CLASSES

The Senior Class

Graduation—with its color and ceremony brings to a close a rigorous and eventful chapter in our lives. Four golden years! In retrospect these four years, which brought so many trials, seem now only too fleeting. As the setting sun passes beyond the horizon to encounter new worlds, so do we take our departure from this institution with a feeling of both expectancy and regret.

The Junior Class

The Class of 1943—With an air of grandure and sophistication this class of worldly Juniors glow inwardly at the thought of having just one more year to go—one more year before they will be out in the world—each striving to attain his desired goal—Looking them over we feel sure that there will be few failures—if any.

They fill with pride at the mention of the names of men who once were classmates and who have left sometime during the year to join the ranks of Uncle Sam—For this class has lost quite a few brawny and brainy specimens—to the army—to the army camp—to the navy—Many were active in both football and basketball—but though our loss be great our country's gain is even greater.

Many lovely girls make up the Junior Class—at the Junior Prom—the biggest formal of the year—The Prom Queen was Josephine Bregar, lovely and poised—attended by four other lovely Junior girls—the Prom was one that will long be remembered—theme being Patriotism—Red, white and blue decorations—dancing to Gray Gordon's beautiful music—a date with your best girl—here and there a draped tux—full skirted formals—many sighs when 2 o'clock came—time to go—then at last the evening was over—A tight hand clasp at the door—Memories—Oh Yes.

The Sophomore Class

Class of 1944—We've reached the halfway mark—possessing that superior feeling at the thought of no longer being green—teaching our "little brothers" and "little sisters" the art of getting along"—about the most outstanding class in this school—all congenial—none snobbish.

Jeanne Belleville, a distinguished member of our class, ran away with highest honors as Home-coming Queen amidst the flurry of snow flakes—A great time afterwards at the dance at the Elms—Smooth floor—smooth dancing—jitterbugging a little more reserved than last year.

Yes, we've learned a lot in the past year—the secrets and inside stuff on Fraternities and Sororities—a few of our sharper girls captured Frat pins from upperclassmen—And some of our brawny men lost their hearts to freshmen lassies—especially after the Sadie Hawkins' Dance where the women did the aggressing and the men didn't care .

Then Spring swiftly grew to a close—with Formal Dinner Dances at the Mansion—Picnics at Mill Creek Park where we recalled the past. And last but not least, we attended the Commencement Exercises—Oh! the beauty of it all—Another year at college gone by—Much joy—some heartaches—but we wouldn't change it for anything—We've come this far up the ladder and we're not stopping 'till we reach the top.

The Freshman Class

The Class of 1945—Their first week at Yo-Co-never-to-be-forgotten filled with suspense—bewilderment and amazement—not knowing what subjects to take—or who the "easy" Profs were—upperclassmen showing off their power—Freshmen Reception—many dates that night with upperclassmen—shy-eyed Co-ed finds out later he has a "steady"—broken hearted until a new prospect comes along—Freshman Party and Court of Honor combined second semester—The Freshman Breakfast—baseball—dancing—leaves for Willie—Bag Rush with upperclassmen in afternoon—They won too—damn it!

Spring drawing to a close—it's been a long year—no spring vacation—many good laughs and a few tears for friends who left to serve their colors—God bless and keep them!

Capacity crowd—little to cheer about—YoCo held to a scoreless tie. YoCo had ball in the Covenanters' half for first three periods—unable to uncork a scoring punch. Game ended with YoCo deep in own territory. Weather—clear and a little warm for football—not much punch.

YoCo, coordinating a devastating aerial and ground attack—defeated Ohio U. 14-0, before 9000 cheering fans. Played in ideal football weather—victory was sweet revenge for a 13-0 trimming suffered in 1940. Two quick thrusts—Lanzi and Warden grabbing long passes—YoCo assured of victory after a first period safety had placed them in front 2-0.

Marching 77 yards for a touchdown in the dying minutes of their encounter—YoCo turned an almost certain defeat into well deserved victory—they defeated Morris-Harvey 12-7 in ankle-deep mud. YoCo gridders enjoyed their biggest touchdown feast of the year—scalping Oklahoma City U. 48-7—Pete Lanzi on the receiving end of the passing fireworks—locals had little trouble with the Indians after the first half. When the fireworks had subsided YoCo had scored 48 points to the Goldbugs' 7. During intermission—the fans witnessed a tribal war dance—performed by members of the Oklahoma City U. football team.

Being held in check for the first 3 periods—YoCo Penguins turned on the heat as the game neared the final stage—emerged with a 12-0 victory over a rugged Waynesburg team. It was the fifth straight triumph for YoCo—the victory was made possible by brilliant play on the part of Lanzi, Heber, and Perantoni. AKRON U.	0

Approximately 3500 hardy individuals sat through an incessant rain—watched YoCo defeat a rugged Tennessee Tech eleven—fought back bravely despite a series of bad breaks that went against them. Matsie Perantoni displayed an amazing brand of footwork—knifed his way over for the first score of the game after a 28 yard dash. Later in the game—Aiello plowed 55 yards through the muck with the skill of a fox—produced the final marker.

Offsetting its lack of manpower with speed, power, and deception—YoCo completed its first undefeated season by defeating Akron U. 19-0 before chilled spectators. The first YoCo marker scored by Bill Davidson—later in the game—Cy Warden accounted for the other two. YoCo men excelled—every department except punting—this victory was particularly pleasing for YoCo—“no freshmen” rule had taken 20 men from Dike Beede’s roster—it had left him only 17 men to work with. During intermission the Homecoming Queen was crowned—before the game was over President Jones was presented with Pete Penguin II, YoCo mascot.
