WELCOME FRESHMEN!
See you at the game
tomorrow night —
Reception Saturday night

Annual Freshman Reception Is Set For Sept. 21st

Student Council's first social affair of the school year is practically upon us! It's the Freshman Reception, traditional "opener" of each semester. The date is Sept. 21, this Saturday; the place, the main ballroom of Stambaugh Auditorium, at 8 p. m. Come at 8 o'clock and get acquainted before the dancing starts at 9.

Teo Ross, and his "music with a gloss" with vocalist Gerry Wells, will play for dancing. Admission to this informal dance is by activity book. The Student Council social committee, Jean Mellinger, chairman, John Grim, Ray Martz, Norman Bartolmy, and Ray Davis are in charge of arrangements.

The committee emphasizes the fact that this is a "stag" affair and the entire student body and faculty are cordially invited to attend. The freshmen, veterans, and other new students will be honored guests. Wives of married vets are especially invited. It's the big chance to meet the faculty and students and to capture the spirit of YoCo at the first all-school affair.

RIL Invites Protestant Students to Meeting

Religion in Life Club, Protestant organization of the college, will hold its first meeting of the year Sunday, Sept. 22, at 3 p. m., at the Westminister Presbyterian Church, corner of Market and Front Sts. June Bradshaw, president, invites all old members and new students who are interested in the club to attend this important first meeting.

A religious and social organization, R. I. L. is open to all Protestant students registered for day or evening classes.

The group offers opportunity for self-betterment, service, and social fellowship with other students in the college.

Freshmen . . . Wear Your Caps!

The latest thing in freshmen styles are green caps trimmed with red and white "Y's". So freshmen, be in style — wear your caps to the game tomorrow night.

Bulletin —

Student Council announces that, for the present, the official college colors are scarlet and white as ruled by the 1944-45 Council. Due to an acute football equipment shortage throughout the country, the YoCo team will be garbed in red and gold uniforms left over from the 1942 season. These will be replaced by uniforms of the official school colors as soon as possible.

YoCo's Penguins Will Resume Gridiron Rivalry With Geneva College Tomorrow Night at Rayen

All Set to Go —

For the first time since 1942, a powerful YoCo team dons helmets for a work-out before the traditional opener with the Geneva Covenanters tomorrow night.

The Youngstown College Penguins with plenty of power, speed, deception, and a very formidable air-attack, clash with a strong Geneva College eleven tomorrow night at Rayen Stadium. Kick-off time—8:15.

This game not only marks the beginning of the of the postwar football season, but also the re-opening of a heated rivalry between the two schools dating back to 1938 when "Dike" Beede fielded the first Penguin gridiron machine.

The line looks big and powerful. Pete Lanzi and Dick Organ shine on the ends with six-footer Neal Williams, former Boardmanite, looking mighty good. Walter Malys, John Pelusi, Tony Pavlich, and Steve Sonoga are sure ringers for the tackle posts. Sonoga was slow rounding into shape, but should be all set when called upon for action. At the guard spots, Francis Smouse, August Yahn, and Don Zangara look impressive. Red Angelo, former Rayen High star, seems to have the center spot pinned down, but receiving plenty of competition from Bud Hunt. Joe Bernard, who played a lot of center for Miami U. last year, has been working out, but will not be eligible for competition this year. This line will average close to 200 pounds from end to end—a very formidable forward wall to open those lanes to "pay dirt."

Who We Play . . .

Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa. . . enrollment: normal times, 900 . . . now, 1,500 . . . our first foe when YoCo started football back in '38 . . . have met them every football year since . . . we tied the "Covenanters" in '41, in an otherwise untied, undefeated year for YoCo . . . met them twice in '42, once here, and at Beaver Falls . . . "Covenanters" coach is Slim Ransom, graduate of Geneva . . . our coach, Dike Beede, was the Geneva coach from '32 to '35 . . . Rosselli, our assistant coach, played under Beede there . . . Webster, our athletic director, was student trainer at Geneva the same year . . . so we've got a lot at stake . . . we've beat 'em before . . . we'll beat 'em again!

Webster's Condition Reported "Good"

W. L. "Doc" Webster, athletic director of the college, is reported in "good condition" by officials of Brown Memorial Hospital, Conneaut, where he was rushed at 10 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 9, for an emergency appendectomy. Webster was taken ill while at Camp Y-Ota, New Springfield, with the football team.

Former YoCo Student Appointed Nurse Here

Miss Betty Houser, R. N., has been appointed full-time college nurse, it was announced recently by administration officials. A former YoCo student, Miss Houser will be on duty during the day while she attends classes for a bachelor of science degree. Her office, now under construction, will be located in what are now the business offices at the north end of the first floor, main building. The nurse will hold office hours when not in class and will be on call at all times during the day.

Miss Houser attended the college in September, 1942. In February, 1943, she entered nurses training in the Youngstown hospitals and was graduated in June of this year. Miss Houser is a member of Gamma Sigma Sorority.

SAI Meeting Friday

Sigma Alpha Iota National Music Fraternity will hold its initial meeting Friday evening, Sept. 27, in the fraternity rooms. Officers are asked to come at 7 o'clock, active members at 8 o'clock.

President Leona Ehrhart urges all members to attend this important first meeting.

Rah, Rah, YoCo! Pep Rally Today!

Come to the pep rally in front of the business school at 11 a. m. today and limber-up your lungs for the big game tomorrow night. After four years of silence, YoCo football fans may be a little rusty on the yells—so everyone is urged to attend the rally to clear the "frogs" from their throats. All we need is a little practice on those lusty yells.

Cheerleaders . . .

Bob Billet has been putting his cheerleaders through the paces for weeks. They appear to be in fine shape. Billet is doing everything possible to get the cheerleaders' red and gold outfits here by game-time tomorrow night. Due to the truckers' strike in New York, the outfits have been delayed enroute to Youngstown.

Costumes or no costumes, the following students will lead the cheers for our side: Nancy Adornata, an elementary education sophomore, with dark hair and an impish grin; Karen Delfs, a sophomore with plenty of pep; Margaret Corbin is the tall girl with pretty red hair—and only a freshman, too! A blonde and another brunette, Kay Kabealo and Gloria Gemma, complete the feminine half of the cheering team. The men include: Fred "Fritz" Spotleson, the tall end-man who is a sophomore majoring in English; Paul "Doc" Feyock, a short, stocky sophomore; Jimmy Lowery, just out of the navy, and Dave "Duke" Keaggy, a business administration major who really knows the cheer-leading business.

New Cheers . . .

Two cheers, written by Fred Spotleson, have been added to the student handbook list. They are: "Hip-hike. Shift to the right. Come on Youngstown—fight, fight, fight!" "Tick-tock, tick-tock (number of quarters left in the game), example: three quarters more—come on Youngstown—raise that score!"

In the backfield, Jack Cramb, former all-city selection from South, and Mike Durina, will call the signals, with either one a potential starter. Gene Janecko, 19-year-old, 160 pounder from Memorial, Frank Davanzo, and the brother combination of Tom and Al Campana, are the outstanding boys for the halfback posts. Cracking the center of the lines for the Penguins will be big Conzi Lucci, former letterman from the 1942 squad. Other backfield men include Guy Beltempo, Ray Wise, John Siciliano, Guy Labor, Merle Wylie, and that little star from Wilson, Bob Gibson.

Going over the football warfare between the Covenanters and the Penguins, we find that Geneva took their first game with the Penguins by the margin of a touchdown. Youngstown took the second game in 1939 with a 20-7 decision. The 1940 tussle went the same way, the scoreboard reading, "YoCo 7, Geneva 0." In 1941, Coach Beede fielded a precision grid outfit. The Penguins bowled over all opposition, including Ohio U., Akron U., and a Tennessee Tech., until a determined Covenanter eleven battled the local boys up and down the gridiron to a scoreless draw. This later proved to be the only blemish on the YoCo eleven's record. In 1942, the Penguins crossed the white stripe three times, booted two extra points to wind up on the long end of a 20-0 score.

Coach Beede and his two assistants, Dom Rosselli and Ralph Wolfe, should be praised for their outstanding work in rounding the squad into shape. The boys also deserve a hand for their determination and their willingness to work.

Be sure you are on hand Thursday night — RAYEN STADIUM — 8:15 — to welcome the YoCo eleven's return to grid warfare.

Welcome New Students

ALL 1,500 OF YOU! The upperclassmen are glad to welcome the freshmen, veterans, and former students to the college. It has been a long time since YoCo halls have been crowded with so many new students.

We hope that you will not let the crowds and confusion get you down. Just relax! In a week or two things will be straightened out and settled into a smooth routine of study and fun. The crowds and confusion are a pleasant change to we upperclassmen after four rather lonesome war-years.

This year promises to be a big year at YoCo—a madhouse, but fun—and we want YOU, all 1,500 new students, to join us in the adventure of college. Join in all the activities, regardless of your age. Look around, you will be sure to find something that will interest you. And remember, every upperclassman is interested in you and your welfare.

Question for the Vets

Now, when everyone in the college is getting a fresh start, it is time to ask the Vets a few important questions.

Why is it the Vets at Youngstown College just can't seem to get the ball rolling? Why did a lot of veterans join the Alpha chapter of Gamma Iota Alpha national veteran fraternity, located here, and then fail to attend meetings and co-operate with officers? What's wrong? Is the existence of such an organization justified? Why haven't YoCo Vets banded together into a powerful influential group like ex-G.I.s are doing in schools all over the country?

Last year an open-letter asking questions similar to these was published in The Jambar. It succeeded in raising a little resentment among the few active vets, but aside from that very little was done about the situation.

It is not the editorial policy of this paper to pick and complain, but rather to offer constructive criticism in the light of promoting a bigger and better college. (With this in mind, we would like to make a few suggestions based on information received from colleges where veterans are properly organized.)

1. Open the new school year with a bang-up membership drive. With the vets definitely in the majority here, there ought to be at least 400 to 500 members in the organization.

2. Choose your officers carefully. Forget friendships—consider leadership ability, responsibility, scholarship—elect real officers for your own good.

3. Get started right away on a drive to collect used textbooks for new vets coming in—then keep moving—set yourselves a goal. Wake-up and see your almost limitless possibilities as an influence in the college.

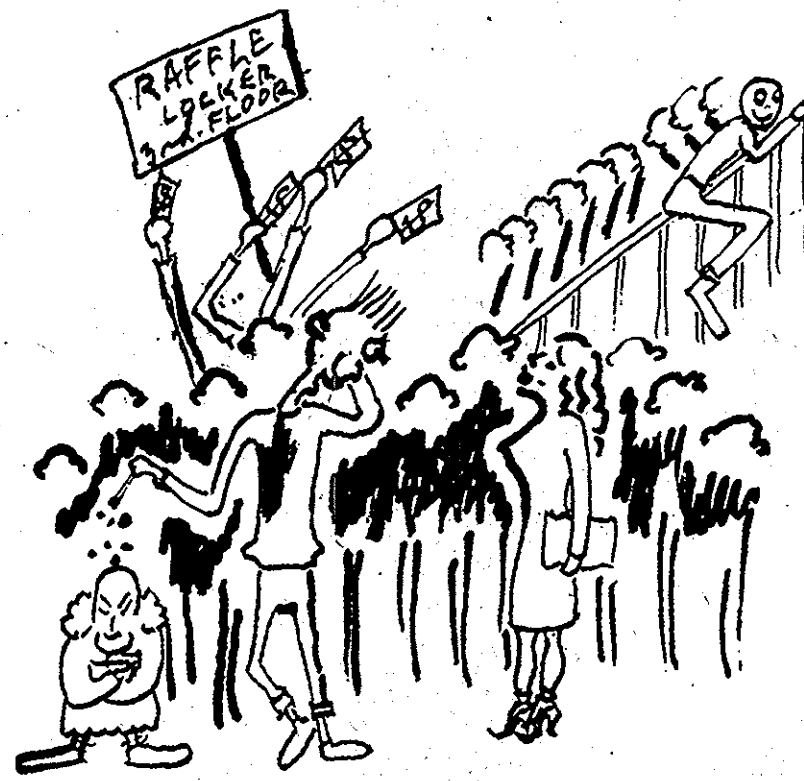

4. Include everyone—have a job for everybody. You need publicity agents, business managers, artists, an executive committee, etc.

There is latent ability for leadership, and competence in every man. The right circumstances often bring out these qualities. As an active organization the vets could be constantly creating these circumstances and giving men a chance to show themselves and everyone else what they are capable of doing.

So why not do right by yourselves and your school? How about it Vets? They are doing a wonderful job in other colleges—why not here!

When a certain distinguished scientist was asked what coming invention would mean most to mankind, he answered: "I don't think that any invention will mean so much to mankind as the discovery of a better way to get along together." Attaboy, professor!

Background for Higher Education . . .

Crowded — ain't it!

Dean's Bulletin on Assembly . . .

Dr. G. W. Wilcox, dean of the college, has announced that, for the present, no chapel or assembly programs for the entire student body are being planned. He urges students to watch the bulletin boards on the first and second floors of the main building for announcements of importance. The dean states that students will be held responsible for notices and announcements posted on these boards.

EDITORS' NOTE:

Since there will be no assemblies this year where announcements can be made to the entire student body, it is increasingly important that news of all organizations of the college appear in The Jambar this year. The paper will do its best to give publicity to college functions, but we will have to know about these functions—and ON TIME! Therefore, we have set up the following deadline and publishing schedules. Publicity chairmen of clubs, fraternities and all other organizations connected with the college are asked to take note of these schedules which, due to limited time and space, will be strictly enforced. News may be turned into The Jambar box in the main office or to any member of the staff.

Deadline Schedule

Clubs, honoraries, and Greek letter organizations not listed in "With the Greeks" column: Monday noon before publishing date.

Social sororities and fraternities listed in "With the Greeks": Friday noon, a week before publishing date. (This material should be given to Jean Mellinger, Greek editor.)

Personal news and news of general interest to the college: Monday noon before publishing date.

Publishing schedule (tentative). The Jambar is published every other Friday, with the exception of pre-holiday issues which appear on Wednesdays.

TID - BITS

If a woman decides she wants to eat out, you might as well shave at once, because you'll eat out or you won't eat.

Many secretaries have a passion for doing things you wish they wouldn't do and neglecting things you wish they would do.

Some people's idea of moderate drinking is to withhold their order till everyone else has been served and then request "the same."

A purchasing agent reports that his job has one nice feature. A man with such a job, he says, need make no effort to be a good fellow. No one expects him to.

When the monetary compensation is satisfactory, we complain that the verbal appreciation is inadequate. And vice versa.

Little girls are confirmed exhibitionists the moment they're born, and some boys, too, for that matter. They get over it if nobody pays much attention.

Looking Around . . .

. . . with Tom Manche

The loco YoCo herd has returned to the fold with memories, suntans, regrets, and another fruitful summer tucked beneath their belts. The Lounge, again, is the center of activity and scene of every human element in the books. Old friendships are renewed and new ones molded. Bewildered neophytes stand aimlessly in a throng of aliens, uncomfortable and apathetic, hungry for a familiar wave or nod. (Believe me, I know!) We'd like to welcome at this time all of the new matriculators here at The Place, namely, the verdant adolescents, those from other college haunts, and especially you Vets. The Place is more crowded than ever before so don't think the jern't is made up of a bunch of Big Wheels if you aren't made to feel at home. If you want to know something, or somebody, just holler and we guarantee that you'll be given satisfaction. In short, hello, and the best of luck.

BAR BABLE:

Highlights and redeeming feature of the so-called summer session was the daily bridge marathon in the Cave. Hunched over inkblinks and slams were Ginny Blackman, Marcia Welsh, Janey Foy, Eddie Luszcz, Margy Nicewaner, Bill Parmenter, Chuck Sabino, Tommy Allen, Dolores "Doc" Sosteric, Dick Van Fossen, and Cuck Wilson, with mate Donna Kaster lookin' on. Majority were from the Culbertson school while a few clung to the cough-and-kick-under-the-table method. Pope Planchak and Tony Raggosine were deadlocked in a tournament with Loring Sheffield and Bill Jacobs. At last report, Pope held the deed to Sheff's house . . . Phi Lams were nicely represented by Ida Adovasio, Tee Callan, Ginny Wilkos, and Marty Altman . . . George Kalivas was in a rut with 95's in Zo. George, by the way, is Ohio State-bound . . . a real loss to The Place.

Today's chatter will be sparse due to the paper shortage, but one more thing . . . Breaking precedence this year, The Jambar will alternate the "Looking Around" column between two persons (?) instead of the heretofore one. Certain factions in and about The Place contend that a single person wielding his lethal quill in this block bi-monthly can't get around as much as two. This, I refuse to believe! However, the better half of this team is a hipster well known to many of you. Phi Gam Bud Shermar will play host to your ennuil next time with an inexhaustible repertoire of facetiae and anecdotes. Good luck, Mr. S., and to the rest of youse . . . s' long!

Library Information . . .

The Library is on the fourth floor, reached by the stairs at the Lincoln Ave. entrance.

Books and recent magazines may be borrowed from the Library for two weeks. Conference and study rooms are on the fourth floor. A new fiction reading room has been opened in the north wing.

A study room for quiet reading will be maintained on the first floor. Reserve shelves for overnight books will be in this room.

Books on engineering have been shelved in the office at Rayen Institute as a temporary measure. They are conveniently near the first floor reading room, and may be borrowed for two weeks.

Library hours are 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Study-room hours are the same.

To borrow books for home use, you must use a borrower's card. This is not transferrable, and as you never know when you may want some library material, keep your borrower's card with you at all times.

If you are a former student, keep your old card and renew it by presenting, at the Loan Desk on fourth floor, your card and evidence of registration. If you do not have your receipt, ask the attendant in the Bookstore to give you a note showing that you have registered for the current semester.

If you are a new student, bring up your receipt or a note to secure your card, and get acquainted. Besides recent novels and non-fiction books, you will find some useful material for your themes in English Composition.

According to Bruce Wright in the Arkansas Baptist, before the war our dollar was spent thusly: 34c for living necessities, 21c for luxuries, 12c for waste, 11c for miscellaneous, 10c for government, 9c for crime, 2c for education, and 1c for religious purposes.
