Book replacement attempted Main library to reopen today

by Ed Shanks

The Reuben McMillan Public Library, which was the target of an arsonist last week, will be open today for business as usual. Losses to the library were kept to a minimum thanks to the efforts of the library's maintenance staff and the Youngstown Fire Department.

According to Ms. Jeannie Dykens, Director of Public Relations, such items as early scrapbooks, momentos, some records and some government documents were lost, but nobody is certain yet just what is salvagable and what is not. The library is looking for shoeboxes to put some of their files in, as the boxes were somewhat charred by the intense heat.

"And," added Dykens, "All our Christmas decorations are burnt. I don't know what we'll use this year."

Dykens also mentioned some of the problems that the library is having trying to replace books that were destroyed by the fire. For example, many of the books are out of print, meaning that except for donations, there is no way to replace the books. Others are available from the publisher, but costs have risen greatly.

Some of the losses to the library cannot be replaced quite as easily, however. For instance, the flagpole's base extended into the area of the fire, and the base was so severely burned that workers had to remove the pole. Telephone lines were also melted, resulting in the loss of some of the phones.

Besides the efforts of maintenance people and firemen, who, according to Dykens, "cannot be thanked enough," one reason the fire did not spread rapidly is that most of the area affected by the fire is cement. Ceiling, walls, and floor are concrete. Said Dykens, "They don't make buildings like this anymore."

Homecoming candidates chosen; interview session set for Oct. 10

The King/Queen Committee met last Wed. to screen all of the applications for this year's Homecoming King and Queen Competition. The screening was based on a point system which included university and community involvement, scholarship, and university recognition awards. Each application was scored with a possible total of 100 points. The committee then selected the top 6 King and 7 Queen candidates according to their scored applications.

Because of the tie for the sixth Queen candidate, the committee chose to accept 7 applicants of the Queen semi-finalists. Among these candidates are Susanne DiFrangia, Elaine Klemmpay, Patricia McDowell, Clare McQuade, Jane Moore, Pam Pogany and Jerri Ricketts. The 6 semi-finalists for King include Neil Cope, Joe Flaviani, George Glaros, Paul Roberts, Paul Shiller and Chester Tabaka.

Susanne DiFrangia, 527 East Liberty, is affiliated with the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. She is a senior majoring in Chemical Engineering. Elaine Klemmpay, representing the Phi Mu Sorority, is a junior majoring in Market Management. She lives at 541 North Blaircliff, Canfield. Patricia McDowell, representing the Delta Zeta Sorority, is a senior majoring in Art Education. She resides at 2834 Poland Village, Poland.

Jerri Ricketts, also a member of the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, resides at 115 West Main Street, Canfield. Jerri is a junior who is majoring in Food and Nutrition.

Neil Cope, a senior majoring in Civil Engineering, represents the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. He is living at 212 Broadway, Youngstown. Joe Flaviani, 2136 Woodland, Warren, is a junior who is majoring in Mechanical Engineer Technology. Joe is a member of the Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity. Academic Senate votes semester system stalled

By Stephen R. McClure,
News Bureau

An overriding 35 to 31 vote by the YSU Academic Senate has laid to rest, at least temporarily, any thought of converting to an early semester system in favor of YSU's current quarter system.

An ad-hoc committee of the Senate had recommended the early semester system take effect in the fall of 1981. The University of Akron has already switched to the semester system and only last week Kent State University decided to abandon the quarter system in favor of semesters beginning next year.

The committee, headed by Dr. Nicholas Paraska, dean of YSU's college of applied science and technology, based its recommendation on a study that began over two years ago. It also weighed the results of faculty and student survey polls conducted last spring.

Opponents of the early semester system voiced the opinion that students were overwhelmingly against change, while proponents said semesters would encourage academic soundness by giving instructors a longer period of time to work with students. The current quarter lasts approximately ten weeks compared to 15 weeks in the semester system.

With the early semester system proposal now seemingly a dead issue, the Academic Senate will turn its attention to a new proposal - an early quarter system. YSU currently begins its academic year during the fourth week in Sept. The Senate's next meeting is set for Nov. 3.

Chester Tabaka, also a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, makes his home at 4980 Middletown Road, New Middletown. Chester is a junior majoring in Civil Engineering.

An important date for all semi-finalists to remember will be Tues., Oct. 10, at 7 p.m. for an interview session with five judges. The judges will select the three King and 3 Queen finalists. Student voting for the 1978 Homecoming King and Queen will be on Tues., Oct. 17 and Wed., Oct., 18 in the Kilcawley Center Arcade from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. and 5 p.m.-8 p.m. both days.

The 6 finalists will be presented on Fri., Oct. 20 for the Friday Night Dance, and Sat., Oct., 21 for the Homecoming Parade and Car Caravan. The crowning of the King and Queen will take place at halftime at the Saturday, Oct. 21 football game against Akron. At 9:30 p.m. in the Mahoning Country Club, the 1978 Homecoming King, Queen and Court will be guests of honor at the Alumni-Collegiate Dance.

Object to lack of recognition by YSU Budget Committee

by Billie Radd, Renee Cambier, Karen Weigand

Many members of Student Council expressed at their meeting Monday, concerns about Council's recommendations being recognized at the University Budget Committee hearings.

Student Council had suggested an increase in $2 per quarter for the general fee starting fall quarter, 1978. The actual increase eventually amounted to $19 per quarter. It was brought up that Student Council never actually approved its own budget, but the budget was submitted to the University Budget Committee.

A representative of the University Budget Committee is to be invited to be present at the next Student Council meeting.

Council approved Student Government President Tony Koury's recommendation that former President George Glaros be appointed temporary Secretary of the Student Grievance Committee until the position can be filled.

Also, Koury was questioned about whether or not approval had been given for the trip to Colorado which he and Vice President Dave Bozanich took this past summer. For a Student Council Seminar, Student Council's vote for approval of this trip will be asked for when Koury gives his report concerning the trip.

Council approved the appointments of Richard Trimbur, Richard Grover, Pauline Thomas, Bill Copper and Richard Curry to the Nominating Committee.

A motion was passed to study the possibility of establishing a daytime escort service in addition to the current evening service. The Executive Branch will report on this matter at the next Student Council meeting. It was called to the attention of Student Council by LETS at the last meeting, but was not acted upon at that time.

Last spring, the student body approved two amendments to the constitution and by-laws. A copy of the amendments will soon be available for anyone wishing a copy at the Student Government office. Also, a copy of this year's Student Organization Treasurer's Handbook can be obtained at the office of the Dean of Student Affairs in Kilcawley Center.

What would Socrates think of Cinci?

If you question long enough and deep enough, certain truths about Cinci become evident. It has a hearty, full-bodied flavor. It is smooth and easy going down. And, the quality of its head is fact rather than philosophical conjecture. We think there's one truth about Cinci that Socrates would not question: It's too good to gulp. As any rational man can taste.

'Rock' serves as landmark, meeting place, provides for student self-expression

by Mary Jane Klempay

Every student on the YSU campus has noticed the big mound of rock on the center core of campus. But, few students know the real story concerning the "Rock."

According to Nick Leonelli, Director of Campus Planning, the Rock has an interesting background and life that dates back to 1965.

Initial construction of the Kilcawley Men's Dorm was started in 1965. When the land was being excavated, this huge rock was uncovered. The contractors and campus planners decided to place the rock in the area that is now the fountain, to act as a meeting place for students.

Between 1965 and 1975, the tradition of painting the rock was started by sororities and fraternities. In 1974 when Kilcawley Student Center was constructed, the students began not only to paint the rock, but also began to paint the side wall of Kilcawley Center. At this time, the Board of Trustees began to take action on moving the rock off campus.

Student Council and Student Government came to the aid of the rock and suggested to the Trustees that they move the rock from the fountain area to the center core of campus. Student Council and Student Government guaranteed that they would be responsible for keeping the paint on the rock and nowhere else if the rock was moved.

The Board of Trustees voted to move the rock to the center core and hence, it was moved using a huge bulldozer. In the process of moving, some of the paint chipped off of the rock, and it was found to have over an inch of paint covering it.

Consequently, the life of the rock continues. It continues to wear a different color of paint each morning and it serves as a landmark for lost students.

New identity

Expansion on the YSU campus seems fairly complete. With this expansion, as well as with the attendant remodeling and landscaping, comes the assumption of a clear and basic YSU identity.

As recently as seven years ago, there was no Bliss Hall, nor was there a new college of Arts and Sciences building. Cushwa Hall, the College of Applied Science and Technology, was just a dream. Jones Hall was old and creaking. The Tod Administration Building was the old library; the President's house used to sit where Maag Library is now. There was one parking deck, not two. Beeghly Center had just opened, and if students wanted a place to meet, they'd end up at the old cafeteria; there was no Kilcawley Center.

These new buildings have given students a sense of identity; a place to congregate. YSU is no longer a small cluster of buildings stuck in the middle of downtown Youngstown; it's a modern, symmetrical campus that has become a focal point of the Youngstown community. But it's much more. English majors, art majors...everybody has a home now; a building of their own. YSU students can all share in a personal identity that students in the past could not even conceive. It is important, this identity, because it gives us all something to go back to in the future, when we're all so far away.

A new campus—and that's what this is—gives us a new history, a new identity—one that's clear, and one that's basic, and one of which we all can be proud.

Trustees to vote on contract with Civil Service union

by Stephen R. McClure, News Bureau Editor

The YSU Board of Trustees will meet later this month, on a date not yet certain, to consider ratification of a contract agreement with the YSU chapter of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association.

The union which represents approximately 500 secretaries, maintenance personnel, parking lot attendants and other non-faculty employees, voted 136-19 to approve the contract. The votes were tabulated Thursday night, Oct. 5. The agreement is the first of its kind between the two parties and will run through April 1, 1980.

According to Dr. Taylor Alderman, YSU vice president for personnel, the contract provides recognition to the OCSEA as the union's exclusive bargaining agent. Other highlights of the pact include a four-step grievance procedure that culminates in binding arbitration; 10 paid holidays plus an unpaid half-day holiday on election day; vacation schedules and equal distribution of overtime opportunities.

Commenting on the successful conclusion of the contract talks, Dr. Alderman states, "No contract is perfect from the point of view of either side, but we are very pleased agreement has been reached."

Dr. Alderman said a special meeting of the Board of Trustees will be scheduled shortly to consider the ratification vote rather than wait until their next regular meeting, Nov. 11.

To the editor of the Jambar:

Liz Lane, hmmm...sounds a lot like Lois Lane, both characters must be fictional. So no one on your staff could make it to the Dave Mason concert, huh? Did you really just make up that terrible review of a fine concert? If there really is a Liz Lane, she must have been the chick who rolled in late, stoned of course, then passed out directly in front of the speakers. Don't blame that hangover on Dave.

Liz did not even mention the extremely fine performance by Livingston Taylor which led me to believe she was late. Livingston put on a show much better than his summer show at Blossom. Livingston's part of the concert was exciting, soothing, smiling and laughing. I believe Liz would have enjoyed it.

Dave Mason was loud, well this isn't Donny and Marie, you know. Dave Mason plays rock music, which usually is meant to be played at a nice 'Kick A-volume.' I enjoyed the power of the music, then again I wasn't late and passed out in front of the speakers.

During Dave Mason's concert at Blossom in the summer he spent about twenty minutes jamming during his song "All Along The Watchtower." During this song at YSU (his encore), his guitar string broke and there weren't any standby guitars around; the "roadies" had removed them already. Dave was frustrated but he had to cut the song and the concert short. I saw all this because I went to the Dave Mason concert start to finish. Next time, Lois, try seeing the concert before reviewing it.

Timothy Zysk

Editor's Note: Yes, we do have a Liz Lane on our staff. She was there, on time, (even for Living-

To the editor of the Jambar:

I would like to take this opportunity to clear up a few facts concerning the Dave Mason/Livingston Taylor concert:

1) The concert was held on Sunday night, not Saturday.

2) At the time posters and advertising materials were being printed, we did not know who the opening act would be.

3) We have no control over the musician's performance, including his selection of material and sound volume. There rights are strictly his own.

I hope the students at YSU will continue to support the Major Events Committee. If you don't like what we're doing, feel free to pay $11.50 plus gas, drive 60 miles, and perch in the rafters of the nearest super-dome.

Penguins top mistake-prone EIU ; Brumfield, Haynali set new marks

by Bill Snier

An aerial circus by Panther quarterback Steve Turk was neutralized by a late Penguin surge as YSU topped Eastern Illinois, 40-24 Saturday at Falcon Stadium in Austintown.

The victory was the fifth straight victory for the Penguins and their eighth straight over the past two seasons, one short of breaking the school record which they now share with two teams from the 1940's.

But the victory was not as easy as the score may indicate. Eastern Illinois quarterback, Steve Turk, filled the air with footballs, connecting on 25 of 52 for 359 yards and two touchdowns.

But it was also his passing which hurt the Panthers as Turk was intercepted six times by the Penguins' defensive secondary.

Interceptions by Tom Jaros, Kevin Stutzer, Quentin Lowery, and T.C. Reynolds repeatedly gave YSU excellent field position in the first half of play.

The Penguins did this on field goals of 33 and 42 yards by place kicker Chuck Haynali, a 35-yard touchdown pass from Keith Snoddy to his favorite receiver, Jim "The Flea" Ferranti, and a three-yard run by Marschell Brumfield.

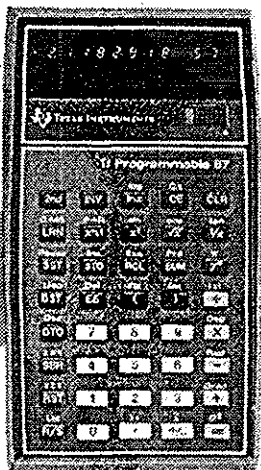

With the score 19-0, Turk finally connected with one of his own people, Scott McGhee for a covering 31 yards to reduce the (Cont. on page 7)

If you've ever needed extra protection overnight... or on days when your flow is heavy, you'll think Super Plus Tampax tampons were designed just for you. And they were.

Super Plus Tampax tampons give you longer-lasting protection because they're far more absorbent than the average super. Yet they're still surprisingly slim and comfortable. A rounded tip and smooth, highly polished applicator make them extra easy to insert, too.

Now, when you need something more, or when you can't change tampons as readily as you like, switch to Super Plus Tampax tampons. You'll feel more secure during the day. And overnight, too.

YSU advantage to 19-7. But a fake punt attempt and still another interception by T.C. Reynolds enabled the Penguins to chalk up ten more points for a 29-7 halftime bulge.

In the second half, Turk stopped hitting opponents' defenders and started hitting his own receivers. The junior signal-caller single-handedly pulled the Panthers back into contention just as he almost let the game get away. First he connected on a 27-yard scoring pass to Jim Warring and then carried it over himself from one yard out to reduce the once-large Penguin lead to 29-21.

After Haynali missed a field goal following an interception by Statzer, Turk once again drove the Panthers into Penguin territory where Dan Dimartino connected on a 26-yard field goal to reduce the YSU lead to a slim 29-24.

But a little razzle-dazzle between Brumfield and Robby Robson on the ensuing kickoff moved the Penguins into range for 27-yard clinching field goal by Haynali. YSU added one more tally on a one-yard plunge by Brumfield to complete the scoring.

'Dizzy' to perform at Centennial Room

John Birks Gillespie - known to all as "Dizzy" brings his trumpet, his African percussion instruments, a few sidemen and his own unique native wit to this area.

On Oct. 10 you will have the privilege of seeing and experiencing a living musical legend. For one week only from Oct. 10 thru Sunday Oct. 15, with a special Sunday performance, Dizzy Gillespie will be appearing exclusively at the Centennial Room in the Holiday Inn North Belmont Ave..

An innovator in the field of music, Dizzy Gillespie literally changed the face of jazz during the late 1940's. Along with Charlie Parker and Thelonios Monk-Diz, Bird and Monk as they were called - were the architects of "bebop" music.

A notable excerpt was recently published concerning this great man. To emphasize his role in the musical world, the Smithsonian Institution has issued a Dizzy Gillespie collectors series of record sets tracing a history of his music. He is no ordinary performer. He is a world renowned musician about to make his appearance in our area. Don't miss it.
