Army Air Corps Opens Program To College

C. W. Ford Named Advisor For Enlistees

A new program to recruit college men for the army's air service has been added to the college's defense program.

The college was invited to take part in the new plan a week ago, and necessary forms were mailed to the War Department last Monday.

Dr. Castle W. Ford, who has been in charge of the civilian pilot training program at the college, has been named faculty air force adviser, and will serve as a contact man between the army and college personnel.

The program is designed to supply crews to man fighting planes and supporting ground crews. It calls for procurement of aviation cadets through preliminary enlistment on the deferred basis, enabling cadet candidate to continue his education until he is actually required for army training.

Enlistment reservists are subject to call to active duty if and when they are needed. If possible, however, they will be allowed to complete their college work.

The college has been informed that complete plans for the new program will be given advisers at the meeting at some district college in the near future.

Hair Stylist At Business School

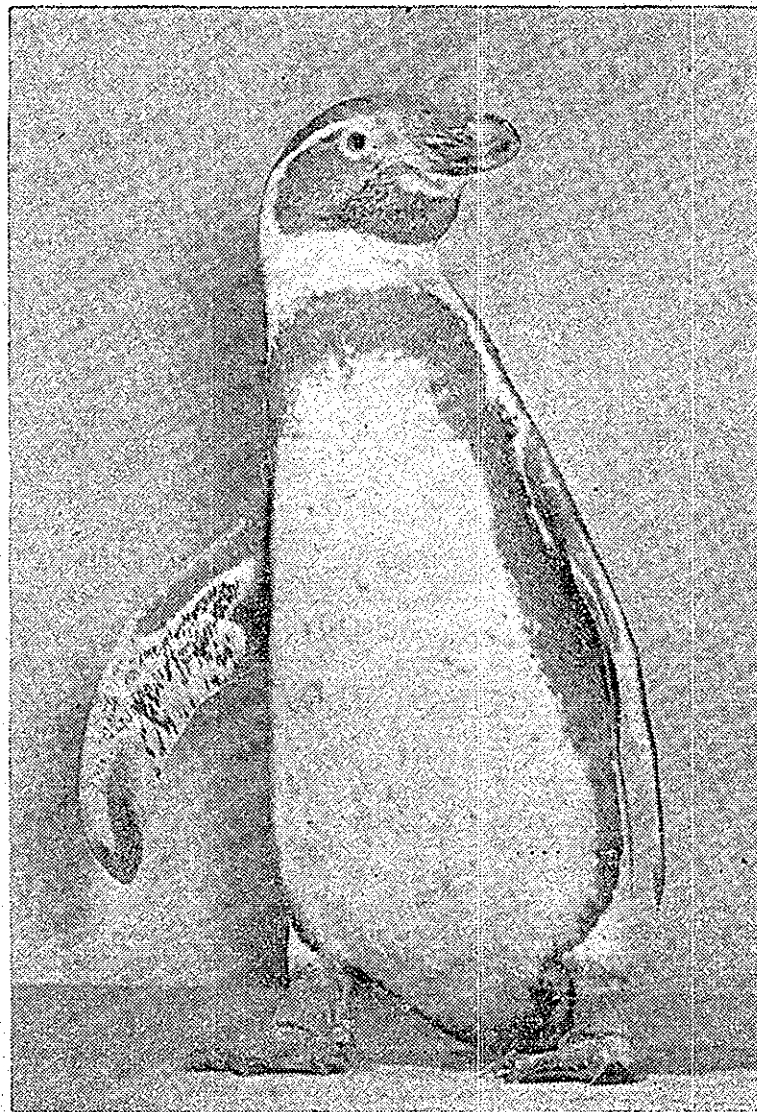

Miss Libby Hyman, hair stylist, was a recent guest speaker at the Business Personality Classes of the Youngstown College Business School. Miss Hyman spoke on the "Art of Makeup and Corrective Hair Styling."

She demonstrated the proper way to apply cosmetics and the numerous ways that a girl may style her hair by using Miss Betty Davidson and Miss Grace Dady from the class as her models. There are approximately 60 girls in the Personality Classes which meet every Wednesday to discuss ways to develop a personality that will prove an asset in the business world. The instructor is Miss Stella Cassano.

E. T. P. C. Plan Spring Banquet

The ETPC is planning a spring banquet for Tuesday, May 12, at 6:30. It is to be held particularly in honor of the senior girls who are graduating. Belinda Law and Ann Dolney, co-chairmen for the affair, have announced that it will be in the "Snack Bar" of the Tod Hotel. Contrary to previous plans, it will be informal. The members are urged to make their reservations early, as May 8 is definitely the deadline for reservations. The other committees are as follows: Announcements, Evelyn Johnson. Entertainment, Bernice Mirkin. Ethel Bingham, Mabel Prior and Margit Hultman.

Petey Penguin II Succumbs at Zoo, Remaining Mascot Feared Ill

PETE II

Pete II is dead! Pete died at the Cleveland Zoo April 22, after an illness of several weeks.

Pete died of pulmonary tuberculosis, it was no fault of Pete's — the responsibility rests solely upon our shoulders. Pete didn't have a chance. After the excitement of his arrival had died down he was completely forgotten. He had no home prepared for him, and so with customary lack of cooperation and far-sightedness, he and Pat were placed in the basement of the college. As a result of this lack of student interest our little mascot is dead.

The attendance at the Zoo suspect Pat of having the disease — and they don't know how long she will remain in good health.

The harm is done, but his death should act as a tonic to get a rise out of our decidedly dormant YoCo spirit.

"Kiddettes" Herald Spring With Hike

Members of that select group, the "Campus Kiddettes" met and hiked together through Mill Creek Park, Saturday, April 25. When tired of walking a great deal of sitting was done. (Confidentially, there's a nice shady spot beside the creek.) As captain of the group for the month of April, Rose Costa, handled all arrangements for the hike.

Youngstown Alumnus Publishes Poetry

Guy C. Sheatz, former YoCo student now living in Los Angeles, has had published a book of poems called "Will of the Wind." The book includes 60 poems on various topics and was published by the Ward Ritchie Press. Sheatz, attended Youngstown College in 1940-41. Before coming to Youngstown he was a student at Chesborough Seminary, North Chili, N. Y.

MARINE DETACHMENT

The USS Constitution, famous as Old Ironside, had a detachment of 47 U. S. Marines when it was commissioned.

Dr. Burt Married In April Ceremony

The marriage of Dr. Burt and Miss Rosemary Wolcott was solemnized Friday, April 17, at the First Christian church.

Mrs. Burt is a prominent musician of this city and Cleveland, being a member of the Youngstown Symphony Orchestra and the Cleveland Women's orchestra.

Bill John Named R. I. L. President

At a recent meeting of the Religion in Life Club, officers for the coming year were elected. George Hardie is the retiring president, and Teddy Ashbaugh the retiring secretary-treasurer. The new officers are Bill John, president; Carroll Jones, vice president; Mary Jane Morgan, secretary; Lavelle Maags, corresponding secretary; and George Yaney, treasurer.

The group will hold its next meeting on Sunday, May 3, at Dana Institute at three o'clock. Dr. Wolff is to be the guest speaker, and a social hour will follow the general discussion period.

All Protestant students of the College are cordially invited to attend the next meeting.

Inter-Fraternity Picnic At Firestone Park

Inter-fraternity picnic will be at Firestone Park, Colubiana, on Sunday, May 24, it was announced today by Susanne Edwards, chairman. Members of all fraternities and sororities on the campus are invited to attend.

WAA Holds Annual Spring Breakfast

In the true tradition of spring, the WAA turned to the wide open spaces and held a breakfast Sunday, May 3, at Birch Hill Cabin. After surviving the ordinary efforts of the committee, the girls spent the morning participating in active sports and walking. Naomi Joerndt was general chairman and had as her assistants: Lynn Masto, Rina McKinney, and Margaret Kostyo.

Activities To Continue In Summer Term

Jambar, Student Council Plan Full Time Program

President Jones announced this week that the Jambar and Student Council will continue through the summer session. The session will open June 15 and continue through August.

To make it as interesting as the winter term a series of summer dances have been planned, both formal and informal. Sororities and fraternities are inaugurating a summer "rush" season for students who will continue through the fall semester. New courses have been added to the program making it possible for them to complete a four year college course in three years.

Freshmen starting college in the summer will benefit by the new program. It will give them ample opportunity to adjust themselves to college life.

Independents Go Rustic

The Independents staged their first annual Barn Dance Saturday evening at Pioneer Pavilion. An evening of square dancing with music furnished by the Pleasant Valley Ramblers was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Collaborating on the dance with the Independents were Phi Epsilon, honorary chemistry society, and Omicron Lambda, biology fraternity. George Garnick headed the committee of Independents and saw that everything ran smoothly.

Dr. Scudder At ACS Conclave

Dr. E. D. Scudder, head of the chemistry department, represented the college at the 103rd meeting of the American Chemical Society, held last week in Memphis, Tenn.

Representatives of colleges, universities, and industrial firms, professional men in independent and government laboratories, teachers and students attended the meeting. The American Chemical Society lists over 28,000 members in the largest chemical organization in the country.

Delegates Hear Vankirk At Cleveland Gathering

A Y. M. C. A. delegation to Cleveland last week included three YoCo students: Robert Seldner, Gay Liskay, and Nick Van Such.

Attending the seventeenth annual Young Men's Conference of the Ohio Area Y. M. C. A.'s, the delegates spent two days in discussions and recreation. Principal speaker was Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, of "Religion in the News" broadcast fame. Theme of the conference was preparation for the peace at the war's conclusion.

Politics Again

Last Wednesday at Student Council meeting a scorching protest was entered by Sigma Delta Beta fraternity in regard to Student Council elections; specifically the May Queen nomination with emphasis on the laxity of conducting polls and lobbying for votes.

Student Council heard and acted upon the protest. Elections in the school are not what they should be, they are loosely run and there is a definite need for more supervision to bring them to a higher standard. Council in putting the nominations in the hands of a committee had a right in expecting fair results, but due to the elasticity of the constitution pertaining to May Queen, nominations, certain girls were disqualified by persons who had no authority to do so.

The constitution states that any girl carrying twelve hours in the day liberal arts school is a senior and holding an activity book is eligible for nomination. Because of the elasticity of this clause certain girls names were kept from the list. The list of candidates were written in pencil and not posted, making it possible for anyone to cross out the names of whom they pleased.

In the future it will be pleasant to see more specific regulations in regard to student council elections. This may be attained by making the rules and times of elections more definite to the student body.

Kids, I got a fan letter—well, almost a fan letter. And after only three issues, too... The gist of the charming epistle was that I have my nerve in meddling in other people's affairs... well, what's a guy going to write about, might I ask?... Surely my own private affairs aren't interesting or numerous enough to fill this column every issue?... I might be able to last for five or six Jambars but any more than that would be stretching a few points, don't you think?... Besides, I tell everybody everything I know about me, anyhow, so it would be sort of silly to go to all the bother of writing it out... Getting back to aforesaid letter... we did it before and we can do it again in spite of the dire threats, to the contrary... unless someone forces me to end it all... my life, I mean... or the Jambar editor decides to dispense with my invaluable services in mortal fear of being shanghaied for printing such 'vile stuff'... As it is, I shall be magnanimous and retract any statements I made about an engagement in the last issue... circumstantial evidence is not enough to convict any man... therefore I hold the accused guiltless until proven otherwise... Here's hoping all my dear readers have got my point about your business being my business... I want my next fan letter to be a FAN letter.

Jackie Courtney has fallen a... Move power to him! gain... this week it's Bob Cayne, Headline... Youngstown College, considering his Phi Gamma Iota Faculty Women Start New affiliations, has certainly been Style Trend by Wearing Slacks on very loyal to the Gama Sigs... (Continued on Page 4)

Personality of The Week

Cool and efficient... an elusive character. A glance your way and you are made aware of the keen discernment in her eyes, the smoldering fires of energy and leadership veiled there. But when she smiles, the real Catherine is shown... the "Kitty" who likes to roast weenies, to bowl, to ride horses and dance; the one who loves tailored clothes and prefers red to all colors; the girl who enjoys symphonies and good literature. Never in a hurry, she has managed to take an active part in about every organization on the campus but the football team. The list includes: Officer in the Gamma Sigma Sorority, Editor of the Jambar, Ass't. editor of the Neon, Secretary of Intrafraternity Council, member of student council, President of Newman Club, President of WAA, and made WHO'S WHO. In spite of these extracurricular activities, she has completed her college course in three years and is a member of DELTA EPSILON! Gerry Sealy once re-

Campus Comments

Martha Neag

It is usually customary to bury hatchets after the issues for which they have been used, have passed. Likewise, I might have curbed my lampooning drive in regard to the Greeks except for various incidents which have occurred and which I am determined not to let pass unnoticed.

After my last venture into print, it was necessary to withdraw from public view somewhat. While two members of the faculty applauded my article, another glowered from a distance. A few Greeks were brave enough to continue speaking to me, the rest of the filial devotees bowed their heads in shame but none of them were brave enough to come to me and demand an explanation.

I felt justified in stating my opinions about this Greek letter organization business, and the fact that there were no voices crying in protestation to high heaven, leaves me with but one possible solution... I must have hit the nail right on the head.

Moreover, two persons (identity unknown) felt indebted to warn me in a letter, to leave off attacking the "idiosyncrasies of petty individuals" otherwise, the letter stated, my following will consist of only myself and Girl Friday.

To be truthful, I have never attempted to lead the crowd. Therefore, I cannot see where this idea of followers comes in. What I have attempted, has been to write this column as I feel it and as perhaps a handicapped group, not in the social spotlight, see it also.

I might have approved of the Greeks but it seems to me, alongside of what these organizations do to the individual, that in this war time when our enrollment is low, we should try to consolidate our group instead of further dividing it by cliques and snob organizations. Harvard and Yale are much larger institutions and yet such groups do not exist on their campus.

Nor am I advocating that we do away with them, for to do so would be to strike a fatal blow to the life line of those who simply exist on social affairs and those who merely come to school for pleasure derived from this round of parties.

But I would like to see these organizations getting away from some of the practices they follow. For instance, at one of the get-togethers the members of one group passed out slips of paper and members were asked to write a criticism of someone in the group, addressing it to the individual. Now this little fiasco turned out to be one of the meanest tricks, for while many of the criticisms were innocent enough, a few members took advantage of the fact that the signature of the censor was not required and did their dirtiest in slinging mud.

This is but one of the "idiosyncrasies" of the petty individuals and I could keep right on enumerating them. However, the only view in mind with which I write this is to merely ask that as college students we BEHAVE AS SUCH.

Editor's Mail Box

Dear Editor:

To those who read this letter I wish to state that it is not intended as a rebuke but rather as a stimulus to do something about the situation on which it is written.

According to the College Catalog, the College, in order to reach its objectives, seeks to provide: "First, a sound philosophy of life including an appreciation of those moral, religious, intellectual, and aesthetic values which make life satisfying; standards of rational conduct and discipline derived from an intelligent understanding of one's self in relation to others and coming from within rather than from external authority; and stability and integrity of character, arising from sound principles and a sustained religious faith, irrespective of church affiliations."

The College has provided a very fine curriculum and a good faculty. The one thing that the College has failed to provide is for leisure time for the students. There are no provisions made for recreation during free periods. The old saying, "All work and no play make Jack a dull boy" is still true and I cannot understand how the College administration has overlooked that fact. In order to understand other persons we must associate with them not only in our work but also in our recreational activities. The only chance that the students of Youngstown College have for such association is to play bridge. Bridge is a fine game but we must have more than that if we are to keep the morale of our student body if we are to maintain proper school spirit and aid in the national defense.

The only recreation that is available to the students of Youngstown College at the present time is found at the YMCA which is downtown. I believe that the College should provide facilities closer to the school. Our lounge has always been a sore spot in the school, but it does not need to be. I think that the college should take over the Newsboy's Y and put the responsibility of keeping it clean upon the students. I, for one, would gladly help to keep it clean during my free time in the afternoons, and I am certain that other students feel the same way. The student body does not have enough responsibility, so why not give the students a chance and see what they can do? At the Newsboy's Y there are facilities for ping-pong, and other forms of recreation which the students would enjoy.

If the administration would follow up a few of these suggestions the student body would soon be behind them 100%. The morale of the student body would soon rise and we would have an abundance of school spirit if such a course is followed. The College would have a new atmosphere of friendliness and cooperation between students and the administration.

We, the students, ask you, the administrators of Youngstown College, not to forget us, but give us something to be proud we carry the name of Youngstown College out into the world. Give us something to do with our leisure time besides school work and you will be rewarded for your efforts.

Yours for Victory
B. H. Williams.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17 THRU 19

You want to serve your country! Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist right now. You don't have to quit college. You can stay in college, continue your studies and qualify to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify
If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But you may remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training. After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a classification test. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer
If you qualify by this test and can meet the necessary physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

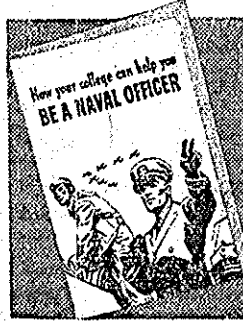

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of college work, before you are ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. However, at any time during this two-year period, you may have the option to take immediately the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer... and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses or who withdraw from college will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination. Applicants who fail to qualify in this test will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen.
2. Those who qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation will be selected for training to be Deck or Engineering Officers. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards. Those whose grades are not high enough to qualify them for Deck or Engineering Officer training will be permitted to finish their second calendar year of college. After this, they will be ordered to duty as Apprentice Seamen, but because of their college training they will have a better chance for rapid advancement. At any time, if a student should fail in his college courses, he may be ordered to active duty as an Apprentice Seaman. Your pay starts with active duty. It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

The Greatest Air Army in the World Needs Flight and Ground Crew Officers

NOW FOR COLLEGE MEN A NEW OFFICERS' TRAINING PLAN

★ New Deferred Service Plan Allows You to Continue Your Education ★

In the skies over America the mightiest air fleet in the history of the world is mobilizing for victory!

So fast is it growing that there is a place here—an urgent need here—for every college man in America who can qualify for Officer's Training.

The U. S. Army Air Forces need Flying Officers and Ground Crew Officers. And many of them must come from the ranks of today's college students—men who make their plans now for the necessary Aviation Cadet training.

Thanks to a newly created Air Force Reserve plan, men of all classes—aged 18 to 26, inclusive—can enlist for immediate service or continue the scholastic work required for graduation before being called to active duty.

You must meet the requirements for physical fitness, of course. In addition, you take a new simplified test to determine your ability to grasp the training. A college man should pass it easily.

$75 A MONTH DURING TRAINING

Those accepted who wish immediate duty will go into training as rapidly as facilities permit. As an Aviation Cadet, you are paid $75 a month, with subsistence, quarters, medical care, uniforms, equipment.

In 8 months you can win an officer's commission as a bombardier, navigator or pilot—and be well started on your way to serve America and advance yourself in aviation.

Three Enlistment Plans for College Men

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standings.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

MANY BRANCHES OF SERVICE

There are also commissions awarded in ground crew service. College men particularly will be interested in the requirements for Armaments, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography. If you have engineering experience your chances of getting a commission are excellent.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

ACT AT ONCE

If you want to fight for America, this is where your blows will count.

If you want the best training in the world, and years of solid achievement in aviation—the great career field of the future—this is where you belong. Your place is here—in the Army Air Forces.

If you plan to enlist immediately, start getting your necessary papers ready for the Aviation Cadet Examining Board when it meets in your locality. For complete information, see your Faculty Air Force Advisor. You can take your mental and physical examinations the same day you apply. Get further information now.

NOTE: If you wish to enlist and are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today—you can then complete your enlistment before any Aviation Cadet Examining Board.

Fraternities Score Freely In Annual Merry-Go-Round

By Joel Bevington

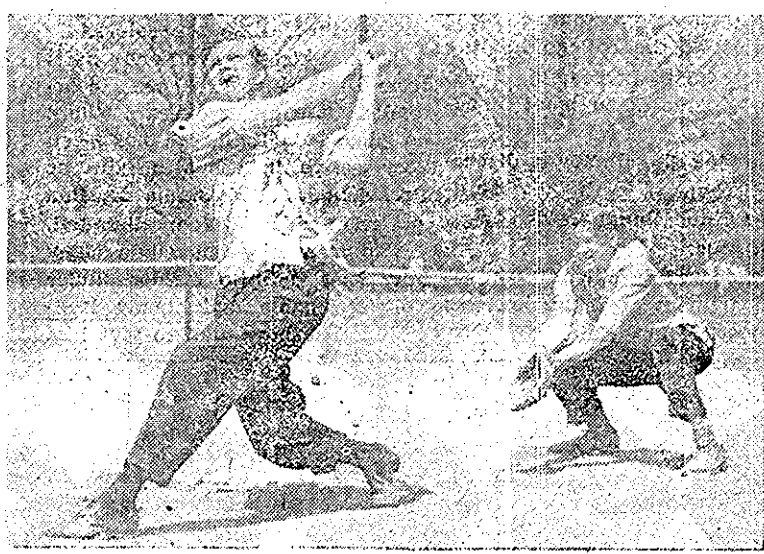

It was a beautiful day that sunny afternoon, when the Phi Gam's met the Sig Deltas in their annual baseball game on that diamond in the rough at Volney Rogers Playground. The affair was in no way equal to any other engagement that these two teams have played in the past, and any intimations that you hear to the contrary are purely coincidental.

It is a known fact that the diamond is the rarest of all stones, but for your information the rarest sight on a diamond would be to watch a Phi Gam-Sig Delt baseball game.

Thousands of people (including Kappa Sigs) flocked to the playground that day. They knew what to expect, or at least they thought they did. One person was heard to say, that he never expected to see Jim Longberry in a pair of bathing trunks cavorting in right field.

There were hundreds of beautiful plays and just as many of the other kind. The crowd will never forget the beautiful one hand and back hand stops made by the Phi Gam ace, Bud Schermer, and so on, will their memory recall the play that Dick Sontag, Sig Delt third baseman, made for that little blond in the third row.

The game started out rather slow, but both pitchers—Bevington and Kelvas being in top form—only thirteen runs crossing the plate in the first three innings—and the Phi Gams led 7 to 6. Then both teams got tired of playing ball and they decided to hold a track meet and before the game was over 41 men ran around the square—touching each base as they want. Forty-one men crossed the plate and Sontag couldn't score—with the blond of course. When the 41 runs were divided up among each team, the Phi's had 20 and the Sig's 20. After a bit of calculating it was decided that 20 plus 20—40 and a search was made for the forty-first run. Finally, Sontag was noticed talking to the little blond in the third row. He had scored—and that's how the Sigs got their twenty-first run. Final score Phi's 20—Sig's 20 plus 1.

George Hardy smacks one out for Phi Gamma in the last inning of the annual Sig Delt-Phi Gam ball game. Behind the plate for Sigma Delta Beta is Dick Organ. A Phi Gam rally in the closing inning fell just short of overcoming the Sig Delt lead. Final score: Sig Deltas 21, Phi Gams 20.

And so the Phi's have to forfeit "The Bottle of Shellac," a trophy which both teams battle for every year, to the Sig's, but with no sore feelings. Only with sore muscles, the result of a tough day.

in a pilot's training monoplane. Out of eleven students in the class, only two wouldn't venture from the ground. Now, completely satisfied, the class is continuing the project, knowing a little more of what it is all about.

Pete's Boys

By PETE

Here it is, ladies and gentlemen, the lucky third. Or is it lucky? My boy did a lot of calculating and came up with a squawk. They figured that, seein' as how we only have a couple of issues remainder of this semester, some of them would be left out. So I retaliated and came up with the decision to present the remaining huskies by three's.

Number one for today is William Davidson, the red-faced prankster from Beaver Falls, Pa. Bill claims sandlot experience in both football and baseball before his arrival on the Yo-Co scene. Hands off, girls, "Katie" has him all sewed up.

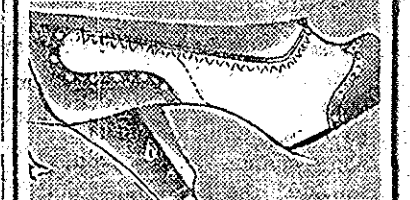

The pride and joy of Meadville, Pa., is next on my list. "Terrible John" has three good years of high school varsity football behind him. You know him as a witty, half-bashful freshman; we know him as John Laird Henderson.

Last for today is "Moose" Farrell's greatest claim to fame. Frederick Hoelzle still remembers his two years of glory on the Farrell gridiron. Some day when Moose builds a bridge across the broad, swift Mahoning, we can say he learned his engineering at Yo-Co. Moretocum next time.

Remember the prom? Did you see all my boys from Varsity Hall, who were there? It took a little persuasion over my brother pen-guins, but I finally got together enough tuxes to cover seven of them. Then the Smiths came along to put the final touches of Varsity Hall into the dance. All tolled there were nine out of fourteen of my household tick-tocking with Mr. Gordon. Show a fraternity or sorority with an average like that high. Seein' as how all the other big time columnists are making predictions as to who is going to win their league, I predict that either my griddier friends or the Phi Sigs will come out on top.

Aside to the skirts—hands off of Fred, his little "Bunny" has a strange hold on his heart. In spring my boys' fancies turn to thoughts of Camp Fitch and those cute five-mile hikes. Don't be surprised if you discover some fine day that the boys I lined up for you in my last column have carded some of the colleges around here for practice games in baseball. They're on their own; but don't say I didn't warn you. I'll see you up at Crandall Park someday. Thirty.

El. Ed. Students Take to Air

Miss Chapman's class for the past several weeks has been working on an aviation project. This is just one of the many projects the class has attempted; nevertheless, the others couldn't have been as exciting as this one turned out to be.

In order to gain experience in project method of organizing, Dr. Foard took each of the would-be teachers for a fifteen minute ride

Varsity Player Answers Call

The Phi Sigs and the school felt the sting of a heavy blow when they learned that Tony Dull, senior and chemistry major, must answer the call to the colors.

Tony, liked by everyone, hails from Dunkirk, New York. He attended Case for two years where he played football. He has been very active in school affairs as President of Phi Sigma Epsilon and on the Varsity football squad.

The fraternity has made many long and definite strides under Tony's capable and steady leadership. The boys plan to give him a grand send off, and we are sure that he will establish himself firmly in the ranks of our country's service.
