Opera Success Repeats Tonight

Stearns and Bunn Score Hit With Sparkling Comedy

"Pirates of Penzance" was vigorously applauded by an enthusiastic audience at the initial performance in the auditorium last night. Gilbert and Sullivan's whimsical comic opera was directed by Dr. Stearns and Professor Bunn. It will be repeated tonight.

Jean Zebroski, as "Mabel," again played and sang her role to the standards of an opera star. She delivered both the rollicking and sentimental songs with a natural ease that delighted the audience. Opposite her was Norman Gillette, tenor, who scored a success in the role of Frederic.

Outstanding among the men was Clarence Sumner Jr. who sang the part of King in booming tones and swashbuckling style. Especially pleasing performances were those of Margaret Olds as the pirate maid who was left behind, Frank Stewart as the Major General, and Bernard Balmuth as the Sargent-of-Police.

The choruses of daughters, pirates and police were splendid in their costumes, direct from New York. Scenery was painted under the direction of Miss Lenny Evans.

Co-Eds Play Major Part In May Festivities

Men Excluded From Procession; Will Retain Roles in Pageant

Sixty-five girls will take part in the May Day program this year. No boys will be in the retinue of the queen, but several will take part in the pageant. The queen recently announced her trailbearers and floral chain. Her attendants were chosen from the two sororities and the independent group of the school. About twenty members of the Freshman class of girls will take part in the dances.

Heralds: Melvina Durig and Elizabeth Dugan.
Floral Chain: Zylpha Davis, Irma Shirock, Doris Cowdery, Mary Kirkner, Avis Hibler, Francena Moore, Olga Vaschak, Mary Mencer, Mary Margaret Cline, Virginia Dean, Katherine Jones, Dorothy Bodie, Virginia Horner, Virginia Van Brocklin, Anna Soos, Nellie Rhodes, Totty Patrick, Emily Davies, Opal Weiss.

Crown Bearer: Jean Zebroski.
1937 May Queen: Ruth Wright.
Attendants: Marion Smith, Jeanette Powers, Elinor Rogers, Janet Kirkner, Ann Monahan, Rebekah Westfall, Frances Palchefsky, Margaret Olds, Miriam Jones, June Wymer, Helen Gifford, Marion Parmenter.

Maids of Honor: Fay Treffert, Marge Wighton, Madeline Agnone.
1938 Queen: Madeline Margo.
Trailbearers: Philomena Russo, Betty Brown, Mary Louise Black, Brunetta Kern, Josephine Fusco, Mary Lou Barker.

QUEEN OF MAY

Miss Madeline Margo will reign as Queen of the May as the College conducts the eleventh annual celebration next Friday. Miss Margo became the candidate for Queen as a result of last April's election. She will receive the actual title when the crown is placed on her head by Ruth Wright, Queen of the 1937 May Day.

Write-In Ballot Cinches Council

The Independent party and the Phi-Phi-Phi party took advantage in the student Council elections of the legal write-in ballot and pooled their votes as the "Inde-Phi-able" party.

The majority of the primary winners were members of the Gamma Sigma Sorority and the Sigma Delta Fraternity. Through the use of the write-in ballot, however, the "Inde-Phi-able" party won by a sweeping majority. Those elected were Stan Sylak, Phi Gamma; Chas. Zellers and Ken Ray, Phi Kappa Delta; Marie Barjakt and Helen Gifford, Phi Lambda Delta; and Avis Hibler, Jean Zebroski, Bill Beckman, and Paul Emch, Independents.

Neon To Go On Sale Next Month

"All the work on the Neon has been completed and it is in the process of being printed," announced co-editors Frank Jaczko and Rebekah Westfall today. "It should be ready for sale early next month and those who have made a down payment or will do so during the next few days will be given preference in the distribution of the limited number of copies."

The keynote of the publication will be its informality of copy and photography.

Mr. Harry Joyce to Direct College Band

Mr. Harry Joyce, member of the college faculty and teacher of woodwind instruments, has volunteered his services as director of the college band. Plans for immediate rehearsals will be made as soon as sufficient musicians have signed up. Names of band prospects are to be left with Woodrow Van Court.

Selections From "Pirates" Broadcast by College Cast

The Pirates of Penzance, comic opera which was given last night, and will be repeated this evening, took to the ether waves for publicity. A portion of the opera was broadcast from station WKBN, Monday evening at seven. The program included the Finale of Act 1 and the Finale of Act 2. Jean Zebroski, with the chorus of girls, sang Poor Wandering One.

College In Preparation For Eleventh May Day

Court Of Queen, Afternoon And Evening Dances To Be Features Of Day's Program

BY TOTTYPATRICK

The traditional May Day program will be presented with a few changes on the afternoon and evening of May 20. The two main divisions of the program will be the court of the queen, to be held at 2:00, and the evening dance which will begin at 9:00.

Jambar Judged First Class In A. C. P. Rating

A rating of First Class Honors, or excellent, was awarded to the Jambar by judges in the Associated Collegiate Press critical service, it was announced today.

Four hundred and forty-five papers throughout the nation received criticism as a result of sending samples of their publications to the Chicago offices of A. C. P. This was the first time that the Jambar received this type of service.

The rating, which was based upon the first six issues of the year, showed that the Jambar was generally good in all departments. Highest scores were made on those points which concerned make-up. In its classification of bi-weekly for colleges of 1,000 or more enrollment, the Jambar was among the top four.

The terms for judging as set up by A. C. P. are as follows: All-American, First Class, Second Class, Third Class, and Fourth Class, which receives no honors. The six best papers in the entire county receive the title of Pacemaker. The only one in this vicinity to have this honor was the Akron Bucletite.

Dancers Selected From Gym Classes

Each year the May Day dances are taken from the Freshman class. This class has been rehearsing two dances, the Maypole Dance and another simple dance for the pageant. Members of the dances are as follows: Dorothy Buckles, Mary O'Neill, Janice Hunter, Margaret Franks, Valentine Porter, Clarabel Howe, Lena Pallotta, Sara Inglis, Ruth Kalver, Louise Landers, Jennie Naples, Iris Bletso, Mary Starkweather, Cecelia Sample, Florence Righter, Shirley Peterson, Maxine Morton, Betty Grombacker, Julia Downs.

The afternoon program will start with the procession to the north campus and the throne. The queen, in a lovely white gown, will be preceded by all her attendants. The attendants in pink, green, blue and lavender will carry spring flowers. The new features are being introduced in this year's procession. Instead of carrying a floral chain, the girls will carry floral arches. Six college girls are to be trainbearers instead of two or three small girls.

The climax of the afternoon will be the crowning of the new queen, Madeline Margo, by Ruth Wright, last year's queen. The Queen's court will pay tribute to her.

For the pleasure of the queen and her court a pageant "Cinderella and the Silver Slippers" will be enacted. Principals in the pageant are: Betty Hessel as Cinderella and Paul Emch as the Prince. During the pageant three dances will be performed. Florence Arkwright will do a solo dance. After being discontinued for a number of years, the traditional Maypole dance will be a part of the program again. The costumes of the pageant will be especially colorful with full skirt and puffed sleeves, somewhat in the modern style.

After the pageant the procession will return to school. Another new feature of May Day this year will be a Tea Dance sponsored by Interfraternity Council. There will be dancing in the auditorium and tea in the lounge for parents, students and guests of the students.

Following a few hours intermission in the festival, a dance of honor of the queen will be given by Student Council. The auditorium will be decorated and the girls will receive small corsages at the dance as favors. Tee Ross and his orchestra will play for dancing.

Fay Treffert, chairman of May Day, and her committees are doing everything to make this the most gala May Day in the history of the college. Committees include: Flowers; Ann Monahan; Pageant, Totty Patrick; Orchestra, Bob Taylor; Programs, Marge Wighton; Decorations, Dave Mackil.

College Artists Again to Exhibit at Art Gallery

The Third Annual College Art Exhibit will open at the Butler Art Gallery on May 27 and continue through June 12. Six of the art classes will be represented in the showing: color and design, clay modeling, drawing and painting, commercial art, and history of art classes of Miss Evans, and life class of Mr. Hollingsworth.

Still No Credit

Several issues ago, we criticized the college award system in an editorial entitled "Give Us Credit." Up to the time that this edition went to press, there had been no radical changes in this system, nor had any of the awards due been made.

It would please us mightily to see men walking about the town with a big red "Y" on the chest and realize that they were Youngstown College athletes, not high school boys from the Y. M. C. A. gym classes. We have the athletes. The athletes have chests - BUT NO LETTERS.

Three months ago the basketball team finished a tough season amid cheers and praise from the student body. We do not doubt that the letters which were earned by the team will be forthcoming. However, it would be much more fitting if the awards had been made while the accomplishments of the team were fresh in the minds of the students.

Last year tennis made its debut as a varsity sport. Outside of Hiram, who knows about it? These varsity athletes did not even rate as much as the intramural winners. This year, another tennis team has taken to the courts for dear old Youngstown. The team members are yaseuly wondering whether they will be awarded letters. We, too, wonder. We also wonder if anyone will respond to the call for tennis next year. Sport for sport's sake may be a fine theory, but it might not work.

To put it mildly, the intramural program is not as successful as it might be. Could it be that if the promised medals were awarded to winners throughout the year, greater interest would be stirred up in the program? You're darned right it could.

Musicians Enlist

The suggestion made in the last Jambar concerning the formation of a college band received immediate response from those interested in music. The student body signified approval following an announcement in chapel by tremendous applause at the mention of a band.

A director has been selected and about fourteen names have been turned in as candidates for membership. With this promising start, there remains but to wait until sufficient musicians have enlisted to begin practice. It is the hope of Mr. Joyce to organize before the end of the semester and to hold practice sessions throughout the summer.

The city of Youngstown has been noted for its high school bands. These bands and their separate members have continually won awards in national competition. They have set a high standard for a college band to try to live up to. We will not be satisfied if a Youngstown College band does not meet this standard. Better no band at all than one which is ragged in appearance and ability.

In order to prevent a poor showing, it will be necessary for the musicians to begin practice as soon as possible. This is a worth while project, so let's not fool around until it is too late to do anything about it. If you play a musical instrument, enlist immediately.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

BY FRANK JACZKO

See What You Did

For the first time in a long, long white we are free to speak on a controversial subject without having to put up with the comeback: "Sour grapes." Not having been a candidate for Student Council we can not be accused of alibiing for a defeat in a discussion of the recent election.

Most people would think that we consider the results of last Friday's voting unfair, and evidence of poor choosing. But we don't. On the contrary we feel that everyone of those favored individuals deserves the honor of serving on Student Council. Furthermore we can prove it. Let's look at the first name on the list. Now this young man had just finished one of the toughest jobs we have seen in our four years at Youngstown. He promoted the recent Football Dance. For three weeks he worked tirelessly, devoting all his time to the unselfish end of trying to raise funds for a football camp next fall. Now no one will disagree with us that he deserved—oh, oh; you'll have to pardon us. You see there are two lists in front of us. One has the names of those who were elected and the other the names of those who were defeated. He is on the latter.

Very carefully we select the winner's sheet and see who is Future Council Member Number One. He is a Sophomore. He bases his claim to a Council seat on: Jambar? Well, no. If you don't know how to write you just can't do it, can you? Neon? No again. But then, all the jobs on the Neon staff are stooge jobs. He's too much of a big shot for that. Choir? Of course not. Those people practice at eight o'clock in the morning. You wouldn't expect a guy to be here at eight when he doesn't have a class till nine. Dramatics? Get out. Do you think a fellow's going to rehearse every afternoon for a month when it's so much more pleasant to sit around in the lounge and just don't do anything. About now the question arises: "How does he rate a place on Student Council?" Well, as we started to tell you he's a Sophomore, and he—er—that is—

But we'll have no trouble in defending the next name on the list. This fellow was Business Manager of the Jambar. It was through his efforts that local and national advertising was obtained. This accounts for the fact that there will be eighteen issues of the school publication instead of the usual eleven. A grateful student body that always looked forward to every other Wednesday for the unflinching appearance of the college paper, should be commended for awarding honor where it is deserved and—oh, shucks, we're looking at the wrong list again. This man wasn't elected. He was defeated by—let's see. Who is F. C. M. No. 2? Oh yes. This remarkable example of sagacious choosing is a Junior. He has benefited Youngstown College and the students in general, in the following ways:

F. C. M. No. 3 bases his claims . . . but why go on? We think you have the idea by now. Our one regret is that we will not be here next year to see this conglomeration of nonentities, for the greater part, try to select a Neon staff when not one of them has any demonstrated ability along the line of publications, or attempt to supervise any of the other extra-curricular activities of the college when most of them don't have what is required to take part in them.

Comments: Laurel

To the members of the Junior Class for making good on a promise to produce a better than ever Prom. In spite of the fact that we are right proud of our class' efforts last year, we must admit that we were outdone by the thirty-niners. Not only did they have a much better orchestra but they threw in a full moon with an eclipse at no extra charge. Nice work Zellers, Groves, Thomas, Stewart, et al.

Plea

Will the person who found our pen and pencil on the stage of the auditorium and has been keeping it to teach us to take care of our belongings please return it to the writer or to the office. We have learned and promise to be more careful.

HELIX THE SNAIL

He is doubtless not altogether a welcome guest in your garden. He eats your choice lettuce the night company arrives. He riddles the celery just as it reaches its prime. His otherwise attractive personality is cancelled by a most unbearable messiness in his habits, and Helix you vote, rather misses being a Pet, and just a Pest.

I have studied and experimented with snails for the past six months. In this period of acquaintance I have found Helix to be a creature of paradoxes. He moves on only one foot, and that is on his stomach. He has only one jaw, and his teeth are on his tongue. His eyes aren't in his face, but away out in front of it. Even when he comes out of his house, he leaves his liver and one lung inside. There seems to be no limit to the amount he can eat, and equally no limit to the Lent he can keep, if he has to. Helix is a slow fellow, but he goes everywhere, sees everything.

This foot of his is a flat suction pad with cords of muscle running crosswise. When in motion, these cords move forward in wave-like progressions. If he loses one of his teeth, a new one appears at the root of the tongue and moves up into position as it grows. Helix's tongue works like a saw against his single jaw. This produces a form of chewing for his food. His eyes are placed on moveable stalks that swing in circles and serve as scouts. When hit by another object, his eyes pop back into his head giving a perfect example of "going into a hole and pulling it in after you." When Helix dies, he leaves as his monument a beautiful shell that, when he is alive, is fastened to him. What an eater Helix is. He eats cabbage, lettuce, celery, strawberries, rose leaves, and fish food. He generally dines at night thus making himself very hard to study. Inquisitive? I'll say he is. If he is transferred to a new home, he will explore it from top to bottom.

He reproduces sexually. Eggs are laid in a hole in the ground. This hole is excavated by the female, and a piece of moss is used as a door. After the eggs are laid, the female holds the door shut by attaching herself to the under side of the moss. The young hatch in about three weeks and are almost microscopic in size. They are minus a shell and are pure white in color. They grow a shell as they mature.

Helix and his family make frequent visits to the Biology Lab. If you are not acquainted, please meet the snails the next time they call. I know you will think they deserve more consideration than to be dashed against a rock.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER . . .

Today the Inquiring Reporter asks various members of the student body if they are in favor of equal representation in student council of the different social organizations.

William Beckman, Junior Politician: "I approve this idea on one condition; that the groups be represented by an organized political party and not by social groups."

Frank Stewart, Junior: "Yes, I am in favor of equal representation for each group will build up a better political basis for a sound student government and better spirit at Youngstown College."

Jacqueline Haines, Senior says, "I am in favor of equal balance of power, equality is the very foundation of fair and just government." Ed Lynch, Fresh, says, "Seeing that all the classes are concerned in running the school, they should be equally represented."

Frank Jaczko, Senior, "This plan is detrimental as it would remove the most interesting of extra-curricular activities, college politics."

Book Collections Donated to Library

Two hundred and fifty books and magazines representing historical, governmental and other miscellaneous subjects have been presented to the Youngstown College Library. Miss Maurine Brunner, librarian, announces.

Included in the list of gifts to the college library is a collection of Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Publications, presented by J. Paul Suter, 2404 Ohio. A collection of seventy-five volumes was given by Mrs. J. E. McThay, 390 Arlington.

Donations of historical interest were: Messages and Papers of the Presidents, presented by Mrs. George Eastlake, 1726 Canfield Rd. and a collection of miscellaneous historical works, given by Mrs. C. C. Huestis, 226 Lora.

Miss Gertrude Morrison, 96 South Main, Sharon, Pa., presented a collection of Dicken's Works to the library; Mrs. A. L. Button, 119 Broadway, a collection of books of historical and general interest; and Miss Dorothy Pearl Ayer, 14 St. Louis, a collection of Vogue magazines.

Fifty-two bound volumes of Government documents have been given to the College Library by Congressman Michael J. Kirwan.

The Collegiate Angle . . .

By Lenny Evans
The relief situation in Ohio has become very acute. This condition is to a large degree due to the failure of the Legislature to make provision for the "unemployables" who receive no aid from the WPA. The new appropriation bill now before the House of Representatives will do nothing to relieve the pressure, for this bill provides only for work-relief projects, which are to pay prevailing rates to "employables."

Not Necessarily Chislers
These "unemployables" are not sluggards, nor are they chislers. They are unfortunates who are physically or mentally ill. They are young mothers with no means of support and young children to take care of. That there are "chislers" no one can deny, but they form a very small part of the whole, despite the fact that they receive much publicity. It is this helples group which has been left without funds.

State Control
Ohio, as well as other hard-pressed states could certainly benefit from a change in the relief system. It would appear to be a reasonable assumption that the States and local communities are better judges of how much should be spent for "direct relief," how much should be spent for "work-relief" and how much for a combination of the two, than the Federal Government. The inadequacy of the present method of relief distribution has certainly been proven by our present state of affairs. It is to be hoped that our Representatives in Congress will see fit to alter the present bill. However, it will be a great surprise if this happens for strong centrally directed relief funds are a powerful political weapon, and not one to be relinquished lightly.

THE THEATRE

By Bernard Balmuth
If you didn't see "The Pirates" last evening, don't miss it tonight. With vacation only several weeks away this will be the final dramatic offering of the college year. And, in the meantime . . . let's go to the theatre!

Billings Subject to Change
WARNER
Now Showing: "The Ritz Brothers in "Kentucky Moonshine."
May 20: "The Adventures of Robin Hood."
Coming soon: Warner Baxter and Freddie Bartholomew in "Kidnaped."

PALACE
Now Showing: "College Swing" with Burns and Allen plus "Bulldog Drummond's Peril."

ONE MAN'S OPINION
After observing the lecture tours of Robert Gay and his "seeing eye" dog in our city, the film "Blind Alibi" of a somewhat similar nature should prove interesting. . . . Hope we see more of that lovable little Penguin who supplies most of the laughs in "Bulldog Drummond's Peril."

More Similarities—the stars and Yo-Co: Louise Hovick — Nancy Findley; "Dopey"—Howard Rempes; Charley Crapewin — Prof. Smith; Kent Taylor — Bill Gubbins; and the large piece of cheese used in "Miss" — Chas. Axtmann.
In The Mail: The Group Theatre of New York City offers a most interesting contest for amateur writers. For particulars, see your correspondent . . . From fan (business of modesty) R. B. — "It's now 'Snow White and the Fourteen Dwarfs'. Why? Because Snow White fed them green apples and they all doubled up."

National Votes Tabulated In Brown Peace Poll

Desire For Neutrality Shown in All Questions
With 31,515 students from 101 colleges voting in the Brown Daily Herald-United Student Peace Committee Survey on Peace, pronounced sympathies for Neutrality, withdrawal of American Troops from China, passage of the billion-dollar naval appropriations bill, and establishment of the R. O. T. C. on an optional basis, have been indicated. Results from the Survey are not complete and further statistics will be announced later. Thirty states are represented in the tabulations to date.

America withdrawal from China and application of the Neutrality Act has a 2-1 majority over collective security or unilateral action against Japan by the United States, in the Far Eastern question. In Question 3, a permanent U. S. peace policy, Neutrality registers exactly the same vote, while Collective security ranks a little higher. Isolation rates low, while the Spanish situation draws but little attention. Despite the pro-Boycott propaganda campaign, students still do not support it as overwhelmingly as has been often stated.

Perhaps one of the most interesting results is the large vote cast in favor of American entrance into a revised League of Nations, and for action by the United States leading toward progressive Disarmament; particularly is this interesting in view of the light vote for an aggressive. Collective Security either through economic or military sanctions.

The R. O. T. C. issue brought forth a tremendous majority for optional drill only, with only a few votes cast for compulsory drill even in R. O. T. C. colleges as a whole. Abolition of the organization entirely was favored over establishment of compulsory drill.

The largest vote cast for any sub-question was that on fighting in defense of continental America should it be invaded. On the other hand, the Survey presents a mandate from students to participate in no foreign war, with a small percentage declaring themselves willing to defend "American Rights Abroad." The absolute pacifist sentiment, though not large, is fairly significant, and the comparison between that vote and the percentage on "Any war" is also significant.

Intramural Tennis Schedule to Get Under Way Soon

Ranny Leysdon, director of intramurals, reports that plans for the tennis tournament are under way, and that as soon as enough interest is shown the tourney will begin.
Everyone in the college is eligible except the eight varsity men, Wagman, Inglis, Taylor, Jaczko, Sylak, James, Smith and Thomas. Tennis applicants are requested to see Leysdon so that he may arrange a definite schedule of play.

Remaining Tennis Schedule

Monday, May 23, at Hiram.
Thursday, May 26, at Westminster.
Wednesday, June 1, Theil College Campus Club, here.
Saturday, June 4, Case, here.

Inter-College Tennis Matches Scheduled

With Kenny Weible, Recreational Director of Mill Creek Park, taking charge, plans are under way for the first inter-collegiate tennis tourney in the Valley for May 28.
Over twenty colleges have been contacted and the reports from the near-by schools indicate that the number of entrants will be large. The matches will be held at the new Mill Creek Park Clay Courts. The tournament is planned on an individual basis with students of the various colleges competing against each other for the singles and doubles crowns. Entrants are not limited to only members of college tennis teams, however, as any college student possessing the entry fee of one dollar is eligible.
The dates of the contest are not exactly definite as yet, as some colleges have expressed a desire for a change in the dates due to exams. The tournament is the first of its kind ever to be attempted in this district, and if successful it will be made an annual affair.

Queen Showered With Gifts at Prom
As part of the tradition built up over seven years the Prom Queen, during her coronation ceremony, was presented lovely gifts from various organizations. Her Junior Class friends gave Rose Rosappe a carved ivory pin and clip set. Phi Gamma remembered the queen with a gold bracelet. Her sorority sisters, members of Phi Lambda Delta, presented Rose a gold and brocade evening bag. A necklace with matching bracelet was the gift of Phi Kappa Delta. Members of Sigma Delta Beta gave the queen a silver chain with a cross pendant, while members of Gamma Sigma remembered the queen with a blue linen purse.

Titans Down Penguins 5-2 in Third Match

At Kyle Courts last Friday the Westminster Titans handed the Penguins a 5 to 2 set back for their second defeat in three starts; Jack Wagman was the only singles player to win his contest while Inglis and Sylak won their doubles match for Youngstown.
Inglis of Yo-Co and Grubb of the New Wilmington team fought a hard, grueling three set match which the visitor finally won, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4.

Penguin Netmen Whip Hiram 4-2

In their second start of the season, the fast improving Yo-Co tennis men outplayed Hiram at the Volney Rogers tennis courts. The Penguins swept all four singles matches, but were nosed out in the doubles by dropping two three-set battles.

Wagman (Y) defeated Cmaylo (H) 6-0, 6-4.
Inglis (Y) defeated Logan (H) 6-4, 6-4.
Taylor (Y) defeated Ellison (H) 6-4, 6-1.
James (Y) defeated Worstell (H) 7-5, 8-6.
Doubles
Camaylo-Logan defeated Wagman-Sylak 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.
Ellison-Worstell defeated Inglis-Thomas, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Thiel Downs Yo-Co in Unofficial Encounter

In a practice match at Greenville, Pa., an informal tennis team from Theil College tripped the Penguins 6 to 1. The clay courts and a surprisingly strong tennis team of the home college proved too much as all Yo-Co singles players—Wagman, Inglis, Taylor, James and Thomas—went down to defeat. The doubles matches were split evenly, as Wagman and Sylak managed to make one victory for the Youngstowners.

Night Council Survey Tabulated

The results of the recent "Student Opinion Survey" taken by the Evening Student Council are listed below. 186 students showed sufficient interest in this endeavor to fill in the questionnaire. The Evening Student Council Program for 1938 will be based on this and the previous poll.
As a typical question number one showed that although the College has made various attempts to provide adequate parking space, fifty students still have trouble parking their cars safely.

PENGUIN PATER

By Dick Thomas
Baseball
For that which follows (heaven help me!) I have no claim for being the author. The article was found after being torn from some magazine or newspaper. With apologies for my perverted sense of humor, I felt this article funny enough to be printed.

"It was baseball season. The game opened with Glue at the stick, and Menles' catching. Cigar was in the box. Shortcake played short and Corn in the field. Cabbage was manager because he had a good head. Egg was umpire and he was bad. Cigar let Board walk. Song made a hit, and Sawdust filled the bases. Then Soap cleaned up. Cigar went out and Balloon started to pitch, but went up in the air. Ice went in and kept cool, until he was hit with the ball. Then you should have heard Ice scream. Lunatic was put out because he was off his base. Bread loafed on third. Crook stole second. Grass covered lots of ground and the crowd cheered when Spider caught a fly. Clock wound up the game by striking out. Lightning finished the game by striking six men out. If Door had pitched, he would have shut them all out."

Support Tennis Team
With the Yo-Co tennis season about half gone, for too many Youngstown College tennis enthusiasts have missed seeing their varsity team in action. We must admit that the time and place of the matches have not been publicized properly—yet the dates have been announced. It is a great help to our racket swingers to have people on the sidelines urging them to victory.

At out of town matches our players are impressed—or possibly depressed—at the large turn out of students who attempt cheering our opponents on to victory. Such action displays a fine school spirit, and the visiting team cannot help but admire such support.
This corner suggests to his readers—to both of them—that they make themselves a committee which organizes a huge turn-out for the remaining two home games. Let's all get behind our tennis outfit and show these visiting college teams the fine school spirit at Youngstown. We have it; let's bring it out!

OPEN ROAD CLUB

The Open Road Club had a meeting Wednesday, May 11, to plan a summer program for its members. At the meeting pictures of last summer's trips were shown.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity are having a Founders Day Banquet tonight at the Scotwich. Old members and active members are to attend. It is the hope of the fraternity to make this an annual affair.

The fraternity announces that their formal will be held Friday, May 27, at the Mansion. Jack Rowlands and his orchestra will play. Bill Semple is chairman for both affairs, aided by Harold Johnson, Paul Rabko and Robert Kirkner.

GAMMA SIGMA

Gamma Sigma Sorority had their annual spring dinner-dance Saturday, May 7, at the Mansion. Don Farr and his orchestra played for dancing. About 60 guests were seated at a U-shaped table decorated with spring flowers. Janet Kirkner and Caroline Knouss were co-chairmen for the affair.

The Gamma Sigma Sorority had their first Mother-Daughter Banquet Monday, May 9, at Ravers. About 50 guests sat at small tables with centerpieces of spring flowers. The mothers received yellow roses as favors. Fay Treffert was chairman, assisted by Francena Moore, Jean Sause, Nancy Findley and Totty Patrick.

PHI KAPPA DELTA

Phi Kappa Delta Fraternity will have their first annual spring formal at the Mahoning Valley Country Club Saturday, May 28. Tut Roberts and his orchestra will play. John Kieser is the chairman.

SIGMA DELTA BETA

Sigma Delta Beta will have its annual spring formal Thursday, June 2. John Parker and his orchestra will play for dancing.

PHI GAMMA

Tee Ross and his orchestra will play for dancing when the Phi Gammas entertain their guests at a dinner dance at the Mansion on Thursday, May 26. Special guests at the dinner will be Dr. and Mrs. Foard, Dr. Smith, and president and Mrs. Jones.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Joe Seefried, Bob Anderson, Dan Agnone, Bob Allen, and Bill Pound.

The Phi Gam pledges honored the actives and their friends with a picnic at Peace Valley on Sunday, May 15. Boating, swimming, tennis, and skating were enjoyed. Geo. Schwager was chairman.

SIGMA TAU DELTA SENIOR TEA

The Sigma Tau Delta Senior Tea

Sunday, May 29, from 3 to 5 will open Senior Week. This event will be the first social event in honor of the seniors. All alumni are invited to the tea at which seniors, faculty members, and their wives will be guests. The program includes chamber music and some piano selections by James Tavoratio. The place is to be announced later.

The next regular meeting of Sigma Tau Delta will be tonight at the Stoneligh Tearoom at 6:30. The election of officers will be the business of the evening. Also the presentation of the Emily Muldoon Prize Pin will be made.

PERSONALS

Misses Wanda Sporer and Caroline Higgins attended the annual convention of Alpha Iota National honorary business sorority at Dayton, Ohio, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 13, 14, 15. Both are members of the Youngstown Alumnae, local chapter.
