosts and hostesses.

The Isaly Dairy Company will provide and serve refreshments. If anyone knows persons aged 60 or over who would be interested, the Sociology class extends their cordial invitation.

"Do you realize," said a man in a cafeteria to a stranger across the table, "that you are reading your newspaper upside down?"

"Of course I realize it," snapped the stranger. "Do you think it's easy."

How About You?

How about a job for YOU? Do you read the JAMBAR? Do you study its appearance; do you read its stories? Do you see room for improvement in the writing and appearance of the JAMBAR?

If you answer yes to all those questions then you may be the person we are interested in meeting, because you might be the next editor of the JAMBAR.

If you are interested in helping Youngstown College become a better college, if you are interested in learning more about your college and if you are interested in a scholarship, then we are interested in you.

Opportunity is still open for anyone interested in becoming Editor of the JAMBAR for 1955-56. Because of the printing process used in preparing the JAMBAR, offset printing, applications should be turned in at once. It requires a good semester to learn about editing a newspaper.

Any application stating experience (although this is not a necessary requirement) and where you can be reached should be placed in the JAMBAR mailbox in the Registrar's Office in the Main Building - Box 69. This should be done as quickly as possible.

It's an opportunity for you, so don't discard the idea without giving it good consideration.

TO ALL THOSE INTERESTED IN WRITING

A few eager students at Youngstown College would like to publish a literary magazine. This is not a humor magazine. It would give a student a chance to see his own writing in an authorized serious publication. Material would include short stories, poetry, criticisms, etc.

Most larger schools now have this type of publication and there is no reason why we shouldn't. Our school is growing each day and there is surely sufficient talent on campus for a magazine of this type.

This chance is open to all students, so if you are interested please contact Joe Shagrin at the NEON office or Dr. Harder.

Two Freshmen Bolster Youngstown Team Spirit

Moore Keeps Opposition Shaky with His Tactics

Charlie Moore, the Penguins answer to Marquis Haynes, has been keeping the opposition in a dither throughout the basketball season with his ball handling antics. His sterling defensive play has also been giving the opposing high scorers ulcers with his cutting down of their points output.

The flashy freshman is constantly in someone's hair while patrolling his guard spot.

On defense the 5'11", 148 pound scraper is one of the locals chief weapons. His pesky hand waving tricks and pilfering of the ball hardly ever gives a man a chance to try and take a set shot. Driving around, Charlie has also been suicide due to his speedy reflexes. Against Mt. Union, the clever YoCoite held the mounts scoring ace Lee Thomas to mere four points.

Been Effective

On the offensive side of the ledger the former North High Ace has been equally effective. His tricky dribbling, smooth passing and slick play-making have played a vital factor in Youngstown's scoring.

Even though he does not shoot much he still must be regarded as one of the locals key men due to his setting up of his teammates for shots. However on occasion, Moore can score with considerable effectiveness.

His highest scoring feat was achieved against Marietta as he sent 15 points to the cause.

Charlie is a local product who played his scholastic ball with the North High Bulldogs. He started his career in his freshman year where he was the team's leading scorer. The following campaign he became a regular for the varsity.

Earned a Berth

In his junior year he earned a second team berth on the All City Cage Team. He also was selected on the All Tournament Team the same year.

"Much of the credit for my success must be given to my coaches," related the Penguin cager, "It was Harold Luxon my junior high school coach who helped me conquer my fear and taught me how to drive. My varsity coach Roy Kroll was the man who instilled in me my hustling attitude."

After graduating in January of 1954 he signed to play for Smilies B. Team in the Hubbard Invitational Tournament. Here he was named the leagues most valuable player and was second in league scoring.

Besides being a cage star Charlie also was outstanding in football and track at North. He was quarterback for their grid team and did the 440 in track.

For relaxation the active athlete can be found spending his time at the roller rink enjoying his skating hobby.

Atterholt Is New Penguin Scoring Ace

By Tom Kolic

Colorful Bob Atterholt, one of the most potent freshman scoring weapons to take to the Youngstown College hardwoods, has been continually bringing crowds to their feet with his artistic shooting.

Atterholt comes to YoCo with the most impressive high school record of any Penguin cager. While a junior at Sharon High he was awarded a first place forward berth on the All American Highschool Basketball Team. He also made the first squad on the All Pennsylvania Team in both his junior and senior years.

In his course of play the 18 year old lad has secured nine trophies. The most prized is his 15 inch trophy obtained for being the outstanding player in the Hoyle Tournament in Sharon.

Fits in Well

The 6'3", Sharonite has found little trouble in adapting himself to college competition. Even though he is listed as being a forward he has also played at the center and guard slots. No matter which position he plays at it never influences his point output.

Bob relies on no one favorite shot, but rather shoots whatever the situation at hand calls for. If he has time he fires a set, when an opening is spotted he drives in, and while moving away from the hoop he may flip in a hook or else dunk in a jumpshot. He connects on all with equal effectiveness.

"We've gotten off to a bad start this year but have good material and I expect us to catch fire at almost anytime. When we do we're going to give a lot of teams trouble," stated the blonde haired athlete.

Started In Seventh

He started his basketball career in the seventh grade at Sharon junior high. In his freshman year he became the junior high team's leading scorer averaging 17 points per fray.

In his sophomore year he became a regular for the varsity.

"A great deal of credit should be given to my coaches Bud Laycock and Don Bennett. They helped me a great deal," emphasized Atterholt.

A university student was on his way to visit some friends during the summer vacation. The way led through a swamp.

"Say" he asked his elderly guide, "is it true that an alligator won't hurt you if you carry a torch?" The guide thought for a moment. "Depends on how fast you carries it, I reckon."

Sporting Views

by Tom Kolic

While most of the students of Youngstown College were looking for that last piece of turkey in the icebox or trying to figure out what Christmas gifts they should wear to the New Years party, the Penguin cagers were sacrificing their time to practice.

Of course we know whoever is kind enough to sacrifice his time will always be rewarded, and indeed our cagers were. They secured for the second straight year the consolation trophy in the Second Annual Youngstown Invitational Cage Tourney.

The locals lost their first game of the tourney to a very fast and high scoring Westminster team 99-67. It just wasn't YoCo's day. Everything went wrong for the wick Ave. five, while it seemed like Santa was delivering his gifts to the Titans a few days late but they were big ones and worth waiting for.

Tony (the terror) Knott lead the hometowners with 22 markers. Not far behind were Bob Atterholt and Ed Poplavla with 19 and 16 respectively.

Outplayed from Field

The Rossellimen were outplayed by far from the field as they connected on only 15 of 61 attempts, while the opposition was popping the cords on 39 out of 83 tries.

It was a do or die situation for the YoCoites the following day, and do they did as they knocked off Geneva 82-74 to win the consolation honors.

Cleary, Mayberry Comeback

The chief reason for change in the outcome of this game with that of Westminster was the fine play of Fred Cleary and Bob Mayberry. The previous evening Cleary collected only one foul toss while Mayberry was securing five.

However, against the Covies this duo was at their best. Fred was hitting his rainbow shot to the count of 20 points while Bob was working on the boards to get his 19 tallies. Not far behind were Bob Atterholt's 17 and Tony Knott's 13.

All Tourney

Freshman Bob Atterholt was placed on All Tourney first team. Tony Knott won a berth on the second team.

A broken down nag was offered for sale to the highest bidder. A dapper young dude finally bought him. When the sale was completed the farmer turned to the dude and asked: "What on earth are you planning to do with the old nag?"

Record Ramblings . . .

By Ben VanCobb

Well, I've stacked away all of my old records from 1954 and I'm anxiously waiting to see what the new year will have to offer in the way of new hits, artists, and bands.

'54 was full of good recordings, but most of them, like most recordings in the popular field, will soon be forgotten. The sooner that some of them are forgotten the better, but others will linger around for some time yet before they are replaced by new hits.

"Earth Angel"

The song that is off to a flying start in 1955 is "Earth Angel", by the Penguins. Although this number is recorded by the Crew-Cuts also their rendition seems to lack the feeling that the Penguins have so effectively put into their recording.

Disc-jockeys may be inclined to play the recording by the more popular Crew-Cuts, but I feel that public demand will keep the Penguins out in front.

"They're Going Places"

Those who have had the pleasure of hearing these future stars are waiting for the boys from YoCo, who have combined their voices to produce a very fine singing group. The group, as yet, doesn't have a name but the members are: Sir Percy Gibbs, Joe "The Bass" Danner, Jack "The Voice" Chugden and Don "Bill Kenny" Bell.

I've had the pleasure of attending quite a few of their rehearsals and the boys have steadily improved, and now they sound better than some of the country's leading singing groups. So keep your eyes on these boys in '55 because they are definitely going places.

"The Blues"

With only a few more days remaining in this semester most of the students seem to be singing the same type of songs. What? "BLUES".

Some of the songs that I've heard them sing about could be titled as follows: "The Term Paper Blues", "I Wish That I Had Studied More Blues", "Burning The Midnight Oil Blues", "The Examination Blues", and last but not least, "Will I Fail Again Blues".

Dennis "The Menace" Katsaras

If any of you are interested in the modern jazz sounds you should strike up a conversation with Dennis, he is quite a connoisseur on the subject. He has quite a large collection of jazz recordings at home with Errol Garner being his favorite artist.

Dennis says that he also goes for the semi-classics also. Montavani being his favorite in this field.

"Sinatra"

Frank Sinatra, who in my opinion is one of the most improved male vocalists, is establishing himself as an actor also. Frank has followed up his "Oscar" winning performance in "From Here To Eternity" with another good performance in "Young At Heart", in which he co-stars with Doris Day another wonderful singer.

"Ruth Brown"

Ruth Brown has once again been voted the Rhythm and Blues Personality of the year. Ruth's latest releases are: "Mambo Baby", and "Somebody Touched Me". Proof of her ability rises from the fact that some well-known female vocalists in the popular field constantly record her releases, use her style of singing, and make themselves some nice fat royalties.

That's it for now, but I'll see you again in exactly two weeks when once again I go Record Rambling.

A cowboy wearing an enormous, flashing gem was asked by an awestruck friend: "Is that diamond genuine?" "If it ain't," the cowboy drawled, "I sure been beat out of a dollar and a half."

Combined Annually

British Universities have combined annually since 1948 to organize a special program of summer schools. Courses are planned to serve the needs of well-qualified undergraduates in their junior or senior years or of post-graduate students. In the past participants have come from fifteen to twenty-five different countries.

Although two-thirds of the students at previous sessions have come from English-speaking countries, the opportunity to live in a university community with fellow students of similar interests from many nations has become a feature of the courses.

The courses attract those ranging
