YSU TIES FOR NO. 1

by Bill Snier

"We're Number One, WE'RE NUMBER ONE!"

One has to sit down and think about it to get the full impact of this statement. First of all, out of over one-hundred schools with football programs in Division II, YSU is considered the top team. (Actually just one of the top teams since the Penguins are tied for the top spot with Winston-Salem Teachers' College).

Secondly, this is the first time in Penguin football history that YSU has found itself on top in a weekly press poll.

"We're Number One!"

"Naturally we're thrilled by the announcement. It's nice to be recognized," stated head coach Narduzzi upon hearing of the poll's results. "But what really counts is where we are around the middle of December."

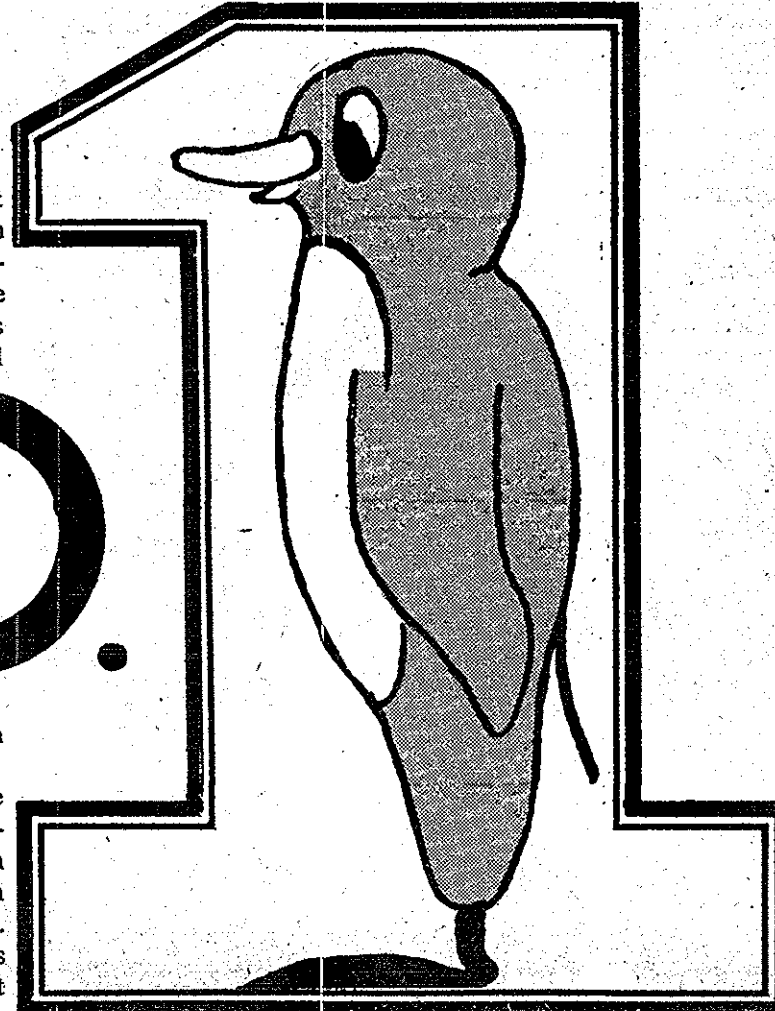

The middle of December will mark the end of the Division II grid season. Post-season play gets underway on Saturday, Nov. 25. The title match will be played in Longview, Texas on Saturday, 58 points apiece, just eight points ahead of perennial Division II power Delaware. If you recall, it was that same Delaware team who crushed the chances of the Penguins for the national

NO.

Dec. 9.

Last week, the Penguins were ranked second in the nation to Winston-Salem by a slim four points, 60-59. This week, the Penguins gained two points, while Winston-Salem lost two, thanks to their upset of the then sixth-ranked Akron Zips.

YSU and Winston-Salem now stand atop the rankings with championship four years ago in Delaware. Two other teams from the Mid-Continent Conference are also up tem. Eastern Illinois currently stands eighth and Northern Michigan is ninth. At this time, University officials are not quite sure whether or not stand atop the rankings with (Cont. on Page 2)

Campus escort day service may begin

The new Campus Escort Day Service may begin Monday, Nov. 6, states Dave Bozanich, vice-president of Student Council.

The service, which is being subsidized by Student Government, will be available to all students, especially the physically handicapped. Bozanich says that the Department of Developmental Education estimates that from 10 to 15 students will use the service this quarter, and from 25 to 35 during the winter term.

"Bill Fenski, President of the LETS handicapped students organization came to Student Government and told us there was a need for an escort service during the day for the handicapped. Dr. George Letchworth, acting director for Developmental Education, said that the service would be worthwhile, but that state guidelines would not permit his office to subsidize it. Student Government had the money, so we took it to Student Council," said Bozanich.

"If Council would have been willing to extend our Oct. 16 meeting an extra ten minutes, I see no reason why the urgently needed Day Escort Service would not already be in operation," Bozanich pointed out, adding that his proposal for service was ready for that meeting. Council unanimously approved the measure (Cont. on page 3)

Dr. Peter speaks Monday at free Skeggs Lecture

Dr. Laurence Peter, social visionary and author of the best-selling book, The Peter Principle, will be lecturing at YSU's Kilcawley Center Chestnut Room, Monday, Oct. 30, at 8:30 p.m.

In addition to The Peter Principle, (which expresses the theory that working people tend to rise to their level of incompetence) Peter has also written The Peter Prescription, and The Peter Plan. The two subsequent books attempt to offer a blue print for a better society.

Peter's numerous publications have gone hand-in-hand with a professional teaching career at numerous colleges, universities, secondary schools and even a prison, where he was an instructor for B.C. Prison Department Burnaby, British Columbia. Peter received his bachelor degree in psychology and master's in educational psychology at Western Washington State College and a doctorate of education in guidance and psychology from Washington State University.

The lecture program is free and open to the public. Admission is on a first-come first-served basis. For further information, call (216) 742-3496.

Lyden announces campaign goal

"William G. Lyden has been named Honorary Christmas Seals Chairman for the 1978 Christmas Seal Campaign," announced Don Tucker, President of the Board of Directors of the Eastern Ohio Lung Association.

Lyden, who is chairman of the YSU Board of Trustees, has a long record of community involvement. President of the Lyden Oil Company, he is also a member of the Advisory Board of St. Elizabeth Medical Center and a past president of the Mahoning Valley Boy Scouts. A 1950 graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Lyden is also chairman of the YSU Sports Complex Committee.

Local programs include medical research in lung diseases, educational programs for medical and para-medical personnel to treat victims of respiratory diseases, case finding, and a program which provides a loan closet of breathing equipment for respiratory cripples.

The Eastern Ohio Lung Association also encourages preventive medicine by providing health education materials such as films, pamphlets, teaching kits, and displays for use in area schools.

Mr. Lyden announced that this year's goal is $185,000. Last year contributions totalled $157,213. He went on to say, "The importance of research and preventive medicine cannot be understated. It is estimated that 300,000 Americans die prematurely each year from the effects of smoking. Alarmingly, more teenagers than ever before are starting to smoke. We must make every effort possible to educate these youngsters to the frightening consequences of smoking."

Yes, the sun sets, but true love is as constant as the very sky's existence.

Firsts

Once again, the YSU football team has brought national attention to the University through their gridiron exploits. This time, it comes in the form of a Number One ranking by the Associated Press in Division II of the NCAA, a first in YSU history. Such an accomplishment must be commended.

We look back to that first game of the season, when the team received national television coverage, (another first), and the Penguins justified the attention by drubbing Northern Iowa, 31-14. The opening of YSU's first season in the newly formed Mid-Continent Conference was successful. That success has continued throughout the season, and climaxed, so far, by a homecoming victory over Akron before 10,200 fans. The latest AP poll ranks us first, tied with Winston-Salem State. A victory over Villanova, a Division I AA school that has played such teams as Clemson, Rutgers, and Bowling Green, would go a long way toward giving YSU sole possession of that top spot.

Although it is true that a number of standouts can be cited for making YSU the team that it is, this must be a team effort, one that all members have contributed toward. The coaching staff and the team are to be praised and thanked for the effort they have put forth, and the recognition they have brought to the school. This appreciation would be best expressed through attendance at this Saturday night's game with Villanova. Let's support them with an effort worthy of what the team has done for the school; let's show them that they're Number One.

In an all new multi-media program, Ed and Lorraine Warren, America's top ghost hunters, will present an in-depth look at the world of the supernatural. The program will be held Halloween night, Tuesday, Oct. 31, at 8 pm in YSU's Kilcawley Center Chestnut Room.

The Warrens have been intrigued with the strange world of the occult since childhood. At age five, Ed lived in a house that was haunted by a former tenant. As a result, he devoted his life to study of the supernatural.

Today he is recognized as one of only seven leading demonologists in the United States. He is at present head consultant for the Psychic Research Institute in Hamden, Connecticut, for Paranormalology and Demonology. Ed and Lorraine have both taught courses in these subjects at Connecticut state colleges, Newtown High School and Lee High School. In addition to this, they are consulted by such organizations as the famous Psychical Research Foundation in Durham, North Carolina.

They have been referred to as "America's top ghost hunters" by numerous national weekly newspapers. Their adventures in haunted locations have appeared many times nationally and internationally. Their investigation of the "Amityville Horror" is one of the most popular hauntings.

The Warrens will spend two full days in Youngstown. They will be on Good Morning, Youngstown at 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 30 on Channel 33. Those who wish to contact them about haunted homes in the area or personal ghost experiences may call the "Ghost Hot Line" at 742-3566. The Ghost Hotline will be open Monday, Oct. 30, from 1:30-2:30 p.m. and Tuesday, Oct. 31, from 2-3 p.m. The Ghost Hotline will be held in the Ohio Room (236) of Kilcawley Center. The Warrens will be using a tele-lecture machine so everyone present can hear the accounts of ghosts.

The lecture is sponsored by the Entertainment Committee of the Kilcawley Center Program Board of YSU.

To the editor of the Jambar:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank and to give recognition to staff and students who enabled Homecoming '78 to be a great success. First and foremost we appreciate the dedication of Mark Shanley, advisor to the Homecoming Committee. Over 25 events were successfully presented due to his leadership and encouragement.

Other staff whose efforts deserved to be noted are Jim Morrison, Athletic Business Manager; Barb Scott, Alumni; Tim Miller, Intramurals; Tom Franklin, Black Studies; Phil Hirsh, Kilcawley Center Director; KJ Satrum, KCPB Director; and, Bill Sperazza and Bob Knowlton, Kilcawley Center Supervisors.

We cannot be grateful enough to sixteen students who devoted themselves for six months toward the planning and implementation of "Still Crazy After All These Years." The committee includes Mary Jane Klempay, Jan Wansack, Chris Dobrowski and Gayle Johnson, Daytime Activities; Kim Zimmerman, Tony Linebaugh, Theresa Nephew and Carol Amadio, King/Queen; Karen Snyder, Rosemary Walton, Rick Eckman and Mary Dennison, Parade/Game Activities; Paula Moss, Angela Curtis and Mary Beth Magula, Dances; and Nancy Hutchison, Publicity.

Special thanks is extended to the Kilcawley Center Program Board for presenting exceptional entertainment during Homecoming Weekend, to Student Government for its support, to Coach Narduzzi and the football team, and to the Jambar for excellent coverage. We appreciate the efforts of all those mentioned and any other staff members, students and friends who helped.

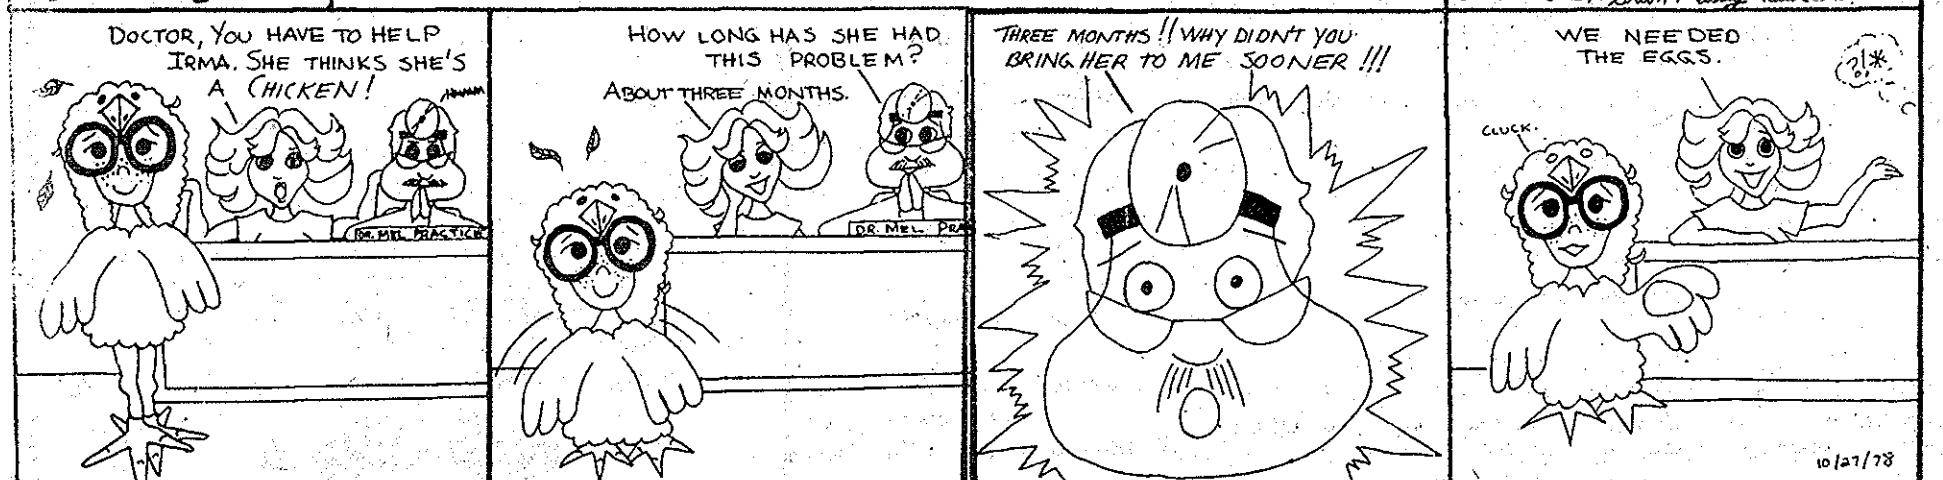

And last we would like to express that we sincerely enjoyed having the opportunity to work with a great group of fellow students who helped to make Homecoming '78 very memorable to us.

Today, for the first time ever, the news of Hollywood! Yes, Tinseltown revealed. Exciting, huh?

Warren Beatty was seen with his latest heart-throb, Diane Keaton (old girlfriend of Woody Allen), at the chic disco Studio 54. The two were making goo-goo eyes, and sitting closer than this underneath one of the tables.

Child superstar, Tatum O'Neil (not one of Woody Allen's old flames) seen at the West Park Dairy Queen. Ta ta Tatum!

Jackie O. chased a photographer fourteen miles, threatening to break the shutterbug's camera if he ever asked her to borrow a roll of film again.

Steppin' out together. Barbra Streisand and Jon Voigt. Their first date was a parachuting outing. What a pair 'o troopers!

John Travolta fuming with director Hans Trefret on the set of "Oil", the sequel to "Grease". Travolta handed the director a list of demands. After an hour of shooting, Travolta bolted off the set crying that he wanted his demands met, or he would hold his breath 'til death. Trefret was reported as saying, "If he thinks I'm going to pick up the jumping jacks in his room, he's crazy."

Cheryl Tiegs, the vivacious vixen, seen in a restaurant in Hollywood. She ordered a bucket of wallpaper paste, then proceeded to wallpaper her table. C'mon now Cher baby, let's stop acting so off-the-wall!

Nothing new with Allen Funt. It was rumored he was to get a skin transplant for his head, but no go. He hasn't been seen with Farrah recently. Other stars who have not been seen with "The Golden Girl" include Lee Majors, Burt Reynolds, Paul Lynde, and Frank ("Ol Blue Eyes) Sinatra.

Speaking of "Ol Blue Eyes," at his latest engagement at Caesar's Palace in Vegas, he forgot the ring, so the engagement was called off. He was seen "closer than this" with rising starlet Tammy Tuna. Although Tammy is fifty years younger, it was rumored that she would get a fake ID showing that she is 94.

Dean Martin went into a rage at his engagement at "The Sands." Dino burst out four letter words when his mike went dead, then came to life, and asked him for his autograph (Dino has been drinking heavily lately). Debonair Dino shouted four letter words at his audience: "Book, Lake, Rats, fund, have, milk." Dino shouted to the disgust of his audience.

Kate Jackson, who recently got secretly married, was eyed "closer than this" with an auto mechanic at MGM studios. Her new hubby was seen "closer than this" with Cheryl Ladd in the MGM auto garage. Former angel Farrah (Rahrah) Fawcett Majors, was seen "closer than this" with three Bolivian Bullfighters in the glove compartment of a car in the MGM studio auto garage. Other angel, Jackie Smith, seen drinking Clorox with her Siamese twin sister, a beautiful young lass (except for her scraggly hair, buck teeth, crop of zits, and 440 pound body), at a local diner.

Henry Winkler will star in the new movie about corrupt Mid-Eastern people who buy the ocean. The film is tentatively titled "Shahs".

Finally, Bob Hope had bad breath at the opening of his new movie "On The Road To Nowhere".

The Jambar welcomes humorous articles written by our readers. We would welcome any "feature type article," puzzles, comics or quizzes, also. Submit them to the Jambar, 117 Rayen Hall between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

There has been over $8,213 contributed by 248 donors at YSU to the 1979 United Appeals drive. There is still time for each of us to make a pledge before the campaign ends.

Bugliosi to discuss Manson motives

Vincent Bugliosi, chief prosecutor of Charles Manson and co-author of the best-selling book Helter Skelter, will lecture at YSU, Monday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. in Kilcawley Center's Chestnut Room.

Bugliosi will reveal the motives behind the "Manson mentality" as well as discuss the family's philosophy that mysteriously persuaded its members to believe that Manson was Jesus Christ. Bugliosi will analyze Manson's beliefs and how he supported those beliefs with Bible passages and the music lyrics of the Beatles. Bugliosi's interpretation of Manson's warped reality will shed light on the insane reasoning behind the Tate/LaBianca slayings.

Bugliosi had compiled a record of 105 criminal convictions out of 106 felony jury trials prior to the Manson case.

Bugliosi's lecture at YSU is free and open to the public. For further information, call (216) 742-3575.

Clingan-Waddell vs. Bliss Hall

The Jambar has decided to interview Fine and Performing Arts students to get their opinions on the new Arts building (Bliss Hall) as compared to Clingan-Waddell. The opinions are those of the people interviewed and not those of the Jambar.

Rick Huhn

Larry Bell, F&PA, Junior
"You could work at Clingan-Waddell. Didn't have to worry about cleaning people throwing your work out. Atmosphere was better, Bliss is too formal. We have a building we can't use."

Peggy Yacavone, F&PA, Junior
"Environment is good in Bliss, makes you feel like you're working. Similar to office conditions for things like advertising."

Bob Villers, F&PA, Senior
"Bliss has nicer facilities but too many regulations. Not as creatively free as you were in Clingan-Waddell. Everybody puts the Art department off. Artistic atmosphere isn't here (Bliss)."

Tony Belline, F&PA, Sophomore
"C-W was too far to walk. Bliss is bigger, more room to work, cleaner. But you can't hang your work up in Bliss."

"Bliss is Bigger"

"Too Formal"

Ron Cusano, F&PA, Junior
"Bliss is better, it's cleaner, neater, bigger. For a major like Graphics it makes you feel better to be working in an environment like this."

"Free atmosphere"

Steve Browning, F&PA, Junior
"No comparison. C-W had no place to park, cold. Rotten place to have a class. Maybe the painting should be in C-W."

"No gallery"

Cindy Madved, F&PA, Junior
"100% better here (Bliss), better equipped, more facilities. Nicer place to work."

"Bliss is cleaner"

Coffelt's' home is spacious

by Liz Lane

Driving down Colonial Drive in Liberty, one passes many exclusive homes in which it seems that influential people reside. One important resident is YSU President John Coffelt and his wife Ann who, for the past five years have lived at 1010 Colonial Drive.

The two-story brick home sits on a double lot which the University owns. According to Mrs. Coffelt, the house was built for the real estate developer, Cafaro. He sold the home to Friedkin Realty, who in 1966, sold it to the University. The University completely furnished the home for YSU's second president, Albert Pugsley. Mrs. Coffelt said every University president may live here during his term.

The home has 12 rooms, however, Mrs. Coffelt said "We (she and John) just live in the three rooms and the rest of the house is mainly for entertaining." The three rooms are kitchen, den, and bedroom.

The den contains a T.V. and bar along with the furniture. Shelves of books, magazines, and photos of their family cover two walls in the den.

The formal living room is primarily used for entertaining. In the corner sits a baby grand piano where President Coffelt will sometimes play a song. However, Mrs. Coffelt said "John plays totally by ear." Hanging on the wall is a painting donated to the University from Butler.

The dining room was decorated by Mrs. Coffelt. This is the only room in the house that had to be redone, said Mrs. Coffelt.

Hanging from the ceiling is an exquisitely decorated chandelier selected by Mrs. Coffelt.

Going up the semi spiral staircase to the second floor hangs a smaller, less elaborate chandelier. The upstairs has five bedrooms, each with their own bath. The master bedroom, painted in pale pink, has a king size bed and two pink chaise lounge chairs, plus an antique white television. The bedroom has interesting luxury. A master switch for all the lights in the house is in the wall. If any light is burning in the house, a red light will go on. Just by pressing the red button the light will be turned off. The light switch reduces running up and down the stairs.

The rest of the bedrooms are furnished with bedroom suits, however, the Coffelts changed one bedroom into an office. The furniture in this room belongs to the Coffelts.

The back stairs of the second floor takes you to a hallway where there are more stairs leading to the basement. In the basement, there is a rec room where a pool table lies. The walls are knotty pine and a bar fills one of the walls. Two small Spanish statues, a favorite of Mrs. Coffelt, sit on the bar.

Two furnaces in the basement heat the home. If any problems in the heating or electricity occur, University maintenance will come to fix the situation. The maintenance department also does all the landscaping and a maid from maintenance works in the house.

Mrs. Coffelt said campus security checks the house at least once a day and the home is never left unattended.

Mrs. Coffelt also said she hardly ever feels lonely in the house that size because she is too busy with her own life.

Interview with Mrs. Coffelt will be in next issue.

Penguins seek eleventh straight; "Cardiac Cats" present stern test

by Bill Snier

The high-flying YSU Penguins will not only be running into a tough Division I-AA opponent this weekend, but also a foe set on revenge.

Last year, the Villanova Wildcats were riding a six-game winning streak and were ranked twentieth in some of the Division I polls when the Penguins went to Philadelphia to get their season underway. YSU edged the "Cats" that day, 13-10, to set the tone for a disappointing season at Villanova.

This year the tables are turned. It is YSU who is riding high on a school record ten-game winning string and the Wildcats who are having their problems.

"We're disappointed, but not with despair," stated Wildcat head coach Dick Bedesem. "We must gather our forces and play with great intensity. It would give us some measure of consolation to win this Saturday."

Bedesem further stated that "Youngstown's ranking is justified." "It's basically the same team that faced us last season. They're a seasoned and veteran team that plays aggressive defense, especially against the run, and can put many, many points on the scoreboard," said Bedesem.

The biggest problem for the "Cardiac Cats," as their fans call them, has been their rugged schedule, including games with William and Mary, Clemson, Colgate, and Rutgers. The Cats have beaten Bowling Green, Massachusetts and Richmond. Five of the games were not decided until the last two minutes, hence the Villanova nickname.

"Villanova will pose a different problem for us this week because they run the wishbone on offense," stated coach Bill Narduzzi. "It's a triple-option offensive alignment that we haven't faced this season. We'll have to make some adjustments in our basic defense to try to contain them."

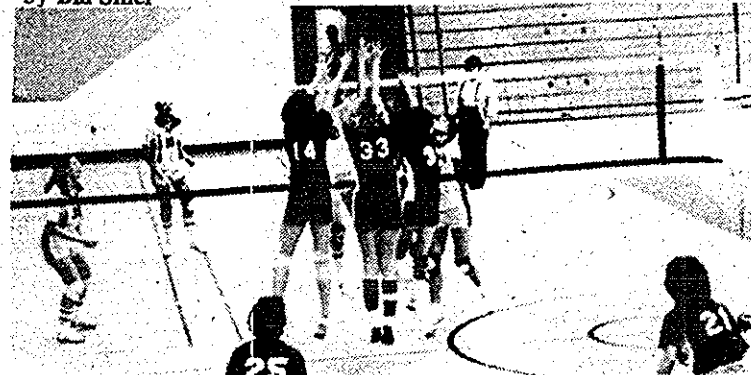

Offensively, the Cats average 16.7 points per game while the defense has permitted 22.7 points per contest and 371 yards total offense per game.

Volleyball

Penguins suffer fifth defeat

by Bill Snier

VOLLEYBALL ACTION --- The YSU volleyball team suffered their fifth setback of the season, 3-0, in the best of five set with Clarion. Photos by Rick Huhn.

The YSU volleyball team evened their record at 5-5 for the season as they suffered a three games to none sweep at the hands of Clarion Wednesday night at Beeghly Center.

"We are a much better team than we demonstrated during that loss," stated coach John Tokash when asked about the defeat. Clarion came out of the starting gate to sweep the first game 15-12 and then won the next two games by identical scores of 15-10.

Tokash singled out Valerie Kenney for her defensive play, but quickly added that "no one really played outstanding in the match." "Volleyball is a team sport with six people having to play well for the team to win. If one person does not perform up to her potential, the entire team suffers because of it," stated Tokash.

Tokash, who has been involved with volleyball for 19 years as a player, coach, and official, is in his first year as Penguin mentor. Being a first year coach, he has had his problems.

"When I first came here, the players were used to one system. Most of this year's players are returnees so they believed in that system. They have adjusted well to the new "4-2" set-up I have installed. The major problem is to get the players to believe in me and believe in the system for it to be successful. I think we're making progress," Beeghly Center.

The Penguins are now halfway through their season, but do have some tough matches remaining with such teams as West Virginia and Kent State. "Realistically, I think we can win six of our last ten games and, with a little luck, possibly more," according to Tokash.

Only two seniors are on this year's squad with one of the two having a year of eligibility remaining. Only Linda Fredricks will be missing next year and, according to Tokash, she will be missed. But volleyball is on the upgrade in this area with most high schools now having programs which should help develop talent for the collegiate level. This helps Tokash to look at the future with great optimism.

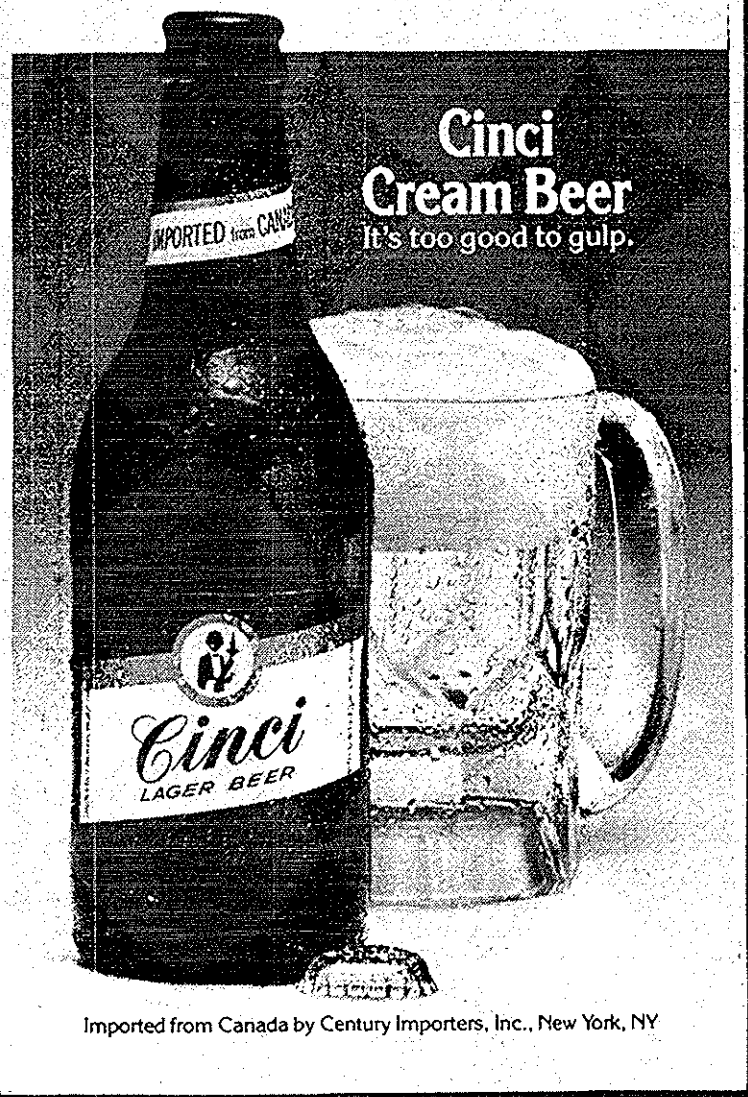

But this season is not yet completed. The Penguins will return to action on Saturday for a triangular meet with Mount Union College and Baldwin-Wallace. Match time is 10 a.m. and admission is free for the meet in Beeghly Center.

How would Einstein theorize about Cinci?

Although the Cinci formula is secret, certain factors in the equation are well known:

1. Cinci has a hearty, full-bodied flavor.
2. It is smooth and easy going down.
3. Its head commands respect.

Our theory is that Einstein would have concluded: It's too good to gulp. Relatively speaking, of course.

Just as they have been all season long, the Ohzones again are number 1 in the Intramural Top Ten Rankings. Running a close second is B.M.F. who has devoured all its opponents up to this point in the season. The Paroid Kings continue to roll over teams in their division and have nailed down the third spot in the rankings. In the fourth spot Sigma Chi has been impressive with convincing wins in the fraternity division. The Austintown All-Stars finally broke out of their shell in a lopsided 32-7 win over a tough Animal House team, and consequently remain in the fifth spot. In the sixth spot R.O.T.C. a new power in intramurals football moved up from the eighth spot last week, and Bo's Pros a perennial power in the league stayed firmly in seventh place. The Roundballers had a hard time beating the Razorbacks in overtime 1-0 and dropped from sixth place to eighth spot. Finally two

Chuck Haynali

Chuck Haynali

by Dino Fire

It seems that whenever the city of Youngstown makes news these days, it usually has to do with the problems encountered by this Ohio community. But in college football circles, the name "Youngstown" is now being equated with success.

The YSU Penguins, who have labored for so long to less than enthusiastic fans for a beam of success, are currently riding a ten-game winning streak which has carried them to a tie for the top spot in the Division II national rankings.

The Penguins boast a solid offensive attack, an awesome defense, and a kicker who is breaking more records than a vandal in a radio station.

This man is junior place-kicker Chuck Haynali. He was a three-year letterman at Berlin Western Reserve High School, handling all the kicking chores plus playing tight end. Chuck maintained a fine 41-yards per punt average through his prep school career, with a personal high of 44 yards per punt as a sophomore. A single blocked punt as a junior dropped his average considerably.

But playing for a Class A school with a .500 record is not exactly a prime situation for a man if he wants to play collegiate football. Not many college scouts flock to this type of institution unless they stumble on it purely by accident.

Only two collegiate teams showed any interest in Haynali and neither team, Adrian College nor Hillsdale College, were exactly what Chuck was looking for. So he decided to hold off on college for a year after his graduation and went to work.

But the urge to play college football still bothered him so he decided to try out as a walk-on for the YSU Penguins. "I decided on YSU because it was the closest college to where I live. I couldn't really afford to pay for a room in the dorm," stated Haynali.

Nowadays, it's tough to be a walk-on anywhere. However, Chuck's strong self-confidence and even stronger left foot earned him the varsity spot as a kicking specialist, a spot he still holds.

Haynali is a conventional kicker, meaning that he uses a straight-on approach, as opposed to the angle taken by soccer-style kickers. He says that what he loses in power to the soccer-stylers is more than made up for in accuracy.

Chuck has missed only three extra points in his career, one of them on a controversial call by an official. "I kicked it, and it was good. A defender came running through the line screaming 'It's no good! It's no good!' in the official's face. The official called it no good," Haynali remembers.

Haynali also believes that collegiate football is more aggressive and specialized than high school ball, even for kickers. Two years ago against Central State, he suffered a concussion when a blocker hit him on the kickoff. "I was watching the ball up in the air and the next thing I know I'm on my back. I could have sworn I only punted twice in that game (he actually punted seven times). Now I hang back as sort of a safely man on kickoffs," said Chuck.

Haynali has 128 career points as of this date. He has connected on 18 of 33 field goal attempts, his longest being 44 yards last

Football Preview

Pat O'Brien, last year's East Coach Athletic Conference Rookie of the Year, is the Cats' field general and has thrown for 432 yards on 32 of 89 completions. His favorite receiver is Charlie Gross, a running back-turned-end, who has seven receptions this season.

Senior fullback Vince Thompson leads the Villanova Wishbone attack with 362 yards in 108 carries. He is also the all-time leading rusher in Villanova history with almost 2,000 yards.

Defensively, the Wildcats are lead by sophomore linebacker Dan Burke and sophomore cornerback David Martin.

Kick-off time for this "Dr. Pepper Day" encounter is 7:30 p.m. at Falcon Stadium in Austintown.

Conference Notes

For the third time this season, a Penguin defensive player has won the honor of being selected MCC Defensive Player of the Week. Junior nose guard Terry Dittmar won this honor for his play against Akron to join Greg Fitzpatrick and Quentin Lowry as winners...YSU remains the leader in rushing defense and offense, gaining 262 yards per game while giving up only 88...YSU also took over the lead in total defense, allowing opponents a little over 252 yards per game...The Penguins are also tops in scoring offense and defense averaging 40.3 and 14.7 respectively... Marschell Brumfield leads the league in scoring and kickoff returns while Jim Ferranti leads in punt returns...

year against Villanova, a school record. He also holds the record for most field goals in a single game, in a season, and the most extra points in a career. His longest punt to date is 72 yards, just four yards shy of the school record.

"An Arts and Sciences minor with a major in football," as Chuck likes to call himself, his real future hopes lie in professional football. He feels he has a good chance to make it. If he isn't drafted, Haynali will again try out for a team via the walk-on route. "It doesn't matter what team, the money is all the same," says Haynali.

"I would like to stick with sports, possibly working with kickers. Good kicking starts in high school, and that's why you see scores like 7-6 where a guy missed an extra point," Chuck stated.

But Chuck has yet another year at YSU, and another record or two to set. It is to the point now that his kicking is a regular staple of YSU's game plan, and hopefully that of a pro team a couple years from now.

Mountaineering #4.

THE OPTIMUM MOMENT

Mountaineering¹ is a skill of timing as well as technique. The wrong moment, like the wrong method, marks the gap between amateur and aficionado. So the key to successful mountaineering is to choose the occasions wisely and well. When, then, is it appropriate to slowly quaff the smooth, refreshing mountains of Busch Beer?

Celebrations, of course, are both expected and excellent opportunities to test your mountaineering mettle. Indeed, on major holidays it is virtually mandatory to do so. Imagine ushering in the fiscal new year or commemorating Calvin C. Coolidge's birthday or throwing ing caution to the wind during Take-A-Sorghum-To-Lunch-Week without the benefit of Busch. A disturbing prospect at best. On the other hand, not every event need be as significant as those outlined above.

Small victories like exams passed, papers completed or classes attended are equally acceptable. Remember the mountaineer's motto: matriculation is celebration.

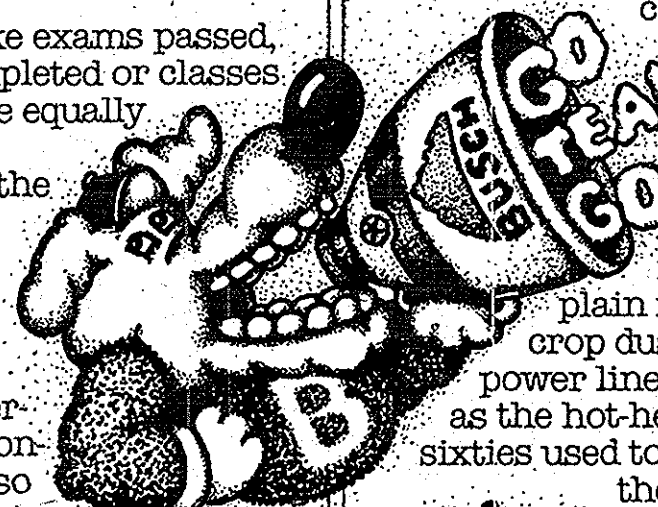

Interpersonal relationships are also meaningful times. There are few things finer than taking your companion in hand and heading for the mountains, transcending the hum and hum-drum in favor of a romantic R & R. Naturally, couples who share the pleasures of mountaineering run the risk of being labeled social climbers. But such cheap shots are to be ignored. They are the work of cynics, nay-sayers and chronic malcontents.

Similarly, the ambience of an athletic afternoon (e.g. The Big Game) is another ideal moment. Downing the mountains elevates the morale of the fan and, hence, the team. Therefore, if you care at all about the outcome, it is your duty to mountaineer.

When should one not enjoy the invigoration of the mountains? Here, you'll be happy to learn, the list is much briefer.

Mountaineering is considered declassé with dessert, improper during judicial proceedings and just plain foolish while crop dusting around power lines. Otherwise, as the hot-heads of the sixties used to say, "Seize the time!"

¹Mountaineering is the science and art of drinking Busch. The term originates due to the snowy, icy peaks sported by the label outside and perpetuates due to the cold, naturally refreshing taste inside. (cf. lessons 1, 2 and 3.)

Don't just reach for a beer. BUSCH Head for the mountains.
