Debators argue to a 6-2 record

YSU's highly touted debate squad lived up to advance billing this past Sunday as the junior varsity unit compiled a 6-2 record at a practice debate tournament held at the University of Pittsburgh. The YSU affirmative duo was comprised of Jack Fynes, a sophomore in political science and Bill Zorn, a freshman majoring in biology. The affirmative speakers earned a 3-1 record defeating two Washington and Jefferson units as well as the Alderson-Broadus negative. St. Vincent's College handed the YSU planners their only setback.

Negative Pair

The Penguin negative pair was composed of Chuck Wigley and Barb Bilas, both sophomore math majors. The negatives also garnered three wins against a single upending, topping West Virginia, Pitt, and Clarion. Bethany dealt the negative its lone upset.

Coach Daniel J. O'Neill, assistant professor of speech and dramatics commented "the teams' performance met my expectations, but I'm not completely satisfied. We're capable of a flawless performance."

The Topic

The topic debated was Resolved: that the federal government should establish a comprehensive system of medical care for all citizens.

The debaters are next scheduled to argue at Western Illinois University on October 6 and 7, followed by dates at Frostburg, Maryland on the 14th and the University of Akron tourney Oct. 21.

Dr. Margaret Mead

Dr. Mead will discuss the "Family of the Future" at the lecture which is free and open to the public. Part of the University's Artist Lecture Series, the Skeggs Lectures are free and open to the public and bring to the University campus outstanding speakers who are authorities in their respective fields.

Dr. Mead is currently curator emeritus of ethnology for the American Museum of Natural History in New York and adjunct professor of anthropology at Columbia University. Her first of numerous expeditions was to Samoa in 1925 and following her year-long visit she wrote the best-seller "Coming of Age in Samoa" which established her reputation and launched her successful career in the study of man.

Dr. Mead has conducted expeditions to the Manus Tribe, Admiralty Islands, New Guinea, Bali, and Iatmul Tribe, Sepik, and

Council to select reps for seminar

A communications seminar designed to improve the exchange of ideas among faculty, administration and students will be held Friday, October 20, at Camp Fitch, Skip Davis, student council chairman announced at yesterday's meeting.

The seminar, according to Davis, will involve President Albert L. Pugsley, 34 faculty and administration members and 36 students. The students from all university schools will be chosen by Student Council nominating committee.

In further business Davis announced that applications for vacant Council seats, senior class officers and homecoming queen must be returned to Student Council offices no later than next Monday for the October 16 and 17 elections.

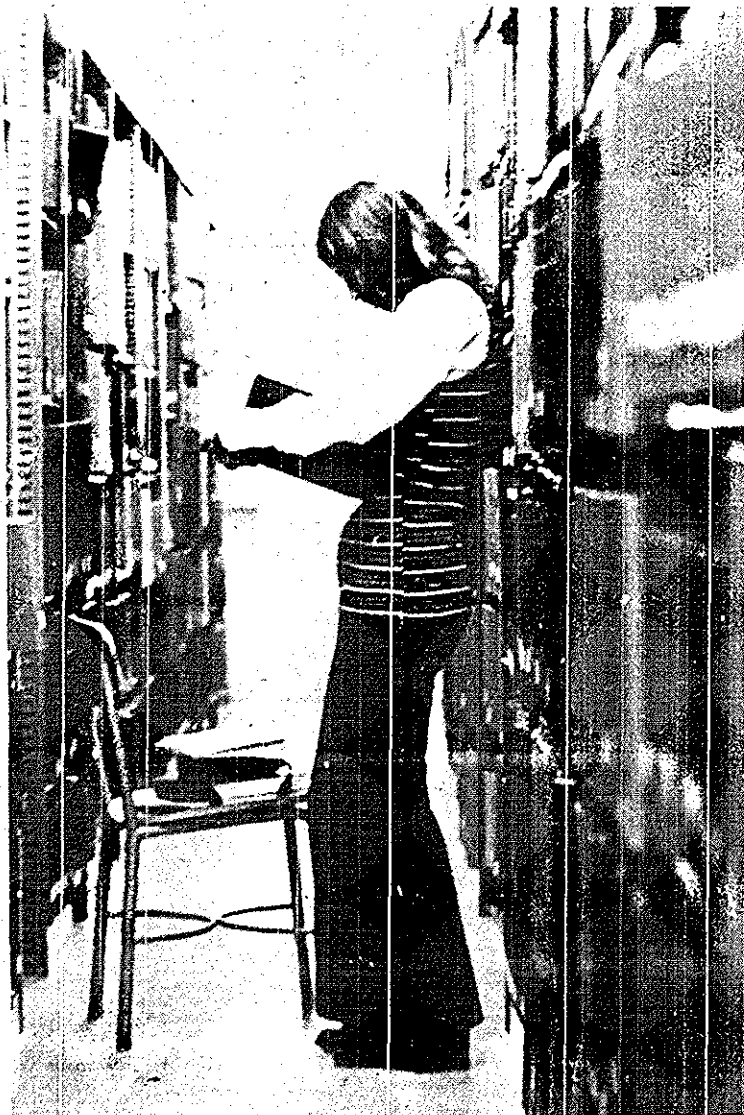

Davis said the applications must be presented early to allow for necessary printing time of ballots.

In related election news, Mark Brunner, education representative, was named elections chairman succeeding Skip Davis.

Under new business, Cliff Shipp, arts and sciences representative, revealed that he has had complaints concerning the lack of security in the parking decks. Chairman Davis responded that he would schedule an appointment this week with Don Schwartzmiller, supervisor of parking lots, to gain further information on the problem.

In other action, Joan Kraynanski, arts and sciences representative, was unanimously approved as delegate to the Ohio Student Government Association and Federation. She succeeds Cynthia Anderson, last years student delegate.

Overliberated?---

Working women lack support

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP - The Ohio Supreme Court last March knocked down protection for working women and now the complainants are beginning to come.

A secretary claims she is forced to lift more weight than she can handle, a telephone operator says she works 10 hours a day seven days a week, and a woman on an assembly line says she gets no lunch break. What can the state do about it?

"Nothing," says Barbara Easterling, director of the Bureau of Women, Minors and Minimum Wage within the Department of Industrial Relations.

"All we can do is tell them about the Supreme Court ruling and let it go at that," says Mrs. Easterling.

Before the ruling, there were different laws for working women. The court said they amounted to discrimination.

A woman, for example, could not be forced to consistently lift more than 25 pounds and could not work more than 48 hours a week. Many women wanted the restrictions removed, saying they wanted the same chance at overtime as men.

Others, backed by the Ohio AFL-CIO, did not. They claimed once the restrictions were lifted employers would give them jobs they couldn't handle and then dismiss them in favor of men.

Both groups filled Statehouse corridors on several occasions as bills were introduced year after year to do away with the restrictions. Then the court stepped in.

"Women just don't know that protective laws don't exist anymore," Mrs. Easterling said. "As it stands now, there is no recourse under federal law for either men or women."

later made several return visits to all of them. She also visited an American Indian tribe in 1930.

Dr. Mead spent many years living with various South Seas peoples, in the course of which she had to learn seven primitive languages.

A specialist in education and culture, personality and culture, mental health, family life, ecology, and cultural aspects of problems of nutrition, she is also interested in studying contemporary cultures in the light of perspective gained by the study of small, homogenous stable societies.

Her 45 years of work at the American Museum of Natural History culminated in the Hall of the Peoples of the Pacific which opened in May, 1971.

A prolific author of books dealing with aspects of cultures, education, and the family unit, Dr. Mead has also used film as a medium to present her findings, completing 10 films in 20 years.

The Real Issue

Smoke from last week's near-debate has not yet cleared. The Democrats claim that the Republicans were informed of the event, the Republicans claim that they neither "officially" nor "unofficially" knew anything about it.

Accusations that the Republicans deliberately neglected to send a representative will only cloud the real issues further. The Jambar urges the debate planners to reschedule the event making sure that Republican officials are informed of it in person, in the presence of credible witnesses.

Only a debate, not talk about one, will show voters who are qualified to hold the presidency for the next four years. And that, after all, is the real issue.

"Frankly Speaking" by Phil Frank

Yearbook conveys unique theme in '73: university unity

This year's Neon will try to create a feeling of oneness in a large university, Rosemary Johnson, 1973 Neon editor said yesterday.

Miss Johnson, a junior anthropology major, was appointed Neon editor last spring by the University Publications Board.

She said that in past years, all photography has been handled by contract photographers; however, due to the increasing number of student photographers on campus, this year's Neon will see a trend toward a more student-oriented yearbook.

The new editor stated that this year's working facilities are inadequate to meet the demands of such a large publication as the Neon. Formerly located on the third floor of East Hall, extensive construction forced a relocation of offices to Room 104 of Rayen School. Although the addition of a darkroom at the new location had been promised by university officials, no action has been seen yet. Neon photographers must now share already overcrowded facilities with photography students in the basement of Rayen School. Miss Johnson is optimistic, though, that these issues will be settled soon.

The publication costs of the yearbook is taken care of by the students' quarterly activity fees. "Most students don't realize this," Miss Johnson added, hence, many students and faculty members alike are unaware that the Neon can be so easily obtained. orders will be taken Friday evening, at the Freshman Orientation Dance for a mailing fee of one dollar, and can also be ordered during Winter Registration. University ticket office, located in Room 201 of Beeghly Physical Education Center, also handles orders.

Miss Johnson has been an active staff member since 1969, and is also on the staff of the Penguin Review. Along with photography editor, Jim Larene, and assistant editors Pete Joy, Ken Papagan, and James Villani, she will work closely with advisor Melvin Mamula, professor of advertising and public relations.

Overberger Lecture

Dr. Charles G. Overberger, vice president of Research at the University of Michigan and former president of the American Chemical Society will give a lecture entitled "The Use of Polymeric Catalysis in Organic Reactions" at 8 p.m., Thursday, October 5 in G-1 of the Ward Beecher Building.

Forum

Boosts Nixon

In a recent letter to the Jambar, a Mr. Suddes labeled President Nixon's war policy as a myth. What irony! For it is the contents of Mr. Suddes' letter which is imbued with an assortment of mythology. The author of that letter gave many facts, but they were so twisted around that for awhile I thought I was reading the letter with a wrong pair of glasses. The charges made are not new. The same garbage can be heard daily over Radio Hanoi.

Mr. Suddes leads a reader to believe that the United States is responsible for the deaths of 1.5 million people. His figure is correct, but he didn't quite elaborate on that number. I wonder why? Of those killed, over a million were North Vietnamese Army regulars and Viet Cong that invade Laos, Cambodia, and South Vietnam; approximately four hundred thousand were South Vietnamese civilians which were killed by the invading liberators from the north and, unfortunately, fifty thousand Vietnamese civilians were killed unintentionally by the free world forces.

Mr. Suddes does not know whether the bombing of dikes, hospitals, and schools are deliberate or not. Fact: Most of the B-52 missions flown in North Vietnam take place just north of the DMZ, a staging area for North Vietnamese supplies and troops. B-52 missions taking place on the outskirts of Hanoi and Haiphong are quite few in number and are aimed at strategic military targets such as warehouses, fuel depots and industrial complexes. "Smart" bombs flown by tactical air sorties cannot realistically be used here. A pilot would have to fly at a much lower altitude and maintain his target run for a longer duration, thus leaving a pilot extremely vulnerable to the vast array of anti-aircraft artillery pieces that are saturated in and around these targets. Furthermore, being a former air operations specialist that assisted pilots in the mapping of target coordinates in Southeast Asia, I would testify to a Senate investigating committee, if need be, that hospitals, rural villages, schools and dikes are never deliberately planned targets.

Mr. Suddes wrote about the myth of Nixon winding down the war. Here are the facts, Mr. Suddes: When Nixon took office, there were 632,000 troops in Southeast Asia. Today that figure is down to 123,200 which includes just under 30,000 troops in South Vietnam itself. There are no longer any U.S. ground combat troops in Vietnam it is the Vietnamese Navy that is now patrolling the inland waterways; and as of April of this year, 95% of all air sorties flown in South Vietnam are now handled by the Vietnamese Air Force. Furthermore, the government is now spending less than one third of the 1968 budget for Vietnam. More important, combat deaths have dropped 95%.

Mr. Suddes pointed out that the "South Vietnamese armed forces have suffered casualties at an increase of 77% since Nixon took office." I can't argue that figure; it simply shows that the Vietnamese are bearing the brunt of the war these days. But how did these Vietnamese soldiers die? Did it occur when they invaded North Vietnam? No, Mr. Suddes, it occurred when they fought off the invasion from the north. What invasion? It didn't get too many headlines, but in April of this year, General Vo Nguyen Giap of North Vietnam sent 14 of his 15 divisions (350,000) across his border. And this occurred when President Nixon had just ordered another sizeable troop withdrawal.

I wonder if Mr. Suddes can answer this question: Whenever a provincial capital or rural village is attacked by NVA and VC, why do the frightened refugees head south in the direction of Saigon and not north to the great liberators in Hanoi? I have to admit that the Saigon Government is no paragon of democracy. But, I wonder how many freedoms we would have if our mayors and governors were being systematically assassinated, if we were being invaded by hundreds of thousands of enemy troops from three territories and our state capitals and our Capitol were being rocketed and mortared.

Our military effort in Vietnam is an essential element in achieving the objectives of freedom, peace, and progress in that war torn country which has fought so long and valiantly for those goals.

Maybe I can explode some more myths in another letter to the Jambar before election day. Think twice before you vote for a man that will follow the steps of a Chamberlain and who would "beg" on his trembling knees to leaders who espouse terror and aggression. "Nixon, now more than ever!"

Knocks Nixon

As one of those who had eagerly awaited the "debate" between spokesmen for the Republican and Democratic parties, I can't help but voice disappointment that the representative for the Republicans didn't show up. I had some questions that I felt should be answered since it seems all but a formality that Nixon will again rule the U.S.

One of the more perplexing problems that has been bothering me is the Watergate Caper. Here we have the "Justice" Department, whose director is appointed by Nixon, investigating thieves, robbers, liars, and violators of others' civil rights shutting off the investigation at an early date, even to the point that when new evidence was being uncovered in Miami, Florida, the FBI was told to discontinue their investigation. Here are former members of the CIA and The FBI, highly trained investigators, working at the American taxpayers' expense at nefarious activities for an organization known as the Committee to Re-Elect the President, (or "CREEP"). If, indeed, Maurice Stans doesn't know how Hunt, McCord, et. al. got into him for $114,000 then he should be initiating some sort of action to recover his money. This is money that the Republicans have invested for the re-election of their president, but then again maybe that's exactly what it was being used for.

Speaking of all that money, speculation as to how they've been getting all of it brings up the question: why is Nixon selling the White House? The Dairymen's Association bought it for a large contribution (and the price of milk went up); ITT bought it for a favorable anti-monopoly decision by the "Justice" department, U.S. Steel hasn't paid any corporate taxes since Nixon's been in office; Hoffa got out of jail for some contributions and votes from the Teamsters. Anyone with a nickel and a vote can buy Richard Nixon.

Nixon's sense of morality is still one of a rat climbing out of a sewer as depicted some years ago by Herb Block. Billy Calley is allowed full base privileges for killing over one hundred people, while two Catholic priests are in jail for burning some paper. A general, and possibly his superiors, lied and is "forced" into retirement at over 25,000 dollars per year, and this man is responsible for sabotaging the peace talks that were going on at the time. He is responsible for every death, every wound inflicted, every home burned and destroyed, every child mutilated, blinded and scarred, both mentally and physically since then. Now this man is allowed to take a nice fat pension.

The working man today faces nothing but unemployment and uncertainty. Anyone who has to eat or clothe himself is being put into the vice of unmerciful inflation. Our senior citizens can only be thankful for a recent increase in Social Security benefits through the efforts of this great Democratic Congress. Minorities will be put back a millenium because of Nixon's recent executive decision to do away with the quota system, the only means they have had recently to gain employment in areas previously denied them. The National Teachers Organization recently endorsed George McGovern with the statement that it's costing the American taxpayer more than 26,000 dollars to kill "Communists" in Vietnam while this administration is spending $.60 per year on the education of its students. Indeed, college students should remember that Nixon referred to them as "bums". They should also recollect that a petition signed by the Kent State student body to have the "Justice" department investigate the murder of our fellow students was turned down by John Mitchell.

I am a veteran, and I am appalled at the way this war is dragging on. The saturation bombing against a people with an industrial and technological base that is fifty years behind ours, is absolute genocide. The whole world has indicted us for our folly in Asia. Nixon said that anyone that couldn't end this war in four years shouldn't be given another chance. I expect this liar for once to back up a statement that he has made, especially this one. Lyndon Johnson was at least a man who, when he saw he was trapped into a situation that he couldn't resolve decided to step down, and this was a man accused of having a super ego. We can assume that Nixon has no ego at all.

There is no doubt that at this time some brave Nixonite on campus will now come forward to defend him in the letters column. All I want to say at this point is "where were you last Thursday, when we needed you the most?" Come out of the woodwork and into the sunshine! We Democrats believe that when you see the light of day you'll be putting "Republicans for McGovern" stickers on your automobiles.

PHASE TWO OF YSU - A construction worker looks upon a new YSU slowly rising out of the old one's rubble.

The last original building of the old YMCA School of Technology, the forerunner of YSU, came tumbling down Friday to make room for the new $6.06 million university library.

East Hall, erected in 1885 and the former home of the secretarial school, and Central Hall, demolished 10 days ago, were the first two structures to be razed. Central Hall housed band rooms and the Health Clinic. West Hall, the old carriage house for the former Wick mansion which was used by the university landscaping department, will soon meet the same fate.

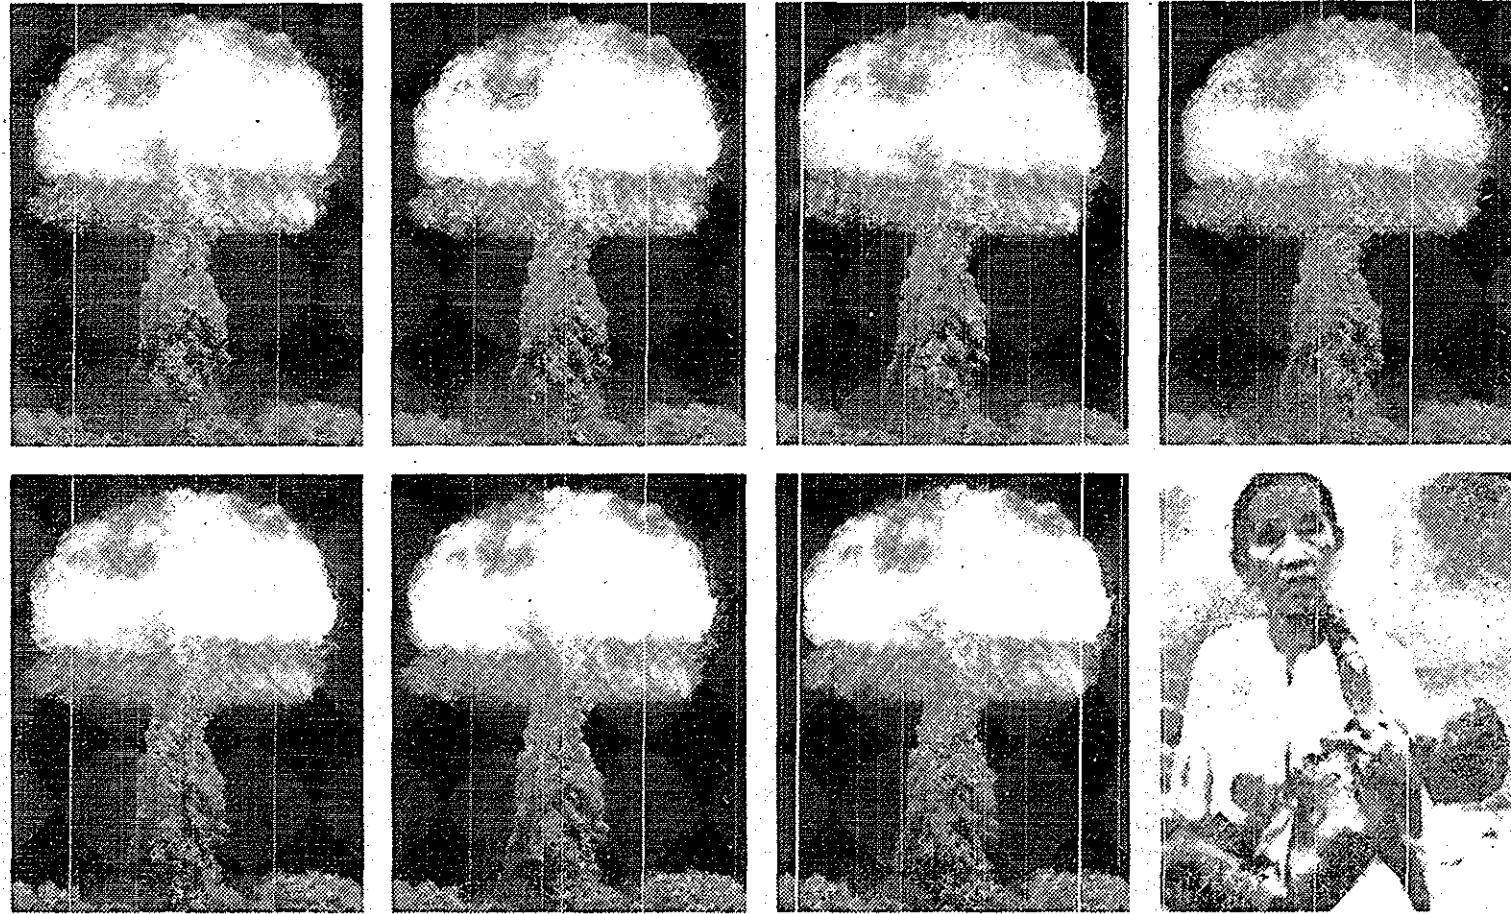

The former home of Henry and Mary Arms-Wick, the estate was originally leased to the YMCA School in 1928 and acquired by the university about five years later.

According to Nick J. Leonelli, director of campus planning, the general construction firm of John G. Ruhlin Co. of Akron is expected to begin construction immediately. The footers are being dug adjacent to the demolition site.

Men at the construction site said yesterday that the old university bookstore building is expected to be moved in four or five weeks. The job of clearing the route the structure is to take has begun and beams for support have been moved to the site.

The new library will provide seating for 2,400 students and have a capacity of some 435,000 volumes. Occupancy of the five-story, 142,500 square foot building is slated for the fall quarter of 1974.

The Equivalent Of 7 Hiroshima A-Bombs Are Being Dropped On Indochina Each And Every Month

And that's after six years of protest!

Explosives equal to 420 Hiroshima A-bombs have already been dropped on Vietnam.

Millions of men, women and children have been killed, maimed or left homeless as a result of the bombing.

—and this is what President Nixon calls a policy of "great restraint"!

He tells us he is winding down the war — and then says that unless North Vietnam accepts his terms, there will be no reduction of the bombing. (As a matter of fact, there will probably be a further escalation.)

"Those who have had a chance for four years and could not produce peace, should not be given another chance," Nixon, October 9, 1968.

On this October 9th, it will be four years. Can our conscience stand the guilt of another four years of this kind of immorality under Richard Nixon?

What are the justifications we are given for this wasting of Vietnam and its people? To protect the people of South Vietnam from communism? To maintain democracy?

The regime we are defending suspends elections, muzzles the press, jails and tortures its political opponents. The people we are supposed to be saving are being systematically killed.

To the survivors, our fight to contain communism in Southeast Asia (at the same time that we are making business deals with communist countries) can only be viewed as hypocritical fanaticism, indistinguishable from that which we have sworn to oppose.

Even as the bombing and killing have been escalated, most Americans appear to have tuned out on what's happening in Indochina. The Nixon Administration is counting on the American conscience to care only about U.S. casualties, not about the lives of Vietnamese.

Do we really not care about the people we kill?

Americans will not always be able to ignore the consequences of our actions. We will be asked: How could it happen? Where were you? What did you do?

Voting your conscience is not enough.

Your dollars are crucial. Your dollars can stop the killing. Make it possible for George McGovern to awaken the people before November 7.

President McGovern would end the war.

People of conscience must make this final sacrifice: contribute your utmost!

This is our last chance to make a difference.

Dear Senator McGovern:

I too feel compelled to do my utmost to end the war in Vietnam — and I know that requires the sacrificial giving of dollars to help you awaken every American. Enclosed is my contribution of $25 (or the closest to that figure I can manage).

Peace.

'Matriculation' is goal--

Minority Orientation continues

The second annual minority orientation sponsored by the YSU chapter of the NAACP was attended by seventy students yesterday in Schwebel Auditorium. The purpose of this orientation, according to chapter president and moderator Fred Harell, was to help freshmen "successfully matriculate through the university."

Brain testing prof, assistant conduct brain wave exams

The opportunity to gain control of one's own alpha rhythm is open to a limited number of YSU students this quarter. The research is being conducted by Dr. Stephen Graf and Dr. Mark Masaki, Assistant Professors in the Department of Psychology. Two senior students, John Lempka and Joseph Burick, are serving as research assistants.

"Alpha" refers to a particular frequency pattern of brainwaves which can be detected by a device called an electroencephalograph. Voluntary production of the alpha rhythm has been likened to heightened states of awareness achieved through Yoga or Zen meditation.

While the mental discipline necessary to achieve an "alpha" state through these traditional forms of study may require years of practice, voluntary control of alpha in much less time has been made possible through use of immediate visual or auditory feedback.

According to Dr. Masaki, feedback seems to be the essential ingredient to voluntary control of a number of other body processes

Black Studies, spoke on increased black enrollment; and Mr. Thomas Franklin, Advisor to the African-American Student Union (AASU), Assistant Coach, and Counselor for Black Studies, spoke on the values of a serious outlook toward a college education. Other speakers also included representatives from the various black fraternities and sororities on campus.

Students who attended the workshop were given university catalogues, pamphlets, and other "paraphernalia" pertaining to personal life and involvement here at YSU.

After the speakers finished, members of the audience were sub-divided according to the schools they are attending for workshop. These smaller groups then discussed such topics as grading systems, requirements for graduation, campus organization, advisement, financial aid, and adjustment to college life.

Members of the college chapter of NAACP hope that these workshops and orientations will be of valuable assistance to minority students. Another such program will be held today, in Schwebel Auditorium from 2 to 4 p.m. All minority students who did not attend yesterday's program are urged to come today.

Army ROTC. It's no big thing.

First of all, Army ROTC only takes up about three to five hours a week of your time while you're in college. No big thing.

Second, it gives you an edge on the other guys. In areas like management, organization and leadership. No big thing.

Third, it pays $100 a month during your junior and senior years. No big thing.

Fourth, it lets you serve your country as an Army Officer. No big thing.

But the big thing is that little things add up. The education, the background, the experience.

Right now you may think Army ROTC will look small on your resume. But a lot of employers don't think so. And with jobs getting tougher to come by, a little thing like ROTC can start to look pretty big.

Letters to the Editor

Bugged by Boppin's Boone bias

To the editor of the Jambar:

In reading the letter of Mr. Paul Gartner (The Boppin' Frosh) last week, I feel that Mr. Gartner is being too modest. He sadly neglected to mention several other courses which he would qualify to teach besides the "Pat Boone" course.

He undoubtedly must be qualified to teach a course in "Ethnic Culture in America", for he knows so much about this subject. Also, a course on "The Art of Immaturity", not to mention one entitled, "Easy Lessons to Remaining A Freshman".

Perhaps his finest qualification would be found as an instructor of a course entitled "Stupidity, An In Depth Study".

I urge the author, Mr. Boppin' Frosh, not to hide his talents under a bushel. Any one who reads his letters can clearly see his talent at work.

Irked at misnaming 'Africanoids'

To the editor of the Jambar:

This is an open letter to the entire population of YSU, inspired more or less by the ethnic misnaming of the descendants of Africa living in this country, and more recently the calling of the African American Student Union, the Afro-American Student Union. (Jambar-Sept. 29, 1972)

Colored, Negro and Afro-Americans, are the incorrect names of the 25-30 million African Americans, residing here in America. Colored is wrong because the word color, implies color, which could be any of the black, brown, red and yellow people's of the world. The name Negro is wrong culturally, scientifically, and psycholinguistically. Culturally because it cuts off identity; therefore, it limits or destroys any purpose and fails to show what direction Black People should go. Scientifically because it lacks consistency. Consistency would demand that since Blacks are called NEGRO, which is Spanish for black, whites should be called Blanco, Indians Rojo, and Orientals Amarillo. But as you and I both know, this isn't done. And psycholinguistically because to deny the meaning of a name, is to deny the meaning of a word is to deny the meaning of language, and if we have no language, how shall we communicate? Words are denotative (literally descriptive) and connotative (evoking an emotional response). The word Negro is connotatively derogatory. The word Afro-American, which has been used quite extensively for the past four or five years, is not even correct. It's like calling Italians Italos, Germans Germos, Mexicans Mexos, and Japanese Japos, and you know that wouldn't be cool to them.

Now you might ask "what about the name Black? The answer, Black is the color, Africanoid the race, and African American the Nationality.

Christ moves into youth, music

MEMPHIS, Tenn. AP - Jesus Christ is moving through the lives of the nation's young into their music, bringing to gospel a flock of fans unparalleled in its history, says black music executive Dave Clark.

"Gospel right now is a real big thing among young people. They are going to gospel like they went to acid rock, only I think the trend will be longer lasting," says the graying Clark, who's capping a 30-year career as head of the year-old Gospel-Truth label at Stax records.

"With gospel, there are no late hours, no wild night life. It's a quieter, more peaceful thing.

"Kids today like gospel music because it has something they've been looking for. They've tried getting answers from their parents, from dope, from the hippie thing.

"They became militant and went into the revolution thing and that didn't do it and so a lot of them went into the Jesus movement. That's what brought on the popularity of gospel music and that's what's going to keep it popular.

During his 30-plus years in the industry, the native of Jackson, Tenn., has built his career on building careers for others. He discovered the late Sam Cooke and wrote "Why I Sing the Blues," the song that put B.B. King behind a star on his door.

Accountants, engineers have good outlook for 70's— U.S. Bureau forecasts job outlook

A national upswing in openings for accountants, electrical engineers and medical lab workers will await YSU students entering these critical job areas during this decade.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, these occupations will present excellent job opportunities or will experience very rapid growth during the seventies. The accounting field, itself will need almost half a million new employees for the decade at the rate of 31,200 a year.

On the other side of the coin, would-be kindergarten and elementary school teachers and airline dispatchers will have a tough time of it.

Sixty new airline dispatchers will probably be hired each year, while primary teachers may expect keen competition, according to the statistics. The Bureau points out, however, that employment opportunities for such teachers might be very favorable in urban ghettos, low-salary districts and rural areas.

Graduates from the school of engineering have uniformly favorable prospects. All engineering fields are rated on the upswing. Aerospace engineering prospects are due to employment fluctuations, though the Bureau notes that the long-range outlook is favorable.

Business majors, particularly potential public relations workers and marketing research students who get graduate degrees should have good prospects.

The demand for personnel workers will hit 160,000 for the decade, said the Bureau. The advertising field, however, will experience slow growth with good opportunities for highly qualified applicants.

The health service area rivals engineering as regards job prospects. Medical record librarians, occupational therapists, and osteopathic physicians will have excellent job opportunities.

Physicians, too, have excellent employment chances due to the limited capacities of medical schools as do dentists whose numbers will be increased by 100,000 during the decade. The pharmacy field is also expected to grow.

In teaching at the college level, the prospects for employment Ph.D.'s at four year schools are good. Secondary school teachers may find good employment if they specialize in subject fields such as the physical sciences.

Some fields require graduate degrees for good or improved employment chances. These professions include mathematicians, geologists, biochemists, chemists, economists, historians, political scientists, sociologists, and psychologists.

The picture looks bright, also, for future crimefighters. FBI hiring is expected to rise during the decade and peak at 7,900. Statistics point out that the turnover rate is traditionally low.

Penguins plucked again; South Dakota wins 34-22

The YSU football team went down to its third defeat in as many games this year last Saturday as the Penguins were victimized by the Jackrabbits of South Dakota State, 34-22. A crowd of 5,000 were on hand to witness the high scoring affair, which was staged on the Jackrabbit's stomping grounds, in Brookings, S.D.

John Tabor, a junior All-American was particularly impressive for the home team, firing 3 touchdown passes. The Jackrabbits have now logged 3 wins against a lone setback.

Contrary to what the score might indicate, it was YSU who opened the scoring in the first stanza on a 35-yard field goal by placekicker Fred Bruderly. The home team struck back quickly, however, pouncing on a YSU fumble in their end zone on the last play of the first quarter, giving South Dakota a 6 to 3 lead, the conversion attempt obviously failing. In the second period, the Penguins struck back taking the lead temporarily, as Rudy Florio scored on a 28 yd. run, making the score YSU 10, South Dakota State 6.

Entering the second half of play, the talented South Dakota State offense rose up to strike the YSU insurrection down, as Tabor got into the act and quickly brought his team to a 27-16 advantage on two touchdown bombs in the third frame. He unloaded one each to receivers Houser and Decker. All told, Tabor had a fine day statistically, clicking on 12 of 16 passes for 180 yards.

Ron Jaworski, YSU's vaunted passer was not to be outdone, however and displayed a fine effort in the closing frame, as he hit Dave Ferguson on a 31 yard touchdown strike. Impressive for YSU on the ground was Dave Garden, as he rushed for 80-plus yards in 19 carries.

Youngstown will be at Campbell Stadium next Saturday for its home opener. The opponent will be Northern Michigan.

There are now 46 student seats open on Student Faculty Committees that must soon be filled. Student Council urges all students who have completed 12 quarter hours and whose point average is over 2.25 to apply. The various Student Faculty Committees play an integral part in determining University policy and offer to students a channel through which to effect change at Y.S.U.

Anyone wishing to apply for a committee seat must obtain an application in the Student Council Office, Kilcawley Student Center, Room 108, before October 20. Students who have previously applied for a committee seat and have not been notified need not secure another application. All appointments will be made during the first week in November and will be announced in our first newsletter of that month. For further information, contact Rick Crossman in the Student Council Office. A list of open seats follows on the next pocket.

Speaker's Fund Monies Available

This year, Student Council has allocated $3,000 for a Student Organization Speaker's Fund. The account has been opened to 1) provide all recognized campus student organizations with monies ($100 per organization) to bring speakers to campus and 2) to enable all Y.S.U. students to benefit from a speakers program open to all members of the University community. The procedure by which a recognized student organization can obtain funds is as follows:

1. Obtain a purchase order from the Student Council Office, Room 108 in Kilcawley.
2. Fill out the purchase order in duplicate with your advisor's signature.
3. Return the completed purchase order forms to the Student Council Office.
4. The organization will then be notified of its approval by the Purchasing Office.

Council asks all recognized student organizations to adhere to the following guidelines when requesting funds for speakers from the Speaker's Fund Account.

(con't. on next leg)

1. The account is open to only RECOGNIZED Student Organizations.

2. Funds from this account are designed to be used only to pay for the speaker. No funds from this account are allowed to be directed for food, hospitality or meals. An itemized list of speaker's expenses or charges is required.

3. The event and the speaker must be opened to any student from the University and must be publicized. No organization shall be permitted to receive funds from this account and charge persons wishing to attend the event.

4. Most important of all, we ask you to please not sign any contract with the speaker or have him appear on campus to speak unless you have received permission from the proper channels.

5. It is the duty and the responsibility of the Education Committee of Student Council to determine and approve the amount of any allocation from this account.

For further information, contact Judie Krygowski or Joe Sirako of the Student Council Education Committee.

ELECTRONIC MIRACLE - Dr. Van Zandt demonstrates YSU's newest electronic equipment. The microspectrophotometer is one of only three in the nation.

Added to scientific artillery--
Biology Dept. purchases 'radar gun'

Functioning under newly appointed Acting Chairman, Dr. Paul D. Van Zandt, the YSU Biology Department has now become one of the better equipped departments in the field of higher education.

The purchase of a microspectrophotometer places YSU in this position since this highly sophisticated piece of biological electronic equipment is one of only three in the nation and costs almost ten thousand dollars.

To the science buff, the microspectrophotometer is second only to the unique electron microscope in efficiency and tolerance. It has magnification to 150,000X and has a maximum resolution capability.

is used mainly for quantitative measurement and analysis. Prismatic light rays are absorbed or reflected by matter, measured, and then the results are fed to a computer that quite simply returns a complete and exact quantitative analysis. Actually, the microspectrophotometer measures and the computer calculates the measurements. The main area of use for this electronic miracle is cell constituents.

To the less scientifically inclined, the microspectrophotometer is a pretty classy type of biological radar gun. Light reflection is used to check out a glob of scientific gunk. Also, it seems to be a lot simpler than the old slide rule and tape measure.

Assistant Professor Dr. John J. Yemma babysits with the new microscope and, after the first two years of maintenance by the manufacturer, The Zeiss Company of West Germany, Dr. Yemma will assume the maintenance and upkeep.

Dr. Van Zandt

Dr. Van Zandt was appointed the acting chairman of the Biology Department September 1, replacing Chairman Dr. George Kelley, Jr. who is taking a year's leave of absence.

Dr. Van Zandt has been at YSU since 1961, earning his B.S. degree at Greenville College, his Masters at the Univ. of Illinois and a Masters in Public Health and his Doctorate at the Univ. of North Carolina.
