YOUNGSTOWN STATE UNIVERSITY

Vol. 52 - No. 54

SPACE—A large enclosed courtyard (above left) has been built into the new T&CC building still under construction. The opening stretches three floors up with a bridge crossing it in the middle of the second floor. Lights are mounted beneath the bridge, but most of the light to the amphitheatre, at least during the day, will come from the skylights. Viewed from the roof, the skylights are like a huddling of futuristic domes, the glass shaped convexly to bring in more light.

Meeting data shows trustees' absences

Edward J. DeBartolo Jr. has attended two of the six meetings of the YSU Board of Trustees held since he became a member a year ago, according to the Board secretary's report on attendance at board meetings.

The report tabulated attendance at Board meetings from June 22, 1974, through June 2, 1975. The survey, with the addition of the last meeting, June 21, accounted for seven meetings. DeBartolo began serving on the Board during the second meeting of the survey, and thus only was accounted for for six meetings. Robert E. Williams completed his term on the Board last May, and thus was only accounted for for five meetings. New board member Dr. Ralph D.Y. Fok was not included in the survey.

Former board member Williams attended three out of five meetings. Board members William J. Brown, Dr. Bertie B. Burrowes, John M. Newman, and chairperson Ann Isroff have attended all meetings. Board member Carl L. Derpison has attended six out of seven meetings. Vice-chairperson Fred J. Shutrump Jr. has attended four out of seven meetings. Member Albert Shipka has attended three out of seven.

"This last six months have been terribly busy," said DeBartolo, who had in the past year been absent from Board meetings more often than any other member. DeBartolo pointed out that, unlike other members, most of his business is out of town. "I'm flying about 6,000 miles a week." DeBartolo did say however, "I'll have to make a concerted effort to make every Board meeting from now on."

Of the other members with frequent absences, Shipka is known to be recuperating in the hospital after a serious illness. Shutrump could not be reached by press-time.

Phil Hirsch, director of Kilcawley Center, explained that the fast food service in the snack bar might provide a great deal of competition for the cafeteria, and profits for the latter would be affected.

Also, the University will have to take into account non-economic factors such as: the nutritional quality of the food served; the price of the food to the consuming students; and how well the service can attract student business.

Unannounced Towing

Five YSU commuters were the victims of an unannounced towing last week in the parking lot of Trinity Orthodox Church.

City policemen and Vandetti towing company moved in after the parish council of the church decided that they would no longer let YSU students park there without paying. The parking lot, which is located next door to the Jambar is not marked as a church parking lot and did not have a chain over the entrance at the time that the cars entered.

One of the towing victims, Dr. Luke Zaccaro, chairman of the math department, said that the parking lot attendant at the lot in front of the engineering building directed him "to the lot next to the Jambar".

Zaccaro pointed out that there were two lots next to the Jambar and he thought that they were both University owned. Zaccaro also said that the towing fee was thirteen dollars, and it would have been helpful if there had been a no parking sign.

Father Jaon Marnurean, church spokesperson, defended the church's action by saying that it is possible to buy a parking sticker for the church's lot, and there is a no parking sign on the church's front entrance. (Zaccaro entered from the back entrance.)

Marnurean also pointed out that the church paid $68,000 for the lot and it is still unpaid. He did express a willingness to work out a situation with the University where they would be able to rent the lot for six days a week.

Food service companies bid on new Kilcawley contract

"It's like comparing apples, peas, and potatoes."

That was Student Affairs Dean Dr. Charles McBriarty's reaction to the bids submitted for the Kilcawley Center food service contracts by various restaurant franchises and food services.

The twelve companies which bid on the contract for fast-food service in the Snack Bar were Dairy Queen, Burger King, Szabo Food Service, Saga Foods, Joseph Graziosi & Associates, Ogden Food, Servomation, Hardies, Broughton Food Service, Burger Chef, Arby's and Greyhound.

The contract to operate the old cafeteria line, the residents cafeteria, and to provide catering services to YSU was bid on by nine companies. They are:

Broughton, Custom Food Management, ARA Slater, Saga, Szabo, Ogden, Servomation, Greyhound, and House of Valley.

The fast-food bids specified the percentage of return to YSU on gross sales. The cafeteria and catering service bids specified percentage of return and also the daily rate charged Kilcawley residents for meals. However, in making their bids many companies introduced other important factors.

Some companies bid on both contracts. Of these, some said they were only interested if they got both contracts. Others gave two bids on each contract, one in case they were awarded one of the contracts, another in case they got both contracts.

Correction

YSU president Dr. John Coffelt did not say about the raise in fees, "Ten dollars isn't nearly so bad—we're still the cheapest university in the state," as he was quoted in the June 25th Jambar. The quote was made by Bill Brown, Student Government president.

'Citizen Kane' and others shown in salute to American films

This month a special series of classic films will initiate the Public Library of Youngstown and Mahoning County's Bicentennial salute to America's unique art form: the movies, David W. Griffith, library director, announced recently.

Each month outstanding films will be shown at area libraries. "Citizen Kane", one of the most commended films of all time, will be shown at West Branch today; and Canfield Branch, July 10. All showings are at 7:00 p.m. It will be at the Main Library, July 11 at 2:00 p.m. The Orson Welles classic study depicts a newspaper publisher's enigmatic life.

"Intermezzo" starring Leslie Howard and a very young Ingrid Bergman is the second of the summer classics. A "poignant love story," it will be held at Boardman Branch July 15; at West Branch, July 16; and at Canfield Branch, July 17. All of the branch showings are at 7:00 p.m. It will be shown at the Main Library, July 18, at 2:00 p.m.

Kirk Douglas is the star of the Ring Lardner story of a no-good prize fighter, "Champion", which will be shown July 22 at Boardman Branch and July 24 at Canfield Branch, both at 7:00 p.m. and July 25 at the Main Library at 2:00 p.m.

The last of the summer classics is "Henry V". Laurence Olivier's adaptation of Shakespeare's epic play. It will be shown at Boardman Branch, July 29, and Canfield Branch, July 31 at 7:00 p.m. North Branch will show the film July 30 and Main Library, August 1, at 2:00 p.m.

All of the bicentennial films are made possible through Project OUTREACH (Yo-Mah-Co-Co) the library's out-going library service. OUTREACH is an LSCA project, funded in part by the State Library of Ohio.

Calls housing information misleading, erroneous

To the editor of The Jambar:

I am distressed by the misleading and, on some points, completely erroneous information offered your readers in the article "Ohio Landlords" (June 25). Some tenants who do need help may find themselves in an even more uncomfortable situation if they rely on this summarization.

May I suggest instead that interested persons write for the free pamphlet "Tenants and Landlords' Rights and Duties". This is available from the Ohio Commerce Department, Division of Consumer Protection, 33 North Grant Street, Columbus, Ohio, 43215. If information is urgently needed, this agency has a toll-free hotline: 1-800-282-1960.

Shorthand Workshop

A one-day workshop on Century 21 Shorthand for teachers and business secretarial students, will be held Wednesday, July 23 at Youngstown State University.

The workshop is being sponsored by the YSU department of business education and secretarial studies in association with the Southwestern Publishing Company and the YSU office of continuing education and public service.

Registration fee is $3. For further information contact the office of continuing education and public service, 746-1851, Ext. 483.

Kilcawley

In the area of nutritional quality and price of the food, Hirsch said most of the services are about equal.

The bids will be judged collectively by McBriarty, Hirsch, Assistant Director of Kilcawley Center Karol J. Satrum, the Director of Purchasing, the Director of Auxiliary Enterprises, and Vice-president of Finance Joseph Rook.

Hirsch said the group will visit some of the franchises owned by the bidding companies and should make a decision in a month or less. When a decision is made, Rook, representing YSU, will sign the contracts with the low-bidding company or companies.

1974-75 intramurals were enjoyed by record number of participants

by Dave Harasym

The 1974-75 intramural season saw a record number of participants and saw the Theta Chi Fraternity dominate intramural sports on the YSU campus.

Theta Chi won Fraternity division titles in football, basketball, water polo, and men's volleyball. Theta Chi finished second in soccer. On the University level, Theta Chi finished first in football, second in basketball, second in water polo, second in volleyball and third in soccer.

In the 1974 intramural football season, Theta Chi defended its title, winning the University title for the second straight year. Theta defeated the Buckeyes in close game, 20-19. The Qantas Bears finished third while Alpha Phi Omega took fourth place in the University.

The football program had record breaking number of 764 total participants in the first year.

under the leadership of Will Katerberg, intramural director.

Basketball like football saw a record number of teams and individuals participating. A total of 73 teams both Fraternity and Independents allowed a record 771 individuals to compete in b'ball action. The Independent title was won by Bogus, Inc. while the Fraternity title was won by Theta Chi Fraternity. The All-University game was witnessed by about 100 people who saw a "pro-like" game that was won by Bogus, 92-65.

The soccer season was exciting as 638 participants for both Fraternities and Independents teams battle for the University title. The Independent title was won by the Mad Dogs with the Engineers finishing second. The Fraternity soccer title was won by Phi Sigma Kappa with Theta Chi finishing second. The All-University title was taken by Phi Sigma Kappa.

In the first year of water polo, Theta Chi captured the Fraternity title while the Gamecocks won the Independent title. Theta Chi bid for a second University title was spoiled by the Gamecocks.

The Mens volleyball title was won by the P.E. Majors as they defeated Theta Chi Fraternity for the All-University title.

Individual intramural sports also received lots of attention as both men and women competed for trophies and University honors.

The Women's racquetball single title went to Anjulie Peffer while Jeanie Ryzner finished second in the University.

In Men's racquetball, Bill Kochenour won the Independent title while Mark Conway finished second in the Independent division. The Fraternity title was won by Doug Lev while Jeff Wellington finished second.

In table tennis Brian McCall outlasted Al Katz and Larry Bodnovich as he took the All-University title.

In the Women's Racquetball Doubles title action, the doubles team of Pinky Marker and Mary Jo Herdman defeated the team of Peggy Oberg and Anjulie Peffer for the All-University title.

The Free-Throw competition drew many fans who saw some exciting action in both the women's and men's divisions. The Men's free-throw title was won by Randy Flint as he sank 110 baskets in 125 attempts. The Women's title was won by Wendy Stamm as she sank 45 out of 100 baskets.

The Men's one to one competition drew small but excited fans as the final one to one match between Don Boop and footballer Cliff Stoudt was staged between halves at intramural basketball finals. Don Boop outlasted a tired Cliff Stoudt, to win the one to one championship. Harry Dripps finished second while John Butler finished fourth in the University.

In Co-ed volleyball the ZBT's won the University title with the P.E. Majors finishing second while the Sammie Spikers finished third and the Gamecocks taking fourth.

In Women's volleyball Sigma Sigma won their title as Zeta Tau Alpha finished second.

Next week The Jambar will complete its intramural wrap-up

74 athletes on honor roll; six with straight-A's

Seventy-four Youngstown State University varsity athletes—including six with straight-A averages—were named to the school's athletic honor roll for the spring quarter.

Earning perfect 4.00 averages were football player Tom Banna (Youngstown Ursuline), basketball players Dave Burkholder (Wauseon Delta) and Terry Moore (Canton Lehman), golfers Keith Carnahan (Vienna Mathews) and Dan O'Bruba (Hubbard), and baseball pitcher Rick Beck (Youngstown Mooney).

The honor list includes 24 in football, 13 in baseball, 10 in rifle, seven in basketball, six each in golf and swimming, and four each in wrestling and tennis.

The breakdown by sport:

FOOTBALL—Tom Banna, 4.00; Chris Burba, 3.50; Al Campman 3.06; Rick Carter, 3.00; Gary Cieslak, 3.26; Ray DiDonato, 3.24; Jeff Ferazin, 3.33; Dave Garden, 3.00; Don Gibson, 3.15; Rick Kovacich, 3.21; Jerry Marriotti, 3.00; Willie Moore, 3.00; Russ Musiel, 3.46; Ralph Orsini, 3.33; Jack Pierson Jr., 3.07; Jim Rendinell, 3.08; Wayne Smith, 3.61; Ted Sveda, 3.29; Tad Thurling, 3.08; Tim Thurling, 3.00; Jerry Tuscano, 3.21; Chuck Wesp, 3.33; Jake Whiteleather, 3.00; and Artis Zachary, 3.56.

RIFLE—Randy Dodds, 3.42; Lane Galey, 3.66; Tad Grenga,

3.73; Barbara Letwen, 3.57; Jeff Norton, 3.05; Judy Nyers, 3.71; Joe Palmiter, 3.14; Judy Swan, 3.81; and Betty Terwilliger, 3.33.

CONCERT:

Tod Ruddgren

by Chris McGough

The Tod Ruddgren concert on the Fourth of July at Nelson Ledges' Speedway was nothing more than an expensive picnic.

The sound system was so poor that fifty feet in front of the tower the music was barely audible.

Forget trying to see the entertainers, with no backdrop, they were lost in the summertime haze.

Friendly Productions, the promoters of the concert, advertised 12 hours of solid rock. It was more like thirty minutes of music with a forty-five minute delay between acts.

The crowd of 120,000 plus appeared to lose interest on what was happening on stage and concentrated on getting "high" with their neighbors.

The free clinic was kept busy treating cases of sunstroke, cuts, sprains, and overdoses. The food purveyors were also busy—making a profit—$.70 for a hot dog—one dollar for a bag of four pieces of fruit.

The police were conveniently out of sight, mild-mannered and non-hassling.

What could have been a great concert and a good time was unfortunately lost due to inadequate sound equipment and planning of Friendly Productions. It was neither fair to the audience nor the entertainers.

CONSPIRACY TRIAL

A dramatization of the Chicago Conspiracy Trial will take place on Channel 45 Thursday night.

The script is derived from the transcripts of the trial, which is considered one of the most controversial trials in American Judicial History.

The trial revolves around an alleged conspiracy by the eight defendants to disrupt the Democratic National Convention in Chicago by riots.

The controversy centers around the conduct of both the judge and the defendants, and the fact that for the first time in the history of the American Judiciary, a defendant was bound, gagged, and shackled in a courtroom.

This dramatization is considered an outside view of the proceeding, as it is produced by the British BBC.

stunts done with horses. And the musical score by Jerry Goldsmith (The Blue Max, Papillon) highlights the desert's fascination. Although Candace Bergan plays her usual role of frustrated debutante, Connery's role as the strong, silent type is halfway charming.

Rugby Club Dinner

The Youngstown Rugby Club topped off a 5-3 spring season with a celebration dinner held last Saturday night at the Hollywood Tavern on Youngstown's south side. This season's line-up included Hiram, KSU, Pitt Law School, and others.

Vice-team captain Bob Alleman, 744-5838, urges all rugged men who want to participate in this exciting sport to contact him before practice starts at Kochis Field in early August.

MOVIE:

Wind and Lion

by Peter Proch

Movie viewers really settle for anything. They pay good money to hear cute little Linda Blair swear like a sailor and spout green vomit in a priest's face. They pay again and again to see Charlton Heston save people from every danger imaginable. Now they're paying to see Candace Bergan lead the United States Marines into battle.

It's true! She does just that in The Wind and the Lion.

It is 1904 in Morocco and Candy Bergan has a backyard that would make Annette Funicello's beach movies look like an hourglass. Along comes Sean Connery as the chic sheik with his beach brigade. Unlike Rudolph Valentino, Connery's voice is audible (where were you when we need you, Mary Wood?) and his Scottish accent makes it seem as though you're watching Lawrence of Arabia II.

He kidnaps her so that Brian Keith back in the US of A can do his Teddy Roosevelt impression for us. The Marines then hit the beach to subdue the sheik and save overgrown Gidget so that she can do her John Wayne impression for us. She sets free the sheik and then leads the Marines against the real bad guys.

The photography is decent, especially for the spectacular

Note to Graduating Students

Due to the recent flooding of some of the University buildings, all of the cap and gown orders for Summer Commencement at Youngstown State University were lost. Graduating seniors therefore are asked to contact Central Services, ext. 268, Central Hall, no later than July 14 to reorder caps and gowns.

Boyer Appointment

Miss Ivis Boyer, chairperson Political Science, was appointed to a one year term to serve as an alternate from the public sector on the Mahoning Valley Labor-Management-Citizens Committee.

The announcement was made today by Dr. Mervin Kohn, Management Department, who is Chairman of the LMC. The full Committee now has 30 regular members and 18 alternates.

EDITORIAL:

Vacant Seats

We'd like to say we told you so, but we didn't.

Actually, it was Student Government president Bill Brown who, during a news conference last summer, warned of the dangers of filling the Board of Trustees with over-busy, over-burdened big business and labor types who, for one reason or another, might not be able to fulfill the obligations of Board membership.

Brown's fears may have been confirmed this week. Board of Trustees' secretary released a survey showing that several Board members have missed a majority of meetings within a one-year period, with one of the latest and most controversial appointees having missed all but two of the last six sessions.

We can't say we told you so, but we can make some observations. We understand that businessmen and labor officials have primary obligations to their professions. No Board member can be berated because he chose to meet a business obligation in another city rather than attend a Board meeting; their work is their livelihood— YSU students are not. Even so, the job of University Trustee carries some responsibilities. All members chose to accept their gubernatorial appointments, in the same way students choose to become members of organizations and committees. In the past, Trustees have criticized students who do not attend committee meetings, or Senate or Council sessions, or classes. Most student organizations, including Student Senate and Council, can impose penalties upon, or can expel, absentee members. Should Trustees be dealt with in this manner?

Perhaps

The students are participating in the YSU swim Clinic and are being coached by three time Olympic gold medal winner, Mike Burton. Burton competed in the 1968 Olympic games in Mexico where he captured his first gold medal in the 400-1500 meter free style competition. The 1972 Olympic games saw him in Munich Germany where he repeated his 1968 triumph in the free style event and is credited as being the only person ever to do this.
