Dr. Howard W. Jones

Dr. Jones Remains as Special Consultant

Dr. A. L. Pugsley, administrative vice-president of Kansas State University, has been named president of Youngstown University effective the fall of 1966, Dr. Howard Jones, president, announced this week.

Dr. Jones, who has announced his retirement, will remain in the role of consultant for an indefinite time at the request of Dr. Pugsley.

In accepting the presidency, Dr. Pugsley said, "I am deeply honored to be invited to the Presidency of the Youngstown University. The high regard with which President Jones is held in educational circles, the good reputation of the university, the dedication of the faculty to providing quality teaching on a personalized basis, the highly-motivated student body, and the great pride and strong support from the citizens of Youngstown for the university are treasures the equal of which is matched by only a few institutions. The challenge of sharing in the further growth and fulfillment of an institution with these qualities was simply irresistible, and both Mrs. Pugsley and I are looking forward eagerly to being with you."

Dr. Pugsley joined the Kansas State faculty in 1943 as professor of structural engineering and assistant director of the Engineering Experiment Station. He was named dean of administration in 1946 by Milton Eisenhower, president until 1950. His title was changed in 1951 to dean of academic administration by President James A. McCain. He was named administrative vice president in 1963.

Dr. Pugsley has been active in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for many years, having served as a consultant or official examiner for more than 40 colleges and universities.

At the 1963 annual meeting of the North Central Association he was elected "at large" for a five-year term to both the Commission on Colleges and Universities and the Executive Board of that Commission. He was elected vice-chairman of the commission in 1964 and chairman in 1966. He has served as consultant to a wide variety of institutions, church-related colleges and junior colleges.

In 1959 Dr. Pugsley was the state coordinator of the Kansas comprehensive statewide survey of higher education made at the request of the State Legislature. He has served for three years as a consultant to the Regents for Higher Education in Oklahoma in the development of a plan resulting in a $36 million bond issue which passed last fall to provide a program of physical plant expansion for the 18 public institutions of Oklahoma, and assisted the Academy for Educational Development Inc. of New York in its study of the academic structure and quality of the branches operated by public institutions in Ohio.

A 1930 civil engineering graduate of South Dakota State College, Dr. Pugsley obtained his master of architecture degree from Harvard University in 1934 following which he was awarded the University Sheldon Traveling Fellowship for a year of study abroad. He is a registered engineer and licensed professional architect.

Dr. Pugsley taught as a member of the architectural faculty at the University of Nebraska for six years, and also engaged in both private architectural practice and engineering consulting during that time. Just prior to joining the Kansas State staff he was assistant director of the National Engineering Science and Management War Training Program in the Office of Education, Washington, D.C.

Dr. Pugsley has an honorary doctor of science degree from South Dakota State and an honorary doctor of laws degree from Kansas Wesleyan University. He is a member of the executive board of the Kansas Wesleyan Board of Trustees.

He has been active in Rotary and was president of the Manhattan Club in 1963-64.

Dr. Jones came to Youngstown University, then Youngstown College, in July 1931 from Hiram College where he was assistant to the president. Since that time the University has gained steadily in academic recognition and numerous gifts of money, valuable equipment, property and buildings have been acquired. A million-dollar library building and the adjoining Tod Hall were dedicated in 1953, a new science building was completed by the fall of 1959, the $1,500,000 Kilcawley Student Center was dedicated this past month, a new science unit, the Ward Beecher Science Hall, costing $1,750,000 is under construction and the $5,000,000 science and engineering building to be owned by the government and leased to the university for a 50-year period with option to renew the lease, is under construction.

Penny Price Is Crowned Spring Weekend Queen

Blonde haired, brown-eyed Penny Price became the third Spring Weekend Queen as she was crowned at last Friday's dance at Spring Weekend in the Idora Ballroom.

Penny is a junior majoring in art education. She was a majorette in 1964, has been on the dean's list, is sweetheart of Theta Chi social fraternity and a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Penny

Penny was crowned by Lorraine Santangelo, last year's queen, and escorted around the ballroom by a procession of men clad in Arabian attire. Following the procession, she was escorted to a beautiful gold colored car-van, made by members of Newman organization, this year's chairman.

Idora Ballroom was decorated with beautiful Arabian scenery with a spouting fountain in the center of the room. In front was an exotic caravan and to the rear, Arabian mosques. Fancy Arabian slippers were given as favors to all girls present. Teddy Armond and his orchestra provided the music.

Saturday's activities included a rain marred festival at the university where skits and booths were presented by rain-soaked organizations despite the weather. The weight-lifting contest proceeded as scheduled.

Maggi McKissick, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Barbara Chura, Alpha Omicron Pi, filled the first and second runner-up positions, respectively in the Spring Weekend Court. Don Rex and John Choppa represented Newman as chairmen.

Student Council to Sponsor Blood Drive

Last Friday Council approved Joe Audio's proposal to allocate enough money to buy two gigantic trophies to present to the male and female organizations which donate the largest quantity of blood during the first blood drive ever held on campus.

On Tuesday, May 17, Student Council will present campus organizations with an opportunity to support a most worthwhile activity and at the same time compete for another award to add to their list of achievements during the past year.

The importance of these trophies lie in the fact that support of this endeavor will not only benefit the organizations winning the awards, but that such support will benefit the nation as a whole when the blood is used in Viet Nam.

The drive will present campus organizations with an opportunity to create a unified front in support of a worthwhile project. Active support of this drive by our campus leaders will give YU's school spirit a chance to shine as never before. Since students can donate in the name of any campus organization, independents will have an opportunity to support their favorite campus group.

All in all, the response which is given to this most sincere project will answer many questions which have perplexed many people for years. Mainly, is the YU student the most apathetic person on earth? The Staff of this paper doesn't think so! Neither does our student Council! But will we change our minds after May 17? Will the blood drive be successful, or will it die for lack of support? The answer depends upon no one but YOU!

APO Honors Rev. Linder

The Rev. Albert L. Linder, retired chaplain at Youngstown University, was honored at a dinner dance held by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, last week at the Old Oak Room in Sharon, Pa. Rev. Linder retired from the university on April 1.

Charles Terrill, president of the active group, presented the Rev. Mr. Linder with a scroll, on behalf of the members, which expressed their appreciation for the fine service he has given during his 18 years at the university.

Robert Ling, president of the spring pledge class, presented the Rev. Mr. Linder with a dedication book on behalf of the pledge class, which was named in honor of him.

Music for dancing was provided by the Harry Ricco Quartet following the ceremonies. Lewis Rosenberger was chairman of the dinner dance and was assisted by Dale Auman and Thomas Barnes.

Inscribed on the scroll was the following: "The Brothers of Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity of Youngstown University extend their most sincere thanks and appreciation for the outstanding leadership and guidance the Reverend Albert L. Linder has bestowed during his 18 years of dedicated service to both the fraternity and the university."

"As an advisor of this chapter, he has always been present with wise counsel. We extend our best wishes for a healthful and successful future."

Advisors to Alpha Phi Omega are: Dr. Paul Beckman, of the psychology faculty; Harold Crites, assistant professor of speech and dramatics and of social sciences; Dr. Taghi Kermani, of the economics faculty; Frederick Blue, assistant professor of history; Dean John P. Gillespie, dean of men; Warren Young, assistant professor of astronomy; and James Jickess of the Boy Scouts of America.

Keep Walking

What ever his reason was, an adult college student of Youngstown University who is supposedly mature, respectful, and well-balanced would not have walked out of the Four Freshmen Concert during Spring Weekend. True some excuses for leaving may have been valid, but some adults and students alike felt that it was a bad move on the part of those leaving to leave en-masse.

Comments from these people generally expressed the feeling that the YU students are just a group of "carry-over" high school students with no concern for their school, with bad manners, uncultured taste, and attitudes which are representative of teenagers.

Normal college students looking toward adulthood should appreciate an opportunity to attain a well-balanced exposure to all facets of life. Even if in the case the student cannot stand the Four Freshmen, there is no mature reason why he should have to leave.

If you were one of the "walk-outs," ask yourself if what you did was really right. If after considering this question in the light of the above mentioned comments, you are content that such action was excusable you are perhaps agreeing with those who say that YU is a "high school carry over" institution. Do you want it that way?

Good Show

The crowning of Penny Price as the 1966 Spring Weekend Queen highlighted a spectacular weekend as Newman of Youngstown presented one of the most beautiful and well organized chairmanships ever presented to the YU campus.

It was noted last month that Newman's program was excellent and that Council made the right decision awarding the group chairmanship. The group did all it could to make the program a success despite the rainy weather.

Both Don Rex and John Choppa deserve a lot of credit as well as the entire Newman organization.

Friday night's dance at Idora saw probably the most extensive and beautiful of all decorations. The Queen's procession was delightful with the native Arabian dress, and the jeweled Queen's caravan was a work of art.

Penny Price, this year's Queen, added class to the program with her wonderful personality and beautiful looks. Her comments to the audience at Saturday's concert were sincere and thankful as she expressed her gratitude to all present for helping her win. Maggi McKissick and Barbara Chura rounded off what could very well be the best looking court in the history of YU. All the girls were quite beautiful and any of them could have easily been Queen.

Howard Johnston and the discipline committee of Student Council also deserve credit for a job well done in enforcing the voting regulations. There was quite an improvement over the Homecoming fiasco and all moved smoothly this past election.

Congratulations are also in order to the weight lifting champions, ISO for their wining skit, Sig Tau for their caravan and Circle K for their booth winners. All the groups that went out this weekend deserve credit for a job well done. It really was an indication of YU spirit as students enjoyed themselves despite stormy weather and constant showers.

Letter to the Editor

Editor:

Two weeks ago an editorial in the Jambar said criticism was welcome. I'm writing this letter to ask why a news item of interest to at least one-fourth of the student body was not published? The article was written to publicize the last monthly meeting of the SNEA to be held May 5, at which Dr. Wanamaker was to preside as moderator and the annual student teacher's tea honoring critic teachers which is to be held May 6. It was submitted by myself personally, to the Jambar office at 4:20 p.m. on Monday, April 25.

If I may make a suggestion, instead of showing the best methods for necking (?) on campus, I think one page of the Jambar could be devoted to publicizing coming events for all organizations on a week-to-week basis. The entire student body would benefit.

Rusk Reveals U.S. Has Had 129 Talks with Chinese Reds

ABC Television News

The Communist Chinese should be drawn into major questions such as peace in Southeast Asia and disarmament, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in an exclusive interview broadcast last Wednesday, April 27 on the ABC Television Network.

Many efforts have been made to bring the Chinese into those discussions Rusk said, "but their own attitude has made it very difficult to get them into a position of real discussion with those with whom they bitterly disagree."

In an interview with ABC News State Department Correspondent John Scali on a special one-hour color documentary, "Red China: Year of the Gun?" (broadcast this Wednesday from 10-11 p.m., EDT) Rusk said the United States has been "in closer touch with them, I suppose than almost any government that has diplomatic relations with them, with the exception possibly of Moscow." He added that the United States had been engaged in conversations with the Communist Chinese for more than 10 years and had had its 129th bilateral talk with them—talks that occurred in Geneva and Warsaw.

The Secretary of State commented, "I think it's only on the basis of an ideological bias that they would have any idea that we have an interest in attacking mainland China. There have been many occasions when we might have done so had that been our desire. The Korean War was such an occasion, the offshore islands crisis was another one. Southeast Asia is another one."

"The United States is not interested in war with mainland China," Secretary Rusk continued, "we're not interested in expanding these operations in Southeast Asia; the escalation of that war was the responsibility

ROTC Receives Annual Awards

The Army ROTC Cadet Corps received its annual formal inspection Tuesday by a board representing Headquarters, First U.S. Army, Ft. Meade, Md.

Colonel Cecil Helena, professor of military science at Ohio University, was president of the inspection board. The program included a parade by the Cadet Corps and review by President Howard W. Jones and the University deans.

Awards were presented for outstanding achievement in the ROTC program. The Professor of Military Science Trophy was presented to Gerald M. Torba by Col. Wales, PMS, for being the outstanding cadet from the university at the 1965 ROTC Summer Camp.

The Department of the Army Superior Award for the outstanding cadet in each year of the ROTC program was presented to Robert J. Gartland in MS I; Robert L. Paraska in MS II; John W. Norris in MS III; and Fred W. Conner in MS IV.

The Association of the United States Army Award was presented to the outstanding junior, John W. Norris. The Lt. Col. Eugene Lash Award was presented to Donald J. Wolf the senior cadet who was outstanding in military subjects.

Other awards included the Sons of the American Revolution medals awarded to James A. Blubaugh, a sophomore, and James J. Bentfeld, a senior, for outstanding academic records, leadership, and desirable traits of character. The Reserve Officer's Association for Ladies Trophy was won by Theodore T. Ter-lesky, senior, for scholastic achievement in military science.

of Hanoi encouraged and backed by Peiping. One does hear out of Peiping itself a discussion of the inevitability of war and they have on occasion said that they would hope that the revisionists—meaning the Soviets—would not take such a gloomy view of war. Well, I think most of the world takes a pretty gloomy view of war and ought to."

Acknowledging that there was some prospect the Chinese would moderate their policies over a period of time, Rusk said he does not think it is a matter that depends upon U.S. military action.

"I do believe there is, in fact, a prudence in Peiping," he said, "and I do believe their leaders are rational. I don't expect completely irrational action from them. I think it is possible that they may under-estimate our determination, that they may make some miscalculation on the assumption that somehow we would not follow through to the end of the day, but I think little by little they must be getting the impression that we are serious in South-east Asia, and that there can be peace just as soon as the infiltration of men and arms from the north stops."

Prexy

"The evil that men do lives after them." Thus wrote Shakespeare about a man who lived long ago and far away. Yet if we were to borrow that line of poetry and apply it to our own situation—right here at Youngstown University—we would have to take issue with Shakespeare and say "The good that men do lives after them."

This week Dr. Howard W. Jones, or "Prexy" has announced his retirement effective this fall.

For 35 years the names Youngstown University and Howard W. Jones have been synonymous. Frequently this university has been referred to as the Howard Jones University. This is indeed a tribute, as Dr. Jones has guided this institution from its beginnings as a small YMCA college to the present expansion program. His administrative abilities made this personal monument possible.

Under his guidance many students of this community have benefitted from his educational philosophy. He has consistently pursued a policy of presenting maximum educational opportunity to young people.

Students who have had personal contact with Dr. Jones know that his personality and dynamic character are the hallmarks of an unusual man. The stature that YU has achieved is in large measure the reflection of that character and personality.

Between now and next fall when Dr. Pugsley becomes president much will be said and done. We of the Jambar, editors and staff, are proud to be among the thousands who will fondly recall that they attended Youngstown College or Youngstown University when Howard W. Jones was president.

Grimmett Named YMCA "Athlete of the Year"

George Grimmett has been selected as the YMCA athlete of the year at the second annual banquet of champions at the downtown YMCA on Champion Street.

Grimmett is a senior in economics and is a member of Student Council here at the university. He became interested in judo and karat in Japan while studying at Sophia University and now holds the distinction of holding a second degree black belt.

In Japan, Grimmett studied at the Kodokan Judo Institute and also the Naganuma Japanese language school. In Mexico last summer he defeated the Mexican national champion and he has captured numerous district and regional titles, including the 1965 divisional regional AAU crown.

Grimmett also placed well in the national competition in the West Coast and finished fourth place in the 205 pound class in the National AAU Judo Championship staged at Asbury Park, New Jersey.

The Ohio Reserve Officers' Association Awards were presented to three cadets: Gerald M. Torba, MS IV; John W. Norris, MS III; and Michael D. Lucas, MS II. Thomas E. Reed was the recipient of the Scabbard and Blade Trophy presented to the MS II cadet for his excellence and officer potential.

Newman Dinner Dance Tomorrow

Newman of Youngstown will present their first annual Newman Dinner Dance this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. in the Red Room of the Mahoning Country Club.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Bishop James W. Malone, apostolic administrator of the Diocese of Youngstown. Bishop Malone will speak on "Newman Involvement on the University Campus."

The banquet will feature the installation of the newly elected Newman officers and awards will be presented to outstanding Newmans.

Special acknowledgement will be made to Father Anthony Esposito, chaplain and advisor to Newman who was recently elected to fill the position as chaplain of the Ohio Valley Province of Newman.

Acknowledgement will also be given to Jim Hagan, who was recently elected executive vice president of the Ohio Valley Newman Province also.

The banquet is open to all students of the university and Joe Fedorchak and his orchestra will play dinner music for dancing. Admission is $2.00 per person.

U.S. Graduate Grants Are Available to YU Students

The Institute of International Education has announced that competition for the 1967-1968 United States Government graduate grants for academic study or research abroad and for professional training in the creative and performing arts, has opened.

IIE conducts competitions for U.S. Government scholarships provided by the Fulbright-Hays Act as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the U.S. Department of State.

Under the program, more than 850 American graduate students will have opportunity to study in any one of 53 countries. The purpose being to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and other countries through the exchange of knowledge and skills.

Anyone interested in applying for an award must be a U.S. citizen at the time of application, must have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning of the date of the grant and, in most cases be proficient in the language of the country.

Selections will be made on the basis of academic and or professional record, the feasibility of the applicant's proposed study plan and personal qualifications. Preference is given to candidates who have not had prior opportunity for extended study or residence abroad and who are under the age of 35.

Creative and performing artists will not be required to have a bachelor's degree but they must have four years of professional study or equivalent experience. Applicants in social work must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree.

Application forms and information for students currently enrolled in Youngstown University may be obtained in the university from Mr. Ward L. Miner, YU Fulbright advisor and the deadline for filing applications through Mr. Miner will be November 1, 1966.

Honors and Awards Day Held at Dana

Youngstown University held its seventh annual Honors and Awards program last Tuesday, at the Dana Recital Hall of the university where 119 students received class honors and 25, university awards.

Prof. Karl W. Dykema, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University, delivered the address on the subject "Graduate School: An Obligation."

Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the university, welcomed guests and honor students. Dr. Sidney I. Roberts, assistant dean, spoke briefly on the purpose of honors day. Deans of the schools of the university, Professors Dykema, Robert L. Miller, Charles H. Aurand, Jr., Dr. Joseph F. Swartz, and Dr. M. Jean Charignon presented class honors, and Dr. Joseph E. Smith, dean of the university presented special awards.

Miss Susan Carmichael, a junior majoring in sacred music at the Dana School of Music of the university, played the professional and recreational numbers, "Voluntary in C Major," "Trumpet Tune," and "Bell Symphony," all by Henry Purcell.

The Rev. Anthony Esposito, Catholic chaplain of the university, gave the invocation and the Rev. Mark Campbell, Orthodox chaplain, the benediction.

YU Debators Return From Bowling Green

Gloria Dunnam and Donald Rickles, representing YU, participated with 12 other schools from 6 states in the first annual Oral Interpretation Festival at Bowling Green State University.

The event, sponsored by the Bowling Green speech department, was designed "to bring together students and instructors in oral interpretation so they may learn and be encouraged to excellence through discussion and performance," Dr. Lois A. Cheney, festival director, said.

Other schools participating were: University of Dayton, Denison U., Geneva College, Heidelberg College, Central Michigan U., Illinois Wesleyan U., Ohio Wesleyan U., Otterbein College, West Virginia U., and Wisconsin University.

In describing the festival, Mrs. Maryann Hartman, YU forensics coach, said "It was the finest group of interpretations I ever heard. We all learned a great deal and thoroughly enjoyed talking to Dr. Charlotte Lee."

Dr. Lee was the guest speaker. She is the authoress of several books on interpretation, many of which are used as texts in colleges and universities throughout the country. She judged the final round and gave a lecture on interpretation which concluded the festival.

Marketing Class Tours Packard

Approximately 70 students from the marketing and purchasing classes of Professor Ron Zetterquist attended a tour of the Packard Electric Co. in Warren last week.

The students were briefed on the history of Packard and were taken on a tour which explained Packard's products and means of purchasing and marketing.

The tour of the plant lasted approximately two and a half hours and was followed by a question and answer period by students and trainees of Packard.

Preceding the tour, the students were treated to coffee and donuts by the Packard firm and an additional question and answer period on the sales techniques of Packard and employment opportunities for the future followed.

Exclusive Representative Official Youngstown University Traditional Ring as Adopted by Student Council

The top of the ring consists of a Cardinal Red Stone . . . depicting the Flame of Inspiration. The many facets of the stone represents the many Fields of Study. Surrounding the Red Stone in raised, lettering is identified, Youngstown University. The four-tation stones of Education is depicted in the symbolism separating the two names. Surrounding the base of this name band is shown the Strength of Unity by the many entwined courses of study.

The opposite shank illustrates the Torch symbolizing the Light of Learning. The rays extending from the torch reflects this spread of learning throughout the Universe as depicted in the symbol of the Globe. Below this design and encompassing the World is the Might of the Quill in Writing and Literature. In the upper left and right hand corner is the University Founding Date. At the base of the design is again depicted the Chevron symbolizing Discipline.

The Latin "Animus Liberatus" in combination with the balance of the design is officially interpreted as Freedom of the Mind and Spirit through the Light of Learning . . . . .

YU Belts Mt. Union; Lose First to Duquesne

Youngstown University suffered its first setback of the season losing last Saturday to Duquesne University in a heart breaker 2-0 at Pittsburgh.

The loss brought the Penguins record to 7-1 as Youngstown was limited to only two hits by Jim Oldenburg, star Duke pitcher.

Oldenburg pitched seven innings of scoreless ball as he fanned 10 batters and limited YU to only two short hits.

Jim Birtalan, the 19-year-old twirler from Elwood City Pa. pitched excellent ball for the Penguins giving up only five hits while striking out six in seven innings for Youngstown.

Birtalan was relieved by Donald Rembold, of Oil City, Pa., and the YU fireballer held Duquesne scoreless in the eighth as he struck out two Dukes.

Oldenburg aided his own cause with a run scoring double in the sixth inning. Duquesne scored runs in the sixth and seventh innings for Duquesne. Bob Laylock and Birtalan connected on the only YU hits in the contests.

In the Mt. Union game, Don Leshnock hurled his third straight win as Jim Ferraro kept his hitting streak alive by belting a home run, a single and two doubles in the YU cause as the Penguins belted Mt. Union 13-2.

Leshnock held the Raiders to four hits and struck out eight for his third victory in as many games. Ferraro had four rbi's in the contest and Ron Myers went four for four at the plate for a perfect afternoon. Leshnock had three hits himself to win in his own cause and Bob Chamberlain homered in the 16-hit YU attack.

Zeta Beta Tau Institutes Community Service Week

The Zeta Beta Tau National Fraternity at Youngstown University, has instituted a Community Service Week into their program. This project, taking place the first week of May, is set up to help the Community of Youngstown.

Their first project will aid those of the Hearing and Speech Center. Here, the main task will be the repairing of all the screens.

Tuesday and Thursday will result in the washing of windows and a general clean-up session at the Heritage Manor.

Friday will be devoted to the Easter Seal Center where all the furniture will be re-varnished.

The main responsibility taken on by the brothers and pledges of Zeta Beta Tau, is the donating of blood to various needy organizations of the city.

The pledges who have devoted their time to these causes are: Lewis Bair, Daniel Burger, Allen Caplan, Thomas Costanzo, Howard Nolen, Sandy Tannenbauf, Bill Weimer, Michael Weinberger, Craig Wilson, Greg Yesionek, and Richard Zawitz.

The pledges were under the supervision of Stan Nudel and Bennett Lebowitz.

The advisor for the fraternity is Mr. Sylvan Einstein, a professor at Youngstown University.

Here are 7 knotty problems facing the Air Force: can you help us solve one?

- Repairs in space. If something goes wrong with a vehicle in orbit, how can it be fixed? Answers must be found, if large-scale space operations are to become a reality. For this and other assignments Air Force scientists and engineers will be called on to answer in the next few years, we need the best brains available.
- Lunar landing. The exact composition of the lunar surface, as well as structural and propulsion characteristics of the space vehicle, enter into this problem. Important study remains to be done—and, as an Air Force officer, you could be the one to do it!
- Life-support biology. The filling of metabolic needs over very extended periods of time in space is one of the most fascinating subjects that Air Force scientists are investigating. The results promise to have vital ramifications for our life on earth, as well as in outer space.
- Space orientation. The orbital problems of a spacecraft, including its ability to maneuver over selected points on the earth, are of vital importance to the military utilization of space. There are plenty of assignments for young Air Force physicists in this area.
- Synergetic plane changing. The ability of a spacecraft to change altitude can also be crucial to space operations. Where but in the Air Force could Sc.B.'s get the chance to work on such fascinating projects right at the start of their careers?
- Space propulsion. As our space flights cover greater and greater distances, propulsion—more than anything else—will become the limiting factor. New fuels and new propulsion techniques must be found, if we are to keep on exploring the mysteries of space. And it may well be an Air Force scientist on his first assignment who makes the big breakthrough!
- Pilot performance. Important tests must be made to determine how the pilots of manned aerospacecraft will react to long periods away from the earth. Of course not every new Air Force officer becomes involved in research and development right away. But where the most exciting advances are taking place, young Air Force scientists, administrators, pilots, and engineers are on the scene.

Feldman IFC President

Inter-Fraternity Council held their elections last Tuesday afternoon and four new officers were elected to lead IFC for the coming year.

Phil Feldman, a senior in pre-dentistry was elected to serve as president. Phil is a member of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity and was vice president this past year. He has been chairman of the Greek Sing, Greek Mixer, and IFC Ball and is vice president of the Jewish Student Fellowship on campus. Phil has also been on IFC for two years, and is Greek Editor of the Jambar.

Dave Guarabaldi, a junior in education was elected vice president of IFC. Dave is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and has been IFC Rush chairman and Greek Mixer chairman. He has been on IFC two years and was chosen as IFC Outstanding Delegate this past year.

Jerry Singer, a senior in advertising was elected as secretary. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and has served on IFC for two years. He is chairman of the IFC Banquet and is Jambar editor.

Joe Vukovitch, a senior in business, was elected treasurer of IFC. He is an accounting major and vice president of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Dana School Presents Musical

Students of the Dana School of Music of Youngstown University will present Puccini's comic opera, "Gianni Schicchi" May 6 and 7 at 8 p.m. in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium on the campus. The public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

Puccini's only comedy, the opera concerns a Florentine family of the year 1299, and their difficulties with the will of the recently departed rich member of the group, Buoso Donati. Discovering that all has been left to a group of monks, the family summons the clever local rogue, Gianni Schicchi, to help. Schicchi's solution is hilarious as he dictates a new will which leaves the bulk of the estate to himself.

Freshman Orientation

Applications for the Freshman Orientation chairmanship are available at the Student Council office. Applications must be returned to room 106 of Kilcauley by 12 o'clock on Friday, May 13.

Organizations

By ARLENE PADUCHIK and ROSIE ZIPPERIAN

The Dana Opera will give a performance at eight o'clock tonight in Strouss Auditorium. The International Students' Organization will meet from 8-12 in the International Institution, and all guests are invited to attend.

Congratulations are due the ISC students for winning first place in the Spring Weekend skit competition and to the brothers of Circle K for placing first in the booth competition. Circle K also chucked up several trophies at the Spring Weekend picnic on Sunday.

The Orthodox Christian Fellowship will sponsor a pizza sale this afternoon in the cafeteria, and on Sunday the Zetas will wash cars for fund-raising.

Prudence Krupp, current president of Gamma Sigma Sigma service sorority, returned from a trip to Edinboro State Teachers College where she spoke on service to the probationary colony of Gamma Sigs. She was best pledge of her pledge class and most outstanding girl of the year for Gamma Sig.

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity raised a record total of $36: for its annual Ugly Man on Campus contest Vic Rubenstein was UMOC this year as he raised $16: for JSF.

Alpha Delta Sigma will hold elections this week as will IFC.

Congratulations to Newman for doing such a fine job one Spring Weekend.

Remember, if your organization wants news in this column, please place it in the Jambar box: no later than 5 on Monday.

New Members Are Invited To OCF Masquerade

The Orthodox Christian Fellowship will sponsor a Masquerade party tomorrow night to try to get more students interested in joining the organization.

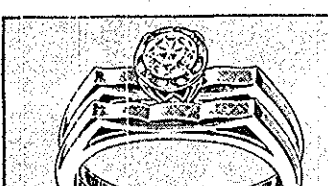

Admission to the party will be free and all university students interested in learning about or joining OCF are asked to attend.

The party will start at 8:30 p.m. at 141 Gertrude Ave., in Campbell, Ohio. Everyone in attendance is asked to get dressed in a costume to the atmosphere of the party.

Spotlight on Campus

CHUCK MORGAN

This week the Spotlight shines on Chuck Morgan, a graduating senior majoring in advertising and one of the leaders of the senior class and the school of business administration.

There hardly is a group that Chuck hasn't belonged to since he entered YU in 1963 and his campus accomplishments are enough to make any employer smile with satisfaction.

Chuck

Chuck is an active member of Newman of Youngstown and has served on every committee in Newman.

He currently is on the publicity committee of Newman and was the group's president last year.

Boisterous Chuck can be heard crying all over Kilcawley Hall about his pet project, Alpha Delta Sigma national advertising honorary.

Chuck was one of the charter members of ADS and was one of the basic reasons why the group has gotten off the ground and is one of the top ranked honoraries on campus.

Morgan is presently president of ADS and was influential in getting the group working on the Neon and working with several of the larger advertising agencies

His most recent project was acquiring the Avis Rent-A-Car account for the advertising fraternity. Chuck and the brothers design and layout all Avis ads and are salesmen for renting the cars here on campus. All of the students that rented cars over Spring Weekend can thank Chuck and the members of ADS for making it possible.

To add to his time Chuck has been on the Jambar and Neon staffs for the past year. Last semester he was one of the paper's feature editors and is currently on the editorial board of the paper. He has worked on copy and layout for the Neon.

A veteran, Chuck has served in the Navy and his active duty was spent on the U.S.S. Thetis Bay in the Western Pacific.

Chuck is also a member of Alpha Mu Honorary Advertising, Public Relations, and Merchandising fraternity and has headed many committees in the group. He is a member of the Faculty-Student Center Committee, International Students Organization, the Dean's List, and is an honorary member of the Jewish Student Fellowship.

Chuck received a Newman scholarship last year when he was Director of Public Relations in the Ohio Newman Valley province which covered four states in the district.

His working references include everything from selling clothes to working at a funeral home and from camp directing to carrying mail.

All in all, Chuck is a well "rounded" student and his interests are many and interesting. Right now he is preparing himself for graduation and getting ready to step into the business world and make a name for himself.

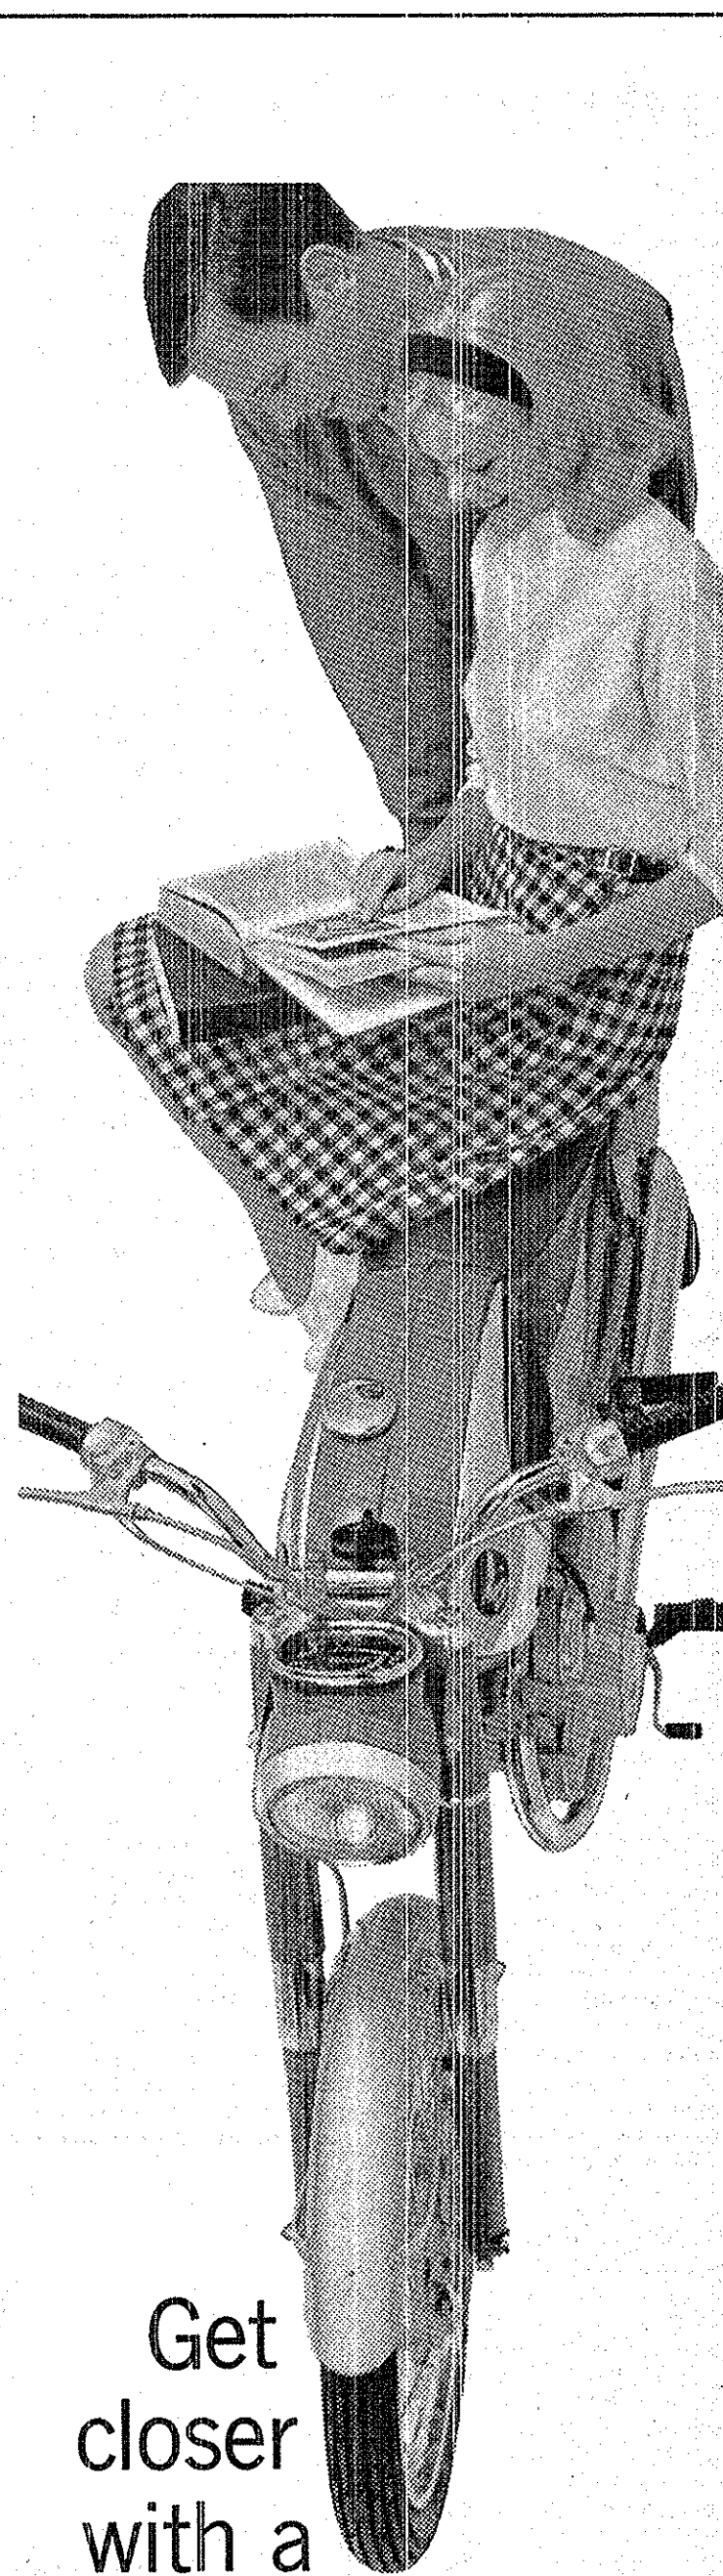

The second class petty officer made quite a name for himself here on the campus we're sure that he'll do the same upon graduation.

Take your good time going home.

Fly half-fare on Eastern via Florida.

Florida swings in the spring—but it really swings in the summer.

Lower off-season room rates are in effect. And Eastern will take you to Daytona or Ft. Lauderdale or even Miami for half-fare.

So take a detour and enjoy it on your way home. Or go home first and down to Florida later.

Just use your Eastern Youth ID card, or similar card from another airline. If you don't have such a card, it's a snap to get one—provided you're under 22 and can prove it. For the specifics, stop by a Travel Agent or any Eastern ticket office.

Once you have your card, you can get an Eastern Jet Coach seat for half-fare. You can't make an advance reservation. But if there's a seat available at departure time, you can fly to any Eastern destination within the continental U.S. including Florida.

AS WE SEE IT . . .

Meet Mr. Gizzard . . .

By DAN KUTSKO

Or, anyway, that's what all the kids in the neighborhood call him, because he shows them the magic and mystery of politics in everyday living. The scene opens in the laboratory of Mr. Gizzard in Menlo Park, New Jersey. Mr. Gizzard is writing at his desk as his boy-companion, Tommy, enters through the cellar door.

Tommy— Hiya, Mr. Gizzard. Wattaya gonna do today, huh?

Mr. Gizzard— Just this, Tom. Today we're going to investigate the politics of a Student Council election. First, if you will step over here, we can look at a few of the candidates and study the properties of their platforms.

Tommy— Oh, boy! Maybe then, I can run for student council too.

Mr. Gizzard— Right! Now look at this. This candidate, whose name is Zenobia Mae Emengarde, is running on the Liberal Arts ticket. She is rather liberal and we can see from her blood pressure chart that she is of a hypertense personality. This is a very important trait as it enables the candidate to fume and rant at Council meetings and turn that delectible beet color that is so stylish this spring.

Tommy— Well, you said something about platforms.

Mr. Gizzard— Yes. Miss Ermengarde's platform was made of solid oak with an antique finish of white ivory. From this edifying edifice, Miss Ermengarde proceeded to make promises concerning her ability to lead the governing body of the school, her ability to give every student his money's worth, and her ability to bring to the floor the most mediocre legislation ever conceived by any human being since the days of Dwight Eisenhower.

Tommy— Gee, Mr. Gizzard. That was swell. But what is there that I can do better myself and enable me to run for Student Council?

Mr. Gizzard— This next experiment will show us just such a problem. The candidate in question is one Mr. Argyle Soccs, who would really like to be a leader of the school but knows that his underworld affiliations would serve as a bar to these aspirations.

Tommy— So, why doesn't he just give up those affiliations?

Mr. Gizzard— That's just the point. He needs the backing of the underworld, so he can hardly give up the underworld. So, Tommy, what have I taught you about occurrences?

Tommy— Well, last week we studied wool. And we did an experiment showing how easy it is to pull the wool over other peoples' eyes. So, I imagine that he should do some wool pulling.

Mr. Gizzard— Right. And sources show that this is what happened. Mr. Soccs is playing what is known as "Trojan horse politics." It seems that he is going to donate his services to the school and leave his Cosa Nostra companions to their fate. But in the final analysis it seems that this arrangement will be only temporary and when he does get into high office, he will open the

ANNOUNCEMENT:

CHAPMAN COLLEGE, located in Orange, California, one of the oldest colleges in the West, is accepting applications for admission for two 107-day semesters for the fall of 1966 and the spring of 1967 aboard Holland-America Line's s.s. Ryndam. This is the second year of operation of Chapman College's floating campus.

Outstanding college and university students are invited to spend these semesters at sea, enrolled for 12-15 units of credit, applicable toward the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Music degrees, or 9-12 units toward the Master of Arts degree.

Onboard, students will experience a situation of intense academic concentration, supplemented by personal meetings ashore with men who are the world's leaders, monuments which are the world's heritage, and people whose apparent differences often prove to hide human similarities.

College classes will be held during 56 class days at sea in modern, air-conditioned classrooms and laboratories equipped with all facilities necessary for course work offered.

ITINERARIES: Fall 1966 Semester leaves New York October 20, duration 107 days; to Lisbon, Barcelona, Marseille, Civitavecchia (Rome), Piraeus (Athens), Istanbul, Alexandria (Cairo), Port Said, Suez, Bombay, Colombo, Port Swettenham (Kuala Lumpur), Bangkok, Hong Kong, Kobe, Yokohama (Tokyo), Hawaii, arriving Los Angeles February 4, 1967.

Spring 1967 Semester leaves Los Angeles February 7, duration 107 days; to La Guaira (Caracas), Port of Spain (Trinidad), Salvador, Montevideo, Buenos Aires, Rio De Janeiro, Lagos, Dakar, Casablanca, Cadiz, Lisbon, Rotterdam (inland to France, Belgium and the Netherlands), Copenhagen, London, Dublin (overland to), Galway, arriving New York City May 23, 1967.

ADMISSION: Students admitted to the program must meet regular admission qualifications of Chapman College and upon fulfilling its requirements will receive grades and credits in accordance with its regularly established standards.

For a catalog listing courses for both the Fall and Spring semesters along with rates, tuition and in-port program costs, fill in the information below and mail it to:
