

FOR RELEASE: IMMEDIATE

Mailed November 17, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - Members of the Youngstown State University student body, faculty, staff and community will have a chance to lend a hand by giving blood from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 24, and Wednesday, Nov. 25 in Kilcawley Center's Chestnut Room.

The blood drive, sponsored by YSU's Program Activities Council and Student Government, encourages anyone between the ages of 17 and 65 to donate their blood to the American Red Cross. This blood will be given, without charge, to patients living in Trumbull and Mahoning counties.

###

NEWS SERVICE - EH

87-151

FOR RELEASE: IMMEDIATE

Mailed November 17, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - Members of the Youngstown State University student body, faculty, staff and community will have a chance to lend a hand by giving blood from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 24, and Wednesday, Nov. 25 in Kilcawley Center's Chestnut Room.

The blood drive, sponsored by YSU's Program Activities Council and Student Government, encourages anyone between the ages of 17 and 65 to donate their blood to the American Red Cross. This blood will be given, without charge, to patients living in Trumbull and Mahoning counties.

###

NEWS SERVICE - EH

87-151

FOR RELEASE: IMMEDIATE

Mailed November 17, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - A special program honoring the legendary musician-teacher Nadia Boulanger and a rebroadcast of the recent Carnegie Hall benefit for people with AIDS will be aired Nov. 26 and 27 by WYSU-FM (88.5), Youngstown State University's fine arts radio station.

The two-hour Boulanger centenary will start at 10 p.m. Nov. 26. It was performed by the Peabody Symphony Orchestra under conductor Gunther Schuller from Peabody Conservatory of Music, with which Boulanger was associated.

She taught hundreds of the 20th century's finest musicians and this concert includes works by five of her pupils: Harold Shapero, Robert Hall Lewis, Bernard Rogers, David Diamond and Walter Piston. It will also include compositions by her sister, Lili Boulanger.

The AIDS concert, hosted by Beverly Sills, will be aired at 8 p.m. Nov. 27. Many of today's greatest performing artists participated, including Luciano Pavarotti, Marilyn Horne, Yo Yo Ma, Leonard Bernstein and Leontyne Price. The orchestra was composed of musicians from leading New York City Orchestras.

###

NEWS SERVICE - SH

87-153

ld,h

FOR RELEASE: IMMEDIATE

Mailed November 17, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - A special program honoring the legendary musician-teacher Nadia Boulanger and a rebroadcast of the recent Carnegie Hall benefit for people with AIDS will be aired Nov. 26 and 27 by WYSU-FM (88.5), Youngstown State University's fine arts radio station.

The two-hour Boulanger centenary will start at 10 p.m. Nov. 26. It was performed by the Peabody Symphony Orchestra under conductor Gunther Schuller from Peabody Conservatory of Music, with which Boulanger was associated.

She taught hundreds of the 20th century's finest musicians and this concert includes works by five of her pupils: Harold Shapero, Robert Hall Lewis, Bernard Rogers, David Diamond and Walter Piston. It will also include compositions by her sister, Lili Boulanger.

The AIDS concert, hosted by Beverly Sills, will be aired at 8 p.m. Nov. 27. Many of today's greatest performing artists participated, including Luciano Pavarotti, Marilyn Horne, Yo Yo Ma, Leonard Bernstein and Leontyne Price. The orchestra was composed of musicians from leading New York City Orchestras.

###

NEWS SERVICE - SH

87-153

1d,h

FOR RELEASE:

IMMEDIATE

Mailed November 17, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - Dr. Hatem Hussaini will speak on "The Palestinian Problem: Prospects for Peace" at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 2, in Kilcawley Center's Ohio Room at Youngstown State University.

The lecture is being held in conjunction with the "Day of Solidarity with the People of Palestine," which was established as an annual observance by the United Nations in 1974. The date selected this year was Nov. 29.

The program is free and open to the public. It is sponsored by YSU Student Government and the General Union of Palestine Students.

Dr. Hussaini has served in numerous diplomatic positions. He was deputy observer of the Palestinian Delegation to the U.N. from 1982-84, and served more than 10 years with the League of Arab States' office in Washington, D.C., including one year as director. Dr. Hussaini also was director of the Palestinian Information Office from 1978-82, and has participated in many international conferences.

He has written several books on the Arab-Israeli conflict and the Middle East, and has appeared on a number of network television programs. His books include Toward Peace in Palestine and In Solidarity with Palestine.

Dr. Hussaini was born in Jerusalem in 1941 and holds degrees from American University in Cairo and the University of Massachusetts. He is currently a professor at the International Studies Center at Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C.

###

NEWS SERVICE - RM

87-152

FOR RELEASE:

IMMEDIATE

Mailed November 17, 1987

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - Dr. Hatem Hussaini will speak on "The Palestinian Problem: Prospects for Peace" at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 2, in Kilcawley Center's Ohio Room at Youngstown State University.

The lecture is being held in conjunction with the "Day of Solidarity with the People of Palestine," which was established as an annual observance by the United Nations in 1974. The date selected this year was Nov. 29.

The program is free and open to the public. It is sponsored by YSU Student Government and the General Union of Palestine Students.

Dr. Hussaini has served in numerous diplomatic positions. He was deputy observer of the Palestinian Delegation to the U.N. from 1982-84, and served more than 10 years with the League of Arab States' office in Washington, D.C., including one year as director. Dr. Hussaini also was director of the Palestinian Information Office from 1978-82, and has participated in many international conferences.

He has written several books on the Arab-Israeli conflict and the Middle East, and has appeared on a number of network television programs. His books include Toward Peace in Palestine and In Solidarity with Palestine.

Dr. Hussaini was born in Jerusalem in 1941 and holds degrees from American University in Cairo and the University of Massachusetts. He is currently a professor at the International Studies Center at Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C.

###

NEWS SERVICE - RM

87-152