More than 1,000 YSU students will be awarded degrees at the annual Spring Commencement, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 21, in YSU's Beeghly Center. The ceremony will be "virtual." The committee will begin at 10 a.m. Friday, June 21, in YSU's Beeghly Center. More than 1,000 YSU students will be awarded degrees at the ceremony.

Moulton was appointed chancellor of the Board of Regents, state governing body of Ohio public schools, and universities, Jan. 2, 1979. He had served for 24 years at Ohio State University, where he held various faculty and administrative posts, including vice president for business and administration, executive vice president and secretary of the Board of Trustees. He received his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University, master's degree from Louisiana State University, and doctor's degree from the University of California at Berkeley. Moulton attended the University of Wisconsin and University of Michigan. He was an instructor in geology at Louisiana State University, Wisconsin, and California. Beginning his teaching career at Michigan State University, he also taught at the University of Alabama, and the University of California. He served as a professor of civil engineering and mechanics and professor of civil engineering at Ohio State.

Administration sought to include several faculty, director of personnel, and assistant to the president, solicited through the Committee on Improving the Student Government. The committee is unsure whether Kissinger, at that price, will appear November 19, 1980, at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He attended the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and then the University of California at Berkeley. Moulton has twice been on the board of trustees of the University of California. He was appointed chancellor of the Board of Regents, state governing body of Ohio public schools, and universities, Jan. 2, 1979. He had served for 24 years at Ohio State University, where he held various faculty and administrative posts, including vice president for business and administration, executive vice president and secretary of the Board of Trustees. He received his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University, master's degree from Louisiana State University, and doctor's degree from the University of California at Berkeley. Moulton attended the University of Wisconsin and University of Michigan. He was an instructor in geology at Louisiana State University, Wisconsin, and California. Beginning his teaching career at Michigan State University, he also taught at the University of Alabama, and the University of California. He served as a professor of civil engineering and mechanics and professor of civil engineering at Ohio State.

Administration sought to include several faculty, director of personnel, and assistant to the president, solicited through the Committee on Improving the Student Government. The committee is unsure whether Kissinger, at that price, will appear November 19, 1980, at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He attended the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and then the University of California at Berkeley. Moulton has twice been on the board of trustees of the University of California. He was appointed chancellor of the Board of Regents, state governing body of Ohio public schools, and universities, Jan. 2, 1979. He had served for 24 years at Ohio State University, where he held various faculty and administrative posts, including vice president for business and administration, executive vice president and secretary of the Board of Trustees. He received his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University, master's degree from Louisiana State University, and doctor's degree from the University of California at Berkeley. Moulton attended the University of Wisconsin and University of Michigan. He was an instructor in geology at Louisiana State University, Wisconsin, and California. Beginning his teaching career at Michigan State University, he also taught at the University of Alabama, and the University of California. He served as a professor of civil engineering and mechanics and professor of civil engineering at Ohio State.
Off-campus housing available

Womens' dorm deemed unnecessary

by Karen Lynne Kline

This is the second of a two-part series which deals with how the University determined that a dorm for women students is not needed.

Because of the availability of off-campus housing facilities such as the University Inn, the Rayen, YWCA, and Buechner Hall, University officials assert that a campus dorm for women students is not needed.

The University considered such factors as cost of room and board, amenities and the living conditions of the off-campus housing facilities in comparison to those of Kilcawley Residence Hall in this study.

Though not comparable to Kilcawley on a one-to-one basis, the off-campus facilities are as a whole comparable to that of Kilcawley, according to the study.

As a result, University officials maintain that equal housing opportunities exist for both men and women. It is the responsibility of the students to maintain the building in a manner comparable to that of Kilcawley, according to the study.

For instance, $7.17 would cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.

The most expensive housing facility available to female students is the YWCA. Only single rooms are available, $7.17.

For instance, $7.17 should cover the cost of room and board based on a double room charge at the University Inn for the three-quarter academic year, and Patty DuPont, housing officer for the University Inn and The Rayen. The cost of room and board at Kilcawley for a double room is $6.17.

Included in the room and board for both is transportation, which is provided only to "the larger areas of the dormitory (bath, bathroom)" areas such contact is responsible for keeping the area clean, she stated. Also, the Kilcawley II dormitory is not in the basement of the dormitory building.

As for the University Inn, "we have our own," residents are expected to report the $7.17 quiet hour, she continued. And, with regard discipline, there are none.

The Rayen, as is true of the off-campus housing facilities, charges $7.17 during the school year for room and board based on either a single or double room, December round.

"We work our system," for the residents except for the Mahalee II center, it continued. The 12 p.m. quiet hour applied here also.
Summer Archeology

A few positions are still open for the summer archeology dig class. The pre-history of this area will be taught. The course is worth six hours credit. If interested, contact Gary Fry in the anthropology department.

KCPB Films

KCPB will present the following films on the designated days: Jeremiah Johnson, June 19; Sleeper, June 26; Fat City, July 10; Sahara, July 17. All showings are at noon and 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays. The cost is $1.00. No ID needed.

OWL Meeting

The Nutrition Society will meet from noon to 1 p.m. Thursday, June 5 in the Commons Room Cushwa Hall to plan for next year. All current members and anyone interested in joining are urged to attend.

June Graduates

Commencement announcements are now available in the YSU Bookstore, Kilcawley Center.

Commencement

(Cont. from page 1)

For two years, 1966-1968, he served as president of the University of South Dakota. He has done extensive research and has written on a number of problems pertaining to the conservation of water resources. In addition, he has served as engineering consultant on numerous projects and has participated in a wide variety of professional and community activities.

He currently chairs the Development Committee for Greater Columbus, and is a member of the Columbus Safety Council. He is a registered civil engineer and a fellow of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

of Chief Engineer, Moulton and his wife, Jay, have four children. He is a graduated (Mass.)-College.

Mark your calendars now!

KCPB won't forget you in the summer

Films: June 19 Jeremiah Johnson

June 26 Sleeper

July 10 Fat City

July 17 Sahara

 Noon and 7:30 p.m. in Ohio Room, only $1.00

Music: June 18 Steve Yanek

June 25 Jim Ballard

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Amphitheater

Baseball: July 6 Indians vs. Yankees

Box seats and transportation $1.00 on sale June 16 in Kilcawley

DON'T BE Fooled

by your local bookseller!

At a bookstore you get your cash now, but lose at least 15% of your books' value

Recoup that EXTRA VALUE!

Circle K's Book Exchange

Turn-in Books:

June 9th thru 14th, Room 270

Kilcawley Center

Summer Sales:

June 16, 17, 18, 8 a.m.-6 p.m.

Room 150 Kilcawley

(across from Dollar Bank)
Editorial

Expanding horizons

Every vital, living system is characterized by the ability to adapt, expand, and in general, change. In the past ten years, YSU has grown physically, through the addition of new buildings (Mass Library, Cabell Hall, Arts and Sciences), to name a few, as well as academically, with the expansion of various programs and the addition of new classes.

Yet YSU has benefited most from a very intrinsic and subtle growth process. That growth is the result of the exchange of knowledge, ideas, and opinions, which occurs constantly within the confines of the University community. That exchange is just that—mutual give and take, between students, faculty, and administrators at YSU.

The environment of the University is one of learning and community. That exchange is just that—mutual give and take, allowing for the internal and essential development necessary for the survival of an educational institution. It's my opinion that every college student who is given an "X".

It's my opinion that any college student who is given an "X". Why the student body has no confidence in the election process. You have not been afraid to take a stand when you felt one was necessary, and your April 1 issue was great.

Say's Council ‘chooses’ leaders

Says Council ‘chooses’ leaders

To the Editor of the Jambar:
The student government election issue was great. You have not been afraid to take a stand when you felt one was necessary, and your April 1 issue was great.

Says Council ‘chooses’ leaders

To the Editor of the Jambar:
The student government election issue was great. You have not been afraid to take a stand when you felt one was necessary, and your April 1 issue was great.

Says Council ‘chooses’ leaders

To the Editor of the Jambar:
The student government election issue was great. You have not been afraid to take a stand when you felt one was necessary, and your April 1 issue was great.
Educator plans to write more plays

Don Elser retires after 34 years

by George Denney

Professor R. Donald Elser of the speech communication and theatre department is retiring this spring season, after 34 years of service at the University.

Elser means more of an opportunity to "finish plays that I am writing, radio others and try and get to press," he said.

Whatever plans are being made by Elser for his retirement, the benefit that faculty and students will enjoy because of his efforts in the teaching profession will be appreciated for many years to come.

His effect at YSU began, however, not as a teacher but as a student. That was in 1922 when YSU was Youngstown College. "At that time," Elser said, "everything was in Jones Hall, including the Library." He graduated in 1925 with a major in secondary English, history, drama and speech.

For six years Elser taught in junior and high schools, Mineral Ridge, Chalker (in Southington), and Greenford, which is in the area. He then entered YSU, Elser said, "to finish plays that I am writing, radio others and try and get to press."

During these six years, he wrote and directed many shows of five plays which were performed at the school. Professor Elser said that he became involved in theatre while studying English at Youngstown College. He said there was very little work done between English studies and theatre.

Professor Elser spent two years in the Air Corps, from 1943 to 1945. While stationed in St. Louis, he attended Washington University. He returned to YSU as a faculty member in January, 1946, and began teaching speech and English composition in the English Department.

He furthered his education by obtaining a Master degree in English Literature from the University of Pittsburgh, this prepared work in radio and television broadcasting at New York University and attended the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago during the summer, where, he said, "Music and vocal projection were emphasized in most courses I attended in a major way."

During his teaching career at YSU, Elser has directed a number of stage productions both in the Dante School of Music, and the Theatre, including "Cinderella," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Diary of Anne Frank.

In the 50's, he directed a half-hour weekly radio show which he, with his wife, Lois, broadcast, along with eight half-hour television productions at WEIR. Along with these activities and teaching, Elser found time to write and produce many one-act plays. He considered five of them, a collection of his best work, to be "Balcony Scene" and "Special Guest," he said. Both of these were tested on stage by YSU students. Names and pictures of casts appeared in the published play books. Also included are "Boxcar in the Fall" and "A Ticket to the City," which was published by Samuel French of New York.

Elser is the largest publisher of plays in the world, according to Elser, and this year he published, "A Ticket to the City," only 20 other one-act plays were published by them.

Elser has directed, thus far, over 1200 in repertory from "Balcony Scene," which he considers his most popular play. He has also chaired the speech department for 16 years and reached the YSU Diamond honor society more than five years ago.

One of the most important contributions to the University community made by Elser is the FM station, WYSU. "Eleven years ago I persuaded then YSU President, Fugate, that we needed a FM station," Elser said and he and some General, director of broadcasting, who was nestled in forming a high school FM station in Breckenridge, founded WYSU.

Elser said that the only thing he would rather do than teach, write. Although it appears he has been able to do both equally well over the past 34 years, he will be able to concentrate on the shows through his retirement.

He and his wife, Lois, who is a graduate of YSU, have four daughters, three of whom graduated from the University and one, who is a student here. One of the graduated daughters is an instructor at YSU in speech and theatre. The Elsers have traveled extensively throughout Asia, Russia, India. (Cont. on page 7)
Tough, steady describes three Penguin seniors

by Bill Snier

They have suffered through the hard times and have been around to enjoy the good. The team's record was an impressive 79-30 during their four-year careers and they all played key roles in establishing that mark.

But for YSU senior baseball players Joe Iacobucci, Lee Rudibaugh and Bill Hardy, their time has finally run out on their college playing careers.

"Our seniors are a dedicated group of young men," said head coach Dom Rosselli. "The best words I can think of to describe them are tough and steady. . .they’re a credit to the program."

Iacobucci - is the only local product of the trio. A four-year letterman, the veteran centerfielder posted a career batting average of .322 with 23 runs batted in.

"Joe is a consistent percentage hitter who's not afraid to sacrifice himself for the good of the team," said Rosselli. "He can do a lot of things out of the lead-off spot and has been very steady in the field."

Hardy, a Cleveland native, is also a four-year letterman. A good contact hitter, Hardy’s most important attribute is his speed. The lightning-fast rightfielder has stolen 26 bases in 28 attempts during his college career and posted a career .308 batting mark.

"Hardy's what I like to call a . . ." (Cont. on page 7).

Coaches, athletes receive awards at annual banquet

by Ron Anderson

A banquet to honor all winter and spring quarter YSU varsity athletes was held Tuesday night at The Embassy.

All 19 of the sports, along with the cheerleaders, were represented both by their respective coaches and many of the team members. Guests at the tables included John Heidbrink of WYTV, Father Raymond Thomas of the Newman Center, Vic Pacek of the Penguin Club, and Tony Coury and Bob Wasko, representing YSU student government.

Each of the coaches was called upon to both summarize their team's season, and present the various awards to their athletes.

Varsity letter awards were given to the athletes with first-year winners receiving a certificate, second-year winners letter jackets, third-year winners pins for their jackets depicting the sport, and fourth-year winners a plaque.

Numerous other awards, (Cont. on page 7)
Baseball seniors

(Continued from page 5)

"Every day is a type of victory," said Reynolds. "We have a funny team that doesn't look very good, but when you get on base, you don't make any errors. You don't make any mistakes. You're not. Our batting average is not very high, but when the pitcher's on we usually find out that he'll have a ball of their own.

Hard ball has directed the career of Lockesville's Lee B. Shidow, who, 20 years ago, played the pitcher's position in his career and this season's new team shored him. With the availability of Joe Sekora, Biddell was the last senior on the pitching staff and looked to the future, "a role he fill well. He gained a career sum total of 8-4 with a 3.43 earned run average and 78 innings.

"Injuries really hurt Biddell early in his career and this year," said Rosselli. "He has a funny stance especially on the base. That doesn't look very good, but he's doing a great job. He has a funny stance."

Banquet

(Continued from page 6)

including the senior's awards, highest scorers and notable recognitions were also passed out to the athletes.

Kenny and Wally presented a resolution from Student Council to become head coach Will Wolf at the seminar softball tourney, announcing their desire to direct the most talented area youth and who's got their chance. "Through the life, and a career is just beginning. If the American ideal and competitive spirit they display on the field is any indication of when they're heading, there is a lot to look forward to."

Elsewhere

(Continued from page 5)

Malaysia, Thailand, Rome, and several European countries. "We represent an interest in continuing to travel during retirement. It's a wonderful thought about, "You know, I really, really want to get to Africa, Australia and New Zealand."

"I have been here for a long time," Elow said, "and a lot of worlds have passed through my shoes. Every week, I go to the library. Sometimes, I come up to me and tell me I'm not going to appreciate something. I'd still be there in a few at a few years and acquire a lot."

It's the sort of thing that makes the reading profession so satisfying. To tell the honest truth," she concluded, "there will be times in the future when I'm going to miss it and I won't.

American Red Cross

The American Red Cross.

Finals Week is BOOK-BUY WEEK at the YSU BOOKSTORE Kilcawley Center

The quarterly Book - Buy at the YSU BOOKSTORE will be held Monday thru Thursday, June 6 thru June 14 from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Books will be bought back under the following conditions:

a. That the title is adapted for the Summer quarter
b. That the book is in an acceptable condition
c. That the quantity bought of one title does not exceed established limitations.

STUDENTS MUST PRESENT A VALID I.D.

In addition, a professional used book dealer will be here on Tuesday thru Friday, June 10, 11, 12 and 14 from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. He will consider all books, especially those not being used at YSU Summer and Fall Quarter
COMING SOON TO SELECTED THEATERS