While cold weather has periodically stopped brick layers in construction of the new business administration building, other workers have not been affected. Bob Ceremele, foreman for the Bucheit Construction Company, works on scaffolding on the seventh floor in sub-freezing temperatures yesterday.

First Of Two Issues--

Review Due Next Month

YSU's literary magazine, the Penguin Review will be published and available on campus next month, Anthony M. Trainor, its editor reported yesterday.

The magazine, which consists of poems, short stories, and an essay is the first of two editions which have been planned for this year.

Trainor said that he was pleased with the overall response to an earlier plea for contributions to the magazines, and that the contributors represent students from many of the major areas of the University. They are T. Parillo, J.G. Shilling, Dee Petrella, Peter Sikorski, John Mallozzi, Jeffrey Lucas, Angelo Giannini, Ed Hallahan, Regina

Student Council Newsletter Is Proposed By Hettler

A motion to establish an ad hoc Publications Committee to run a Student Government Newsletter was introduced at yesterday's Student Council meeting by Representative at Large Chuck Hettler.

In talking for the publication, Hettler reasoned, "There is a lack of communication between ourselves and the student body." He also commented that Student Council could not expect the Jambar to act as a campus information center, in response to statement made by Penny Laasko, Vice President of Student Government.

Miss Laasko stated "Student Government ought to use the Jambar rather than start another newspaper."

Hettler said, in asking for the publication that, "fees for the publication would amount to about $174 for eight-single page bi-monthly editions," adding "My point was not to rival the Jambar but to have a publication to inform students of motions introduced and the progress that Council is making."

Representative at Large Simko said that he would talk to John Greenman, editor of the Jambar to see if it would be possible for council to have an uncut column in each edition of the newspaper.

Miss Laasko then said that while she was secretary of Student Council, she had written for the Jambar an uncut and unedited "Council Highlights."

Vice Chairman Frank Hackett proposed at this point that Council postpone action on Hettler's motion until more information had been gathered.

The motion was passed 18-1-1.

Three Projects Scheduled For Trustees' Meet

Resolutions authorizing plans, development and funds for three university projects will be considered Thursday at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees, Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, University president said yesterday. The projects are but three of ten items on the agenda to be discussed at the 10:30 a.m. meeting.

The primary consideration of the board will be to authorize funds in order that an architect be employed to plan for adding and remodeling to Kilcawley Student Center. The proposed addition and remodeling to Kilcawley would cost about $3.5 million.

Fee Increase

The board will also be asked to consider a proposed fee increase for student dorm residents for food services. The resolution is attributed to growing food costs in the last 3 years.

Authorization for funds to finance a proposed electrical power substation for the University plant will also be asked of the trustees. The power station will be needed to supply power to new University buildings.

Portable Parking Decks

Additional items on the agenda will include contract revision plans with the campus development firm of Caudill, Rowett and Scott, and consideration of funds to provide for the proposed portable parking decks.

At Dana Recital Hall--

Cage Performs Thurs.

One of the most innovative and brilliant composers of the century, avant-garde composer John Cage will make his debut on the campus as the fourth guest in the University's Artist Lecture Series Thursday, January 22.

Cage, a Guggenheim Fellow and the recipient of a National Arts and Letters award for having extended the boundaries of music, will speak on: "Diary-How To Improve the World (You will only make it worse) Continued," supported by four tape recorders and four amplifiers.

Cage has been a student of Henry Cowell and Arnold

Schoenberg, and a member of the faculty at the Cornish School in Seattle, the School of Design in Chicago, Black Mountain College in North Carolina, and the New School in New York City. He has also added to his credits being composer in residence at the University of Cincinnati, and at the Centers for Advanced Studies at Wesleyan University, Connecticut, and at the University of Illinois.

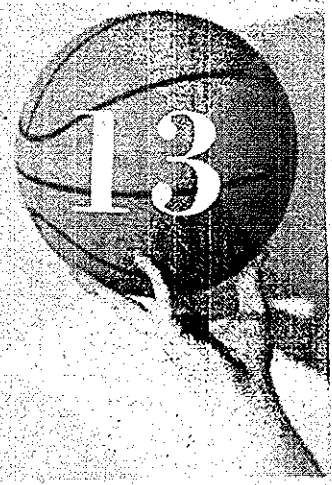

The musical event, slated for 2 p.m. at the Dana Recital Hall, is sure to be punctuated by some of the more famous Cage stories and sayings.

YSU Downs CSU For 13th Straight

Sparked by a 29 point effort by Billy Johnson, the YSU cagers rolled to their 13th straight victory of the 1969-70 season at the expense of the hometown Cleveland State University Vikings, 78-68. The victory was the second of the season against CSU and pushed the nationally ranked Penguins to a perfect 13-0 record.

$1 Million Biafran Relief Aid Contributed By CARE

COLUMBUS - Immediate shipments of $1,000,000 worth of food and vitamins have been offered by CARE to the Nigerian Government, for emergency distribution to the war victims in Biafra.

The agency is forming a task force of disaster specialists to help organize relief and rehabilitation programs in the surrendered territory, and will enlist medical teams if needed through MEDICO, a service of CARE.

The expanded assistance has been proffered through the CARE mission in Lagos, it was announced today at agency headquarters here. Under an agreement with the government, a five-man American team is already working out of offices at Lagos, Calabar and Enugu to coordinate aid programs with Nigerian authorities.

In addition to these offers, $30,000 worth of baby foods and hospital supplies recently allocated for distribution through the International Committee of the Red Cross are awaiting instructions for shipment.

Previous CARE aid to all affected regions of Nigeria-Biafra totalled over $900,000, from July of 1968 to the end of 1969. Supplies included food, medicinal products, clothing fabrics, seeds and agricultural tools.

Contributions may be sent to CARE, Inc., 8 East Chestnut St., Columbus, Ohio 43215 for the Nigeria-Biafra Emergency Fund.

Congressional Dem. Majority To Fight Nixon Budget Veto

WASHINGTON AP - Congress began an election-year session at noon yesterday with its Democratic majority prepared to challenge President Nixon's threatened veto of a budget-raising appropriation for education and health.

The issue topped the Senate agenda, and Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, said he hopes for a quick vote, by Tuesday at the latest, to send the $19.7 billion appropriation bill to the White House.

The bill includes $1.26 billion for education and health spending which Nixon has termed inflationary.

Democrats spent an hour in closed caucus discussing their strategy. Mansfield said afterwards that prospects "sounded awfully good" for a substantial vote to override a Nixon veto.

But the issue would go to the House first, and Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the GOP believes it can muster the votes there to uphold Nixon.

It would take a two-thirds vote in each branch to override a veto.

In the House, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., predicted one of the first big issues will be anti-crime legislation. McCormack noted to newsmen that the House Judiciary Committee plans to begin hearings next month on increased funds for the Safe Streets Act of 1968, and the speaker said he hopes other House committees will be acting on anticrime proposals before then.

Asked if he expects the congressional elections next fall to make this a political session of Congress, McCormack replied that Democrats introduced all the major bills last year - and pulled a typewritten list of the bills out of his pocket to read to newsmen.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., in charge of managing Senate action on the education and health appropriations bill, said he was ready for a swift roll call vote on the measure. Senate approval - which even Republican leaders concede is likely - would send it to the White House and the threatened veto.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, said he hoped Congress would produce the two-thirds majorities to override the President. "Hope so, hope so," Mansfield mused as the Senate's Democratic majority discussed strategy at a session-opening caucus.

Anti War Draft Speed Up Halted By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON AP - The Supreme Court today stripped draft boards of the power to speed up the induction of Vietnam war protesters.

Justice William O. Douglas, in a 5-3 decision, said the court had searched federal draft laws in vain for any clues that Congress desired to give draft boards this authority.

The only punitive power draft law provides, Douglas said, is prosecution of registrants who refuse to submit to induction orders.

Justices Hugo L. Black, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall supported the decision. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, Potter Stewart and John M. Harlan concurred in its effect on a Minnesota man but would have allowed local boards some of the authority the majority denied them.

The court ruled in the case of David Earl Gutknecht, 22, of Gaylord, Minn., whose draft call was accelerated when he turned in his draft card in an anti-war protest in Minneapolis in 1967.

Pugsley Challenges Warren-King Report

The Warren-King Report, a controversial $283,000 document which advocates standardized management changes in Ohio's 12 state universities, was attacked yesterday by Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, University president, as a misrepresentation of the management structure of the state's university system. Dr. Pugsley said the study is not "as valuable as it might have been" due to the adoption of management practices during the one year period between the research and presentation of the report.

The report has drawn fire from several university presidents as well as Board of Regents Chancellor John D. Millet who stated that he would oppose implementation of the standardization procedures suggested in the Warren-King Report.

The management study and analysis, researched by Warren-King and Associates of Chicago, was commissioned by the Ohio House and Senate's Education Review Committee and was reported to save the State $32.7 million. Management consultant agents of the firm visited Youngstown last year for two days in researching the report.

According to Dr. Pugsley most of the suggestions made in the report have or already will be taken by all state universities. Many of the recommendations suggest feedback of soon to be established management operations, Dr. Pugsley said.

Pollution Course Is Added By YSU

Among the courses added to the spring quarter curriculum will be one in Industrial Waste Control, offered by the Chemical Engineering Department. The course, primarily designed for engineers, will be taught by Dr. Leslie Szirmay, and will include a brief study of state and federal pollution laws, a general description of types of pollution in air and water, and the removal of pollution employing chemical engineering unit operations. In addition, the prevention of pollution and its possible removal from the environment will be studied.

Dr. Szirmay said yesterday the course will cover strong theoretical aspects of pollution such as the Diffusion Theory. Although offered during the spring quarter, for undergraduates with math and chemistry prerequisites, the chemical engineering department hopes later to offer it for graduate study.

Welcome to the rat race.

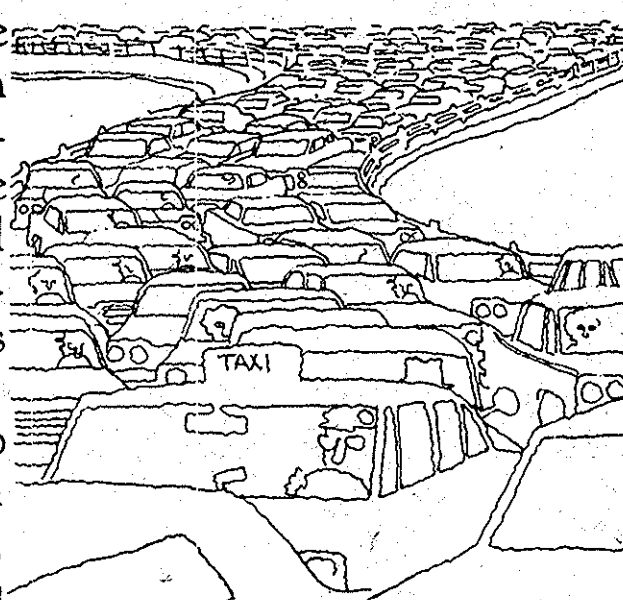

Maybe you'll be able to put up with the two-hour commute. And the super-smog. And all the other nifty benefits of megalopolis living.

You'll be able to put up with them because . . . well, that's the price you have to pay for opportunity.

Who says?

We know a place where you can commute in ten minutes instead of two hours.

Where the streets are tree-lined.

And the air is clear. Where you're surrounded by sky and country. Not cement and steel.

Sound like a hick town?

Well, it boasts two colleges. And a university. And a symphony orchestra. And a theater guild.

It also boasts one of the biggest companies in the world. Hoover.

If all that name brings to mind is vacuum cleaners, there's a lot about us you should learn.

Letters To The Editor Says Thank You To YSU

To the Editor of the Jambar:

In our generation there seems to be much talk about the advantages of knowing the right people and of being affiliated to the high circles of various institutions and groups. However, we at Youngstown State University know that this is not true. Surely every student in our University is equal under the eyes of our elected representatives; having the inalienable right to attend classes and lectures, to receive a copy of the Jambar each week, to be informed of all coming events without any prejudice of social position within the University, and to attend all social functions if so desired.

From many areas of our society come rumors that the masses are purposely misinformed, hidden from the real truth and their rights intentionally neglected. However, we the masses of Youngstown State University know that these are charges of power seekers wishing to disturb the latent, violent tendencies of the masses for their own desires and purposes.

There are of course those circles which contend that the masses are being pushed around, stepped on, and neglected by subtle means - such as learning far too late that a date is needed for a very important social function to occur. Of course, we at Youngstown State challenge this highly contestible accusation.

Never in our long and glorious history have the rights of the masses of students to know of coming social functions, such as the very important "Winter Weekend," been purposely and maliciously retained from them.

THANK YOU Youngstown State University, and all of your admirable leaders and functionaries for your loyalty to the equality of men, your protection of our $30.00 activity fee, the rights of masses over small University affiliated organizations and your noble stand against the injustices of inner-hierarchical prejudices.

Sincerely,

Student Speaks On Influentials

Dear YSUseless:

The other day as I sat outside the office of one of the most Influential Men on campus, I realized the noise I heard behind those cold, closed steel doors was not the usual floor tremors associated with disgusted students seeking additional help in beating the academic system: or custodians screaming because some "frat brats" filled their wash buckets with quick drying cement or petite, miniskirted typists yelling at their "beak-aboo" boss.

No, it was something stranger that I had everthought possible. My idle thoughts thought my idol to be lost - for one of the enraged voices was his - my idol's.

He was telling the influential man exactly what he thought. And it was evident he didn't think. At least that's what he would have told me had I said what he did. But then he's getting paid and I'm not.

Make no mistake about it...I want it to be perfectly clear...I'm not running down these private discussions between Influential People and Would-Be Influential People, but all along I've been disillusioned.

For a long time I thought these Would-Be Influential People were establishment orientated. I never realized they too have complaints. Wow what complaints: parking, coffee machines, heating, sidewalks, schedules and...

It made me think they were going through a second collegehood.

As they succumbed to general directives from the Influential Man, each of the Would-Be Influentials took their turn is replying "yes, uhuh, ok, ya."

As the door opened and

Would-Be Influentials formed a single file line (fire departments say people can leave a burning building a lot faster that way) they pushed back their singed hair over their burnt ears, smiled and thanked the Influential Man as he sat back and said, "Be sure to come back real soon, you hear."

I don't know if I heard correctly, but one of the Would Be Influential Men said something like this, "wait until tonight, we'll take over the parking lot."

After the Would-Bes were gone, I walked into the Man's office and said, "goodafternoon Dean."

He looked up from his Ben Franklin optics, smiled through his Abe Lincoln beard and offered me his John Hancock. With a soft tempered approach he said, "It 's great to talk to students. Professors can be such a bother."

Debate Forum Open

Applications are still available for University Debate Forum speaking positions.

Interested students should fill-out the application form on page 5 of today's Jambar and either return it to the speech office, room 304 Arts and Science Office Building or place it in the Forum application box on the first floor of the Library.

The maintenance or abolishment of YSU fraternities and sororities will be debated at 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 27, in the Engineering Science Building Auditorium.

Council Paper Is Unnecessary Waste

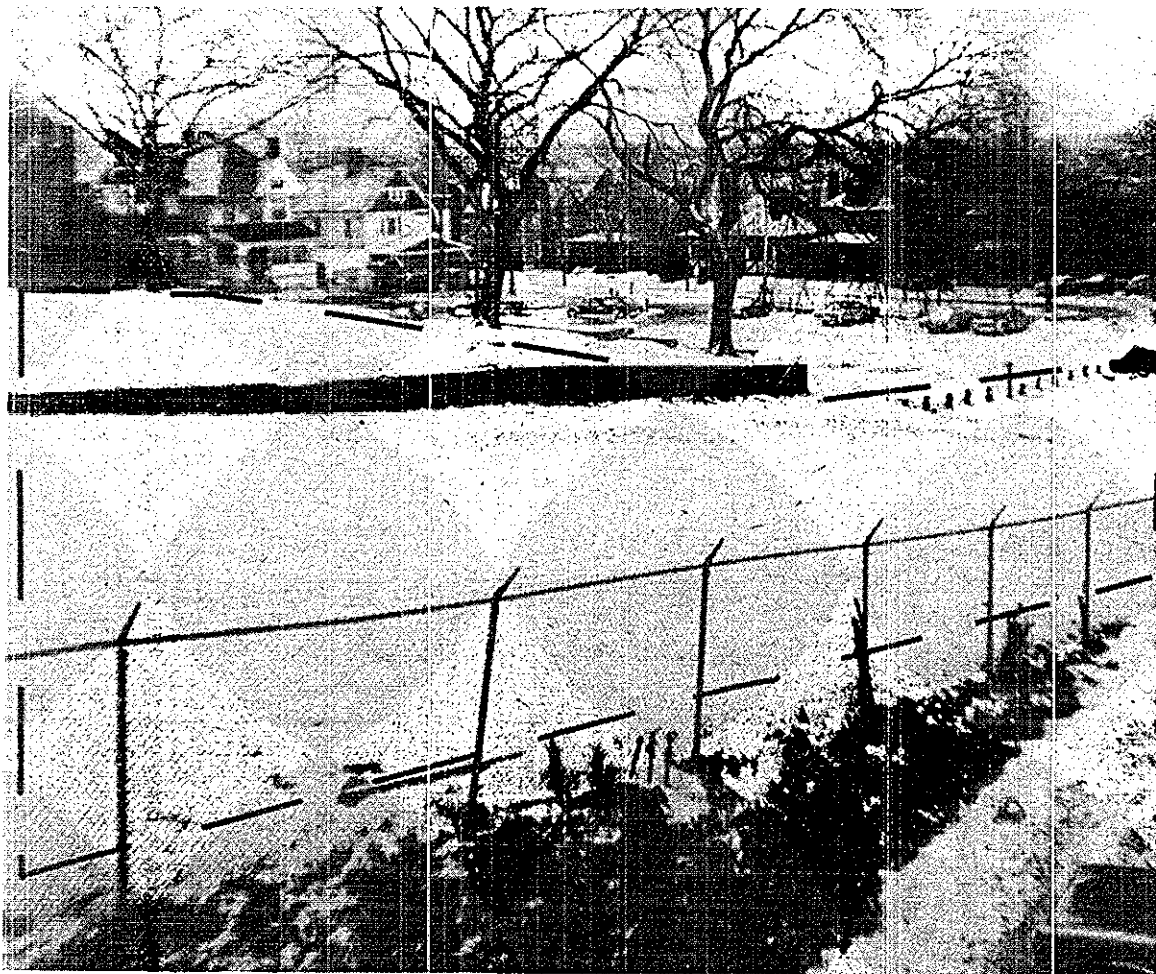

We're wondering how a twice-monthly, one-page Student Government Newsletter with a 1000 copy distribution can significantly improve communications between Student Council and the student body. Because of its length and frequency of publication, news coverage would necessarily be shallow, and its meager distribution would reach fewer than 7 per cent of the student body.

From October through March last year, the Jambar published a Student Council weekly column which included much of the same information Chuck Hettler says will be included in his Newsletter. For unknown reasons, copy for this column stopped coming from Council and to our best knowledge no one missed it.

If a Student Government representative will provide intelligible copy on a regular basis, the Jambar will gladly resume publication of "Council Highlights." It seemed an incredible waste of time and money for the Council to produce its own Newsletter when a medium of wider circulation and depth is readily available. If Hettler is truly interested in improving communication (he failed to inquire about the resumption of "Council Highlights") he should attempt to revive the Jambar column rather than produce his public relations orientated Newsletter.

ODD BODKINS

Pictured above (area enclosed in dotted line) is the proposed site of the addition to the faculty parking lot which will be located next to the Arts and Science building and behind Ford Hall.

Faculty Parking May Gain 100 Slots

The University intends to add 100 faculty parking spaces by developing land behind and adjacent to Ford Hall and in that direction has released bid specifications to area contractors.

Nick Leonelli, University planning director, said yesterday that some problems in development remain unsolved, but if developed the lot will extend from the Tennis Courts next to the Arts and Sciences Office Building east to the student parking lot adjacent to Wick Oval.

He said arrangements would have to be made with the foundations which own the property and money from the University's operating fund would have to be allocated.

Committee To Select '70 Series Speakers'

The Special Events Committee will begin preparations for the 1970-71 Artist Lecture Series tomorrow afternoon by tentatively selecting 15 to 20 top name speakers for possible appearance here at the University.

Mr. Joseph H. Koornick, assistant professor of advertising and public relations and chairman of the Special Events Committee, said that the selections by the Committee tomorrow are by no means final, and that there may be further additions to the list at a later date.

"The plans are only in their initial phase," Mr. Koornick added, "and the Committee's action tomorrow will only serve to narrow the field to a certain extent, and allow us to begin working on final selections."

Koornick said that they must begin early enough to insure a good, well-rounded program for the following year, but that in doing so they encounter the problem of having to sign contracts prior to the approval of the Committee's budget, and thus encumbering money that is not yet available for expenditure.

"And so in planning expenses for next year's Series we must base our choices according to this year's budget, which is approximately $15,000," Koornick said.

The list of speakers and their prices from which the Committee will chose includes: Arthur Goldberg, Sen. William Fulbright, Sen. Hugh Scott, Sen. Strom Thurmond, $1,500; Mayor Charles Evers, $1,500; Sen. William Proxmire, $1,250; F. Lee Bailey, $1,500; Dr. Harold Taylor, $1,000; Dr. Benjamin Spock, $1,500; Rene Dubos, $1,500; Vennie Burrows, $1,500; Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, $2,500; Henry Morgan, $1,750; Dr. Eric Berne, $1,500; Sen. William Muskie, $2,500; Dr. Ashley Montague, $1,500; George Plimpton, $1,500; Norman Mailer, $2,750;

Nancy Dickerson, $2,250; Angier Biddle Duke, $1,500; Jimmy Breslin, $1,500; David Brinkley, $2,250; Barbara Walters, $2,000; Theodore Bickel, $1,500; Sen. Charles Percy, $2,000; Isaac Asimov, $2,000; Edwin Newman, $2,000; Sen. Jacob Javits, $1,750; Mohamad Ali, $1,250; Mackinley Kantor, $2,000; Bishop Fulton J. Sheen and Linus Paulding.

Mr. Koornick also hinted at the possibility of bringing a complete stage show to the University, such as the National Shakespeare Company doing Hamlet, or the play "To Be Young, Gifted, and Black."

Pledges To Be Installed

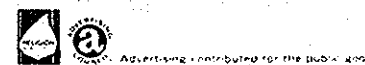

The pledges of Alpha Delta Sigma, National Professional Advertising Fraternity, will be installed at 9 p.m. tomorrow at the Cotillion Room in the Quality Court Motel, Belmont Avenue Ext. Dinner will be served promptly at 9 p.m. and will be followed by the Initiation Ritual.

You'd think by now God would say "Phooey!"

What with all the hate, the indifference to war, the fanatical selfishness we see around us. But God doesn't go around saying things like "Phooey." He goes around saying things like "Love your neighbor as you love yourself." Have you tried it lately?

Break the hate habit: love your neighbor.

Council To Vote On T&CC Seats

The Technical and Community College may be allowed two seats on Student Government Spring Quarter if a constitutional change, read for the first time yesterday, is approved by Student Council next week.

This proposal was included in a Student Council reapportionment report present to the Council yesterday by Don Leone, Council Elections Committee chairman.

Reapportionment of the 25 member Council is required, Leone said, because of changes in the University's six schools.

Leone thought he had reapportionment worked out, but Student Council Advisor Mrs. Dykema said that there was a special difficulty with the School of Education he might not have considered. Leone's totals showed that there would be one Student Council representative for approximately every 600 students. Mrs. Dykema said Education majors are actually in the School of Arts and Sciences until they take their upper division education courses. Council members expressed opposing opinions as to whether these students should be counted towards total enrollment of the School of Education or Arts and Sciences for the purposes of apportionment. The problem will be considered at an Elections Committee meeting to be held at noon tomorrow in the Student Council office.

Under Leone's proposal for apportionment based on current figures the School of Engineering and the School of Business would lose one seat while the Technical would gain two seats. The totals for the Schools would then be: the School of Music - 1; the School of Education - 5; the School of Business - 6; the School of Engineering - 2; the School of Arts and Sciences - 6; the Technical School - 2; and Representatives at Large - 3.

Rock Music To Be Topic At Gates

Alan Scott, recent graduate of YSU, has worked for WHOT for the last four years.

Early in February, the Gates will host Russ Meyer, a nationally acclaimed film maker from Kent State University.

Council Seeks Members On Joint Committees

Student Council is now accepting applications for seats on Student-Faculty Committees as a result of student resignations from those committees.

According to Pete Isgro, Student Government President, some seats are open, but he doesn't know exactly how many because he has not received the minutes of the Student-Faculty Committees, and does not know how many students have resigned.

When the Student-Faculty Committees were established, one seat was given to each of the schools, and it has been recommended that the seats not filled because of a lack of applications should be left open. Isgro stated that he feels these seats should be filled by applications from other schools, and has been overruled on this proposal.

Isgro also added that because of class conflicts, some students on the committees are not attending the meetings, and are in the process of turning in resignations.

Applications for seats on Student-Faculty Committees are available in the Student Council Offices in the Kilcawley Student Center.

CORPS

January 7, 1970

Dear Student,
Contrary to pernicious rumor the Peace Corps is still alive and well. Also it is still very dependent on the young people of this country to make it work. 96% of this summer's programs will be filled from college campuses. We are in particular need of graduates in: Education, Science, Business, Math, Home Ec., and Engineering. We also need people with Agricultural backgrounds.
IS PEACE WORTH WORKING FOR?

Swim Team Seeks First Victory Over Wayne State

Youngstown State's water squad, winless in two attempts this season, will entertain Wayne State University tomorrow afternoon in the YMCA waters. The Detroit school has fell victim to the Red and White in two other meetings between the schools.

A 57-56 verdict last year gave the Penguins their third win of the campaign. The 1968 meeting witnessed the Penguins emerging 60-53 victors. In both cases the last event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, was the margin of victory for the Penguins.

A record breaking loss to Kentucky in their season opener plus a dunking by Kent State University, has enabled the youthful Penguins to gain some valuable experience for their next four weeks work. West Virginia, Pitt, St. Bonaventure, and Grove City face Coach Ralph Johnson and his half-freshmen squad in the coming month.

Water Break Causes Heat Loss

An Ohio Edison water main broke early yesterday morning, causing temporary loss of heat to some of the University buildings.

Raymond Orlando, director of the University's physical plant said that the break was repaired without interrupting University operations and went unnoticed by most students and faculty.
