YSU Circle K voted no. 1 in state; second consecutive year for honor

The YSU Circle K club has been voted Best Circle K in the State, for the second year in a row, at their convention in Columbus, April 1-3.

The club received this honor at the 20th annual Ohio District Circle K Convention at the Carousel Inn in Columbus.

The District Circle K awards honors in seven categories. In addition to receiving the Best Club award, the YSU Circle K also came home with four other awards.

A first place in Over-All Achievement was awarded to the club based on all projects they were involved in this past year. A few of these projects include ushering at Powers Auditorium and Commencement, working at the recycling center, manning a blood bank at the Southern Park Mall and working for Easter Seal and heart fund drives.

They may also be remembered for the Christmas tree they erected on the side of Kilcawley Dormitory that has been labelled "The Comedy of Errors" because of the problems that plagued the tree's erection.

Also, Circle K won a first place award for their scrapbook. All clubs make a scrapbook of their activities throughout the year. The YSU Circle K book is on display at their office in Kilcawley Center.

Circle K also walked off with top honors by having the highest percentage of members in attendance at the convention. Sixteen of their 19 members went to Columbus for 89% attendance, reported Circle K members, Bob Zitello, senior, arts and sciences and Bob Capp, sophomore, engineering.

A fourth place in Talent was also won by the club. They performed a skit called "Jimmy" from a Cheech and Chong Album. "We've taken first place (for Best Club) at about seven conventions in the past 20 years," said Zitello.

Recently, Circle K was given an honor at YSU when they were voted Best Organization on (Cont. on page 2)

Board of Control defers action on release of YSU architect fee

The Ohio Board of Control voted last week, by a 7-0 margin, to defer action on a request by YSU to release funds totalling approximately $45,000 for an architect's fee for designing the $875,000 outdoor phys-ed project (site-development only).

The board, consisting of six members of the Ohio Congress and a member of the Ohio Office of Budget Management, also questioned whether or not there were any ownership disputes pending on the 17.8 acres of land set aside for the project.

Representative George Tablack

Jr., a member of the board, claimed that there was an "improper request for release of the funds." He stated that YSU didn't ask for competitive bidding to hire an associate architect to help YSU's state architect. Tablack also said that under Ohio State Statute, competitive bidding was required.

When questioned on the issue, Vice President in charge of Administrative Affairs, Dr. Karl Krill, stated that as far as he knew there was no such statute since the majority of architects didn't bid for projects anyway. Krill also stated that YSU must use the State Architect for any designing and that the request was only for an Associate architect to help with the project.

Another member of the board, Mr. Howers, also director for the Ohio Office of Budget Management, stated that it was a "cloudy area" and that the question had been referred to the Attorney General for consideration. No answer was expected by the next meeting of the board on the 25th of this month.

Another question brought up by the board during the meeting was the possibility of deed restrictions on some of the land acquired by the University. Rep. Tablack questioned whether or not some of the previous owners of the land had any qualms about the use of the land. The board asked Krill to return to the board with a guarantee that there were no ownership disputes being filed against the University presently.

On that question, Krill stated that there is "nothing we know of" currently existing. Krill stated that the University has a title guarantee which was filled out by a title company which guarantees no restrictions exist for the purpose the University needs the land for.

If the funds which have been set aside for the University for the development of the land are not put to use by June they will be lost. The funds ($3 million for capital improvements) were appropriated last biennium which concludes this June.

Krill stated that the University should know what the situation is at the next meeting of the board, in Columbus, on April 25.

WINNERS—YSU's Circle K service organization captured three first place awards at the 20th annual Circle K district convention in Columbus. They received top honors for best overall club achievement, outstanding scrapbook and highest club percentage attendance at the convention. Officers of the YSU club are seated (l-r) Mark McCandless, president; Bruce Walker, treasurer; Milan Novak, secretary. Club members also received fourth place in the talent competition and were cited for a 20% increase in membership. Also pictured are members Bob Capp (far left) and Linda Scott (far right seated).

Stadium causes parking loss; Republic Steel lot is alternative

by Stan Vitek

As preparation begins for YSU's $6 million sports complex, a great deal of student parking space will be lost, and major changes are expected in YSU's parking situation.

Site preparation for the sports complex is expected to begin this summer (see map page 16).

Many students will be expected to park at the currently seldom-used Republic Steel lot by fall quarter 1977. Some, perhaps, will have to use the lot as early as this summer.

When construction gets underway this summer for the new parking deck east of Wick Avenue, three more parking lots and approximately 590 more parking spaces will be lost. The lots will have to be closed while the parking deck is being built, and the parking deck is not expected to be completed until fall 1978.

"My understanding is that we'll be losing half of the very large student lot, S-6, the one behind Beeghly (between Fifth and Elm)," says Don Minnis, director of auxiliary services. "We will also lose faculty lot F-4 adjacent to it, on Elm Street. And right there you have about 600 student spaces and 350 faculty spaces that we're talking about."

"We'll have to find a place for the people losing their parking spaces to go to park. There is the Republic Steel lot, which can accommodate about 3000 cars. However you slice it, there will be more people who will almost have to go to the Republic Steel lot to park. There just won't be another alternative unless students find a commercial lot, or park on the (Cont. on page 13)

Hayes expresses discontent in representatives' attitudes

At yesterday's Student Council meeting, chairperson Linda Hayes expressed concern "about the morality of Council and the abuse some people are giving Council for their own selfish means..."
 Hayes stated, "I have noticed that a few people on Council are trying to seek the ungodly word called 'power.' Foolish enough, they have not yet realized there is no one man power in Council... the only power here is of and for the students of YSU."
 She related two experiences of council members approaching her earlier last quarter, one expressing discontent about committee chairpersons appointment, and in another, a council member complained that Council didn't agree with him and that he thought he had more status than he did. He has since resigned.
 From these, Hayes formed the following ideals directed to Council members: 1. Represent the students of your college. To promote the ideals they have and find answers for the questions they present. 2. Keep Council running smoothly and effectively through effective committee work. 3. Observe student organizations for funding by deciding the quality of

The Members of Local 10 of the OHIO PUBLIC EMPLOYEES UNION and the YSU members of CWA/AFL-CIO have merged to form one strong group. This was to give all of the members involved the maximum of representation and strength.
 Mr. Don L. Hanni III from OPEU and Mr. Maurice Kolb from CWA will both be assigned to service the YSU members. It was the efforts of these two men that started the ball rolling for a strong union at YSU.

Piggies

"LOOK AT ALL THE LITTLE PIGGIES, LEADING PIGGIE LIVES!" Really, look at yourselves, fellow YSU students (see photo page 7). Didn't your parents ever show you how to pick up after yourselves? Or maybe all that writing and test taking has made your wrists weak? Doesn't anybody care what our University looks like? This isn't high school any more where responsibility wasn't really expected of anyone. Here, at YSU, is where you are expected to be responsible, although nobody is running to tell you so.

It doesn't take that much time to walk to the nearest trash can and dump your Hardees cup, paper, napkin or whatever, into it. The maintenance crew has enough trouble just trying to keep up with all the cigarette butts and other trash on campus to pick up after all of you. Try to do a little better in the future, please? After all, the type of student you are reflects back on how others perceive us and our campus.

Hopes bill not killed in committee

To the Editor of The Jambar:

Have you ever visited a Student Council meeting? I went to Council's meeting of April 4 to find out just why they ceased funding of the Campus Escort Service. The spectacle witnessed by those in the gallery was a sight to be seen. The meeting was well handled by the chairwoman, but that was almost entirely clouded over by the bad feelings and ill will in the room between Council and the Campus Escort Service (CES).

George Glaros recommended a budget cut for CES to $4,900, which is quite a sum of money. Glaros wanted to give the most dollar value benefits for the most students, which is admirable on the surface, but one cannot put a dollar value on anyone's safety.

He also cited that statistics have not changed. However, most rapes are not reported, and the increase in the university population would affect the statistic. The rape statistics do not measure the amount of safety on campus. Who is Glaros trying to kid? CES is a quality service that cannot be measured by sheer number of clients.

On the other hand, Council seemed to feel CES is mismanaged. CES could operate more efficiently probably, but the escorts coverage of their calls is excellent in most situations. The management might be able to run more efficiently. This is all well and good.

The main concern of Council should be that if the CES is abolished there is no other recourse on campus. Council should do something besides petty fighting and politicking. If CES is mismanaged and inefficient, they should change and adapt it to run better and accomplish more, or produce a viable alternative. The idea is to have some protection at YSU at night; it does not matter what type of vehicle is used.

Not much work was actually accomplished during the meeting. CES was put into committee. Let's hope that it does not die there like the old maxim says that the best way to kill a bill is to put it in committee. Council was created to represent the students behalf not their own. Get to work.

Dislikes positioning of articles

To the Editor of The Jambar:

Last Friday The Jambar printed an article, and a photograph on the Electrical Engineering Department's thesis presentation seminar. The article was placed to the right of the picture. The caption and article showed no apparent relation to each other. Directly beneath the picture was an article on pyramid power. We feel the implication was strong that the picture belonged with the pyramid power article.

We do not believe this was intentional on the part of The Jambar but we wish to make it plain that we are in no way connected with the Pyramid Power Shop or pyramid power. We hope that in the future The Jambar will be a bit more careful about such errors.

he benefit and not just quantity of money or students involved. Further develop your leadership abilities, through effective listening, respect and logical rational thinking.

Hayes continued, "For many of the People on Council I would like to extend my sincere thanks for rendering a heartfelt job." He then added, "For those who are planning on seeking status, power, fame and glory, I don't like to disillusion you. Student Council has nothing like that here.

"Therefore, I would firmly suggest to you to channel those energetic powers to something on Council or Student Government, it's not going to change a thing if you quit."

She suggested that if a person quits, he is by no means a martyr, but indeed a quitter. "I just want me of the people on Council to now what is expected of you, and also remind you there are people on Council who care, and they will not allow one individual to destroy the effectiveness of it." Hayes concluded, "The ironic thing of this whole speech is that the ones to whom it is directed are either not here or just letting it go in one ear and out the other... But perhaps by a small chance they will be listening and if so then I hope this sticks: If the shoe fits tie up the laces and wear it."

George Glaros, Student Government president, reported that he had contacted President Coffelt's office, and was in the process of setting up a meeting with administration members and stadium committee members which would be open to all University students, enabling them to ask questions about the complex.

He requested through the President office that Monday, April 18, between the hours of 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. be set aside for this purpose to have stadium complex committee members available in the Multi-purpose room to talk to interested students. Further information on this will follow in the next issue of The Jambar.

Before the conclusion of the meeting, Council went over the 1977-78 budget recommendations.

To the Editor of The Jambar:

Since YSU's proposed stadium was announced several quarters ago, we have seen many letters in the Jambar and heard many comments from both students and faculty in opposition to it.

We would like to add our voices to that number and proceed to the next step, which is raising those voices in unison and directing them constructively. We would like to be in contact with others who feel this way. We are holding a meeting at 1 p.m. on Monday, April 18 in Kilcawley Center room 240. All interested persons are urged to attend.

'Great Decisions '77' will focus on United States' foreign policy

by Sharon Bohm Levy

A series of five information-discussion sessions focusing on the foreign policy issues facing the United States is being sponsored by the department of continuing education.

Dr. William Binning, political science, is coordinator of the program entitled, "Great Decisions '77." The sessions will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. on Tuesday, from April 12-May 10 in room B024, CAST.

The series fee of $15 covers the program sessions and provides the registrant with a Great Decisions '77 resource book. Individual session registration will be available for any of the programs at $3.

Students may register for the program in room B086, CAST, Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday. Those wishing more information about classes may call 746-1851, ext. 481.

Binning announced the five topics to be discussed in the series. They are:

"Food and Population: Was Malthus Right?" Dr. John Smythe, economics professor at YSU, will be the discussion leader.

"Southern Africa: End of White Supremacy?" Dr. Kenneth Grundy, political science professor at Case Western Reserve University will lecture.

"China and the United States: Where Should We Go From Here?" Binning announced the speaker will be a spokesman from the Asian desk of the United States State department.

"Panama and Cuba: What Choices for the United States?" Binning will lead this discussion group.

"United States-Soviet Relations: Whatever Happened to Detente?" Binning commented that a number of experts on the topic are under consideration to lead this lecture, but that as yet none had been selected.

Binning remarked that the resource book included in the lecture series states no position on any foreign policy issue. "All sides of an issue are presented," he said, "to lead the reader to a reasonable understanding of a situation."

Although this is the first time the foreign policy discussion series is being offered at YSU, Binning said, other colleges and universities throughout the country have participated in a similar series sponsored by a national program of the Foreign Policy Association.

Participants in the program throughout the country are invited to express their views on the topics discussed. "After each lecture," Binning explained, "each person votes and the results are sent to the National Association of Foreign Policy, to Congressmen and to the President of the United States."

Binning remarked that the positions on the issues expressed by the voters are based on an understanding of the information since all sides of a situation are presented by the discussion leader and in the resource book.

"Participants not only increase their knowledge and clarify their opinions of the various issues, but have the satisfaction of expressing their views and in so doing may influence the direction of U.S. foreign policy," states the program brochure.

The department of continuing education co-sponsors this series with the American Association of University Women, the Public Library of Youngstown and Mahoning County, the League of Women Voters, the United Nations Association and the Youngstown Federation of Women's Clubs.

Discount parking coupons are available to all students who enroll in continuing education

Lambda Tau

Lambda Tau Medical Club is sponsoring a field trip to Oak Ridge Associated Universities in Tennessee on June 11-14. Those interested in going should contact the chemistry office in Ward Beecher to sign up. Final application date is April 29. The final plans for the trip will be discussed at a meeting on Friday, April 15, in room 1076 CAST.

National fees will be collected along with plans for the initiation banquet at this meeting. A guest speaker will be the main interest. All members and interested persons are urged to attend this important meeting.

Yesterday, April 11, was the date for the Holan-Connor memorial frisbee match. Partaking in the days festivities were many olde Jam-bars and other assorted denizens of the deep.

In the match played later on that day GU the Magnifique tried valiantly to stave off the attack of the Bronze bomber and the Rock. Too bad though, GU lost the match 56 7/8 to 8 1/2.

YSU Television Center receives grant to produce energy show

YSU's Television Center has been awarded a grant by the Ohio Program in the Humanities for production of a television program concerning the nuclear power controversy.

The grant, totaling nearly $3900.00 will be used to produce an hour program dealing with the "Humanistic" perspective of nuclear power use. The program will be produced in YSU's Television Center.

Opposing viewpoints will be presented by Benjamin Ross and Bruce Rosenthal. Ross, of the Oakridge Association of Universities, will represent Ohio Edison which provides power for much of northeastern Ohio and has a substantial share of a new nuclear power plant on the Ohio River near East Liverpool.

Rosenthal is a representative from "Critical Mass," a Ralph Nader-affiliated anti-nuclear power group.

A cross-section of professors from YSU also will appear to provide perspective on the debate of this technological breakthrough electrical power produced with nuclear energy. Academic areas represented will be history, English, sociology, science and anthropology.

The show, hosted by Dr. Daniel O'Neill, associate professor of speech communication and theatre at YSU, will be aired on WNEO/WFAO channels 45/49.

According to Randall Gerber, program director/producer for the Television Center, the program will be more an examination of society's reaction to technological change and nuclear power rather than a rehash of the safety and cost questions voiced so often in nuclear power debates.

Key project organizers are: Dr. O'Neill, Gerber, Stephen Greevich, director of broadcasting at YSU; Roger Widness, director of program planning and development for NETO; Dr. Stephen Hanzely, chairman of YSU's physics and astronomy department and Dr. Irwin Cohen, professor of chemistry.

Professors participating in the program are Dr. Brendan Minogue, assistant professor of philosophy and religious studies; Dr. Mary Alice Budge associate professor of English; Dr. John White, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology; Dr. James Ronda, associate professor of history and Dr. James Dale, associate professor of social science.

This program is supported, in part, by a grant from the Ohio Program in the Humanities, a state-based program of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Those wishing to apply for funding for public program which applies the humanities to a public policy issue, or additional OPH information may be obtained from OPH in Columbus.

Virginia Hamilton to speak for Artist Lecture Series

Noted author Virginia Hamilton, winner of the John Newberry Award for Children's Literature, will present two lectures and informal discussion sessions at YSU, Friday, April 15.

Lectures will be given by YSU's Artist Lecture Series committee in cooperation with YSU's English department, School of Education and Teacher Corps. Her first lecture is aimed at University students and faculty interested in children's literature, language arts, reading and creative writing courses. The second lecture is primarily for area librarians and a group of children selected from grades 5 through 7 from Youngstown Public Schools accompanied by parents and teachers.

A Yellow Springs (O.) native, Hamilton attended Antioch College and Ohio State University before moving to New York City.

YSU deck construction begins in summer forcing 3 parking lots to close for a year

Construction for the new YSU parking deck east of Wick Avenue is expected to begin this summer, but construction of that deck will temporarily cause another parking problem.

Three YSU parking lots will have to be closed for the construction of the deck, according to Don Minnis, director of auxiliary services.

"While they build the deck we'll have to close lot S-3 (130 spaces), S-1 (320 spaces) and faculty lot F-1 (140 spaces). That's for deck construction for at least one academic year," says Minnis.

Lot F-1 is the faculty parking lot on Wick Avenue next to and behind the Arts and Sciences office building; student lot S-3 is adjacent to F-1. Lot S-1 is directly below, running off of Walnut Street.

"Construction is expected to begin this summer," adds Minnis. "The people involved are moving very fast on it. They say that once they get going, they will be done in nine months."

"If that's the case, and they start this summer, we can expect the deck to be complete by a year from this fall."

NOTES

King of Hearts:

This film is my nomination for one of the ten best films in history. The film examines in a somewhat humorous way the methods of sanity and insanity in wartime. The film stars Alan Bates and Jacqueline Bujold and takes place in a small French village during the first World War.

Lenny Bruce:

By now most of you have heard of Lenny, the funny little Jewish comedian who made dirty words clean and clean words dirty. Friday, Lenny will live on the YSU campus. Frank Speiser, a Bruce look-alike with authorization from the estate of Lenny Bruce, will appear for a two part presentation. The first part will include a typical night-club routine and the second part will be excerpts from the trial.

Both the above mentioned shows take place in the multi-purpose room and will provide good entertainment.

KOVACS' BACK

The Best of Ernie Kovacs, a series of 10 half-hour programs displaying the off-beat style of America's first truly original video comic, premieres at 9:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 12, over Channels 45 and 49.

The Best of Ernie Kovacs is an anthology of materials from an archive of videotapes and Kinescopes gathered up and put in storage by Edie Adams, the late comedian's widow, after his death in a car crash in 1962.

Each of the programs will open with introductory remarks by actor Jack Lemmon, who became a close personal friend of Kovacs when the comedian was in California working in motion pictures.

Discovered and in some cases restored to broadcast quality after lying dormant for years in a warehouse, some of the Kovacs material has not been seen on television since original broadcast in the 1950's and 1960's.

All of the programs are in black and white, color not having completely blossomed on national TV until the mid-1960's.

Among memorable Kovacs routines to be savored in this series are the Nairobi Trio, three derby-hatted musical apes? Percy Dove-tonisils, "Poet Laureate of the United States;" Wolfgang Von Sauerbrauten, the nutty German disc jockey? plus elaborate, sight gags and hilarious blackout sketches. Produced by WTTW/Chicago, The Best of Ernie Kovacs will be repeated over Channels 45 and 49 at 10 p.m. Saturdays.

THIS WACKY COMEDY WILL PROCEED AT THE KILCAWLEY BIRTHDAY PARTY IN THE MULTI-PURPOSE ROOM WEDNESDAY, NOON.

CAUTION:

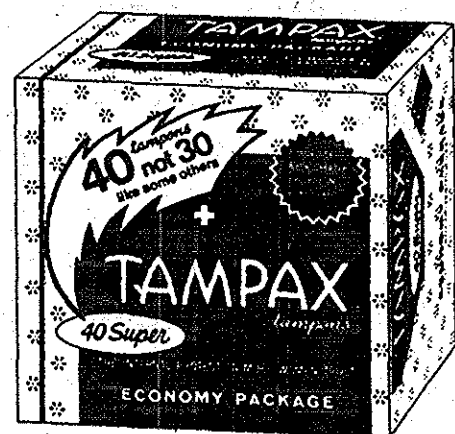

Before you buy a deodorant tampon, read the "caution" on the package. It tells you to discontinue use and consult your physician if irritation develops or if you have a history of sensitivity or allergies. Now, ask yourself if you want to take this risk with your body.

There is no warning on a Tampax tampon package

You won't find any warning on the Tampax tampon package. A deodorant, or cover-up scent, which may cause allergic reactions or be harmful to delicate tissues is unnecessary. When a tampon is in use, embarrassing odor does not form. So why take chances with something that isn't needed?

What's more, the Tampax tampon container-applicator—like the tampon—is flushable and biodegradable. It's as safe to dispose of as a few sheets of facial tissue. You can't say this about plastic applicators. And unlike some other tampons, Tampax tampons expand in all three directions—length, breadth and width—to adjust to your inner contours so that the chance of leakage or bypass is minimal.

No wonder Tampax tampons are the #1 choice of millions of women around the world.

Can you be good at something you don't believe in?

Yes.

You can be good at passing tests that are meaningless to you.
You can be good at selling encyclopedias that you know are inferior.

Ultimately, you can even be good at a profession that you don't really believe in.

You can be good. But for some people, being good just isn't good enough.

For the people who brew Busch beer, it isn't good enough. That's why, at Anheuser-Busch, we persist in brewing Busch beer just one way—the natural way.

We frankly believe that's the best way to brew beer. And when you believe in what you're doing, you just naturally do it better.

Try a Busch.

We believe you'll agree.

English Department's England Trip

London Bridge, Stonehenge and Westminster Abbey are just three of the many sites to be visited during the summer study tour of medieval England being conducted by the YSU English Department.

The program, which combines both studying of literature and touring of various medieval English landmarks, features two graduate courses worth four quarter credit hours each. These courses taken together for a total of eight hours may then be applied toward a master's degree. Consideration will also be given to any undergraduate interested in the program; however, special permission will have to be received from the English Department or the department of the student's major. The student must contact his major's department to see if he can obtain credit.

The first course, 912A, entitled Chaucer's Canterbury Tales will feature 30 hours of class meetings and 10 hours of on-site instruction in London and Canterbury. Three major requirements for this course, as outlined by Dr. Lorraine Baird, English, are: 1. attendance at all class meetings and lectures; 2. a seminar paper on a pertinent subject by each student; and 3. a final exam. The textbook for this course will be the F.M. Robinson's edition of Canterbury Tales.

The second course, 912B, entitled Middle English Romance and Lyric, is a study of Arthurian romance and secular lyrics, including the non-technical musical aspects. There will be 30 hours of class meetings and 10 hours will be spent at Glastonbury, Cornwall and other Arthurian spots. Two texts will be used for this course, the first being The Works of Mallory (written in the original 15th century English) and the other, Medieval English Lyrics. All texts should be purchased after the class meets for the first time.

Baird suggested that interested students may want to obtain texts from local libraries and look over the material and perhaps begin reading some of the more lengthy and difficult sections.

The dates for the course will be from June 20 to July 22; however, the actual tour dates will be from June 25 to July 16. The week before and after the tour will be spent in study preparation and tour evaluation at Kent State University. Students in need of housing are invited to stay at Baird's home in Kent, Ohio.

The cost of the program is $992, which includes YSU tuition, airfare, lodging, transfers, breakfasts, internal transportation, escort service and field fees. The cost for the tour only is $805. A $100 deposit is due upon enrollment in the course, $400 is due by April 15 and the balance is to be paid by May 30. Other costs for the tour would include a passport, books, meals and money to purchase personal items.

The tour will begin with emphasis on the first course in London, continue to Canterbury, and then on to the medieval cathedral cities of Winchester and Salisbury and to Stonehenge. The next course of study begins in the area of "Camelot, including Wells, Glastonbury and Cadbury. Finally the tour will reach Arthurian Cornwall and Tintagel Castle, Bodmin Moors and Dozmary Pool.

In addition to visits to these English landmarks, other planned activities include: a medieval banquet in an old abbey, a theatre performance at a medieval open-air theatre on the Cornish coast, a visit to Chaucer's tomb in Westminster Abbey and the site where the Canterbury pilgrimage began in Southwark, and an English high tea featuring such unique foods as Cornish pasties and Devonshire cream.

Interested students are urged to contact either Baird in the English Department or Dr. Joseph Kirschner, tour director in the School of Education, before April 15, as space is limited and the seats will be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis.

DECISIONS
WE ALL HAVE DECISIONS TO MAKE ON A DAY-TO-DAY BASIS. Like where to have lunch. And what kind of car to drive. Or where to shop for groceries. Usually, we make these decisions based on the facts available...and then choose which alternative provides the BEST SERVICE FOR THE MONEY.
In choosing the labor organization to represent your interests, the process is no different. Within state service, you have three choices: the association, the afscme, and the OHIO STATE GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES, CWA/AFL-CIO.
Why don't you take a moment to compare the three?

CATEGORY	ASSOCIATION	AFSCME	OSGE/CWA
Accident Insurance	$1,000	None	$5,000
Staff Attorney	NO	NO	YES
GUARANTEED appeal of all firings to Board of Review	No	No	Yes
Arbitration decisions made at LOCAL Level	No	No	Yes
Membership in 1,000,000 Member Ohio AFL-CIO	No	Yes	Yes
Registered Lobbyists on staff	2	2	3
Membership growth in state service for last twelve months (not counting universities)	Minus 1,400	plus 750	plus 1,900
Membership growth at Ohio State University for last 12 months	Minus 1,100	minus 250	plus 750
Pay Bill endorsed in 1975 Ohio General Assembly	$1/hour	?	$1.25/hr. up to $14,000/yr and graduated down to $.75 hr. above $14,000/year.

You can see from the chart who is actually working FOR the working men and women of Ohio. You can also see which is truly the LABOR UNION ON THE GROW.
What you can't see are the PEOPLE. The OSGE staff, led by labor attorney Herschel Sigall, which is working daily to bring dignity and respect (not to mention decent wages) to state service.
In the final analysis, however, it is going to be YOU who has to make the decision. Do you want a guaranteed appeal before the Personnel Board of Review? Do you want $5,000 in Accident Insurance? Would you like to finally see a pay raise which keeps pace with inflation?

GOOSSEN LECTURE
The relationship between text and music and how music amplifies the meaning of words will be the topic of a lecture by Dr. J. Frederic Goossen, professor of music at the University of Alabama, at 3 p.m. Monday, April 18, at YSU.
Free and open to the public, the lecture will be held in YSU's Dana Recital Hall.
Goossen is a composer and theorist who has held commissions from numerous American orchestras, choral groups, and ensembles, as well as colleges and universities. A member of the New York American Composers Alliance, Professor Goossen has taught previously at the University of Minnesota and Berea College.
He toured in 1974 with the Steiner Duo, which featured two of Goossen's works on their recital tour of all major cities of Europe, Britain, and Scandinavia. The Duo has recently recorded Goossen's Clausulae and Temple Music to be released this spring.

streets, or something like that. "I don't see it happening until the fall. Right now we're in the process of making analyses and studies and a lot of things haven't been finalized yet."

Minnis added that as the sports complex development continues, eventually all of parking lot S-6 will be closed, involving about 1200 student spaces. "I don't know just when all of that will happen," he says. "I don't think anybody at this point does."

As to what lots would be lost besides the S-6 and F-4 lots during initial construction, Minnis said, "The good-sized student lot which runs between Elm and Bryson, S-13, would be the next one we'd close." But again, he is uncertain as to exactly when that would happen, though it is possible it could also occur as soon as fall quarter of this year. If so, he points out that "then we're starting to talk about, in total, about 2,500 parking spaces."

The entire sports complex will eventually go from Fifth Avenue all the way to Wick Avenue.

Regarding the Republic Steel lot, Minnis said, "When they had that plant going there were as many as 3000-3500 people parking down there, and all that space is still there." He noted that the Republic Steel lot goes all the way under the South Avenue bridge, and feels there is no need to worry about enough space there.

No concrete decisions were made on this subject at the last meeting of a small "parking advisory committee," consisting of YSU President John Coffelt; Joseph Rook, Vice President for financial affairs; Administrative Affairs Vice President Karl Krill;

Nick Leonelli, director of campus development; Ray Orlando of the Physical Plant and Minnis—those involved in leasing, contracting and construction.

However, one source informs The Jambar that recommendations were made to President Coffelt along the lines of leasing property for more YSU parking to be available closer to the campus (than the Republic Steel lot) while the sports complex and parking deck are under construction.

Such recommendations, however, would have to go to the Board of Trustees and would not be able to be brought up in time for this month's trustees' meeting. If the YSU administration agrees with such recommendations, they would be brought up at the June meeting of the Board of Trustees.

President Coffelt is now holding those recommendations, and administration is expected to be looking into property which may be available for lease and what the cost would be.

This "parking advisory committee" is expected to be meeting again within the next few weeks.

Another recommendation that has been brought up is a charge for parking at Republic Steel lot, which was hinted at when the lot was first made available last fall. One anonymous source told The Jambar that as time goes on and more students are forced to use the Republic Steel lot, such a charge will be imposed to compensate for the bus service. He added that the amount of the charge had not yet been decided, and consideration is being given to the feeling among students and faculty that less should be charged

YSU sweeps doubleheader;
Golfers fourth at Ashland

by Allen Rock

YSU opened its 1977 baseball season in fine fashion as they swept a doubleheader from Mercyhurst College by 3-1 and 10-1 scores.

Two outstanding pitching performances were turned in by junior southpaw Dave Dravecky and sophomore Bill Sattler. The two pitchers displayed midseason form. Both fired two-hitters and in the process held Mercyhurst to one run in each game.

Dravecky, a pro prospect, and Sattler, by means of their opening day performances, might prove to be the best 1-2 pitching combination in the area.

In the opener, the Penguin bats were silent but Dravecky showed the form that has made him one of the best college pitchers in the country as he held Mercyhurst to just two singles.

Mercyhurst drew first blood as they scored an unearned run in the first inning. But Dravecky took charge from that point and held the opponents scoreless the rest of the way.

YSU went ahead as they scored two runs in the sixth and one more in the seventh on only two hits.

In addition to holding

Mercyhurst to just two hits, Dravecky struck out 8 and showed fine control by walking only two batters.

against Gannon college. Game time is slated for 1 p.m.

In the second game, the Penguins backed the two hit pitching of Bill Sattler by pounding out nine hits off two Mercyhurst pitchers en route to a 10-1 victory. Sattler stymied Mercyhurst as he held them to two singles while fanning eleven.

The Penguins made life easy for as they continually assaulted the Mercyhurst pitchers. The game looked like it was going to be another close one, but YSU pushed six runs across the plate in the sixth inning as they batted around. The Penguins added three insurance runs in the seventh to wrap up the victory.

Mike Zaluski, Bob Choppa and Dave Delbene were the big sticks as they each had two hits. Zaluski rapped out a double and a single, while Choppa and Delbene had two singles each.

Wayne Zetts along with Choppa and Saxon has two runs batted in each.

The Penguins will open their home season on Thursday

YSU's golf squad, under veteran head mentor Bill Carson, finished fourth among a field of six this past weekend in the Ashland invitational tourney, which was held at the Ashland Country Club.

Rival Akron University captured top honors with a two-day team total of 770. Slippery Rock (Pa.) ended with a 774, Ashland closed with a 784, YSU had a 791, Wooster carded 792, and Baldwin-Wallace trailed with an 803.

YSU's Rick Bannish carded the fourth highest individual total with a 80-73-153. Other Penguin scores follow. Tony Razzano, 79-76-155; Don Dean, 80-79-159; Mark Merriman, 84-78-162; Mike O'Patich, 82-82-165; and Rick Leetch, 86-80-166.

This weekend YSU will help comprise a field of 22 schools in a two-day meet in the Beckler Invitational in Wooster.

Netters blank Akron, 9-0;
Rubenstein leads Penguins

The YSU tennis team successfully opened its 1977 season by defeating the Akron Zips 9-0 Saturday on the Akron courts.

The netters swept all six singles matches as well as all three doubles matches on the road to their first victory of the season.

A sparkling performance was turned in by David Rubenstein, a transfer from Jacksonville University. Rubenstein won his match easily as he shut out Don Lawson of Akron 6-0, 6-0.

John Kiel succeeds Dan O'Neill

as coach of this year's team. Kiel, a Boardman resident and a graduate of YSU, lettered in tennis three times at YSU during the 1960's.

The Penguin netters boast four new additions from last year's team. They include Bill Dunn, a freshman from Boardman; Bob Green, a transfer from Bowling Green and Kurt Kamperman and Rubenstein, both transfers from Jacksonville University.

The Penguins face highly touted Edinboro State today at Edinboro.

Al Lindner's fisherman Tips

NATURAL LAKES VS. RESERVOIRS

Many fishermen aren't aware that there are vast differences between natural lakes and artificial impoundments or reservoirs. The biggest difference is the rate of water exchange. This, in itself, has more impact on fish, their location and movements than any other single factor.

In natural lakes, the movement cycles of fish are fairly predictable and, seasonally, quite stable. Stability, however, is NOT the hallmark of most reservoirs.

For example, in almost all natural lakes, largemouth bass relate directly to the body of water's weed growth. Go to any natural lake and if it has weeds and largemouth bass, you'll find them together because the weeds are what we call "pivot points".

In reservoirs, on the other hand, weed growth is a minor factor. The pivot points, or main points of relation, in reservoirs are the channel beds and banks!

In natural lakes, bass seldom go deeper than 25 or 30 feet regardless of the structural elements available to them. In some reservoirs, like the "canyon" type, bass have been caught in 60 feet of water and deeper!

In reservoirs, bass location is much more complex. In some types, like the "canyon" or "plateau" impoundments, the junction of an old river bed and a creek bed may be covered by 150 feet of water or more making it unsuitable to bass as a structural element due to the extreme depth. In other types of impoundments, such as the "flatland" reservoir, the shallower channel beds and banks may see the overwhelming majority of use by bass. And, the "hill-land" class of reservoirs offers the bass such an abundance of varied structural opportunities that location in such impoundments becomes many times more difficult than in natural lakes or, for that matter, all other impoundment types.

If you understand the importance of weedbeds in a bass' life cycle in natural lakes,

Fisherman Facts

you pretty well have the problem of finding these fish whipped. It then becomes mostly a battle of proper lure or bait delivery or presentation. But in reservoirs, the angler has to contend with multiple patterns and fish movements.

In addition, reservoirs tend to go through cycles of natural gamefish productivity, principally for largemouth bass. Peak fishing years are usually anywhere from the fourth to the eighth year of an impoundment's life. Generally, this is when the fishing is the best. As a reservoir matures, however, the cover begins to diminish and the natural populations of fish begin concentrating in more predictable patterns. The fishing quality of some reservoirs then levels out while in others it declines rapidly. To supplement a declining reservoir fishery, state agencies have turned to introducing in older reservoirs new species such as striped bass or rockfish, rainbow trout and walleye.

for Republic and other lots a distance away from campus than those in the central campus area.

Minnis, however, says, "I hesitate to say anything about any recommendations, because things may change as we go along. Rest assured that as soon as we have something official, students will be the first to know, as well as The Jambar, student council and everybody else."

Minnis also asserts that he doesn't foresee any student lots being changed to faculty lots "just so the faculty wouldn't have to go down to Republic Steel." He predicts that the same situation will exist for both students and faculty, as YSU faculty lots will also be lost to the sports complex.

Minnis feels that even if work is done this summer, the amount of students attending during summer quarter could still be accommodated despite any parking space lost behind Beeghly. But by fall, he states, "The University is saying 'This is where alternate parking is now available—the Republic Steel lot."

The half of the large student lot, S-6, that would temporarily remain open for parking would be "the western end, the Fifth Avenue side," according to Minnis. "But the other half of S-6 and all of F-4 would be closed first for the development.

"Everybody knows the problem and we are working to make it the least amount of inconvenience as possible. But the fact remains that there are going to be hundreds of people, as I see it, who will have to park at Republic Steel and ride the bus up by fall."
