Merry Christmas

May you receive cards from only those you've sent to, meet the right person under the mistletoe, and be sure to hang up a rayon stocking (they always stretch). Have a wonderful vacation and top it off by attending the Snowflake Frolic.

War Bond and Stamp Sales Total $1,404.35 Ist Week

The bond booth at YoCo this year is a sight to behold! The surface of the booth-where the fellows and girls lay those dollars and dimes that bring such large returns-is decorated with silver stars against a dark blue background. The sides and front are covered with red, white and blue heavy cardboard. Red tinsel pillars decorated with silver stars support our slogan, "KEEP 'EM FLYING"-our goal is to buy an airplane. In the center of the front is a large American eagle, topping off the booth, making it thoroughly American.

Bond and stamp sales the first week were very encouraging. Bond sales amounted to $1,321, issue price; stamp sales, $83.35. Madeline Pucci is our leading salesman with $1,131 in bonds to her credit.

Salesmen for the month of December have been selected and the booth will be open from 8:30 a. m. until 3:00 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; from 9:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Salesmen are: Sally Pitcairn, Carmela Ignazio, Marcia Welsh, Jim Hammond, Dawn McClelland, Angela Vagnozzi, Peg Downie, Eleanor Barber, Beverly Jackson, Isabel MacLennan, and Yole Schiavone.

Salesmen for the months of January, February, March, April, and May are yet to be announced, so there is still an opportunity for volunteers to offer their services. Several hours each week is all the time necessary for each salesman to be at the booth. Nearly everyone has that much free time and it gives you a grand feeling to know you are helping, even if it is just a little. Volunteer at the bond booth!

Remember that bonds and stamps make excellent Christmas presents. They're especially suitable gifts for those exchanges that cause you so much time and trouble for everyone likes to receive bonds and stamps.

Encourage your parents and friends to buy their honds and stamps

Let's end the year with a BANG-a BANG at the Axis!

Virginia Wilkos, a member of Phi Lambda Delta Sorority, has been chosen Queen of the Snowflake Frolic. For an interesting insight into the latest queen's life, read the "Limelight."

800 Servicemen Will Receive Jambar Copies

In adition, this year the college is mailing out Christmas greetings with familiar pictures and signatures of the faculty. This project has been carried through by the college faculty and staff.

There are about 650 servicemen and women who will receive the Jambar directly from the college. With the size of the undertaking, and addresses are continually coming in, some papers must be sent to the homes of the servicemen and then will be forwarded by their parents. Any new address of a Yo-Co serviceman should be turned in to the Publicity Office as soon as possible, so that he may be receiving Jambars.

SERVICEMEN . . SEND US YOUR ADDRESSES

Will all servicemen who receivé this Jambar and whose addresses have been changed from the last one on file at the college please send the new addresses as soon as possible? It is important for all future plans to have the correct addresses of all former students now in the service on file in the ofice. Whenever military addresses change, please notify us.

The family or friends of any serviceman who attended Youngstown College prior to entering the service can also help if they will send his address to the of-

Business Sororities Announce New Pledges

Although there has been little heard from the Business School Youngstown College are to receive Sororities, Alpha Iota and Tau Kappa Nu, have been quite active this fall.

Alpha Iota welcomed its pledges into full membership on November 17th at a candlelight service. The pledges, Dorothy Lyden, Mil-. dred Scott. Elaine Tomerlin, Dorothy Smith, Donna Taffe, Cornelia Lamparty, Patricia Greenawalt, Marjorie Popovich, Helen Barnes, Mary Leon, Margaret Sedzmak and Doris Taylor were each presented with the sorority flower, the American Beauty

On November 28, Alpha Iota honored Mrs. Louis Berkheimer, the former Betty Betz, at a dinner party. Her sorority sisters presented Mrs. Berkheimer with a lovely crystal gift.

Plans are in the making for a Christmas dinner-theatre party to be held on Wednesday, December 28th. Gifts will be exchanged.

Five Students Attend Province Conference

Five members of the Newman Club and their chaplain, Rev. Arthur De Crane journeyed to Columbus Friday, Dec. 1st, to attend the two-day meeting of the Ohio Valley Province of the Newman Club Federation. Catholic studuents from secular colleges and universities in four states enjoyed the hospitality of the Ohio State Newman Club, and under the motto "Cor ad Cor Loquitar" discussed club problems and made plans for the future.

The New Lounge Is Huge Success

By Sally Pitcairn

YoCo's streamlined lounge, which was opened for student inspection Monday, Dec. 4, was the surprise of the semester. It is charming with its deep rose walls, its sharp new drapes, its rugs and lamps, and without those school-room blackboards. Everyone was pleasantly surprised with it and said so emphatically. Melva Mantle called it "smooth." Lorraine Wollnik said, "Lovely." Bob Schettino thought it the eighth wonder of the world, and Jeanne McCormick said it was "simply luscious." After listening to dozens of such comments, we can safely say that no one seemed to be dissatisfied in any way with our newly decorated hunting ground. Indeed, Student Council is to be congratulated for its fine work.

Rules for conduct in the lounge have been posted just inside the door. The furniture is comfortably and attractively arranged, and students are asked to leave it in place. As a courtesy to people attempting to study in the library, lounge lizards are asked not to make excessive noise. If YoCo students are really as proud of the lounge as they seem to be, they will keep it clean without supervision. Card playing will be allowed, but gambling is definitely not permitted.

Student Council will have the power to administer grave punishments to law-breakers, but Frank MacArtor, Council president, slyly refuses to disclose their nature. The rules for lounge conduct are few. Keeping them will be a matter of courtesy; breaking them will be a serious matter for the offender!

"America for Me" Set For December 13-14

Do you know to-night is a big night in the history of Yo-Co? After all these weeks of hearing music stream from the auditorium, to-night we will get a chance to see the big production. An all student production too! For "America For Me," is written and directed by our own Angela Vagmozzi. Members of the Alpha Psi Omega and Mimes are all taking part. John Vitek is Master of ceremonies.

"America For Me" protrays the American life in music. The theme is Yankee Doodle with the folk songs and dances of the foreign countries running through it. The costumes look like something from a movie set and a great deal of work has bee put on them. It's as good as any Broadway musical and a lot cheaper.

If you haven't already bought your ticket for either of the nights, December 13th and 14th. then be sure and get one from any of the members of the cast im-Jack Loney attended the confer- mediately. The curtain rises promptly at 8:15 P. M.

Annual Christmas Party Proves Big Success

The annual Christmas Party which was sponsored by student council and given by the Dana Music students was held Dec. 7, in the auditorium Christmas n riment was in full swing with a beautiful background of colorful decorations, pine branches, and a sparkling Christmas tree.

A halarious one act play "Memoirs in the Making" was given by a group of Dana's students who included Dorothy Gard, Armond Houk, Mildred Vieweg, Emil La-Civita, Bill Trube, Elvira Hrecz, and Mary Ferranti.

Grett Rothermund and Irma Diamondstein were really tops in their humorous skit "Santa Ain't Dead".

Mr. Hofman, Dean of the Music School was Master of Ceremonies for the evening and the Christmas Spirit was quite prevalent when he led the party in carol singing. Everyone enjoyed the games, refreshments and dances. Irma Diamondstein did a swell job passing out the gifts. She was Mrs. Santa Clause for the

YoCo Debaters Break Even at Kent Contest

With only a limited two weeks preparation the debating team of the Speech Society entered the Kent State novice debate tournament for Northeastern Ohio Collegs and Universities. Meeting such opposition as Case, Western Reserve, Bowling Green, and Muskingum our affirmative team, Al Ortenzio and Grett Rothermund, defeated Case and Muskingum and lost to Reserve and Bowling Green; while the negative team, Johnny Vitek and Larry Blazina lost to Baldwin Wallace and Kent and defeated Ohio Weselyan and Akron.

That Youngstown's debaters made such a showing over the teams of Case and Weselyan is a matter of considerable pride to the entire school.

We feel that Yo-Co's speech squad is doing a fine job of keeping our college and its scholastic standard right up there with the other colleges and universities of the state. Our hats are off to you workers in speech. Congratulations again for your victories! Army.

For millions of American men and women who are in the armed service of the United States, this Christmas will live only through the memories of past Christmases when the world was at peace. Amid the bleakness of foreign battle fronts and training camps their minds will be turning back to all the Christmases they ever knew.

Christmases they ever knew.

"Just about this time," they will be saying to themselves, "I started looking for the gifts I knew must be hidden somewhere in the house. I remember the year I found the ice skates Mother had bought for me. How carefully I rewrapped them, but, oh, how the knowledge that I had peeked, pricked at my conscience. Mother looked so secretive and delighted with her surprise that I simply could not look her in the ever

"I love all the odors that Christmas brings—especially the baking of Christmas cakes. They were always wrapped and placed in a crock—to be kept for Christmas. Sometimes we even had one left on Christmas day.

"Every year since I can remember Mother has wanted a table tree. 'So much less fuss,' she always said. We children always held for for—and got—a tall tree with a star on top touching the ceiling. From the first scent of pine until the last needle was swept from the floor, we were filled with Christmas

"Sometimes, when I am wide awake in my bunk, I remember the sleeplessness of Christmas Eve. 'I just never will go to sleep,' I would think, and before I knew it someone would be whispering in my ear, 'It's dark out, but it really is 6 o'clock. Let's open our presents.' Down stairs in a flash, and then hours of pleasure with our gifts."

Once their minds are at work endless precious scenes of these happier days will flash upon "the inward eye" which Wordsworth calls "the bliss of solitude."

Perhaps the hardest task of all for their memories to accomplish will be the recollection of that manger scene from which all the warmth and love of Christmas spring. Especially amid scenes of conflict, such a scene of simple beauty and peace would evade a weary mind.

Man's memory can at times be his most precious possession. May it he a balm to the lonely hearts all over the world. May the lasting, unchanging traditions of Christmas he an incentive for our gallant men in service; something to fight to preserve, something to come home to.

From the Jambar to Servicemen ...

Increased circulation will send the Jambar to over 500 service men and women, former Youngstown College students. The recent addition will boost the number of servicemen who will receive the Jambar beyond the number of student readers. This presents a challenge and a need for adjustment to the staff. The challenge is to produce a publication that will be worth sending all over the world. The adjustment will involve writing our stories with an attention to detail that would not be necessary if all our readers were attending the college.

We velcome our boys and girls in the service to the Jambar audience. You can't imagine the thrill it is to stop and realize that in all sorts of unusual places—foxholes, jungles, far-flung air bases, etc.—you will be turning to our paper and dreaming of home and college days. We hope that you will run across familiar names or familiar events and will have pleasant memories to brighten your days. We'll be on the lookout for items of interest to you. If we receive enough letters from you we'll start a column of excerpts that viil be of interest to us all. We're glad to know that you'll be hearing from us and we'd like to find ourselves in a deluge of letters from you.

Last week we did a quick literary quiz of the professors, so this week the same question was put to a group of students. Some of them, like the profs, thought the query over before answering . . . some didn't. Witness the following choices, but don't take them TOO seriously since the question is a little out-of-this-world to begin with.

HAROLD MOREY—"I should want the Bible as a source of inspiration, Complete Works of Shakespeare for varied interest, and Sadler's "Theory and Practice of Psychiatry" for the subject that centers my interest and is the aim of my ambition." (Sensible choice, if there ever was one.)

LEONA EHRHART—"The Bible", "How Green Was My Valley", and Bob Hope's "I Never Left Home." (Ah . . . BOB HOPE, Nell's ideal!)

FRANK MacARTOR—"I should want the Bible for its literature and history, Webster's Unabridged Dictionary where there would always be something to learn, and "Organic Synthesis" by Gilman and Blott because I dote on chemistry." ("Organic Whichsis?", too deep for Nell)

MARGE THOMAS—"The Desk Anthology of American Poetry", "Rebecca", and "Spring Serenade", a biography of Robert Schumann the composer." (Very pleasing choice)

LOUISE DINKELBERG—"The Bible (basic)," "The Importance of Living" by Lin Yutang (a comparison of Oriental and Occidental concepts of life and ethics), and Don Marquis' "Archy and Mehitable" a satire on modern life." (Good choice but Nell got lost way back in the Oriental.)

WOODY VAN COURT—"Now it all depends . . . if there were a phone I'd want my little Black Book, then a book of Elery Queen stories, and a Math book to occupy my mind?" (Nell's smiling) POLLY VELKER—"First of all the Bible because I could get something new from it every time I read it, The Complete Works of Edgar thing new from it every time I read it, The Complete Works of Edgar Allen Poe because I just love gruesome stories, and one of the bound volumes of "Life" magazine for a change of scenery." (Very good choice)

BOB BURKE—"I'd take "Esquire", "Live Alone and Like It", and the "Police Gazette". (Nell's blushing!)

And what about NIBBY NELL? Well, at this point she is completely confused; but off hand: the Bible, a good anthology of the best modern and semi-modern poetry, and "Ventriloquism in Ten Easy Lessons" so she'd have some one else to talk with.

Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells—yea—why don't you Jingle Belles and get a date for the Snow Flake Frolic? . . . "Come out, come out, whereever you are," boys-there's not many days left in Leap Year and we gals have got to make the most of it—and how! . . . After the Student Council Christmas Party, managed by the Music Students, I really feel that old spirit . . . Mrs. Dehnbostle and Mr. Hoffman really cut a rugged rug-and that's for sure . . . I guess Pistol Packin' Mamma is their favorite . . . We learned a lot of new steps—and that's no jiving ... Youngstown College has finally made the grade . . . The Newman Club fixed us up when they went to Columbus on that convention . . . We are now a university to those poor unfortunates who had never heard of us before . . . Dan Nye, assisted by Judy, Jack, Marcia, Louise, and Father DeCrane, put us on the map . . . Sounds good though-Youngstown University . . . Bill Harnevious—we all remember him—is now penning us from U. C. L. A. He's again a co-ed-yea, yea . . . He likes it fine, but misses "ye olde gang" . . . Jack Mehler and Howard Edsall have something in common—both hit the hospitals at the same time . . . Hurry up, kids, and hit the road again! Get on the ball—the old place just "ain't" the same without youens . . . The lounge, now the Rose Room, by act of Student Council, is really a credit to the old place. The kids are all doing a fine job in keeping it clean-now with the Christmas tree, it really looks beautiful. The rug needs cleaning. Would some noble souls, who haven't done anything to help, offer their services? . . . Miss Flint knows of some rug cleaner that doesn't take much work-just a litle time . . . so show yourself, peoples, and we'll put you to work for sure . . . The Dead Turkey Hop wasn't so dead as it sounds-not at all . . . Emil and the boys really put their all into their playing, and the kids had a swell time . . . Thanks-especially to Elinor Love-for the help on the decorations-help-I mean work. She practically did the job single handed—with the aid of Jim M., Jim H., Louise G., and Jackie S. . . . Frank D'Isa is home for a short leave --Hi Frank! Come up and see us all the time . . . Norbert Swaney, one of the finest boys it has been my great fortune to meet, was reported killed in action in Germany. He may be dead, but to those of us who knew him, he will live eternally . . . Santa Claus, poor boy, must be rushed off his feet with all the letters and requests for gifts . . . YoCo, too, has written a nice long letter to that jolly bearded person, asking for gifts for her children. I quote parts of that letter: Please bring Ginny Mahoney a pair of non-slapping shoes—it's driving our Chuckey crazy. Give me enough cigarettes for my poor kids — this shortage is driving them to do things they never did before - eh, Jeanne. Bring me a muzzle - we have a little girl who needs one desperately. Give Billy Reed a car and he'll be happy. Send June Grimsley a large box of poster paints-her supply is running low lately. Give Angie more hours in a day-she could use them. Give Bob Humm a non-impression leaving trombone. Give Jerry (1 kilo) Watt the nerve to say "no" when put on so many committees and spread his dependability around some. and above all-give them MEN-MEN-MEN. May all your Christmases be white-AND THAT'S FOR SURE!

LIMELIGHT

By Jenan Leeder

Now it can be told! The big secret is out! The Snowflake Frolic Queen has been chosen after long and careful consideration by a corps of experts comprised of men from Youngstown College (who are especially fitted for the job) and three judges chosen from the ranks of local beauticians and a photographer.

The procedure followed in choosing the loveliest of Youngstown's lovelies completely rules out the eldment of politics. These girls are chosen on the basis of popularity, poise, personality, and pulchritude. In a primary election, the men of the student body select five girls to compete in the finals. One of these girls becomes Queen after an examination by the surpreme court of disinterested experts. The other four girls become her attendants.

The attendants to the Queen this year are four of the most popular and attractive girls in the school: Virginia D'Isa, Grett Rothermund, Jeanne Grice and Tessie Pagliasotti.

The Snowflake Queen is of medium height with dark hair, a truly peaches and cream complexion, and most outstanding of all a warm, friendly smile. This 19 year old Sophomore has many friends who are ardent in their praise. She is jolly, full of fun and always ready to join the gang for a good time. She is a graduate of Struthers High School where she served as attendant to the Senior Queen her final year. There, as well as in college, she took an active part in extra-curricular activities as well as being an outstanding student. Beautiful, but certainly not dumb, she is an above average student here. Among her many interests are elementary education, singing, dancing, reading, sewing, swiming... and a Marine (who plans to escort her to the dance).

'The lady takes a starring role in "America for Me", brilliant musical presented here tomorrow night by its author and producer Angie Vagnozzi who, incidentally, graced the Queen's throne last year and will crown her successor at the ball.

The new Queen is a member of Phi Lambda D'elta

The new Queen is a member of Phi Lambda Delta sorority and a delegate to the Pan Hellenci Council. She is special correspondent for the Newman club, social chairman of the Mimes, member of the Mixed Chorus. In her spare time, she works in the Children's Room of the Public Library.

The whole student body is pleased with this year's choice for Snowflake Frolic Queen. "Limelight" joins the rest of the school in offering congratulations and best wishes.

P. S.
Oh, yes . . . forgot to tell you! Her name is Virginia Wilkos . . . but, just call her Ginny!

Ohio Valley Conference

By Lilly Lew Yee

Hear ye! Hear ye! Where has everybody been?
Youngstown College sent one delegate to the Ohio Valley Conference of International Relations, Clubs, which was conducted by the I. R. C. of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, on November 10-11. The attendance of 173 delegates represented thirty colleges from West Virginia, Kentucky, and Ohio.
Principal speakers were Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, Division Assistant of the Carnegie Endowment for the Promotion of World Peace, Dr. Wilson L. Godshall, Head of the Department of Government of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and Dr. Pitman B.
Potter, former Professor of Political Science at Oberlin College, now editing a magazine on international law in Washington. A social program also added pleasure to the conference.

The topics of discussion were "The Treatment of Defeated Enemy Countries," "Economic Prerequisites for Post-War Security and National Welfare," and "World Order." Some of the major points receiving emphasis were: (a) treatment of defeated enemy peoples as the responsibility of human beings; (b) establishment of a lasting system of credit on an international scale; (c) regulation of cartels and control of international monopoly; (d) condsideration of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals as a basis on which we can work toward a plan for future world

The social program was enjoyed by the entire group. I only wish that a few more of the I. R. C. members from Yo-Co could have been there with me. Students who attended the conference gained new and profitable experiences. I hope the International Relations Club of Youngstown College will be well represented at the 1945 Regional Conference, which will be held at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

Are you one of these here - it - is - 10 - shopping - days - before - Christmas - and - I - don't - know - what - to - buy people? You are! Last week the exhibit case in the new Rose Room was filled with suggestions for solving your problems — give books for Christmas.

Remember seeing the sailor gazing at Alexander Woollcott's AS YOU WERE? It is an anthology of American prose and poetry gathered particularly for the members of the armed forces, to appeal to all their varied tastes. It is small, too; just the thing to carry where space is limited.

The music lover will be happy to see the VICTOR

BOOK OF THE OPERA among his gifts. And, your athletic friend is sure to want Frank Menke's EN-OYCLOPEDIA OF SPORTS. It is filled with histories of sports, records that have been set, the champions; all the things a sports fan wants to know. For the more serious reader try the biography of one of the founders of the electrical industry, Elihu Thomson. This is the book of David Woodbury, BELOVED SCIENTIST. There are always the youngsters to buy for and your toddler friends will like THIS LITTLE BOY WENT TO KINDERGARTEN by Ellen Paullin.

Library Hours for the Christmas Holiday—
The Library will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday during the holiday season. It will be closed on Christmas Day and New Year's Day. Books may be charged out on Friday. Dec. 15, for the entire holiday, being due Jan. 2, 1945. One copy of each reserve book will be held in the Library, but all other copies may be charged out for the entire holiday.

There are times when the lot of a campus commentator is quite

For instance, when a group from the college display true friendhip and thoughfulness by visiting a funeral home in Girard on Thanksgaving evening to express their sympathy to Edward Reed's family in he recent loss of Ed's brother, Jimmy. Ed, who is a Phi Sig pledge, has given a sincere glimpse of the real spirit and atmosphere of fraterity life when thirty-five Alpha Delts and Phi Sigs called at the funeral ome. More of this genuine expression and less of the other "goings a" are what give sororities and fraternities real justification for their

Another time of good feeling is when the college is so splendidly and efficiently represented at a convention as was Yo-Co at the Newan Club convention in Cleveland recently. A fine group attend from Fre and left what we know was a favorable impression of Youngstown

Then there was the nomination and judging of the Snowflake rolic queen which went off smooth and clean under the direction of loward Edsall. Virginia Wilkos will be a lovely queen from the andpoint of both beauty and personality. The "decision of the idges was final" and we were grateful that remarks like "after all, eauty is ONLY skin deep" were not heard echoing from the girls sho will provide a glamorous backdrop for Virginia as her attendants.

And finally there is Christmas. This year it may be a little lifficult for many people to believe in "Peace On Earth, Goodwill To Men." But we all must enter into the spirit even if we have to search long time for inspiration. Outside it will be bitter cold, but everyone will be warm inside their hearts because "God is not dead, nor doth te sleep. The wrong shall fail . . . the right prevail with 'Peace on Barth Goodwill to Men.' "

Notes from Dana's

Вy Ginny Putt.

Something about music students, highly commendable in some aspects, yet a problem with the limited budget, is that they like to eat too well. It's a regular occurrence for groups to dine together before an evening festivity -good chance to hash things over and do some beefing too. Another proof that eating is a popular diversion is illustrated by the hasty approach to refreshments at Music Forum Meetings. The food committees are to be praised for their excellent preparations for the meetings.

Awards for artistic merits ought to go to Teresa Casalini and Bill Trube, responsible for those professional-looking Christmas party invitations and posters around the halls. .

Students are grateful to an anonymous person who sent contickets to the school. The person with this thoughtfulness might be rewarded in a small way with the knowledge that the tickets were used and enjoyed.

By the way, at the last concert, some of you may remember the French horn player who was introduced by Mr. Fococelli. Cpl. Kenneth Meine attend Dana's in 40-41 and was home on furlough from Arkansas at an opportune time, to play in the concert.

Members of D. M. F. present at the November meeting heard a worthwhile talk by Dr. Deesz on sounds from the kind produced by blowing into a bottle to the more technical vibration of the violin string with demonstrations.

Phil Gibson presented her pupils in a piano recital at her home on December 9th. Guest soloist was Madeline Pucci who sang two solos accompanied at the piano by Phil and with a flute obbligato by Denise Applegate.

A lot of musicians were born in December: T. Bear, N. Emanuel, D. Gard, E. Hrecz, G. Putt, and Beethoven!

By the time this column appears in print the all-college Christmas Party and the Carolling Party will have been history-a success story, we hope..

Until next year, Merry Christmas and a Hep New Year to all!

With the Greeks

By Elizabeth Patrick

Christmas vacation is fast approaching, but before we leave for that much needed rest (?) let us take one quick look at what the Greeks are doing.

sorority held a very important business meeting at Helen Lukich's home. Plans were laid for the Christmas holidays. The events are to be a party with the Phi Sigs on Dec. 16, with Helen Lukich as chairman, and a Christmas caroling party on Dec. 23, with Marian Pagliasotti, chairman. A combined business meeting of actives and pledges was held Thursday, Dec. 1, at Elizabeth Patrick's home.

GAMMA SIGMA held formal installation as actives on Wednesday, Dec. 6, at the home of Elinor Love. Spruce clusters were the decorative scheme augmented by white roses, the sorority flower. Miss Peg Boyer was welcomed as an honorary member.

Final plans were announced for the annual spaghetti dinner and theater party held on Saturday, Dec. 9. The affair was well attended; dinner was had at Carosella's and the group then attended the Palace Theater.

Committee appointments were made for the holiday parties. The sorority Christmas party is planned for Dec. 21 and the chairman is Gladys Peppel, assisted by Lotus Koken, Peg Downie, and Shirley Skinner. Tentative arrangements were made for Ann Mastorides. the winter party with the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. Committee chairman is Mary Ann Smith, with the able help of Jan Jones, Ginny Folkwein, and Ginny D'Isa.

With a solemn candlelight ceremony, the pledges of PHI LAMB-DA DELTA sorority became ac tive members, when formal installation was held at the home of Angela Vagnozzi on Sunday, Dec. 3.

Small - cut sandwiches, ice cream, punch, mints, and the like, were served buffet style from a table beautifully decorated with yellow tea roses.

As a climax to the evening affair, each of the older members extended a friendship ring and a tea rose to her "little" sister.

The PHI SIGS held a meeting Saturday, Dec. 2. At that time, the Pledge Edict was announced

The ALPHA THETA DELTA to the new pledges. Initiation of pledges was held Dec. 8. Woody Van Court left Dec. 7

Independent Women's Club To Install Officers

We have all, I am sure, seen the gay colored donkeys on bulletin boards here and there throughout the colege telling of the Independent Women's Club, and this week again we have news from this newly organized group.

Tomorrow evening, December 14, installation of members will take place at a lovely dinner at the Y. M. C. A. Green and white, the official colors of the organization, will be used in the table decorations and other appointments. At the business meeting plans will be made for the January meeting at which oficers for the remainder of the year will be elected.

General chairman for the Installation Dinner is Mary Margaret Taylor. Her committee includes: Carmella Ignozio, Audrey Valot, Yole Schiavone, Virginia Blackman, Elizabeth Mercer, Lilley Yee, Violet Antonovich and

TO JOE FROM JUNE ...

DEAR JOE,

By now, you may have received your Christmas greetings from Youngstown College with the pictures of all the things you used to see and do, and the signatures of the faculty and staff. Speaking of those signatures (gulp!), it must have been a novelty to see them wishing you "Merry Christmas," instead of signing it, plus a gruesome grade, to the term paper you slaved over-for three hours. I think it's a swell idea, but I haven't approached Miss Flint on the subject of sending one to me. I just pecked.

YoCo is getting ready for Christmas, Joe, and it almost seems like old times. The lounge Christmas tree is up, the auditorium is decorated with greens, and everybody is dashing downtown between classes, working or shopping. In Chapel today we had our annual Christmas program and carol singing. And no femarks about my "mess-o-soprano voice." It was beautiful-not my voice!

Last night, after class, I met Frank Valentz, who is home from Penn State College. Frank went here for a short time before entering the army. He's in the infantry, and studying electrical engineering. Jack Cramer is home also, from Camp Stewart, Georgia.

Frank Talbot-it's CORPORAL now-writes home that another Youngstown boy is stationed with him at Boca Raton, Fla.-Louis Smith. And that name reminds me-Wade Smith, who is in the First Air Corps in England, has over a third of his missions completed. Wade is a turret gunner on a bomber.

I'm going to wish you a very Merry Christmas, Joe, from all of Youngstown College, and the best of wishes throughout the New Year. Personally, I'll have something for you, but I can't put it under the tree, or in a sock. I've made a wish-a double-double-that next Christmas will see you here at YoCo, singing carols with us. Should I ask

> Sincerely yours, JUNE GRIMSLEY.

Letters to the Editor

A million thanks for the Sept. 29 and Oct. 13 issues of the Jambar. I really appreciated your thoughtfulness and enjoyed reading of the freshman persecution and college life very much. It's been a long time since I've been in any class rolls, but I sincerely hope it won't be too long before I can again answer roll instead of signing a muster sheet.

From the looks of things, though, I'm half afraid I won't recognize YoCo when I do get back. My hat is off to Dr. Jones and his expansion program and my heart and best wishes are behind him.

Congratulations, too, are in order to Mrs. Mac on her new job. I don't think a better choice could have been made. (I wonder if that will help my future math grades?)

Pray, tell me-is the manpower shortage as acute as it's cracked to be? Just by looking at the staff of your paper, I should be able to answer my own question in the affirmative.

I hope I won't be presuming too much if I expect the Jambar to keep coming my way. Honestly, I really enjoy it and I am always glad Notice to Students Who Drive Cars!

Students are requested to park their cars in the parking lot which is located between the Business School and the Engineering Building. The entrance is on Bryson St.; this entrance is used also as a drive to the Art/Gallery.

The reason for this request is that cars which have been parked across the street on Wick Ave. have been molested. The college parking lot will be patrolled.

to read of where my friends and frat brothers are and just what they are doing. Keep 'em coming-will you please? Give my best to everybody. Thanks for your time.

BOB COUGHLIN.

DEAR EDITOR:

In yesterday's mail I received the first copy of the Jambar that I have seen in over two years. It was a real pleasure to sit down and read a good school paper for a change. I wish to thank you and the staff for making it possible for me to receive "The Jambar." May I request that my name become a permanent fixture on your mailing list.

Reading of the progress of the school brought back many memories of days spent at "good ole YoCo"-days that will long live in my memory and the memories of my classmates. Even after two years absence from YoCo, these memories are very vivid in my mind. Studying here at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration has made me fully realize the true worth of my training at YoCo. I, like many others, am looking forward to the time when I can return to YoCo and continue studying for my degree.

Thank you again for having the Jambar sent my way. Keep up the fine work and good luck to you all.

ENS. R. B. MOUNTS.

Gym Classes Stage Basketball Season Opener

The 2:00 gym class cagers, finding the hoop consistently, defeated the 11:00 class, 36-24, in a "grudge" battle at the Y. M. C. A. Surging ahead to an early 15-4 lead, the 2:00 class maintained a comfortable 19-11 margin at half-time and coasted in to victory.

Ortenzio contributed five field goals for a total of 10 points to pace the winners and was closely followed by Hegman who also stood out defensively with nine. Stalker, Oltean, and Watt led the losers' scoring, accounting for 20 of the 24 points.

Mr. Ponier, athletic instructor, was referee, and Mike Maaterne scorekeeper.

Speech Society Holds Spaghetti Dinner

A lot of fun was had recently by members of the Speech Society at their dinner-dance social at the home of Yole Schiavone. Twenty were present at the affair which consisted of a spaghetti and meatball dinner with all the trimmings. Al Ortenzio and Kay Baron were chairmen of the affair with Carmela Ignazio and Yole Schiavone as assistants. Chief handy-man (or dishwasher to you) was Larry Blazina, who had Irma Diamondstein and Gret Rothermund as wipers.

After the dinner there was dancing and games of ping-pong with Ed Staron and John Vitek showing plenty of action. Special guests were Pvt. Nick Schiau, former YoCoite, Johnny VanSuch, and Jim Ignazio.

The group completed their evening of fun by attending the Turkey Hop here at the college.

Omicron Lambda Hears Miss Boyer, Mr. Morey

Omicron Lambda Fraternity members heard two interesting reports at their last meeting, given by Peggy Boyer and Harold R. Moyer. Miss Boyer discussed "Archeology" and Mr. Morey "Psychotherapy in Medicine." Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held on Dec. 15 at noon. There will be a notice posted on the bulletin board, designating where the party will be held. Mary Pfeister is chairman of the party committee. Omicron Lambda cordially invites all its members and faculty members to attend the Christmas party.

Christmas Caroling Party Is Successful

The Sigma Alpha Iota Music Group staged a very delightful Christmas caroling party last Friday evening, Dec. 8. All Dana students were invited. The caroling took place on the North Side, proceeding from Buechner Hall to the Y. W. C. A. and the Women's City Club. After the singing refreshments were prepared and served by Virginia Putt at Dana's.

The winner of the raffle which was held Dec. 1 was Mary Jane James. The next meeting will be the first Friday of January.

International Relations R. I. L. to Hold Party Accepts Amendments

At the Nov. 27 meeting of I. R. C. the new amendments were read and placed in the constitution. The amendments, concerning attendance, are as follows: (1) members or officers incurring three unexcused absences may be dropped from the organization by a two-thirds vote of the other members; (2) an officer who has been absent three consecutive times, whether excused or unexcused, may, by a twothirds vote of the members present, be retired from office. Another member shall, in that case, be elected to the office vacated. Following the business meeting, Lilly Lew Yee gave an interesting resume of her trip to the Regional Conference in Columbus.

Lorraine Wolnik was in charge of the Dec. 4 meeting. The problem which she presented was dividing the Japanese Empire. Various interesting viewpoints were expressed on the subject.

Paul Herman, program chairman, introduced the idea of a question bee, which was accepted for the meeting of Dec. 11. His committee consisted of Lorraine Wolnik, Mary Alice Walker, and Mary Alice Kerwin. The procedure, which was different from the usual trend of events, proved to be a pleasant one. The questions which the committee compiled concerned contemporary affairs which occurred during the week previous to the meeting.

Plans are in the making for another social affair after the holi-

Bishop McFadden Is Newman Club Guest

Bishop James A. McFadden, S. T. D., was the guest of honor when the Newman Club met Dec. 10 for their Christmas Communion Breakfast. A Pontifical Low Mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Dominie's Church and over 50 members received Communion and breakfasted together. Bishop McFadden gave an inspiring talk at the breakfast in the church hall.

Following the breakfast, the monthly meeting was held. The next event on the Newman calendar is an annual Christmas party. The Catholic Action Center is the place; Wednesday, Dec. 20th, the date; 7:30, the time, and NEWMANITES the guests.

At Y. M. C. A. Dec. 16

Religion in Life Club will hold its Christmas party on Saturday, Dec. 16, at 8 p. m., in the auditorium on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. The admission for this affair is 20 cents and each person must also bring a 10-cent gift exchange.

Sally Dunker is general chairman of the affair. Persons serving on the committees are Frank MacArtor and June Grimsley, publicity; Jerry Watt. John Hill. and Bill Reed, program; the committee for refreshments includes Isabel MacLennan, Melva Mantle, Marjorie Emsh, Ruth Mohler, Jean Grice, and Marjean Conkle.

The next meeting of the club will be on Jan. 7, at 3 p. m., at the First Presbyterian Church. Harold Marey has charge of a discussion meeting.
