Greeks Settle Down After Pledging 78 YoCoites

After a gala round of parties, the sororities and fraternities have now settled down to initiating their 78 new pledges. The rushees have enjoyed the limelight, but for the next few weeks, the actives will be taking over.

The fraternities take the lead this season with 62 pledges. Phi Sigma Epsilon received the most with 23 pledges, Phi Gamma pledged 16, Sigma Delta Beta 17, and Kappa Sigma Kappa eight. The sororities added 16 with Alpha Theta Delta pledging nine and Phi Lambda Delta seven.

Sorority pledges include:

Alpha Theta Delta
Ilene Bohner, Georgia Brewster, Joanne Campbell, Alice Dornbrock, Margie Flask, Barbara Hengen, Dorothy Kurilla, Betty Moser, and Jacqueline Shackelford.

Phi Lambda Delta

Martha Altman, Mary Jane Hoover, Janet Jones, Patricia Joyce, Joyce Patterson, Joyce Schall, and Florence Slatibers.

Fraternity pledges include:

Kappa Sigma Kappa
David Gundry, Walter Hermley, Charles McDonald, Nicholas Schiu, Robert Sprinkle, Richard Van Fossen, Theodore Walsh, and Joseph Welsh.

Phi Gamma

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Sigma Delta Beta

Kappa Phi's Will Hear Judge Speak

The Sigma Kappa Phi National Fraternity will hold its 21st annual Founders Day dinner at the Mahoning Country Club April 10. Carl A. Weiman, Jefferson County Common Pleas Judge of Steubenville, will be the guest speaker. Judge Weiman, president of the Common Pleas Judges Association of Ohio and very active in civic organizations, will talk on "Fraternity Symbols."

The Sigma Kappa Phi Fraternity was founded at Dayton, O., in 1924. It had its beginning at Youngstown College in 1925, and is known as the Gamma Chapter. It has the distinction of being the first national fraternity at Youngstown College. There are chapters of the fraternity in colleges in Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, and Missouri.

All arrangements are being prepared by Ralph Dillon and James Cozza, co-chairmen, assisted by Richard Hathaway, Leland Pittenger, and George Steele.

College Will Produce "Pirates of Penzance"

Dr. H. B. Stearns will bring the Gilbert and Sullivan epic of pirates and kings, "Pirates of Penzance," to the college auditorium for performances on May 13, 14, and 15.

The operetta boasts a cast of 40 members with an accompanying orchestra of 20 members. More prominent members of the cast include:

Pirate King Vernon Hamilton
Samuel George Kallivas
Frederick Robert McDonald
General Stanley Phil DiPiero
Mabel Mary Ferranti
Edith Helen Louise Roberts
Kate Mary Woodside
Ruth Phyllis D'Orsi

Spring Fever Frolic Is Huge Success

Spring was welcomed to YoCo in a big way at the Spring Fever Frolic March 29. About 400 YoCoites and their friends enjoyed dancing from 9:00 to midnight at the Pick-Ohio Ballroom.

Due to unfortunate circumstances, Sammy Ross was unable to lead his musicians as planned. However, Sam's place was ably filled by Tommy Ratican.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the members of the faculty who attended the dance as guests. Congratulations to Mary Vesey, chairman, and her committee for an enjoyable opening of the spring season.

Religion in Life Club To Hear President Jones

President Howard W. Jones will address the Religion in Life Club at its next meeting, Sunday, April 7, at 3, in the Oxford Room of Trinity Church.

Speaker for the last meeting, Miss Marian Campbell, family service worker for Protestant women, gave several causes for delinquency among children and young people. The most outstanding causes were broken homes, the remaining excitement of war, mothers absent from the home, and prosperity. The latter, Miss Campbell stated, was evident in the fact that families draw closer together in periods of hard times.

The club is planning a social. Announcement of the date and place will be made soon.

Communion Breakfast Will Be Held April 17

On Sunday, April 17, the Newman Club breakfast will be served at St. Brendan's Church, Oakwood Ave. Communion will be received at 10:30 mass, with the breakfast and business meeting following.

All Catholic students are invited. Tickets may be purchased for 50 cents from Leo Casey, Mike Kirwan, Phyllis Grein, Josephine Tisona, Larry Blazina, Joseph Peyko, Pat Lynch, and Ed Chops.

VETS RAFFLE OFF SUGAR

The Youngstown College National Veterans Association announced it will raffle off 100 pounds of sugar Wednesday, April 17. Tickets may be purchased for 10 cents from all members of the organization. Proceeds will go for the second veterans dance in May which will be held annually.

Leona Ehrhart Elected Sigma Alpha Iota Head

Leona Ehrhart was elected president of the Alpha Nu chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota at the March 22 meeting of the Music Fraternity. She will be installed along with the other new officers in April and will serve for the next school year.

Other officers are Elizabeth Hrecz, vice president; Gladys Pepple, recording secretary; Marjorie Brimmer, corresponding secretary; Wealth Bush, treasurer; Elvera Hrecz, chaplain, Margaret Hrecz, editor; and Mildred Vieweg, sergeant at arms.

Plans are being made for an All-American program scheduled for National Music Week and will be open to the public. The works of American composers will be used. Original compositions written by fraternity members will be featured. Other musicians are invited to submit works for the affair.

The fraternity wishes to extend its thanks to all those who made the William N. Shroeder piano concert, March 24, the success it was.

Former YoCo Student Will Join Faculty

Charles N. Zellers, former YoCo student, will join the college faculty next September as an instructor in business administration, it was recently announced by Pres. Howard W. Jones.

Zellers served for four years as a naval supply and disbursing officer in both the Atlantic and Pacific, and on the staff of the Naval Air Advance Training Command in Jacksonville, Fla. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Youngstown College in 1939 and Master's in business administration from the University of Pennsylvania. He has had graduate work at Harvard University as a naval officer candidate assigned to special post-graduate work in business administration, wartime contracts, and wartime production problems.

E. T. P. C. Meeting To Be Held April 9

The E. T. P. C. will have its regular meeting Tuesday, April 9, at 7:30 p. m. at Buechner Hall.

Alumnae members are invited to attend. Jeanne Charlebois, chairman of the meeting, and her committee promise an interesting meeting. We are looking forward to seeing all elementary education majors present.

Serving on the committee are: Frances Palotsee and Nancy Adornato, food; Barbara Whitworth and Helen Mentzer, correspondence; Jean McCormick, entertainment.

Junior Prom Candidates Will Be Selected Today

The Junior Prom queen will be selected from the three candidates elected today, from 12:00 to 1:00, by men of the junior class. She will reign at the Student Council function Saturday, April 13, at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Exterior Improvement For Rayen Building

A $10,000 exterior improvement project at the William Rayen School of Engineering has been provided by friends of Youngstown College and graduates of Rayen School who are delighted with the restoration of the old school by the college.

Already, the billboard has been removed from the corner of Wick and Rayen and workmen are busy creating an excellent parking lot at the rear of the building which will be 52 feet wide. The grounds will be well shrubbed and landscaped. The project is expected to be completed by the last of May.

Alpha Iota Sorority Installs Six Pledges

Betty Baker, Carolyn Brownlee, Rosemary Hanna, Eileen Sanders, Ruth Schall, and Mary Watson were officially pledged to Alpha Eta Chapter of Alpha National Honorary Business Sorority at the impressive pledge service Tuesday evening, April 2, at Buechner Hall.

Bonnie Griffith, president, presided at the altar at which the six pledges received their pledge pins in the traditional sorority colors from Pledge Capt. Betty O'Brien and Marshall June Findley. The official sorority cloth and royal blue and white candles, symbolic of friendship and loyalty, graced the altar.

Following the service the evening was spent informally with dancing and cards. Refreshments were served buffet style. The lovely refreshment table was centered with spring flowers in a blue cut glass bowl between lighted white tapers in blue cut glass holders.

Eleanor Davies, Peggy Guyer, Eileen Gwin, and Delphine Alm were in charge of refreshments, while Anne Yewell, Nancy Hayes, June Findley, and Evelyn Oakes served on the decoration committee. Doris Taylor and Alice Turner handled the invitations. Pledge Capt. Betty O'Brien was assisted on the initiation committee by Edna Hainley and Cora Cianciola.

Bare Brunch Attracts Large Attendance

A record breaking number of students attended the Bare Brunch yesterday which was held at Pioneer Pavilion and Bear's Den from noon until 4:30. Polly Velker served as chairman of the brunch which also included dancing and several baseball matches. Serving on the committee of the annual Student Council affair were Jerry Watt, president of the Council, Tom Manche, Jean Melinger, Lola Raptou, Elaine Woods, Rita Donie, and Mildred Noufer.

Announce Candidates For STD English Medal

Names of candidates for the Sigma Tau Delta Freshman English Medal were announced recently by Lotus Koken, award committee chairman. The candidates, selected by instructors for their outstanding work in freshman English, are: Sarah Brany, John Davidson, Mary Wilma Donnelly, Wayne Doist, Jay Hoyt, Lillian Larson, John Phillips, Vivian Phillips, Oliver Reese, Edward Reilly, Helen Richards, Joyce Schall, Loring Sheffield, Charles Songer, Harold Edwards, Delbert McEwen, Andrew Webber, and Alice Woodside.

The nominations were made by Miss Stella Cassano, Mrs. Fay Litvin, Mrs. Karl Dykema, Prof. L. M. Hughey, and Prof. Karl Dykema, all instructors of second-semester freshman composition.

The medal, an annual award, will be given to the candidate writing the most unusual essay on his or her choice of the two assigned subjects: "My Most Unforgettable Character" and "My Most Unforgettable Experience."

The April meeting of Sigma Tau Delta will be held at Buechner Hall Wednesday, April 24. June Bradshaw is the meeting chairman, with Jean Grice, Lucille Weisel, and Hal Davies as the committee.

Sharon Steel To Give Scholarships

Pres. Howard W. Jones recently announced that the scholarships provided by the Sharon Steel Corporation for sons of employees of the firm have been extended to daughters of employees also.

Robert Gnagy was awarded the first of such scholarships last fall. The four scholarships to be awarded next fall term will go to graduates of Struthers, Lowellville, Sharon, or Farrell high schools. College and high school officials will co-operate in selecting the students. Application forms are available at plant employment offices.

Senior News . . .

The senior dinner dance has been cancelled. Just another reminder: Senior dues, $3.50, must be paid by April 10, to Mary Bell Gilbert, 620 Bryson St., Buechner Hall. Please send in your activity form if you have not already done so.

When the Lights Go On around the college grounds, as passed by city council, the safety of the women students attending night classes will be greatly increased. This bill, raised on a suggestion of Pres. Howard W. Jones, was discussed heatedly by council members before it was passed. One council member proposed that the college pay the entire expense for lighting of Wick and Lincoln Aves. The victors, however, won on the argument that the safety of citizens was a public responsibility as much as it was that of the college. The college should be considered as much a thing of civic interest as the municipal buildings which are lighted within the city budget. The act was carried out on the agreement that the city will pay for $20 per light and the landowners, who have already agreed to do so, will be assessed for the remaining expenses. The college and students are very grateful for the efforts of the council members. Night students can now leave with freer minds. It is also encouraging to know that the citizens of Youngstown are interested in the college and its students.

Former Editor Gets Scholarship

Senior Lois McCallister, Jambar editor last year, recently received a full-tuition scholarship for a Master's degree from Western Reserve University. Lois is thrilled to say the least; and so are her friends, for they know that no one is more deserving of the award. With a straight "A" average at YoCo to back her up, Lois will begin work on her Master's in social science at Western Reserve next fall. Last year Lois wielded the black copy pencil over Jambar copy. When she handed the pencil over to the present editor, it had made many an improvement on the college paper. This year Lois has devoted her time as president to Sigma Tau Delta, the honorary professional English fraternity. The group, under her guidance, has developed from a handful of half-hearted members into a well-organized, interestingly active fraternity. And besides all this, Lois is a "good egg." With red hair and an in-escapable wit, she is a real person. The Jambar is proud of Lois and wishes her a successful "—30—" at Western Reserve.

The Neon

is about ready to go to press. The editors and entire staff should be commended on their efforts put forth in making the yearbook the success it promises to be. The pictures are being taken, the advertisement staff has been at work, much of the copy is in, and just a few subscriptions remain unsold. These, undoubtedly, will be gone within a few days. The annual, which is a big project to undertake, is under the capable leadership of Judith Megala, editor, and Daniel Rich, business manager. Both should be congratulated, but the entire staff down to the individual salesmen should be included. The Jambar recognizes the hard work being put forth and wishes the staff the very best of journalistic luck.

Class Studies Radio Writing at WKBN

By Clarence Partridge
One of the most unusual and interesting classes in the college curriculum meets at radio station WKBN every Friday evening at 7:00. It is a class in radio public speaking, taught by the well known J. L. Bowden of WKBN. According to some of the members, there is always something popping to make it a pleasure to attend class. Last Friday the class saw, for the first time, one of those new wire recording machines that we've read about lately. After a brief explanation by Mr. Bowden on how the gadget works, the class made practice commercials on it. That's when the fun started. It seems making a really good commercial, one smooth enough to go over the radio, is a pretty tough proposition. When you have to read script written in someone else's style, watch your breathing and pronunciation, and animate your voice all at the same time, you've got a "voice-full." Besides, you're supposed to sound enthusiastic. Imagine trying to work up real enthusiasm over Plummerson's brass fittings, especially if you're a girl. Or Charmers' pearl chokers, if you're a male. Anyway, everyone read this script as best he could, and when all was said and done, Mr. Bowden started to run the recorder backwards. When the machine runs in reverse, the voices come through the loudspeaker backwards, too. It sounds like a mumble-jumble of German, Welsh, and Chinese. The last part of the session was devoted to replaying the commercials so that each student could pick out his own flaws. Some of them were pretty smooth, but it seems to me that a few of them sounded better when the recorder was running backwards. (Forgive us, but opportunity knocks but once.) All in all, it was a very interesting evening. Mr. Bowden certainly works hard to make the class both worthwhile and interesting. The course carries two credit hours, requiring two other speech courses as pre-requisites. Who knows? Maybe some day when a radio commercial invades your mental privacy, or when a famous commentator offers his views on the news—it might be a former YoCoite, a product of our radio public speaking class.

Council this Week...

DISCUSSED the matter of having liquor on the premises when a school function is held. The college will permit NO alcoholic beverages, and the Council warns organizations that this rule must be strictly obeyed. APPOINTED Polly Velker as chairman of the Bare Brunch, a Student Council function, April 4. HELD Junior Prom queen candidate elections Wednesday, April 3. Voting was limited to junior class men. HELD a joint meeting Wednesday with the Inter-racial Committee. COMMENDED Chairman Mary Vesey and her committee on the success of the Spring Fever Frolic, a Council function. ANNOUNCED that noon dancing will not be held in the future because students failed to leave the auditorium in a satisfactory condition.

Service Notes

Here are several letters the Jambar has received from YoCo servicemen. We pass them on now for you to read.
Dear Editor,
I have been receiving the Jambar at sea for over three years. I certainly have enjoyed the paper. It has helped me familiarize myself with the college immensely. I only knew a few of the pupils for I was enrolled as a night student. They're sending me home now after waiting for a relief since January. I intend to enroll for the fall term so I would appreciate it if you would send them to my home. I have a brother, Joe Nader, attending YoCo after eight years in the army. If you run into him in the halls, say hello to him for me. Thanks for all the Jambars.
Sincerely yours,
Tony Nader
Dear Editor,
I wish to advise you of my new military address which reads:
First Lt. Abe Harshman, 0132-9709, Company M, 35th Reg't., APO 25, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.
Here's wishing continued success to the Jambar. I'll be looking forward to receiving the future issues of this wonderful paper.
Sincerely yours,
Abe Harshman
Add to your list of servicemen's addresses: Pvt. Robert L. Ray, 45051099, Co. B, 125 Bn., 80th Regt., Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark.

Library Goes Musical

Yes, we know that you never heard of Melisande, Carmen, and Boris Godunov all warbling together on the rocky coast of Cornwall. The sextet on the stage of the exhibition case in the Lounge would be a terrific medley. If you are preparing for a night at one of the Metropolitan operas during their Cleveland visit, there are librettos and numerous books in the Library that will straighten out the intricate plots and give you some themes to listen for. A fascinating book is the biography of the great opera star, Enrico Caruso. His life was as florid and picturesque as the operas he sang. A book that will make you piano students take notice, is "The Unashamed Accompanist," by Moore. Those of you who are addicted to the banjo will find in "Bill Country Tunes," by Bayard, some new tunes for your repertoire.

Looking Around

with Kenny Love
POME:
You've been "Looking Around" with Judy quite long enough. So how about a break in this routine stuff? For months you've been listening while the lady jives. Now how about some stuff on which a commentator thrives?
FLASHES FROM CLASSES:
Heard in biology class: "Frequent water drinking prevents one from getting stiff in the joints." "Yes, but some joints don't serve water." Frank Smadino playing with pussy-willows in advertising class. Little Miss Rodway writing notes in chapel. Shirley Skinner planning on raising a basketball team some day (the girl's stork mad). Jack Cappy visiting his chemistry lab class; no card players or a poor day for golf, Jack? Play production class—and the ice cream flowed like wine.
PROFESSOR DYKEMA—The art gallery on Sunday afternoons... dusty volumes of "The Antiquity of the English Language" Totem pole patience. MR. BUCHANAN—The people's choice... stag parties and good cigars... two rolls of coffee. JUDY MEGALA—Busy as a cat with two mice... where the words fall like leaves... no time like a good time. GLADYS PEPPLER—Her cup runneth over with mirth... ability with a capital A... the best in music... congenial as your right arm.

HERE AND THERE.
One is likely to see very unusual things, or maybe you just have to look for them. Drop down to the auditorium some time and listen to Jim McMahon play, what he modestly calls, the most mellow base in town... President Jones spends his Saturday afternoons fighting forest fires... Everyone seemed to be having a swell time at the "Spring Frolic" the other night. By the way, we noticed Tiny and Frank Covelli whispering in a corner; maybe Tiny was telling him his secret to excess... Not a few people like to dance on Tuesday and Thursday noons, but Carl Maddison seems to be the only one that is aware of the fact that the chairs must be taken down first... Hope everyone has noticed how childishly the frats have been acting lately, and to think that we were actually looking forward to post-war days... Kilroy still as anonymous as the fool who threw the whiskey in the well... Bill Jones is quite the painter... We take off our hats to Mary Woods—she did a very fine job of singing with Sammie Monte's band at the Elms the other night. Talk about cars—Russ Jones has the only "Booby Trap" on wheels in the state... Warm weather, and girls with legs that look like stockings—won't it be swell when they can again get stockings that look like legs?

GOLDEN BANTER (Please! Don't Say Corn!)
It isn't that we think Bill Silfka is egotistical, but rumor has it that in replying to an insulting remark, Bill cried, "Please! You are speaking of the man I love." Ever notice that ready smile of Gladys Pepple—just like quick-silver. Her philosophy seems to be "Worry is the interest paid on trouble by people that borrow it." See Ed Simko for predictions of things to come; he can tell you what will happen tomorrow and then tell you why it didn't... The insult of the week comes from the Lounge, where a YoCo-ed was heard to say, "Are you trying to make a fool of me?" The quick reply was, "Sorry, somebody beat me to it." On as the understatement of the century: "The Lounge looks a bit dirty." What's this we hear about a certain girl from Columbiana being chosen "Miss Plow-Jockey of 1946"? Did you know that a certain member of the faculty thinks that many of the younger generation are alike in many respects? Every time Jean Mellinger sighs one feels that there is a full-length novel in it... Mary Vesey is the only girl we know who can look you over as if she is trying to find a spot to despise the most, and when she's through you feel as if she had just stepped off Plymouth Rock and you had just crawled out from under it... I guess I've made enough enemies for now, so I'll just quit... Hope this doesn't affect you too badly.

Notes from Dana's

It was good to see so many students from the college at the concert given by the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of Sir Thomas Beecham. I'm sure all that attended the concert at Stambaugh Auditorium last Saturday felt the evening well spent. Music students are sorry to hear that Mrs. Fankhauser is forced to take a month's leave of absence from her duties due to ill health. We find in her place, Maurice Hollander, a very capable substitute. The recital given by William Schroeder for the Sigma Alpha Iota benefit recently did not have the attendance worthy of its merit. The organization had put a great deal of effort into the guest appearance and should have been rewarded by a larger student attendance. He was an excellent pianist and had many favorite numbers on his program. Another of Dana's former students visited his alma mater last week. Andy Lisko, who will be remembered as an accomplished violinist, is home now with a discharge from the army. Dom Fera, home on an emergency leave from the navy, also greeted his old cohorts for a day. Spring is in the air and all you future artists should be able to find some inspiration to spur you on to higher goals. A possibility, isn't it? —Lee Ehrhart

With the Greeks . . .

By Elizabeth Patrick

Spring is definitely in the air. The Greeks have deserted their favorite hang-out, the Lounge, for the out-of-doors. (Probably by the time this is in print we will have snow on the ground, and this will sound very silly.) The Greeks are also making fiendish plans for the best way to kill or nearly kill their pledges during the initiation period.

ALPHA THETA DELTA —

The Alpha Deltas had a business meeting Wednesday, April 3, at Buechner Hall, to make plans for pledge installation and initiation. Pledge officers were elected at a recent pledge meeting with Joanne Campbell, president, and Dorothy Kurilla, treasurer. The actives are planning a party for the pledges to be held soon.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA —

The initiation of Kappa Sig pledges started April 1. The alumni members and actives are planning a joint party in April. The alumni held a party at the Southern Ballroom Wednesday, April 3.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA —

The Phi Lams had a meeting Wednesday, March 27, at the home of Alyce Detesco. Plans for initiation and installation of pledges were discussed. Plans are being made also for parties with the Phi Gams and Sig Deltas. An alumnae tea is being planned for this month.

SIGMA DELTA BETA —

The Sig Deltas installed their fraternity pledges Monday, March 25, at the Hotel Pick-O-Hio. A business meeting was held Monday, April 1, at which plans for a party with the Phi Lams were arranged.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON —

The Phi Sigs will initiate their 23 frat pledges tomorrow, April 6, at Mill Creek Park. The initiation committee consists of Nick Ross, chairman, Steve Phillips, Ed Ostrowski, Frank Covelli, John Botch, Andrew Cafaro, Bill Reed, and Bob Schettino. Mario Ross has been elected president of the pledge group.

The regular monthly meeting is scheduled for the night of April 6. Actives and pledges are to meet at the college.

GAMMA SIGMA —

A meeting was held April 2 at the college in the form of a Razz Session.

The alumni tea will be held April 28. The committee consists of Helen Wymer, chairman, Elinor Love, Bea Arnold, and Ginny Callahan.

Sally Pitcairn from Ohio State and Mary Kay Buckley from William and Mary were visiting at the college this last week.

Anne Yewell and June Grimsley: "Who swiped our waste basket?" . . . "Happy Birthday, dear Patsy, Happy Birthday to you." . . . But when Felix, the janitor, produced a hefty barrel-stave for spanking purposes, Brennen retreated. . . . Grimsley and Koken blowing their tops "cause some fool said, "Never read the Jambar."

Seen Coming Down the Hall . . . Three rugged firemen, hatchets and all. Only to discover that Phil Hayes had dropped a lighted match in her waste basket. False alarm and peals of laughter. ? ? ? ? ?
 We could close with something about an epidemic of spring fever on the second floor. But then, Buechner girls are always a little hazy anyway.

ALONG the SPORTS PARADE . . .

with Ralph Goldich
 Can't you just picture our Youngstown College gridgers running out on the gridiron where the turf is soft green grass instead of a cloudy dust bowl; where 25,000 wildly cheering people are seated comfortably instead of 6,000 seated on cold cement and the rest of the throng standing and jamming one another into every available nook and cranny to get a glimpse of a football game? Visualize the Youngstown Bears playing Fort Wayne in a fieldhouse where 8,000 people can witness the game, instead of the usual 3,500 "sardines," and a couple of thousand unfortunate spectators being turned away because there is no more room in the "can," or Tony Janiro and Marty Servo slugging it out for the welterweight title before an outdoor crowd of 40 to 50 thousand mitt fans.

Baseball, concerts, lectures, rodeos, circuses, stage plays, conventions, and all other activities where large crowds gather, could be accommodated by the proposed civic center-sports arena, to be dedicated to the returned veterans of World War I and II, and their less fortunate comrades they left behind. There is no better way to perpetuate the memories of our fathers, sons, and brothers who died for democracy and all the freedoms for which it stands.

In an interview with Lee Leonard, veteran WFMJ sportscaster, your reporter learned of the tentative plans of the committee organized and dedicated to the task of seeing this "living war memorial" through to completion.

The committee is headed by Bill Schafer as chairman, Tom Carney as vice chairman, and Lee Leonard as secretary, and includes outstanding civic leaders, business men, veterans' groups, and athletic coaches of the community.

Plans call for a modern football stadium with a seating capacity of 25,000 people, joined by the most up-to-date baseball diamond. This combination would attract better known teams throughout the east and midwest to the city and send the name of Youngstown reverberating throughout the country.

The civic center, which would seat 8,000, could be used for basketball, indoor boxing, operas, concerts, and lectures.

The estimated cost of the project would be about $1,250,000; costing the average taxpayer, with a property valuation of $5,000, $5 per year for five years. I feel sure that the citizens of Youngstown will not quibble about a mere $5 a year when the gain from such an undertaking is thousands of times that sum.

It would aid materially to the ever growing problem of juvenile delinquency, and quoting Leonard, "The money the taxpayer pays will be an investment in the health, wealth, and civic pride of the community."

Youngstown College, an outstanding institution of higher learning which will spread the fame of Youngstown, not only in sports annals, but in educational achievements as well, needs this civic center to continue the program of rehabilitating the hundreds of veterans which have swelled the enrollment.

There should not be one dissenting vote against the bond issue which will finance the memorial when it comes up on the ballot this November. It will take a 65 per cent majority of the "yes" voters to pass under state law.

Don't let our children down! Don't let our veterans down! It is up to the voters of the community whether this worthwhile project becomes a reality or falls along the wayside. Remember these words of General Douglas MacArthur: "On the fields of friendly strife are sown the seeds which in other years and on other fields will bear the fruits of Victory."

It is up to us as students to aid the committee in every possible way, in the successful fulfillment of the gigantic task facing them.

Sig Delt Edge Phi Sig Bowlers

In a closely matched bowling session held March 29 at the Champion Recreation Center, members of Sigma Delta Beta fraternity edged members of Phi Sigma Epsilon two games to one. However, for the total pin-score for the three games, the Phi Sigs topped their opponents by a score of 2289 to 2247.

Individual scoring was as follows:

Phi Sigs		Sig Delt
Mastadonna	165	Kalivas	178
Botch	163	Maikranz	166
Covelli	164	Planchak	161
Berger	160	Sheffield	148
Cafero	140	Valentini	125
Marlos	132	Rose	126

CAMPUS COMMENTS

By Judy Megala
 It should be different around the old Alma Mater now that rushing is over. During rush season it was brothers of one fraternity pitted against the brothers of another. Exchanging deep looks with sparks flying each time a rushee entered the room. Everybody patting brothers on the back. But that was rush season. By now the mud-slinging should be over. New Greeks should pin on their pledge pins with pride and begin speaking to other pledges. So now we settle down to a peaceful remainder of the semester. Let's be Greeks—and true to our respective organizations by all means. But let's be people first!

An Open Letter to the Men of YoCo:
 It was Friday morning, on the 29th of March. It was a bright, sunny morning, too—with the promise of a beautiful spring night. The stage was set for the Spring Fever Frolic at the Pick-Ohio. Posters announcing the dance had been placed in the front hall and members of Student Council had enthusiastically talked up the affair. Mary Vesey, chairman, and her committee had decorated the Grand Ballroom. The members of the orchestra had pressed their trousers, polished their instruments, and waited in readiness. Yes, the stage was set—all ready for the big event. And about three-fourths of the girls at Youngstown College didn't even have a date. The fellows just didn't bother to ask them—until Friday morning, that is. You knew about the dance. You knew you were going to ask your dates. But somewhere along the path since fall it seems like some men of the college have developed the "I'll ask her when I like and if she doesn't like it, I'll date someone else" attitude. With due respect to this independent attitude, it's hardly the fairest one in the world. We girls like to go dancing and we like the men at YoCo. But why can't you realize it's important for a girl to KNOW she's going out? It's important for her to PLAN for a date? This didn't just happen last Friday. Unfortunately it has happened often—too often. Most of our boys live up to the standards of college men. There should be no exceptions.
