Dana School's Opera Workshop Presents Strauss' 'Die Fledermaus'

JAILBOUND: Gary Glaze, in the role of Gabriel von Eisenstein, is jailbound for kicking the tax collector. His wife, Rosalinda, played by Bernadette Knapic (center) and the maid, Phoebe Woodward, pretend to be in deep remorse when actually this is part of their scheme, in Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" which opens tonight in C.J. Strauss Auditorium.

8:00 Curtain Time Tonight and Saturday Evening in Main Auditorium

The Opera Workshop of the Dana School of Music of Youngstown University will present the operetta "Die Fledermaus," by Johann Strauss, on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25. Performances for tonight and tomorrow evening begin at 8:00.

French Movie "Topaze" Next On Cinema "16"

Fernandel, one of the world's most versatile comedians, makes Marcel Pagnol's classic comedy "Topaze", a welcome addition to the international roster of Cinema "16". The movie will be shown on Wednesday, April 22, and Thursday, April 23.

Spoken in French with English subtitles, "Topaze" is the story of a schoolteacher's discovery that the copybook maxims he has been teaching about money being the root of all evil and bringing anything but happiness are not the aptest guides for the conduct of one's life. By reversing them he achieves all he has missed previously: wealth, friends, a decoration from the inspector, and a beautiful mistress.

The Saturday Review states, "the virtues of the brilliant and amusing play are preserved intact ..."; the New York Journal American: "definitely directed, produced and scripted ... Fernandel a top comic"; and the New York Herald Tribune, "a humorous attack on society's sense of values ... an elaborate moral satirer."

Showings will continue to be given at three o'clock in the Audio-Visual Room of the library.

The production is open to the student body and the public. Students will be admitted by activity books. Public sale of tickets will be held at Dana, or at the door at both performances.

Considered the finest operetta of the famous "Waltz King," Strauss, the production will have a cast of 78 students of the Dana School, including chorus and orchestra.

"Die Fledermaus" is an epitome of the Viennese spirit that continues to hold the stage as one of the masterpieces of its generation. It was first performed in Vienna in 1874 and was presented a few months later in New York. The music, written by the composer of the popular "Blue Danube Waltz," has been conducted all over the world and has been acclaimed by the public and critics alike as being a sparkling musical portrait of the Viennese love for wine, women, and waltzes.

Dr. Mark Dolliver, of the Dana Faculty, will be musical director and will conduct the same version of this work as was performed by the

Phi Mu Sorority Attends Conclave

Seven members of the Youngstown University chapter of Phi Mu Sorority attended a district convention held in Cleveland on April 17, 18, and 19.

Youngstown delegates were Nancy Jean Urban, Susanne Morosky, Betsy O'Neil, Karen Rogers, Bette Malno Mary Mazi, and Mary Jo Herschel.

The theme of the convention was: "Phi Mu in the Spotlight", and chapters from Ohio and Michigan attended. Luncheon speaker was Miss Wilma Schultz, Dean of Women Baldwin-Wallace College. Mrs. Landon Freear, Phi Mu's National Panhellenic Conference delegate and chairman of the Panhellenic Housing committee presented awards to outstanding collegiate and alumni chapters.

Spanish Club Explains Latin-American Music

The Spanish Club will hold a meeting tonight at 8:30 at Pollock House. A program depicting the development of Latin-American music will be presented.

President Ike McHugh will welcome guest speaker Myron Wisler who will speak on the origin and development of Latin-American music.

All members and those interested in Spanish culture are welcome to attend.

Glamour and Color Keynote 1959 May Day Festivities

May Day festivities are just one week away, and according to all plans it promises to be one of the most colorful and glamorous highlights on our campus, with pretty girls, merry dancing, and lots of color.

The coronation pageant will take place on May 1, at 1:00 p.m. on the lawn at the side of Pollock House. All classes will be excused from 1 to 3. Festivities will include the May Pole Dance, Friendship-Chain, and the coronation.

Two pledges from each of the sororities will take part in the opening event, the traditional May Pole Dance. The next event will be the Friendship-Chain, which will be comprised of two officers from each women's organization on campus.

The royal party, consisting of the queen and her attendants, will be escorted under crossed sabres of the Youngstown University Honor Guard up to the coronation platform. Last year's May Day Queen, Sonia Linytsky, will crown the queen, who will reign at the dance Friday evening at Yankee Lake.

Students are requested to invite their parents and guests. This is one of the biggest affairs on our campus and merits the support of the entire student body and their parents.

INSPECTING: The 1959 May Day chairmen Jerry Rhodes (left) and Dave Clark (right) inspect the grounds of Pollock House where the coronation of the 1959 May Day queen will take place.

Galante, Pellizzeri Popularity Winners

Mary Pellizzeri of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority and Dominic Galante of Theta Chi Fraternity were chosen Mr. and Miss Popularity of Youngstown University last Friday at the Phi Gamma Fraternity's Popularity dance.

Last year's winners John Hite and Nancy Veauthier crowned their successors. Announcement of the winners was made at intermission.

YU Pin Deadline

The Dean's office has announced the deadline for seniors to apply for Y.U. pins as May 15.

These coveted pins are awarded to the outstanding men and women at the ratio of 1 per 100 in each graduating class.

Qualifications consist of having a B grade for each extra-curricular activity point.

All interested seniors may contact Sandy Bailey in the Dean of Men's office for further information.

The Campus Voice

By Vilma Terie

As you know, this spring when the Student Council elections are held, the present members of Council will have more for you to vote on than just new members. There will also be several all-school controversial issues to vote on. One of them, a proposed honor system, was discussed on the front page of the JAMBAR several weeks ago. We have asked some students to comment on it.

Janice Georges

"As a Student Council member I have been concerned with the possibility of a Honor System for some time. Evidences of success on other campuses and in the Military Science Department of our own University show that it can work. The establishment of such a system here at Youngstown University would certainly be a step toward the building of better student character, hence, a more respected University. However, the road to an honor system is not easy and the end result can only be achieved over a number of years. The final decision must rest with the student body, since personal conviction and morals are at stake."

Larry Beers

"I don't believe the new Honor System will work. If the present system doesn't work, why should adding the word "HONOR" change anything. Since cheating at larger schools is admitted (JAMBAR 4/3/59) and the students at Y.U. are no different, this system would seem to add more of a temptation to cheat and then make the actual cheating easier. Trust was also mentioned in the article. Trust is the reliability and confidence between two people, it does not mean reporting a friend for some little misdemeanor."

Paula Romeo

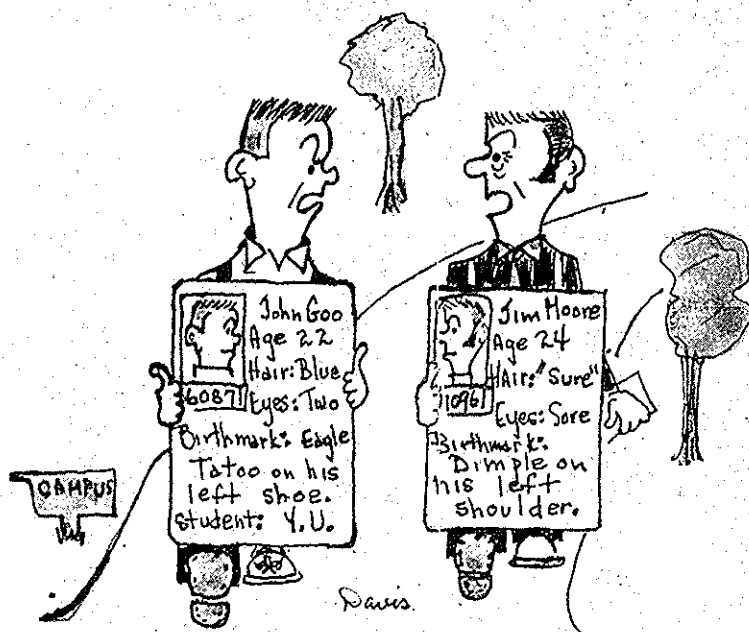

"I believe that it is up to the individual himself to truly make the honor system feasible. This system should be run by "Honor" itself. It doesn't need the liaison of watchdogs or snooters. I feel that the individual that "cheats", cheats himself. When students realize that grades are irrelevant, without true comprehension of the course, then we will "lay our first stepping stone" in putting such a system in effect."

Blase De Leo

"The Honor system is conducive to cheating. Students will cheat whether on their honor or not. Supervised tests in my opinion lessen the temptation to cheat. Since there is far more chance of cheating under the honor system; the system is unfair to the non-cheating students." He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and a sophomore Sociology major.

What do you think, Campus?

"Somebody got carried away with this I. D. card idea."

Letters to the Editor...

Maintains Music Connoisseur Can Enjoy R N' R With Jazz

Dear Editor:

In reply to Steve Rayburn's letter:

The following letter is not meant to be sarcastic; its intentions are to help your frustrations as a jazz enthusiast. Narrow mindedness in any subject implies a misunderstanding of loss of appreciation. It is quite evident that you appreciate only one kind of music — jazz. Is there any reason why some of the students can't enjoy jazz and also other types of music? Jazz music has become a part of Y.U. I didn't say it was in a majority, but your letter proved there is an interest.

You described students as being "square" if they enjoyed Rock and Roll. This is also degrading the people who enjoy semi-classical and classical music instead of jazz. Each student is entitled to his own interest in music whether it is Mozart or Pop.

There is no reason why he can't enjoy the sounds of Ellington and the voice of Presley. This is the justification in music appreciation. You referred to the Rock and Roll enthusiasts on campus as misguided students, but they are entitled to individuality. Some students may have twice as much pleasure listening to Ricky Nelson or the Rebel Rousers as you experience when listening to Brubeck or Manne.

As a possible aid to your frustrations, I can suggest an idea of which I am partly concerned. There is a ballot poll on campus every week. By writing your selected song on a JAMBAR ballot, and placing it in the box in the library, your selection will be considered with the others. The chosen records are played on the Y.U. Show every Saturday morning at 11:00. The show is directed towards variety and music appreciation of all types.

Avoid Luckless Legion

More than 2,800,000 Americans were drafted into the Luckless Legion of automobile casualties in 1958.

In its annual highway safety booklet entitled "The Luckless Legion", The Travelers Insurance Companies pointed out "This is an army of suffering humanity which grows more rapidly each year. It is made up of the injured and the dead, the heedless and the innocent, the young and the old. Since the automobile first appeared on the American scene, these ranks of the crippled and the dead have included more than 60,000,000 of us."

The Luckless Legion is a silent, haunted army. We erect no monuments to it. No grim reminders mar the sleek beauty of the roads and highways which are its field of battle. A newspaper headline, perhaps, marks the induction of the latest recruit. Then silence. Silent suffering. A lifetime of pain. Or the silent memories of those who mourn when the dead are laid to rest.

There were 36,700 men, women and children numbered among the dead of the Luckless Legion during the past year. For every fatality there were 77 people who suffered painful injuries. Hour by hour and day by day, this total climbed until it reached the staggering total of 2,825,000.

Injuries during the past year rose 12 per cent -- twice the rate of increase for the previous year. In the rising curve of injuries lies the greatest waste of property and human resources in our nation. Behind the lines of our efforts toward national progress, the Luckless Legion stands as a vast fifth column.

Statistics, pledges and slogans do not seem to change us. Something more is needed. During 1959, the Luckless Legion will be meeting in our community ... on a stretch of highway, in a hospital room, in the morgue.

You alone will know when the meeting time is near. In the temptation to bear down a little harder on the gas, to beat the darkness home, to test your reflexes when they are dulled by sleep or alcohol, to jay-walk on crowded streets, to forget caution when weather and road conditions are bad. During 1959, every time you are behind the wheel of a car, remember that the Luckless Legion is looking for recruits. Don't be one.

Support Spring Sports

Along with the spring weather the members of the track, baseball tennis and golf teams begin their practice.

The students participating in these spring sports spend many warm spring afternoons working hard at their individual sports while other students lazily waste away their afternoons.

This is not an editorial advocating all Youngstown students taking part in sports, but to make students aware of the fact that our University does sponsor spring athletic teams.

Attendance at these Spring athletic contests is poor; again reflecting a low ebb of school spirit.

It takes as much time and practice to develop a tennis or track team as it does to produce a football or basketball team and yet these Spring sports don't receive the recognition they deserve.

Let's all try to attend at least one of these contests and give our warm weather athletes the support they deserve.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Wins 4th Intra-Mural Cage Crown

Building a commanding lead in the first half, Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity went on to beat Sigma Phi Epsilon 59-44 for the Inter-Fraternity basketball championship at Gordon St. gym on April 16.

This was the fourth straight year that TKE has captured the intra-mural crown.

TKE cracked a tight zone defense by hitting 50% of their field goals in the first half. Most of the shots came from the outside. Halftime score was 32-16.

Sigma Phi Epsilon moved into a man to man defense in the second half, making the game a little closer. At one point the Sig Eps trailed by a single point.

Leading the scoring was Ken Hoffman of Sig Eps with 22 points. Tom Steele was high for the TKE's with 21 points. Beers had 16 and Kline 13 for TKE. John Mandish, Sigma Phi Epsilon stalwart, was held to just eight points.

Zeta Phi Third

In the semi-finals the Sig Eps beat the Zeta Phis, 29-25, thus knocking them from the double elimination tourney. Mike Giambattista was high for Zeta Phi with 13 points. Mandish and Hoffman had 12 and 11 respectively, for the Sig Eps. Mandish MVP

The referees unanimously picked John Mandish as the most valuable player in the tournament. Mandish had a total of 155 points for an average of 22 points in seven games.

Penguin Sports

IFC Basketball Champs

WINNERS: Members of the Tau Kappa Epsilon basketball team boastfully display the trophy they won by winning the IFC basketball tournament for the fourth straight year.

Trackmen Defeated Golf Team Faces Rebuilding Job

Dom Chick of the Penguin track team broke his own school record in the shot put with a heave of 44'1" despite an 85½ to 40½ loss at the hands of Baldwin-Wallace.

Other firsts in the meet were gained by Domitrovich, both in the discus throw 113'10". Coleman's broad jump of 21'11" netted Youngstown their fourth victory.

Ray Carter wastimed at 9.9 seconds in the 100 yard dash, yet managed only a third place finish.

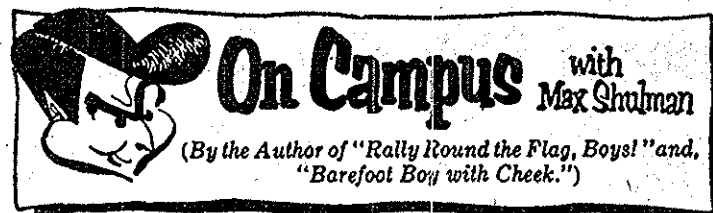

The 1959 edition of the Youngstown University golf team is one to be reckoned with. The team is comprised of four returning lettermen and a good looking crop of newcomers.

Returning from the 1958 squad are Tom Barto from Warren, Ed Antonelli, also from Warren, Fred Quinn from New Castle, and Mike Mijic from Warren. The newcomers include John Barber from Youngstown, Jerry Seem from Sharon, Mike Antonelli from Warren, "Mickey" Pasco from Girard and Dick Schwartz from Youngstown. Schwartz is the defending Ohio Amateur golf champion.

Coach Bill Carson says that he considers this year's team to be a consistent one with every member shooting in the low or middle 70's.

On May 11, the team will travel down to Columbus to compete in the state tournament. In this tournament will be all Ohio colleges and universities. Among the entrants are included the powerful teams from Ohio State University and Ohio University which means that the Penguin linksmen will be competing against two of the best golf schools in the nation. The members of the team, however, are looking forward to bringing the state championship to Youngstown.

Another event the team is anxiously awaiting is the N.A.I.A. district meet to be held at Ashland. The winner of the meet qualifies for the national N.A.I.A. golf championship to be held this year in Quincy, Illinois. The Penguins are the defending district champs but did not compete in the nationals because of the location; Texas.

THE MANY LOVES OF THORWALD DOCKSTADER

When Thorwald Dockstader—sophomore, epicure, and sportsman—first took up smoking, he did not simply choose the first brand of cigarettes that came to hand. He did what any sophomore, epicure, and sportsman would do: he sampled several brands and then picked the mildest, tastiest, pleasingest of all—Philip Morris, of corris!

Similarly, when Thorwald took up girls, he did not simply select the first one who came along. He sampled. First he took out an English literature major named Elizabeth Barrett Grisht, a wisp of a girl with luminous eyes and a soul that shimmered with a pale, unearthly beauty. Trippingly, trippingly, she walked with Thorwald upon the beach and sat with him behind a windward dune and listened to a sea shell and sighed sweetly and took out a little gold pencil and a little morocco notebook and wrote a little poem:

*I will lie upon the shore,
I will be a dreamer.
I will feel the sea once more
Pounding on my femur.*

Thorwald's second date was with a physical education major named Peaches Glendower, a broth of a girl with a ready smile and a size 18 neck. She took Thorwald down to the cinder track where they jogged around 50 times to open the pores. Then they played four games of squash, six sets of tennis, 36 holes of golf, nine innings of one old cat, six chukkers of lacrosse, and a mile and a quarter of leap frog. Then they went ten rounds with eight-ounce gloves and then they had heaping bowls of bran and whey and exchanged a manly handshake and went home to their respective whirlpool baths.

"I think I'll stick with PHILIP MORRIS" he said

Thorwald's final date was with a golden-haired, creamy-browed, green-eyed, red-lipped, full-calved girl named Totsi Sigafoos. Totsi was not majoring in anything. As she often said, "Gee whillikers, what's college for anyhow—to fill your head full of icky old facts, or to discover the shining essence that is YOU?"

Totsi started the evening with Thorwald at a luxurious restaurant where she consumed her own weight in Cornish rock hen. From there they went to a de luxe movie palace where Totsi had popcorn with butter. Then she had a bag of chocolate covered raisins—also with butter. Then they went to a costly ballroom and cha-cha'd till dawn, tipping the band every eight bars. Then they went to a Chinese restaurant where Totsi, unable to decipher the large and baffling menu, found a simple way out of her dilemma: she ordered one of everything. Then Thorwald took her to the women's dorm, boosted her in the window, and went downtown to wait for the employment office to open.

While waiting, Thorwald thought over all of his girls and came to a sensible decision. "I think," he said to himself, "that I will stick with Philip Morris. I am not rich enough for girls."

Anybody is rich enough for Philip Morris—and for Philip Morris's brother cigarette, filter-tip Marlboro, the cigarette with better "makin's". The flavor's fine, the filter filters, the price is right.

Dom Chick Sets Shot Put Record

Dom Chick, a husky young man hailing from East Palestine, Ohio, last week set a new Y.U. shot put mark with a heave of 44'1" against the Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets at Berea.

Standing 5'10½" and tipping the scales at 215 pounds, the muscular Chick broke the record he himself set last year at Hiram with a toss of 43'7½".

The twenty year old junior has been competing in the shot put event since he was a junior in high school. He resides at 103 W. Main Street in East Palestine.

SETS RECORD: Dom Chick shows his style for heaving the shot put, after he set a new school record in the Baldwin-Wallace game.

QUE'S QUIPS

By Jim Quilty, Sports Editor

Dom Rosselli, coach of the baseballers, has both power and pitching to counter all the opposition's efforts. With Tom Razum the club's number one slugger, having ironed out his work conflict, Rosselli can count upon a trio of experienced flychasers roaming the outfield. Jerry McKinney's superior speed necessitates a switch from center to left field for Razum. These two along with John Fusco in right and versatile Pete Leonard as a quality reserve give Youngstown a big punch, offensively as well as defensively, in the outfield.

Charley Bushman will be the mainstay at first base, Charley, a pitcher in past years, hits with the best. His talent will be utilized every game. Letterman Don Parr and either Tom Kussic or Steve Clapp comprise the keystone duo. Parr batted .360 last year but whoever breaks into shortstop will have a difficult chore performing as well as Ronnie Stoops.

Rich Suchora, behind the plate, and Jim Brahney, at third, round out the starting lineup. Both have the needed power but neither hit for high averages last season.

A five man pitching corps anchored by Bob Chuey and supplemented by established moundsmen Mike Santor and Tom Raptis along with freshmen aces Lind Shields and Mitch Suchora (cousin to catcher Rich) have considerably brightened the outlook. Chuey and Santor will probably be the one -- two choices -- but any of the other three may work into a starting role.

Switching quickly to football and spring practice where the blazing sun provided ideal weather for practice sessions. Just right for the coaching staff, slightly on the warm side for the players.

Dike Beede believes the squad has made "better progress than expected" thus far stemming from the "best carryover -- the only time a sufficient number have turned out to field a team without the aid of freshman."

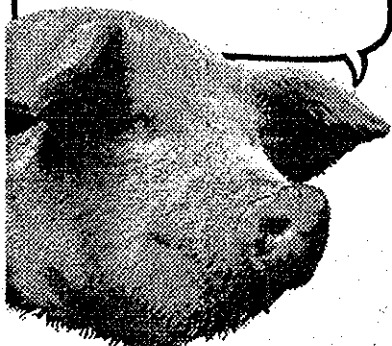

"However, due to the high injury rate during the football season, a reservoir of personnel is required to carry a team through the schedule," comments Beede. "We don't need the freshmen to open the campaign but they will vitally help us later in the season."

Tom Richards is slated for duty at his newly acquired halfback slot along with being the No. 1 fullback replacement behind Ralph "Butch" Morelli. Another outstanding horseman in practice has been Bob Hollis, Golden Gloves boxing champ. Larry Markasky has also been impressive at the quarterback position.

Tom Smolanovich and Wally Boyer, both "excellent receivers and good secondary defenders" are dividing the left-end duties. Bull Davidson together with Jim Rich, switched back to end from guard where he worked out briefly comprise the right end candidates.

Larry Jordan seems more "effective" at the tackle spot. Other outstanding tackles are Bob Pezula and Bobby Gessler.
