Electrical difficulties are cause of smoke and flames at Hardees

YSU students eating their dinner in Kilcawley Snack Bar Friday evening had some excitement added to their hamburger and Coke.

At about 5:30 p.m. the lights went out in the Hardee's fast food restaurant area and students in the eating section saw bright flames and smoke pour from behind the counter. Hardee's manager Paul Crawford, says the incident was more smoke than fire.

Crawford says his food operation uses newly designed electric broilers and they're still trying to work a few bugs out of

The restaurant has been having problems with the elements shorting out periodically, shutting off a main circuit breaker and

Maag library takes part in new borrowing system

With the recent opening of YSU's new Maag Library, Northeast Ohio Network of Major Academic Libraries (NEOMAL), a new library service, will enable members of the University community to borrow books from other participating universities through the YSU library.

"NEOMAL has been in effect for about a year," said Carol Wall, assistant librarian. "It will be of great help to us. Every library has experienced some budget problems and this system will help them to save money as well as to aid the students with their

"This system is beginning to be effective," said Wall, "but not enough students really know about it yet. It might take some time before a lot of students use it."

OEA may file suit over service fee

The YSU-OEA has engaged in legal consultation and may take legal action against approximately 85 non-OEA faculty members who have not paid their service fee to the OEA, said OEA president Everette Abram, Thursday.

The 118 dollar fee is, according to the agreement between the administration and the OEA, required of all faculty not just those in the OEA.

Dr. Duane Rost, OEA treasurer, told The Jambar, that out of approximately 95 non-OEA faculty members, only about 10 have paid the fee. Rost said he hoped legal action could be avoided, but stated that the fee is payment for the bargaining services the OEA provides to all faculty members, and that agreeing to pay the fee is a condition of employment.

Everette Abram, YSU-OEA president, in an attempt to avoid legal action, sent an explanatory letter to all full service faculty last week.

The letter stated that the OEA Executive Committee has voted to pursue court action if necessary to insure "equal sharing by all members of the bargaining unit in the financial burden that accrues to the Collective Bargaining process."

The letter emphasized that the OEA is not seeking jeopardize any academic careers, terminate employment, or asking the university administration to exercise any pressure.

"We are simply requesting that mature individuals perceive the Agreement as a legally binding

Council session deals with parking, escorts

Student council opened its weekly discussion sessions Monday, airing student gripes.

It was decided that, though the administrators had answered each gripe when confronted by George Kafantaris, they should have a chance to clarify their answers in public presentation at the council meetings. These meetings are held every Monday in Kilcawley, room 217. Next Monday the discussions will center around the parking problem faced by all YSU students. Donald Minnis, Director of Auxiliary Services, will field all questions concerning student parking. The questions he will be answering, those drawn up by the committee on student gripes, are:

1. Parking is terrible new facilities are needed,
2. More parking should be available, especially for the winter quarter,
3. Parking facilities are too far from buildings, there are not enough spaces and they are not easily accessible,
4. Why differentiate between faculty and student parking?
5. Unfair parking tickets,
6. Unpaved parking lots,
7. Chuckholes in parking lots,
8. Parking lots not well lit.

Each of these will be dealt with at the next council meeting held at 3:15 p.m. Jan. 19. Clarification should be forthcoming on this and other pertinent questions. Each question to be dealt with will be listed on the agenda for the following meeting.

The escort service was discussed. The committee dealing with this has assigned at least three volunteers to cover the different spots that may afford trouble to the student. This service will begin a week from today and will run with a set up skeleton crew for at least two weeks to determine the response of the student body to this project. Strict ID requirements will be set up to insure the safety of the people interested in avoiding trouble. In conjunction with Title IX, women will also be hired as volunteers.

'Ski Evenings'
for students

Sliding down a steep hill in often subfreezing temperatures may not be some peoples idea of fun but for the YSU Ski Club members it's the high point of a winter's day entertainment.

In existence since the 1972-73 ski season, the Club has enjoyed several successful seasons in which they have seen their membership climb from a round 20 members up to about 60.

During the last couple of years the Club has ventured to several different ski areas. They have traveled to Boston Mills in Ohio, Peek'n Peek, Cociagn, Holiday Valley in New York, and others. Future trips include an over-night ski weekend at the Seven Springs ski resort to run Jan. 23, 24, 25.

A program the Ski Club is offering presently is a guaranteed seven "trip, "ski evening" to Boston Mills every Friday. The cost of the program is $45, which includes rentals and you: lift ticket. Also included in the $45 are lessons for the beginner.

So far the Ski Club has had excellent response from students. The Boston Mills evening, however, has been more popular than the weekend ski trips. Any student that is interested in skiing is welcome to sign-up for any of the ski trips, no experience is necessary. For more information contact Judy McCall in the Kilcawley staff offices or Ralph Valentino Kilcawley Program Board office, 746-1851, ext 574 or 575.

Education dept. has
for pre-schoolers

Registration information is now available for parents who wish to enroll pre-school-age children in the YSU School of Education early childhood teacher education program laboratory sessions. These sessions will be held on Saturday morning from 9:30 until noon and will involve special individual and group learning experiences for the children who are enrolled.

These sessions will be provided by Dr. Margaret Braden and advanced graduate students. Naturally, enrollment will need to be limited due to the special nature of the activities. In addition to the sessions for the children, there will be special parenting sessions provided.

Additional information and the necessary application forms for enrollment can be obtained by calling Dr. Margaret Braden, professor, Elementary Education Department, 746-1851, Ext. 346. A small fee will be charged to cover the necessary instructional materials that the children will be using. Parents are expected to bring the children to the Education Building for the weekly sessions which will begin in January.

Program offers help in computing taxes

YSU's Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) is a service where a volunteer prepares individual tax returns free of charge for low income taxpayers, said Mark Shanley, Coordinator of Student Activities.

"The concept of VITA is to equip assistants to handle almost all of the problems that come up in helping taxpayers who usually have few complex tax problems," he added.

Besides lower-income people, the VITA program also seeks to help older, or non-English speaking taxpayers and others who cannot afford the services of tax practitioners or who find it difficult to seek the assistance of IRS representatives.

The IRS offers free VITA training sessions in basic income tax law. The volunteers receive training in how to prepare the basic Forms 1040 and 1040A. Volunteers receive free VITA course materials which are also job aids. Since VITA materials are self-instructional, volunteers can take VITA training on their own if they so desire.

The materials used in the VITA program are: VITA course book, published in both English and Spanish. This workbook has practice problems as well as quick reference algorithms to be used when assisting taxpayers; VITA road maps for forms 1040 and 1040A which give a step-by-step detail on how to complete these forms. There is an instructor guide for those who wish to teach a VITA class, with lesson plans and blowups of Forms 1040 and 1040A included. Certain schedules are available. "Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, An IRS Tax Guide for Individuals," is provided as a reference to be used with the VITA course book.

This program, sponsored by the Student Activities Office in conjunction with the Office of Continuing Education, will hold a two-day training program on the campus to aid volunteers assisting in preparing income tax forms. The training program will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 27 and Thursday, Jan. 29 in Schwebel Auditorium. Trained Internal Revenue Service personnel will be on hand to serve as instructors.

"Any students, University personnel, and especially students in accounting or related fields, student organizations, and others are encouraged to participate in this program," said Shanley.

Persons or organizations interested in participating in the VITA program should contact the Student Activities Office, second floor Kilcawley Center, or call extension 484 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

granted to the Forestry Club from the contingency fund to cover the memberships of both the Holden Arboretum and the Northeastern Ohio Forestry association. Further allocation was granted the IFC to cover the cost of Winter Weekend, to provide building rental and cover the cost of refreshments and entertainment.

The council picture was also discussed with a negative decision on group pictures and faces superimposed over drawn body caricatures. The decision was left to the discretion of The Jambar staff. The reason for the printing of the pictures is to familiarize the student body with their representatives so they will know whom to approach with specific questions and gripes.

The meeting closed with Bill Brown demanding that the separate committees set up clear dates for any programs and activities they plan for the academic year and to stick to the schedule and tentative budget they they have set up. He explained that government is now attempting to rewrite the guidelines surrounding any events of this order. Discussion was then closed and council adjourned.

down, allowing a large amount of heat to build up over the grill, where a lot of accumulated grease burst into flame.

Hardec's employees quickly smothered the flames with rags but not before char-broiled smoke could work its way through most of the snack bar.

Crawford says that "flashing" is an everyday occurrence, but the absence of light and the lack of ventilation made it seem as though there was an unusually large amount of flame and smoke.

No one was hurt and there was no damage other than the business that was lost during the half hour the snack bar was without electricity.

Hardec's is working with the broilers manufacturer in attempts to end the problems of electrical shorting. The grill's hood is equipped with heat sensors that trigger a foam-type fire extinguisher when temperatures reach 500 degrees.

If there ever is a major fire and those sensors set off the extinguisher, Crawford says, it would take his employees two days to clean up the heavy sticky fog.

Gripes

The age old art of looking busy when one is really doing absolutely nothing is once again being brilliantly put into practice by members of Student Council. This time Council is wasting its time by rehashing a list of student gripes which for the most part, by their own admission, have already been answered sufficiently by University administrators.

Council, which likes to delude itself into believing that it is the initiator of all change made on campus in favor of students, will spend its next several meetings dragging in administrators to justify themselves, for the sole purpose of deluding students into believing that students through Student Council are powerful.

One suspects that the list of student gripes which Council discussed several times last quarter was mostly written by members of Student Council and in no way reflects a comprehensive survey of the student body. The list does not indicate how many students were dismayed over a situation and Council members admit that in some cases the gripe was made by only one person. In the Dec. 2, issue of The Jambor Student Government President Bill Brown is quoted as saying that "many of the gripes in the list were too general or were in the process of being taken care of." The question is, why does Council continue to pursue these gripes when they are already being remedied or when the situation has already been rectified.

Gripes on the list included such items as: "Get rid of Hardees;" "There should be no voting booths in Kilcawley Center because its just a hang-out"; and "It's a shame only part-time students are on Council."

Council members should be easily able to see that these type of complaints make about as much sense as complaining about the color bricks that YSU buildings are made of. True, there are a few valid complaints made on the gripe list, but unless Council members are living in a vacuum they should remember that the majority of these valid complaints have already been discussed and acted upon. Complaints about the language requirement and Kilcawley food only reflect that whoever is doing the complaining is unaware of the strides made in the past year.

Council members must either be feeling nostalgic by digging up these old issues or they must be feeling insecure and deem it best to go with issues that they know have been popular topics to discuss in the past. At any rate, students won't have to worry about Student Council taking care of any current campus problems because for the next few weeks Council members will be straightening out the past in their gripe sessions.

National Security Council report on US policy in Africa: Although the United States has many interests in southern Africa, it has none which could be classified as vital security interests. (NSSM 39)

Second, there is the idea that massive Soviet aid has permitted a communist faction to move to the offensive, and the US is now finally coming to the assistance of the good guys. Hauser's comment above is a good evaluation of Angola communism. Most commentators now recognize that the MPLA is the most popular, as well as the most effective, and now the Pentagon has been forced to admit that heavy US aid began first, this last January, and that sizeable Soviet aid did not come, and then only as a response, until April, four months later. The Pentagon has been having some difficulty with that one.

Finally the idea that Angola will become a Russian satellite. What the administration fails to mention is that Russia for years has given aid to at least 12 other African nations--some of them with close ties to the US, and none of them is even near to being a Soviet satellite. Repeatedly and categorically the MPLA has announced that no foreign bases, including Soviet bases, would be allowed in Angola.

The situation, despite administration efforts, is reasonably clear, and most Americans have not been deceived. One might imagine the administration would act in at least a pragmatic if not morally acceptable fashion, and pull back.

It is apparent that Mr. Ford and Mr. Kissinger are incapable of learning from the past, and are steadfastly insisting on an ever-growing American military presence in Angola. In response, the Senate, on Dec. 22, voted overwhelmingly to prohibit aid to Angola, and at the beginning of next week a similar amendment will come before the House for the same purpose. The Campaign for Democratic Foreign Policy (CDFP) urges you to write your congressperson and request her or him to vote against any aid, direct or covert.

CDFP will have tables set up in the Kilcawley Arcade this coming Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with information and materials so that people can write letters directly. Please come and see us.

Back-to-nature trends make Craft Center popular place

Walking into this small sized room, next to the YSU Bookstore, the sights, sounds and smells of leathercrafts, jewelrymaking and numerous other artcrafts are apparent. Next to the Pub this room is one of the most popular rooms in the student center, the Craft Center.

Hardley a day goes by that the center isn't at least moderately busy. This popularity can be attributed to the recent trends of "going back to nature", natural clothing, foods, etc. The trend has also enabled the craft center to monopolize on the large number of people interested in crafts by offering an inexpensive and enjoyable way to learn more about them through participation.

The leathercrafts section of the center is by far the most popular. When asked about the number of leather "hides" used weekly, Karen Smith, director of the center said that approximately five to six hides were used, depending on the season. For example, in this past Christmas season so many people came to the center to use the leathercraft facilities that by a week and a half before Christmas they had virtually run out of hides.

Leather working, like many hobbies, is pleasant and relaxing, making it good therapy for frayed nerves. It is also a very addictive hobby; once an enthusiast makes some sort of leather item he or she may be hooked for life.

Almost anything imaginable can be made from leather. Belts, wallets, camera cases, are part of the endless list. Even if the center lacks the pattern for a particular item numerous pamphlets and idea books are available and list places where such patterns can be

Senate approves four year major in marketing management field

The Academic Senate unanimously approved a new, four year marketing management major as proposed by the Marketing Department at last Friday's meeting.

The marketing major, which will offer a B.S. in Business Administration, is different from the industrial marketing major, which is already offered by the marketing department in the following ways: Marketing management will require the following courses: Mktg. 709, 715, and 820; Mgt. 705, 713, 804, and 850. These courses are not required in the industrial marketing major.

Marketing management will not require the following courses required for an industrial marketing major: Mgt. 746; Mktg. 750, 840, and 843.

Other differences in the two majors are: the new major has a built in management minor that will be required of all majors; marketing management will offer a broader field of study in the marketing field; and not force the student to specialize in a certain area, as for example, fashion marketing.

The proposed major will also allow the student to be introduced to Computers through Acctg. 710 or Comp. Sci. 600 rather than Acctg. 713 only. Also, marketing management will not require additional advertising courses.

In other business, the Library Committee presented the Senate with a tentative budget concerning departmental allocations for the Library's budget for the 1976-77 academic year.

This plan, which tries to take into account enrollment in that school or department, need, cost of materials, growth rate, and past policies, will be finalized by the end of Spring quarter. The allocations, as they show now, are: College of Arts and Sciences, (24% of undergrad enrollment), $235,230; School of Business, (19% of undergrad enrollment), $20,500; School of Education, (11% of undergrad enrollment), $15,500; School of Engineering (6% of undergrad enrollment), $21,230; School of Fine Arts, (5% of undergrad enrollment), $17,690; Tech and Community College, (32% of undergrad enrollment), $21,000.

The Library itself is allocated $10,000; General Works, $30,000, and Contingency, (extra money set aside for any of the schools who need more materials), $22,650.

The Senate also heard a report from the Ad Hoc Committee on the Relationships Among Schools, established in April, 1974.

The Committee charge is: "To gather from each School in the University a statement of objectives and to study the role of each School as it supports the objectives of the University."

To define: (a) the inter-relationships of the Schools as defined by the objectives; (b) the degree of autonomy within the Schools which may be possible, desirable, or necessary; (c) possible mechanisms for increasing cooperation among Schools; and (d) to analyze possible academic implications connected with enrollment declines and the expansion of technical education."

Some of the committee's recommendations are:

(1) Each School should establish a statement of its mission and objectives commensurate with the University Mission and Goals for inclusion in the University Bulletin.

(2) One of the strongest factors responsible for friction and non-cooperation is lack of inter-school planning and cooperation, which thereby contributes to lack of progress between Schools and University.

(3) There is a lack of "University orientation" among faculty and administration. There also exists an ethnocentric attitude of faculty which orients individuals primarily to department, secondly to School, and lastly to the University.

Procedures are being taken to try and correct these findings and others not listed by the members of the committee.

Minutes of all the meetings and a statement of each School's objective are on file, and any student wishing to read them may do so. More information can be given by the members of the committee. They are: Sid Roberts, A&S; Bill Petrych, Business; John Kearns, Engineering; Marv Chrisp, Education; Ron Gould, Music, and Vic Richley, T&CC.

New program to be conducted to help smokers kick the habit

The Eastern Ohio Lung Association is sponsoring a sixty-day stop smoking program conducted by Stephen Graf at Trumbull Memorial Hospital. The initial meeting will be in the Hospital's Assembly Room at 7:30, Tuesday Jan. 20, with follow-up meetings scheduled for Jan. 22, Feb. 3, and March 19. A fee of $3.00 will be asked of each participant.

The program, "A Countdown to Kick-Off Smoking", was developed by Graf. His method involves a $20. deposit paid by participants, and reclaimed in small amounts throughout the length of the program by completing the different steps and stages.

He says that the $20 deposit is the most effective way of keeping people in the program, when after two or three weeks of not smoking, they falter and have a couple of cigarettes. Graf added that by completing the program, the participant reclaims the entire amount, whether he or she has successfully quit smoking or not.

"At the end of the two month program, the quitters get a bonus, in addition to better, healthier lungs and heart," said Graf. "All the deposit money not reclaimed will be divided among them."

Rev. Robert Taylor, Pastor of the Howland Community Church, and President of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Trumbull County, said that Christmas Seal funds were used to develop the smoking withdrawal program because of the great number of lung diseases that are directly related to cigarette smoking.

Taylor went on to say that an estimated 300,000 Americans will die this year alone due to smoking related illnesses.

These illnesses include a wide variety of diseases including emphysema, chronic bronchitis, heart disease, and cancer.

Bermuda Triangle

Bermuda Triangle, has some intriguing theories of the strange forces that may be at work which he will be discussing at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 14 in Kilcawley Center student cafeteria. The lecture, part of YSU's Artist Lecture Series, is free and open to the public.

In reviewing the weird happenings and continuing disappearances connected with The Bermuda Triangle, Berlitz will use slides, charts and visual aids.

The grandson of the founder of the Berlitz School and an accomplished linguist with a working knowledge of 30 languages. Berlitz, through his study of Egyptian hieroglyphics, became interested in archaeology. An expert scuba diver, he has examined from beneath the sea many of the strange ruins of lost civilizations. He has written several books including Atlantis and Mysteries from Forgotten Worlds.

YSU and YSU's Student Government provide funds for the Artist Lecture Series.

currently enrolled student may use the NEOMAL service to obtain a book which is unavailable at the YSU library. With Ohio College Library Center computer terminals, which are located on the first and second floors of the new library, the availability of a rare book can be determined instantly. If the book is available, it can be delivered to the University within twenty-four to forty-eight hours, or a status report on availability will be received.

And also under the NEOMAL program, YSU students, visiting other universities may withdraw books from participating libraries, in person, upon presentation of a validated student identification card. The books should be returned to the university library before leaving the university.

"As far as thefts of books are concerned," said Wall, some students might think that they could get away with something, "but they can be very easily traced. I don't expect this to happen very much, if ever, at YSU."

Craft Center

The craft center also offers macramee, weaving, and other similar crafts. The leather and silversmith sections are definitely the most popular.

During the winter quarter the center hours will be 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. M-F and noon to 4 p.m. Sat.

Besides being good for the mind, leathercrafts are easy on the wallet. For example, a belt could cost around $2 to $8 (including snaps, buckle, and finishing) depending on the price of the leather (according to size) and the type of buckle used. Considering that store belts run anywhere from $5 to $20 and that the less expensive ones usually aren't made from leather and are unoriginal, the center belts could be a good deal. The person who goes to the craft center to make a belt is getting a bargain, besides the low cost of the item he or she also gets the experience of working with leather.

Jewelry making and silver work are two additional crafts that the center offers. Items such as rings, bracelets and pendants are made. The most popular item is the ring. On the average, a ring made at the center costs $5 in silver (depending on the type of setting) whereas a ring, made of similar materials and bought at a department store would charge about $25.

Correction

The editorial in the Jan. 9 issue of The Jambar erroneously stated that 78,000 parking stickers were sold. 7,800 stickers were, in fact sold. The Jambar regrets the error.

Offices are moved from Admin. Annex to student center

The Financial Aids Office and the Careers Planning and Placement Service have moved from the Administrative Annex to Kilcawley Center below the Bookstore. Although this is not as convenient to the Bursar's Office, it is closer to the Student Center and, therefore, closer to the students.

The Financial Aids Office is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday and on Saturday 8 a.m. to noon.

The number of students receiving aid has increased since last year. Financial Aids has a number of student vouchers for winter quarter that have not yet been claimed, especially those from late applicants. These people are urged to collect these (Cont. on page 3)

The official deadline for payment of the service fee is within 60 days of the start of the fall quarter.

Abram said that he didn't think that the resistance to paying the fee was organized but added that he realizes that a variety of individuals on campus are opposed for philosophical reasons to the fee.

Rost said he is now in the process of sending out reminders to those individuals who have not yet paid.

In the past few weeks the possibility of another U.S. involvement in the affairs of a foreign nation has moved from the category of improbable to that of possibility and now to reality. Once again U.S. troops (euphemistically designated as independent mercenaries) are fighting in foreign jungles. Once again massive military aid is being covertly supplied to reactionary groups, and once again the administration department of deception is in full operation with irrelevancies, half truths and untruths. A few years ago young mothers were declaring that they did not want their sons to grow up to face another Viet Nam. It looks like they might have their wish; it could be their younger brothers.

If this is not to happen, the out-pouring of popular opposition that eventually was so important in ending the Viet Nam war must be brought to bear much more rapidly than last time. From the Tonkin Gulf fraud to the cut-off of aid a year ago, ten years, 2,000,000 Indochinese dead, over 75,000 U.S. dead, and nearly $200,000,000,000 passed into history. Fortunately, this time there are some differences. The media has served us much better, and most of the issues are at least described. But the administration possesses an enormous capacity for deception. Just what they are trying to do to us must be our immediate concern, but it might be useful to briefly review the situation in Angola and the confusion of groups that are competing for national control.

For approximately the last 14 years, there has been a revolutionary movement in Angola attempting to overthrow Portuguese rule. The MPLA, now unquestionably the most powerful and efficient and also the most consciously socialistic, has long been the most effective of the groups. Until a year ago they were in a loose and uneasy coalition with two other groups: in the north with the much more politically conservative FNLA, which was heavily supplied and supported by Zaire (and now covertly by the US, through Zaire) and with UNITA in the south, which has been cooperating with the racist South African government. Although tribal relationships and tribal conflicts have historically and unfortunately played an important and debilitating role in African struggles, it is the MPLA that has most successfully overcome the tribal aspect, and UNITA that is still most involved with them. All groups claim to be Marxist, but the willingness to accept aid and direction from the US on the part of FNLA, and of White South African Troops as well as US aid on the part of UNITA makes that somewhat open to question. Only the MPLA has articulated a clearly independent, African socialist line, and is receiving aid from Scandinavian countries as well as from its main supplier, the Soviet Union. Since the MPLA effort has been categorized in the usual simplistic administration cold war terms as evil communism vs. the pure of heart, the "communism" of the MPLA bears closer examination. There is no secret of the basically socialist organization of the MPLA's design for Angola. According to Hauser, of the American Committee on Africa, after frequent contacts with the MPLA:

"In a continent where there is little private accumulation of capital, socialism of one sort or another is an accepted norm. Capitalism is a reality in most of Africa only through the interests of foreign corporations and enterprises. So organizing a society along socialist lines is to be expected. Such a form of social organization should not automatically end United States willingness to maintain friendly relations. And indeed the United States has recently agreed to diplomatic relations with Guinea-Bissau and Mozambique, countries in which the political parties...have programs very similar to that of the MPLA."

At this time of rapidly moving events and a comparative dearth of information on Angola, the administration has been busily presenting a view that would justify massive US intervention. They contend that the Angola situation is somehow a challenge and a threat to US interests, US pride, and US honor, and that Angola is being taken over by Russia and Cuba.

Let us take a look: First of all the US has no security interests and no commitments in Angola. And the Administration does not even deny it: This is a 1969

Two defeats drop basketball team to 6-3

YSU's basketball squad was defeated twice over the weekend, dropping their season record to 6-3. Friday night the Penguins were beaten by Northern Kentucky, 82-81, in a double overtime thriller. The following evening, YSU travelled to Philadelphia Textile and lost 76-64.

Before a crowd of 2,430 fans, YSU squandered a 16 point halftime lead to Northern Kentucky before losing in overtime. Thirty-three turnovers, 22 in the second half alone, were the main reason for defeat. The Norkens employed a full-court press in the second half which resulted in many Penguin mistakes. Northern Kentucky parlayed the errors into many unchallenged baskets.

Penguin center Jeff Covington, 6-7, converted a three point play with 25 seconds left in time to give YSU a 68-66 lead. Unfortunately, Covington was called for goal tending with only two seconds remaining, tying the game and sending it into overtime.

In the first overtime period, YSU held a brief four point margin but quickly vanished as Northern Kentucky tipped in a pair of buckets. Penguin Frank Andrews and the visitors' Pat Ryan exchanged baskets as the period ended in a 76-76 deadlock. Andrews scored the Penguins only three points in the second overtime as the visitors, behind two clutch free throws by Jeff Stowers, held on to a slim one point lead as the game ended, 82-81.

Officers to be elected by Karate Club Jan. 22

The Karate Club will have its quarterly election of officers from noon-1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 22, room 239, Kilcawley Student Center.

The club was organized to bring together all styles and ranks of Karate students and hopefully bring competitive karate to YSU.

There are many Black Belt and other karate students who attend YSU and don't have the opportunity to compete in a University sport.

The Korean, Japanese, Okinawan, and Chinese styles of karate now help make up the fast growing American style of karate.

Lacuskusky, president of the club, wants to see it compete with other universities and bring together all styles and ranks of Karate students. Any YSU student is free to join.

Lacuskusky has corresponded with other colleges such as Kent State, with five karate clubs, hoping to set up scrimages or competitions between the universities. The second

The Penguins were led by Covington's 23 points. Andrews hooped 22, Bob Carlson netted 15, and floor leader Terry Moore added 14. Covington collected 20 rebounds and Andrews snatched 15 caroms as YSU held a 45-43 rebound.

The Penguin Jayvees recorded their fourth win in six cuttings by soundly thrashing the Toledo Celtics 76-47. Robin Vincier's 24 points and 15 rebounds paced the YSU attack. Steve Taczak sank 23 points to aid the cause.

Early foul trouble led to Saturday's loss to an always strong Philadelphia Textile squad. YSU sank 11 of 19 first half field attempts but nevertheless trailed 34-26 mainly because they committed 11 fouls. With six and one half minutes to go in the opening half, Penguin guard and playmaker Terry Moore was fouled by Textile's Pete Mimmo. A brief brawl occurred as a result and both players were ejected from the contest. Moments later, guard Gerald Parks was tagged with his third foul forcing head coach Dom Rosselli to substitute. Philadelphia maintained a comfortable margin throughout the second half and coasted to a 76-64 victory.

Each team sank 26 field goals but YSU sank only 12 of 18 foul shots as opposed to Textile's 24 of 29 (83%).

Center, Jeff Covington was the game's high scorer with 27 points and also garnered 12 rebounds.

Arch-rival Akron University will invade Beeghly Center this Sat. night for an 8 p.m. match.

Intramural basketball opens ; program expands to 89 teams

The YSU Intramural Basketball program opened its season yesterday at Beeghly. The program has expanded from 79 teams last year to 89 this year. The heavy snow played a major factor in yesterday's schedule causing several early morning forfeits. The winners of those games were Sox over Nads, Roundballers over A.I.B.S. Turtox, White Lightning over Warlords, Surprise over Dunkers, and Blitz over Firehouse Five.

The Ohio Players pulled the upset of the day defeating the Buckeyes, last year's third place team, by a decisive 59 to 35. In other Independent action: Cards 58 - Flash 40, Squash 49 - Celtics 45, Winners 40 - Bleacher Buns 19, Adidas 29 - Boozers 13, Golden Bears 41 - Turkeys 29, Don't Ask 50 - Smooth Shooters 30, The Family 57 - P.C.B. All Stars 36, Conquistadors 36 - North Side Blues 20, Stars 32 - Ruane Concrete 28, Terps 32 - Matza Balls 20, and Blue Hens 71 - Whiz Bang Gang 24.

In one of the more exciting games of the day the Lonely Hearts Club defeated the Saints in double overtime, 28 to 26. The Bombers squeaked past the Salug Gang 21 to 19, while the Gamecocks decisively beat Alpha Phi Omega 63 to 14.

Other scores were: Mad Dog 40 - Jayvees 24, The K's 50 - Thundering Herd 35, Commodores 47 - Canadian Club 34, Kilcawley 55 - Bo's Pros 47, Brown Dirt Cowboys 39 - Valley Crew 12, P.E. Majors 57 - Cool Blue 36, Engineers 55 - Hopeless Wonders 16, and Saturn Saint 36 - Morton Marauders 26.

In the Fraternity division, Sigma Phi Epsilon edged Alpha Phi Delta in overtime 36 to 33. Other scores were Theta Chi 50 - Sigma Tau Gamma 20, Phi Delta Theta 52 - Phi Sigma Sigma Kappa 22, Tau Kappa Epsilon 38 - Sigma Alpha Epsilon 10, and Sigma Chi Alpha 44 - Phi Kappa Tau 28.

The winners in the newly formed woman's division totally dominated their opponents. Doing the unheard of was the Terrets and Benny's Jets as they shut out their rivals. The Terrets beat Alpha Omicron Phi 26 to 0. Debbie Williams scored 10 points to lead the winners. Bridget Mahoney hooped 16 points to lead Benny's Jets over the Carnation Creamers, 39 to 0.

Josie and the Pussycats, looking very impressive, easily defeated the Pork Chops, 32 to 14. Mary Jo Herdman netted 13 points to lead the victors.
