Council Opens First Session

Plans for the upcoming Homecoming Queen election will be able to continue as a result of the passage by Student Council yesterday of a revised election procedure.

This action, which came during Council's first meeting of the year, was necessitated by a Council resolution last year which prohibited any further elections until a new code was adopted.

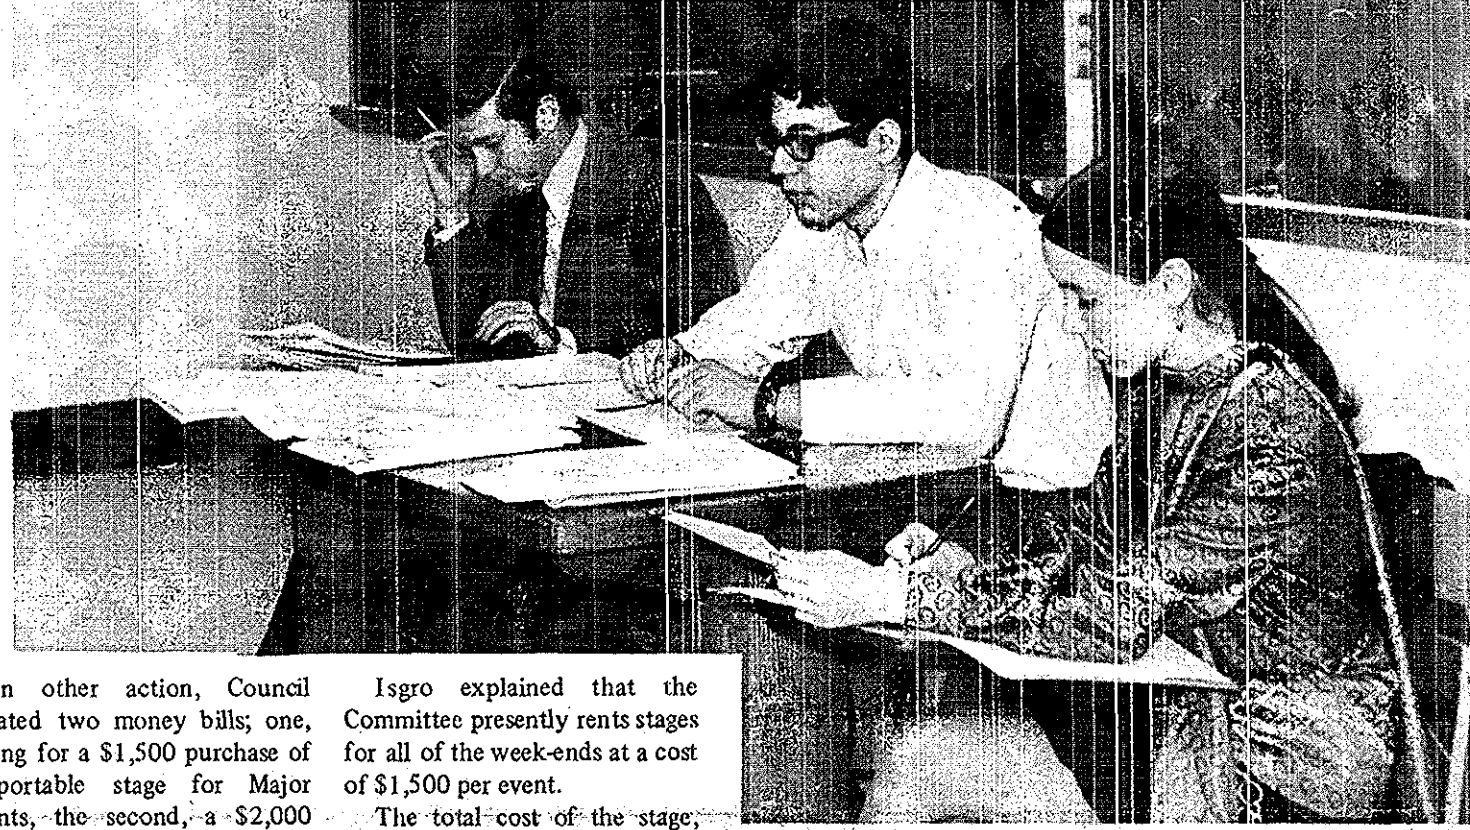

The new rules, introduced by representative-at-large Chuck Hettler, change old procedure in three ways.

The Council hopes to foil all attempts of illegal voting by requiring proof of identification in addition to the YSU ID. Beginning with the Queen elections, voters will be required to show either their driver's license, social security, or draft card.

With the same objective in mind, the new rules call for a ledger IBM card where the student's ID is imprinted and signed.

Additionally, Hettler's bill will lower the grade requirements for candidates in Council sponsored elections from 2.50 to 2.25.

Adoption of this last point was preceded by an effort to maintain the old standing requirement which failed as an amendment, 7-10.

In other action, Council debated two money bills; one, calling for a $1,500 purchase of a portable stage for Major Events, the second, a $2,000 appropriation to the Special Lecture Series Committee for campus organization's speakers.

Council passed the $1,500 Major Events allocation but held up for further study the request of the Special Lecture Series Committee.

Student Government president Pete Isgro made the request for Major Events stating that the portable stage, to be used at all Major Events sponsored activities, would pay for itself.

Isgro explained that the Committee presently rents stages for all of the week-ends at a cost of $1,500 per event.

The total cost of the stage, estimated at $5,600, will be shared by the Council and the Major Events Committee.

In other action, Council chairman Greg Bednarcik made appointments to Council Standing Committees, and Student Government president Pete Isgro rounded out his executive cabinet with appointments to Major Events, Student Organizations, and the Council and Government Auditor.

Mets Do It At Last Will Meet Orioles In Series

The New York Mets, once the laughing stock of baseball, stunned Atlanta 7-4 Monday, completed a three game sweep of the Braves in their best of five playoff series and won the National League championship.

The Mets created in 1962 and for years the perennial 10th place finisher, will meet AL pennant winners the Baltimore Orioles in the World Series, beginning Saturday.

Tommie Agee, Ken Boswell, and Wayne Garrett all hit home runs as the Mets came from behind 2-0 and 4-3 deficits for their biggest victory ever. Nolan Ryan, a hard-throwing right hander, replaced struggling young Gary Gentry in the third inning, pitched out of bases loaded jam and received credit for the decision.

Veterans Hank Aaron and Orlando Cepeda each had a two run homer for Atlanta, which was an 11-10 favorite to beat New York in the playoffs.

The Mets won 100 games in the regular season in taking the championship, while Atlanta took the West title in the new, 12 team set up.

Don Bufford cracked nine hits between them and the rampaging Baltimore Orioles charged into the 1969 World Series Monday, completing a three-game American League playoff sweep with an 11-2 romp over the Minnesota Twins.

Isgro Tells of Open Positions

Peter Isgro, Student Council president, announce yesterday that student positions on student-faculty committees are now available. Isgro explained that the positions, created by University Senate approval on June 6th, are not as numerous as was originally desired by Council, but are nonetheless of the "utmost importance."

Applications for committee positions are being accepted in the Council offices in Kilcawley Student Center. Positions in the following committees are available.

Academic Affairs Council- Recommends admission and graduation requirements, rating policies and procedures, advanced placement, graduation honors, and other matters of academic standards.

Honor Courses and Programs Sub Committee- To initiate, review, and coordinate honor programs. Requires 3.0 average.

Special Events- To promote, plan, and arrange for the presentation of extra curricular lectures and other special events of educational value which involve University funding.

Student Affairs Committee- To recommend policies, primarily concerned with student welfare.

Foreign Student Sub Committee- Recommend policies for assisting foreign students enrolled in the University. Preference to foreign students.

Scholarship and Financial Aid Sub Committee- Recommend policy on scholarships and financial aid.

Alumni Affairs Committee- To cooperate with alumni projects and programs to the University.

Council on Teacher Education- To function as a university-wide advisory committee to the Dean of the School of Education on academic matters related to (continued on page 4)

International

VATICAN CITY-Greeting each other with "shalom"-the Hebrew salutation which means peace-Pope Paul VI and Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban conferred for about an hour Monday about prospects for a Middle East peace.

A Vatican communique said the pontiff "listened attentively" as Eban explained Israel's position on Arab refugees, Jerusalem, the holy sites and efforts to reach a settlement with the Arab states.

The Pope, it said, then outlined the Church's positions on the Middle East issues and offered his help in achieving "a just and durable peace and a fraternal and fruitful coexistence."

PARIS-A spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks denied today that there had been any secret contacts between the United States and Hanoi.

Referring to reports of such a contact, the spokesman described them as "a maneuver of the Nixon administration in trying to elude the demands of U.S. and World public opinion."

UNITED NATIONS-Nationalist China declared today that turmoil on the Chinese mainland may prompt the Communist regime to launch new acts of aggression in Southeast Asia. Wei Tao-ming, foreign minister of the Nationalist regime on Formosa, told the 126-nation General Assembly Peking's objective would be to divert the people's attention from domestic pressures.

National

CHICAGO-Two contending wings within the tempest-tossed Students for a Democratic Society are heading for a confrontation that could leave the nation's major radical youth organization in shambles.

"Very soon, the only active people left in SDS will be FBI agents," said one radical who, like many others, fears the impending showdown could result in the demise of both factions.

The two factions-"The Weatherman" and the Revolutionary Youth Movement II-are planning a series of competing demonstrations beginning Wednesday in this city which has become a radical focal point because of the federal conspiracy trial of eight movement leaders. The charges stem from the violence accompanying last year's Democratic National Convention.

WASHINGTON-The Supreme Court opened its 1969-70 term Monday with a new chief justice, a sedate ceremony-and a vacant seat.

The new chief, Warren E. Burger, presided over the uneventful 28 minute session. Its serenity contrasted sharply with the still unsettled dispute in the Senate over the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to succeed Abe Fortas on the high court.

WASHINGTON-Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today there may be a breakthrough in the Vietnam war in the next 60 to 90 days.

The minority leader said the breakthrough could occur in either the diplomatic or military area but that "I would shade it a little toward the military."

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said, in answer to a newsman's question, that he knew of no secret negotiations now under way to end the war.

State

CINCINNATI-The student senate at the College of Mt. St. Joseph decided Monday to postpone a religious day Oct. 15 because a group has called for a national day of protests then against the Vietnam War.

Students at the Roman Catholic women's college here were to be dismissed from classed Oct. 15 for a "Time Out Day." A college spokesman said that "the day was evolving into participation in a move which wasn't the intent of the day." He said it was to be a time for "spiritual reflection" with special programs being offered at the college.

The senate will set a date later for its "Time Out Day." However, a "Mass for Peace" will be held Oct. 15, the day when the Vietnam Moratorium Committee has urged persons to demonstrate against the war, and students and faculties at colleges and high schools to leave their classes.

Goldwater Kicks Off Series-

1969 Lecture Preview

Senator Barry Goldwater, 1964 Republican candidate for President, will open the 1969-70 annual artist lecture series. Goldwater, junior senator from Arizona and noted conservative, will speak about "A Look at the Decade Ahead" at 8 p.m. Friday, October 17, in Stambaugh Auditorium as part of the Skeggs lectures series.

In addition to the Goldwater speech, Mr. Joseph Koornich, assistant professor of advertising and business, announced that the Lecture Series committee will offer a program of ten outstanding speakers.

Aids Picture Okay Despite Federal Cuts

Cuts in federal appropriations and a complete absence of guaranteed student loans "have not hurt us severely" is the early Fall Quarter report of Col. John Wales, director of financial aids.

Wales stated late last week that his office has been able to service most requests for financial aid with the exception of "late applicants" and applicants whose family income is above the national cutoff line.

The financial aids picture here was placed in doubt last spring when the U.S. Office of Education announced major cuts in National Defense Student Loans and Educational Opportunity Grants. At that time, Wales estimated that YSU would lose almost fifty percent of the school's request.

Wales stated last week however, that YSU was able to allocate NDSL loans this quarter at the same rate as last because of "money coming back into the

Colonel John Wales
University by loan repayments." He added that the EOG cuts, considered alone, have had little effect because in addition to the cuts, the federal government raised the qualifying income level to $6,000.

"Even though we got less money," Wales stated, "much is left over because we haven't got the people to qualify."

Despite President Nixon's plea to the nation's banking interests, students here have been unable to negotiate any guaranteed student loans from area banks.

Wales explained that since December, 1968, the government no longer paid a part of the interest or guaranteed the total cost of a student loan.

He added that large amounts of paper work, a profit of only 7%, and the expectation that they won't begin to receive payment on the loan for several years, all contribute to bank's disinterest in guaranteed student loans.

Wed. Gates Speech On Grape Workers

Fr. John Banks, a Roman Catholic priest who recently returned to Youngstown following a fact-finding trip of the grape workers' organizing efforts in California, will speak at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Gates of Eden Coffee House.

Fr. Banks' speech will mark the opening of the Gates Wednesday evening discussions which were an often occurrence last year.

The opening of the Gates, slated for both days and evenings this year, will feature the addition of weekly group therapy sessions, Burton Cantrell, clergy coordinator and protestant chaplain, announced yesterday.

The group therapy sessions are for the benefit of those students who indicate a need for such counseling. Students interested in joining the sessions should contact Mr. Cantrell in Jones Hall.

The sessions will be conducted by Rev. John Weigel, pastor of St. John's episcopal church and Mr. Al Sachs, a social worker with the Youngstown Mental Health Clinic.

Fall quarter hours are daily from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., and Wednesday from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Paradox

The Administration's statement (see this page) on the October 15 Vietnam Moratorium is more than most people concerned with the local planning expected; more, but not enough. We had hoped that classes would be set aside for this occasion. To not do so makes a good part of the Administration statement ludicrous in its detail.

In one breath they tell us that it is our "deep and continuing concern" to delve into the problems that plague this country and the world, and that the University is the place where this action should properly find expression. Yet in the next, they tell us that these things must be done on our own time and must not interfere with normal class activities.

And so the Administration has, in fact, said that these issues are not the major concern of the University. The most important thing for them, it would seem, is attendance. As long as they supply the space for classes, fill it with the appropriate number of bodies, and see to it that there is a qualified instructor at its head, they are satisfied.

We are not saying that these things are not important. What we question is their priority. Of what use is a class in sociology if that very structure is being threatened by internal chaos?

A university cannot remove itself from the world and shorten its goals to purely structural ones. It cannot herd its "inmates" to classes and then shake its head at the collapse of the system around it. It must take every action possible to expand itself into the community and share its knowledge-gaining capabilities. We believe this to be its first priority.

The Moratorium offered a chance for this community action on the part of the University by calling for a halt to business as usual for one day so that the important issue of the Vietnam war could be taken into the community. This chance has been rejected.

The Moratorium plans will be carried out in this area, but not by the University. It will be done by a few concerned individuals who had to cut their classes in order to devote a special day to community involvement.

Moratorium Policy Statement

October 6, 1969

To Members of the University Community:

October 15th has been suggested by certain groups as a day of protest against the war in Vietnam. These groups would call a moratorium on all normal activities of the day. The deep and continuing concern of the University's students and faculty with Vietnam and with a number of other national issues properly finds expression in continuing debate, discussion and interaction within the University community.

I urge thoughtful consideration of these issues on the part of all members of the University community. The conclusions to be reached are necessarily a matter for each individual's personal convictions and conscience. Individual participation in such activities should take place at times during which students and teachers personally do not have scheduled classes or other scheduled responsibilities, for all classes will convene as usual for their normal purposes. Facilities of the University not required for scheduled classes may be requested by interested groups that follow the usual reservation procedures.

Cordially,
 A. L. Pugsley

Here's what your first year or two at IBM could be like.

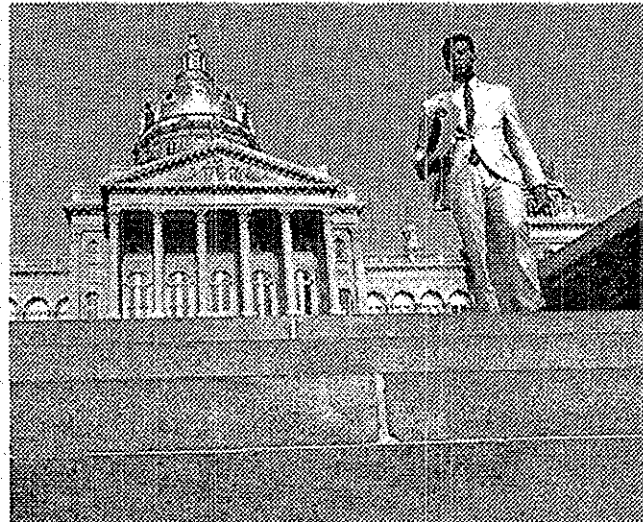

You'll become involved fast. You'll find we delegate responsibility—to the limit of your ability.

At IBM, you'll work individually or on a small team. And be encouraged to contribute your own ideas. You'll advance just as fast and far as your talents can take you.

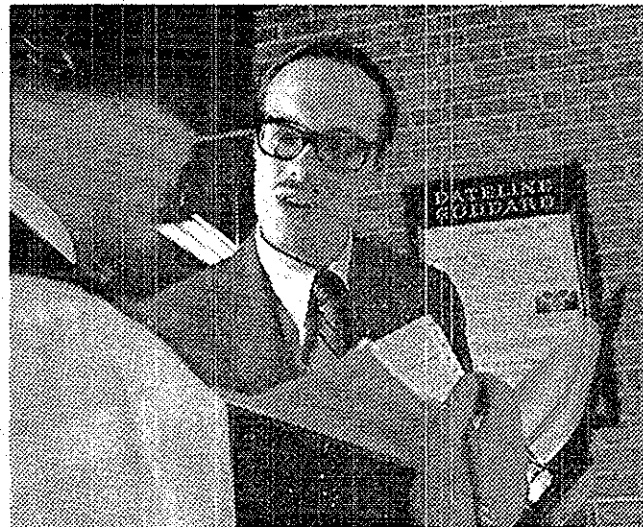

Here's what three recent graduates are doing.

Doug Taylor, B.S. Electronics Engineering '67, is already a senior associate engineer working in large-scale circuit technology. Aided by computer design, Doug is one of a five-man team designing integrated circuits that will go into IBM computers in the 1970's.

Soon after his intensive training course, IBM marketing representative Preston Love, B.S. '66, started helping key Iowa commissioners solve problems. Like how to introduce school kids to computers, without installing one. His answer: share one in Chicago by phone cable.

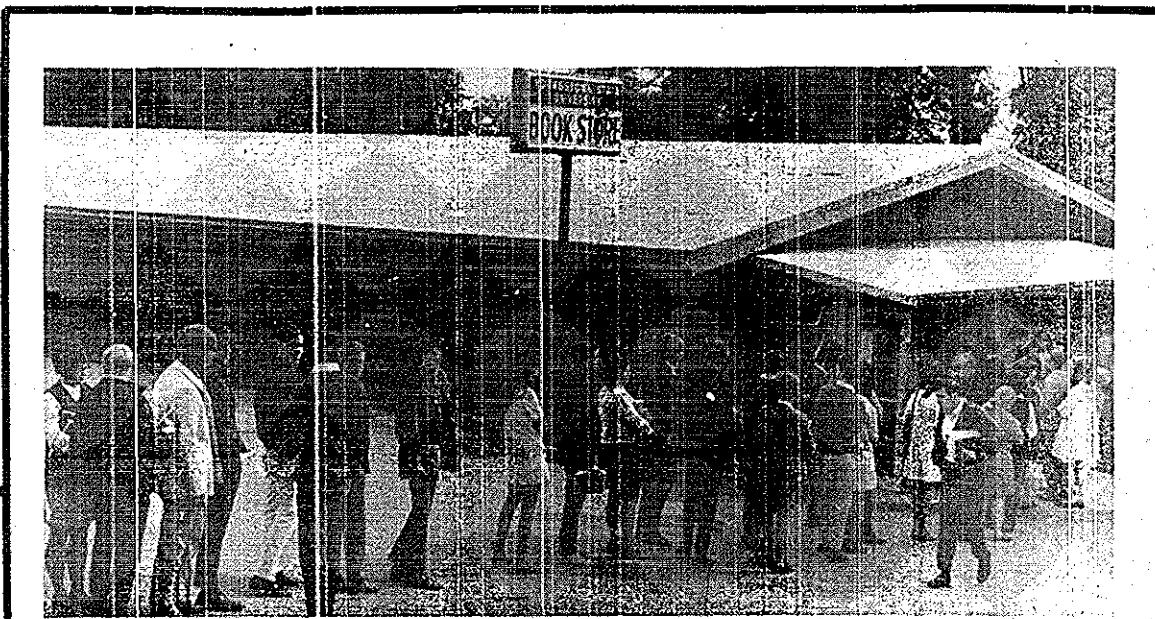

Soon after his IBM programmer training, John Klayman, B.S. Math '68, began writing programs used by a computer system to schedule every event in the Apollo tracking stations. And when the finished programs were turned over to NASA Goddard Space Flight Center, he was responsible for making them work.

Pappas New Cafeteria Head

Specialty Management Company of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, operators of Youngstown State University's cafeteria services has announced the appointment of George Pappas as its new cafeteria manager. Pappas succeeds manager Joseph Graziozzi who was promoted to a sales and installation position with the company.

Mr. Pappas, a native of Pittsburgh, brings with him a background of over twenty-five years in restaurant and catering management. After a brief term at Duquesne University, Pappas went on to own and manage Star Restaurant services which operated in the Pittsburgh-McKeesport area.

When urban renewal threatened his catering operation, Pappas was offered and accepted a position with the Mackle Company, owners of Specialty Management.

Pappas was extremely impressed with the more than adequate facilities available in the cafeteria. He did however show concern about the fact that the cafeteria serves as a meeting place for university students and this could interfere with clean up schedules. Mr. Pappas suggested that student cooperation could easily solve this problem.

Since his arrival two weeks ago, basic changes have taken place in the service, schedule and personnel division of the cafeteria.

Mr. Chris Long will assist Pappas and will be directly responsible for all food coming out of the kitchen. New varieties of food and sandwiches will be introduced and longer serving hours will be observed.

New Chairman Reports On Unfinished Business

Last spring in a final report before Council, Penny Laakso, former chairman, presented a list of five basic suggestions to the incoming Council and chairman. Yesterday, Council's new chairman, Greg Bednarcik, commented on these suggestions and the unfinished business left from last year.

Miss Laakso's report cited Council's work on the Faculty Rights Committee, the Discipline Code Revision Committee and the Student Interest Research program as unfinished business.

She also offered suggestions that Council take initiative in financing student organizations, and that each committee member's work on projects be equally distributed.

Bednarcik reviewed Miss Laakso's recommendations and showed evidence that action has been taken in three of the five suggested areas and that action on the fourth is being planned.

On the subject of the Discipline Code Revision Committee, Bednarcik explained that University Senate has already instituted necessary procedures.

In its June 6th meeting the Senate approved the student discipline code and also established a student-faculty appeals board, which will consist of the Vice President for Administrative Affairs (Dr. Coffelt), the Chairman of Student Council (Bednarcik), and the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Senate (Dr. Hahn).

Bednarcik also explained that the University Senate had passed legislation establishing student-faculty committees in its June 6th meeting.

Concerning the financing of student organization, Bednarcik revealed that Council has no unallocated fund as in previous years. The allocation of money must first be passed by Council and then be referred to the university's Student Budget Committee for approval.

In reference to the Student Interest Research Program, Bednarcik explained that this program had executive jurisdiction and that Council president Peter Isgro was in charge of preparations for the program.

Isgro had no comment to make on the status of the research program, but indicated that procedures are pending.

On Miss Laakso's suggestion that work be distributed equally in the committees, Bednarcik said that he would like to propose that Council's constitution and by-laws be changed in order to restore stability.

In this reorganization he would institute a complete committee reviewal and also make it more difficult for the constitution to be amended.

In concluding Bednarcik reported that much unfinished business still lies before Council, but that student cooperation and willingness will speed up Council's progress.

Don't Let Fashion be a Spectator Sport!

The school year just brims with sports — football, basketball, swimming, baseball ...and more. But for most, these are spectator sports. Now, Strouss' invites you to 'take part' in the fun game of fashion. Learn 'how-to' in our Court Shop or Junior Department for the casual look you'll love. Circle K Honored At Portland

The Youngstown State University Chapter of Circle K International, national service fraternity, received national honors for service achievement at the organization's annual convention held this summer at Portland, Oregon.

The YSU chapter ranked second in the nation with some four thousand five hundred man-hours of service. Last year, the local organization was awarded first place in the nation.

Accepting the award for the local chapter were Ohio district governor, J. Michael Foley; Chapter president, Robert J. Gartland; and representative, John C. Reagan.

Additionally, the YSU organization was named best chapter in the state for the fourth time in the last five years at the Ohio District Convention in April.

Sponsored by the downtown Kiwanis Club, Circle K is involved in numerous campus and community activities.

Local advisor is Clyde A. Painter, professor of business administration in the Technical and Community College.

They've got just the spot for you.

Maybe you sweated four years to lose your identity. To become a bit of information stored in a computer.

Well, congratulations.

You've got plenty of chance to become just that in our depersonalized, do-not-fold-spindle-or-mutilate world.

What you don't have is much chance of escaping the numbers game and holding on to your identity.

Maybe we can give you that chance.

We're Hoover.

You probably know us for vacuum cleaners. And we're the biggest in that field.

But you'll also find our name on about 80 other household items.

And you'll find it on 18 plants. In 12 different countries. On five different continents.

The reason for our success? People.

We develop talent. Not machines. If you've got ability, you'll get the chance to show it.

And if you show it, people will notice. And you'll get ahead.

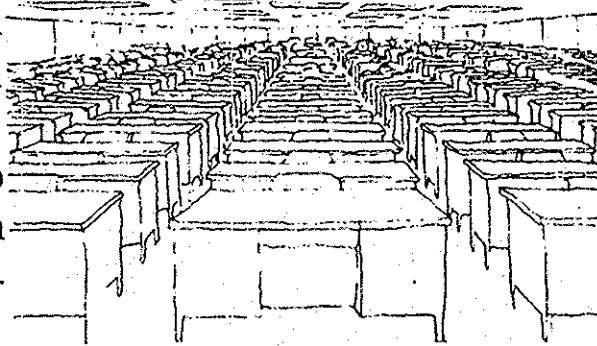

We're big enough, and growing fast enough, that there's plenty of room for you to grow.

Yet we're not so big that you'll ever get lost in the shuffle.

So why not sign up now for an interview with Hoover.

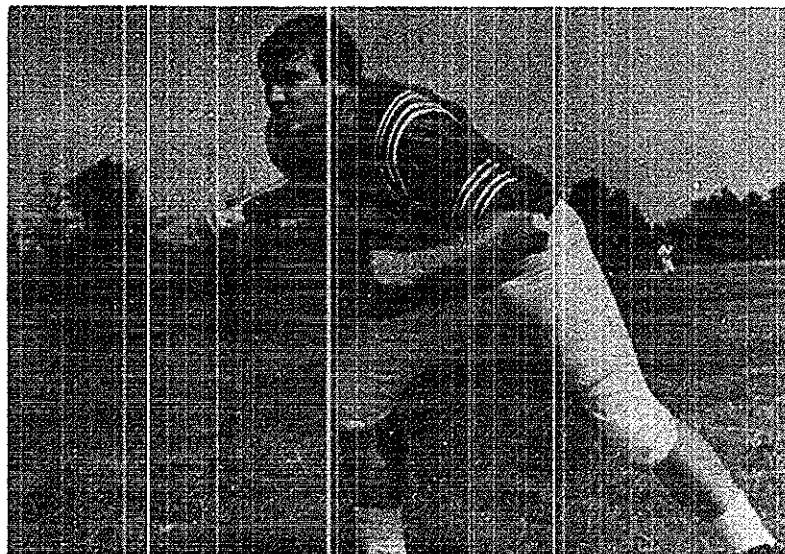

About all you've got to lose is 20 minutes.

Those 20 minutes may gain you the chance not to lose your identity.

"ON CAMPUS OCTOBER 14"

How would you like meeting this on the front line? Mike Roman

Roman Vital to Beede Machine

The Penguin gridders thus far this young season have crossed their opponents end zone markers for 42 points. A vital instrument in the Beede machine is a 6'2", 215-pound piece of machinery, Mike Roman.

Roman, like a good many of his Penguin teammates, was a former Chaney Cowboy and lettered there three times in football and three times in track.

Chaney coach, Louis Angelo, commenting on Mike's performance in an interview last week, said "...Mike was always the hardest working player on our squad — a real winner..."

Usually you will find the offense and defensive squads exchanging places after the exchange of plays, but Mike was exceptional in that department, in that he never got to see the sidelines very much because he played both ways for the Cowboys. The giant Roman filled the tackle slot all the time.

Entering his third year here and his third collegiate letter season, Mike has gradually developed into a most valuable part of the Penguin's team effort success. Coach Dyke Beede considers Mike, "...probably the most dependable tackle ever to play at YSU..."

Due to the Penguins' young, rebuilding status, Roman has been called upon to perform his high school accomplishments by going both ways on the tackle position for the Red and White.

Usually a regular offensive left tackle, the 215 pound behemoth has been called upon to fill the most needed defensive chores.

Mike is indeed a serious grid-iron performer for the Penguins, which makes it quite pathetic for oncoming challengers for little do they know that ahead of them awaits — "Mighty Mike."

YSU to Duel Goshawks

By Dave Nunamaker

Trying to rebound to victory after losing their first two games, the Penguins are matched against a rough Pensacola Navy squad from Florida this Saturday, October 11, at the Goshawks' home base.

This tussle is expected to be one of the stiffest tests of durability and strength for the YSU eleven.

Head coach Dyke Beede stated yesterday that all the players on the Pensacola Navy squad are experienced, and have played at least four years of college football before joining the Goshawks.

Some of the first team have played as much as eight years in college.

Pensacola's early season record has been quite impressive, gaining resounding victories over Central Oklahoma, Middle Tennessee, and Samford College, Birmingham, before being trounced by a powerful Quantico Marines team 44-6, last Saturday.

Pensacola's offensive forces are led by a very talented quarterback, Gene Arnette of Virginia, and a big tough running back, Pittman, who is the Goshawks' leading ground gainer thus far this season. A big offensive line gives Arnette ample pass protection.

Coach Beede stated that several key injuries have greatly hampered his defensive unit in the first two contests this season.

Both defensive ends and two linebackers sustained injuries serious enough for them to miss considerable action.

Offensively, Beede indicated that there will probably be no important major changes made, except for George Miller, who may be at the left end position again this week. Dick Banks and Rudy Floria are two of the five players who will alternate in the backfield.

Both of these men are freshmen as are 17 of the 46 players that dress for the game. The YSU squad will leave for Florida on Friday and arrive on the base that night for practice. The Penguins will sleep at the base and be prepared to meet the Goshawks for Saturday night's game.

Fall try-outs for the varsity golf team will be staged from 12:30 p.m. on October 13 to 17 at the Warren Avalon and Avalon Lakes Golf Course. A total of 18 holes must be played each day.

Anyone interested in officiating basketball contests this winter on Tuesday nights for a couple of hours, please contact Sports Editor, Terry Lawrence for further details.

The Youngstown State University roundballers will welcome the shooting and rebounding talents of 6'7" All-Stater, Bill McMeans, from North Lima. McMeans, an all-time great for the North Lima Zips, poured in a 30-point average per game in his final year.

Head Football Coach, Dyke Beede, was the object of a full two-page article in the Family Magazine, a rotogravure supplement to the Pittsburgh Press, a week ago Sunday in the Sept. 21 issue. The article went into some detail about Coach Beede's off-campus living, as well as his philosophies and early life in the world of football. Did you know that Coach Beede invented the referee "flags"? Did you know that his wife was known as the "Betsy Ross of Football" for her construction of the penalty markers?

and a 10-oz. stone by Vernon H. Morton, on the Clarkston Golf Course, Idaho, on Sept. 12, 1966.

The most prolonged continuous shower bath on record is one of 72 hours 8 minutes by Jane Holster, aged 20, of the University of Illinois, ending on Sept. 12, 1965.

The Guena Park Zoo in Guena Park, California, has a 250-pound black bear which may have the college coaches looking towards the West Coast and thinking of some way in recruiting the wild animal. Toko, the Guena Park resident, hits from the foul line (a specially constructed marker from six feet out) at a phenomenal 90%!
