Pass/Fail in committee---

Senate meets today

The Senate Ad Hoc Committee on Pass/Fail was instructed to come up with a report by February as a result of a motion passed at the University Senate meeting held December 1, in Schwebel Auditorium.

Siman requests time

At the Senate meeting, Dr. Siman, chairman of that committee, requested more time to come up with a report on a pass/fail system for courses at YSU. Dr. Hanzely then moved that the committee be directed to report at the Senate's regular meeting in February and the motion was passed in a voice vote.

Committee has trouble

Dr. Siman said that his committee was having trouble with the wording of the Credit/No Entry grading system. He also indicated that his committee was having problems understanding exactly what the Senate has in mind.

The Senate Executive Committee confirmed the decision of the Faculty Affairs Committee to suspend operations pending the negotiation of certain subjects be-

Returning members of the YSU community mourn the loss of Dwight "Dike" Beede, former head football coach, and Dr. Margaret Pfau, English department chairman, both of whom died last month during the Christmas break.

Dwight Beede, retired head football coach, was the victim of an accidental drowning during the past holiday season. His body was recovered from Beaver Creek near his Elkton home on Tuesday, December 12, but it is believed that he died on Sunday, December 10. Beede apparently fell into the creek while he was alone pruning trees near his farm.

"Dike" Beede, who was head football coach since 1939, retired on November 18, 1972, with the distinct honor of being the nation's oldest active college coach.

Before coming to YSU, he coached at Westminster College

YSU-OEA issue joint statement---

Faculty not faced with retrenchment

After four months of negotiations, the university decided just prior to the Christmas break that there would be no retrenchment of full-service faculty for the academic year 1973-74.

In a joint press release dated December 12, the University and the YSU chapter of the Ohio Education Association said they will study in conjunction with each other "all methods of affecting the economies necessary to a balanced budget for the fiscal year 1973-74." The university advised the YSU-OEA that letters on non-renewal will be sent to some faculty members on temporary contracts.

Negotiations continue

Dr. Thomas A. Shipka, chief OEA negotiator, said the January 15 deadline for completion of negotiation would probably not be met because the university has not presented all of their proposals. He said that the OEA met the deadline and that failure to meet the January 15 date for the end of negotiation was not their fault. He explained that both sides have been preoccupied with the retrenchment issue and many of their other proposals have not yet been reacted to by the administration.

Dr. Shipka called the decision not to lay off full service faculty members "a tremendous victory for the OEA." He said the OEA was "proud to have protected the careers of faculty members. It was a victory for quality education and a victory for the students and the community as well," he said.

He congratulated the university negotiating team, several administrators and the Board of Trustees for their decision not to cut back on the full time faculty staff. He indicated that there existed a friendlier atmosphere in the negotiations and that more people have recognized that the "OEA's intent is to produce a quality university."

Chief negotiator for the administration, Atty. John Weed Powers, was unable to be reached for comment on the recent breakthrough as was President Albert L. Pugsley, who is out of town.

On December 6, President Pugsley issued a seven page analysis of the university's financial picture for next year in which he indicated that there would be a reduction of faculty in some departments.

Dr. Shipka said that the financial picture painted by President Pugsley was much too pessimistic and that the formula they designed to determine proper size of faculty in a department was "very unscientific and irrelevant."

The long range issue of retrenchment is still under consideration although most of the implementation procedures have been worked out, according to Dr. Shipka. He said that disagreements still exist over what constitutes a need for a cut back in faculty size.

Top performers to highlight three coming winter concerts

Don McLean, Cheech & Chong, and Melanie have been booked for winter quarter concerts, Gina Farinelli, chairperson of the Major Events Committee, announced yesterday. All three concerts will be held in the Beeghly Center field house.

The McLean concert to be held at 8 p.m. on Sunday, January 21, will be the first concert at YSU since last spring's George Carlin-Grass Roots extravaganza. Cheech & Chong will appear Saturday, February 10, and Melanie will perform on Saturday, March 3. Tickets for McLean's performance priced at $2 for students with current validated ID's and $3 for non-students, will go on sale Wednesday at the Beeghly Athletic Business Office.

In addition to these concerts, Major Events has also scheduled three movie events for the month of January. Summer of '42 will be shown January 12, Johnny Got His Gun January 19, and a "Son of Movie Orgy," featuring film clips from silent films, horror movies, and early television shows, January 26. Admission to the movies will be free for all current YSU students.

The major events Committee is seeking 40 student marshalls for the Don McLean concert January 21. Interested students may apply at the Student Council office in room 108 at Kilcawley.

Library Closing

The library will be closed this quarter at slack weekend times as part of the university's general policy of economic cutbacks, according to Dr. George Jones, University librarian.

The library will close Saturday at 5 p.m. and will not be open at all on Sunday. The one exception to this policy will be the Sunday before final exams, when the library will be open all day.

"Attendance at these times," said Dr. Jones, "is very slack, and it is thought that this economy will inconvenience fewer people than any other." He was pleased to add that the general cutbacks would not affect the library's buying of books.

Winter Quarter Graduates

Arts and Sciences Winter Quarter graduates are reminded that they must formally apply for graduation by January 12 in the Arts and Sciences office building, Room 217.

White Paper Published

Dr. John R. White, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, will have his paper "Civil Rights and the Native American: A Paradox," published in the journal "Research in Education."

Delivered at the 71st annual meeting of the American Anthropology Association meeting held in Toronto, the paper was requested for inclusion in the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) system, which is a national computer-based information system.

Teaching Committee

The YSU Advisory Committee on Student Teaching has scheduled their next meeting for 4 p.m. Tuesday, January 16, in Room 210 of the Guy Elementary School in Liberty.

The main project the committee will undertake is the development of an evaluation instrument that can be applied to student teacher performance to formulate criteria to evaluate student teachers.

Foster Article

Dr. Jack C. Foster, associate professor of criminal justice and department chairman has co-authored an article on "Perceptions of Stigma Following Public Intervention for Delinquent Behavior," which appears in the fall issue of "Social Problems."

The research for the article was supported by grants from the Research Council of YSU and the Office of Research of the Ohio State University.

Dunsing Appointed

Dr. Jack D. Dunsing, associate professor of special education, has received a one year appointment to a review panel for preliminary proposals for Title III, Elementary and Secondary Education Act, by the Supplementary Education Center and Services of the Ohio Department of Education, Columbus.

Pomponio Publications

YSU English instructor Carmen J. Pomponio has had two of his articles accepted for publication in literary journals.

"The New Rambler, The Journal of The Johnson Society of London," has accepted Pomponio's "Looking at Samuel Johnson's 'Life of Dryden,' a critical analysis of Johnson's literary biography of John Dryden which addresses itself to the general questions of definition and purpose in biographical art, the particular question of style in Johnson.

Environmental Educators

Dr. Robert A. Ameduri, associate professor of elementary education at YSU has been invited to submit his name for inclusion in the 1973 edition of "Environmental Educators and Consultants of the World."

Published by Mid-Continent Scientific, the six-volume directory will be compiled in cooperation with the International Association for the Advancement of Earth and Environmental Sciences.

Film Don Quixote to be shown

The internationally acclaimed film "Don Quixote" will be presented by YSU department of speech and dramatics at 8 p.m., tonight in Strouss Auditorium of Jones Hall.

The Russian film is free and open to the public.

Directed and produced by Gregory Kozintsev, the film is a faithful adaptation of Cervantes' novel, and the age-old conflict between idealism and reality is made extremely poignant in this intelligent adaptation.

Set in the 17th century, the film tells of an elderly Spanish hidalgo (played by Nikolai Cherkassov) who becomes so impressed by novels of chivalry that he resolves to become a knight-errant, and to take up arms in defense of the poor and oppressed.

He chooses Dulcinea del Toboso as the lady of his heart, and calls himself Don Quixote de la Mancha. Accompanied by his squire, he sets out in the spirit of adventure and they honestly and fearlessly wage battle against "wicked enchanters and giants."

Kozintsev has directed with a fine sense of color, spectacle and high comedy, but has never lost sight of Don Quixote's dignity and tragic nobility.

The series of International Motion Picture Classics has been made possible through matching funds from the Artist Lecture Series Committee.

Four games dropped---

Chess Team returns defeated

The YSU Chess Team has returned from competing in the Pan American Intercollegiate Team Championships in Columbus, marking the first time that YSU has been represented at the chess tournament.

There were 110 United States and Canadian colleges and universities participating in the championship, which was sponsored by Ohio State University and the Intercollegiate Chess League of America.

The four students on the YSU team competed in eight rounds, and received two wins, two draws and four losses. They played Ohio State University's A team, Georgia Institute of Technology, Miami University (Ohio), University of Cincinnati, University of Massachusetts, Moncton College in New Brunswick, Canada, Western Ontario's B team, and Northwestern University's C team. YSU won the games with Georgia Institute of Technology and Moncton College, and had draws with Miami and Northwestern.

YSU's Chess Team was composed of Roger Carey, captain, Greg Komara, Ken Pierson, and Raymond J. Spagnola, Jr. James

Schroeder, a chess master from Cleveland, travelled to YSU on several occasions to coach the team members.

Advisor for the YSU Chess Club is Dr. Lawrence A. DiRusso, associate professor of education.

The winner of the tournament was the University of Chicago, which became the United States Intercollegiate Team Champion.

History Department will sponsor 'An Afternoon at Ford's Theater'

The Youngstown State University department of history is sponsoring "An Afternoon at Ford's Theater" in Washington, D.C., set for the weekend of January 26-28.

The two-day tour will begin Friday evening at 11 p.m. when participants board the bus for Washington, D.C.. The next morning's activities begin with breakfast, a V.I.P. tour of the White House from 8-9:15 a.m., a tour of the Capitol Building from 9:30-10:30 a.m., a visit to the Lincoln Memorial, and an entire afternoon at the Smithsonian Institution.

Following a trip to Arlington National Cemetery at noon Sunday, the group will then gather at Ford's Museum and Peterson House from 1:15-3 p.m. From 3-5 p.m. they will attend a production of "Godspell" in Ford's Theatre, then at 5 p.m., board the bus for the return trip to Youngstown.

The cost of the tour ranges from $25.00 per person to $33.00 per person, depending on sleeping accommodations, and includes transportation, lodging and theatre ticket. All other activities are free. Because of limited space on the bus, reservations will be on a first-come basis.

Arrangements and payments may be made by contacting Hugh G. Earnhart, chairman, department of history, YSU, Ext 438.

Planetarium skies to reveal winter constellations

YSU's second planetarium program of the year entitled "The Winter Stars," is scheduled to coincide with the arrival of the winter season when the heavens are in all their royal splendor.

At no other time of the year are such mighty constellations or so many brilliant stars visible. In this program, the planetarium audience will explore the winter display of constellations, stars, planets and deep sky objects with both the naked eye and large telescopes.

The programs are the following dates and times: Thursday, Jan. 11, 2 p.m.; Friday, Jan. 12, 8 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 13, 2 and 8 p.m.; Friday, Jan. 19, 8 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 20, 2 and 8 p.m.; Friday, Jan. 26, 8 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 27, 2 and 8 p.m.

While there is no charge for admission to the programs, due to limited seating capacity, reservations are required. Reservations may be made by calling the planetarium at 747-1492, Ext. 406, Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m.

Reading Center to offer clinic for local elementary students

The Youngstown State University Reading Center will open its doors for the first time Saturday, January 6, in the School of Education building (Elm Street School) in an effort to provide clinical diagnostic and remedial services for elementary and secondary school children.

The primary function of the Reading Center, which is under the supervision of Dr. Carolyn Sue Hughes, coordinator of YSU Reading Programs and assistant professor of education, will be intensive diagnosis, leading to recommendations to the school, the home, and (where appropriate) the tutor. Once the diagnosis is completed, each pupil will receive remedial or developmental instruction as indicated by analysis of his test results.

A staff of ten advanced graduate students, supervised by Dr. Hughes, will be giving individual diagnosis and instruction, while individual intelligence testing will be provided under the direction of Dr. Sally M. Hotchkiss, assistant professor of psychology.

Parents wishing to register their children for Reading Center services should contact Miss Marilyn Notzen at 747-1492, Ext. 347. Early registration is recommended because the individualized nature of the program requires limited enrollment.

The Center will be open Saturday mornings.

Track Club Meeting

There will be a meeting of the YSU Track Club on Monday, Jan. 8, at 4 p.m. in the Beeghly Physical Education Building, Room 304. All members are urged to attend.

Pfau-Beede

The Youngstown State University was saddened during the Christmas break by the death of Dr. Margaret I. Pfau, chairman of the department of English. Dr. Pfau, a Youngstown native, had held the post of chairman since 1960 and had been a member of the YSU English department since 1962. She was respected and admired by her colleagues and students for her competent administration, her teaching talents, her excellent scholarship, and her fine wit. The university community is poorer for having lost her.

The university also mourns the death of football coach Dwight E. "Dike" Beede, who also died during the break. The Jambar felt it appropriate to reprint an editorial which first appeared on November 21, 1972, commemorating Coach Beede's retirement. The editorial appears below.

'Dike'

As Dike Beede concludes his 34-year career as YSU's football coach, the Jambar would like to commend him for his loyalty and service. Although there have been ups and downs to his coaching term, he has shaped many fine football teams as well as shaping the lives of many young men. He has contributed positively to their character as well as their football prowess.

Thanks, Dike, for a job well done.

Defines individualism a la Funk

To the editor of the Jambar:

Some people are individuals, some are sheep. Those who are sheep follow the crowd, and do things that a million other people do. They accept, without question, the laws and rules of society. If a few of the flock gets drunk at parties, the rest of the sheep will also get drunk at parties. If a respected member of the flock smokes grass, others will certainly try grass, too.

Those who are individuals do not follow the crowd. They instead follow their thoughts and feelings. They think about whether or not to do something, and then act on that thought. These people do their own thing with or without restricting themselves to the law or to socially acceptable manners.

Funk & Wagnalls defines individualism as personal independence of action, character, or interest. People that fit this definition include men like Einstein, Edison, and the Wright Brothers.

These men had vision, ideas, and/or thoughts that no man had before. These men were certainly individuals.

An individual is hard to spot. He may or may not wear long hair, beard, and old blue jeans. He just may look like an all American boy, or Joe Cool. He just may be an engineering student. You can't tell. All in all, do not judge a book by its cover, but read it before you pass judgement.

Ringer sets Beeghly schedule

The schedule for the recreational use of the Beeghly Health and Physical Education Building for the current quarter has been released this week by Dr. Lewis B. Ringer, chairman of the health and physical education department.

Highlighting this quarter's scheduling are the natatorium (swimming pool) hours, which will be as follows: Monday through Friday from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays will find the pool open for an additional aquatic session from 6 to 10 p.m. In addition, the pool will reopen on Friday afternoons, from 6 to 8 p.m. Saturdays will witness more unobstructed passage into the pool from 10 a.m. to noon. Those who plan to frequent the pool this quarter should be advised of the fact that the afternoon sessions will not be held on Jan. 19; Feb. 16 and 23; and March 1 and 2. The Saturday session will not be held on March 2.

With respect to the weight room, we find that it will be opened Monday through Friday from noon to 1 p.m. It will again be opened Monday through Thursday from 3 to 6 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays are in for yet a third session as the doors to the weight room will be once again flung open to the public from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday will witness its second-session from 3 to 5 p.m.

The hours for the recreational use of the gymnasium and the two decks are as follows: the long deck will be open Monday through Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays it will be open again from 7 to 10 p.m., with the exception of those days on which the basketball team will be slated for home games. Both decks and the gym will be open on Saturdays from noon to 3 p.m., except on days of home basketball games.

Regarding the handball and squash courts, they will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. with the exception of home basketball games and the following class times: Monday and Wednesdays 9 to 10 a.m., Wednesdays and Fridays 8 to 9 a.m., and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3 to 4 p.m. Saturdays, the courts will be open from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Overcomes snafus---

Ed. station close to completion

After delays involving a new site acquisition, the building of an access road, and a loss of electrical power, the transmitting structure for WYSU's educational television station is near completion, said Stephen J. Grcevich, director of radio broadcasting.

The latest reports from the construction site, located west of Salem, indicate that 470 feet of the 749 foot tower is up and that the adjacent building is 90% completed, Grcevich stated.

The station, the result of a corporation formed with Kent State and Akron Universities, has been plagued with problems from its inception.

First, the original site had to be moved from Alliance where the FAA ruled the proposed 1249 foot tower a flight hazard. This necessitated adapting the construction plans to the new location in Salem.

The Salem site was not without its drawbacks, however. One of them, Grcevich said, was a road that had to be built to the proposed transmitter. Next, the original equipment contractor, Ampex, went out of the transmitter business and the station planners had to re-accept bids.

The spirits who are seemingly opposed to the station's completion then deprived the workers of electricity last December via Ohio Edison, who was putting up power lines for the project. This halted all work on the tower and transmitting building for several weeks until all poles were in place.

Grcevich now hopes to have all construction and installation work finished by the middle of the month with testing to begin in February. Channel 45 should be on the air in March, he said, several months past its original October completion date.

The Jambar welcomes Letters to the Editor and University Forums from students, faculty and staff. Manuscripts should be typed, triple-spaced and must bear the author's signature, college or school, class, address and phone number.

Letters to the Editor under 250 words in length will be printed in full, providing they contain no libelous or otherwise offensive material.

The University Forum column is intended to permit comment on matters that are broader than immediate campus issues. Forum manuscripts may not exceed 700 words and must conform to the same literary standards as Letters to the Editor.

The editor reserves the right to edit or condense manuscripts which do not adhere to these specifications.

Swimming team returns from Fla. will host Indiana U. Saturday

Youngstown State's swimming team, back from the Ft. Lauderdale Swimming Forum, will host Indiana University of Pennsylvania Saturday afternoon at the Beechly Physical Education Center.

Penguin Coach Bob Leahy expects his swimmers to do well against Indiana. The Indians, however, are much improved over last year's squad that finished with a 2-11 record. They are led by veteran Neil Postas of Erie, considered to be their best all-around swimmer.

The meet marks only the second of the young season for the Penguins, who earlier finished tenth at the Penn State Relays. This will be the first competition of the year for the Indians.

The Penguin swimmers completed what Coach Leahy terms, "a successful trip", at Ft. Lauderdale over the holiday vacation. "The kids performed very well", said Leahy. Most outstanding were senior Dick Tatsch and freshman Ed Wade. A total of 165 teams participated in the ten day event.

Following Saturday's meet with Indiana, YSU will travel to Thiel on Jan. 12, host Wayne State and West Liberty State, Jan. 19, and will round out the month on the road at Akron, Jan. 20, and at Clarion State, Jan. 27.

This week on WYSU---

WYSU features interview, concert

The author of "Clockwork Orange" is interviewed by William F. Buckley, Jr. and a Cleveland Orchestra Festival Concert is highlighted by the talents of pianist and humorist Victor Borge, on programs to be heard of the week of January 7 on WYSU-FM (88.5 mh).

Sunday, Jan. 7 at 2 p.m. on Firing Line, Buckley talks with Anthony Burgess, who gives his viewpoint on young people, and at 8 p.m., Friday, Borge conducts the Cleveland Orchestra. Borge is pianist for Sibelius' "Finlandia," Bizet's "Ouvre ton coeur," Gershwin's "Summertime" and "My Man's Gone Now," Lionel Hart's suite from "Oliver."

Robert Cromie talks with Vance Packard, author of "A Nation of Strangers," at 6 p.m., Sunday, followed by Harry Ellis Dickson conducting the Boston Pops in works by Delibes, Smetana, Bizet, Mendelssohn, and Cole Porter, with Leo Litwin and Anthony Paratore solo performers in Saint-Saens' "Carnival of the Animals."

Sunday Night at the Opera, at 8 p.m., Features Wagner's Parsifal, from the 1962 Bayreuth Festival. Starring are Jess Thomas, George London, Martti Talvela, Hans Hotter, Gustav Heidlinger, with the chorus and orchestra of the Bayreuth Festival.

BBC Showcase, heard at 8 p.m., Monday, will offer a variety of musical selections: Philip Ledger, harpsichord, Norman Knight, flute and Bernard Richards, cello, perform the Trio Sonata of J.C.F. Bach; the English Chamber orchestra and Aldeburgh Festival Singers perform Haydn's Mass in B flat; cellist Mstislav Rostropovich solos in a movement from Suite No. 6 for unaccompanied cello by J.S. Bach.

Michael Tilson Thomas conducts the Boston Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m., Tuesday, in Prokofiev's Scythian suite "Ala and Lolli", Walter Piston's Concerto for flute and orchestra with Doriot Anthony Dwyer as soloist in a world premiere performance, and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7 in A. At 10 p.m., Best of Broadway will broadcast "Perchance We Dream", and at 11 p.m., Jazz Revisited compares different styles. Guest on the Anvil, scheduled for 10 p.m., Wednesday, is Dr. Ver Schuur of the U.S. Government Radio Astronomy Observatory in West Virginia. Dr. Warren Young, supervisor of the YSU planetarium, adds to the discussion of radio astronomy and the discovery of signs of things we can only imagine.

Senate

Dr. Dan O'Neill reported on the Special Events Subcommittee and also discussed some of the different events the committee hopes to implement.

The Senate will meet today at 4 p.m. in Schwebel Auditorium. At today's meeting the Academic Affairs Committee will recommend to the Senate that the last day for a student to change from credit to audit in a course be moved to the end of the eighth week. Also the University Curriculum Committee will submit a report concerning changes in curriculum.

Plain Dealer story denounced...

YSU grid coach not yet selected

Despite rumors to the contrary and a story in Thursday's Cleveland Plain Dealer, the YSU Athletic Council Selection Committee has not picked a new coach for the Penguin Football Team.

The Plain Dealer story, written by the paper's Canton Bureau writer, Hymie Williams, stated that the Committee had selected Massillon Coach Bob Commings for the position.

YSU Athletic Director Willard Webster called this a blatant lie and told The Jambar that he had questioned Williams about his sources and was denied an answer.

It is a well known fact that Commings has a lot of local support for the position, petitions have been circulated for his support in just about every nook and cranny in Northeast Ohio, including taverns and grocery stores.

In '67 and '68 at Struthers High, Commings went undefeated in 19 jousts. Since then, Commings has compiled a 35-5 record at Massillon in four years.

The Jambar has learned that the Selection Committee is still interviewing applicants, down now to six names. The six under consideration: Rey Dempsey (Bowling Green), Ralph Goldston (Harvard), Commings, Bo Rein (North Carolina State) and Bob Dove and Jim Vecchiarella from YSU's own staff.

However, the Selection Committee does not choose the coach. They recommend to the Athletic Council and then the Athletic Council makes a recommendation, probably three names, to YSU Prexy Dr. Albert Pugsley.

President Pugsley makes the decision. He is not bound by the findings of the Selection Committee and the Athletic Council, but it is expected that he will utilize their efforts and knowledge regarding the matter.

Athletic Director Webster has agreed to make the final decision made known with a press conference later this month.

'Rifle' Ron goes to Senior Bowl

You can hardly blame Ron Jaworski for walking a few feet off the ground lately. After all, that's the kind of week it's been, an almost unbelievable week.

Last Friday, Jaworski was sitting at home in Lackawanna, N.Y., thinking of returning to classes at Youngstown State on Tuesday when the phone rang. The call proved to be the big break of his football career.

Lou Saban, head coach of the Buffalo Bills, was on the line, wanting to know if the Penguin quarterback would like to play in the Senior Bowl on Jan. 6 in Mobile, Ala. It took as long for Jaworski to answer as it does for him to release one of his bullet passes.

The next morning he was on a plane to Mobile and tomorrow he'll be seen in a North uniform on national television, YSU's first representative in a major post-season all-star bowl and Ohio's only representative in this year's Senior Bowl.

It's a big game, not only for Jaworski, but for all 60 seniors. Each member of the winning team will receive $1,500 with $1,250 going to the losers. In addition, the Most Valuable Player for the game gets a new car while the offensive MVPs for each club pick up $2,500. No wonder they've passed out playbooks, drill twice a day and hold nightly team meetings.

"They haven't said who is starting," said Jaworski. "I can throw with all of these guys. I just have to polish my ball handling and become more familiar with these plays."

Jaworski, who broke all YSU one-season and career passing records except for attempts, is batting Tony Adams of Utah State for the starting job. "Rifle Ron" tossed for 2,123 yards and 18 touchdowns this year, ranking 5th in passing and 3rd in total offense among NCAA College Division quarterbacks. He led the East to a 20-7 win in last month's first All-Ohio Shrine Bowl.

Adams (6-1, 195), who played in the recent Blue-Gray game, tossed for 2,797 yards and 22 scores this past season. The South signal callers are LSU's Bert Jones (6-1, 205) and Florida State's Gary Huff (6-1, 195). Huff passed for 2,893 yards and 25 TDs.

A civilian pilot's license for a few good college men.
We pay.

Learn to fly while you're still in college. The Marines will pay the bill—about $900 worth of lessons—for qualified members of the Platoon Leaders Class. You'll also be earning a Marine officer's commission through PLC summer training at Quantico, Virginia. And after graduation, you may be one of the few good men who go on to Marine pilot or flight officer training. Get the details from the Marine officer who visits your campus.

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES — Over the break, campus construction continued at its rapid pace, as evidenced by this huge crane's presence in our midst.

Penguin roundballers suffer slow start, Drop five of first six games

It has been a bad start for the YSU Basketball team, one of the worst in the Penguins' history. The Birds dropped their opener to a so-so Ohio U. team that had been nationally ranked before the season. They drubbed Alliance in their second start and seemed ready to move, then, four straight losses. The Birds had a height advantage over Cleveland State, San Francisco State, Eastern Montana and Clarion State but that was all. In all four of those surprising losses, superior speed, quickness and overall experience cost the Penguins close and hard fought games.

So, off to a 1-5 start, the Penguins have found it hard to overcome graduation losses, injuries and inexperience.

Penguin Coach Dom Rosselli feels that his young and inexperienced players will get better and will then compliment the veterans to give the Birds an all-around attack. Rosselli also cites the need to rebound with more consistency, as the Birds have been beaten on the boards this year.

The Penguins visit Cambridge Springs, Pa., Saturday night where they will be out to duplicate a 75-50 win over Alliance some two weeks ago. The victory ran YSU's string to 10 straight over the Eagles and padded the series lead to 39-7. The last loss to Alliance was in 1967-68 (67-65).

A visit by arch-rival Gannon on January 10 is the first of five stern home tests on the Beeghly Center court this month. Western Illinois, featuring 6-11 Walt Burwell, follows on January 13 with once-beaten Westminster on January 20 and nationally-ranked Akron and Philadelphia Textile on January 27 and January 31, respectively. The Zips are presently 8th on the UPI small college poll and the Rams 10th.

Mixed in is a January 18 trip to Cleveland State, a January 22 stop at Walsh and a January 24 encounter at Steubenville where YSU faces the No. 1 small college defensive team in the nation. The well-disciplined Barons, under new mentor De Sparling, are holding foes to slightly over 40 points per game.

The Penguin offense could get a shot in the arm with the return of letterman Ron Romine, a 5-11 junior guard from Badger, who was scholastically ineligible until now. Romine tallied 68 points in 18 appearances last year. His outside shooting stunned Gannon last season as he collected 18 points in his first start.

Rosselli likely will stick with starters Phil Gaston (7.3 ppg) and Bill McMeans (9.8) at forward, Billy Wells (10.7) at center and Dave Burkholder (11.7) and John Reed (7.6) at guard. Wells leads YSU rebounders with a 13.2 average while McMeans averaged 10.6.

The North rates as a slight favorite in the 2 p.m. contest.

"This has been an unreal experience for me," reports Jaworski. "Not only is it a thrill to play with such stars in a game of such stature, but I've been able to meet numerous pro coaches, owners and scouting personnel at several of the social functions. And I've never been asked to sign so many autographs."

Although Jaworski is enjoying every minute, you can bet he'll be all business when the whistle blows. His cool head under fire, in addition to his physical assets, are well known in pro circles and have earned him the shot.

The opening on the North roster came when Oregon quarterback Dan Fouts failed to recover from a broken bone in his foot. Fouts and his center Chuck Bradley (6-5, 230), were slated to be a combination. Ironically, Bradley is now Jaworski's roommate. But then that's the kind of week it's been.

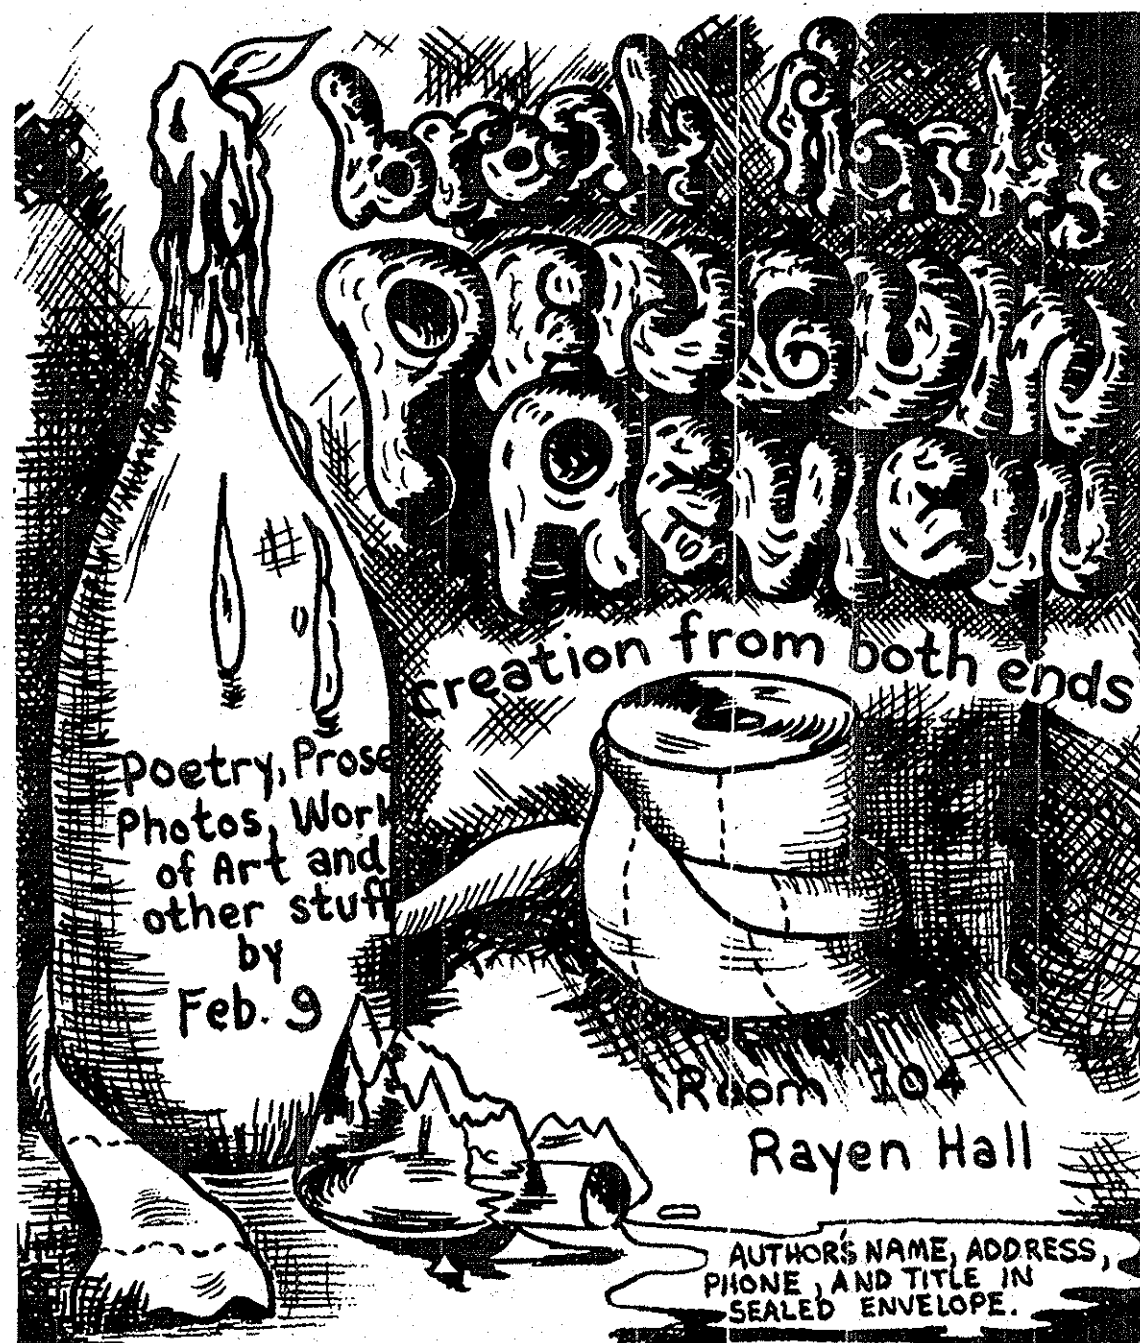

Rifle Team in close contention after third victory of season

The YSU Rifle Team continued to closely stalk first place Gannon College for the LEIRC championship, by blasting Case Western University right out of the range 1303-1160, in a League match fired during the Christmas break.

This victory not only was the third victory in four outings for the Penguins, but also marked the making of a 1287 points per match average, 7 points over the predicted average for this time in the season.

Looking at tomorrow's match with Dayton University, we find the Penguins heavily favored. Dayton has a 1074 average, but they have been known for "pulling aces out of their sleeve." Coach Fairchild will have his team "primed and ready for action."
