Student Council recognizes need for Campus Day Care Center

"I can't help them if I don't know who they are," said Linda Hayes, chairperson of Student Council at yesterday's meeting. She was referring to students who want a day care center on Campus, but has no way of contacting them.

"We need students to come to Council so we can form an ad hoc committee," Hayes added.

According to Hayes the protests are to no avail because there is no definite student involvement.

Suggestion boxes are planned for campus-wide locations in order to receive feedback on Council's efficiency, according to Denny Stoneman, publicity chairperson.

"Elections were fine until they were over," reported John Carano, election chairperson. Carano moved that $66 be transferred from the contingency fund to the election fund to pay the county board of election, and the motion passed. The total cost of the voting machines was $700.

Tony Koury, chairperson of Special and Ad Hoc committees reported that he represented YSU at a meeting of the Ohio Student Association on Friday, May 6. The 12 Ohio State-supported universities that were represented agreed that some type of student demonstrations should occur because of the $30 million budget cut recently made by the Ohio legislature. No definite plans have been made, however, according to Koury.

Another Blood Bank is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday of early June in Kilcawley Center, Koury also reported.

Linda Schajatovic, secretary of council, reported that the Inter-Fraternity Council is planning a

Senate Bill 191

Provides 15-18% more funds

Senate Bill 191 will not make further reductions in appropriations to higher education, stated Representative George Tablack in a recent Jambar interview where he discussed Senate Bills 191 and 94 and their ramifications.

Responsible for appropriating money to higher education, Senate Bill 191 provides money for enrollment growth, teacher education and financial aid.

Emergency Meeting

An emergency meeting on the faculty contract negotiations will be held at 4 p.m. this Thursday, May 12, in Schwebel Auditorium. The meeting has been called to inform the faculty of the contract as it now stands. The meeting is open to full-time faculty members only.

According to Tablack, the state legislature is giving higher education 15-18% more money than it was given in the last biennium. He stressed that there is more money for enrollment growth and for teacher education programs and added that the legislature was appropriating more money to Ohio Instructional Grants for financial aid to students. Tablack further stressed that the legislature will continue to fund students as it always has.

When asked why reports state that there will be more monetary reductions when in fact, there will be increases, Tablack commented that the reports are only scare tactics. He cited an example in explanation. If higher education were promised $200,000 and only received $180,000, educators might complain that they

Many events planned

Spring weekend is May 19-21

Would you like to spend the weekend listening to the "Earth Brothers Band," "Coconut" and Livingston Taylor; riding rides at Idora Park and learning how to square dance? Well YSU's annual Spring Weekend will give you the chance to do just that. The weekend takes place May 19 through May 21 and is sponsored by the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council in conjunction with Student Government.

According to Frank DiPiero, chairman of the spring weekend committee, Spring Weekend will be different from previous years. "No games or races will be held because they proved to be bothersome and they were not well supported."

Also the Spring Weekend committee, which consists of Carol Hayward, Pete Mohl, Nadine Nadzam and DiPiero would like to get more of the students involved in the events. "In the past, Spring Weekend has been supported mostly by Greeks, but we would like to get other students involved," said DiPiero.

The Weekend will begin on Thursday May 19 with the film "Shampoo." It will be shown in the multipurpose room at noon, 4 and 8 p.m. Admission is $.75 for students and $1.00 for non-students.

A square dance will also be held on Thursday at 10 p.m. in the multi-purpose room. The band has been previewed by the Spring Weekend committee and according to DiPiero "is really excellent and gets the people involved. The band is a permanent fixture at the Point View Dance Hall. People come from miles around to hear the group." Admission is free and no experience in square dancing is necessary because the band will teach everyone to dance.

On Friday, Spring Weekend continues with Happy Hour in the Pub. The group "Musica" will play from 1 to 4 p.m. and admission is free.

That night from 9 to 1 a.m. a dance will be held in the multi-purpose room. "Earth Brothers Band," one of the area's most popular groups will be playing. Admission to the dance is free.

Saturday, May 21 is Idora Park Day. Ride from 1 to 9 p.m. for only $2.00 showing a YSU ID. The faculty and staff are also invited to participate, and can bring their families at a reduced rate.

Another of Youngstown's leading groups, "Coconut," will perform at Idora from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

That night at 9 p.m., Livingston Taylor will give a mini-concert in the multi-purpose room.

Rebels 'messed up'

Mental illness among young rises

(CPS)—"I've got a good job, I'm successful and I want to kill myself," a disturbed young person tells Dr. Leonard Bachelis, director of New York City's Behavior Therapy Center. "Life doesn't mean anything."

That person is not alone. Mental health problems, particularly depression, disillusionment, frustration, alienation and anxiety are haunting young, college educated people under 30 these days in numbers greater than ever before, mental health experts all across the nation report.

Men, women, blacks and whites are all being stung by these afflictions, experts say. The reasons, all agree, are complex and many, but disillusionment with politics, problems with the job market, confusion over changing sex roles and general dissatisfaction with "The American Dream" are mentioned by psychiatrists and counselors most often.

Experts are quick to point out that many young people are living normal, healthy lives with no signs of emotional disturbances. But the number of people under 30 seeking professional mental health care has increased so much in recent years that specialists say the trend is significant and that it worries them.

Dr. Robert Brown, a psychiatrist in Virginia, found in a study that about one third of the young people he examined were "very depressed much of the time." A Pennsylvania psychiatrist estimates that 50 to 75 percent of today's mental hospital patients are adolescents and young adults. In Seattle, psychologist Karol Marshall says many of the young people she sees have a sense of "despair."

Why so much depression among the young? "They are threatened by the future," Dr. Edward Stanbrook told The New York Times. "They see the possibility of not having jobs, not having a lot of things their parents took for granted. They see the possibility of not having an adequate role in society," Dr. Stanbrook added.

"They can't get the job they want," psychologist Marshall explains. "They have a sense of helplessness, directionlessness and purposelessness, and this deteriorates into depression."

A survey of mental health experts in 14 cities by The Times found that emotional problems were most acute among young people who had rebelled or "dropped out" of society during the 1960s. These people are turning up on psychiatrists' couches most frequently, and they are taking to alcoholism, drugs, suicide and religious and astrological cults more than their peers who opted for more a straight life in recent years, experts say. According to psychiatrists, these rebels are messed up because they failed to fulfill many of their expectations of the past decade.

An example of this group is ex-hippie leader Jerry Rubin. Rubin, 37, was one of the craziest of the crazies during the sixties who once urged teenagers to "kill their parents." Today Rubin is a mellowed-out author who has gone through drugs, yoga, acupuncture, golfing, bioenergetics, Reichian therapy, EST, psychic therapy, Arica, jogging, vitamins and natural foods. He has just written a book telling all about it entitled Growing (Up) at Thirty-Seven.

Many experts say easy parents led many youths down the path to the couch. "To put it in simplistic, laymen's terms," says a California psychiatrist, "a lot of these kids were led to believe the world would be handed to them on a silver platter. They got spoiled by permissive parents and aren't prepared for a cruel world."

Noted Harvard professor David Riesman agrees. "This generation of students are the first to be raised by permissive, professional parents," he says. "They've told these youngsters that the idea is to be happy, to be fulfilled." But Riesman adds, "you don't achieve happiness because of what you are doing or have done, not because you wish to be happy."

On campus itself, college counselors are finding disillusionment welling up in many students who have not rebelled or "dropped out." Ironically, the fact that these students have stayed within the system makes them feel that the system is betraying them when

Turtle derby to be sponsored to buy equipment for blind

Seeing-eye turtles helping the blind? Well, it's not exactly the way it sounds, but YSU's military science department will sponsor its first annual Mini-Turtle Derby Wednesday, May 11, proceeds donated to the Sight Saving Fund of the Lions Club to aid the blind.

The event, held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the open area between Kilcawley Center, Ward Beecher Science Hall and Tod Hall, is a prelude to the annual Lions Club Turtle Derby May 13 at Boardman High School.

The derby will feature ten turtles racing down a specially constructed track. After each race, a ticket stub, whose last digit corresponds to the number of the winning turtle, will be drawn and the holder of the ticket will be awarded a cash prize. The amount of the cash prize will depend on the number of tickets sold for each race. It will be a winner-take-all race.

Admission to the derby is $1.00, which includes an admission ticket to the Lions Club Turtle Derby plus a chance to win the cash prize. Fifty cents out of each dollar will be for the cash prize.

According to Lt. Col. David H. Longacre, professor of military science, the department hopes to make this an annual event to help gain equipment for the blind.

Senior Day where area high school graduates would be invited to campus. She added that University facilities such as Beeghly and Kilcawley Center would be open to them. Jimmie Jimenez deferred the report until an IFC member could talk to council.

The newly elected council will be seated on May 23, Chris Andonian reported.

Candidate to speak
J. Phillip Richley, candidate for mayor of Youngstown, will be speaking at 1 p.m. on Thursday, May 12, in Kilcawley Center room 217 on, "Future Economic Development of the Area." The event, sponsored by the YSU Student Democrats, is free and open to the public.

Richley, presently an engineer for the Cafaro Corporation and a former engineering graduate of YSU, has had an impressive career of over 20 years in public service to both the Youngstown area and the state of Ohio. He has been both the city and county engineer, director of the Ohio Department of Highways and director of the Ohio Department of Transportation. Richley is opposed by S. Michael Kirwin in the upcoming democratic primary election. The winner of that contest will face city council president Emanuel Catsoules and human rights activist Ron Daniels, in the November general election.

"It's hard to top the challenge and reward NUPOC offers."

It's true. The opportunities you'll have as a Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate are far from ordinary. Just ask Lieutenant Charles Collier, from Baltimore, Maryland. Chuck's a nuclear trained Naval Officer and his next assignment will be in a nuclear powered Polaris submarine. Destination: the world.

If you think you have what it takes to become a NUPOC, we'd like to talk to you.

The graduate level training you'll receive in our NUPOC program will prepare you for supervising the operation of our nuclear propulsion plants on either surface ships or submarines. NUPOC: it means Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate. But it spells opportunity.

The opportunity is for real... and so are we. NAVY.

Congratulates OCSEA for win

To the Editor of The Jambar:
I would like to publically congratulate Mr. Merle Linsengbiger and the members and staff of the OCSEA for their victory in the election for one bargaining agent at YSU.

Those employees that took time to vote in the election should be commended for their concern. I would only hope that those employees that voted for CWA and SEIU will now unite behind the winner in order to present a united front in their attempts to secure a contract.

I must admit that I was not pleased with the outcome, but that the fight is over and at this point the real struggle begins.

In order for any organization to provide any meaningful results they must have the support of the entire group. The 149 that did not vote for OCSEA should realize this fact and put aside any personal feelings against OCSEA that they might have. I know from experience that this is the only way that you can successfully deal with management.

Once again good luck and I hope that your efforts will be successful.

Wants Jambar to stop wasting time

To the Editor of The Jambar:

I wish The Jambar would stop wasting its time and my money on worthless attempts at rational discussion on the stadium pseudo-issue. The Jambar does deserve credit for uncovering the only argument that the administration's PR organization has to offer: i.e., some vague mumbo-jumbo about "it's good for the community."

The Jambar ought to continue reporting developments on the stadium, but with more powerful, and probably more pertinent, ammunition. Let me suggest a few questions: Has a system of kickbacks and rake-offs been organized yet?

Will union leaders and contractors also be supplementing their incomes at the stadium pork barrel? Will Thomas J. Lyden, Edward J.

DeBartolo Jr. and Fred C. Shurtz Jr., all members of the University Board of Trustees, determine who will get the contracts? And finally, when does the senior DeBartolo plan on turning YSU into a summer training camp for football players and "real estate technologists."

The Jambar contains letters every issue from students and instructors highlighting University problems that, if resolved, might suggest that the Administration has the necessary innovative spirit and initiative to make YSU something more than a degree-granting vocational school. Some of the issues are: a day-care center, the freeze on library purchases, lack of depth in graduate and some of our undergraduate programs, parking facilities, student housing, preservation and stabilization of the surrounding neighborhoods

(e.g.) the Arlington Avenue and Wick Avenue Historical Districts) and others. Of course, none of these issues, except parking facilities, generates enough financial interest for those big playful fellows on the Board of Trustees. None of their friends want to be baby-sitters.

The fact that YSU avoided the brunt of the 1960's activism doesn't give the Board of Trustees the liberty of hauling away a few million dollars of our money. Maybe some of the "trashing" and "liberating" of the last decade would have been character-building for an Administration intent on financing a pet project with public money.

On Attitude

John Adams had the reputation for becoming furious with the second Continental Congress for never resolving anything. Student Council should try and dissolve itself and that would resolve everything.

Council members who represent students on campus should respect that honor and conduct themselves accordingly, since Council meetings are forums where intelligent legislative proceedings take place (everywhere except YSU, that is). Immature behavior, snide remarks and intermittent chaos characterize YSU Council meetings. If elected members do not understand their duty and cannot regard it with the respect the position deserves, their resignation would improve Council. Student Council members are often the very students that faculty and administration look to when they choose a representative body of students to work with. Does the behavior of this Council reflect the attitude of their electors? Can this Council be permitted to represent the more mature students of YSU?

On Maneuvers

Last week Governor Rhodes did a tricky piece of political maneuvering. In placing his multi-million dollar capital improvements proposal before the General Assembly, he will become "good" in the eyes of the Ohio taxpayer while no matter what the General Assembly does they will look a little bit worse. If the General Assembly votes not to fund Rhodes' proposal, then they will seem like they are against improving educational facilities in Ohio, since $293 million dollars of his proposal are earmarked for educational facilities.

If the General Assembly okays the proposal, then they will have to find someplace to get the money since the funds will be retired with users fees, something we won't receive from most of the facilities to be funded for YSU. The General Assembly is in a precarious position—damned if they do and damned if they don't. Governor Rhodes has never been a very big proponent of education (witness Ohio's high tuition and fees for colleges and universities, in the top ten in the United States). This proposal is only his attempt at embarrassing the General Assembly into taking action on something which is bound to hurt them and us one way or another.

were cut $20,000, when in fact they were given more money than they were previously given.

President Coffelt at the April 23 YSU trustees meeting stated that Bill 191 would reduce funds by $43 million instead of the previously believed $30 million. Reports stating that appropriations will be cut may also be used as scare tactics to raise tuition, agreed Tablack. Since university officials cannot raise taxes, they must rely on increased tuition for added revenue.

Commenting on Senate Bill 94, which gives further aid to out of state students, Tablack stated that the bill treats Pennsylvania residents the same as Ohio residents eliminating the non-resident surcharge fee. There is a similar bill in Pennsylvania which would affect Ohio residents.

by Rosanne Cellitti

As the Creative Arts Festival continues the typical, time-paced college student interrupts his busy schedule to stop and smell the flowers. Were the flowers you smelled the ones which decorated the tables in the Hoagie Stop rather than outdoors because of the cold temperatures?

Yes, the Outdoor Cafe, held from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. yesterday, was moved into the Hoagie Stop. Students gathered at lunch time, to enjoy the Cafe de Flore's menu which consisted of tacos and tamales. Today barbecued chicken and spareribs will be served. Other foods including German sausage, sauerkraut, shish-ke-bob, pizza and pasta will be served throughout the week. The cafe was originally to be located in the Kilcawley outdoor amphitheater. Walther's English Square Florist is scheduled to sell hanging plants, dried flower arrangements and fresh flowers in the amphitheater along with the cafe.

Located in Kilcawley's Arcade area yesterday were displays by the international students. The Organization of Arab Students sponsored an exhibit of goods made by members of the Palestine Martyrs Work Society in Lebanon.

Khalil Akari of the Organization said that all of the goods were hand-made by the people of Lebanon and the profits will go to the Arab Student's Funds to be used to aid Arab students with education, hospital and living expenses.

Another organization represented in the arcade was the Iranian Student Association (ISA). The main objective of the display, as told by one ISA member, was to inform the public about the culture and oppressed situation of the Iranian people under Shah's rule. A great deal of literature was available to explain the Iranian way of living. Profits from the sale of Iranian goods will benefit the ISA organization at YSU. They will use the proceeds to pay for brochures and the cost of holding demonstrations for the Iranian cause.

The Lebanese culture was also depicted by the Lebanese Student Organization. Their presentation of Lebanese life consisted of posters, clothing, literature, slides and music.

The Afro-American Chorale gave a performance in the multipurpose room at noon. The group, directed by Dr. Adolphus C. Hailstork, sang a variety of songs written by black composers. The three-part performance was highlighted by popular selections from the Wiz including, "Everybody Rejoice," "If You Believe," and "Ease On Down The Road."

Those students who planned to view the scheduled keyboard instrument demonstration following the chorale entertainment yesterday afternoon were greeted with locked doors. The American Guild of Organists Presentation was cancelled.

And so goes the two-week festival of creative arts. Today marks the fourth day of the continuous events aimed at getting students out of the Pub and into some culture. It's time to put down your beers and get into "Expressions '77."

CRAZY ABOUT THE SUN?

Me, too. And I don't intend to miss a single day on the beach. That's my number one reason for choosing Tampax tampons when I'm having my menstrual period. They're worn internally. So there's nothing to get in your way. And nothing to show or feel bulky. Even in a bikini. Sun...fun...and Tampax tampons. A combination that really works.

Penguins continue winning ways; Dave Dravecky throws no-hitter

by Allen Rock

YSU kept their baseball machine well oiled during the past week as they added five more victories to their credit, while running their ledger to 20-2. Three teams fell prey to the Rosselli nine. Last Tuesday YSU swept a doubleheader from Clarion State by 2-1 and 7-3. On Friday the Penguins shut out host Pitt-Johnstown 2-0 and then took a twin bill from rival Akron on Saturday by 1-0 and 7-5.

The name that stands out after the five games is junior southpaw Dave Dravecky. Dravecky picked up two impressive pitching victories during the streak.

Dravecky highlighted his performances on Saturday. In the opener of a double header with rival Akron University, Dravecky took the mound for Coach Dom Rosselli's Club, and answered the call by throwing a no-hitter. Dravecky, considered an excellent pro-prospect, tossed his third no-hitter of his collegiate career. Dave had a no-hitter against Gannon during his freshman campaign and repeated the feat his sophomore season when he defeated Thiel College.

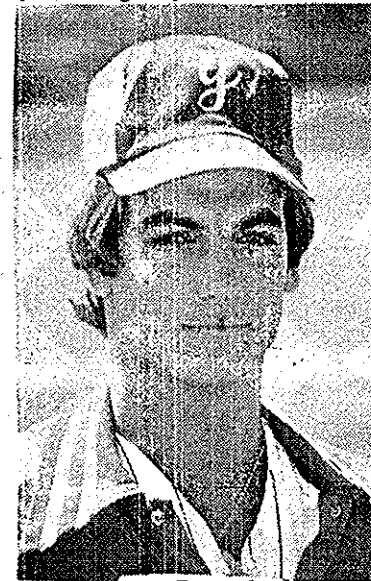

Dravecky's victory was his second shutout of the year and his sixth straight complete game. Dravecky leads the staff with five victories, against a single loss.

The performance by Dravecky kept his mastery over Akron intact. Last season Dave defeated the Zips twice, both outings were one-hitters.

The only run of the game was produced in the third inning.

Dave Delbene lead off the inning with a walk and was sacrificed to second by Rick Philbin. One out later, centerfielder Bob Choppa delivered a two-out, run scoring single to provide the margin of victory.

In the nightcap with Akron, sophomore Bill Sattler got back on the winning track. Bill defeated the Zips 7-5, and in the process recorded fourteen strikeouts while permitting only five hits.

Dave Dravecky

YSU did the bulk of their scoring in the second inning. The Penguins sent eleven men to the plate, while scoring six runs on four singles and three walks. YSU tallied their final run in the fourth on a one out double by freshman Bill Hardy and a two out single by McClure.

Akron got on the scoreboard in the fourth when they scored once, they added another run in the fifth and three more in the sixth.

Last Tuesday the Penguin parade got rolling at the expense of Clarion State. In the first half of the twin bill, Dave Dravecky started his successful week with a 2-1 decision over Clarion in extra innings. Dravecky showed great stamina as he pitched the entire nine innings. He struck out eight batters while yielding only one run.

Clarion took the lead in the first inning. The one and two batters were retired easily, but with two outs, Clarion got two singles and a stolen base to take the lead 1-0.

YSU tied the game in the fourth on a lead-off double by Mike Zaluski and a single by freshman Dino Balkan. The contest remained deadlocked at 1-1 until the ninth. Fred Dellarco delivered a pinch hit single to start the rally. Bill Hardy ran for Dellarco and promptly stole second base, and scored the winning run from there on an error by the shortstop.

In the nightcap, freshman Joe Sekora improved his record to 3-0 by defeating Clarion 7-3. Sekora, bothered by a bad back, allowed seven hits while striking out six.

YSU once again made use of the big inning. In the fourth frame, the Penguins scored all seven of their runs as they sent ten men to the plate. The big sticks for YSU were senior Mike Zaluski and sophomore Fred Dellarco. Zaluski ripped a two run homer to make the score 5-0, then after a two out single by Wayne Zetts, Dellarco blasted one out of the park to end the scoring. The home runs by Dellarco and Zaluski were their first round trippers of the campaign.

Clarion scored their first run in the sixth and added two more in the seventh.

On Friday, YSU traveled to Pennsylvania to take on Pitt-Johnstown in a doubleheader.

In the first game, Tom Ciccolleli pitched a three hit, 2-0 shut out for his fourth victory of the season. Ciccolleli has yet to suffer a defeat.

YSU drew first blood in the third. Zuzik started the inning with a double and later scored on a two-out triple by Zaluski. The Penguins added an insurance run in the seventh. Ron Kohl and Bob Choppa lead off with singles. Both were advanced on a sacrifice bunt by Andy Saxon. Kohl then scored the final run from third on a sacrifice fly by Zuzik.

The second game of the twin bill was stopped after two innings due to rain. The Penguins were leading at that point 2-0.

PENGUIN NOTES: YSU's pitchers continued to pace Coach Dom Rosselli's ball club. The Penguin pitchers have allowed only seventy eight hits in one hundred sixty innings of pitching. Their combined earned run average is 1.07. The staff is led by the big three. Juniors Dave Dravecky and Tom Ciccolleli, and sophomore Bill Sattler. Dravecky leads the mound crew in victories with five, an is tops in strikeouts, fanning fifty-seven in forty-four innings of pitching. Sattler and Ciccolleli are tied for second in victories with four each. Sattler also ranks second in strikeouts, with fifty-five.

The staff has registered six shutouts this year. Dravecky and Ciccolleli have two each, while Dave Smercansky and Sattler have one apiece.

Golf

YSU golfers, under veteran coach Bill Carson, finished in third place in the Indiana Invitational tourney which was held this past week. The Penguins carded at a team total of 556 strokes, only 36 behind the winner Indiana, who tallied a 520. Penn State captured second place honors.

The Penguin's Rick Banish fired a round of 71 to trail only Mike Schneider of Wooster for medalist honors. Other low individual scores for YSU included: Jim Leetch-78, Mike O'Putoch-84, Mike Kowalzyk-75, Dan Dean-84, Tony Rozzano-81 and Mark Merriman-83.

Mental illness

they look towards graduation and see a bleak, empty job market.

This year, over 250 students will take their own lives and another 750 will try to. Suicide is currently the biggest campus killer next to accidental death. The National Center for Health Statistics reports that the suicide rate for people aged 20 to 24 leaped from 8.9 per 100,000 persons in 1965 to 15.1 per 100,000 in 1974. For the 25 to 29 age bracket, the rate jumped from 11.3 per 100,000 to 15.9.

Again, the reasons, according to campus shrinks, are shot-down dreams. "College is a ruthless gardener," comments a UCLA social worker. "When a student realizes that his dreams may not bear fruit, that he can't be a great writer, lawyer, doctor or accomplish great social change, then there is a sudden sense of failure, stressful fear of disappointing one's parents."

Scholarship

The $200 James W. DeGarno scholarship applications, offered to Criminal Justice majors, are due today in the Criminal Justice Department, CAST room 2087.

Crafts fair

A crafts fair, featuring over 40 exhibitors, will be held on YSU's campus May 10 thru 13 as part of YSU's Creative Arts Festival.

Sponsored by YSU's Kilcawley Center, the fair showcases exhibitors from northeastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The fair will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. outside in the campus core area and will be moved to the old library if it rains. Included will be handmade items, jewelry, copper enameling, textile arts, needlecraft, leathercraft and quilted patchwork. Some items will be for sale.
