

FOR RELEASE:

IMMEDIATE

Mailed Oct. 1, 1986

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - The first annual Crime Prevention/Awareness Fair, sponsored by the Youngstown State University Personal Security Committee, will be held from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Oct. 13 and from 1-5 p.m. Oct. 14 in the Kilcawley Center's Chestnut Room and Arcade.

The fair's theme will be "Safety Awareness for Everyone" and its purpose is to bring together a variety of different groups simultaneously to help educate the YSU campus community.

Members from the following groups will be represented: Campus Escort Service; Campus Security personnel, who will engrave personal items for identification purposes and give self-defense demonstrations; the Mahoning County Sheriff's Department; Youngstown Police Department; and crime prevention organizations from the community such as Victims Assistance Program and MADD. There will also be representatives from security product companies.

In addition to this, McGruff, the Crime Dog, will be present and demonstration devices such as the "Convincer," which emphasizes the importance of seat belts, and an Alcohol Computer. There also will be a number of audio-visual films and slides.

For further information, contact Patricia Bleidt, chairwoman, YSU Personal Security Committee, and director, Student Developmental Services at (216) 742-3536.

###

NEWS SERVICE - JG
86-129

FOR RELEASE:

IMMEDIATE

Mailed Oct. 1, 1986

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio - The first annual Crime Prevention/Awareness Fair, sponsored by the Youngstown State University Personal Security Committee, will be held from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Oct. 13 and from 1-5 p.m. Oct. 14 in the Kilcawley Center's Chestnut Room and Arcade.

The fair's theme will be "Safety Awareness for Everyone" and its purpose is to bring together a variety of different groups simultaneously to help educate the YSU campus community.

Members from the following groups will be represented: Campus Escort Service; Campus Security personnel, who will engrave personal items for identification purposes and give self-defense demonstrations; the Mahoning County Sheriff's Department; Youngstown Police Department; and crime prevention organizations from the community such as Victims Assistance Program and MADD. There will also be representatives from security product companies.

In addition to this, McGruff, the Crime Dog, will be present and demonstration devices such as the "Convincer," which emphasizes the importance of seat belts, and an Alcohol Computer. There also will be a number of audio-visual films and slides.

For further information, contact Patricia Bleidt, chairwoman, YSU Personal Security Committee, and director, Student Developmental Services at (216) 742-3536.

###

NEWS SERVICE - JG
86-129